THEATRE RAIL BREAKS AND CROWD FALLS FROM GALLERY

Five Are Hurt in Accident at People's Theatre, a Jewish Resort at Toronto—Disapproved of English Song—Those on Floor Manage to Escape.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Pressing forward to watch an usher evicting a man who had greeted in Yiddish of an English song with loud cries of "The Hook," the crowd in the south gallery of the People Theatre, a Jewish resort at Elm street and University avenue, broke through the railing and about 15 fell a distance of 12 feet to the pit.

With them was torn away 30 feet of heavy railing and all landed upon the seats below, smashing many of the chairs.

Those on the ground floor were warned by the cracking of the rail, which also enable many of the occupants of the gallery to crowd back and thus save themselves from the tumble. Five only were injured.

Samuel Herchowitz, a newsboy, 12 years, sustained a [illegible] cut at the back of his head and his left thigh was injured. Dr. Johnson of Elm street attended him at home.

Louis Levy, 15 years, a newsboy, had his left shoulder broken and his left ear torn. He was taken to the Sick Children's Hospital after his injuries had been dressed by Dr. Johnson.

Sadie Swarts was cut about the head.

Sarah Polinsky was cut about the face. She went home.

David Eisen was cut about the face.

All these fell with the dislodged railing.

The news spread like wildfire through the gossiping knots "in the ward" and as the audience was largely young people a crowd of sobbing and shrieking parents soon pressed upon the police, calling in Yiddish enquiries as to the safety of their offspring.

The magistrate briefly reviewed the evidence, stating that evidence had been given by certain witnesses that they had given out sums of money in Stanfield's interest. The cities of West Toronto, St. Thomas (in East Elgin) and Fort William have a large railroading population.

The entry of the railway men into the political arena was not anticipated in other trades union circles at present, as the railway men have been the most conservative in regard to political action of any of the labor bodies.

The loss is placed at $300,000 and the total insurance amounts to only $79,000.

St. Remi is about 25 miles south of Montreal and has a population of nearly 1,200 people, with one bank.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Attorney Scharton, who has been procured for the defence of Chester Jordan, the actor who slew his wife and put her body in a trunk, states that he already has evidence of Jordan's mental derangement several weeks before the murder, and in this case the murderer's insanity may account for some of the lapses in his confession, although as a whole it was remarkably clear.

Deficiency Smaller.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The all-important question to be finally dealt with at the meeting of the Ontario Bank shareholders, to be held in a few days, will be how the actual deficiency found to exist, amounting to about $850,000, is to be made up. FIRE AT RAWHIDE, NEVADA BUSINESS SECTION BURNED

Three Thousand are Homeless and Many Injured in Destructive Conflagration Causing Damage of $750,000—Miners Struggle to Save Homes.

Rawhide, Nev., Sept. 5.—Three thousand people homeless, a score or more injured, and a property loss of over $750,000, is the result of a disastrous fire which started yesterday morning in the Rawhide Drug Co.'s building. Fanned by a gale the fire swept rapidly south and east to Balloon avenue and up Rawhide avenue to within sixty yards of the People's Hospital.

Over a ton and a half of dynamite was used in the demolition of buildings, which in a measure stayed the flames progress.

The volunteer fire department and five hundred miners worked heroically, but owing to the inflammable construction of the buildings they were swept away like tinder.

At 11 a. m. the business portion of Rawhide was a smoldering ruin, the flames being finally checked south of Balloon avenue. Collins' hardware store, containing two tons of dynamite, exploded, hurling burning planks and boards a great distance, and setting fire to a number of buildings simultaneously.

Many persons were injured by flying debris, but none seriously. A famine was feared, for all the supplies and grocery stores were wiped out. A subscription list was started, and in a few minutes over $5,000 was raised and a relief train started from Reno, carrying food and bedding.

All the mining towns of the state came quickly to the assistance of the sufferers with cash contributions. The San Francisco mining exchange sent $500. The extent of the damage done the mining properties is $10,000.

Government to Bear Part of Cost of Shipping Inland From Maritime Provinces

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—To-day a regulation was to go into effect that will benefit those shipping fish to the inland provinces of the Dominion. Various expedients designed to encourage the consumption of fish in the inland provinces of the Dominion have not worked well so the Government has decided to assist the enterprise by somewhat reducing the cost of transportation. An order in council has been passed authorizing the Government to pay one-third of the express charges on fish shipped from the Maritime Provinces to interior points in Quebec and Ontario, and this goes into effect to-day and will apply throughout the fall shipping season.

FORGED LUMBER ORDERS THEN SKIPPED TO STATES

Walter B. Dickson of Albert County, N.B., is Missing and Defalcations May Reach $200,000—Said to Have County Money With Him.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 5.—One of the members of the local Legislature for Albert County, Walter B. Dickson, who has had trouble with his business principals, is not to be found in the county, and he is believed to be in the United States. It is declared that be has misappropriated funds to the extent of from $150,000 to $200,000.

Mr. Dickson was elected at the recent local election and is a Conservative. He was a prominent resident of Albert County, largely engaged in lumbering and shipping, and acted as resident representative at Hillsboro of W. Malcolm MacKay of St. John, one of St. John's leading lumber exporters.

As one of the Albert County representatives, he had a considerable sum of road money in his possession and took it with him.

It was for some time hoped that Dickson's affairs would not prove as bad as they seemed to be.

Apparently that was not the case, for yesterday before Judge McLeod an application was made by Weldon & McLean, acting for Mr. MacKay, for an absconding debtors order, which was granted. The application let some new light on Mr. Dickson's affairs, for it was declared that he had defrauded Mr. MacKay by means of forged lumber orders, and that this had been going on for a considerable period.

An information was later made out charging forgery.

Recently Mr. MacKay was surprised to find that he had no cargo for a steamer he sent to Hillsboro to load. Investigations since made are said to have revealed the fact that for a considerable period Dickson had been in difficulties, involving MacKay in the loss of a large sum of money.

Yesterday before Judge MacLeod an absconding debtor's order was applied for on Mr. MacKay's behalf, and granted.

CANADIAN TRADE

In the twelve years since the present Government took office the foreign trade of Canada, measured by values, has largely increased. In this the experience of Canada is like that of other countries. The expansion is partly real, due to universal activity in trade following a period of general depression. Partly it is fictitious, represented by the higher prices of goods. Merchandise which would have been value at $100,000,000 in 1896 is now valued at $140,000,000 or $510,000,000. Since this applies to goods bought, as well as goods sold the change brings no particular advantage to the average citizen. But as Canada is today buying $100,000,000 a year more than she sells, and giving some kind of note for the balance, the advance in price is an economical loss to the country at large.

BEATEN BY ARGENTINA AND MEXICO.

Comparing Canadian trade with that of two other American countries we have the following:—

	1896	1906	Inc. p.c.
Canada imported	$105 m	$283 m	170
Canada exported	113 m	247 m	118
Total trade	$218 m	$530 m	143
Mexico imported	42 m	221 m	426
Mexico exported	105 m	271 m	158
Total trade	147 m	492 m	235
Argentina imp	112 m	261 m	133
Argentina exp	116 m	292 m	151
Total trade	228 m	552 m	143

It will be see that notwithstanding the boasts of the Laurier Government as to the increase of Canadian trade our proportionate gain was no greater than that of the Argentine Republic and much less than that of Mexico. The comparison also shows that both Mexico and Argentina have increased their exports more rapidly than Canada, and while Canada in 1906 was buying more than she sold, these American republics were selling more than they bought.

EXCESS OF IMPORTS.

How goes our export and import trade with the following during the past decade? The following shows how it stood in 1906, comparing imports for consumption with exports;—

Imports	$105 000,000
Exports	113 000,000
Excess of exports	8 000,000

BY DEPARTMENTS.

The expenditure by departments for 1907-8 is not yet reported, and 1906-7 was a short year, but the following is a comparison of expenditure between 1896 and 1906 (Public Accounts 1906, pages 61 to 69).

	1896	1906	Increase 1906	Increase per ct.

FUTURE EXPENDITURE

If the recent increase of expenditure is startling that of the immediate future is still more so. The fiscal year of 1908-9 began on April 1st, 1908. The main estimates for the year were brought down early in the session and large supplementary estimates follow. The main estimates compare as follows with those of 1907, the year of which we have been speaking.

	1907-8	1908-9	Increase
Capital expenditure	38,258,340	[illegible]	4,067,290
Total	105,649,519	[illegible]	13,547,572

There was a corresponding increase in the supplementary estimates and in the total expenditure of the year. The expenditure of the year 1907-8 was $5,000,000 larger than the main estimates, and on this basis there was an outlay in the year beginning with April 1908 of at least $124,000,000. This gives us the following amazing table of expenditure.

1909	124,000,000

Mr. Fielding's budget statement indicates that the expenditure for this year, 1908-9, will be even larger than $124,000,000. At the same time he expresses the belief that the revenue will be under $90,000,000, or $6,500,000 less than in the previous year, and $34,000,000 less than the expenditure.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Liberal Conservatives do not claim that Canada can be administered without a reasonable increase in expenditures. As the country expands and develops the demands for works and improvements multiply and must be reasonably met.

But, with an increase of some 13 per cent in population and granting a generous response to the call for improvements no sane man can justify the headlong reckless rush of the past twelve years.

It has been a carnival of extravagance and worse. Public money has been lavishly thrown away on works meant only for party patronage, on middle men and contractors who contributed to party expenses, on wild expeditions like the Arctic, on unknown companies like the North Atlantic Trading Company, on useless sub-target and unbusinesslike Ross Rifle and Quebec Bridge ventures, on enormous outlays for purely patronage purposes.

The immense taxation has been extracted from the earnings and savings of the toilers — in sums that stagger the thoughtful elector — 27 millions of 1896 and 73 millions in 1908, and in these eleven years and nine months $229,000,000 more than would have been taken on the basis of 1896.

And still both taxation and expenditure go up by leaps of millions yearly.

Is it not time to turn over a new leaf? Mr. Borden and the Liberal Conservative party stand for moderate taxation — reasonable expenditure — honest administration.

THE CITY COMFORTABLE

As Peterborough grows the homes of the well-to-do clerk, mechanic or artisan become more numerous and, generally speaking, more comfortable. In fact they become in very many cases really beautiful. The ladies have a fine taste in such matters. With those who earn less or who have failed to save and economize it is a different matter. They fall back on rooms near to their work or in the more populous parts of the city. Transportation if cheap and frequent enough would solve the problem for them. They, too, could go to the outskirts and have nice homes, pretty lawns, playgrounds and domestic comfort. The problem of the age in town or city life is cheap transportation and communication and play room for the children. They mean a new era of health, happiness and comfort.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

OTTAWA MAN SHOT WHALE

Big Fellow Killed by Rifle Ball—Was Nearly Eighty Feet in Length

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—John J. Collins, of Strathcona avenue Ottawa, has been lucky lately. He has a contract at Grand Mochin, on the Gaspe coast for the Government, and writes home that on the 6th inst. he shot a monster whale there. He says the whale was seen coming up the river there and was puffing and blowing like the walking beam of an old steamer. In sight of some twenty of his men he grabbed a rifle and from the wharf shot the animal. He knew he had struck it, but when it disappeared the men said the shot could hardly affect such a large animal. He sent word to telegraph stations lower down the river and lately got word that the animal had been found dead many miles from where it was shot, at St. Felicite. It is 78 feet long, 21 feet wide, 15 feet deep and the oil and whalebone to be obtained from the body are estimated to be worth $1,000. The one cent cartridge thus brought the owner, or rather stands to do, $1,000, which is conceded to be rather fair sport.

HEAVY FROSTS AT COBALT

Mines Nearly all Running and Business Booming—Mr. Wm. Greene Visiting Here

Mr. W. Greene, of Cobalt, is on a visit to his uncle, Mr. Ed. Greene, Water street, on his way back to the mining town after a few days spent at his old home in Belleville. Mr. Greene runs a large boarding house and very much enjoys living in the New Ontario town. Two-thirds of the mines he said, were running and employing a large number of employees.

When Mr. Greene left Cobalt last week there had been heavy frosts for five successive mornings. One morning the ponds were all frozen over, the ice being an inch in thickness.

Mr. Greene stated that a man with the same names as his and residing in Cobalt, got lost in the woods a few days ago and has not yet been found. Several persons were under the impression that it was Mr. Greene, who was visiting here, that was lost, but his presence here to-day relieved his friends of all uneasiness.

Mr. Greene will return to Cobalt on Tuesday.

SUFFERED TORTURES FOR 70 YEARS

Mrs. J. R. Flock is the widow of one of the best known physicians in London, Ontario. She was treated by her husband and many other medical men yet never received any lasting benefit. Just by accident, she tried a well-known remedy, and now, after 70 years of suffering, she is well. Read her letter to Fruit-a-tives Limited.

"Dear Sirs,—Since my early childhood (and I am now in my seventy-third year) I have suffered indescribable torment from stomach trouble and indigestion, complicated with liver disorders. Being the wife of a prominent physician (the late Dr. J. R. Flock), I, naturally enough, had a prejudice against proprietary remedies. I was, however, unable to benefit to any great extent through my lifetime, from taking the ordinary remedies of physicians, being constantly in delicate health from stomach disorder and vomiting. Accidentally I came into possession of a sample of "Fruit-a-tives"—tried them, and found myself wonderfully benefitted. I take them now as my only medicine and they are keeping me in the most satisfactory health.

After finding out the wonderful medicinal qualities of "Fruit-a-tives" I have recommended them to many of my friends and acquaintances, who have also had the best results from their use—and one lady friend that I have recently recommended them to, has used them for Sciatica, from which she suffered constantly and was unable to procure any remedy that would relieve her. She is now taking "Fruit-a-tives" and is cured.

I am glad to be able to recommend "Fruit-a-tives" and will be glad if you will use my name in any way that will be the means of bringing your remedy before the public."

LAST CALL TO SHAREHOLDERS

Of York County Loan Co.---Must Respond Within Thirty Days

Toronto, Sept. 4.—The last call to shareholders of the York County Loan and Savings Co. to turn in the books to the Liquidators, the National Trust Company, has been issued, and those failing to respond within 30 days will not participate in the dividend.

Up to the present the liquidators have only received about 100,000 pass books but according to the company's ledgers there are 140,000 accounts. A good many of these represent lapsed accounts, but the amount of work involved in classifying them and ascertaining the amount of arrears in each case is enormous. While good progress has been made, it is expected that nine months more will be needed before the liquidators are in a position to pay the first dividend. Assets to the amount of over $700,000 have been disposed of, and this will enable the payment of a first dividend of 15 cents. The whole amount realized from the sale of real estate has not yet been converted into cash, but the mortgages held on the property are so unquestionable that they will be readily taken up by loan corporations and insurance companies, in many cases probably at a premium, whenever the time arrives for paying the dividend.

From present indications the shareholders in good standing will receive altogether not less that 40 cents on the dollar.

WEST PETERBOROUGH LIBERALS HAVE CHOSEN MR. STRATTON

The Liberals of West Peterborough in convention this afternoon at the Grand Opera House chose Hon. J. R. Stratton, ex-provincial secretary, as their candidate in the forthcoming general election. Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., was nominated but declined the nomination.

Mr. J. J. Hartley occupied the chair and there was a fair attendance.

Mr. Hall was nominated by Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. T. M. Hunter, and made a speech expressing his thanks for the honor done him. He stated, however, that he would decline the nomination in favor of Mr. Stratton.

Hon. J. R. Stratton was then nominated and accepted.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams opposed Mr. Stratton's nomination in a vigorous speech.

CANADA HAS SPLENDID EXHIBIT AT FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION

Is Attracting More Attention Than Any Other at Big Exhibiton—Mr. J. J. Turner, sr. Home From Trip to England—Hard Times There.

Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., has returned from a month's trip to the Old Country and says he enjoyed every minute of it. However, he is glad to be back in Canada and Peterborough again for Mr. Turner has a stronger attachment for the land of his adoption than for the country of his birth. Mr. Turner made the trip across to England on the Lusitania, sailing from New York, and returned on the Allan liner Victorian, which docked at Quebec. The return trip was almost a record one, the distance from Liverpool to Quebec being traversed in six and a half days. This included a ten hours' across to England on the Lusitania, the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The fog was so thick that the vessel had to remain stationary for ten hours. If it had not been for this delay the trip would have been made in less than six days.

Mr. Turner spent most of his time in London and spent several days at the Franco-British exhibition, which is being held at Shepherd's Bush the scene of the Olympic games. The exhibition is turning out a great success, thousands of people being in attendance daily. London is filled with visitors and it is almost impossible to secure accommodation at the hotels.

Mr. Turner talked enthusiastically about the Canadian building at the exhibition. "It is the best of them all," he said, "and is constantly thronged with visitors. The exhibit is a splendid one and attracts more attention than any other. The George Matthews Co. and the Peterborough Canoe Company are among the exhibitors. The Canadian exhibit contains figures of King Edward, President Fallieres and other prominent persons, made out of butter, and they are more life-like than one can imagine.

Speaking of general conditions in England, Mr. Turner said that the times were far from being good. Employment is very scarce and there are thousands out of work. The outlook is not at all hopeful. Mr. Turner attributes the hard times to the fiscal policy of the British Government. There is no protection for the manufactures with the result that foreign goods are ousting many lines of British manufacture from the home market.

Mr. Turner had the honor of being chairman at the concerts held on shipboard both going and returning, and also contributed to the programme. These concerts are held in aid of the Sailors' Institute, and are always largely attended. Going over on the Lusitania, the majority of the passengers were Americans, and it was quite an honor for a Canadian to be selected as chairman for the concert. Programmes for the concert are printed at the printing office on the boats.

Mr. Turner secured a large order for tents from a Glasgow firm while in the Old Country.

The Normal School Here Opens on September 15th.

SAID TO HAVE STOLEN A CASE OF BRANDY

Albert Wright was arrested this afternoon on a charge of stealing a case of brandy from the cellar of the Montreal House. Mr. Larocque, proprietor of the hotel was not aware that the theft had been committed until part of the brandy had been recovered. Mr. Thos. Lytle, special constable, arrested the young man, having seen him going to the place where the liquor was hid to get it.

MAY BE 200 PUPILS ATTEND NORMAL SCHOOL

Numerous Applications Have Been Received---opening on Sept. 15th

It was first intimated that there would only be one hundred and fifty pupils in attendance at the opening of the Peterborough Normal school, but the principal, Mr. Duncan Walker, stated to the Review today that in all probability there would be two hundred. There are already enough applications in, to give each Normal school in the province two hundred pupils. However, it is not known whether all those who have applied will be in attendance.

FOR THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

All cities over the province are preparing for their exhibition and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends, it is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits, and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage.

STEAM HEATING PLANT PUT IN

Preparations Being Made for the Winter at Children's Aid Society's Shelter

A steam heating plant is being installed at the Children's Aid Society's shelter in the Hilliard farm. It will be a big improvement over the former method of heating the building and Mr. and Mrs. Henry and their charges will be comfortable for the winter. There are eight children in the shelter at the present time. If the coming winter is a hard one and work is not plentiful, the society will likely have its hands full and the shelter is being put in shape to accommodate a large number of children.

ANCIENT BIBLE PRESENTED TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Holy Book Nearly 400 Years Old, Given by Mr. Ed. M. Taylor, of St. Louis, Mo.—In Good State of Preservation.

A recent gift to the Peterborough Historical Society, and which can be seen at the Victoria Museum in a few days is a Bible, nearly four hundred years old. It was presented by Mr. Edward M. Taylor, of St. Louis M., a former well-known resident of this city, and who was visiting here until a few days ago. The Bible is an ancient one, having been issued in the year 1533. The spelling in it is old English. The book is in excellent state of preservation, and save for the quaint spelling can be read quite easily. It is about nine inches in length and about four inches thick.

The book first belonged to Mr. Taylor's father the late Rev. J. C. Taylor, the third rector of St. John's church. The late Rev. Mr. Taylor was at one time a school teacher here. In 1845 he was appointed rector of St. John's church. He was rector for four years, when he passed away while visiting in Cobourg.

Mr. Taylor has kept the book at his home in St. Louis for a number of years but brought it here with him this summer when on a visit. At present it is at the residence of Mrs. Burdell, 166 Edinburgh street.

LABOR DAY WILL BE QUIETLY OBSERVED IN PETERBOROUGH

I.O.F. Excursion to Idyl Wyld One of the Events—Many Going to Toronto and Lindsay.

Monday is Labor Day a holiday set apart by the Dominion Government in recognition of the labour interests of the Dominion. In many of the larger cities parades are being held, but there will be nothing of an official nature in Peterborough. Fine weather is promised for the day and an enjoyable holiday will likely be the result. Many citizens are going to Toronto, where the big attraction is the National Exhibition. Ther is also a lacrosse match there between the Tecumsehs and Torontos and an Eastern League baseball match between Toronto and Rochester.

The Catholic Literary Society sports at Lindsay will attract many from Peterborough. A bunch of local athletes are going up and they will have many supporters.

The Independent Foresters are running an Excursion to Idyl Wyld. The steamer Otonabee will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 8 a.m. and and the street railway wharf at 8.30 o'clock. At Idyl Wyld there will be a programme of races, sports, etc.

Many private picnics have been arranged for the day, down the Otonabee being the most popular spot for those on pleasure bent.

PASTOR TO WHOM REV. POGUE WAS ASSISTANT IS VERY ILL

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.— Rev. Dr. Wm. Patterson, pastor of Bethany Presbyterian church, 22nd and Bainbridge streets, who came here from Cooke's church, Toronto, is in a serious condition at the Presbyterian hospital, suffering from a stroke of apoplexy.

He was stricken this afternoon at the Franklin National Bank and was taken to the hospital in what was thought to be a dying condition. Members of his family, who are summering at Cape May, N.J., were immediately summoned to his bedside.

Dr. Patterson is one of the most distinguished of the local ministers. He is a noted orator and indefatigable church worker. His congregation is the largest down town.

Rev. Dr. Patterson has a host of friends in Toronto. Arriving in that city in 1880, he entered Knox College and on graduation in 1886 received a call to Cooke's church where he continued until 1900. In that year much to the regret of all, he accepted the call to Bethany Church Philadelphia, known as Wanamaker's Church, feeling that the field of labor there was wider. He has been in Toronto several times since and last spring an invitation was extended to him to return to Cooke's church pulpit, which is now vacant.

Friends in Toronto were greatly surprised last evening to hear of his illness in Philadelphia as he was bathing in Germany when last heard from. He has suffered from paralytic seizures before, but not seriously.

Rev. R. A. Pogue of St. Paul's church was assistant to Rev. Dr. Patterson before coming to St. Paul's.

HURTUBISE AND THE SYRIAN MEET ON ONE OF FAIR NIGHTS

The Terrible Syrian, Hassan Abdallah, and Peterborough's heavyweight, "Gene" Hurtubise, will meet here on a night during the time the fair is here. This was announced at the Brock street rink last night by W. B. Naylor, Abdallah's manager.

The bout will be catch as catch can style, best two out of three falls, and will be held in the Brock street rink.

The Syrian has been doing great work since he made his American debut at the Columbia Theatre, Boston. He has defeated three well-known men and won his matches in conclusive style.

Hurtubise will be in great shape to meet him. Gene has developed considerably since his memorable go with Yankee Rogers when he held the American champion off twenty-two minutes before the latter got a fall. He is working out regularly and is much speedier than he was last spring. He has also learned much more about the game, both in the matter of aggressive and defensive work.

A GENTLEMAN AND TRUE SPORT

Fritz Mohl is a gentleman and a true sport. He was seen by the sporting editor of the Review after the match with Rogers last night and didn't have a word to say against his opponent.

When asked if he thought it wasn't a pretty rough bout, Mohl said he didn't care to express an opinion and replied that what he got was "all in the game."

Mohl was the popular favorite. When he won the first fall the crowd nearly went wild and cheered till the rink re-echoed as loudly as if a Peterborough Hockey team had scored the deciding goal in a championship game.

A win for Mohl would have seen some of the crowd carrying him to his dressing room on their shoulders. He wrestles a clean, scientific game depending only on his skill and strength, and was the favorite with ninety-five per cent. of the audience.

ROGERS AGAIN WINS FROM FRITZ MOHL

WAS FIERCE GRAECO-ROMAN ENCOUNTER

A Heavy Smash off the Mat Put Mohl Groggy and Rogers Got Last Two Falls in Short Order—German Wrestled a Fine Bout and Secured First Fall in 29 mins.

Like a hurricane demon unchained Yankee Rogers went at Fritz Mohl in their Graeco-Roman bout at the street rink last night and showed such terrific speed that it appeared almost superhuman. He knew when to make the outburst and when it came it [illegible] it was like a cloudburst, landslide and a Dakota blizzard all combined. Mohl had obtained the first fall and was wrestling strong and looked as though he might have a splendid chance of winning. The second fall had gone for about seven or eight minutes when Rogers suddenly spun his opponent around and Mohl in his many revolutions looked like a man going through a whirling Dervish dance. Yankee clapped a waist hold on him and raising him off his feet bumped him headfirst on to the floor with a heavy thud. Mohl bounded up and rolled over. He was dazed and on the broad of his back, but his shoulders were off the mat and the fall didn't count. His second ran to his aid and threw cold water on his face and a local physician, who was in attendance, jumped over the side of the rink and ran to see the extent of his injuries, but he was not seriously hurt, only badly stunned, but nevertheless the shock was a racking one and he was groggy when he arose to continue the bout.

He rushed wildly at Rogers swinging his clenched hands from side to side. Rogers stepped out of the reach of his jabs and let out at such a rate that the sparks fairly seemed to be sizzling from him. He forced Mohl to the carpet and applied those jarring bar Nelsons relentlessly one after another. The German rolled over and over like a log being turned with a cant hook and was pinned at last with a bar Nelson.

The next fall came easier, Rogers flashing around his adversary and using every particle of his wonderful strength. The time for it was but 3 1-2 minutes. Mohl was all in from the bad bump he received and Rogers worked like mad with a view of crushing his man before he had recovered himself sufficiently to be dangerous. The two went on the mat and Yankee got on a bar Nelson. He partially turned Mohl over and then clutching his arm at the wrist he pulled it out and held it on the mat and the victory was his.

W. B. Naylor acted as announcer and used his clear megaphonious voice to advantage. Ned Fitzpatrick refereed all the bouts. He was cool and competent and no man could have filled the bill any better. He had to do some close scrutinizing in the Mohl Rogers bout, but performed in that thankless position in an admirable way.

THE PRELIMINARIES.

The programme was opened by a ten minute preliminary wrestling match between Bobby Long and A. C. Yokoma. Yokoma got the first fall in two minutes and the other eight minutes were wrestled without a fall.

The next thing in order was for Mohl to do his nail bending and his turn of driving a spike through a two inch pine plank. Announcer Naylor informed the crowd that Mohl's wrist was troubling him as the result of an accident he met with when here the last time and the performance was left out.

Ted Brown and Jack Wilson tore off an interesting fifteen minute bout in which both men were heaved about considerably, but in which neither man secured a fall, although several times both were close to having their shoulders pinned.

THE BIG BATTLE.

Both Rogers and Mohl were given a good reception when they took off their robes for the fray and stepped to the centre of the mat and shook hands. Referee Fitzpatrick had a short talk with them and then set the men in action.

The pair grappled for some minutes standing on their feet and it looked as though the bout was going to be somewhat slower than the catch as catch can contest between the two the Friday previous. But it is safe to say that it was one of the liveliest Graeco-Roman contests ever pulled off and when the men were got on the mat there was excitement every minute. Mohl appeared fully as strong as Rogers and there was some great struggling on the part of both.

They had been going about ten minutes when Mohl hooked a head hold on Yankee and brought him to the canvas. The audience applauded loudly and the excitement was high. Mohl assumed the aggressive and tried hard for a fall.

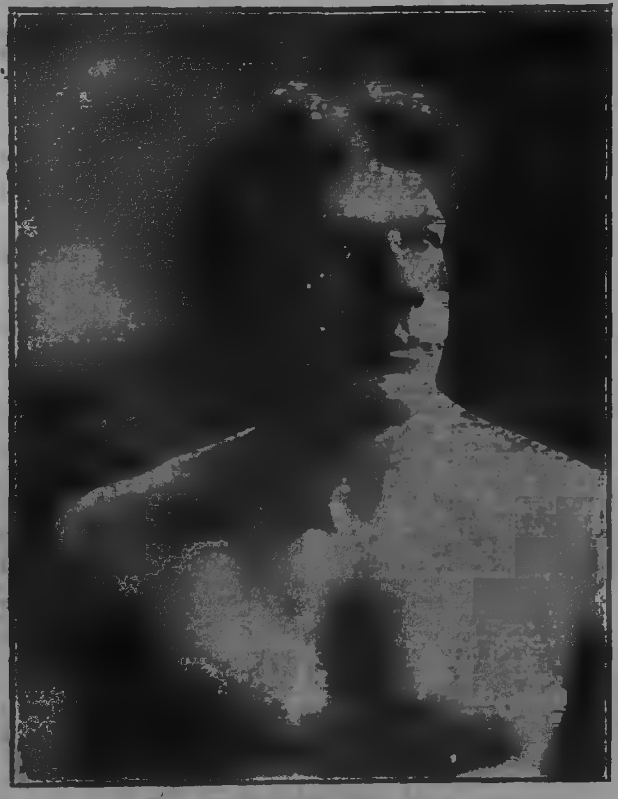
The men were soon on their feet again and Rogers secured a full Nelson from the front, standing. He held it for half a minute or so and Mohl broke the hold with his powerful arms. Mohl again had the other grappler on the mat and held him there with a waist hold. Quite a thrill of excitement ran through the audience when Rogers brought back Mohl's hand for a hammerlock, but Fritz worked away from the hold. Rogers rolled Mohl with a quickly gotten bar Nelson. A second later he got a further arm hold which looked bad and the supporters of the German were glad when he got away from it. Mohl got a beautiful rolling fall on a body lock. He secured a bar Nelson and slowly pressed down his man. Rogers squirmed and heaved, but Mohl clung tenaciously to the grip and after being all but down a couple of times Rogers' points at length touched the mat and the first fall was Mohl's in 28 minutes. The crowd cheered and cheered and the men went to their dressing room for their rest of ten minutes.

THE SECOND FALL.

Both men started right in to mix it up. Rogers had Mohl in a tight looking place on a quarter Nelson, but the latter gouged him away. The first indication of real rough work was when Yankee Rogers thumped Mohl's head when the men were off the mat. The spectators didn't toss him any bouquets for his tactics either.

A little later Yankee did a pile driving stunt on the boards with Mohl's head as described above and secured the fall in 10 minutes on a bar Nelson. The deciding fall was gained by him by employing the same hold. Time 3 1-2 minutes.

It is somewhat unusual that the fall in the preliminary bout and the three falls in the main one were all secured through the agency of the bar Nelson.



YANKEE ROGERS.
Whose cyclonic performance last night in his bout with Mohl held the spectators breathless—Got last two falls in 10 and 3½ Minutes.

SPORTING COMMENT

President Seymour, of the Tigers, was delighted with the action of the O.A.A.U. the other night, and he now sees nothing but one Rugby union in the country and that the Interprovincial. "I think that the big Four junior and intermediate series this year will be worth while," said Sey, "and I am sure the executive will give them every encouragement." —Hamilton Spectator.

TWO JOURNALISTIC WALKERS WILL PASS THROUGH HERE

Are on Their Way From Quebec to Vancouver—Have Reached Ottawa and Are Making Good Progress.

Peterborough will shortly be visited by two journalistic walkers en route from Quebec to Vancouver. They have arrived at Ottawa and left for the west yesterday afternoon, travelling by way of Smith's Falls and Peterborough.

Concerning them the Ottawa despatch says:

Messrs. Edward N. C. Clarke and Leo Marchant, journalistic distance walkers, en route from Quebec to Vancouver, arrived in Ottawa yesterday at one o'clock, having covered the distance between Montreal and Ottawa, 136 miles by road, in three days and a half, averaging a fraction of over 35 miles per day. The longest day's trip was between St. Anne de Bellevue via Rigaud to Vankleek Hill, 43 miles. The two walkers are staying at the Brunswick hotel and will leave Ottawa at 1 p.m. to-day, following the road to Smith's Falls and thence to Toronto, passing through Peterborough. Clarke and Marchant expect to reach Vancouver by Christmas day.

Mr. Clarke is doing this walk in the interests of an English newspaper syndicate, writing descriptions of his experience as he goes along. He started out from Quebec with a man named Johnston, but the latter quit when Montreal was reached and Marchant, another Englishman, who was formerly sporting editor of the Cape Town Argus, joined him at Montreal and volunteered to accompany him to the coast. The men left Quebec and are working their way along. They must travel by the roads on an all-Canadian route and reached Ottawa sharp on time. They hope to establish a record for the trip.

Messrs. Clarke and Marchant met Ald. Sam Rosenthal and other prominent Ottawa sportsmen yesterday and were given a warm welcome to the Capital. Arrangements are also under way to give them a send-off this afternoon. The walkers report that everywhere they have been treated most cordially by the Canadian people. They have had many interesting experiences, but are enjoying good health and are confident of completing the journey on time.

Charles Edward Gates, the Boston to France walker, who struck Ottawa about ten days ago, has reached North Bay. He is making good progress.

INDIANS HARVESTING THE WILD RICE ON RICE LAKE

The crop of wild rice on Rice Lake this year is a good one and the Indians are busy gathering in the crop. The harvesting operations will last about two weeks.

In case everything goes right the harvest will be a profitable one. However, a heavy wind or rain storm will be disastrous as the rice is very ripe and would be easily shaken off.

Rice Lake is the scene of many Indians and their squaws paddling in through the rice beds in the work of gathering in the crop. The rice is most plentiful in the beds in the vicinity of Sugar Island, at the mouth of the Indian River, and there are twelve camps of Indians on the Island.

LOCAL REGIMENT WILL HAVE FINE QUARTERS AT KINGSTON

Special Correspondence of the Review

Barriefield Camp, Kingston, September 5.—The news from the camp at Kingston is that it will be the best camp ever held in the district. Every provision has been made for the comfort and convenience of the troops. The 57th Regiment quarters overlook the St. Lawrence, of which there is a beautiful and extended view. The air is fresh and exhilarating, while the site of the camp is simply perfect. The programme of sports is an excellent one and the list of attractions for Labour Day including the trip by boat down the river, is a fine one. There will no doubt be a very large turnout of men from Peterborough.

THE LIBERAL CONVENTION

The nomination of Mr. Stratton by the Liberals of West Peterborough cannot be considered a distinguished success as a party move. Rejected at Toronto, refused a senatorship, declined in East Peterborough, undefended by the Liberal press, he has routed Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., but that he himself will succeed at the polls is extremely doubtful. A campaign with Mr. Stratton in it must necessarily have him largely as the issue. The Globe made Dr. Beattie Nesbitt the issue in a similar contest in Toronto and we know what happened.

That journal at that time declared that the personality of men was a necessary element of consideration under all circumstances. It will be hardly possible for West Peterborough to take kindly to one who had an ample opportunity but failed to preserve either his own, his constituency's, or his party's good name. While it is true that Mr. Hall, the present member, could not be re-elected, many will think that he stood a better chance than the man of whom the Royal Commission on Insurance, appointed by the Laurier Government, found it necessary to say:—

"Having regard to all the circumstances your commissioners are compelled to conclude that what really took place between Stratton and Pattison was that the former demanded and the latter conceded a share to the extent of $10,000.00 in the moneys which were being paid to the latter and charged to the Home Life". (From Report of the Royal Commission on Life Insurance 1907, p. 74)

In order that the electors may have an opportunity of judging fairly of this matter the evidence of Mr. Stratton and the report thereon will be sent to them. The "retirement" which Mr. Stratton pleaded a few months ago as constituting a right to be let alone is now shown to be a sanctuary which he ran to for shelter. The candidature of Mr. Stratton will bring Mr. Gamey into the riding. It is impossible to ignore these elements in the conduct of aspiring representatives. "Vindication" Mr. Stratton desires, at the hands of the citizens of West Peterborough. Do his past and his promised future warrant such a step on the part of the Reformers of this constituency?

THE DISPLAY OF NORTHERN LIGHTS WAS MOST BRILLIANT

Whole Northern Portion of Heavens Lit up Last Night by Aurora Borealis—Sight Was Beautiful One.

The display of aurora borealis, or "northern lights," last night was the most brilliant seen here in years, in fact many citizens remarked today that it was the most beautiful they had ever seen. The sky was lit up from about eight o'clock till after midnight. It will be remembered that a few days ago Rev. Dr. Marsh, Springville, predicted an unusually bright display of the aurora borealis would follow the marked disturbance on the sun's surface, increasing in brilliancy as the "spots" moved towards the limb of the solar organ. This has proved to be correct. Hydrogen-calcium fires can now be seen with the telescopes on the eastern and western limb of the solar organ and it now seems almost an established fact that the "northern lights," following disturbances on the sun.

Last night streaks of light shot up in the north and mounted the sky until they passed the constellation of Lyra. Between eleven and twelve o'clock the whole northern portion of the heaven was illuminated, the shafts of light shooting up past the zenith. The sight was a beautiful one.

A party of Peterborough gentlemen, consisting of Messrs. Easson, Fiske, Moore and Skitch, drove out to Springville and saw the display through Dr. Marsh's large telescope and also had a look at many of the heavenly bodies.

Dr. Marsh expects another display of the aurora borealis tonight.

Request was Granted But He Went and Got Drunk

Frederick Rawlings, the inmate of refuge, who was inclined to be quarrelsome there and was given 30 days in gaol, got out yesterday. A Resident of Welland Finds Relief in Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Ozial Rounds, Welland, Ont., a retired lumberman and a resident of Welland for half a century, writes:

"For fifteen years prior to 1900 I was a sufferer from hay asthma and chronic diarrhea. I grew weak and emaciated and was tortured with insomnia.

"I was treated by eminent physicians but, if anything, was worse than ever. In fact, I was in as miserable a condition as a man could be.

"However, I chanced to try Peruna and noticed an improvement. Thus encouraged, I continued, and after taking several bottles of your precious Peruna, I was entirely well and a wonder to myself and friends.

"If, at my advanced age, 88 years, I have obtained such good results from Peruna, after so many years of needless suffering, there can be no doubt of its efficacy in the treatment of younger persons."

DOES THIS TOWN EVER DO ANYTHING?

Asked the Magistrate at the Police Court To-day---A Sewer Causing Trouble

The sewer running through the lane at the rear of the Post Office is causing trouble, and the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., were in police court this morning. The sewer needs flushing out and Mr. H. Thompson, who was present on behalf of the company this morning, stated that an agreement was made between the property owners and the city when the sewer was constructed, whereby the city should keep it cleaned out.

"Don't you think the town should flush it out?" asked Mr. Thompson.

"Does this town ever do anything" was the magistrate's reply. "They haven't flushed a sewer out this summer."

It was agreed to ask Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire Water and Light Committee, to have the Fire Department clean it.

WEDDING BELLS

BEVINGTON—BOUCHER

A very quiet but exceedingly pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday morning at Christ church, Winnipeg, when T. A. D. Bevington, second son of T. Bevington, of Southsea, late of Westmore Hall, London, England, was married to Helen, second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Boucher, of Peterborough, Ont., and niece of Mrs. Margaret Scott, of the Scott Nursing Home, of this city. Only a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony. The bride looked resplendent in her very pretty brown tailor-made travelling costume. Under the coat she wore a beautiful all-lace blouse trimmed with gold fringe. She also wore a brown hat with ostrich feathers and a broad band of heavy gold passementerie.

The bridegroom was attended by G. Y. Smallwood as best man. During the signing of the register Stanley Osborne played some beautiful selections on the organ and to the strains of the wedding march, the happy couple left the church.

The groom's gifts to his bride were many, including a diamond and turquoise ring. They were the recipients of many beautiful presents. Immediately after the ceremony the happy pair left on the east-bound train for Selkirk, from whence they intend to make a tour of the lake. On their return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Bevington will reside at 361 Mangus avenue.—Winnipeg Telegram.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. ROGERS

Took Place This Morning---Dr. Langfeldt Paid High Tribute to Her Memory at St. Luke's

The funeral of the late Mrs. A. M. Rogers took place this morning from St. Luke's church, where the intimate friends of the departed had gathered to pay their last respects to her memory. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, rector of the church, returned from Barriefield camp last night to officiate at the obsequies in accordance with the dying wish of Mrs. Rogers. The service of the Church of England was read and a few words were said by Dr. Langfeldt as a testimony to Mrs Rogers' honourable life and true piety. He appropriated to her life the words "Well done, good and faithful servant." She had been a true servant of the Lord in her devotion to her duties to Him and her followmen, strictly honest and possessed of a commendable spirit of independence. Her lot was not cast on a bed of roses. From her early years till about one and a half years ago she earned her own living and never at any time had she needed or asked for help from anyone. The rector thanked God for the good life and example of faithfulness and integrity that had marked her earthly career, and he was sure that she would be received by her Master into her heavenly inheritance.

The hymns "How Sweet the Name of Jesus Sounds" and "Jesu, Lover of My Soul" were sung. Miss Fowlds presided at the organ and played the "Dead March" preceding the service. When the body was taken out of the church the congregation sang the Nunc Dimittis. Mr. Wm. Rogers, of the Wm. English Canoe Company, and only son of the departed, was the chief mourner. Messrs. T. English, Jos. Ball, Jos. Stewart, Wm. Croft, Wm. Whitcroft and R. Rowntree were the pall-bearers.

WHAT RURAL MAIL DELIVERY MEANS TO FARMERS

"If Anyone Attempted to Take it Away From the Farmers of the U.S. There Would be a Rebellion," Says J. Lockie Wilson, Government Inspector, Department of Agriculture.

The Canadian Farmer Must Have it to Keep Abreast of His American and British Competitors---It Will be Introduced and Set up According to Needs of People and Prospect of Return Just as in City Delivery---Along With the Telephone it is the Great Desideratum of the Age---Life on the Farm no Longer to be One of Isolation---It Will Add Materially to the Value of Farms--An Immense Help to Women in the Management of the Farm Household---Seventy-Five Families on a 24-Mile Route Makes it Pay its Way.

To the Canadian Dairyman and Farming World of Peterborough, which sent a special representative to the U.S., The Review is indebted for most of the material and all of the cuts relating to the most important improvement in Canadian farm life yet suggested. What mechanical contrivances are in preparing the soil, in growing and garnering the crop, rural mail delivery is in securing information which will enable the farmer to make the best of the crops when garnered, in keeping him in touch with the outside world and in enabling him to save time and expense in the receipt and delivery of parcels, papers, letters, etc., as in the older and more settled countries of the western world. The possibility of its introduction into Canada has been thoroughly investigated, and, although opposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it is a plank in the platform of Mr. Borden, who thinks that the time has come to spend some money on the farmer.

Rural Mail Delivery Waggons Before Starting on Their Routes Through the Country—The Above is the Type of Vehichle the American Government has Adopted for Rural Mail Delivery

"The great cry of those who oppose the introduction of free rural delivery in Canada, has been that the service costs too much. The words "enormous," "tremendous," "ruinous" and others similar have been used so often in reference to the cost of the service, that our people have become like children who have been told that a bear will eat them if they go out alone in the dark; they have taken other people's words for it, and are afraid to investigate for themselves.

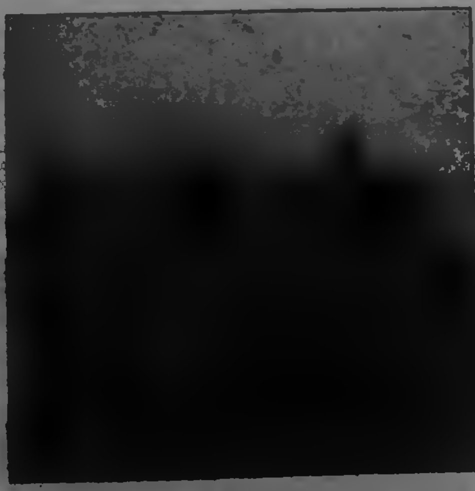
Who knows what the service does cost? Nobody. Figures can be quoted which will show that the service is more than self-sustaining. Others can be produced that will prove that free rural delivery is a piece of great extravagance. It can be shown that rural delivery has so increased the United States postal revenues that it has reduced the deficit of the United States Post Office Department by several million dollars a year. It can be shown also that were it not for free rural delivery, the post office department, instead of having a deficit of several million dollars a year, would have a large surplus. It all depends upon which set of figures you use.

THE VIEWPOINT IMPORTANT.

Which set is right? Neither. The service costs millions of dollars a year less than some people have told us, and it costs more than some others have endeavored to show. It depends altogether upon how you look at it. A post office official from Canada looking at it purely from a revenue-producing standpoint, and comparing the cost of rural delivery with the cost of our present post office system would be likely to condemn rural delivery vigorously. A deputation of farmers who know what it costs them now in loss of time going for their mail, and who know what it means to go for days at a time without a letter or a daily paper, would, we believe, after investigating the rural delivery service, declare that the benefits of the service far outweigh its cost.

COST NOT KNOWN.

What does it cost? Nobody knows; Not even the United States officials. The rural delivery service is so interwoven with the whole post office system that it is impossible to separate it. For instance, since the introduction of rural delivery there has been a great, we might almost say tremendous, increase in the mail handled in the city post offices. Large departmental stores and other business concerns, have fairly flooded the country districts with circulars and "follow-up" letters. This has increased the revenues of the city post offices, but, as these increased receipts are shown in the returns of only the city post offices, the rural delivery service does not receive credit for them. There has been also, a great increase in the mail sent out by farmers. It is impossible to tell just how great this increase has been. As a result of rural delivery thousands upon thousands of the smaller ands upon thousands of the smaller country post offices have been discontinued. The number can only be estimated approximately. The savings thus effected are considerable and should not be overlooked.



A FARMER RECEIVING HIS MAIL

Under our system our farmers, for the most part, have to go for their mail or do without. Thus they are taxed indirectly. The rural delivery system removes this tax. This is a consideration that the average post office official would not be likely to count.

OUR REPORTS COLORED.

A few years ago our government sent two post office officials to Washington to investigate the rural delivery service. At that time the service was still growing rapidly. Many of its early defects had not then been overcome. These officials in their report, a copy of which is before me, say "In the course of our communications with the several officers — of the post office department — it was obvious that the service was very popular. In the matter of obtaining positive information as to the eventual scope and cost of the service . . . . our visit was not specially successful.

These officials, however, as a result of their investigations, drew conclusions that indicated that were rural free delivery to be introduced in Canada the cost would be enormous and altogether out of proportion to the benefits that would be derived therefrom. To a considerable extent their conclusions, at that time were justified. It is evident, however, from a perusal of their report, that they looked at the question almost entirely from the standpoint of the post office Department. They wanted to find if rural delivery was, or ever would be, self sustaining. They concluded that it was not paying its way, that it was not likely to and, therefore, that it should not be introduced into Canada. Had these officials been accompanied by a couple of Canadian farmers their report, probably would have been considerably different than it was. They noted by themselves, however and their report has been used by the Dominion Government as a justification for refusing to give the benefits of rural delivery to our Canadian farmers. It is time now that our farmers had all the essential facts before them. The subject is a big one, too big to be more than touched on in this article. One point however, may be referred to.

THE COST EXAGGERATED.

Almost the first thing one finds when investigating this side of the question, is that the figures purporting to show the cost of the service that have been given to us by our leading government officials have been, in some cases at least, very misleading. They have overstated the cost of the service.

Postmaster General Lemieux, speaking in the House of Commons on February 15th, 1907, is shown by Hansard to have said;

"In the United States it —rural delivery—has not been a great success. It has involved the post office department in a succession of annual deficits ranging from $15,000,000 to $16,000,000

Speaking again on this question in April, 1907, Hon Mr. Lemieux said; "In the United States the rural delivery system has caused a deficit in the post office department of something like $17,000,000 or $18,000,000 a year."

THE REAL DEFICITS

What are the facts? These;—The greatest deficit the United States post office department has had in any year since rural delivery has been established, was $14,572,584. This was in the year 1905. In 1906 the deficit was $10,516,995, and in 1907, for last year, only $6,692,000. It is only fair to state that these facts have been brought out in the House of Commons by Mr. J. E. Armstrong, the member for East Lambton, who has studied the rural delivery service in the United States thoroughly and who is by far the best informed member in the House on this question.

CONDITIONS NECESSARY TO ESTABLISHMENT.

The requirements for the establishment of rural delivery have been the same as for the two preceding fiscal years except that since December 1, 1905, it is required, before service is installed, that the postmaster at the distributing office certify that not less than three-fourths of the possible patrons have procured for mail boxes conforming to the regulations. The initial step in securing the inauguration of rural delivery service is the filing of a petition for such service.

Formerly it was the practice of the Department to accept petitions for investigation as to the advisability of instituting the service without any preliminary inquiry as to whether the petitioners accepted were residents along proposed routes. Thus petitions were accepted and in many instances routes were established where there was no general desire for rural delivery, the petitions having been circulated by persons whose sole object was to secure positions as carriers, or in the case of some fourth-class postmasters, to increase their compensation, and signed by anyone willing to sign, regardless of whether he lived where he could patronize the service. Inquiry is now made through postmasters as to whether petitioners are heads of families or householders actually residing along the proposed rout of delivery, and if so, it is presumed they have petitioned in good faith for the service. After a petition is accepted an inspector visits the locality and if the conditions are favorable, lays out the route to be travelled in the delivery of mail.

The Cost of Establishing a Rural Mail Delivery

So loud has been the outcry that has been raised in Canada against the introduction of rural free delivery, mainly on the ground of its enormous expense that many Canadians have concluded that the deficit of the United States Post Office department must amount to millions of dollars a year, and that its financial position must be getting steadily worse.

Statements that have been made in our House of Commons have created this impression. We have been told by Sir William Mulock that the expenditures on free rural delivery in the United States have raised "serious difficulties in that country," and that the United States administration was "at its wits' end to know what to do with this monster that had been raised up, and apparently, has no way of controlling the thing."

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, has told us that the adoption of free rural delivery in Canada would mean that we would be "overburdened by an expenditure which the population of this country would never submit to, and which they could not stand."

Our present Postmaster-General, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, has stated that "the rural mail delivery system has caused a deficit in the States States Post Office Department of something like $17,000,000 or $18,000,000 a year."

With such alarming statements before us, made by people who we have had reason to suppose had looked into the matter thoroughly and whom we have looked to for guidance in these matters, it is small wonder that we have been slow to advocate the introduction of rural delivery.

When however, we begin to question the post office officials and people of the United States, about this "monster that they have raised up" we find that instead of being at their wits' ends" they are delighted with the results of the service and find that their postal deficits, instead of having been increased by the "enormous expenditures" on rural delivery are less now than they were before free rural delivery was established.

Do you doubt it? Then look at the followning table, showing the number of rural carriers that have been engaged since the service was established, the expenditures each year and the yearly postal deficit.

DURING THE FIRST THREE MONTHS OF THE PRESENT FISCAL YEAR, ACCORDING TO POSTMASTER GENERAL MEYER, THERE WAS NO DEFICIT.

INTERESTING FIGURES.

That while the expenditures on free rural delivery have increased from $14,840 in 1897, to $26,755,524 in 1907, the deficit of the Post Office Department in 1907, was $4,719,790 less than it was in 1897, or about 40 per cent less.

Does any person see any reason why the people of the United States should be alarmed over "the monster they have raised up" especially in view of the fact that the service is now almost complete, reaching as it does about five-sixths of the people who live in districts suitable for the service. Where, it might be asked, also, are the deficits of $15,000,000 to $16,000,000 a year that we have been told about?

NOT A JUST CLAIM

An effort has been made to prove from the foregoing figures that the rural delivery service has reduced, rather than increased, the deficits of the Post Office Department. That is not a safe conclusion to draw. As I will show later on, the increased receipts from the rural delivery service are very much less than the expenditure that the service involves. It is probable that were it not for the rural delivery, the United States Post Office Department, would have a large surplus instead of a deficit. The decrease in the annual deficits has been due to other causes than the increased receipts from rural delivery. The important part of the figures quoted lies in the fact that they show that the expenditures on rural delivery are not so great as to be a serious burden to the people of the United States, and, therefore, that there is little or no reason to be alarmed over the "enormous expenditures" for free rural delivery that we have been told so much about.

What The Farmers Say.

While interviewing the farmers in the vicinity of Clifton Springs, N.Y., in regard to the free rural delivery service, a number of farmers were found loading cabbages at a railway station. The object of my presence in their section was soon explained, after which they readily bore testimony to the benefits of free rural delivery.

"I like free rural delivery best," said Mr. W. J. Burns, "because it enables us to take a daily paper and thus keep informed in regard to market quotations. Just the other day the price of potatoes in Cleveland advanced from 60c to 72c a bushel. It seemed that the farmers had been so busy with their fall work they had not been able to attend the market. We saw this advance quoted in the daily paper and soon rushed a car from here there and probably made $50 on this one deal. This shows what it means to be able to take advantage of advances in market prices."

Last week I made mention of the fact that cabbages are one of the main crops grown by farmers near Clifton Springs. Mr. Burns informed me that his crop had averaged almost 18 tons to the acre and the price he secured ranged from $5 to $12 a ton. The day I saw him he was shipping cabbages to Baltimore. "We contracted our first four acres" he said "at $7.50 a ton and cut 72 tons, 900 lbs of cabbages off the four acres. We

AN UP-TO-DATE RURAL DELIVERY WAGON IN NEW YORK STATE

Farming conditions in New York State are so closely similar to those in older Ontario, both in winter and summer, that they are practically the same. The farms are about the same in size and the population is of about the same density. In New York State the farmers have their mail delivered at their door daily. In Ontario farmers have to go or send for their mail or do without.

contracted another two and a half acres at $8 a ton and cut 44 tons. One of our neighbors cut 150 tons off seven acres. He had the banner crop in our section."

A SPLENDID MOVE.

"'The introduction of free rural delivery," said E. A. Marsh, of Phelps, "was one of the best moves for the farmers our government ever made. The farmers pay a large proportion of the cost of the free rural delivery system in cities and until we got free rural delivery we got nothing in return. It is more important that farmers should have their mail delivered to them than it is that city people should have their mail delivered, because farmers live a long distance from the post office, while the people who live in cities have only a short distance to go to get their mail."

When asked if he thought free rural delivery was worth a deficit of $10,000,000 a year to the farmers of the United States, Mr. Marsh replied without hesitation, "Yes, and twice that. I do not care what it costs because it cannot cost so much that our people won't be willing to pay it. It means a great deal to this country to have the farmers as well informed on current events as are the city people. Before we had rural delivery our farmers got their papers about once a week. Now they get them every day. Were I buying a farm I would give a good deal more for it if it had a daily mail, than I would if I had to drive two or three miles to get my letters. Such a farm would be worth $10 an acre more to me. I never took a daily paper until we got rural delivery. Now that I do take a daily paper I appreciate what it is worth to me."

WATCH THE QUOTATIONS

"By getting the daily paper," said Mr. F. W. Reeter, of Clifton Springs, "we are able to keep track of the market quotations on all kinds of crops. There are places in this country where the people do not get a paper more than once a week. We get it once a day. We used to have to go three miles for our mail. I consider that we save ten cents a day by having a mail delivery, if only in the satisfaction we feel in not having to go for it, and in being able to keep posted in regard to what is going on. Then, also it is necessary for the roadmasters to keep the roads open in winter so that the carriers can get through. This is something that they did not do before."

When told that the Canadian farmers did not have rural free delivery Mr. John A Burns said, "Well, you ought to have it. If you are busy, or have been working your team hard, you do not feel like going for your mail. It is then that you enjoy having your letters and papers left at your door each day.

A GREAT CONVENIENCE.

"It is a great convenience," said Mr. Frank Cole, of Phelps, "having our mail delivered daily. If we are busy we do not have to waste the time going for our mail, because it is delivered at the farm. In the same way if we have an important letter to mail we mail it at our farm door, and do not have to hitch up and take it into the post office. I believe that free rural delivery has increased the value of my farm at least five per cent. It has been the means, also, of improving the condition of our roads as they have been kept in better shape since we have had rural delivery. This year the buyers were holding down the price of apples. We showed them the prices quoted for apples in the daily papers and they had to pay up. Now, by having daily papers, we know as much about the markets as they do. I would not give up free rural delivery if I had to pay $10 a year out of my own pocket. I use rural delivery for the sending of money orders and I find it just as safe as when I used to send them through the post office. In the same way we get paid for our crops right at our own doors."

Mr. W. F. Anderson, of Phelps, who used to have to go two miles to get his mail, stated that the greatest benefit of free rural delivery was its great convenience.

HAVE FEW COMPLAINTS

The postmaster at Clifton Springs, Mr. J. H. Stevens stated that he almost never received a complaint from any of the farmers about the rural delivery carriers. Occasionally a bundle of papers went astray, but it was seldom found that it was due to any mistake on the part of the carriers.

The following day I visited another section near Clifton Springs and found the farmers all of the same opinion as those I had already interviewed. Mr. H. R. Taylor, of Clifton Springs, claimed that the introduction of free rural delivery was the greatest improvement in the government serving the people of the United States ever obtained. "When the service was first started," he said, "some of the politicians were opposed to it, but the service proved so popular from the start that all opposition soon died out." When asked if the rural carriers ever took part in politics, Mr. Taylor replied, "I never heard of such a thing." Continuing, Mr. Taylor said, "farm help is getting so scarce that it frequently happens that we have no one on the farm whoosen find time to go for th mail. In this way, rural delivery is helping our farmers to solve the labor problem. Farm telephones are also helping to solve it. We have a telephone that costs us a dollar a month and it is a wonderful convenience. Farm telephones and rural delivery combined help to greatly increase the value of farm lands. Rural delivery may cost considerable money but our farmers are willing to pay more taxes if they know what it means to them.— they know what it means tot hem.

THE FAMILY ALL AGREED

At the home of Mr. R. H. Jones, of Clifton Springs, Mr. Mrs. and Miss Jones all united in praising the free rural delivery system. "It seems as though we would be lost," said Mrs. Jones, "if we had to go to Clifton Springs every day for our mail as we used to do." "We could not do without it," broke in Mr. Jones, "and if your Canadian farmers ever get it they will not let it go. It saves so much time on man and horses that it pays for itself." "As we use the telephone," said Miss Jones, "it becomes a necessity once you have it and as it assists us more we do not mind our taxes."

When told what our government says about the cost of the service, Miss Jones replied, "Of course, your Canadian farmers can vote to do without free rural delivery if they want to. If they think that it costs too much it is their own business. We have free rural delivery, however, and we intend to keep it and are willing to pay more taxes to do so if we have to. I tell you, it is mighty nice to get your mail delivered at your door, rain or shine. Before, when we were in a hurry to mail a letter, we had to hitch up and drive two and a half miles to the post office."

"Many years ago I used to have to pay 24 cents to mail a letter to California. Later the cost was reduced to 18 cents. Now it is only 2 cents. Rural free delivery is only another step in the improvement of the postal service. Some people might claim that we cannot afford to send a letter to California for two cents, but we have found that we can. In the same way, we have found that we can afford to deliver the mail to our farmers. Then also rural delivery makes farm life more enjoyable. We like to get the daily news every day just as well as any city man does."

When asked if the rural carriers ever took part in politics, Mr. Jones replied, "No, not now. They may have at one time, but that time has gone. You won't find a man in this section who is in favor of doing without free rural delivery."

"When you get free rural delivery in Canada," said Miss Jones, "your farmers should take care to buy the kind of boxes the government recommends. Some of our farmers did not do it and now the inspector has been through here and ordered twenty-six people on this route to put up good boxes or they will lose the service."

What Rural Delivery Saves

"Rural delivery saves us at least $100 a year," said Mrs. J. R. Adams of Huntingdon Valley, Pennsylvania, to me when I called at her home. "Even if it does increase our taxes it is a splendid thing for the farmers. Mr. husband makes a specialty of raising ducks for the Philadelphia market.

Before we got free rural delivery we used to get our mail from Huntingdon Valley post office. A young man, who stayed at a neighbors, used to bring us our mail at night. We had to go to our neighbors' about a quarter of a mile from here, to get it. If it happened we were busy we would not go, and then we would not receive our mail till the following day. We used to pay another boy 50 cents a year to bring us a daily paper from Somerton. Now, we get our mail delivered at our door every morning. It is fortunate for us that we do, as the young man who used to bring us the mail has moved away and we would have to go or send for it ourselves if it were not for free rural delivery."

"We market an average of 500 lbs of ducks a week during nine months in the year. When Jewish holidays come they influence the market greatly. The dealer in Philadelphia, to whom we ship our ducks keeps track of these holidays and writes us in regard to them. Sometimes he used to write and ask us to have a lot of ducks at his place by a certain time. It frequently happened that we did not get his letters until the day that the ducks should have been in Philadelphia. As a result we often lost two or three cents a pound on 500 or 800 pounds of live ducks. This meant a considerable loss to us. When we save only two cents a pound on 500 pounds it is equal to $10.00. Now that we have free rural delivery we get our mail promptly every morning. The dealer can write to us at night in Philadelphia and we will have his letter the following morning. This means that we will easily save $100 a year by having our mail delivered promptly. That is why I believe that even if rural delivery does increase our taxes, it is a fine thing for the farmers.

"At one time we thought of having a telephone put in, now we do not expect to need it. We are so pleased with the service that we are shaking with fear at the thought that our route, which is only a new one, may not be sufficiently patronized and may thus be discontinued. For that reason we are buying all the stamps and money orders, from our mail carrier, that we possibly can. The first mail that we received through the rural delivery mail carrier brought us twenty-two letters. A number of our friends had heard that we were going to get the rural delivery and had written to congratulate us.

KEEPS THE ROAD OPEN

"One reason why I wanted rural delivery," said C. H. Drumman, of Huntingdon Valley, "was because I knew if we got it our road in winter would be kept open, even in stormy weather. Thus we would always have a clear road, as the mail roads are always broken first.

"The route in this section was started by the postmaster at Huntingdon Valley who wanted to increase his trade. He went around with the carrier and explained to the people that it would not cost any more to have their mail delivered by the rural carrier than it would to have a box at the post office. Some of those who refused to take the service at first have since given their orders for rural delivery boxes. Our carrier has a route twenty-six miles long with eighty boxes. He expects to have a considerable number of additional boxes before long.'"

TWO NICE FEATURES

As I walked down the road, stopping at the different farm houses, two things impressed me most favorably. One was that the farmers who had rural delivery boxes in front of their houses, nearly all had their names painted on their boxes. As these boxes were on the side of the road it was possible for a stranger to tell who lived in each house.

The second point was that at the various cross-roads there were signs indicating the way to the various post offices in the district, and mentioning the number of miles to each. Thus, strangers could tell where they without having to drive into the farm house to ask for information. I was informed that some states have laws making it compulsory for the township councils to erect signs of this nature at every cross-road.

Noticing that there was no rural delivery box in front of one fine farm house that I passed I asked a boy who was working in the field what the reason was. He replied, 'Oh we do not bother with it as we have to go into town every morning with our milk and we get our mail then."

"We used to have to go three-quarters of a mile for our mail," said Mr. Poiron, of Huntingdon Valley, "and as a result, we went for it about only three times a week. Now the rural delivery drops our mails in our box every morning and we have to go only 15 feet for it."

HOW THE ROUTE WAS STARTED.

The manner in which this route came to be started was described by Mr. Andrew Ervin, the post master at Huntingdon Valley, a general store keeper. "I knew," said Mr. Ervin, "that a rural route would be established in this section soon and I felt that it had better start from our post office than from some other, as if the route started from another local office it might take a lot of my trade.

I first saw our Congressman and through him secured an application form from the Post Office Department, petitioning for the establishment of a rural delivery route. I then laid out a 25 mile route, and drove over it to get the names of those who would take rural delivery. The post office department required that three-quarters of the people who accepted rural delivery would agree to put up boxes as a guarantee that the service would be patronized. Nearly all the people agreed to take rural delivery and to put up boxes, although, a few refused to do so. Some parties were getting their mail through other offices and did not want to change.

"I did this work in the spring. The inspector came out in the summer and went over the route and changed it slightly so that the carrier would not have to travel over the same ground twice on any part of the route. The route was started on September 16, 1907, with 65 boxes. It now has 80 boxes and we expect that before long there will be more.

"Quite a number of the people on the route mail me their orders for groceries, and I deliver the groceries to those who live within two or three miles of my store. Our office is a fourth class office but the service is growing so rapidly it may soon go up to a third-class office."

A Retrospect.

It is estimated by the officials of the post office department that 18,000,000 people living in the farming districts of the United States receive their mail daily through the free rural delivery service. The gross cost of the service this year will be about $38,000,000. Thus were these people to bear all the cost themselves, the cost of the service for a year for each person would be about two dollars. But that is the gross cost. The savings that have been effected by the cutting off of thousands of post offices and stage routes and the increased revenue derived through the rural delivery service effect a saving of at least $8,000,000 a year. Thus, the net cost of the service is about only $30,000,000 a year. This would mean a net cost per person of about $1.67 a year.

Even that is not a fair basis of computation. It charges the whole cost of the service to the farming population. As the postal service is national in character, its cost should be borne equally by the whole population. The farmers of the United States pay a portion of the cost of erecting the immense post offices in the cities and of the free delivery service in cities. The people of the cities therefore, should bear a portion of the cost of free rural delivery. Were this done the cost of the service would be much less even than $1.67 per year.

Exception may be taken to the estimate that 18,000,000 are enjoying the benefits of the service on the ground that the number mentioned includes the hired men, the grown-up sons and daughters, the grandfathers and grandmothers and others on the farms of the United States, who are not taxpayers. Granted. Let us then look at the matter in its worst light.

THE GREATEST COST PER FAMILY.

In June 1903 the average number of boxes on each route throughout the United States was seventy. Each box represented at least one family. The average number of people on each route receiving their mail through these boxes was 381 or a little more than five or six persons for each box or family. Since then the service has been greatly improved. Many routes having only a small patronage have been discontinued. It probably is safe to say that the number of boxes on each route this year averaged 75. There are this year, 39,228 routes. Estimating 75 boxes to a route, we find that this year 2,942,100 rural families enjoy the service. Taking the net cost of the serv-

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION

"The most beautiful queen on any throne," this is what Kellogg Durland calls the Empress of Russia, in his great series of articles, entitled "The Romance of an Empress," which begins in the Woman's Home Companion for September. Mr. Durland who is the author of "The Red Reign," spent a year in Russia, getting together all the facts of the romantic and sad life of the most powerful queen in the world.

Other stories are, "The Golden Wedding," by Alice Brown; "The Derelict," by Juliet Wilbor Tompkins; "The Girl in the Mirror," by Hulbert Footner; "Dare You to Love Me," by Annie Hamilton Donnell, and "The Minister's Barrels," by Hettie Basley Goldrick.

SULPUR BLEACH FOR FRUIT STAINS

Stained table linen follows the return of the fresh fruit season as surely "as night follows day." For removing such stains there is nothing more effective than the sulphur bleach. Lay a spoonful of sulphur on a plate and sprinkle with a few drops of alcohol. Over this a tin funnel with the point upward. Touch a lighted match to the alcohol; wet the stained linen and hold the spot over the opening in the point of the funnel. The sulphur fumes will remove the most obstinate stain, seldom requiring more than one application. Rinse and wash the linen at once, to prevent rotting the material.—Woman's Home Companion for September.

CHERRY JELLY FROM APPLES

To make cherry jelly out of apples throw a handful of cherry leaves into the jelly while boiling. After the leaves have boiled some time they can easily be lifted out. Jelly made this way tastes exactly like cherry jelly.—Woman's Home Companion for September.

Woman's World

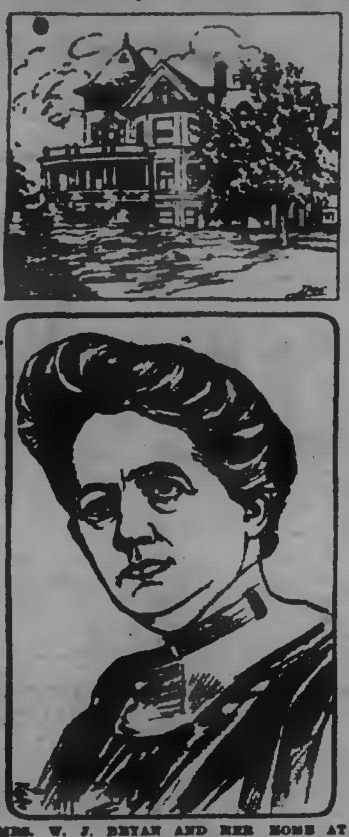
MRS. WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

The Mistress of Fairview and a Glimpse of Her Home Life.

Dorothy Dale in an interview has the following to say about Mrs. Bryan and her home: The mistress of Fairview was at home when I arrived. So was Mr. Bryan. He came out after the servant to greet me with: "Mrs. Bryan decidedly objects to being interviewed. She has nothing important to say." Pause. "However, a visit is different. Oh, Mary!" he called, "Mamma, Mary!" And I understood why that voice holds a multitude.

Mrs. Bryan came. There was an amused twinkle in her gray eyes as she held out a hand and prefaced by saying that she didn't really need any introduction to the people of her country. She was by no means a debutante.

That is Mrs. Bryan's way. She accepts everything graciously, serenely. Her manner says that if she is to go to the White House all well and good. And if she doesn't, why, all well and good. Campaigning is only one interesting phase of life, after all. But wherever she goes and whatever she does she will always be bigger than the circumstance. Every detail of her home life shows that.



MRS. W. J. BRYAN AND HER HOME AT LINCOLN, NEB.

For instance, a Nebraska hill knows the sun in all his glory. Besides, it is treeless. But this did not disturb Mrs. Bryan. She planned a house which, waiting for trees to grow, would be comfortable. Then she considered the grounds. There were acres in them, rounding up from the roadway far below.

A lawn would look bare and stiff, she decided. So alfalfa was sown. And no one who has not seen the bushy green growth can appreciate how it softens the vast expanse. The alfalfa also stays green long after fall has seared other grasses.

Then the porch—it is a masterpiece. From the outside it is a curving white heat reflector with its panels of glistening windows. But inside you are introduced into another world.

The house is red brick. The porch pillars are of red stone. And connecting these is a circular wall of windows, shaded and arranged so that the sun is kept out and every morning breath of air let in. Vines droop from the walls. Ferns and flowers surround the supporting pillars. And with the bamboo furnishings and Indian rugs it looks as inviting as a mountain grotto.

However, its invitation is deceptive, for it's a sort of watchtower, where a servant keeps guard and detains politicians and autograph seekers and the rest of the daily pilgrimage to Fairview that has some pretext for overstepping the camera line.

The rest of the house is a gallery of art gems and curios. From Mr. Bryan's study and the dining room, built below ground for coolness, to the garret roof there are beautiful gleanings from the occident and orient.

The Bryan household is large. Everything is well apportioned. Everything runs smoothly. If people are ready for meals when meals are ready, very well. And if they are not, why, the meals wait and no one fusses. The servants follow their mistress' lead.

To Prevent Fading.

An excellent laundress who has never been known to fade a summer frock says she has a special "fixative" for every color.

Alum used in the rinsing water will prevent green from fading. A handful of salt thrown into the rinsing water will set blue.

Ox gall is good to use for gray and brown. Hay water made by pouring boiling water over hay is excellent for washing tan or brown linen.

A tablespoonful of black pepper stirred into the first suds in which cottons are washed will prevent colors from running.

Five cents' worth of sugar of lead crystals dissolved in a pailful of water makes a solution which fixes the tone of pinks, blues and lavenders. The fabrics should remain in the sugar of lead bath half an hour or so before going to the suds.

These baths will not prevent a garment from fading if it is hung in the sun to dry. Delicate colors—in fact, any colors at all—are safe if dried in the house.

Vinegar is useful in reviving colors. Add one teaspoonful of common vinegar to each quart of cold rinsing water. Thoroughly saturate the article, wring tightly and dry quickly.

If the color has been taken out of silks by fruit stains, ammonia will usually restore it.

To wash brown holland dresses use bran, but no washing soda and no soap unless the skirt is very dirty. Boil two handfuls of bran in one quart of water and strain through muslin. Put the bran on to boil again, as you will require a second supply of bran water for rinsing.

Cool the water by adding one quart of cold water to it. Then wash the skirt. You will be surprised to see how the bran extracts the dirt. Rinse first in bran water, then in plain water. Put the article through a wringer and iron while damp on the wrong side.

When Broiling Chicken.

To broil chicken so that it is cooked through, yet not burned, is an art few cooks seem to possess. The reason is usually that the fire is too hot and the chicken too close to it.

The perfection of broiling requires a clear bed of coals and the broiler far enough away for its contents to cook slowly. This latter requirement is met by having several bricks on which the broiler can be set to raise it above the flame, instead of allowing it to rest directly on the surface of the range, as is the usual way.

Should the fire be too hot insert another layer of bricks for a short time, removing them later.

A medium sized pair of chickens require twenty-five minutes to be broiled in this way. At the end put into a baking pan, covered with butter, pepper and salt, until a nice gravy is drawn.

In putting the chicken on the broiler turn the inside toward the fire first and later turn over on the back.

A Way to Pack.

A business woman who makes frequent trips abroad has evolved an excellent idea for keeping her gowns in good condition. Her plan entails considerable work at first, as she makes pasteboard packing boards and covers them with a cheap percale. When these cases are slipped over the board the ends are sewed up, and tapes to fasten in the gown securely are sewed to the cover at equal distances on each side and on the ends and tie in the center. The garment is thus held secure. In laying in the skirt all the plaits, tucks and other fullness are smoothed in place as it would naturally hang. Each gown or skirt and shirt waist has its pasteboard, that has been cut just small enough to fit inside the trunk. With this arrangement a dress may be taken from the trunk without disarranging any of the others.

A Novel Salad.

Do you want to serve a salad that isn't commonplace? Make it of cherries, luscious pink and white oxhearts served on delicate green lettuce hearts covered with a highly seasoned French dressing.

Stone the cherries so as to crush them as little as possible. They may be used alone, or the centers can be filled with pecans. Put them on the ice until thoroughly chilled.

The French dressing is mixed in a bowl which has been rubbed with a clove of garlic and a small piece of onion and is made hot with red pepper. Allow the cherries to stand in it for at least half an hour before serving.

This salad is as charming to the eye as to the palate and may be quickly and easily prepared in an emergency.

Ice Cream Whims.

A block of ice cream covered with a meringue, set in the oven to color and served immediately, is an easy device to combine heat and cold in one food. Yet another whim is to roll some rich paste very thin, cut in squares, put a spoonful of firm ice cream in the center and fold the moistened edges and pinch so that no heat can get in. Set quickly into a very hot oven which will bake the paste before it melts the ice. Serve instantly. This liking for eating a combination of temperature is further indulged by serving hot apple pie or baked Indian pudding garnished with a spoonful of ice cream.

To Keep Them Flat.

The plaitings seen on many of the season's waists may be laundered easily if the edge is basted before sending to the wash. This may seem a trouble, but the results after ironing make it worth while.

Another reason that the new plaitings lie flatter than formerly is that they are put in perfectly flat after plaiting, allowing no fullness of gathers. Hold the plaiting toward you while basting, for, while not fulled, it must not be scant enough to draw.

A Neat Patch.

To mend the knees of little boys' trousers so they will look as well and wear as well as when new rip the seams as far up as worn, cut away the worn part, take a piece of cloth like the garment, sew straight across the front, carefully matching goods; press the seam well, then shape by the piece cut off, sew up the seams and hem across the front. If the pressing is well done, one could not tell they had been mended.

WHAT MAIL DELIVERY MEANS TO THE FARMER

see as $30,000,000 the net cost of the service to each family is approximately $10 a year. This is less than $1.00 a month or 25 cents a week. But again, that is the gross cost. Were the expense to be distributed, as it should be, over the urban and rural population alike, the net cost would be considerably less than $5.00 a year for each family or less than 10 cents a week. Is that such a "ruinous" expense that we need be "appalled" at it? What do our farmers who live three and four miles from a post office think about it?

WHAT RURAL DELIVERY MEANS

What does that expense mean? It means that our farmers would have their mail delivered at their doors daily, that they would be able to post their letters and to buy and send money orders from their own doors, that they would be able to take a daily paper and thus keep posted in regard to the trend of the markets and concerning the trend of the world's events; that the value of their farms would be increased, that farm life would be made more enjoyable for all on the farm, including the boys and girls; that much valuable time would be saved that is now lost in going for the mail and that our farmers would be placed on a more equal footing with their brothers in the cities. Is $5, yes $10 and even $15 a year too much to pay for such benefits? We would like our farm readers to answer.

INCREASED VALUE OF FARMS.

Then, what about the increased value of farm lands? Officials of the United States Post Office Department have estimated, presumably after making careful enquiries, that rural delivery increases the value of the farms adjoining rural delivery routes by an average of at least five per cent. Farmers in the states of Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York, with whom I talked on this subject estimated that the value of farms had been increased anywhere from 2 to 15 per cent, as a result of the advent of rural delivery. I was told that when farms are advertised for sale, care is taken to set forth that one of the advantages they possess — where such is the case — is free rural delivery. A glance at the advertisements of farms for sale as published in United States farm papers, shows this to be the case.

Suppose we accept the estimate that the average increase in the value of the farm is 5 per cent. On this basis a 100 acre farm valued at $50 an acre or worth $5,000 would increase in value $250. Thus were the owner of such a farm to pay $10 a year for free delivery for 25 years, he would have paid out, at the end of that period a sum that would represent only the increased value of his farm. Were we to place the increased value of the farms at only 2 1-2 per cent it would represent an increase in the value on a $5,000 farm of $125, or enough to pay the cost of rural delivery for many years.

A GOVERNMENT MAIL BOX AT AN AMERICAN FARM GATE

While the figures that have been quoted may be questioned by some people, I believe that they are fair and that their use is amply justified by the information relation to the cost of the service in the United States that is available and by what people in the United States, from farmers to government officials, have told me about the service.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BELIEF AND FAITH

By Mr. Barton Earle.

Editor of the Review:

Dear Sir,—Not long ago I received a letter from a young lady friend in which I was asked to explain the difference between Faith and Belief. From my knowledge of the character of my correspondent I was convinced that to her, the subject has a religious bearing and I recognized the difficulty and the delicacy of the task she had set me. Since, however, I can see no good reason why one should refrain from expressing his honest conviction on a subject to which he has given his best thoughts, and, especially so, when the heart and judgment are in accord, I did not hesitate to meet, to the best of my ability, the wishes of my friend.

It is my intention now to give, through your columns a somewhat fuller statement of my opinions, in the hope that some of your readers will kindly point out to me any errors into which I may have been led.

I never discuss any subject for the sake of victory or though I enjoy a keen intellectual contest do I discuss a serious subject for the sake of argument but always to give and to receive information; and I think that those who know me best while they may sometimes charge me with excess of enthusiasm will not accuse me of being excessively dogmatic. I know how extremely liable we are to err and can assure you that I approach this subject in a spirit of humbleness. Though I may appear at times to assert positively, I do not feel at all positive; but I do earnestly desire to make my readers think and to elicit truth. I have purposely refrained from consulting a dictionary, believing that, in this case such a work would confuse, rather than aid.

Belief rests upon evidence which is the result of the judgment of the intellect on the impressions received through the senses of sight, hearing, feeling, tasting, smelling and therefore including human testimony. The value of the evidence will depend upon the capability of the intellect to decide upon the accuracy of the testimony. I need not enlarge upon the liability of the senses to convey wrong impressions; but to make the matter clear, I give the following examples: Place a pea in the palm of your left hand and roll it under two of your right hand fingers crossed. The impression is that there are two peas. Sitting in a railway carriage at rest while another carriage is passing you not only see but feel your carriage is in motion. Examples of this kind might be multiplied almost indefinitely. Again, though the impression may not be deceptive, the mind may draw wrong conclusions, and, in short, it is impossible for the human intellect to arrive at absolute truth. To assert the right of private judgment is to assert the right to be liable to be deceived.

Belief, as I have defined it, is a purely intellectual affair and the intellect must decide on the value of the testimony, and, further, it is concerned only in what has reference to this life. The province of the intellect is to care for the body. It has been developed in the course of a universal law. It weakens as the body grows weak, and dies when the body dies.

Do I, then, deny an existence beyond this life? Far from it. Besides the intellect or conscious mind there is the sub-conscious mind, or soul. I shall not attempt in this article any lengthened discussion of the difference between the two. I have already said that the one having to do solely with what concerns the body, perishes with the body, and I now assert that the other, being the real ego, belongs to the life beyond.

Since the care of the body is the province of the intellect, and since great importance is attached, and justly so, in this life, to matters of little or no consequence in the life that is to be, it is essential for the preservation of the body that in our present state, the conscious mind should dominate the sub-conscious. During sleep the soul is more or less freed from restraining influences, as is the case when the intellect has become weakened by bodily ailment; and, may not the soul of the musician, the poet, the prophet, and the saint, during periods of great exaltation, attain to heights from which it can defy the power of the conscious mind?

I know that many, perhaps most of your readers will disagree with me when I say that the most profound truths come to us not as results of intellectual efforts, but through the sub-conscious mind, as results of intuitions or inspirations of the Universal Soul.

It may be asked whether I regard the revelations of the soul as necessarily truth. I answer, no. It is questionable whether, in this life, the soul is ever entirely free from the dominating influence of the intellect. But, even if such freedom be possible, to attribute inerrancy to the soul would make it equal to God, Who alone is inerrant. Progress is the necessary condition of separate, individual existence to the soul, and progress implies imperfection. Stagnation is death, and for the soul to cease to make progress would mean loss of individuality and absorption into the Infinite.

Now I conceive the soul knowledge to be what St. Paul means by "the evidence of things not seen." I do not know the original, but would prefer calling Faith "the result of the evidence of things not seen." What St. Paul must mean is the result of impressions not cognizable by the senses and consequently outside the province of the mere intellect.

Let me repeat that I am not so presumptuous as to lay claim to a knowledge of absolute truth on these, or indeed, any other subjects. What I have said is the truth to me; but I shall always be ready to accept new light from whatever source it may proceed.

It is my intention to show in another article what I conceive to be the bearing of my treatment of this subject on which is commonly called Education.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for present and past favors, I am, yours very sincerely,

—BARTON EARLE.

P.S.—Readers of Browning will find in "An Epistle" an able treatment of a subject upon which I have little more than touched in this article.

LEADERS BEGIN FIGHT BORDEN OUTLINES POLICY

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Speaks at Sorel, But is Reticent Regarding Date of Elections—Opposition Chieftain Gets Enthusiastic Reception—Has Given His Best and Will Sacrifice Party to Country

Bridgewater, N.S., Sept. 8.—R. L. Borden opened his Nova Scotia campaign at Bridgewater, Lunenburg County, yesterday, under the most auspicious circumstances.

Labor Day attractions and the Halifax Exhibition had drawn large crowds of people out of the county, so that not more than six or seven thousand persons at the outside were expected to be present. There were large crowds in evidence from all over the county. When Mr. Borden and party appeared the assembled crowds gave a welcome which continued for some minutes after he had entered the rink and ascended the platform. At this time there must have been about 1,500 people in the rink, and they kept coming from outlying towns for some time after the meeting began.

S. E. Mackay, president of the Lunenburg Conservative Association, introduced the speakers. Dr. Marshall, the Conservative candidate, who contested the riding at the last local election, addressed the audience briefly. He paid a tribute to Mr. Borden—"a statesman second to none, who is recognied by both Conservatives and Liberals at Ottawa as head and shoulders above everyone in political life in Canada."

He asked for a clean election, and said that if either money or rum were used in his behalf he would resign the minute the facts were proven.

Of his work as leader of the Opposition, all he would say was that he had given to it the best of his strength, said Mr. Borden, his time, and his ability, and he could say that when questions arose in Perliament when country and party come in conflict he had sacrificed and would sacrifice the latter.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Picturesque as ever and enthusiastic to a degree, Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his address to ten thousand people in Sorel Saturday had no difficulty swaying them to his smallest word.

Sir Wilfrid was not communicative as to the time of the elections. He said:

"To-day I call upon you to work in the coming election as in the past for that party which stands for equal justice and liberty to all. And I would urge you to be ready for the elections, whether they come in 1908 or 1910, for whenever they come our policy will always be the same in this respect."

Sir Wilfrid appeared to be in splendid form, and spoke with all his old-time vigor and good humor.

Sir Wilfrid was supported by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. J. P. Brodeur, Hon. Jacques Bureau, and a whole host of lesser notables who crowded the platform.

"As to the result of the election," said the Premier, "I have no anxiety, any more than I had in 1904, and for the rest, whatever may be the result, neither my voice nor my course of policy shall be changed. I have given my life to my country, and in the future, as in the past, I shall be able to say the words of the popular song: 'My country is my love!'"

SHE DID THIS ONCE TOO OFTEN

Sensation Performer at Toronto Exhibition Hurled to Ground

Toronto, Sept. 8.—The thrilling or death-defying dash through space taken by Mlle. Marie la Blonche, which has been probably the most exciting feature of the grand stand program at the exhibition, was brought to an abrupt conclusion yesterday afternoon by the failure of the rope upon which the performance was carried out. Mlle. la Blonche was precipitated about thirty feet to the ground, alighting fortunately on the tan bark scattered over the sward and only a yard or two from the platform, to fall upon which would likely have resulted fatally for her. As it is her back may prove to have been broken.

Yesterday was Labor Day at the exhibition and fully 135,000 passed through the gates creating a record for a single day's attendance. A few trivial accidents occurred as a result of the huge crowds who swarmed over the grounds.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

U. S. Senator Knox, his wife and son, were injured in an auto accident in Switzerland.

The Cosmopolitan Bank of Pittsburg director say it is solvent and will demand that it be allowed to reopen.

One sailor was killed and two badly hurt by falling 35 feet into the hold of the Dutch steamer Nederlands at Victoria B. C.

After having terrorized the citizens of Edgemont for two days and nights, Chub Otin, a miner, was shot and killed by Charles Berger, owner of an ice cream parlor.

Four Prisoners Escape.

Kenora, Sept. 8.—At six-thirty Sunday evening four prisoners escaped from jail, named George Johnson, waiting trial for the murder of Mrs. Ackerman; Daniel Cavanagh, and A. Darling, sentenced to eighteen and two months respectively, for highway robbery, and J. Griffin to nine months for theft.

The prisoners bored a hole through the wall. A posse of specials was sworn in.

Johnson was captured on the outskirts of the town at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and Griffin at 4 o'clock.

Ends Life In Police Cell.

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—Fletcher Everett, who, it is said, had been in charge of the armory at Point St. Charles, Montreal, for some time, and who was on his way to Victoria, B.C., with his wife, committed suicide in Carberry jail Friday evening on the arrival of No. 1 train at Brandon. Everett is believed to be insane.

When the news of her husband's death was conveyed to Mrs. Everett she became delirious, and it is thought she will lose her reason.

Murdered Friend's Daughter.

Clifford, N.J., Sept. 8.—Charged with luring the four-year-old daughter of his friend from her home, where he was a guest, and murdering her, after he had criminally assaulted her, Cisanto Rosino, a 36-year-old Italian, is being sought to-day by the police.

His Life For a Child's.

New York, Sept. 8.—Though badly burned, John Tuck, a retired real estate dealer, returned to a burning apartment in Brooklyn yesterday for a missing child and saved it, but at the expense of his own life. He had already rescued the mother.

LIMERICK LEAGUE RIOT IS ROUGH

Members of British Parliament Are Assaulted at Newcastle

Newcastle, Sept. 8.—A meeting of the Limerick League, held in connection with the Earl of Devon's estate, resulted in riotous scenes arising out of the rivalry between the followers of William O'Brien, Nationalist M.P. for Cork, and other sections of the party.

The platform was demolished, and S. J. G. Wynn, T. M. Kettle, M. Joyce and Michael J. F. Lavin, all members of Parliament, were assaulted and received severe injuries in the melee. Mr. Joyce suffered a bad scalp wound. A large force of police had difficulty in restoring order.

Bishoprics Changed.

Rome, Sept. 8.—The last meeting of the congregation of the propaganda for the discussion of American questions was held yesterday.

The congregation approved the transfer of the seat of the Canadian ecclesiastic province of Victoria from Victoria to Vancouver, appointing the Right Rev. Augustin Dontenwill, Bishop of New Westminster, as Archbishop of Victoria, in succession to Archbishop Orth, resigned, and appointing the Very Rev. Alexander McDonald, Vicar-General of Antigonish, as the new Bishop of Victoria.

Robbed; Kills Himself.

Hamilton, Sept. 8.—A man named Evans, who came from Toronto, committed suicide at the Bethel Mission early yesterday morning. His body was found suspended from a water-pipe by a strap. He had been dead several hours. Coroner Dickson concluded that an inquest was unnecessary. According to statements made by the dead man, he was doped and robbed of $40 soon after arriving in the city on Saturday night. He spent most of his time between this city and Toronto.

Holland's Ultimatum.

The Hague, Sept. 8.—Holland's notes to Venezuela contain one point which appears practically an ultimatum.

Holland demands of Venezuela the revocation before Nov. 1, of the decree issued by President Castro on May 14 last, which resulted in the practical suppression of Curacoa's trade.

The demand, however, is framed in courteous and mild language.

Takes Acid by Mistake.

Hamilton, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Guy Porter, 37 Woodbine Crescent, was taken to the City Hospital last night, suffering from a dose of carbolic acid, which she took by mistake. She took about an ounce of the stuff, and the doctors have little hope for her recovery. She is about 20 years of age.

Young Hunter Killed.

London, Ont., Sept. 8.—Daniel McKeever, 17 years old, residing on Hamilton road, was killed near Pottersburg yesterday.

He circled the field at Issy eighteen times at an average height of 13 feet, and remained in the air 31 minutes.

YOUNG SNOW IS CAPTURED

Youngest of Toronto Jail Breakers Was Hiding at Home

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Hidden in a windowless garret in his father's home on Farley avenue, Robert Snow, the youngest and least dangerous of the seven criminals who escaped in such a sensational manner from Toronto jail on the afternoon of July 17, was recaptured in the early hours yesterday morning by Acting Detective Cronin and Patrol Sergeant Umbach. The place where the lad was caught was a little hole up under the gable of the house and entered a small opening cut in the ceiling of the upstairs hall. There was no place to sleep in the hole, and young Shaw had been hoisted up by his father when the police called. He put up quite a fight when caught and threatened to shoot the officers.

THOUSAND PEOPLE ARE HOMELESS

Forest Fires Destroy Several Towns Near Duluth, Minn.

Duluth, Sept. 8.—Forest fires, after burning for three days, enveloped several towns near Duluth Saturday, rendered thousands of people homeless and destroyed millions of dollars' worth of property.

Chisholm, Minn., a town of 4,000 inhabitants 80 miles north of Duluth, was completely wiped out.

Hibbing, five miles from Chisholm, was surrounded by forest fires and was saved only by the shifting of the wind.

The entire northern portion of Douglas County, Wis., is on fire.

Renshaw, a village 25 miles west of Duluth, is surrounded by flames and there is no hope for it. The farmers have been driven from their homes and the passage along the roadway is difficult owing to the dense smoke and the heat.

Increasing U. S. Army.

Washington, Sept. 8.—President Roosevelt, in his final annual message to Congress, probably will recommend an increase in the numerical strength of the army to at least 100,000 men.

At present the army is on a footing of 60,000 men, the number provided for in time of peace.

English Strike-Breakers.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Machinists, boilermakers, blacksmiths and other metal workers to the number of 150 arrived here Saturday on the C. P. R. liner Lake Erie. They are the first instalment of British mechanics now being imported to take the place of the strikers.

UNIONISTS CELEBRATE; A SUCCESSFUL LABOR DAY

Montreal Parade is Strong, with 2500 Striking C.P.R. Machinists in Line—Galt Celebration is Largely Attended and Goes Off Without a Hitch

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Labor Day was celebrated in Montreal by a large parade, followed in the afternoon by games and picnics. Some 15,000 workers walked. Prominent among them was 2,500 C.P.R. strikers, who wore little labels in the caps, showing why they were idle. Considerable enthusiasm was aroused by their appearance. The Stonecutters and Carpenters had two floats in the procession typifying their trades.

In the evening a banquet was held at Bout de Lile, where Alphonse Verville, M.P., John A. Flett of Hamilton and L. Beaudoin, president of the Trades and Labor Council, made speeches.

The day was generally observed by merchants, the streets, in fact, having a holiday appearance.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Labor moved about pretty freely yesterday. It was a great day for going, and thousands of the "horny-handed" knocked off to join in the prevailing pursuit of pleasure.

Though the annual parade of the unions, which took place in the morning, was not as large as usual, owing to some of the labor organizations going to out-of-town points and to the absence of the fire men and their apparatus, nevertheless it attracted thousands of people to the streets through which it passed. There were not more than 2,500 union men in line. The route of procession was by way of Wellesley, Jarvis and Queen streets to Sumach, where cars were taken for Scarboro Beach. There were about 30,000 tickets taken at the gate, and about half of the admissions were members of union bodies with their wives and families.

Galt, Sept. 8.—Labor Day was celebrated with eclat. Galt, Brantford and Guelph joined in a monster demonstration. A fire brigade run and trades procession was the morning program. The procession was over a mile long.

The prize for the largest union turnout went to the Brantford moulders, for the best union turnout to Galt moulders, with Preston a close second, and for the best wagon display, Sleemin Brewing Co. Guelph. Mayor Patterson welcomed the visitors, and warmly praised the committee of management.

A. Studholme, M. P. P., spoke ten minutes extolling labor and eulogizing unionism.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The Labor Day celebration here yesterday was a decided success. The trades procession was one of the longest and best ever seen here and was witnessed by immense crowds.

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Beautiful weather favored Labor Day here, and the celebration was the finest for many years. Every trade was represented and the uniforms were very striking. The procession was over a mile long.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—William J. Bryan was yesterday the centre of a Labor Day celebration that outranked similar celebrations in Chicago for years past.

The Labor Day parade, with approximately 20,000 union men and women in line, passed in review before him.

At 4 o'clock he addressed the labor men at Forrest Park on the abuse of the injunction in labor disputes.

New York, Sept. 8.—A perfect autumn day with cloudless sky and cool, invigorating air gave labor's hosts the opportunity of a generation yesterday, and they made the most of it. Forty thousand strong they marched from early morning until mid-afternoon.

At the same time, hundreds of less fortunate, who had banded themselves together under the banner of the "unemployed," were participating in a counter demonstration. They, too, met cheers at almost every stride.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS BAD IN THE UNITED STATES

Strikes Prevail in Many Places—Mr. R. H. Shepherd Home From Ticonderoga.

Mr. R. H. Shepherd, formerly of the Canadian General Electric Company, has returned to Peterborough on Saturday after having spent several months at Ticonderoga, New York state where he was connected with the office staff of the International Paper Company. Ticonderoga is a town of about 4000 inhabitants and the paper mills in which about 400 men are employed is the main industry. The men, however, have been on strike for the past two months and the town has been given a severe set-back as a result. Early in the summer the company decided to reduce the pay of some of the foremen, superintendents and others drawing big pay. Many of those whose wages were to be cut belonged to unions and they asked the men to go out in sympathy with them. This they did and the mills have been closed for the past two months. Not only is Ticonderoga affected but also over thirty other towns where the International Paper Company has mills.

The strike, however, does not affect the company seriously as they have enough paper in storage to last for several months.

Industrial conditions in the States, Mr. Shepherd says, are worse than in Canada. They do not seem to be improving either and are not expected to do so till after the presidential election. In fact there will be no improvement till next spring. Over-production is given as the cause of the depression.

Mr. Shepherd informed the Review that the election of Taft is conceded by nearly everyone across the line. The Republicans are confident of success while the Democrats are not enthusiastic. Governor Hughes has made himself unpopular among certain classes in New York state on account of his legislation regarding race track gambling and his election is uncertain. Hughes is the Roosevelt candidate.

Mr. Shepherd is firmly of the opinion that Canada should put a heavy duty on the exportation of pulp. The American paper mills are dependent on Canada for their supply of pulp and millions of feet of spruce and poplar are brought in from the Dominion yearly. There is practically no duty on the exportation and Canada is losing a big revenue from this source. It seems strange that the Dominion government does not act in this matter.

Mr. Shepherd says that Saratoga, the great horse racing centre, has been practically killed by the new anti-betting law. The race tracks are being staked off and sold as town lots.

SOCIALISTS ARE RIOTING ARE RESTLESS IN GLASGOW

Scottish City is Threatened with Recurrence of Bread Riots—Prince Arthur of Connaught is Hooted While Reviewing Boys' Brigade—Attempt Made to Enter Cathedral

Glasgow, Sept. 8.—Two thousand Socialists and unemployed after an open air meeting Sunday at which violent speeches were made, attempted forcibly to invade the cathedral during services.

A large body of police, which had been specially stationed there to prevent just such an occurrence, frustrated the designs of the mob by charging it with their batons. Several of the rioters were injured, and the mob was finally dispersed.

The Socialists threaten to meet on Thursday, 50,000 strong, and attack the municipal buildings.

For two days the city has been threatened with a recurrence of the bread riots following an attempt made on Thursday of a large number of the unemployed to force a hearing before the municipal council.

On Saturday, a large number of Socialists and unemployed men, who had assumed a very threatening attitude in the last 24 hours, took part in a hostile demonstration against Prince Arthur of Connaught, on the occasion of a review of 10,000 members of the boys' brigade.

Glasgow has recently been deprived of cavalry, which was stationed here, and the only troops present were a guard of honor comprising infantry, but the authorities, fearing trouble, greatly strengthened the police force, which succeeded in overawing the crowd of 5,000 malcontents.

These had gathered along the line of march and bands of them, during the early part of the ceremonies, made ugly rushes in the direction of the prince's carriage, but were successfully checked by the police.

They were compelled to content themselves with hooting and singing the "Marseillaise" and other revolutionary songs, which they kept up despite the rain, during the three hours of the review and the luncheon in the city hall, at which the prince was entertained.

HUNTER'S SAD END

Roy McKelvie Almost Instantly Killed

Son of Proprietor of Belvidere House at Crowe's Landing Victim of Gunning Accident

Special to the Review.

Norwood, Ont, September 8th—Roy McKelvie, son of J. R. McKelvie, proprietor of the Belvidere House, at Stony Lake was accidentally shot while duck hunting near his father's summer resort at Crow's Landing, about seven o'clock last night.

He was pulling the gun by the muzzle when it was discharged, the charge entering his left side, killing him almost instantly.

On investigating the circumstances in connection with the fatal accident Dr. Gray decided that an inquest was unnecessary and sent down a certificate for the late Mr. McKelvie's burial.

TWO SMALL FIRES TO EXTINGUISH

Couple of Inconsequenial Blazes—One on Saturday Afternoon and the Other Yesterday

On Saturday afternoon at 5.45, the fire brigade responded to an alarm to put out a fire in Ashburnham at the south end of Burnham street. It was a bush fire and was in close proximity to a lot of lumber. The brigade was at the scene of the conflagratoin in short order and had little trouble in putting out he blaze.

A grass fire of some proportions at Aylmer street, south at the extreme south end of the city, gave the brigade a run yesterday noon. The alarm was sounded at 154. No damage was done as the fire was soon extinguished.

Miss Peck Holds Record.

Lima, Peru, Sept. 8.—Miss Annie S. Peck of Providence, R. I., the mountain climber, has succeeded on her second attempt within a month, to reach the summit of Mount Huascaran. She calculates that the height of the summit is 26,000 feet.

Want to Work Here.

London, Sept. 8.—(C.A.P.)—What was at first thought to be another unemployed demonstration at Trafalgar square transpired to be merely a swarm of applicants for the posts of mechanics and fitters for the Canadian Pacific, whose offices are situated contiguous thereto.

It was stated that in consequence of the rush of men from the United States only 150 were required here, but there had been a thousand applicants, which, considering they are skilled workmen, was remarkable.

Will Ignore Lemieux Bill.

Calgary, Alba., Sept. 8.—The United Mine Workers have decided in future to ignore the Lemieux Bill. HURON AND BROCKVILLE

In the session of 1900 Mr. Bowen charged that by-elections held the year before in Brockville and West Huron had been stolen by some form of ballot fraud. To escape the charge of complicity a party's conduct in connection with such information must be both explicable as to the past and above suspicion in the future. Sir Wilfrid gave his solemn pledge that he would do his best to punish the criminals. The matter was accordingly referred to the privileges and elections committee where for a long period leading government supporters contrived to frustrate the inquiry. The investigation on one pretence and another was left over to the following session. Mr. Bowen then produced sworn evidence in support of his charges. Sir Wilfrid stated that he wished the matter again left over as he would appoint a Royal Commission to investigate it. No such investigation was ever held. The stolen seats remained stolen. But what do you think of this? In June 1899 it was established that in West Elgin Conservative ballots had been "manipulated." A confession was secured. Hon. A. B. Aylesworth signed his name as witness to the confession. W. T. R. Preston wired congratulations and expressed a wish to hug the machine. Notwithstanding the confessed fraud and the congratulations of the man who organized it, Preston was appointed chief immigration commissioner to England at a large salary. It will be remembered that in the division of St. James, Montreal, Mr. Bergeron was defeated by personations, as was proven to the satisfaction of the court. But the convicted conspirator was released from prison by order of the Laurier Government. The trick was tried in St. Antoine's division in Montreal, but Mr. Ames had such an elaborate system of prevention that the attempt failed. Following this came the famous trick ballot boxes of Hastings and Frontenac, which, when the conspirators fled were sunk in the Bay of Quinte, but were afterwards recovered and produced as evidence. The perpetrators of this huge fraud were secured and convicted chiefly by the aid of the Opposition. They repented for a time in prison but retained the sympathy and co-operation of the government to the end.

NORTH ATLANTIC TRADING COMPANY

No less than $367,245 was paid in bonuses to a single concern called the North Atlantic Trading Company, with which a contract was made in 1899 by Deputy Minister Smart and W. T. R. Preston, then Commissioner of Immigration. No one is allowed to know who were the responsible persons in this company. The Government refused to disclose their names. The Company was not incorporated for more than five years after the contract was made and meanwhile used a bogus corporate seal. Its charter was secured in the Isle of Guernsey, while the headquarters of the company was in Amsterdam. The solicitors for the incorporators were A. E. Alexander, son-in-law of Commissioner Preston, and the formal incorporators were relatives, clerks and friends of this solicitor. To this mysterious corporation the Government at first agreed to pay a bonus on all agricultural immigrants over 12 years of age from Continental Europe, a few countries excepted, of 17 shillings and 6 pence per head up to the number of 10,000; 20 shillings per head from 10,000 to 15,000, and 25 shillings for all over 15,000, all in sterling money.

This agreement was interpreted to make the bonus payable on all agricultural immigrants of all ages. Questioned by Mr. Barker in Committee Deputy Minister Smart gave the following testimony.

Q.—Would you call an infant on the breast one that became within these words coming here as an agricultural immigrant?

A.—Yes.

Q.—With the intention of settling in Canada?

A.—Yes.

(Public Accounts Committee Report 1906, page 67.)

This Company was paid its bonus on immigrants of the alleged agricultural class whether it had any connection with their coming or not. It was paid on independent settlers who came of their own accord, on hundreds of Hebrews brought out by the Hirsch Association and undoubtedly on thousands every year who never came at all, and on thousands who came manifested to Canada and proceeded to the United States. The following are payments made to this company;—

1902-3	34,853
1903-4	38,933
1904-5	77,482
1905-6	56,287
1906-7	24,333

In addition payments were made to the company for advertising and other purposes bring th total up $367,245. After all these payments had been made and after the whole transaction had been exposed in the committees so far as the Government policy of concealment allowed the Minister of the Interior found himself forced to cancel the contract which he did on the alleged ground that the company "that the company did not carry out the contract in good faith."

THE BONUS CONTINUED.

But the policy of bonuses has been continued. In January, 1908, the bonus on immigrants from the European continent, which had been 10 shillings for adults and 5 for children, was doubled. The same bonus is now paid on those foreigners as on immigrants from Great Britain and Ireland. Government agents are paid $3 for each man, $2 for each woman and $1 on each child of the farming class brought from the United States.

GROUNDS OF CHALLENGE.

The Opposition challenges the Government policy and practice respecting immigration on the following and other grounds;—

Immense sums are wasted on the maintenance of officials and employees, many of whom give little or no value.

There is enormous waste and corruption involved in subsidies to the party press.

The time has come to abolish altogether or to restrict to very narrow limits the payment of bonuses. The best and most desirable immigrants are those who come to Canada without inducement of any sort and who settle upon the land, whereas those who are persuaded by agents, or procured by the payment of bounties are usually the least independent, the least capable and the most likely to gather in the cities and become upon public charity. The United States get all the immigrants they want, not only without paying bonus but in the face of a tax on all immigrants of $4 per head and of the most rigid medical examination and inquiry into their character, capacity and means of support.

The Government has been entirely too lax in the admission of undesirable immigrants. It has admitted and even paid for immigrants who could not maintain themselves and were physically and morally unsuitable. It has allowed agents to send to Canada artisans and mechanics for whom there is no work and who will not farm. For instance, it brought to the country 15,000 Doukhobors, who have cost the Dominion about $75,000, and have been and are still a cause of anxiety and trouble to the community.

The Government has miserably failed to deal in any adequate or consistent way with the problem of Oriental immigration.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CAVAN TO ASK ASSISTANCE FOR OPENING A NEW ROAD

Deputation Will Wait Upon City Council To-night—Wil Bring More Trade to the City

A deputation from the Cavan township council will wait upon the Peterborough City Council at tonight's meeting to ask for assistance in the opening of the new road through the Cavan swamp. The highway in question is nearly completed, and when ready for traffic will reduce the distance by road from Mount Pleasant to Peterborough from twelve miles to eight, he new road runs straight east from Mount Pleasant and will connect with the road on the boundary line between Smith and Monaghan. At the present time it is necessary for persons from the vicinity of Mount Pleasant coming to Peterborough to travel on the 12th concession of Cavan road. This takes them two concessions out of their way.

It is assured that the opening of the new road will bring a large amount of trade to Peterborough that is now going to Omemee, Lindsay and other places.

The Peterborough council promised assistance when the opening of the road was started and will now be asked to contribute something.

The big Cavan drain is almost completed and next summer several hundred acres of land that is now useless will be tillable.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ORGANIZATION

Inspector Mowat Gives Out Some Interesting Information—Conditions Satisfactory

Inspector Mowat when asked if he had anything to report on Public school matters said that:

When the Public schools opened on September 1st, it was found that certain of the primary forms were overcrowded. Steps have been taken to remedy this and the organization is now fairly complete.

In the King Edward school there are now seven regular forms in addition to the kindergarten and while the forms are well filled, there is, so far, no overcrowding.

In the Park street school there are four forms, all well filled.

In the East City school there are five regular forms in addition to the kindergarten and the classes are of the right size for good work.

The Queen Alexandra school was found to be overcrowded in primary part I, form while the third book classes were not sufficiently large for two divisions. This difficulty has been overcome by forming an additional primary class and combining the two third book classes into one. In order to do this a few third book pupils had to be transferred to the Central school and those were sent who live nearest this school.

To relieve the overcrowding at the Central school and South Central an additional class has been formed at the Central school and several transfers have been made from the South Central to the Central school. As a result of these changes the classes are now of such a size that better attention can be given the pupils than could possibly have been given under the old conditions. In all the changes made, the pupils' welfare has been sought after.

There are now forty-three teachers engaged on the Public school staff and six kindergarten teachers.

An encouraging feature of this term's commencement is the large number of kindergarten pupils in attendance.

The opening of the Normal school marks an era in the Public school history of Peterborough. history of Peterborough, and the Board has done everything possible on their part to make the undertaking a complete success, and at the same time to derive the greatest possible benefit from its being in our midst.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Epidemic Influenza, Grippe, Catarrhal Troubles, Pneumonia Increasing

A marked increase in troubles of the breathing organs is noted in many localities. If you will only have Hyomei at hand to use with the first attack of cold in the head, pneumonia, colds, bronchitis, hoarseness, sore throat, croup, in fact any respiratory affection, the trouble will be quickly overcome.

If the attack is neglected and becomes severe, speedy relief will come in most cases and a persistent use of Hyomei will cure.

The directions for using it vary, but the principal is always the same that of destroying all the germs in the air passages with dry medication from the Pine and Eucalyptus forests.

Remember that liquids or moisture is barred from the bronchial tubes and lungs. It's the dry air of Hyomei that reaches the spot. W. Madill, corner of Hunter and George streets, Peterborough, guarantees it complete outfit $1.

HOLIDAY WAS AN ENJOYABLE ONE

Many Went to Toronto and Lindsay—Weather Conditions Ideal

Labor Day was spent very quietly in Peterborough. Many went to Lindsay and Toronto and about 300 took in the Foresters' excursion to Idyl Wyld. A most enjoyable trip was the result.

There were scores of canoes and launches on the river and every livery rig in town was out. The weather was ideal for a holiday and everybody took advantage of it. The last holiday of summer was among the best of the year.

FIRE ON SHORE OF THE OTONABEE

A big bush fire on the Monaghan side of the river attracted a good deal of attention down the Otonabee last night. It was about six miles below the city and the flames and smoke could be seen for several miles. It could not be learned what damage was done.

POLITICAL NOTES

Being beaten in the east riding before the contest even began, Mr. Stratton flew to the west as a last resort. "Thrown out" is written over his last appearance in the east riding.

"He wouldn't do for us, but he may suit you," laughed an Otonabee Liberal sarcastically on Saturday afternoon.

What money wouldn't do in the east, it can't do here.

So far Mr. Stratton's political career has been, not one of success, but failure. Every career of that sort meets its Waterloo and always when most and best prepared for desperate measures. Don't forget it.

"For sale." This seems to be the idea of certain politicians with regard to West Peterborough. They will find their mistake.

Do we take what others wouldn't have? A man's money is his least powerful asset—in the long run. Public suspicion compels even churches to beware.

It is not wide of the mark to say that nor less than half the mechanics and labouringmen of Peterborough are out of work with no prospects for the winter.

CHILDREN'S AID PLACE TWO BOYS IN GOOD HOMES

Many Applicants for Wards of the Society—Secretary Kept Busy

Mr. E. L. Goodwill, secretary of the Children's Aid Society is busy these days weeding out the applications from people for children, wards of the Society. Little Harvey McKenzie, a pretty little fellow of three or four years, is much sought after. "Everybody wants him," said Mr. Goodwill this morning.

Harvey McKenzie's two older brothers who have been at the shelter for some weeks were placed in good homes in the country on Saturday afternoon. Both are bright, smart, boys and, in their new surroundings will grow up to be fine men. The three McKenzie children originally came from Campbellford.

PLANT TO BE DISMANTLED

Machinery of Wm. Hamilton Co. to be Taken to Toronto—Laborers are Being Engaged

Men are being engaged today by the A. R. Williams Machinery Company, of Toronto to dismantle the plant of the Wm. Hamilton Co. on Reid St. The machinery will be taken to Toronto and placed in the plant of the Williams Co. there.

Apparently the report that a company was to be formed to re-open the works here was unfounded and one of the city's oldest industries passes out of existence.

Work on dismantling the plant will be commenced at once.

LOOTED ANOTHER REFRIGERATOR

Refrigerator robberies on Gilmour street are becoming quite a thing among the sneak thief profession. In a short period three have been robbed.

The last one upon which a raid was made was Mr. C. Stapleton's, Gilmour street. The robbery took place Sunday night and some butter, maple sugar and other things were stolen. It is a matter of regret to residents of Gilmour street that the refrigerator Raffles can't be caught.

THE WORK OF BARNARDO HOMES

Dr. Thirtle, Associate Editor of "The Christian" Will Describe it in His Paper—Visitor to Peterborough

Dr. J. W. Thirtle, associate editor of The Christian, of London, England had been on a brief visit to Peterborough. His object has been to observe on the spot the work of Dr. Barnardo's Home, with a view to describing the same in his paper. Dr. Thirtle has been on a tour in the United States and has visited several Canadian centres, in some places delivering lectures on questions raised by modern Biblical criterion, and in others investigating the progressive operations of various churches and Christian organizations.

Dr. Thirtle is the author of several books on Old Testament Criticism, and his publications have been spoken of very highly by the press of both Britain and the United States. He has taken an active interest in the work of the Barnardo homes and believes they are doing a noble work. Dr. Thirtle is a member of the Royal Asiatic Society. While in Peterborough he was a guest at "Hazel Brae."

WEDDING BELLS

McCONKIE—NORTHEY.

Selwyn, Sept. 4th.

Lilac Ridge last evening was the scene of one of the most beautiful and pleasant social functions in North Smith for some time, when Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Northey celebrated the wedding of their only daughter Gertie. The rain of the day before made everything look new and fresh, the yellow grass of a few days before, looking green and new. The verandah was prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns and the house beautifully illuminated.

At 7.25 Mr. Warner Nicholls, the groomsman, appeared on the landing and quickly descended the stairs, followed closely by Mr. Harry McConkie, the groom, then came Miss Northey on the arm of her father, she carrying white roses, while Miss Pearl McKee, the maid of honor, carrying pink roses and Miss Bertha Preston, the flower girl, brought up the rear. The party repaired to the parlor, which was prettily decorated with ferns and flowers and under an arch of autumn leaves, the bride and groom were wed.

After the usual congratulations the party repaired to the dining hall where a bountiful repast was spread for the 75 guests. The bride was dressed in Santoy trimmed with lace satin and net with bridal veil and roses. Her going away gown was of brown venetian, trimmed with silk and hat to match. The bridesmaid wore silk mull trimmed with lace and satin.

The groom's present to the bride was a gold bracelet and to the flower girl gold chain and locket. To the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links.

Among the presents most worthy of mention was an organ to the bride by her parents, a beautiful clock from her brother, a silver tea set from Wesley church, and a set of pearl handled knives and forks with case from the groom's brother at Vermilion.

About midnight the party dispersed amid cheers and showers of rice and the well wishes of the whole community for the future happiness and prosperity of the young couple.—Com.

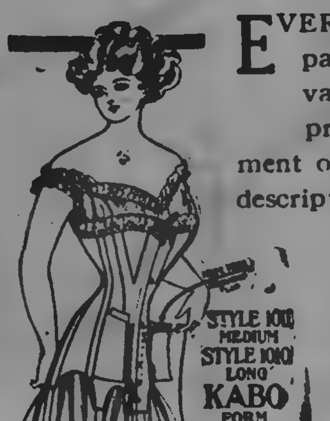
Have You Ever Worn Our Famous Kabo Corsets?



EVERY Stout Woman desires to appear slender and up to now, she has been only partially successful. Many ideas for reducing the large figure have been advanced by Corset Manufacturers, but, in our opinion until now, none have produced the ideal form reducing corset. This may seem an egotiscal statement on our part, but if it were possible for the women desiring a corset this description to compare other makes with the form reducing corset pictured here, we are positive she would agree with us, and would consider the above remarks very consertive. We call your particular attention to the reducing device, which does not come to a point as in other makes, but reduces over the breadth of the wide flap, appearing in the illustration. The advantage of this is readily apparent as it successfully prevents any bulging of the flesh. With this corset the form can be positively reduced from three to five inches without discomfort to the wearer. Another exclusive feature of this style is the fact the reducing device can be adjusted while the corset is being worn which is another great advantage over other makes. This admirable garment is made with six extra strong woven suspender web hose supporters and the 12 1-2 inch front clasp is reinforced by an extra strong steel. Style No. 1011 shown here is for the medium stout figure. Style No. 1010 which is made up in the same durable manner is somewhat longer below and above thewaist line and is designed for all tall, stout figures. We guarantee both of these modelsto be un-breakable. Both are made of the best grade of Coutil, and are boned throughout with double non-rustable steel.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH TO BE RE-OPENED ON SUNDAY

Decorators Are Putting on the Finishing Touches—Rev. Dr. Young, of Montreal Will Conduct the Services

Considerable interest centres in the reopening of George street Methodist church on Sunday next, Sept. 13th. The building has been in the hands of the decorators since July last, and the interior has undergone a thorough overhauling with most happy results. It is going on to thirty-five years since the church was opened and entered on by the congregation and in all those years has remained as it came at the time from the hands of the builders and finishers. Some years ago the ceilings were tinted and at some moderate expense brightened. This year it was felt that the time had come for a thorough going over, which has been done, giving an agreeable and harmonious interior and one most fitting for this important church.

On Sunday next Rev. Dr. Young, of Great St. James Methodist Church, Montreal, a former pastor of George street church, will conduct the services morning and evening, and no doubt large congregations will gather to hear Dr. Young.

On Monday evening following (14th) Dr. Young will deliver his travel talk "Through the Prairies and over the Mountains" descriptive of the trip through to the Coast over the lands of the West. The subject is an interesting and timely one and should draw a full house. The lecture will be given in the church. Special music by the choir will also be offered. The only charge for admission will be a silver collection taken at the door. All invited.

WORST AUGUST IN HISTORY OF RELIEF DEPARTMENT

Mr. Finch W. Miller has been City Relief Officer for the last eleven years and during the entire time of his tenure of office he has seen no August in which there has been such evidences of poverty in Peterborough as the month of August of the present year. Those who have been given aid have for the most part been immigrants and it will not have to be meted out in such larger quantities when those who are to be deported leave the city.

'The demands have been very large,' Mr. Miller said, to the Review, "and in spite of the fact that I have seen some hard Augusts last month has been the worst."

MAN REPORTED TO HAVE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Last evening at ten o'clock, P. C. McGinty received a telephone message from the Auburn power house stating that some man had attempted to commit suicide but had apparently changed his mind after taking his first dip. His coat and vest were lying on the sawdust pile. The man was sitting on the bank when discovered and word was immediately sent to the police station.

P. C. McGinty could not give any particulars of the affair and the Review was unable to ascertain anything further.

INSTRUCTIONS RE OPERATING THE FIRE ALARM BOXES

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir—Be kind enough to grant me space in your daily paper to make the following explanation of how to operate a fire alarm box?

To send an alarm of fire, open the outside door of the fire alarm box, and pull the hook down once.

It is of vital importance that every citizen should learn to operate the fire alarm boxes and if the above explanation is not clear we cordially invite the citizens to visit the Fire Station, where any of the firemen will be pleased to proceed to give a practical demonstration.

Any telephone can be used free of charge for sending an alarm of fire. All that is required is to call the Central and tell the operator where the fire is, or if you wish to speak direct to the Fire Station the number is 24 on both telephones.

When the operators receive messages of fire they turn in three rings to the Fire Station, and the horses are turned out in readiness to proceed to the fire as soon as the exact location is ascertained.

Thanking you for your valuable space

I am,

Yours respectfully
W. A. HOWARD,
Chief Fire Dept.

GEORGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH REOPENING

The George Street Methodist church which has been in the hands of the decorators for the past three months, will re-open Sunday next, with special sermons, morning and evening, by Rev. Dr. Young, of Great St. James Church, Montreal. Dr. Young will also give his travel talk, "Through the Prairies and over the Mountains" the following Monday evening in the church auditorium. Special music by the choir. Silver collection at the door.

Wm. Wilson, constable, of Erin, is suing Magistrate Hull of the village, for damages for improper arrest.

MAGISTRATE SPEAKS FOR ZAM-BUK

Magistrate Perry, of Goldfields, B.C., believes in making a good thing known. Writing of Zam-Buk, the great household balm, he says:—"After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in his home." The magistrate is quite right. Every home needs Zam-Buk! Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, blood poisoning and all skin diseases. All stores and druggists sell it at 50 cents a box. Sure cure for piles.

DON'T NEGLECT THAT SORE!

A Chicago man has just died from blood poisoning arising from neglect of a small sore. Don't neglect a cut, a patch of eczema, or an open sore of any kind. The air is full of poison germs, waiting to start up their evil results in neglected sores, wounds, etc. In Zam-Buk is safety. Zam-Buk is so highly antiseptic that applied to any skin disease or injury it makes blood poisoning impossible. In using Zam-Buk you have three processes going on at once for Zam-Buk is healing soothing and antiseptic. Try it without delay.

A GENUINE OFFER.

TEST ZAM-BUK AT OUR EXPENSE!

We appreciate the position taken by the man or woman who says:—"If your preparation is what you claim, you should have no objection to letting us try it before spending our money on it." To every person taking this view we say, send one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and name and date of this paper to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and we will mail you a free trial box of Zam-Buk. HASSAN ABDALLAH AND YANKEE ROGERS MEET IN KINGSTON NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

Hassan Abdallah, the Terrible Syrian, has been most successful in his wrestling matches since coming to America and in Boston became quite a hero among the fans by reason of his clever work. At the Columbia theatre in the Bean City he won three victories over Karlsen, the Swede, Anvery, the Belgian and Peirelli, the fighting Dago. He put away the first two with comparative ease but the tenacious son of Italy gave him a hard struggle for the first fall which the Syrian got in 27 minutes.

W. B. Naylor, the manager of Yankee Rogers has charge of Abdallah and in order to find out exactly how he stands in comparison with the top notch heavyweights has matched him against Yankee Rogers and the two will meet in Kingston on Thursday night. "If he beats Rogers," said Mr. Naylor, "then I know I have a man who I will not be afraid to back against Frank Gotch or any other man in the world. If he loses I will have an idea of his worth for it takes an extraordinarily good man to give Yankee even a hard run. The Syrian will meet Gene Hurtubise in Peterborough after his match with Yankee Rogers."

September 22nd is the date on which the bout here will probably be pulled off.

IN DEFENCE OF WRESTLING

The wrestling match between Rogers and Mohl on Friday night has been spoken of as being rough. Undoubtedly it was rough. Most games and sports are more or less rough and as the sporting annals of Peterborough prove are practically rougher than wrestling.

What of the ears split and noses broken at lacrosse. What of the men who are smashed and scarred at hockey matches! What of the players who are knocked senseless, have an arm or a leg broken or are permanently crippled playing rugby! And yet audiences among whom are many ladies tolerate the last mentioned scenes while wrestling is regarded as being too "rough" a game.

Fritz Mohl got a bump on the head that dazed him the other night but nothing more than a man often gets working out in a gymnasium. He didn't make half as much fuss about it as some of the audience and pooh poohed the idea of being badly used by Rogers.

"Why, it's all in the game," he said after the bout. "I wasn't hurt much. The match was one of the cleanest of the season."

Mohl left the mat without a cut or a bruise. A man leaves a lacrosse field with an ear dangling or his eyesight destroyed. A man leaves the ice after a hockey match with a cheek laid open, with a wound that will permanently disfigure him, a man leaves the rugby gridiron all broken up and if a man gets hurt in wrestling its a terrible thing. Where does the force of argument come in. Where is the sense in the contention!

In college football alone, in the United States in one month there are more killed than in wrestling the world over in the last five hundred years. And the injuries given in lacrosse, hockey and football are quite deliberate in the great majority of cases.

LONGBOAT WON 10 MILE—SIMPSON 4TH, SMOKE 5TH

Lindsay, Sept. 7.—Someone has said that "Ontario should be glad that Lindsay is in the Province." This statement is made in no boastful spirit. The town has placed herself in the front rank as a sporting centre and the great sporting tournament to-day under the auspices of the Catholic Literary Association, backed up by kindred local sporting societies, was a grand success. Thousands of people lined the streets and congregated on the Agricultural grounds to witness the sports. Everything passed off in a creditable manner. The results were:

Ten-mile Marathon; 16 entries—1, Tom Longboat, I.C.A.C.; 2, Black; 3, Sellen; 4, Simpson; 5, Smoke.

100 yards—1, L. I. Sebert, West End Y.M.C.A.; 2, Kyle; 3, Langstaff.

High jump—1, Langstaff, 5 ft. 3 in.; 2, Conway, 5 ft. 1 in.

Students' mile race—1, Gillogly; 2, Begg.

Quarter-mile race—1, Sebert; 2, Langstaff.

The most interest was taken in the ten-mile Marathon, in which Longboat was expected to get an argument from Fred Simpson, the Peterboro Indian. The race was a good ten miles, starting from the foot of Kent street, up a steep grade of a mile to the race track, and nine miles on the track. Up the hill and for the first mile on the track Longboat, Sellen, Clark, Simpson and a young Indian named Smoke stayed in a bunch. Longboat didn't like the pace and let out to show what he could do. He ran in grand form and gradually increased his lead to the finish, where he was within ten yards of lapping Simpson, his team mates, Black and Sellen, fighting it out for second place, a quarter-mile in the rear.

The excitement during the last few laps, when the crowd was cheering Longboat on to lap Simpson, beggars description, but the Onondaga didn't really want to show his red brother up. Just where Manager Crocker and Billy Sherring got their dope that a runner like Simpson had a chance with Longboat, as their reports from England indicated, causes some wonderment after seeing the men in action.

Lou Sebert of Varsity and W. E. Y.M. C.A., cleaned up for the 100 yards 220 and 440, and "Chuck" Skene won easy in the mile.

The British United Athletic Club had four starters in the Marathon, and made a good showing for their first attempt at the distance game, their men finishing:—Jones, sixth, Null, seventh and Mattocks, ninth. Their other entry, Sutton, got a bad fall by stepping on a loose stone and had to retire.

Jimmy O'Brien performed in excellent style in the mile run. He took the lead at the start and was never headed. Smoke, the seventeen year old Chemong Indian, ran a fine race, considering his youth and inexperience and frequently let out at good bursts of speed.

TURF

The speed committee in charge of the races at the Peterborough fair, are working energetically for the success of the events and the races give every promise of being most successful.

SECOND MONEY FOR HAZEL BELL

In Class A at Toronto Driving Clubs Matinee on Saturday—Will Start Here

At the Toronto Driving Club's Saturday matinee at Dufferin Park in Saturday afternoon, Hazel Belle, the fast mare formerly owned by Dr. Johnston, Chambers street, got second money in the Class A event, coming 1, 2, 3, 3 in the four heats. Gerald Dunsford of this city, who is driving the fast McCarthy mare, was in the sulky and drove a heady race.

He has written Dr. Johnston that Belle for the 2.30 class on the first Belle for the 2.20 class on the first day of the Peterborough fair. She may also start in the 2.17 class on the second day.

Referring to the race in Toronto the Toronto World of yesterday says.

In Class A, four shifty pacers drew for positions and they got the word of the third score. Hazel Belle, from outside position shot to the front at the first turn and, getting a hard drive from Dunston, she just managed to last long enough to beat the fast coming Queen of Clubs by a head.

In the second heat Hazel Belle led to the quarter pole in 35 seconds, when Queen of Clubs caught her and beat her home in 1.09.

In the third heat Planet set out to make a win of it and he set a merry clip for the Queen to the quarter, but she held on and outgamed Planet through the stretch, winning by two lengths.

In the fourth heat Planet made another good try, going a splendid pace but could not reach the wire first, the mare winning by two lengths. The winner of this race will be a hard nut to crack for anybody's horse from now on.

ATHLETIC MEET WILL BE HUMMER

Splendid Talent for meet at Brock Street Rink on Sept. 17

Preparations are going on apace for the big indoor meet to be held under the auspices of the Peterborough Harriers at the Brock street rink on the evening of Sept. 17th. Entries should be sent to the secretary, R. M. Glover, on or before September 15th. Bobby Kerr and Tom Longboat are coming as well as Lou Sebert, Ed. Archibald and several other members of the Canadian Olympic team. A big bunch of local boys are entering and Lindsay will be well represented. The committee in charge state that everything points to a most successful gathering. With such a display of athletic talent every event on the programme should be keenly contested and a big audience is assured.

BOWLING

Good progress is being made on the new bowling alleys at the YMCA. They will be ready for use in about ten days and the game promises to be very popular among the members of the association.

LACROSSE

LINDSAY QUITS.

The members of the local lacrosse club have hung up their sticks for the season. The action of the executive of the Trent Valley League in ordering home and home games to end a tie in the district put the kibosh on the game here. The locals would have fought to the finish and would have proved good losers. The league has proved a colossal farce and is in the same class as the Midland baseball league both of which should be reorganized on a better basis.—Lindsay Post.

HOCKEY

LINDSAY'S PROSPECTS

Lindsay's prospects for an O.H.A. team this winter look good from here. All of last year's players are in town and rumor has it that there are also a number of new arrivals in town who have achieved good reputations in the hockey world. It is altogether likely that Lindsay will again figure in the intermediate series.

The town league too, will boom this year, and it is also hinted that a printers' league will be formed with three teams entered therein.

Speaking with a well-known hockey enthusiast Friday, the Post was assured that Lindsay would see plenty of hockey during the winter and that the game would boom as never before.—Lindsay Post.

BOWLING ALLEYS FOR LINDSAY

Toronto Man Behind the Proposition—Game Would Take Well There

It is learned that bowling alleys will be opened in Lindsay in the near future. A Toronto man is behind the proposition and he is now looking up a suitable site.

The game would no doubt take well in the Scugog town and become as popular there as it is in Peterborough. If Lindsay has alleys games can be arranged between Peterborough and Lindsay teams and it is possible that a league might be formed.

SPORTING COMMENT

Many Peterborough people saw "The Thief" at the Princess, Toronto, on Saturday night. As W. A. Bailey would say, why, go to Toronto to see a thief, when there are so many at home.

Arrangements are now being made for a race between Frank Greer, amateur champion sculler of the United States, and Ed. Durnan, of Toronto, the professional champion of America. Representatives of both men will meet in Syracuse this week and it is expected that satisfactory arrangements will be reached to bring the two men together.

GIVE THE CHILDREN PLENTY OF FRUIT

It Helps to Keep Them Well.

In a growing, active child the cells of which the body is composed are being worn out—and replaced — very rapidly. This dead tissue must be gotten rid of somehow, and the danger is that the eliminating organs—the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin—may not do their work well enough. Then the blood becomes poisoned and the child does not thrive.

Nothing has such an invigorating effect on these organs as ripe fruit juices. Apple juice increases the action of the kidneys; other fruit juices stimulate the liver to secrete more bile, and bile produces easy and regular movements of the bowels; others stir up the glands of the skin to throw off more waste matter.

The difficulty is that to get these effects a great deal of fruit must be eaten, and the excess of pulp and woody matter may upset the digestion. The better way is to give the children "Fruit-a-tives", which are tablets made of concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics added.

"Fruit-a-tives" have the combined effect of the different fruit juices, helping all the eliminating organs to work properly, curing Constipation, toning up the system, and keeping the children plump and rosy. 25c. for a trial box. 50c. for regular size—6 boxes for $2.50. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

DISCORD AT THE LIBERAL MASS MEETING SATURDAY

Mr. Hall Declined Nomination and Some Objections Made to Hon. J. R. Stratton's Candidature—Mr. R. F. McWilliams Scores the Nominee—Mr. Hall's Resignation Regretted.

An unharmonious nomination of the Liberal candidate for West Peterborough was held in the Grand Opera House on Saturday afternoon. Hon. J. R. Stratton was the candidate chosen, Mr R. B. Hall, MP withdrawing. He stated that his private business affairs were too pressing to allow him to have sufficient time at his disposal to act as representative in the Dominion House.

When Mr. Hall was proposed, as candidate and the motion seconded he was given quite a reception by the Liberal electors present but there was dissent immediately when Mr. Stratton's name was mentioned, on the withdrawal of Mr. Hall.

Mr. William Graham a Smith Liberal, arose and said that if "Stratton went to the Dominion House, West Peterborough would have no interest at all." Cries of "Sit Down" were heard from some quarters while others wanted to "give him a chance." A couple of others objected but in the confusion what they said was lost.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams arose to voice his disapproval of Mr. Stratton's nomination and on shouts of "platform" took the stage and was given a good hearing in a denunciation of Mr Stratton as one of the two men who had been most instrumental in the downfall of the Ross administration.

There was a good attendance at the meeting. Mr J. J. Hartley, chairman of the Reform Association for West Peterborough occupying the chair.

In opening his remarks he spoke of the work of the Laurier government and stated that he thought Laurier would be returned to power. He was not present, however to discuss matters political but to ask for nominations for a candidate for West Peterborough.

On the platform besides the chairman, were: Messrs R. R. Hall, MP., Hon. Senator Cox, Toronto; Hon J. R. Stratton, F. D. Kerr and D O'Connell.

Hon J. R. Stratton said they were met to select a candidate to represent West Peterborough in the Dominion elections. He regarded Mr. Hall as a very able representative. It was moved by, Mr. Stratton, and seconded by Mr. G. Hunter that Mr. R. R. Hall be candidate. There were no other nominations.

Mr. Hall was greeted with applause when he arose to thank the mover, the seconder and the supporters of his nomination. He spoke at some length telling what he had accomplished in the interests of his riding. Mr Hall stated that the country had been developed by the intelligent design of the government.

"In my own personal interests, and I must look to them first, I must decline the nomination." said Mr. Hall. "But I will do so with the satisfaction of knowing that I will be succeeded by a capable man."

He had much pleasure in naming Hon. J. R. Stratton as the candidate.

His nomination was seconded by Mr. Joseph Denno of Peterborough.

Mr. Graham objected as before mentioned.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams said he would like to say a few words. There were cries of "platform," and he stepped on to the stage. He said he did not intend to support the candidate proposed. He spoke as a former nominee and Mayor of Peterborough. He hoped that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his government would be returned and there was no stronger supporter of Sir Wilfrid in the house than he. He spoke of the disgraceful tactics that had preceded the downfall of the Ross government. The one safety of the Laurier government is to make it feel that we don't want any mud connected with it.

"You are asked to name a man who is looked upon as one of the two chief offenders during the Ross administration."

Mr. Andrew McFarlane referred to Mr. McWilliams' remarks as impudence and said he thought the electors were well rid of Mr. McWilliams. "He says he is going to support the Liberals in the other constituency for God's sake turn him off."

Chairman Hartley put the motion of Mr. Stratton's nomination to the meeting and it was carried.

Mr. Stratton said he had not intended to accept the nomination until approached by Mr Hall to do so last Wednesday. Mr. Stratton said it was a well known fact that he had been abused and slandered by the public press and men on the street corners as well. He said he was prepared to run against both Mr. McWilliams and the Conservative party. He spoke of Mr. McWilliams having turned from Conservative to Independent and had been bitterly opposed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the man whom he lauded to the skies at the meeting. He said Mr. McWilliams knew as well as he did about asking him and endeavoring to get Mr. Hall to withdraw but he would not consider the proposition saying that Mr Hall was candidate. He had opposed on principle. Mr. McWilliams, at the last mayoralty campaign at which Mr McWilliams was turned out by over 300 majority, and was now simply R. F. McWilliams, barrister at law, etc.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell, barrister, referred to the retiring candidate, Mr Hall, as having been a very able candidate and one who had well looked after the interests of his riding. He said it was a matter of deep regret to the constituents of this riding that Mr. Hall should find it absolutely necessary to retire.

Mr. O'Connell moved that the convention in accepting the resignation of Mr. Hall, accept it with feelings of deepest regret and expressing their gratitude toward him.

Hon Geo. A. Cox, seconded the resolution and said that Mr. Hall's retirement was to him a source of sorrow and regret. He predicted the election of Hon. Mr. Stratton. Senator Cox then went on to praise the Laurier Government which he characterised as doing a great work for the people.

The resolution was carried.

Mr. Hall expressed his sincere thanks for the carrying of the resolution.

The meeting closed with the usual cheers.

There has been a large advance sale of tickets and there will be a wellfilled house when the curtain is rung up for the first time this fall. Several improvements have been made to the opera house during the summer and the patrons will find everything being done for their comfort and pleasure. This is the first time for "Quincy Adams Sawyer" to be produced here and Messrs. Turner are to be congratulated on securing such an excellent bill for the opening attraction.

HAVE ARRIVED FROM KINGSTON

Several Members of the 57th Regiment are Home

Over fifty members of the 57th regiment arrived home from Kingston this morning, being unable to remain over owing to business duties. They state that they had a splendid time and are loud in their praise of the way they were treated. The 57th regiment band was pronounced the best in the camp and were offered several engagements at Kingston. The band gave a sacred concert Sunday evening that was spoken of very highly. Capt. McWilliams and Lieuts. Best and Comstock were the officers who arrived home to-day.

ONE BAD MISTAKE

Is Frequently Made by the Wisest of Peterborough People.

It's a serious mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney ills. Fatal complications may follow. Booth's Kidney Pills act quickly to overcome kidney ills, do not delay until too late, it may mean Diabetes, Bright's Disease. Read what a Peterborough resident says:

Mrs. R. Duncan of No. 115 McDonnel street, Peterborough, says:—

"Some thirteen years ago I suffered with a severe attack of La Grippe that had until this spring left me in a weakened and miserable condition. The kidneys had been disordered through this and became so inactive that doctors had pronounced Bright's Disease and termed my case incurable. My back was very weak and the pains across the kidneys were most excruciating. The urine was highly colored and contained a quantity of whitish sediment. I had become so discouraged through my years of suffering that I had no care for anything. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at the Market Drug store and I tried them. The first box convinced me of their merits. I used five boxes of the remedy and I have been entirely cured. I am like a new person, well and strong and can sleep through the night and awake refreshed and ready for the day."

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards' West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Sept. 5, were 4350 cattle, 4362 sheep and lambs, 2222 hogs and 500 calves, while the supply for local consumption this morning was 2000 cattle, 800 sheep and lambs, 700 hogs and 150 calves. The supply of cattle was larger than it has been for some weeks past and as it consisted chiefly of common and inferior stock the market for such was weak and prices since this day week show a decline of fully ¼c per lb., but as really good and choice beeves continue scarce values for these were maintained. Considering the large offerings which were somewhat in excess of the requirements of the trade a fairly active business was done, owing to the fact that the demand from Quebec buyers was good and at the reduction in prices for the lower grades local operators showed a disposition to buy more freely on account of the cooler weather and now that householders are returning from the country that the consumption of beef is steadily increasing. There was no demand from local exporters, they having ample stock coming forward from the west to fill all their space. Cables from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade slow, but noted no change in prices as compared with a week ago. A few choice beeves sold here at 5c; good, at 4¼c to 4¾c; fair, at 3¾c to 3¾c; common, at 2¾c to 3c, and inferior, at 2c to 2¾c per lb. Owing to the steady increase in the receipts of lambs of late, a weaker feeling has developed in the market and prices have declined ¼c to ½c per lb. At this reduction the demand for local consumption was good and a fairly active trade was done at 5¼c to 5½c per lb. There was no change in sheep, but the demand for export account was somewhat slow this morning, at 4c, with the culls at 3¼c to 3½c per lb. The supply of calves was small, for which the demand is fairly good and prices rule firm at 4½c to 5½c for choice stock and grass fed are selling at 3½c to 3¾c per lb. In sympathy with the advance in prices for Canadian bacon in the foreign markets and the small supply of hogs coming forward a very firm feeling prevails, but prices show no actual change compared with a week ago. The demand was good from local packers and dealers and sales were made of selected lots at $7 to $7.10 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

RESPECTABLE CHINESE WANT TO BLOT OUT GAMBLING EVIL

Mr. George Thomas, proprietor of the Dominion Cafe, has returned to the city after a visit of a few days to Toronto. While in Toronto Mr. Thomas met several of the influential members of the Chinese Colony in the Queen City. Mr. Thomas says that in spite of the fact that some of the Chinese, have an inordinate desire for gambling, the better class are doing what they can to keep down this evil and are taking measures to prevent it.

It is not carried on as much now in large cities as it used to be and endeavors are being made to eventually have it wiped out altogether.

The self-respecting Chinamen want to see it eliminated entirely for the sake of their standing in the country and hope to attain their object in time. They are not at all antagonistic to the efforts of the police in rounding up the gamblers and are in favor of it in fact.

BURGLAR ENTERS DALHOUSIE ST. HOUSE IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Apparently Thought There Was No One at Home and Climbed in by a Window—Made Hurried Exit When Confronted by Lady of the House.

To be alone in the house with a real live burglar was the exciting experience of Mrs. J. E. Firth who resides at 185 Dalhousie street, on Saturday. Mrs. Firth was badly scared, and apparently the burglar had also a severe fright, for he made a quick exit when he became aware of the presence of the lady of the house.

Mrs. Firth was upstairs when she heard a noise in the dining room. It sounded like a chair sliding along the floor. As she was alone in the house and the doors were locked she was somewhat surprised. She listened intently and soon heard a door open and close very softly. By this time she was thoroughly alarmed, as she realized that someone had entered the house. It was no use screaming as the neighbors on both sides of the house were away and her shouts would not be heard.

Mustering up courage, Mrs. Firth went down stairs quietly and stood in the hall looking out through the dining room towards the kitchen. In a moment the door between the kitchen and the dining room opened and in walked a man going on his tiptoes so that he might not be heard. He was greatly surprised when he saw the lady in the hall. Mrs. Firth asked him what he was doing there and "I want something to eat," was the answer. "You can't get anything to eat here, and you better get out," was the lady's reply, and the man made a hasty exit through the dining room window through which he had made his entrance and which was still up.

Mrs. Firth telephoned the police station, but before the officers arrived the man was far away from the neighborhood. He showed a lot of nerve in entering a house by means of a window in the middle of the afternoon. He was apparently of the opinion that there was no one at home and expected to make a clean-up. He was a fellow about twenty-five years of age and was fairly well dressed. It was a trying experience for Mrs. Firth and she showed great presence of mind in the way she acted.

PETERBOROUGH RANGERS HAVING SPLENDID OUTING

Trip to Kingston Declared One of the Best Ever Held—Thousand Islands Greatly Admired.

Special Correspondence.

With the 57th Regiment at Barriefield Camp Kingston, Monday, September 7.—The regiment, 108 strong of all ranks entrained at Peterborough at 11.30 p.m. Saturday in good style. The train consisted of seven coaches and a baggage car, in charge of Conductor [illegible] and crew. A very good trip was made, reaching Kingston at 5.30 a.m. and Barriefield Camp at 6.30 o'clock. Immediately on arrival at the camp a much appreciated breakfast was partaken of. Mr. T. H. Hooper and 15 assistants are in charge of the commissariat. The regiment attended church parade at 9.00 a.m. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Kingston, Chaplain of the 14th Regiment. The various regiments taking part were formed up in a hollow square with the officers in the centre. The massed bands of the camp played for the singing.

The afternoon was spent in visiting the city and the various points of interest in the camp. Old Fort Henry was one of the most popular places. After supper the 57th band gave a delightful and much appreciated concert in front of the staff headquartersheadquarters.

On Monday morning after breakfast the regiment drilled for an hour, after which roll call was held.

On Monday afternoon the regiment embarked on the steamer "[illegible]" and enjoyed a pleasant sail of 30 miles and return. The route was through the beautiful waters of the St. Lawrence, and many of the beautiful cottages of the summer visitors were passed.

At the camp field sports were held, but on account of the trip no Peterborough men were entered.

In various spare moments boxing and wrestling were indulged in. Act-

SOME NOTES

The camp received a visit from Col. E. B. Edwards who was the guest of the officers on Sunday. Capt. W. C. Ackerman also was a visitor, as was Sergt.-Major Brittain now of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto.

The men were renewing acquaintances with Dok Baker who is cooking for the Millbrook Squadron of the 3rd Dragoons.

A place of great interest to some of the men were the ovens for making bread for the camp. These are in charge of the Army Service Corps and are very efficient. The bread is of the very best quality.

One laughable incident was noticed mont church parade during the sermon when most of the companies were allowed to sit on the grass. It was noticed that some Dragoons were not taking advantage of the opportunity of a rest. When asked the reason they said their pants were were too tight at the knees. Poor fellows how tired they got!

The 57th band made a great hit. As the regiment marched into camp Sunday morning the regiment were loudly applauded.

The bugle band was greatly admired by the rest of the camp and received many plaudits. As it is the only one of its kind at Barriefield it is something of a novelty.

Among the visitors to the lines were Lieut. Leary of the 24th Field Battery; Major Young of the 24th

LIEUT. COL. STEVENSON

Commanding Officer of the 57th Regiment

Field Battery and Capt. Medd, of the 3rd Dragoons.

Everybody is enthusiastic about the trip. Everything is being done for the men's comfort and the outing is declared one of the best ever held.

The 57th regiment band will take part in the big tattoo to be held on Wednesday night. The regiment will arrive home early Thursday morning.

If it is a question of price—then all things considered "Salada" is the greatest tea value for the money paid, for experience has proven that "Salada" (packed in air-tight lead packets) is tea excellence.

Methodist Doctrine Illuminated by Light From Presbyterian Quarters

On Sunday evening the services in the school room of George St. church were conducted appropriately enough, in the traditional dim, religious light. Something went wrong with the electrical connections and the lighting service was thrown out of gear. Through the kindness of Mrs W. H. Robertson, several lamps were provided, which served the purpose and cast in these days of church union, a little Presyterian light on good Methodist doctrine.

Report Says Threshers Are Scarce

In Wheat Fields of the West —Situation Serious in Alberta

Winnipeg, Sept. 9—The cry from the West for men to work in the harvest fields is again becoming a loud one, and the conditions of labor are evidently getting to be serious.

It was thought that a sufficient number of men had come to the country, but this is far from the case, and hundreds are still wanted to do the work. The scarcity is principally from Alberta, where very few harvest hands can be got.

Monday 800 men came from the east and were immediately sent to Edmonton and the surrounding districts. When they left the city they all had positions to go to. It is chiefly men to do the threshing who are wanted.

At the provincial immigration office demands for men are coming in thick and fast, and the department is at a loss to find sufficient men to answer the call. The scarcity is causing an upward move to be made in wages, and the price for a man in Alberta is a good one, as much as $3 a day being given.

MAN SOUGHT AWFUL DEATH

Omaha Doctor Attempted Scientific Suicide To Save Insurance

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 9.—The World-Herald yesterday afternoon says Dr. Frederick Ruskin died from a suicide compact with Mrs. Rice. Mrs. Rice's nerve failed her and she did not carry out her part of the agreement. Mrs. Rice was his paramour in one section of the city, while he maintained his home in society row.

For three years, it became known here yesterday, he had been carrying on a series of terrible experiments upon himself, the object being to end his existence in a manner that would avoid the appearance of self-murder, so that his life insurance policies would not be declared void.

He inoculated himself with typhus and tetanus germs and opened his veins while in a wreck, but to no result.

To Declare Him Dead.

Hamilton, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Sidney F. Pilgrim and her son Orville, have applied before Judge Monck to have Sidney F. Pilgrim, the husband and father, declared legally dead, and for leave to administer the estate. Mr. Pilgrim left on a journey nine years ago from which he never returned. The judge reserved decision. The family will try to collect $1,250 insurance if the application is granted.

The animal, a small mongrel, took refuge in the church, and a plain-clothes policeman put two bullets in it, failed to kill, but finished the job outside.

CONSERVATIVES HAVE POLICY

Borden at Liverpool, N.S., Denies the "No Platform" Cry

Halifax, Sept. 9. The second meeting of Mr. Borden's tour was held in the Liverpool Opera House last night. There was a good audience present.

In large gilt letters was the inscription "It is time for a change of Government." The body of the Opera House, the gallery and the platform were all crowded.

"It is said we have no policy," declared Mr. Borden, "but we have one, well understood by those who care to understand it, and it is away ahead of any put up by our opponents."

He reviewed the principle laid down at Halifax, that the patronage system should pass away, and candidates should be appointed to office by examination. Another point was that of Government-owned telegraph service; another plank was complete control of all public utilities, all great lines of railway. He thought the present Government's greatest work was the establishment of the Railway Commission, and the Opposition had supported them in this. The Government had adopted his suggestion, made in Halifax, that the powers of that commission and its personnel be enlarged. The Opposition has been able to make the Government carry out more of the Halifax platform since it was announced than all the measures they have themselves proposed or carried out.

Rescued by Gallant Captain.

London, Sept. 9.—The governor of Victoria, Sir Thomas Gibson-Carmichael, on behalf of the Ministers, has sent a cablegram to the Earl of Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, in London, that events in connection with the enthusiastic reception of the American fleet at Melbourne "will only serve to strengthen, if that is possible, the feeling of loyalty which is so deeply rooted in Victoria."

Alfred Deakin, the Premier of the Commonwealth, has also issued a statement which has been made public here, explaining in a similar way that the reception of the Americans does not imply any failure to recognize the kinship of the Mother Country, or Great Britain's naval power.

THE KILTIES SEE THE KING; HIGHLANDERS ARE HONORED

His Majesty Receives Them in Full Military Uniform and Confers on Col. Robertson, Brig.-Gen. Buchan and Color-Sergt. Grant Decoration of Victorian Order

London, Sept. 9.—(C.A.P.)—General Smith-Dorrien, Col. Gordon, of the Gordon Highlanders, Lieut.-Col. D. M. Robertson, Brig.-Gen. Larry Buchan and a detachment of non-coms of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto, arrived Monday morning from Aldershot at Waterloo.

It was intended that the presentation be in ordinary dress; and it was only at the last moment the King was informed that the officers and men were coming in uniform; His Majesty hastily changed his morning dress for a uniform.

On being presented the King referred to the presence of Col. Gordon and his being honorary colonel of the 48th, Toronto, remarking that it would greatly tend to bind more closely the ties between the Mother Country and the colonies.

The King expressed his great pleasure to Col. Robertson, that he and his men had had opportunity to witness the manoeuvres. He also mentioned how pleased the Prince of Wales had been by his reception at Quebec, the King adding that he himself was also greatly pleased that the Quebec celebration had been such a great success.

His Majesty then handed to Lieut.-Col. Robertson a morocco case, saying: "I have much pleasure in presenting you with the Victorian Order." Turning to Col. Buchan, he presented in the same words the Victorian Order. To Color-Sergt. Grant the Victorian Order was also presented, General Smith-Dorrien presented the officers to the King.

His Majesty, in speaking to Lieut.-Col. Robertson, remarked that if the men present had comrades in Canada as fine-looking, soldierly fellows as they were, then the 48th must be a magnificent body of men.

TOWNS ARE IN DANGER FROM BUSH FIRES IN MINNESOTA

Citizens of Hibbing, the Biggest Place in the District, Are Out Fighting the Flames, and Fear Town Will Be Lost—Coleraine and Bovey Still Safe

Duluth, Sept. 9.—Forest fires, which have been raging for several days, is now threatening Hibbing, the largest and most prosperous town on the Mesaba range. Every place of business is closed and the men are all out fighting the flames. A telegram from Hibbing says:

"The fire is very near the Great Northern spur on this side of Brooklyn, a suburb of Hibbing, and the wind, is blowing in our direction.

"The city has available hose out and every man we can find is fighting the fire. They have established a pipe line and installed two pumps."

In response to an appeal the Duluth fire department has gone to the scene, while the Mesaba Railroad has trains in readiness at Hibbing to take the people away.

Smoke from the forest fires which surrounded the town make Hibbing so dark that the electric lights have been turned on there in the day to enable the citizens to see their way about. The smoke is stifling and the heat very oppressive. Unless the wind changes Coleraine and Bovey will be safe. In these towns the schools and business houses are closed and everyone is prepared to flee.

Grand Marais, Minn., on the north shore, is on the verge of the fire. The women are weeping with fright and the worst part of the situation is that there is no avenue of escape open. A. J. Smith, county attorney of Hennepin County, who has been camping beyond the Grand Marais, was burned out at his camp, and with his party escaped to Grand Marais in a launch. Settlers are walking into Grand Marais, smoke begrimmed, burned and exhausted, with packs of their most valuable belongings on their backs and their families dragging behind them.

When Mr. Smith left the fate of Grand Marais was in doubt. The citizens were loath to leave their homes and belongings without making a fight for them, so many of them remained behind.

Mr. Smith says that an east wind would bring on the destruction of Grand Marais in an hour and no power can save the town. If a fire comes before a boat gets there the fate of the population will be in doubt.

TWO MEN FELL OFF STEAMER AND WERE NEARLY DROWNED

On Monday afternoon when the steamer Water Lily was returning from the lakes two Montreal men had a narrow escape from meeting death by drowning. The boat had stopped just above the Grand Trunk Railway bridge in the canal awaiting to be opened to proceed. The other of the two gentlemen a man of about sixty years was walking along the side of the boat near the cabin when he lost his balance and fell over into the water. The alarm was immediately given and ropes procured to raise him. The unfortunate fellow being unable to swim, was in great danger. However, when the man was being raised his son who was standing nearby either jumped in after him or accidentally fell overboard. Both men were in the water, and it was with considerable difficulty that they were got on to the boat again.

Their names could not be ascertained but they were Montreal men, returning from a holiday at Stony Lake.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—By prompt action on the part of the police, what looked like an attempt at more rioting on the part of the C.P.R. strike sympathizers was prevented yesterday afternoon.

Long before the arrival of the afternoon work train at Place Viger station, bringing back men from the Angus shops, it was noticed there was a large gathering of men nearby which had increased to 500 before 6 p.m. As trouble was feared, 50 police went sent down to the station to protect the employes. As soon as the train arrived cries of "scab" were heard on all sides. But the police guarded each group of the non-union men and sent them away safely.

The Daily Review

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 9, 1908.

SIR WILFRID AT SOREL

"Gentlemen, I say to you and I affirm, that these twelve years have been the most fruitful periods perhaps of Canada's history; we have had unexampled prosperity; a prosperity of which you all have profited as well as myself.

"At this present time I know and everyone knows that there is everywhere throughout the civilized world one of those commercial and industrial depressions which occurs periodically like the seasons but from this depression the people of Canada have suffered less than any other people on the globe. It is true, that in the cities today the workmen are feeling it somewhat, but you, farmers and country people, I may tell you, and I call upon you to witness that never have the agricultural classes been so prosperous as at this moment."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed twelve years ago that the industrial conditions of this country should not be disturbed. Otherwise he would never have got into power through the dissensions in the Conservative cabinet alone. A few years later he affirmed that the United States, Germany, etc, were the victims of protective mania. He would make Canada an exception. He would arrange things so that Canadians would be able to profit by the folly of other nations. Canada was no longer to be subject to any so-called universal law of depression. What has happened? Even the farmers to whom he especially appeals know that there is not only no prosperity amongst them but they can see no hope of it. The prosperity of the past has ebbed away. The conditions of tariff and immigration and wholesale national extravagance have favored the money men, the money-lender, the financier. He revels in it and pronounces the policy the best in the world. Never before was the toll of money so easily taken. There must be a nearer approach to fairness in the opportunities of all men. There should be no discrimination. It is favouritism that is fanning the flame of socialism. The red flag is the red flag of rage that men who want to work can't get work or if they do, in a short time the hocuspocus of finance falls like a blight on the country and they alone must suffer. In times of scarcity, the stock gamblers buy, in times of plenty, they sell and so the pendulum of their greed swings to and fro regularly and mercilessly. The employer and the employed suffer alike. Money and the money mind go together. A few thousands are spent to prepare the soil and a few hundred thousands are harvested.

THE G. T. P.

The Examiner is trying very hard to bolster or excuse that great national extravagance the G.T.P. We do not mean to say that all railways or all transcontinental railways should never in the future be constructed but we do most emphatically say that the construction of the G.T.P. at the present time and in the present manner is a huge and disastrous mistake. If it is not a mistake it will show that it is not by its results. Let us apply to those results a practical common sense test. What will be the effect upon the Ontario farmer to have rivals in the market of supply? What effect can it have but to lower the value of everything the farmer has? If it creates a better market in the West for our manufacturers then it will develop a home market for the farmer, but if that home market remains undeveloped by reason of a lack of proper Protection, then the net result of the whole speculation is to provide a market in the West for Britain, Germany and the United States. The farmer therefore is made the victim just as well as the manufacturer. The proof is at hand. Our enormous surplus of imports over exports is bringing ruin to us all. Don't you see it coming? Is it not here already. Then to make matters worse Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave a bonus for immigrants. Now who makes money out of all this? The North Atlantic Trading Company, the greatest swindle of the age in Canada, the rich men who lend money and the contractor who glories in "development" and who helps to finance elections. Put an end to it all. Canada for the Canadians and not for the few rich, but the many poor. Why is bribery rife? Because it is a cheap way of reaching the treasury. Our country is poor, our financial resources are exhausted, our people are poorer than ever before. Canada is being ruined by governmental extravagance. When Whitney succeeded Ross there was a change from deficits to surpluses. When Borden succeeds Laurier the people will have work and will prosper. The accumulating Dominion deficit for this year is enormous. The bubble is burst.

THE G. T. P. ESSAY

The Examiner is devoting a good deal of time and space to criticism of the supposed object of the Review G.T.P. essay competition. Its criticism takes the line of defence of the G.T.P. It evidently feels that a defence is necessary. That farm-values in Ontario will go down one-half, as a consequence of the unnecessary exploiting of the west, is a foregone conclusion. Extravagance is the last refuge of the desperate. It takes the form of largesse scattered amongst the people, shortly to be gathered up and taken possession of by the money-lenders. How is the interest on the $200,000,000 to be paid?

EDITORIAL NOTES

The number of business failures in Canada continues to increase over last year.

The east riding turned Mr. Stratton back. It repulsed his advances. What will West Peterborough do?

"He won't stop at anything" is the usual comment. Then we'll give him something that he will stop at.

What is the standard of honor? When gold becomes the standard then its 16 to 1 for honesty.

We have not seen any editorial endorsement of Mr. Stratton's candidature in the Toronto Globe. But then it is a little early yet.

Men out of work in Scotland are resorting to violence, making attempts to storm churches, hotels, etc. The Tariff Reformers are adding to their ranks.

The number of men out of work in Great Britain is greater than at any time for many years. A million men are demanding work and living wages.

The Cavan swamp and the pellucid stream leading therefrom was the subject of an interview with the City Council last evening by the reeve and Council of Cavan.

If money alone wins what shall we say to our young men and women? Sympathy is a word that like charity is made to cover a multitude of sins—with this difference. Charity applies to the sinner, while sympathy is the cloak of the other man.

It is mere hypocrisy to condemn corruption and then vote for it. What is success? Ask the man who succeeds. Some will say "gold and brass," the former for the "good" and the latter for the bold.

Mr McWilliams ex-Mayor, who spoke against the nomination of Hon. J. R. Stratton, adopted a different plan from that of Mr. Stratton himself, who, at the 1905 provincial election, spoke for Mr. McWilliams on the platform and then went down in the audience and denounced him. Mr. Stratton is a beautiful character.

The Huntingdon Gleaner (Liberal) says:

"Throughout the whole inquiry just concluded not a particle of evidence could be found to in any way connect Mr. Stanfield or his supporters with the offences alleged to have been committed. On the other hand, Mr. Stanfield welcomes all the investigation possible, so that the blame may be placed where it should rightfully be borne."

Do clergymen preach one thing in the pulpit and practise another out of it? This allegation is often made but we are inclined to think it is very seldom true. A compromise with crookedness for the sake of a few dollars is altogether beneath the ideals of those who implore men to forget sin and follow Christ. When it is done, however, it deals, in the estimation of the masses, a mortal blow at religion. It is such mockings as these that have wrecked the hope of Christianity on many an occasion. It will all come out right, however, in the end.

In the Public Schools of the city, the youngest children pay a fee of 50 cents a year for their privileges and so on up to $2.00. For these various amounts they get their school books free. But this has nothing to do with the provincial government which gives books at a greatly reduced rate. It provides cheap books. The city provides free books. That fees are charged has nothing whatever to do with the government. It is wholly the city's affair.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Conservative Association Executive met on Saturday evening and decided to extend an invitation to [illegible] Gamey, MPP to address the electors here. This will be some time in the month of October probably.

"The people of the West Riding are surely not less self-respecting than the people of the East Riding are they?" remarked a well known citizen on Saturday. "Mr. Stratton couldn't get a look-in there. He has made his bed and boasts of it. He must be put down by every means in our power. Sir Wilfrid's got enough of that sort already. In June notwithstanding all he and Mr. Hall could do they were beaten easily and Mr. Gillespie was well liked too. Yes, Mr. Stratton has made a bad mess of his political career. Nobody wants him."

"Mr Stratton cannot possibly be elected," said a prominent Liberal yesterday. "West Peterborough would be a by-word in Canada. The Liberals everywhere hope for his defeat."

The Examiner comes out with an editorial giving its proprietor, Mr. J. R. Stratton, the Liberal candidate, the unquestioned palm over Mr. Burnham, the Conservative nominee. It is a good time to crow. It may not be quite suitable, later. Comparisons sometimes are really 'odious.'

Mr. Stratton is a monopolist. He represented West Peterborough for three terms. Why not give the other man a chance? Especially as—

WHAT IS ITCH DIRT?

It is the old Anglo-Saxon name for dandruff, and it's a good one. If you have dandruff you have itch dirt and the little microbes that are part and parcel of dandruff are working persistently night and day and sooner or later will reach the very life of your hair and destroy its vitality.

Then you'll be bald — bald to stay for not even the wonderful rejuvenating properties in Parisian Sage can grow hair after the hair bulb or root is dead. Parisian Sage cures dandruff. Wm. Madill, the druggist, sells it — recommends it and guarantees it; only 50 cents a large bottle and your money back if it fails to cure dandruff, Falling Hair and Itching of the Scalp.

DID SNOW VISIT PETERBOROUGH?

The Toronto police suspect that Snow, the recaptured gaol breaker was in Peterborough since the time he and the rest of the Rose-Churchill gang got away from the Toronto gaol.

He was sharply questioned about being at Peterborough and Fort Erie but could not be made to admit it although the police say they have good grounds for believing that he had been at the two places.

The Matchmaker

By MARTHA C. SANFORD.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Katherine opened her eyes with a start and looked over the edge of the hammock. Below her on the green velvety grass sat a two-year-old baby, wrinkling up his chubby face and letting out little gurgles of laughter.

"Oh, I know your joke, young man," she laughed back at him. "You kissed Katha, didn't you, and woke her up? Now, come here, you rogue, and I'll pay you back in your own precious coin."

Without any pretense of denial or defense, young Reginald allowed himself to be gathered up into a shapeless, dimpled mass, squeezed, shaken out and spanked. Suddenly, waiving the conventionality of announcement, a man interrupted this glorious game of retribution. In a flash Reginald turned state's evidence.

"Man say—kiss Katha," he said, pointing an accusing finger at the approaching interloper.

"Kiss Katha—man," transposed Reginald, with conviction.

At this Katherine sat up straight and forbidding.

"Mr. Kingsley," she began, and her tone was very chilling, "will you be good enough to carry Reginald into the house and then come back again? I have something to say to you."

"Sure, Katherine," asserted Jack Kingsley, his natural light heartedness quite unabashed at the hint of an impending reprimand. "I'll be back so soon you'll never miss me."

When Jack returned Katherine still sat in the hammock, her spirits as visibly crushed as her filmy summer frock.

"I wouldn't have believed it of you, Jack," she said disconsolately.

"Believed what, Katherine?"

"That you'd do what the baby said."

"Kiss you?" he asked bluntly.

"Take such an advantage of me—kiss me when I was asleep," diffecontinued Katherine ingenuously.

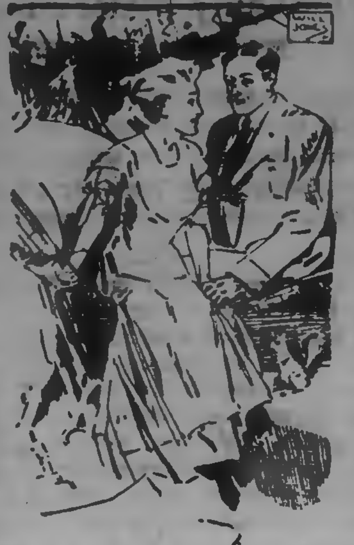
"But I didn't."

Katherine looked at him searchingly.

"But Reginald said"—

"I realize," interrupted Jack, with good natured sarcasm, "that compared with whatever that two-year-old prodigy may say any words of mine"—

"Just the same," broke in Katherine, "it wouldn't be the first time that truth has come out of the mouth of babes."



"WHEN SHALL WE TELL THE OTHERS?" HE ASKED SOFTLY.

"It couldn't have been the baby," she announced at length, as if thinking aloud. "He isn't tall enough. But I'm determined to find out who it was."

"What will you do to him," asked Jack—"punish him as you did the baby?"

Katherine very properly ignored the suggestion, but Jack was undaunted.

"You're sure it was a man?" he asked nonchalantly.

"Why, of course it was!" flashed Katherine scornfully. "Who else would"—

"Exactly," Jack agreed. "Who else would?"

Katherine made a desperate effort to keep back the tears of vexation and succeeded to a very commendable degree. One or two, however, refused to be kept within bounds. She made a quick little dab at them with her handkerchief, hoping Jack did not notice.

"Tell me all about it," he urged sympathetically. "You haven't given me a very definite idea of what really happened yet."

"Oh, I was asleep in the hammock," explained Katherine, as if the details bored her, which they did not, "and woke up suddenly. Some one had kissed me. I thought it was the baby—the villain!"

"You know whom I mean," answered Katherine, unresponsive to any humor in the situation.

"No, really I don't. Whom do you mean?"

"The person who kissed me," Katherine replied, blushing over the unavoidable baldness of the admission.

"Oh!" commented Jack placidly. "Well, granted it was a man, would you recognize it a second time—that is, if you had your eyes closed and the same man kissed you again, could you identify the kiss, do you think?"

"How perfectly horrid of you to suggest such a thing!" accused Katherine. "You don't consider my feelings in the least. Just like you brutal, cold blooded lawyers. You can't be human if you try."

In spite of his effort at control the berated young attorney burst out laughing. It was a most unfortunate thing for him to have done, for immediately Katherine buried her face in the hammock cushions and began sobbing convulsively.

Jack watched her perplexedly. She looked very appealing in her graceful slenderness. He could think of only one thing to do—and he did it.

Katherine was on her feet in an instant, her cheeks tear stained and flushed with indignation.

"So it was you the first time after all, Jack Kingsley!" she exclaimed. "I think you're too contemptible for words. You're a thief and a—and you don't tell the truth, and"—

"Not so fast, not so fast," begged Jack gently. "I really wasn't the first one, Katherine, upon my honor, but"—

"Well, what in Cupid's name are you two quarreling about?" called Bill Heming from the near background. "Can't an unmarried man—pardon me, I should have said an ineligible man—find one undisturbed spot in this hymeneal garden? Just passed two other lovers down the path who seemed to be a bit out of tune. It must be the weather."

"I assure you the weather has nothing to do with it, Mr. Heming," answered Katherine haughtily.

"She's right, Bill," assented Jack genially. "The cause of our seeming disagreement is purely"—

"Imaginary," interrupted Katherine, with such manifest alarm that both men laughed heartily.

But in spite of this little diversion the conversation dragged along apathetically, and Bill at length gave up his attempts to mend the situation.

"Well," he said, yawning ostentatiously, "guess I'll go in and play with the infant. He's nearer my level than you self absorbed grownups. By the way, Miss Katherine, how did you like our little joke?"

"Whose—what little joke?" demanded Katherine apprehensively.

"Reginald's and mine, of course. We watched you asleep for awhile; then we thought it would be great fun to wake you up. So we kissed you."

"Mr. Heming!" gasped Katherine. "You don't mean to say that you"—

"Bless you, no, my dear. I just helped Reginald."

"But what—what did you run away for?" Katherine pursued inquiringly.

"Oh, that's a little habit of mine, Miss Katherine," was Heming's cabalistic reply as, musing, he walked toward the house.

"Queer old duffer, isn't he?" commented Jack by way of giving Katherine time for a bit of mental readjustment.

"The rest of the house party call him 'Bill the Matchmaker,'" she remarked. Her manner was wholly impersonal.

"I don't wonder," Jack assented.

There was an awkward little silence.

"Jack."

"What is it, Katherine?"

"What were you going to tell him was the cause of our—our quarrel?"

"I started to say the cause was purely—osculatory."

"Jack!"

"Well, wasn't it? Tell me, Katherine, were you really awfully angry with me?"

Katherine nodded. "For two reasons," she said, with emphasis, "one because I thought you had been the first one who kissed me and that you had lied about it."

"And the second?"

"Because if you weren't the first I—I—was sorry you had not been, Jack."

For several seconds there was unruffled quiet in the "hymeneal garden." Then Jack broke the serenity with a question.

"When shall we tell the others?" he asked softly.

"Oh, not for days and days," declared Katherine jealously. "It's such fun to have a secret."

But inside the house, without waiting for authority, a two-year-old baby was babbling to the admiring group gathered about him.

The Girl Graduate.

Did you ever have a girl graduate from the high school out of your family? If so, you know what it is, but if you have not you have missed about all that is worth anything in life. There is nothing like it. The happiness, the satisfaction, the success that has come is worth many times the money and effort put forth. What is the finest product of America? Secretary Loeb insists it is rabbits, Carnegie stands for libraries, Mrs. Hetty Green considers it ready money, while Secretary of Agriculture Wilson crows over the American hen. They are all wrong. It's the girl graduate. As Daniel Webster remarked of Massachusetts: "Gentlemen, she needs no apology. There she stands!" For years father has poured out his money in buying her frocks and laces and hats, in paying for her chemistry and music and chewing gum. Mother has spent years of her life in teaching her morality, truth, the catechism and the proper way to do up her hair. And they feel that she's worth all the trouble and care and money she has cost.—Lawrence Journal.

Honduran Hard Wood.

A railroad in Honduras, which has just been opened to traffic as far as Ceiba, thirty-five miles, was built with creosoted pine ties from the United States. It is worthy of note that, while creosoted pine ties are being shipped from the United States to Honduras hard woods are coming to the United States from that country. Americans are doing the shipping both ways. A tract of 8,000 acres in Honduras has been secured by an American company, which will cut the mahogany and other valuable hard woods and ship them to the United States.—Forest and Stream.

English Musical Taste.

The London Evening News in order to determine the musical taste of the English people asked its readers to name the musical compositions the performance of which gave them the most pleasure. The answers showed these to be the most popular in the order named: The overture to "Tannhauser," the overture to "William Tell," Tschaikowski's "1812," Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite," Thomas' "Mignon Gavotte," "The Mikado," Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

A Nailless Skyscraper.

A skyscraping structure, without a nail or a screw in it, has been put up around and above the great southwestern gate of the city of Pekin. It is made entirely of bamboo poles and cords. The enormous scaffolding was necessary for the rebuilding of the Chienmen gate, which was badly battered in the Boxer troubles. The new gate is to be an imposing affair, twice the height of the great wall of the famous Chinese city.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

Pulls so Hard on the Stomach it Must Have Help

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country makes stomach troubles. Five people suffer to-day where one did ten years ago, with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness, and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of every three in Peterborough and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is so safe, yet as effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

So reliable is Mi-o-na that M. Mandill, druggist, corner George and Hunter Sts., Peterborough, with every 50 cent box he sells, gives a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

NORTH SMITH

On Friday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Blewett held a grand reception for their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson N. Blewett. Some seventy guests were assembled to welcome the bride and groom. The North Smith brass band were present and played a welcome serenade as the young couple drove to the house. The house was beautifully decorated with hawthorns. A bountiful repast was partaken of and all enjoyed a very social time.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of both costly and useful gifts.

The happy couple will reside in Hall's Bridge. The entire community join in wishing them every happiness.

ALPHONSE AND GASTON

The politeness of Alphonse and Gaston, the affection of Damon and Pythias is eclipsed down at Peterborough by the 'touching admiration between James R. Stratton and Robert Richard Hall, M.P.

"Mr. Hall," said J. R. Stratton, with much feeling at the nominating convention, "is the greatest member Peterborough ever had. It would be a shame to rob this city of his brilliant services. I desire to nominate him again."

"Tut, tut," said Mr. Hall, modestly, "it is true I have tried to do a few things but I have ruined my business. I really can't think of going back again, and I desire to nominate that rising young statesman, Hon. James R. Stratton."

Of course Mr. Stratton couldn't refuse when it was put so nicely, but what the public would really like to know is what Mr. Stratton said to Mr. Hall before the convention. —Toronto Telegram.

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED AT MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

Board of Works Needs More Money—City's Horses May be Insured—Many Interesting Matters Disposed of.

A regular meeting of the City Council was held last night, when a fair batch of business was cleared up. Mayor Rush was in the chair and all the aldermen were present except Ald. McIntyre. The Council first met in Committee of the Whole and then in regular session.

TO INSURE THE HORSES.

A letter was received from the Davis-Thompson Co., stating that they were now prepared to insure the horses and any other live stock belonging to the city. This was a class of insurance that had not been available in Peterborough in the past.

The communication was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee and Board of Works.

TO ADD TO PARK.

Mayor Rush and Ald. Bradburn and Butler were appointed a committee to look into a proposition to purchase a strip of land adjacent to the park near the King Edward school. If the strip of land is bought it will be added to the park.

GRAND TRUNK THANKED.

On motion of Ald. Neill and Tovey a resolution was passed thanking the Grand Trunk Railway for not making any charge for conveying the fire engine to Stirling on the day of the big fire there.

WANT THEIR GRANT.

The Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society wrote asking for their annual grant. Referred to Finance Committee.

COMMITTEE OF WHOLE COUNCIL

Your Committee of the Whole Council received a request from the Peterborough Cereal Co. and the Collier-Cunningham Co., in regard to the property which the Council agreed to give to the Peterborough Cereal Co. under certain conditions and referred the request to the Finance Committee to report to the Council.

We recommend that $300 be accepted from the Grand Trunk Railway as their contribution towards the cost of the diversion of the creek along Argyle street.

We recommend that the Board of Works be authorized to have the Smith street bridge repaired at once, at an estimated cost of $140.

The recommendation to purchase a waggon and harness for the fire chief was also added to the report.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Ald. Morrow presented the following report from the Finance Committee;—

Your Finance Committee beg leave to report as follows;—

1 That owing to the authority given by the Council, your Committee authorized the Mayor to telegraph to the Mayor of Fernie to draw on the city for $100 in aid of the sufferers from fire at that place.

2 We recommend that the chairman of the Board of Works and the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee be asked to furnish an estimate of the amount their appropriations will be overdrawn at the end of the year.

3 We recommend that the request of F. Marino for the refund of a fee of $5.00 which he paid for an eating house license which he did not use, be granted.

4 We received a letter from Roger, Bennett & Goodwill in regard to the claim of the city upon Conrad Schwerdt for the maintenance of his son in the Industrial School, and saying that he would pay it by instalments and we recommend that the City Solicitor be instructed to make any reasonable arrangement to have the amount paid in monthly instalments.

5 We recommend that no action be taken on the application of O'Connell & Gordon for the refund of part of a pedlar's license fee paid by Peter Parnassa.

6 We recommend that the following accounts be paid;—

Have You Ever Worn Our Famous Kabo Corsets?

EVERY Stout Woman desires to appear slender and up to now, she has been only partially successful. Many ideas for reducing the large figure have been advanced by Corset Manufacturers, but, in our opinion until now, none have produced the ideal form reducing corset. This may seem an egotiscal statement on our part, but if it were possible for the women desiring a corset this description to compare other makes with the form reducing corset pictured here, we are positive she would agree with us, and would consider the above remarks very consertive. We call your particular attention to the reducing device, which does not come to a point as in other makes. but reduces over the breadth of the wide flap, appearing in the illustration. The advantage of this is readily appatent as it successfully prevents any bulging of the flesh. With this corset the form can be positively reduced from three to five inches without discomfort to the wearer. Another exclusive feature of this style is the fact the reducing device can be adjusted while the corset is being worn which is another great advantage over other makes. This admirable garment is made with six extra strong woven suspender web hose supporters and the 12 1-2 inch front clasp is reinforced by an extra strong steel. Style No. 1011 shown here is for the medium stout figure. Style No. 1010 which is made up in the same durable manner is somewhat longer below and above thewaist line and is designed for all tall, stout figures. We guarantee both of these modelsto be un-breakable. Both are made of the best grade of Coutil. and are boned throughout with double non-rustable steel.

FIRE CHIEF HOWARD TO HAVE A CHIEF'S WAGGON

City Council to Grant Request—Will Help Him in Performing Duties More Efficiently.

Fire Chief Howard is to have a fire chief's waggon to be used in doing the inspection work in connection with the position. Mr. Howard waited upon the City Council last night and pointed out that the waggon was necessary in order that he might give the best service to the city. Without a vehicle in which to drive about it was impossible for him to inspect the city thoroughly. He believed that a thorough inspection would result in a reduction in the danger from fires. The inspection did a great deal to do away with the accumulation of combustible rubbish in basements and out-of-the-way places. A chemical fire extinguisher and a folding ladder could be carried in the waggon and by taking a couple of men with him the chief would be able to put out chimney fires and other small blazes without calling out the whole brigade.

Chief Howard presented his request to the Committee of the Whole Council and it was discussed for some time. Ald. Neill favored the request and Ald. Turner and Ald. Morrow also believed it would be a good move to buy the waggon. Ald. Morgan was doubtful about the advisability of getting the vehicle.

Ald. Neill moved seconded by Ald. Turner, that tenders be asked for the waggon asked for by the chief, and that the purchase be made. This was carried. A set of harness will also be bought. There is a spare horse at the fire hall which the chief will use.

ROMAINE STREET SEWER UP BEFORE THE COUNCIL

The city council took a round out of the Romaine street sewer question last night and some more information was added to the data that has accumulated about that now famous drain It appears that it is not working satisfactorily and some of the aldermen

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Neill, that the Romaine street sewer be opened and re-laid properly.

Ald. Bradburn said that it was no use re-laying the sewer. It would not be satisfactory. It was no use spending money on it till there was a new trunk sewer on Park street.

Ald. Morrow said it was necessary to do something at once to provde sewer accommodation for the King Edward school.

Ald. Elliott said the sewer would never be satisfactory as the water in the outfall sewer was higher than the Romaine street drain and caused it to back up.

Ald. Neill said he was looking for information and wanted to have the question settled as soon as possible.

It was decided to have the committee, appointed to consider the purchase of additional land for the park in the south end of the city, look over the ground while in that locality and see what can be done.

The city engineer will accompany the committee.

TOM LONGBOAT KNOCKS SOME

But Should be Bashful Enough to Keep Quiet

"Where was Black Smoke, that new Lindsay Indian wonder," Tom Longboat was asked upon his return from Lindsay where he won the Lindsay Marathon yesterday.

"Smoke" drawled Tom 'Smoke! Oh! he smoked up and went out!" and Tom chuckled in his silent way. "Smoke he isn't much good. He stayed with Sellen and I for the first mile and then went back. Percy Sellen made the pace for three miles and then I got out and made it so warm for them they all went back. Jingoes! I was going some, I tell you. I almost lapped Simpson, I could have but didn't want to.

"I won yesterday on Tom Flanagan's 'dope'," laughed Longboat, as he disappeared. "I am going to get ready for the Dunlop race and this new Midland Indian, Jackson."

Smoke, by the way, is a Chemong Indian, not a Mudville redman and may be looked upon to give the egotistical Tom a good run for his money when he has had a little more experience for a lad of 17 summers and, considering it was the first time he overran on a track, he made a remarkable good showing, and, with a couple of years' training, make the "famous Marathon man (?) go his best to stay with him. Tom is altogether too fond of passing opinions for the papers, in favor of Tom, and his past failures and sudden drop from a popular idol to a remembrance whose name wasn't good enough for a cigar store window, don't seem to have changed him. Of course, he's picked up some, but he should be bashful enough to give the wind jamming game a wide range. "The newspapers and general public will do enough talking for you," Tom. You just do like all wise Indians have always done—keep mum.

PETERBOROUGH BOYS DID WELL

Made Good Showing in Labor Day Sports at Lindsay

Speaking of the Lindsay Marathon race, the Lindsay Warder says;

Fred Simpson finished fourth and received an ovation. "Come on, Fred," the Peterborough crowd pleaded when they saw the redman being beaten by his brother Indian.

"He'd have a chance if the race was a hundred miles," commented Tom Flanagan.

Simpson ran a steady plodding race and finished strong. He has great stamina and powers of endurance.

In the fifth place came little Smoke trotting sturdily along and encouraged by the plaudits of the crowd. Smoke is a comer and may some day be among the big ones in the running game.

The other runners finished in the following order; 6, Thorpe, 7, Robinson, 8 Jones, 9. H. Nel, 10 Maddox, 11 Brace.

Thorpe ran under the colors of the Peterborough Y. M. C. A. and showed his pluck throughout the race. The pace was fast and only the cream came out on top. Robinson was also from the Porridge City, and although he came seventh he deserves credit.

MUCH INTEREST IN ATHLETICS

Collegiate Institute Boys Work Out Under the Eye of Mr. Adams

Mr. Adams of the collegiate institute staff takes a keen interest in athletics and last evening had a squad of the students working out at Nicholls Oval. George Rankin made the mile in the remarkably good time of 5.05 and several other boys showed up very well. The boys at the collegiate are taking great interest in athletics this fall and this season's meet should be the best ever held.

RUGBY

Mr. W. H. Simpson the wellknown local horseman and all round sport, has taken Smoke, the Indian runner, under his care and will endeavor to develop him into a second Longboat. Smoke made a very favorable impression here in the race yesterday standing fifth. He is only a youngster and has had little or no training, and under such able management something big should be made out of this latest addition to the dusky runners ranks. If Smoke can acquire the necessary speed he will be one of the greatest favorites in the game. In yesterday's race he never fail to get the glad hand from a host of admirers.—Lindsay Warder.

SPORTING COMMENT

Yebbie Flaherty of Peterborough, who at one time helped to win laurels on the diamond for Lindsay, was warmly greeted yesterday. — Lindsay Post.

The Lindsay Free Press says:—"The pitching of both Quinlan and Dusty were the main features of the game, the latter dishing up the goods in Eastern League style, while Quinlan, the visiting southpaw wonder, kept the large crowd in amazement. He had plenty of speed and struck out thirteen batters; he did not permit any heel and toe artist to reach first."

The Free Press always gets in wrong. When did Quinlan become a southpaw.

A Lindsay despatch finds fault with praise bestowed upon Fred Simpson, the Peterborough Indian, and wonders where Billy Sherring and J. H. Crocker got their dope. Lindsay has had one ten-mile road race, and as a result the host of wise 'uns has been increased. Lindsay citizens were of the "wise guy" type. — Hamilton Spectator.

WAITING FOR ANOTHER.

How a Borrower Expects to Square a Debt.

The impecunious man got the attention of a group of friends long enough to tell them a little joke on himself. At first they regarded him with deep suspicion, most of them having suffered more or less from his sorry habit of borrowing. When he had convinced them that he had no designs on their pocketbooks they consented to listen to his story.

"Well," he began, "I have a very dear friend whom I long hesitated to borrow from because of my regrettable absentmindedness in such matters. [Heavy sighs from the assemblage.] However, being in desperate straits one day, I mustered up courage to 'touch' him for a five spot. Guess he hadn't heard much about me, for he went right down into his pocket and dug up the requested sum.

"'All right, old chap,' said he. 'Any time I can help you out in a pinch I'll be glad to do so.'

"That was some three weeks ago, and of course I had tried to forget it, not having managed to gather the amount of the loan meanwhile. The other morning my friend approached me with a genuinely serious air.

"'Say,' he said, 'I had a funny dream last night, and you were in it.'

"'That so?' said I. 'What was I doing—returning money that I had borrowed?'

"'That's just what you were doing in part of the dream,' replied my friend. 'We were at a social gathering, and I could plainly see you hand me the five—by the way,' he broke off, 'have you really paid me that five?'

"'No,' I responded, and I could have kicked myself the moment the word escaped my lips.

"'Well,' said my friend, 'that dream made so strong an impression upon me that I was half convinced you had really paid me, and if you had said you did I would not have doubted your word.'

"I took very little interest in the remainder of the dream," said the impecunious man sadly.

"Have you paid him yet?" one of the listeners asked.

"No," was the reply. "I am waiting for him to have another dream."—Detroit Free Press.

A Pathetic Love Story.

How many people are aware that the marriage of the Empress Marie Feodorovna of Russia, the czar's mother, who is at present in England visiting her sister, Queen Alexandra, and who hopes to make her home in England, provided one of the most pathetic love stories in the annals of royalty? asks a writer. Before the empress, who was Princess Dagmar of Denmark, married Alexander III. she was engaged to his elder brother, the czarowitz. In 1865 at Nice the Grand Duke Nicholas fell from his horse and was so badly injured that his life was despaired of. His fiancee hastened to him and never left his side till he breathed his last. The succession to the throne devolved on the Grand Duke Alexander. He stood by the deathbed of the czarowitz, who in the presence of the emperor and empress placed the hand of the weeping princess into his, saying to her with almost his last words, "Marry my brother; he is true as crystal, and I wish it." Enforced by political reasons, this bequest was law to the bereaved girl.

Odd Duel In Midair.

"For some months past," said a New Jersey lady, "I have been finding dead chickens nearly every day. One day I found thirty with their throats cut, and the neighbors said it was the work of a weasel. Yesterday morning I was taking the chicken census when a spiked tailed hawk swooped down and grabbed something from the ground. As it rose I could see that it wasn't a chicken. I had seen that hawk carry off chicks on previous visits. This time the hawk circled above my head and screamed lustily. She appeared to be in pain and anxious to get rid of her passenger. At last the bird fluttered to the ground dead. Clutched in its claws was a weasel. The hawk had bared the weasel's heart, but the plucky little animal had ripped part of its opponent's wing away. I touched the weasel with my toe, thinking it was dead. With the last gasp it bit me below the ankle!" — New York World.

Butted the Locomotive.

Elephants are one of the perils of railroad life in Indo-China. The Bangkok Times says that when the morning train from Bangkok was near Ban Klap an elephant walked out of the jungle on to the track. The engineer sounded the whistle, but the elephant, trumpeting loudly, lowered his head and charged the oncoming train. So great was the impact that the elephant was killed on the spot and the engine derailed and badly damaged. The elephant's tusks were snapped off, but when a search was made for them they could not be found. Some one had walked off with them.

Cross Examining Him.

Mr. Davidson, superintendent of the Omaha schools, addressing a class of teachers in Elk county, told a story about John MacDonald of Topeka, editor of the Western School Journal. He said that Mr. MacDonald while traveling met an old Scotch friend at Chicago. "Will you take a glass of grog?" inquired his friend. "Thank you ever so much, but I don't use spirits," was the response. "Well, then, hae a cigar." "I don't smoke, either," was MacDonald's response. "I see ye hae no vices," commented his friend; "hae ye anny virtues?"—Kansas City Star.

American Tourists.

The wealth of "Ormus or of Ind" is not nowadays to be compared with that of America—at least, in European eyes. The number of Americans in Europe has risen during the past year from 125,000 to 150,000. It is calculated that American tourists disburse in Switzerland alone what amounts to $10 for every inhabitant of that country.—Nuova Antologia, Rome.

In Chicago, fire destroyed Armour & Co.'s wool house and fertilizer plant causing $500,000 loss.

THEATRICAL

QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER

The theatrical season opened at the Grand Opera House last season, when a good company presented the popular New England drama, "Quincy Adams Sawyer." There was a large audience and the old-time scenes, quaint humor and deep heart-interest made a very pleasing production. All the members of the company did splendid work.

SAWDUST PILE AGAIN ON FIRE

Brigade's Quick Run to Ashburnham This Afternoon

Shortly after two o'clock this afternoon fire broke out in the sawdust pile in Ashburnham at the end of Hazlitt street. The brigade made a quick run and soon had a stream on the blaze. It was found that more hose was required and an additional quantity was brought and another stream was turned on the conflagration. A number of loose logs were burned and the dry sawdust made quite a blaze while it lasted.

IS GUILTY OF STABBING

Trial of Young Men at Fenelon Falls---One of Them Discharged

Fenelon Falls, Sept. 8. — This evening Percy Nettleton, a summer visitor from St. Clair, Mich., was found guilty of stabbing and was remanded for two days for sentence. His companion, William Benton of the same place, charged with assault, was discharged. The trial lasted all day, the young prisoners being defended by F. A. McDiarmid, of Lindsay.

On August 31 the two visitors got into a fight with Fenelon Falls boys, it being alleged that the tourists had taken the other lads' girls away from them. A knife was drawn and Samuel Nicholls was wounded in the left shoulder, arm and side. John Barry suffered less serious cuts.

In finding Nettleton guilty Magistrate Moore of Lindsay remarked that the Fenelon Falls boys had no business to start the fight with the visitors, but at the same time he observed that the use of the knife was altogether too common in the vicinity of Fenelon Falls. Nettleton will appear for sentence on Thursday.

ASSAULTED WIFE AND WAS FINED

Slapped Her in Face Three Times---She Refused to Rake Hay

Magistrate Edmison was in Havelock yesterday. Clarence Hubbel appeared before him, charged with assaulting his wife, Ellen Hubbel. Mr. George Sherry, of Norwood, defended Hubbel. He pleaded not guilty but afterwards the defendant admitted slapping his wife three times in the face because she refused to help him rake some hay. Hubbel was fined $5 and costs.

Prison officials of the Joliet, Ill., Penitentiary tracked Wise and Kaiser, escaped convicts, to Orland, and there lost the trail.

DEER SEEN ON COBOURG STREET

On Tuesday morning early as Mr. Christan was running his automobile along King St. east, and when he was near Mr. Kay's, the lights showed a deer upon the road. The animal made down the lane towards the lake. This is the second instance within a short time that a deer has been seen in the east end. They seem to realize that it is the close season and that they are privileged to come and go as they please. It is not often that these animals come so close to civilization, but as they are harmless creatures they should be able to roam as they please and have the freedom of the town.—Cobourg Star.

STOLE FIVE DOLLARS FROM RUSSIAN POLE

Otonabee Farmer Allowed to go on Suspended Sentence—Had to Pay Costs

A resident of Otonabee was allowed to go on suspended sentence at the police court this morning on a charge of stealing five dollars from Gutek Serekwas, a Russia-Pole, on Saturday afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by jury but during the proceedings he changed his mind and was tried summarily.

Gulek Serekwas has only been in this country about two months and is unable to speak English. Mr. Abraham Lowe acted as interpreter.

Gulek Serekwas said that he took the money and ran away. P. C. Newhall arrested the prisoner and on searching him found the five dollars. The complainant stated that he took out some money to buy bread. Nelson saw the five dollar bill, grabbed it and ran away.

P. C. Adams said that the prisoner had told him that the foreigner had given him the five dollars to go and get a bottle of whisky.

P. C. Newhall said that he arrested Nelson at the Munro House. Nelson and the Russian Pole were holding each other. The Pole was saying that the prisoner had his five dollars.

The officer separated them and the defendant made for the back door, and out into the driving shed.

P. C. Newhall went after him and arrested him.

The prisoner said "I've got nothing. What do you want me for."

When witness found the five dollars in the lining of the prisoner's coat the latter swore that he did not know it was there.

Defendant went into the box. He never before was in any trouble. He didn't know how the money came to be found in his pocket. He certainly never took it from the Pole's pocket.

The defendant had to pay the costs in the case and before leaving the court he shook hands with the Magistrate and the Russian Pole.

Nola Avidson, aged 36, and Elias Wilrus, aged 60, visited the New York City Hall arm in arm yesterday and obtained a marriage license.

A DRUG STORE DEAL.

Involving an Actress, the Soda Water Man and an Accident.

Josephine Cohan, the actress, ordered a chocolate sundae, or some similar abomination, at a drug store uptown the other day. When she sat down to drink it, one of the long feathers on her hat touched a cigar lighter. Naturally they blazed up. The clerk, being a thoughtful young man, wrested the glass of ice cream soda away from Miss Cohan and poured it on her hat, completely extinguishing the flames. Miss Cohan, uttering unstudied exclamations as the congealed sweetness trickled down the back of her fair young neck, rose and did a few rough steps. Then she started to go away. "One minute, miss," said the clerk. "Haven't you forgotten something?"

Miss Cohan said yes, she had forgotten a lot of things. She had forgotten the sense she was born with, for one thing, going into a place where they first set fire to her and then emptied a half portion of frozen garbage down her lingerie waist to suppress the fire demon. "You'd be a star at Coney, young man," was her decision. "I'm for you in the 'Fighting the Flames' cast any day."

But the clerk said he wanted a dime for the soda. Miss Cohan peevishly inquired what soda he was talking about. "I have had no soda here," said she. "You handed me one, and then before I got the connection with an arid palate established you tore it away to dump on my new hat."

But the clerk said he wanted a dime, just the same. Miss Cohan said she'd pay a dime for a soda in that dump the day following her commitment to Matteawan. "Whenever you see me breezing in here and demanding a platter of your best fire extinguisher, blow the whistle," said she. "I'm off for the funny house."

But the clerk said he wanted a dime for that soda. He said it in such a nasty way that Miss Cohan got real mad.

"My hat cost $50," said she, "and you've ruined it. Give me $49.90 change and let me go." And that's the way the matter stands.

Miss Cohan walks blocks out of her way now to make a false start through the drug store door and then, as if suddenly recollecting, turns away with a scream of terror. The clerk goes behind the prescription counter and makes faces in a mirror.—New York Letter to Cincinnati Times-Star.

A Small but Welcome Act.

"If people who travel on steam railroads were as thoughtful as they should be, instead of throwing their newspapers down on the floor of the car after finishing with them they would wait until they saw a gang of section hands and then toss their papers to the workingmen," said Mr. A. R. Webb of St. Louis.

"These men, even if humble wage earners, are endowed with a desire to know what is doing in the world, and it is an act of the greatest kindness to help them to this source of pleasure and education. Some of our western dailies have taken up this cause and are printing short notices asking railway passengers to give their newspapers to the toilers along the road."

Big Writers.

London Tit-Bits has recently been publishing some facts about the stature of well known English authors. In one of its articles it says: "Of past giants in literature, in two senses of the term, we have Thackeray, who was six feet three inches in height. Coming to the present time, we have Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who is six feet two inches high, but doesn't look it on account of his stalwart build. Then there is Cutcliffe Hyne, who is six feet three inches in height, while Hesketh Prichard is even a shade taller. Keble Howard runs to six feet one and one-half inches in height, while his brother, R. S. Warren Bell, who at once ends and tops our list, is close to six feet five inches."

End of the Madstone.

The government has put the madstone out of business. It will be distressing news to many old families in which madstones have been handed down from generation to generation and guarded as carefully as any heirloom to hear that a government scientist, as reported in the Boston Transcript, says the specific value of one of these stones against rabies "is no greater than that of a piece of blotting paper applied in the same manner." By way of warning he says, "The application of madstones gives the unenlightened public a false sense of security, and their use should be discouraged by all possible means."

Towns Named Taft.

Since the nomination of Secretary Taft the newspapers of the country have been discovering villages and hamlets bearing the name of the presidential candidate. According to the Chicago Tribune, there are eleven places in this country bearing the name of Taft, besides any number of Taftvilles, Taftons, Taftvales and Taftdales. The states that have Taft on the map at present are Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oregon, Texas, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina and Oklahoma.

The Czar's Table.

The czar's table is financed on a scale of enormous extravagance. Each dish provided is put down at 10 rubles —a ruble is worth about 3 shillings— and each single article of food counts as a dish, though it may be only a few olives or a bunch of celery. At great state dinners the figuring is still higher.—London P. T. O.

Navy yard officials at Vallejo, Cal., have been ordered to change the name of the monitor Wyoming to Cheyenne.

CAVAN EXPECTS THAT CITY WILL MAKE GRANT OF $1000

To Assist in Opening Road That Will Bring More Business to Peterborough—Deputation Waits on City Council.

Reeve McNeill and a deputation from Cavan waited on the city council last night and asked for a grant to assist them in opening a road through the Cavan swamp. The deputation presented a strong case, showing that the new road would be a distinct advantage to the City of Peterborough as it would result in considerable more trade coming to the city.

The road is being opened in and is now almost completed. Considerable work has also been done on the new road, but more money is needed before it can be completed.

Mayor Rush informed the Cavan men that they would consider the matter in committee of the whole council and come to a decision shortly.

The aldermen were given to understand that Cavan expected a grant of $1,000.

Reeve McNeill said that he had appeared before the Peterborough council several times before in connection with this matter. The new road would cut down the distance between Mount Pleasant and Peterborough by four miles. The big drain which was almost completed would result in several hundred acres of swamp being made serviceable.

The total cost of the work will be between $15,000 and $18,000. About $13,000 had already been spent. Mr. McNeill stated that the Peterborough council in ex-Mayor Rogers' time had promised a grant. The united counties of Northumberland and Durham had made a grant of $500. There was doubt about the new road being of advantage to Peterborough. If the city made a grant the council of Cavan would guarantee that the road would be put in good shape.

Deputy-Reeve Kelly spoke along the same lines as Mr. McNeill. Considerable trade that was now going to Lindsay and other towns would come to Peterborough if the road was built.

Councillor Berry said the people of Cavan looked upon Peterborough as their city and the new road would bring much more trade to Peterborough.

Councillor Shields and Mr. Vance also spoke in connection with the matter and added to the strength of the case presented by the Cavan deputation.

The deputation was given a good reception and Mayor Rush promised them careful consideration of the matter presented.

The deputation then retired.

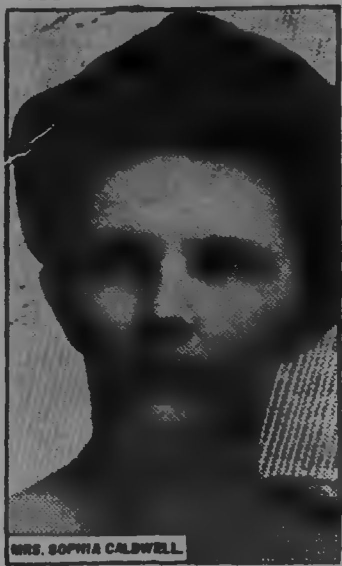
A PELVIC DISEASE

Of Which Peruna Cured Me In a Very Short Time

WAS SAPPING MY LIFE.



MRS. SOPHIA CALDWELL.

MRS. SOPHIA CALDWELL, 1128 McGavock St., Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"After doctoring for a year and finding no relief from leucorrhea resulting from prolapsus uteri, and which was sapping my life forces away, I finally tried Peruna, and when I found that it was helping me every day, it seemed almost too good to be true.

"But, it not only helped me, it cured me and in a very short time.

"I am now enjoying the best of health.

"I am strong and free from pain, and I certainly feel that all praise and honor are due to Peruna."

Thousands of women will read the testimonial of Mrs. Caldwell as above given.

Thousands of them will be induced to try the remedy that saved her.

Thousands of them will have the same experience she had.

Peruna is the remedy such women need. Peruna comes like a boon to suffering womankind.

Mrs. John Hopp, Webster Ave., Glendale, L. I., N. Y., has also been relieved of pelvic catarrh by Peruna.

DUMMER LOSES A GOOD CITIZEN

Death of Mr. Frederick Payne—Greatly Regretted by Many Friends

Hall's Glen, Sept. 8.—The death occurred at four o'clock Monday morning, August 31, of Frederick Payne, aged 57 years.

The deceased was born in North Dummer, in which township he resided until the time of his death. He was born December 21 1850. In 1875 he was married to Miss Ruth White of North Monaghan. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow, and four sons, Herbert and Fred, of Deloraine, Man.; David of South Dummer, and Harry, at home.

The brothers are Messrs. Lazarus and Robert of North Dummer, and Albert of Lakefield. The sisters, Mrs. M. Metherell of Little Britain, and Mrs J. B. Moore and Miss Carter of Hastings.

The funeral service which was held at Bethel church, was a very impressive one. Rev. Dr. Marvin preached from the text II. Cor. 5, 1. Suitable music was rendered by the choir of which the deceased was a member for 20 years.

The funeral cortege was a very large one showing that he was widely and favourably known.

Many beautiful floral tributes were placed on the casket, a large wreath being sent by the Payne Hunting Club.

Interment took place in the Warsaw cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, September 1.

THERE WAS A CONSPIRACY

Breach of Promise Case Against Well Known Citizen the Result of a Plot to Entrap Him

On Friday evening, Sept. 11th, before Judge R. F. McWilliams, at the Conservatory Music Hall, a well known and highly respected citizen of this city will stand as defendant in a breach of promise suit brought by one of Peterborough's fair daughters.

Judge McWilliams says the case is one of the most interesting that has ever been tried before him, while Walter Davidson, Esq., and Col. New-Newton, the lawyers for the respective parties, agree that it is one of the most complicated in which they have ever been retained.

The defendant in this startling case offers for his defence "conspiracy." He says that well known parties have conspired with Mr. Frank Simpson and others for the purpose of damaging his — the defendant's — reputation.

We cannot vouch for the truth of such statements, but it is said by those in position to know that from the opening of the court till the close of the case, the audience will be kept keyed up to the point of convulsions by the unique proceedings.

Wit, pathos, eloquence, laughable local hits and vagaries will be drawn upon without stint to keep up the current of merriment.

As an entertainment of innocent fun, conducted with mock dignity, and without the shade of offence to refined tastes the Mock Court Trial will be an event of unusual interest.

McIntosh, pastor of Olivet Baptist church in the presence of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march played by Miss M. Hodgson, of Port Huron, Mich. She was beautifully attired in a dress of ivory Sea Foy with touches of applique and point d'esprit. She carried white roses. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss May E. Smart, who was also prettily gowned in a dress of point d'esprit over white silk. She carried a bouquet of red roses. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Bertram McKee of Fort William.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch: to the bridesmaid, a gold bracelet, and to the groomsman a tie pin.

After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was partaken of, and hearty congratulations were bestowed upon the young couple.

ASKS FOR A LOAN

Local Capital for a New Industry

Company Will be Formed if $50,000 Will be Lent—An Important Matter

There is a probability that local capitalists will establish an industry in the city similar to that formerly conducted by the Wm Hamilton Company. They are willing to go ahead and erect buildings, instal machinery and employ 200 men if the city will make a loan of $50,000 at 3 per cent, or perhaps $40,000.

The proposition was considered at a meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee last night when the following letter, which had been received by Ald. Neill, chairman of the committee, was read:

Dear Sir,—

I have the pleasure to inform you that Messrs. G. Walter Green, A. Macfarlane, W. H Collier and myself intend to organise a company with a paid-up capital of $100,000 to erect new buildings, instal new machinery and carry on a business similar to that conducted by the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., Limited, which will likely employ about 200 men.

We think of asking the city to grant the company a loan of $50,000 to be used as working capital, and, in addition to the covenant of the company, to be collaterally secured by a first mortgage on the fixed assets of the company.

Interest to be paid annually on the current amount of the loan at the rate of three per cent per annum, and the principal to be repaid in ten equal annual instalments, the first to be paid at the end of the fifth year. The company also to be granted a very low fixed assessment.

With your kind approval we will be pleased to meet the members of your committee, and answer any questions and give you any further information relating to the proposition which, in the meantime we commend to your most favorable consideration.

Yours truly,
J. C. SMITH.

The following members of the committee were present: Ald. Neill, chairman; Mayor Rush. Ald. Morrow, Tovey and Gillespie All four gentlemen referred to in the letter were present and the question was gone into very fully. The lot where it is proposed to build is located north of McDonnel street and west of Park street. It was brought out in the discussion that it might be possible for the proposed company to go ahead if they got $40,000 from the city. No definite action was taken but the matter, which is considered a very important one, will be considered by the whole council at an early date, likely on Monday night.

WRIGHT LOOKS LIKE CHAMPION

Washington, D.C., Sept. 10.—Orville Wright, in three phenomenal flights at Fort Myer yesterday, established new aeroplane records that not only assure the success of the official trials before the army board, but indicate that aerial flight is now only a matter of development.

Two flights of approximately one hour each, another flight in which two men were whirled through the air for upwards of six minutes, were the achievements of the Wright brothers' aeroplane yesterday. That these flights, record-breaking as they were, will even be surpassed by Orville Wright during his trials at Fort Myer, is confidently predicted.

The first flight, made this morning in which the machine circled the drill grounds at the fort 57 times in 57 minutes and 31 seconds, was surpassed last evening when a flight of 62 minutes and 14 seconds was made.

Not satisfied with breaking all distance and time records for a heavier-than-air flying machine, Mr. Wright took Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, the aeronaut of the signal corps, for a spin around the drill grounds, making a new record for a two-man flight.

MISREAD WILL TITLE AFFECTED

Clause in Last Testament of Luc Montreuil Affects Valuable Property.

Walkerville, Sept. 10.—A hitherto unnoticed clause in the will of Luc Montreuil, who, fifty years ago, was the owner of farm property now comprising a considerable part of this town, it is said, seriously affects the title of the present holders of the different plots of land sold from the original holdings of the Montreuil family.

The property extends along the river front for half a mile, and is covered with residences and some of the largest factories in the town and is estimated to be worth upwards of one million dollars.

Arrest Causes Wind-Up.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Levy, Weston & McLean Machinery Co., 102 Front street west, have assigned to E. R. C. Clarkson for the benefit of creditors. The assets are estimated to be about $40,000. The liabilities are not yet ascertained.

The assignment follows the arrest of A. E. McLean on the charge of forging a check for $1,800 on the Imperial Bank, which yesterday at Osgoode Hall filed a petition for the winding up of the company. The company is said to be indebted to the bank to the extent of a three months' promissory note for $400 and to the extent of $28,000 besides.

This finding was that all milk not microscopically pure should be pasteurized under municipal control, that is, all milk not officially certified to by the authorities.

THE POWER UNION CONFERS DELEGATES GIVE SUPPORT

Appropriation of $1,000 is Voted to Carry on the Work of the Union in Various Municipalities—W. K. McNaught Says Hydro-Electric Will be at Cost as no Other Power Can Be.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—A strong resolution of support of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission plans, moved by Mayor Stevely of London, and seconded by August Lang, was carried unanimously by the members of the Niagara Power Union, at the meeting held in the City Hall yesterday afternoon.

Delegates were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, London, Stratford, Woodstock, Berlin, New Hamburg, Waterloo, Ingersoll, Galt, Guelph and St. Mary's.

Besides these municipalities already in the union, there were representatives present from Oshawa, Whitby, Cobourg, Norwich, Acton, Weston, Georgetown and Dundas, places which expect to join the union. In the eastern towns' organization work will be taken up at an early date.

Ald. J. T. Fryer, Galt, presided, and besides Hon. Adam Beck and other members and officials of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

F. H. McGuigan, the contractor for the new transmission line, was prominent among the visitors.

Power at Cost.

W. K. McNaught addressed the union on the salient points of the scheme.

"It comes down to this," he remarked, "if your commissioners are capable and honest men, you will get your power at cost, and no corporation can or will give it to you at that."

P. W. Ellis went into some detail with regard to the advantages to the manufacturer. Experience would prove that the cost of power would be lower than the estimates, and every h.p. sold would further reduce the cost.

Dr. Mearns, Woodstock, regarded the meeting as the best they had had. He denounced the blocking tactics of the power companies, and condoled with the public and manufacturers of Hamilton on the conduct of their city council.

Mayor Stewart of Hamilton had no doubt in his mind that the best interests of the province were served by pushing the power scheme. He recounted the Hamilton situation, and declared that the bylaw would be carried by 75 or 80 per cent., if voted on at present.

It was moved by Ald. Dr. Mearns, seconded by Controller Spence, and carried, "that the call for $1,000, funds to carry on the work of the union, made at a previous meeting of the executive, be now sent out to the various municipalities, in order to provide funds for the necessary work of the union. The assessment to be pro rata, according to population of the cities and towns, members of the union."

The meeting then adjourned.

VANNUTELLI IN LONDON POPE'S LEGATE WELCOMED

Roman Catholic Priests and Laity From all Over the World Listen to Cardinal's Message—Hopes for the Banishment of Divergencies and Union in One Faith.

London, Sept. 10.—With all the solemn splendor of the Roman Catholic Church, Cardinal Vannutelli, the Pope's legate, was formally received by the prelates who have gathered here for the Eucharistic Congress, over which he will preside.

Cardinal Vannutelli, with the attending priests, walked from the archbishop's house, a block from the cathedral, through lines of cheering people, including hundreds of priests who came from almost every country in the world to attend the congress.

Cardinal Vannutelli, speaking in Latin, said that which touched the delegates most deeply was the fact that they were receiving this hospitable welcome in England, a country upon which for centuries past God had bestowed his benefits. If in the passage of time painful divergence had arisen, they gradually had been changed into a desire for peace, and so, after centuries, for the first time the doors of "free England" had been opened to a pontificial cardinal legate, the prince of the church, the bishops, and a select group of ecclesiastics.

It gave the Pope great pleasure to have the congress held in London, not only because of the salutary effects for which he hoped, but because he was thus able to give a high public testimonial of his deference to and esteem for the whole British nation. It was to give proof of this affection for his English children that the Pope recently issued a decree removing them from the regime of the mission countries to which they hitherto had been subjected.

The Papal Wish.

"Oh, that this congress," said the legate, "might revive that other eucharist, which was the essential character, honor and glory of the Island of Saints, banishing all doubts and divergencies, and causing the eyes of all to be fixed on the same star of faith, which was the dearest treasure of the bishops, kings and people of England."

Archbishop Bourne replied in English. He welcomed the papal legate in the name of the clergy and laity of England. Speaking of the congress he said:

"It is an act of worship, an act of faith, and at the same time an act of reparation intended to atone for all these words uttered in the English language, that some sent forth in knowing and bitter malice and many more spoken in ignorance, which surely will be pleaded in mitigation of their guilt, have done outrage to the blessed sacrament."

A number of Protestant societies which recently petitioned King Edward not to receive Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli have telegraphed His Majesty at Doncaster requesting him to ask to home offices to forbid the procession of Catholic societies Sunday in honor of the blessed sacrament on the ground that it is likely to cause rioting. His Majesty ignored the former communication from the societies and it is improbable that he will answer this one. The Protestant Alliance is an uninfluential body.

Sleuths Charge Perjury.

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—Provincial Detectives Miller and Greer yesterday went to Burlington, where they arrested Alfred Ireland on the charge of perjury. Ireland was to have been the star witness for the crown in a recent liquor stealing case in Burlington. He told Detectives Miller and Greer a very convincing story, which they considered sufficient to convict three other men who were under arrest, but when the case came to trial, Ireland went back on his original story. He was taken to Milton jail.

Chinamen's Feud.

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—Thomas Lee Sing, a local restaurant keeper, is contemplating an action against Lee Hing, a laundryman, for damages for alleged wrongful arrest and imprisonment. Lee Sing was arrested on Lee Hing's premises recently and charged with theft, but was acquitted. It is said there is bad blood between the two Chinamen because they both loved the one girl and Lee Sing married her.

Interfered With Funeral.

Albany, N.Y., Sept. 10.—John Fahey, arrested recently for interfering with a funeral procession, was found guilty yesterday by Recorder Frost and sentenced to the Albany penitentiary for two months. He was later released pending an appeal.

Fahey, it was charged, advised union drivers to strike at a funeral because the driver of a hearse was not a member of the local union.

Request For Arbitration.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The locomotive men of the Canadian Northern have applied for a board of conciliation under the Lemieux Act to investigate a demand for a new wage schedule and changes in the conditions of employment.

The company has named F. H. Richardson, Toronto, and the men Harvey Hall, Toronto, as their representatives.

Hurt by Hardie's Auto.

New York, Sept. 10.—Keir Hardie, the English Labor member of Parliament, who on Monday reviewed the Labor Day parade in Fifth avenue, just missed killing ten-year-old Andrew Poffe of Yonkers, on Tuesday.

The lad, who was playing in front of his home, got in the way, and it was impossible to stop the automobile before its wheels had passed over him.

Steel Plant Opening.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 10—At a meeting of the officials of the Algoma Steel Co. yesterday, it was decided to open the steel plant Sept. 15 instead of Oct. 1, as formerly announced.

It is said several rush orders for rails have been received, including some 15,000 tons for the Transcontinental.

Madman's Work With Axe.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 10.—Pearson Talley, aged 60 years, while temporarily insane, attacked his wife in bed yesterday morning, splitting her skull with a broadaxe; then he split open the head of his niece and fractured the skull of her husband, Andrew Johansen, who were living with the older couple.

The three victims are dying.

Italians Worked Check Swindle.

Cobalt, Sept. 10.—Two Italians worked a successful fraud on three local Assyrian merchants, who cashed for them checks of the face value of $59, $52, and $55. They procured three Bank of Commerce forms and made them up as if issued by the Township of Coleman, forging the signature of the treasurer and reeve.

Three Beloit, Wis., boys, ranging in age from 15 to 17 years, were found guilty of horse-stealing and sent to the penitentiary.

At Bloomington, Ill., five inmates of the Pontaic reformatory made their escape through the hospital and thence over the wall.

ANOTHER BRIDGE IS DESTROYED

Atlantic Express Plunges Into Ravine and Engineer is Killed.

North Bay, Sept. 10.—Engineer Nice of Schreiber was killed and his fireman suffered a broken leg when the first section of the Atlantic express was wrecked at 6 a.m. six miles west of White River. The passengers were all Chinamen passing through from coast to coast, and they escaped injury.

The train ran into a ravine, the bridge collapsing from fire. The engine turned over on its side and the mail and baggage cars were burned.

How the passengers escaped injury seems miraculous.

The bridge, which is 600 feet long, is still burning fiercely, and no estimate can be made of the duration of the tie-up until the flames subside.

The origin of the fire gives rise to suspicion, as no bush fires were raging anywhere in the vicinity.

Toronto trains will take the Soo-Minneapolis route until the bridge is repaired, as will the Imperial Limited and Pacific Express. Two or three days will be required to replace the bridge.

FORT WILLIAM IS HEMMED IN Forest Fires Are Raging on Limits of the City.

Fort William, Sept. 10.—The entire district is now a mass of forest fires, which have approached right to the city's limits. The far side of Mount McKay has been burned over, while the fires are raging at many points on the Indian reserve near the Grand Trunk Pacific property. From Hymers, up the Canadian Northern, comes word this morning that the settlers are very uneasy. One settler is already burned out. In the unsettled portions of Gillies and Scott townships fires are now sweeping the bush, and there is nothing that will stop them except a heavy rain.

Casgrain For Commons.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—The announcement was made last evening that Hon. Thomas Casgrain, ex-M.P., and ex-Attorney-General, will accept a nomination for the Federal election in the Conservative interest. The Conservatives of Bago and Nicolet have both offered him a nomination.

News from the County of Montcalm is to the effect that Hon. L. P. Pelletier, defeated in Dorchester in the local contest, will be the Opposition candidate for the Commons.

Wright Loses Vote.

Arnprior, Sept. 10.—South Renfrew Liberals in convention yesterday nominated Thomas A. Low, lumberman, of Renfrew, as their candidate for the Federal House.

To the surprise of many, the convention turned down A. A. Wright, M.P., Renfrew, who has been the Federal member for this riding for eight years.

Quebec Needs Fire Protection.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—That the lack of proper fire protection in the Province of Quebec is a constant menace to the lives and property of the inhabitants is the statement made by J. A. Tremblay, the deputy chief of the Montreal fire department. Lack of adequate protection caused three million dollar fire loss during the past year.

Tally-Ho Kills Woman.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—While standing on the curb stone near the Exhibition grounds last night, Mrs. A. Mitchell of 72 Bellevue avenue was instantly killed and her companions, Mr. and Mrs. James McBain of Desboro P.O., slightly injured by a tally-ho, being thrown on the sidewalk by a Bathurst car.

New Flyer Launched.

London, Sept. 10.—The pioneer boat of the new service from Britain to Canada, under the White Star flag, the Laurentic, of 14,000 tons, was launched at Belfast Friday. Great secrecy was observed regarding the speed, but it is expected to be very fast.

HARD TIME FOR GRITS

Prominent Liberal Pessimistic.

Malcolm Schell Says a Hard Fight is Ahead—Meeting at Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 10. Addressing the annual meeting of the General Reform Association of Ontario, in the Temple Building yesterday, a gathering of about a hundred M.P.'s, Senators, defeated Liberal candidates and other prominent party men from every section of the province, M. S. Schell, M.P. for South Oxford, told them that the Liberals in the coming campaign were "up against" a harder proposition than they had ever met with in Ontario.

It was a business meeting of the association, and it was not on the program to discuss policies and prospects. Only the Liberal press were allowed.

The meeting had several top-line features. First was the absence of the recognized party leaders in Ontario. Hon. G. P. Graham was ill, but the absence of Hon. A. G. MacKay is unexplained. Another was Malcolm Schell's outbreak, which was not allowed to spread; and a third was an attack on the party literature, which was freely discussed.

MALCOLM S. SCHELL, M.P.
Who Is Predicting a Hard Time For Ontario Liberals.

J. J. Hunter of Kincardine introduced the subject of literature, showing its general unsuitability, while some of the Toronto representatives urged that Toronto should have representation on the literature committee, which is an Ottawa organization with F. F. Pardee, M.P., chairman. The meeting decided that if the Toronto men wanted to form a literature committee, they may do so, and its contributions would be submitted to Ottawa.

All the old officers were re-elected and many elective Liberals added to the association.

November 3 the Day?

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—It is positively asserted that the Government has definitely decided on Tuesday, Nov. 3, as the date of the general elections.

A well-informed politician who made this statement adds that the formal announcement will be made before Sir Wilfrid leaves on his Ontario tour, unless the Premier should decide to make it himself at the meeting at Niagara on Sept. 15.

This will bring the United States and Canadian elections on the same day.

Motor Boats Collide.

Brockville, Sept. 10.—A motor boat collision occurred Tuesday night at Alexandria Bay in which two swiftly-moving launches came together.

In one launch was seated Mr. and Mrs. Capt. Livingstone. Their boat sank slowly, and although both occupants were thrown into the water both were rescued. The other boat disappeared under the water immediately, and the occupants, four men, swam to shore.

I. O. G. T. Grand Lodge.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—The Good Templars yesterday federated their provincial grand lodges by the establishment of a National Grand Lodge of Canada. This body, which will have Dominion jurisdiction, will meet biennially. The next meeting will be held at Winnipeg in July, 1910.

Crawfords Scarce.

St. Catharines, Sept. 10.—The absence of rain in the Niagara fruit belt for several weeks may shorten the tomato crop. The dry weather has been an excellent thing for the peaches and plums. Crawford peaches are not going to be the big crop that was generally expected.

Policeman Kills Himself.

Guthrie was one of the best known men on the force, to which he had belonged for 22 years. He leaves a widow and two children.

Woman Swept Over Falls.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 10.—A woman about 25 years of age, of refined appearance, late Tuesday walked into the river about 30 feet above Prospect Point and was swept over the falls. She left nothing to identify her.

THE LEMIEUX ACT

Calgary, Sept. 8.— The United Mine Workers have decided in future to ignore the Lemieux Act. A meeting of mine officials and President Sherman and Organizer James of Edmonton, representing the miners and Lawyers MacKie, of Edmonton; Eptein, of Fernie; Ives, of Lethbridge, and Rathvon of Calgary, discussed the bill and decided that as the courts could not enforce the bill it was useless. President Sherman says the miners will fight their battles in the same old way in future.

There is no patent way of settling disputes of any sort especially those involving the principles of justice. Academic decisions of judges and commissioners never reach the seat of the trouble. Injustice is frequently an accumulation of small injustices which in the course of time maddens the moneyless when one more straw breaks their silence and disastrous upheavals follow. It is idle and worse to ignore this gathering tempest. Everything nowadays is for the further enrichment of the rich. Look at Britain and the United States. The great field of work in which the daily workers toil and from which they reap often a precarious or at least uncertain livelihood, is so at the mercy of the dominant money power that employers and employed both chafe under a severe discontent which they seem powerless to remove. The argument of the prosperous is that slumps are the natural result of overproduction as if indeed the more we have the less we may expect to have. If such is really the case under the present system of government then government is a hindrance, not a help. But the truth is that government rightly applied is like a watch, a marvellous aid to business and to the methodical conduct of public affairs. It is when misapplied just as excellent a weapon in the hands of those who take an immense toll from the earnings of the people in vast accumulations of excessive profit and in that form of stealing known as graft. An honest and at the same time a great capable premier it is very hard to find. One who grasps the problem and at the same is willing to work out the problems that he grasps is more like a god or ancient hero than a man. Such poverty as we have in Canada today is to describe it adequately absurd. An immense country abounding in natural wealth enormous schemes of "improvement" socalled triumphs of immigration a tariff that meets with the warm approval of the countries that profit by it while our own operatives starve. Great statesmen, as a rule, have merely risen to work with and adverse conditions of all sorts. Not so in Canada. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is guiding us into a desert of such appalling magnitude; into such a waste of extravagance, and bad times that amid the hovering bands of scandals and graft there is scarce a glimmer of hope in the future. Without any delay the tariff must be raised so high that we shall keep our work at home. Then we shall keep our money at home and our people will at least have a chance to thrive.

ONE OF ITS FOLLIES

On December 17th, 1906, and January 14, 1907, the Minister of the Interior replying to Mr. Lake, gave a statement of the number of immigrants who had arrived in Canada in the 5 1-4 years ending June 1906, and the number of these who had settled in the three Western provinces. The following are the figures:

1901 to 1903	141,671
1905	74,676
1906	90,553
Total	382,208

Now the census of 1906 gives the number of persons found in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan who had come there from January 1901 to June, 1906, a period three months longer than that covered by Mr. Oliver's statement.

1902	33,104
1903	50,115
1904	40,229
1905	44,562
1906	48,369
Total	233,457

Here is a loss of 148,753 alleged settlers in the West, more than one-third of the total number. If we allow for the additional three months in the census period the loss will be over 40 per cent.

Another illustration is afforded by a return of farm labourers and their families represented as having been placed in West Kent by immigration agent James S. Waugh. The number returned as so placed with farmers was 628, representing 265 single persons or families for whom he received $2 per head, or $1256. It was charged in parliament by the member for the riding that these returns were incorrect or fraudulent and the Immigration Commissioner sent out inquiries to the farmers with whom these agricultural immigrants were supposed to be located. Replies concerning 117 of the 265 were received. It was found that 44 of the 117 were never heard of by the men returned as having employed them and that 17 others were not farm labourers but sought work in some trade, and 13 either did not go to work at all or quit within two or three days. This small return had been stuffed by at least 40 or 50 per cent, or about the same proportion as that of the Western settlers. —See Return to the House.

It may be safely stated that the number of immigrants who have settled in Canada in the last ten years and who are annually settling here is not more than 60 per cent of the number claimed by the Immigration Department, while a large proportion of those who come are unsatisfactory and dissatisfied immigrants, some of them allured by false pretences, some incapable of making a living anywhere and far too small a proportion able and willing to go upon the land and assist in the development of the country.

SIR WILFRID'S SPEECH

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his opening speech at Sorel, declared that the main business of the Opposition during the session was to dig out petty scandals. Such a contempt for the scandalous robbery of the people of this country by some of his own followers in the House of Commons was hardly to be expected of Sir Wilfrid. Burrows, M.P., got timber limits for a song that, placed in a strip a mile wide, would reach from Montreal to Winnipeg. The patronage list by which supporters of the Government were alone put on the list of those from whom government supplies were and are bought secured the most scathing condemnation of the Royal Commission which Sir Wilfrid's own government appointed on the demand of the Opposition. Who can ever forget the Montcalm and the Arctic! Who will ever forget Sir Wilfrid's own imigration scheme by which he, against the solemn warning of Great Britain, nevertheless opened the treaty with Japan to get her millions to invade the labor market of Canada. Mackenzie King, his own commissioner, sent long too late to B.C., to investigate, found that it was the G.T.P., as everybody suspected and other similar organizations that had been at the bottom of Sir Wilfrid's aim to secure cheap labor for them. In order that "graft" should not be exposed, Sir Wilfrid fought the request of the Opposition for the customary right of the originals of all documents for inspection to the death. It was only after a struggle the like of which had scarcely ever been seen in Canada, that the Government capitulated amid the amazement and alarm of the people of the whole Dominion. These are but "petty scandals," are they? Is it any wonder that the people have long since learned to suspect both Sir Wilfrid and his methods.

REVENUE AND TAXATION

The Globe has discovered, or seems to think that it has discovered a most attractive explanation of the reason why a low tariff is an excellent thing. Although we heard all that in 1873 and saw how it worked in 1874-8, we had courage enough to read it again. What is the explanation? It is that so much foreign stuff or material is imported because the tariff is low that the result is a large revenue under a small tariff. The burden of taxation, the Globe affirms, is low, although the revenue is high. In order to make the point aimed at it is necessary for that journal to assert that a high tariff breeds higher prices at home for the consumer, or rather we should say improperly or unfairly high prices. Was this the experience under high protection, the Globe affirms, is low, al- it is now in price, and barely that. Yet the clothing makers were satisfied because they had work. At present the people have no work and twice as much to pay for clothing, one of the prime necessaries of life. It is so all along the line. The money also is kept in the country, for no matter what prices are if the money is kept in the country, things have a chance to equalize themselves. The revenue under high protection is of course smaller. A large customs revenue is a bad sign, not a good one. It means that money is going out of the country. The underlying error of the Globe is so patent and universal that we do not need even to appeal to the condition of the country to show its absurdity. An ounce of fact is worth a pound of fancy. We would rather build our argument on one ounce of the country's prosperity than on many tons of faith without works.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Neither my voice nor my course of policy shall be changed." — Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Sorel, Sept. 6, 1908.

There is no sign of approval of the candidature of Mr. Stratton visible anywhere. It is too late now for it to be introduced as it would create a suspicion that the subtle press-agent had slipped in while the editor was eating his dinner.

Ottawa, Sept. 3. — During the month of July 11,332 immigrants arrived in Canada, as compared with 26,341 for the same month last year. For the first six months of this year immigrants entering Canada totalled 107,451, as compared with 195,760 for the same period a year ago.

"The publishing of that Irish-born, Pope-blinding libel on French-Canadians by Le Nationaliste was the meanest piece of racial warfare in a long time." — Le Nationaliste, Sept. 6, 21908.

Yes,—the times do move, as the Laurier Government will soon learn to its cost. "The times do move" and the people will no longer submit to a "wine, women and graft" administration. The remarkable endorsation of the Whitney Government a few weeks ago was an unmistakable indication that the people approve of honest and clean government. Similarly they will vote against the Laurier Government because they disapprove of open and brazen graft, electoral crimes and the personal and political scandals laid at the door of the Laurier Government. "The times did move" and we are glad of it because it ensures a change for the better at Ottawa.—Brockville Times.

METHODISTS TO FIGHT IN ELECTIONS

Toronto, September 9—The executive of the department of temperance and moral reform of the Methodist church will meet tomorrow in this city to prepare a programme for the annual convention to be held on Friday next. Among the things to be brought before the department are some of very great importance. The Methodist church is to be asked to take its part in the coming Dominion campaign to ensure the election of pure representatives to parliament. The Ontario government is to be asked to exert some effort in the betterment of the provincial police and detective forces, in order to facilitate the running down of criminals and the prevention of crime.

A resolution is to be passed forbidding the use of the name of John Wesley by liquor men in their literature. In this, John Wesley is quoted as favoring liquor and the bringing of the name of the founder of the church into such use is denounced. The government's intention is to be drawn to the necessity for more provision for the care of the feeble minded. Every influence within the church is to be requisitioned in the fight against liquor traffic and arrangements made for a local option fight in the coming municipal elections.

THE USE OF NEW ANGLICAN HYMNAL IS NOT OBLIGATORY

Motion to Bring the Book Into Use Says "That it be Permitted to be Used"—Interesting Features of New Hymn Book.

One or two copies of the new Anglican hymnal have been received in Peterborough. It will be submitted in the near future for the approval of the Synod and will, if passed, supersede the hymnal now in use.

The size of the book is 3 1-2 by 5 1-2 inches. This will doubtless be the edition most commonly sold for although it contains 791 hymns in long primer type, that is to say, two sizes larger than the type in this article, the whole collection is contained in a book of the size given above, and not quite one inch thick.

Slight changes show the effect of recent suggestions. On the outer cover it is called simply "The Hymn Book." Inside the old title by which the book will doubtless be known amongst hymnologists, "The Book of Common Praise" remains.

Then, instead of "authorized by the General Synod" the title page says that it was "compiled by a committee of the General Synod." This gets over the difficulty of the Synod's being opposed to authorize some hymns which some Low Church members of Synod think wrong doctrinally.

The motion to bring the book into use, of which notice has been given, simply reads "that the use be permitted, so that any congregation will be permitted to use the book, but will not be forced to do so. All told, it is stated that six or eight communion hymns have been objected to, and these, the friends of the new book point out, are to be found in Hymns Ancient and Modern, which is now used in some Low Church parishes.

The book fulfils all expectation in regard to arrangement, indexes and completeness of detail. It is strong in every department, particularly in missionary and children's hymns and their care carols and litanies. The musical edition is to be in the highest art of the printer, and is as satisfactory to musicians as the "word" edition is to those concerned with the literary side of the hymns.

In order that the data secured by the committee in drafting the hymnal may not be lost, an annotated edition will later on be issued by the secretary of the committee, Mr. J. Edmund Jones, containing all the essential facts gathered about each hymn.

NO MORE LAND FOR PARK PURPOSES THIS SEASON

A meeting of the Finance Committee was held last night when Ald. Morrow, chairman; Mayor Rush and Ald. Neill and Bradburn were present.

It was moved by Ald. Bradburn and seconded by Ald. Neill that the Peterborough Cereal Company be given a deed of the lands mentioned in bylaw No. 1120 upon the company paying to the city $350 in lieu of constructing a conduit through the property and also paying the city $1,000 in accordance with the terms of the said bylaw, and that the clerk notify the company of the action of the committee and state that the committee wishes an answer at once.—Carried.

Mayor Rush reported that the committee appointed on Tuesday night had seen Mr. H. Best and that he would sell on one acre to enlarge the King Edward park for $2000, and land for the extension of Aylmer St. for $500 provided the land for the park was purchased.

It was moved by Ald Bradburn and seconded by Ald. Neill that the committee decide that no more land be purchased for park purposes this year but that the Mayor be authorized to purchase any time the land for the extension of Aylmer street at $500.—Carried.

PETERBORO' MEN BOUGHT HORSES

At the Sale Recently Held at Lindsay

Mr. Wm. Fanning's last sale was one of the most successful in the history of this business. The attendance was close to one hundred people. Horses, buggies and in fact everything that goes to make up a complete driving outfit was offered for sale. There were buyers from three or four different counties, thus showing that Fanning's sale stable is not a small concern whose reputation and business is confined to one small community.

Among the purchasers were Mr. Weir, of Norwood; Mr. Lee and Mr. Cavanagh, Peterborough; Mr. Gibbs Peterborough; Mr. Kelly, Lakefield; Mr. Fountain, Fenelon Falls; Mr. Kelbault, Port Perry; Mr. McKinnon, and Mr. Stacey, Lorneville; Mr. McGuire, Lifford; Mr. Sullivan, Sunderland, Mr. Doast, Omemee; Mr. Shannon, Oakwood; Mr. Nicholl, Omemee; Mr. D. N. Mills, Lifford; besides many others too numerous to mention.—Lindsay Warder.

NO INCREASE IN TORONTO

Milk Prices Will Not Advance in That City

Toronto, Sept. 9—Milk prices for the next seven months are to remain the same as they have been for the past year. This was the conclusion of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association made yesterday in Victoria Hall.

The constitution was amended so as to take in the shippers of cream, and in the future the Association will "fix" the rates for cream as they now "fix" the prices to be obtained for milk.

Last year the prices were raised on account of the poor pasture and the scarcity of foodstuffs for stock and the rates were raised to $1.55 per can of 8 gallons and there is some surprise expressed on the part of the retail men that the rates should remain the same as the famine prices of last winter.

The prices fixed by the producers is 19 3-8 cents per quart from the first of May, and 16 1-8 cents from May first to October first. This will mean that consumers will pay eight cents per quart for milk in bulk and nine cents in bottles until the first of May next.

POLITICAL NOTES

"The Ontario-Ross machine, which has been lying in disuse for some time, is undergoing repairs at Ottawa in readiness for the Dominion campaign. Mr. Stratton, one of its most effective cogs, will be refitted. Well oiled and manipulated it is anticipated that the former piece of political mechanism will be as good as new."—St. Thomas Times.

"All the other cogs of the machine have been systematically assembled at Ottawa—Ross Aylesworth, Graham, Harcourt (nominated, but may not run) Jim Conmee and Stratton. All that is required now is to turn on the juice."—Exchange.

SPARE THE TREE

How long does it take a tree to grow one inch? Perhaps the chopper has never given that a thought, and it may be that if he did he would not be so ready with his axe. A careful study of that question aided by accurate experiments made by trained scientists has recently given an answer to the question with respect to several of our most valuable varieties of trees. These investigations have demonstrated that it takes a hickory a little over five years to increase one inch in diameter, an oak or an ash a little less than five years and a poplar four years. When nature works so slowly to produce, man should not be in haste to destroy needlessly or ruthlessly destroy.

The finest leaves from Ceylon tea plantations are contained in "Salada" Tea. It is packed in sealed lead packets to preserve its delicious flavor and aroma. Sold by all grocers, never by peddlers, or in bulk.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 9.—Closing—Wheat, spot firm; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 6½d; No. 1 California, 7s 11½d; futures quiet; Sept., 7s 5½d; Dec., 7s 6⅛d. Corn, spot, steady; American mixed, 7s 5d; futures, quiet; Sept., 6s 9½d; Oct., 6s 7⅜d.

Hams—Short cut, 14 to 16 pounds, steady, 54s. Bacon Cumberland cut, 26 to 30 pounds, strong, 52s 6d; short ribs, 16 to 24 pounds, strong, 53s 6d. Shoulders, square, 11 to 13 pounds, firm, 38s 6d. Lard, prime western, in tierces, strong, 48s 6d; American refined, in pails, strong, 50s.

J. R. Heintz & Co. wired R. R. Holden: Wheat—Market opened ⅛c to ¼c lower, the trade playing for a setback on account of the heavy northwest receipts, 1,220 cars, against 378 year ago. We advise purchases of wheat on all the recessions; the general market is too strong to warrant any material decline. We expect to see wheat above the dollar mark for December very soon and then the outside public will begin to buy.

Corn—Opened shade lower, but soon recovered; there was some good buying notwithstanding the poor weather over the entire corn belt with the very small stocks of old corn and the great amount of new, which will not be out of the frost danger before October 1. we look for much higher values and believe purchases should be made on all setbacks.

Oats—Strong; commission houses mostly on the buying side; the elevator interests sold some. The situation in oats is extremely strong, and it looks as the May bought on the reactions would pay good profits.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Butter—Firm, receipts, 21,469; creamery specials, 26½c; extras, 25¾c to 26c; state dairy, common to finest, 19c to 25½c.

DON'T MISJUDGE!

The correct test of a Drug Store is by the manner in which Prescriptions and Medicines are prepared. The public has a right to demand competent, conscientious, and faithful service in every instance where life or health is involved. To meet this demand has been the constant effort of this store. How well we have succeeded is proven by the constant increase in our business. The number of those who intrust us with their Prescriptions and Drug Store wants continues to grow larger. The public appreciates our efforts to give better drugs and better service than it is possible to obtain in any other store.

NEW SHEATH GOWN ON EXHIBITION

In Robt. Fair and Co. Window—Attracting Much Attention

The new sheath or directoire gown gown as shown on a form in Robert Fair & Co's window, is attracting much attention to-day. It is made of dark green material and shows up to excellent advantage the new style of dress that has caused so much comment in the large cities. It fits perfectly and is strikingly neat.

The gown is not cut out of the cloth, but simply pinned together, it being the work of Mr. Harold Burns.

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE

The mock court trial to be given under the Boys' Department of the YMCA in Conservatory of Music Hall, on Friday evening, Sept. 11, promises to be an event of unusual interest. Judging from newspaper reports of similar entertainments conducted by the present management it would seem to be one of the most amusing things now offered for public patronage.

It will be, in the first place, an exact reproduction of a court scene in methods and procedure and on this account will be extremely interesting to ladies and others who have never attended a real trial.

Best of all will be the refined fun of the whole affair. With R. F. McWilliams, Esq., presiding over the court, Miss Ruth Carlisle appearing as the broken-hearted plaintiff, Walter Davidson, Esq., defending the accused and Col. Newton defending the case, to say nothing of the brilliant array of court officers, witnesses and jurors, it is pretty certain we shall have all the comedy and reality of a court scene and enough wholesome fun to last a year.

The defendant's identity will not be disclosed until court is called.

"YOU ARE THE MYSTERIOUS MR. RAFFLES, OF TORONTO NEWS"

This was the Startling Salutation Mr. Harry Latimer, of This City, was Greeted with Twice at Toronto Fair—Had Not Heard of Raffles and Thought He Had Been Arrested

Thrusting a newspaper in his face and exclaiming "Your are the mysterious Mr. Raffles of the Toronto News" is what two men did to Mr. Harry Latimer, of Bethune street, when he visited the Toronto exhibition on Labor Day.

Mr. Latimer was non plussed at the first occurrence as he had not heard of the mysterious man tot he spotter of whom a goodly reward will be given if captured in the name of the Toronto News. The people of Toronto are red hot after him and in each evening's edition of the News, he tells at some length of the experiences he has had during the day. By his photograph he does bear somewhat of a resemblance to the local young man who was mistaken for him.

When the excited man who approached Mr. Latimer the first time with his quickly recited lines the former thought he had been apprehended by mistake for some offence and took the other man for a detective. He was wise to the next one however and enjoyed the joke.

TWO BUSH FIRES BURNING, SMOKE REACHES THE CITY

Two bush fires have been the cause of much smoke in the city today. One is at Wm. O'Leary's farm about a half mile from Indian River and the other at what is known as Porters Bush about four miles west of Indian River and six miles from Peterborough.

The fire at O'Leary's' has been burning for some time. About two weeks ago a stump was pulled up on the property and set on fire. On account of the prevailing drought the ground was very dry and the flames spread rapidly. The origin of the one in Carter's bush is unknown. Both of them raged fiercely yesterday owing to the high wind but today are not so bad although the smoke from them is coming in big clouds. It is expected they will be under control in a week or so.

No damage was done by either fire the underbrush being all that was destroyed.

WANTS TO OPEN ELABORATE RESTAURANT IN TORONTO

Mr. George Thomas the proprietor of the Dominion Cafe, is looking for a site for a restaurant in Toronto. He is in communication with Wm. McDonell, a real estate dealer of 50 Victoria street, Toronto, with a view of having the latter secure him a satisfactory place for the carrying on of the business.

He wrote to him a short time ago asking that he obtain premises for him on Yonge street between King and Queen but has received a communication to the effect that the real estate man has nothing in that locality on his list, but will look over the city to see what he can do towards getting a suitable site.

Mr. Thomas informed the Review this morning that he is prepared to spend $5000 towards fitting up a restaurant in the Queen City and will run it on an elaborate scale if he gets one there. In case he does he will go to Toronto to conduct it, but will still retain his interest in the local cafe.

Exciting Encounter With Finny Monster at Stony Lake

Mrs. W. J. Morrow, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun during the past week at their hunting lodge, Bellechasse, Stony Lake "killed" a large maskinonge recently in the most plucky way. Mrs. Morrow was out trolling in a canoe when suddenly an immense maskinonge "struck." With some difficulty, Mrs. Morrow and her companion landed and then the real contest began. After a prolonged struggle between the finny monster and its plucky captor, it was drawn ashore. The exciting event took place near Bellechasse and was witnessed by a number of the party there. The head of the fish is being mounted to serve as a trophy of an exciting encounter.

MIDNIGHT MARCH OF UNEMPLOYED

Three Thousand Would Probably Have Done Damage if Police Had Not Interfered

Special to the Review.

Glasgow, Sept. 10.—Three thousand of the unemployed last night organized a midnight march to one of the best quarters of the city. Mounted police scattered the crowd and frustrated its intention. Several arrests were made. The town council to-day will consider proposals to alleviate the distress arising out of the unemployment of so many people.

WILL TAKE PART IN MOCK TRIAL

Characters in the Breach of Promise Case to be Tried Friday Night

As there is a general desire of the part of people to know who are to participate in the interesting proceedings connected with the Breach of Promise trial to be given under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A. in the Conservatory of Music Hall on Friday evening, September, 11th, the Review now publishes the list.

As will be observed, with the exception of Col. Newton, they are all well known people who need no introduction to our readers.

Wherever similar entertainments have been given under the direction of the present management, their success has been phenomenal and it is not likely that Peterborough lacks the material to give the affair a liveliness and piquancy equal to the best.

Judge, R. F. McWilliams, Esq.
Clerk, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong.
Plaintiff, Miss Ruth Carlisle.
Defendant's attorney, Walter Davidson, Esq.
Court Officer, W. R. G. Higgins.

Dr. J. Malcolm McCulloch, G. K. Bruce, Frank Simpson and Miss Florence Coveney.
Jurors;
Messrs. A. W. Cressman,

R. L. Dobbin,
J. F. Thornton,

The name of the defendant is a dark secret for the present.

NOTES OF THE DAY

Wm. Brewster, a young athlete of Wheaton, Ill., was probably fatally stabbed by a negro burglar, supposed to be a Springfield refugee.

Mrs. Martha De Bittler, wife of a New York broker, was found dead while sitting at the table, by her husband.

Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, is in Baltimore, Md., to undergo a minor surgical operation.

A .. Costume Like This is the result of brainy thought and expert hands—the result is a marvel of the fashion artists' skill, yet what about the cloth? If the material was poor and unsightly, the artists labor would be for naught. Think this over carefully and do not expend money on a handsomely tailored costume and try to economize on the material—poor cheap fabrics do not add to the beauty of the garment, they detract.

French Chiffon Broadcloths

We have just received a very large shipment of French Chiffon Broadcloths direct from the mills across the water. The purchase was an extensive one and commanded the bottom price. The goods are right from the looms and in their original webs, not even blocked, no extra expense was placed on them, just the bare fabrics in their gorgeous lustrous finish and real quality worth. These broadcloths come in all the popular shades including reds, greens, blues, purple, grey, black and brown, very special value at $1.25. See Window.

Louis Mott, 15 years old, son of Fred Mott, formerly mayor of Hammond, cannot recover. Clifford Hudson, 14 years old, son of R. W. Hudson, superintendent of the Standard Steel Car Co., may die.

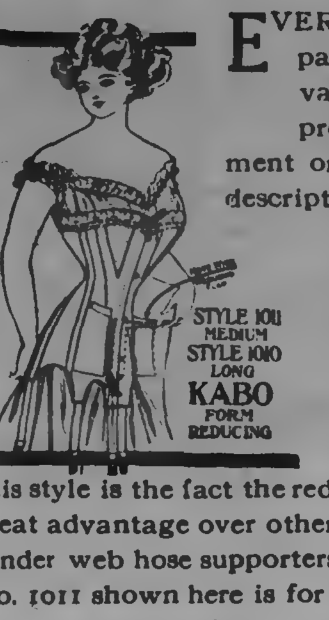
Have You Ever Worn Our Famous Kabo Corsets?



EVERY Stout Woman desires to appear slender and up to now, she has been only partially successful. Many ideas for reducing the large figure have been advanced by Corset Manufacturers, but, in our opinion until now, none have produced the ideal form reducing corset. This may seem an egotiscal statement on our part, but if it were possible for the women desiring a corset this description to compare other makes with the form reducing corset pictured here, we are positive she would agree with us, and would consider the above remarks very consertive. We call your particular attention to the reducing device, which does not come to a point as in other makes, but reduces over the breadth of the wide flap, appearing in the illustration. The advantage of this is readily apparent as it successfully prevents any bulging of the flesh. With this corset the form can be positively reduced from three to five inches without discomfort to the wearer. Another exclusive feature of this style is the fact the reducing device can be adjusted while the corset is being worn which is another great advantage over other makes. This admirable garment is made with six extra strong woven suspender web hose supporters and the 12 1-2 inch front clasp is reinforced by an extra strong steel. Style No. 1011 shown here is for the medium stout figure. Style No. 1010 which is made up in the same durable manner is somewhat longer below and above thewaist line and is designed for all tall, stout figures. We guarantee both of these modelsto be un-breakable. Both are made of the best grade of Coutil. and are boned throughout with double non-rustable steel.

FORMER LOCAL YOUNG LADY WINS RUSSELL TOURING CAR

The popular voting contest under the auspices of the Winnipeg Telegram has resulted in a former Peterborough young lady, Miss Edna Crossley now of 541 Maryland street, Winnipeg, capturing the first place in the ballot list and with it the premier prize of a handsome Russell touring car.

The contest was carried on on similar lines to others that have been recently conducted by Canadian newspapers but the prizes as will be seen by the one awarded Miss Crossley were much more pretentious than usual.

The winning candidate secured 2,323,932 votes, obtaining a majority over the next competitor, Miss Marjorie K. Dunn of Brandon, Man., of 1,647,340.

Miss Crossley has many relatives and a wide circle of acquaintances in Peterborough and vicinity who will congratulate her upon her good fortune.

REV. H. R. TROMPOUR, IS THE NEW RECTOR OF ALL SAINTS'

Appointed to Succeed Rev. Wm. Major, the Present Rector—Commences Rectorship October 1st—Chosen From Large Number of Names Presented.

At the largest meeting ever held at All Saints' church Rev. H. R. Trompour, St John's, N.B., was chosen rector of All Saints', to succeed Rev. Wm. Major, the present rector, who goes to St. George's, Montreal, on October 1st, the date upon which Mr. Trompour enters upon his duties here.

The important assembly was held in the basement of the church, with Mr. James Edgar, People's Warden, in the chair. The matter of having suitable candidates for the rectorship of All Saints' and of learning of their attainments has for some time been in the hands of the wardens, the delegates and the financial committee. The names handed in last night for the consideration of the congregation were as follows;—

Rev. R. V. Cobb, B.A., Port Hope; Rev. R. Perdue, Dunnville; Rev. Ben Oziel, Millbrook; Ven. Archdeacon Batty, Tennessee; Rev. H. A. Meek, Lombardy Ont.; Rev. Patterson, Athens; Rev. J. H. Teeney, Omemee; Rev. R. H. Trumpour, St. John's, N. B.; Rev. R. McNamara, Winona.

Rev. Trumpour was heard at All Saints' a couple of Sundays ago and made a most favorable impression. He is one of the most brilliant graduates of Wycliffe College, and enjoys the distinction of being a preacher of very high intellectual attainments and deeply spiritual and diligent worker in the church's cause. All Saints' is to be congratulated on the privilege of choosing so able a rector.

DISPUTED THE CLAIM AND "OTONABEE" WAS ARRESTED

Arising from the action taken by the Stony Lake Navigation Co. against the Otonabee Navigation Co., for damage alleged to have been done by the steamer Otonabee to a scow belonging to Mr. P. Young of Young's Point, in a collision on July 27th, the steamer Otonabee was arrested last evening at the Wolfe street wharf by Deputy Sheriff F. J. A. Hall. Mr. P. Young claimed $650 damages and $100 costs. O'Connell & Gordon are solicitors for Messrs. Young. The Otonabee company disputed the claim whereupon the plaintiffs had the boat arrested.

The Otonabee will be retained at the wharf until bail is secured or a settlement reached.

WORK ON CANAL AT ROSEDALE

Operations Commenced on the New Slide—Drill and Dredge at Work

Rosedale, Sept. 9.—The foundation for the new residence of the lock-master is rapidly nearing completion. No doubt this will be one of the most up-to-date dwellings in the village, and situated as it will be on the bank of the canal, will add materially to the appearance of the water-front.

The steam drill and the dredge are still at work in the upper portion of the canal. The work will take some time to complete, but will greatly facilitate the movement of steamboats and other craft on these waters.

Work has been begun on the new slide. A large pier is being built above the slide in order to shut off the flow of water, and as soon as this is completed work will be begun on the slide proper.

LIBRARY BOXES FOR T.V. STEAMER

Mr. Jas. S. Potter, Sailors' Missionary in the City

Mr. Jas. S. Potter has been spending a few days in the city in the interests of the sailors' work. He preached last Sunday in two city pulpits and addressed two Sunday Schools. The Upper Canada Tract Society, under whose auspices Mr. Potter labors, has 21 workers in the field, five of whom are specially set apart for the Sailors' Mission Work.

There are some 250,000 men who are in lumber and mining camps and on the waters and of those 25,000 are sailors. The work is done by personal heart-to-heart talks on board ship, by frequent meetings on wharves or decks of vessels, and by the very valuable system of library boxes and literature bags.

While here Mr. Potter made definite enquiries regarding the number of steamers plying the Otonabee and Stony Lake region, and at an early date literature will be placed within the reach of every sailor.

Mr. Potter leaves for Ottawa to-morrow when he will present his work in the different churches.

SPORTING NEWS

OUTCOME OF TO-NIGHT'S BOUT SHOW ABDALLAH'S WORTH

Much interest in local sporting circles is being taken in the match in Kingston to-night between Hassan Abdallah and Yankee Rogers. The showing of the Syrian against Rogers will give an idea of what chance Gene has against him.

It will be the doughty foreigner's first appearance in Canada, and, judging from the way he has cleaned up the well-known big ones in Boston, should make Rogers go his fastest to win. He is considered a star performer on the other side and his work on the mat proves that he possesses a splendid knowledge of the game, and is also a grappler of great strength.

Tuesday, September 22nd, is the date decided upon for the bout with Hurtubise and he will have a hard nut to crack when he tries to get away with the brawny French-Canadian. Gene is away better than he was when he met Rogers and then with Yankee extending himself to the limit, it took the latter 22 minutes to get a fall. He got a big surprise, as he admits himself, and confesses he tackled a harder proposition than he bargained for.

NELSON FIGHTS DOWN GANS AND WINS IN 21st ROUND

San Francisco. Sept. 9.—Battling Nelson registered another victory over Joe Gans here this afternoon beating the "old master" in 21 round of fierce and vicious fighting. Unlike their previous fight on July 4th. Nelson did not get home a knockout blow; Gans simply could not strive against nature and like Bob Fitzsimmons, when the latter fought Jack O'Brien was forced to acknowledge defeat.

In the twenty-first round the former invincible lightweight champion went to the floor from sheer weakness. He tried to regain his feet but only succeeded in getting up after the fatal ten seconds had been counted. Even had Gans managed to rise before the count it is not at all probable he would have been able to continue.

The fight was a gruelling and relentless one. Nelson with youth and confidence in his favor, pounded away at the negro's body. The Battler never gave Gans any quarter and before the contest had gone half way it would tell. Nelson did not attack the jaw. He went after the stomach and won the fight on these lines.

Gan's strength began to ebb in the seventeenth round. However with the skill and gameness that made him the foremost champion of the day Gans stuck it out, hoping to turn the tables his way. Nelson would not stop. The more Gans rushed on landed the more vicious seemed the Dane. He bored in swinging rights and lefts cautiously at times, but without regard to science for the most part. He sallied forth to mow down the negro and by easy, persistent stages, was successful.

A crowd of large proportions witnessed the scrap. The end came unexpectedly and there was some dissatisfaction because Nelson did not win in decisive fashion.

BOBBY KERR WRITES THAT HE IS SURE TO BE HERE

A letter was received in the city last night from Bobby Kerr in which the Hamilton sprinter states that he is sure to be in Peterborough for the big indoor athletic meet on Sept. 17th, one week from to-night. Bobby will enter the 50 and 220 yard sprints and will show the Peterborough people how fast one has to be to be a world's champion.

Ed Archibald, the pole vaulter is also coming, likewise Tom Longboat the famous Indian, who thinks nothing of a ten mile run before breakfast. Lou Seibert, the quarter and and half miler, will be here and Jack Tait who made such a good showing at the Olympic games. It is expected that Geo. Goulding and Cheeh Skene will be here and will enter in the mile walk. The Irish Canadians of Toronto, are sending down the pick of their bunch and Lindsay will also be represented.

Many local boys are in training and they should make a good showing against the crack outsiders.

The meet should be most successful as Secretary Glover has already received several entries and everything is being done to give the public a fine night's entertainment.

A record crowd is looked for.

BASEBALL WORLD INTERESTED IN THE BIG LEAGUE FINALS

For the first time since the birth of the American League, the old National League has realized what a real battle for championship honors means as a business proposition.

Pittsburg, New York and Chicago had but weak opposition the years they pulled off the honors and this year for the first time there has been a real doubt up to the last five weeks.

With three clubs in the race the weaker clubs receive great benefits out of the conditions as three strong drawing cities will give big money to the tail enders where every game is needed by the leading clubs. Then too, the teams not be running, will draw in other cities.

A winner in New York means much for either league as it advertises the game to the limit. The Giants are the favorites with the ball players this season for the honors. The team is molded out of ordinary clay, well seasoned and handled by a master mechanic who will play the umpires for all they are worth and on the Polo grounds receive at least 10 per cent the best of the close decisions, the officials being carried along with the floodtide of enthusiasm so conspicuous in Greater New York.

As the leaders square away other teams will not fight them as hard as earlier in the season and all are more than likely to pull away from the second division clubs as if they were tied to a post.

Matthewson and McGraw must carry the giants along while Wagner and Fred Clarke, have the load to carry in Pittsburg. The Chicago Cubs are a much stronger team than either, but the little fighter, Johnnie Evers and Frank Chance have their hands full in forcing the Cubs to their best work.

While not a perfect machine team like the Cubs, the Giants have a royal bunch of close range fighters in Donlin, Bresnahan, Devlin, Doyle, Tenney and the energetic McGraw, while Matthewson, the king of the box men will hold the Giants tot he last.

The fighting spirit of the New York team is everywhere apparent when they see an opening and this year with the big money in sight, every man will sleep on his arms at the Polo grounds. The pirates have more than surprised the knowing ones this season while the Cubs will never quit with a chance in sight. The race is a beauty.

The unlooked for slump last week of the Tigers and the steady playing of Chicago and Cleveland with the average work of St. Louis, has developed a remarkable race in the American League, even more hard to fathom than the race int he National League.

Any one of the four clubs has a fine chance to pull down the money, with the White Sox the dangerous club, as Comiskey's boys are game to the core, have gone the distance, and will hustle for all in sight. St. failed to show proper form while the Tigers were having their troubles and may now find it a difficult proposition to shake the Chicago boys.

There is little doubt but the Tigers will come again soon and make the fight with one or the other of the clubs, probably Chicago. As the western clubs are all fighting for first place, there will be no let up and each game in the West will be a battle royal until the second division clubs from the East go West and upset calculations which they are pretty sure to do as all are now playing good, stiff ball.

When the teams of the two major leagues meet for the championship this fall they will be on even terms as both contestants will have gone through a gruelling season. It is not like the last two years when the National League sent teams after the prize in the pink of condition after having a walkover for the honors in their own league. The Chicago White Sox were about done for two years ago and last season the Tigers went against the well seated up Cubs well winded after their own race.

WILL TECUMSETHCS BE CHAMPIONS?

Cornwall May Have a Say as to Where N. L. U. Pennant Will Rest

The Tecumsehs still have some figuring to do. If Cornwall trims the Nationals on Saturday they tie with the Indians. This would mean a home and home series, and the pace Cornwall is travelling at present, would make them favorites in the play off. Tecumsehs were badly beaten in Montreal by Shamrocks and then the Factory Town braves go down and take a fall out of the Irishmen. On the other hand the Indians trimmed the Cornwalls at the latters grounds, but then Cornwall was not playing the fast article of lacrosse then that they are today.

Cornwall only defeated Nationals in the Factory Town by a score of 1 to 0 but then the French-Canadians were right in the running, while now they are out of the race for first honors, and are not practising nearly as faithfully as then. Taking everything into consideration the Cornwall team have a good chance to land the championship.

CHARLIE CONKLE MAKES ANSWER

To the Charge That He Had Attack of Cold Feet

The Hamilton Times says. — Charlie Conkle, the champion 145 pound wrestler of Canada, says that Hurtubise, the gridiron giant, is talking through his hat when he accuses him of getting cold feet. "I intimated to some friends," he said, "that I would undertake to throw Hurtubise twice in the hour at catch weights. Some busybodies put it in the papers and the long-haired artist's manager accepted the challenge, but so far has not made good his offer to put some money on the bout. If Hurtubise's manager will get $100 or $150 on (the side I'll be Johnny on the spot. I'll cover their forfeit in 24 hours. Or, if Hurtubise will bet $50 and some club will hang up $150 for the winner, I'll hook up. It's up to the Peterborough bunch now."

LINDSAY IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Meeting Held in That Town for Organising Rugby Team

Lindsay, Sept. 8th.—An enthusiastic meeting of rugby enthusiasts was held in the Bank of Commerce building last evening for the purpose of discussing the prospects of the organization of a rugby team in town.

The meeting was attended by many representative citizens and the different speakers were quite confident that a good team could be organized here. There is plenty of material at hand, and the enthusiasts are only waiting for an opportunity to chase the pigskin. A committee was appointed to deal with the matter, and another meeting will be held in the parlors at the Simpson House on Thursday evening, when the election of officers will be held. The team will enter the O.R.F.U.

THE RING

San Francisco, Sept. 9—It is estimated that when Battling Nelson and Joe Gans enter the ring here today there will be a thirty-five thousand dollar house on hand.

In the battle for the lightweight championship of the world Nelson is naturally the favorite and thousands of dollars have been waged at odds of 10 to 7. The Gans admirers have been cautious with their commissions holding off until the last minute for the best of the prices. It is estimated that more than seventy thousand will change hands on the result.

Both men are at weight, and neither of them tipped the 133 mark when they stepped on the scales.

Nelson is the same rugged youth and seems trained to the minute. Gans looks thin and drawn as if he experienced some difficulty in making the weight.

Among the students at the university of California is a brother of Battling Nelson, the lightweight champion. The young man referred to has never been particularly enamored of the fact that he is closely related to a world famed prize fighter. Up to the present he has never seen a prize fight, but he has at length caught the fever and will be among the spectators when the Battler and Gans cut loose at Coffroth's Mission street arena today.

"I guess you will be very much surprised to learn of my determination to witness a prize fight. I have finally concluded that I would like to see you in the ring, and perhaps I may change my opinion of the boxing business. Since this is the only fight I ever expect to see, I wish you would send me tickets as close to the ringside as possible. I may as well see the thing right, as long as I am going at all."

This was the letter from Bat's youngster brother and he says that he was placed in a good position before the battle. This is not the only member of Nelson's family who were on hand for the great event. Bat's father and another brother from Chicago are at the ringside.

Win or lose, Gans will make a trip to Europe that he has long promised himself.

The darkey does not mean that the trip will be a tremendous money-maker in either event but he will take on all the engagements he can get over there in order to pay expenses. He is going simply to see that portion of the world.

"MARTY" WALSH FOR OTTAWA TEAM

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The first step towards the gathering of the septette with which the Ottawa Hockey Club hopes to bring back the Stanley Cup, was taken this week when Manager J. P. Dickson, of the Senators, practically closed with Marty Walsh for the season. Walsh (works on a steamer which runs between Montreal" Mr. Dickson happened to be near Toronto, and it was on Walsh's boat that he found himself booked. Manager Dickson sounded Walsh as to where he was going to play.

"Ottawa if you want me" said Walsh. There was never any question of the "wanting," and although no papers were signed Walsh promised to be in Ottawa before the opening of Dey's rink.

A meeting of the Ottawa will be held in a few days to make the first preparations for the season. Manager Dickson says that he intends to retire, but the other officers will not hear of him doing so.

CHARLOTTE ST. MEN WILL ORGANIZE

A meeting of the men of Charlotte street Methodist church congregations will be held to-night at eight o'clock for the purpose of organizing. It is likely that a Young Men's Guild will be formed. A large attendance is looked for.

SPORTING COMMENT

With two such husky candidates as Melville Montecristo Robinson and Roland Rathbone struggling for places, the Tiger ranks will look more like a press gallery than a football squad. Melville Montecristo played quarter back for the Argonauts in the Inter-Provincial last year and was also a member of the C.R.F.U. executive thereby killing two birds with one stone. — London Advertiser.

"If Gene Hurtubise ever hooks up with Charlie Conkle, the local chap will spare no efforts to leave a lasting impression on the gridiron giant." —Hamilton Spectator.

This wise remark goes to show that Kipling must have had Hamilton in mind when he wrote the line "Such boasting as the Gentiles know and lesser breeds without the law."

Fred J. Hewitt sporting editor of the News came out at the top of the page with a bland cut of himself which reads in conspicuous capitals "Hewitt's Column." and below is his signature. Outside of the picture of Alta Weiss acknowledged to be the greatest female twirler of the world, it is the only one on the sporting page.

It is safe to say that in a short time the young Chemong runner, Smoke will be able to go "like a blue streak."

GOLF

The strong Peterborough Golf team will meet the Lindsay Golf Club on the local links to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock and a good game is expected. All visitors will be warmly welcomed.—Lindsay Free Press.

A COPY OF THE NATAL WITNESS

The Review is indebted to Mr. David Spence for a look at a copy of the Natal Witness, a magnificent production especially issued from the office of P. Davis & Son's, Maritzburg, in celebration of Queen Victoria Day. Apart from the literary character of the reading matter, which is of the highest class. The paper itself is full toned and the printing is done in blue ink. The cuts of the various figures are both patriotic and artistic. Canada is given first place amongst the "Colonial" member of the Empire. Altogether we do not know that we have seen a finer piece of journalistic work anywhere.

Mr. E. M. Best Tendered Farewell Banquet by Local Knights of Pythias

Mr. E. M. Best, who is leaving the city at an early date, was given a farewell banquet on Tuesday evening by Marathon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of which he is a member. The function was held at the Dominion Cafe and after partaking of a good repast nearly all those present made short speeches expressing regret at Mr. Best's departure from the city, and wishing him success in the new field upon which he is entering. Mr. Best replied suitably, thanking the members of the lodge for the kind sentiments expressed.

FIRST OYSTER MONTH HERE

That popular favorite, the oyster, opened the season of 1908-09 Tuesday and although there are no "three sheets" on dead walls to announce the fact the new leaf of the calendar and the signs of the restaurants proclaim it. The tradition of the relation between the "r" in the spelling of a month and edible quality of this sea food still has its believers. Indeed, oyster dealers count September 1st as the beginning of their year's business, and for the last week in New York their shipments under way for points as far off as San Francisco.

From the seed grounds off Connecticut and Rhode Island down to the fattening beds off Rockaway and in Prince's Bay and Newark Bay oyster growers have, according to a New York despatch been working for months in preparation for the opening when they tear their innocent charges from the cool, salty depths, and introduce them to a cruel but appreciative public.

Teamsters employed by the Highway Department in Altoona, Pa., have been forbidden to drink while on duty by the Board of Public Works.

DOMINION ELECTIONS

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN:—The condition of industry in Canada is bad. The condition of workingmen is following suit. Their beautiful homes are becoming the prey of reduced circumstances. To the extent that we pay out money to other countries for work that should be done here we are traitors to our workingmen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought this about to such a degree that Canada has paid out in the last twelve years (being the term during which the Liberals have been in power) hundreds of millions of dollars more than she took in. It was not so under a protectionist government. Those millions should have been spent at home. Then there would have been work for our workers to that extent at any rate, and what is more, the money would have been kept in the country. As it is we have to borrow to get it back. We have to borrow for gigantic enterprises which serve to make the big money-lender, the stock gambler and the contractor rich, but what good is it doing the workingman? To add insult to his injury Sir Wilfrid Laurier has opened the gates on the East and the West to immigrants. Those on the East, our own kith and kin, have been misled by misrepresentatation and entrapped by agents who are paid a bonus for their capture. Those on the West are the untold millions of the Orient who are displacing the whites in B.C. are working East and are dispossessing Canadians of their own country. They lower the rate of wages and the standard of living. If Canada is to be kept up as she was but a few years ago she must not be allowed to fall into the class of "cheap and nasty" nations. If her people are to be well housed, well fed, well educated and above the condition of sweaters, they must demand a tariff against sweatwork, against undue immigration, against undue importation and a high protection for employers and employed alike, against the trickery of men who make their money on the stock market and by graft. The workers are slowly but surely becoming poorer than they used to be in this naturally rich and resourceful country. Why? Because the cream of all work goes to the money-lender of New York and London.

Why are the men of Canada idle? Because others will do the work cheaper in Britain and Germany and we let them invade our markets while they keep us out of theirs. The German tariff, the United States tariff, the French tariff are all vastly higher than ours. Britain protects herself where she needs it, by a Cattle Embargo and by the Patents Act, which requires patented articles (and nearly all are patented) to be manufactured there. There is never depression in France. The French have a high tariff and economize. They have always plenty for a rainy day. The Germans likewise keep their own work in their own country, but are weighed down with militarism. Britain suffers because her work is being done elsewhere, although she is changing that rapidly, but she has an immense start over Canada in her already accumulated capital. The United States is the modern wonder of the world, due altogether to high protection. Protection or tariff has been well said to be the measure of the standard of life amongst the workers. Commodities in protected countries are not higher than in unprotected. Clothing under a low tariff in Canada is higher in price than it used to be under a high tariff. Certain ills due to over-expansion, the machinations of stockgamblers, etc., exist in all countries, but when an ill is plainly preventable, why not prevent it? Sending cash out of the country over and above what we take in will never make us rich. Yet we do it and must do it under our present system of trade. Opening up unnecessary lands as in the West, while Ontario is not half populated or developed is of a piece with rest, but it is the delight of the money-lender. Ontario farms are rapidly decreasing in value. A huge national deficit is accumulating for this year and unless times are checked and we are restored to our own, the coming winter will be a veritable horror. The money that we are borrowing in such immense sums if spent for supplies, made in Canada, would mean work for everyone at good wages. Why then does Sir Wilfrid permit rails for the G. T. P. to be bought out of Canada and clothing that would keep our farmers growing wool and our woollen mills weaving it, to be imported without hindrance?

To say that one government is as bad as another is to say that one man or one set of men is no better as managers than another. We know this to be the reverse of correct in government, in trade, in railways or in anything else. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although the Conservative administration, as it proved, was falling to pieces, could never have got into power had he not agreed to "let the tariff alone." This pledge he contrived to evade on the ground that while the U. S., Germany, etc., were prosperous under a protective tariff, he could make Canada a brilliant and enduring exception under a low tariff and a preference. Now he is compelled to fall back on the statement that depression is worldwide and that therefore Canada must share it.

Then the boast of great enterprises! Vast sums of money have been borrowed and spent but who has got the benefit of it? Who has been made rich? Where has it gone? The charge we make against the administration of Sir Wilfred Laurier is that it is in the grasp of the great money-lenders. It has ceased to represent the people. Is it any wonder men lose faith in the forms of government? Without any government at all there would be a happier people. If the times are not rescued, whether it be by a party or by a people, civilization will be destroyed. The thunder of revolt is already heard. Religion, art, education—all will go with the frenzied efforts of men to get out of the grasp of Money which never loses, never shares its needs, into a state of freedom and the natural fruition of honest work and a resourceful soil.

I am not rich, nor am I able to live without working, as has been said, and I never was. The stock exchange where so many have won fabulous riches at the expense of the steady worker underneath is unknown to me. If I have no money to lose I have none to be ashamed of.

The day of the abject party man is gone. Let humanity have a chance.

I solicit your vote and influence and have the honour to remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

PETERBOROUGH'S SOLDIERS HOME FROM BARRIEFIELD

Trip Was One of the Best Ever Held—Regiment Made Good Impression—Military Tattoo Was Interesting Event.

"One of the best trips we have ever had."

This is what the officers of the 57th regiment say about the outing to Barriefield camp. The regiment arrived in Peterborough about four o'clock this morning and although somewhat tired, everybody was happy and loud in their praise of the trip.

Peterborough's soldiers made a splendid impression in the camp. The brass and bugle bands took part in the tattoo on Wednesday night, when several thousand civilians were in attendance in addition to the soldiers. All the bands in camp took part in the tattoo. The 57th men were off duty yesterday afternoon but were kept busy for some time "striking tents" and getting everything in shape for returning. Before leaving the camp the regiment was inspected by Major-General Lake, who expressed himself as pleased with the appearance of the corps.

The regiment left Kingston for Peterborough at 11.30 o'clock, and made good time reaching here about four o'clock. The regiment was very fortunate, there being no sickness in the ranks and no accidents worth speaking of.

GATES SWING OPEN ON FAIR ONE WEEK FROM TO-DAY

Everything Points to Huge Success—Grounds Will Be Illuminated at Night—Directors Met Last Night

Just one week from today the gates will open on the greatest Industrial Fair ever held in the history of Peterborough. Everything is in readiness for the opening and little preparatory work outside of incidental matters that may crop up.

The most largely attended fair directors meeting of the season was held last night and the time was taken up chiefly in reviewing affairs for which arrangements had already been made to a great extent and the appointment of judges and gatekeepers, ticket sellers, constables, etc. Vice President H. C. Garbutt occupied the chair.

The others present were Secretary J. A. Hall and the following directors. Messrs. S F Redmond, Jas. B Bell, G J Bennett, W. E. Conway, John Brown, Dawson Kennedy, G W Gillespie, James O'Shea, S Dayell and George E. Elliott.

The entry list is a most gratifyingly large one and every class will be filled to a greater extent than past years. In the line of domestic manufactures these promise to be an exceptionally large representation.

A feature that will be appreciated this year will be the illumination of the grounds by electric light. This has not been done before and having the grounds lit up the directors will have the appreciation of the public.

Arrangements have been made for the handling of record breaking crowds.

THE CARD TRICK.

How They Say It Was Worked on an Austrian Official.

An amusing railway carriage joke is being told in Paris at the expense of M. Derschatta, the Austro-Hungarian minister of railways. The minister does not smoke and has a perfect horror of tobacco. What was his chagrin, then, on seating himself in a non-smoking carriage in a train near Vienna to see a fellow passenger light a large cigar.

The minister coughed insinuatingly without effect. The minister coughed more loudly and then as violently as he could. All in vain. The smoker continued to emit clouds.

"Sir," said the minister, "will you allow me to observe that this is a non-smoking compartment?" "Oh!" said the smoker. "Well, it doesn't matter." "But, sir, the authorities"— "The authorities? Oh, they don't matter." "Pardon me, sir, but I am the minister of railways. Let me give you my card."

The smoker took the card, read it and quietly put it in his pocket. "So you're the minister for railways?" he said. "Oh, well, that doesn't matter."

At the next station the minister called the station master and requested him to take the smoker's name. The smoker produced a card. The station master instantly became apologetic. "Pardon, your excellency," he said; "I did not know to whom I had the honor of speaking. If this fellow"—pointing to the minister—"bothers you, I will make him get out." The smoker gave a condescending gesture, and the train started again.

After a few minutes of utter amazement M. Derschatta realized that the smoker had given the official his (the minister's) card and, being possessed of a sense of humor, burst into a about of laughter.

Castro's Palace of Steel.

President Castro lives in what is probably the most remarkable dwelling place of any modern ruler. It stands within a park at Caracas and is built almost entirely of steel. The outer walls are covered with a kind of soft stone; so, to look at, there is nothing peculiar about the place, but it is said to be the strongest house in the world, and it will resist the heaviest gun fire.

The idea of a steel "palace" occurred to the president after he had had experience of one or two earthquakes. One night he was awakened by an earth tremor, and in his fright he jumped out of a window and broke his leg. After that he decided that bricks and mortar were not safe; hence the reason for his metal abode.—London M. A. P.

Four Hours of Sleep Not Enough.

Thomas Edison says that four hours of sleep is enough for any one and that it is a waste of time to take any more.

So long, Thomas. Talk about something you are better qualified to discuss. Is your own health so wonderfully steady as to entitle your rules for living to be generally accepted? Wasn't it you who had a mastoid abscess the other day? You are only sixty-one years old. Any one with decent luck can live that long notwithstanding some abuse of natural strength. When you are ninety and still hale your habits of life will become interesting. Do you want people to sit up half the night to use your patent lamps and increase your royalties? Tut, tut, Thomas, don't be so greedy!—Life.

Indian Engineer.

A descendant of Tama's band of Musquakie Indians is now the engineer of a fast passenger train on the Burlington road. He is here on the same ground where his ancestors lived for many generations. He crosses the same rivers, surveys the same landscapes, observes the same phenomena of wind, temperature, storms, etc., that were familiar to his ancestors of centuries ago. He wears more clothes than they wore, and he speaks a different language, and he is serving civilization instead of barbarism. Few if any of the passengers who ride behind him know that a Tama Indian sits in the cab of the engine as it speeds over the prairies.—Burlington Post.

A Chef in a Box.

The old emperor of Austria pays his cook, Perski, $10,000 a year salary. This same Perski was once the cook of Count Rheingaum, and many years ago when the emperor of Austria was dining with the count he was struck with the way a certain boar's head was cooked and desired that the chef should be complimented. Two days afterward a huge packing case arrived at Schoenbrunn with Count Rheingaum's compliments. On being opened the case was found to contain Perski, a bit breathless, but otherwise all right. The emperor laughed at the joke, accepted the gift, and Perski has been the royal chef ever since.

A "Rat Week" Suggested.

Why can we not have "rat week" and let everybody in the United States devote the week, or as much time as possible within the week, to killing rats? It would be the best paying week's work from a money and health standpoint the people ever did. It would be a sanitary labor that would be farreaching in its effects, the benefits from which would be of a lasting character.—Staunton (Va.) Dispatch.

FRUIT JUICES CLEAR THE SKIN

The skin mirrors faithfully the state of the blood, and the blood shows how well—or how badly—the liver, bowels, kidneys and the millions of tiny glands in the skin are doing their work. If these organs are not properly clearing out the waste matter, the blood will be poisoned and the skin sallow, "muddy" and sprinkled with pimples.

Plenty of ripe fruit helps more than any other food to cure this condition, but even more effective, as well as less expensive, are "Fruit-a-tives." These are little tablets of concentrated fruit juices, combined in such a way as to many times increase their action on those organs that eliminate impurities. One or two "Fruit-a-tives" a day will keep the blood pure and give the skin the clear glow of health. 25c for trial size box—50c for regular size—6 for $2.50. Dealers everywhere should have both sizes. If you are unable to obtain "Fruit-a-tives" in your neighborhood, they will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

AN OLD APPLE TREE WAS THIS

Planted in Hamilton Township in 1792 by a U. E. Loyalist

Cobourg, September 9—An apple tree with probably the most interesting of any tree of its kind in the Dominion was recently cut down on the farm of R L Holdsworth in Hamilton township, near here. It stood on a farm known for many years as the Hythe farm, and the one under which the late Susanna Moodie composed the first volume of her renowned book, "Roughing it in the Bush," and near which many of the incidents of this first historic volume actually took place. In 1792 a United Empire Loyalist started from Vermont on a journey of some five hundred miles, bringing with him his wife, an American lady and their two children, their belongings being conveyed in a wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen. In the spring of 1793 he came to this vicinity and settled in the wilderness on property known as the Hythe farm. When clearing up a small patch of ground near his rude cabin the site of which is still pointed out, he planted either a few slips or seeds of the native seedling apple. Several of the trees thus produced remained until about forty-five years ago when they decayed and one by one were removed excepting one, which stood in the middle of a field from 1793 to 1908, and having been struck by lightning two years ago, was just recently reluctantly removed by the present proprietors. It is stated that for seventy-five years and how long before it is not known, the tree never for a single year missed bearing fruit and even last year although all dead but one small limb, that limb was covered with apples. The fruit was about the size of a small pear, and very hard, and two years ago was highly prized as it would keep in good conditions if carefully packed until spring.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

HUNTERS ARE MAKING PLANS

A Wonderful Number of Deer Reported

The number of deer reported in Maganetawan and Lower French River district, is attracting a great deal of attention; the wonder is where they all come from; they seem to be more numerous than ever. Last year the Canadian Northern was the only operating as far north as the Still River, but the sport obtained was simply sensational, over 700 deer being shot on the 32 miles of line between Wauhamic and the Still, and most of them close to the railway. This year the road is operating from Toronto right through to Sudbury, crossing the most desired country around the Pickerel and French Rivers, and opening up a new area known to be simply swarming with game. Enquiries are coming in fast and intending hunters should make their plans early and secure a good location.

Mr. C. Price Green, the Passenger Agent of the Line, Canadian Northern Building, Toronto, will gladly answer all enquiries.

Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, of Chicago, after study of conditions in Europe, says America leads the world in prejudice against the Jews.

SHOULD BE UNDER STRICT INSPECTION BY THE CITY

Jury on Inquest Into the Death of the Late John Greer Recommend Inspection by City Authorities for Places Where Explosives Are Handled—Verdict Reached.

"That John Greer came to his death from causes not made clear to us but in our opinion he had not sufficient experience in the handling of this dangerous explosive to be allowed the management of this branch of the business. We would recommend that these places where gasoline and other explosives are handled should be under strict inspection by city authorities."

The above is the verdict reached at the coroner's inquest into the death of the late John Greer, who died as a result of a gasoline explosion at "My Valet" on Saturday, August 29th. The jurors were out about half an hour.

The inquest adjourned from last Wednesday was resumed at the City Council Chamber last evening before Coroner Dr. Gray. Mr. R. E. Wood was present for the Crown and Mr. G. W. Hatton appeared on behalf of Mr. B. Rickey's interests. The following jurymen answered their names:—Messrs. F. W. Miller, foreman; W. Morrow, W. Metheral, W. Merrill, George E. Elliott, W. D. Devans, Jas. Browne, C. Clancy, W. Mein, R. Stewart, J. Embury, G. Brault, F. Kelly, T. Glover.

Mr. H. A. Parker, former proprietor of the local dye works was called. He stated that he had had 27 years experience in the use of gasoline. It required a room exclusively where it is used. The larger the room the better and it must be properly ventilated. He did not think that a window half open was sufficient to properly ventilate a room where gasoline is used. There is a vapor which arises from gasoline that if it comes in contact with a light will cause an explosion. He had never had any explosion in his experience.

Mr. Irwin, who keeps a barber shop at 196 Charlotte street, stated that his shop was three doors from "My Valet." He had seen the deceased at work the day before the accident. Young Greer was in the room cleaning some goods and was smoking at the time.

Mr. G. W. Record, of the French Cleaning Works was called. He thought that the only thing that would cause an explosion would be a flame. He never had any experience with explosives.

The jury then retired and in half an hour returned the above verdict.

CHARLEY GRAPEWIN IN "MR. PIPP"

Comes to the Grand next Tuesday, Sept. 15. "There is always room at the top" is a tried and true saying especially when applied to the efforts of amusement purveyors. This is true for the reason that few there are that ever get beyond the mediocre stage of the many productions that are offered upon the theatre sales counters of the day. Those that do reach a high place in the good graces of the public are the ones that are lasting; and go on season after season creating good, wholesome merriment or substantial theatrical pleasure for a much over-tried public. The fact that the ever popular and always inimitable Charley Grapewin is now well entered upon his fifth year in his merry musical play, "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp," is evidence of the fact that both the play and the player have been passed upon favorably. The play is one of those happy mediums that fit so admirably with the personality of the play and leaves a lasting, lingering flavor that never fails to draw old friends and make many new ones each visit. This season Mr. Grapewin has surrounded himself with the company par excellence of his career. New songs and feature specialties will also adorn the performance but by no means doing away with such acknowledged hits as Mr. Grapewin's old song and always to be remembered, "The Old Oaken Bucket for Mine." Charley Grapewin in Mr. Pipp is always to laugh — it might be said to scream — if the latter did not seem undignified. It is a girl play with a story, for the girls are only an incident throughout. Altogether the ensemble is a jolly tale well told, the resultant effect being joyous amusement for those who pick as the winner in the footlight event. Charley Grapewin is the wheelhorse fun and you'll never find him unwilling to admit that the laugh is on him.

Who appears at the "Grand" next Tuesday with his big company in "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp". Plan opens Saturday at 10 a.m.

AN EYE TO BEAUTY

Editor of the Review

Dear Sir.—A great many people would like to know through your paper who have charge of streets and vacant lots, because they don't seem capable of their office and would like to get some one in that, that is capable. For instance go up the street car line, there are a couple of lots near Central park, also a large lot just north of that beautiful Inverlea park, full of weeds, some four feet high. I hear it belongs to a wealthy firm. Why not employ some industrious man to clean these lots and charge it up to the owners, when the said owners wont clean them and make your city look nice.

Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

Forest fires have broken out afresh in Houghton county, Mich., millions of feet of timber having been destroyed.

This woman says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her after everything else had failed.

Mrs. W. Barrett, 602 Moreau St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For years I was a great sufferer from female weakness, and despite every remedy given me by doctors for this trouble, I grew worse instead of better. I was fast failing in health, and I was completely discouraged.

"One day a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and am thankful to say that it cured the female weakness, making me strong and well.

"Every woman who suffers from female troubles should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

WEDDING BELLS

PARK—KETCHESON

A quiet wedding was solemnized this afternoon at three o'clock at the residence of Mr. W. D. Ketcheson, 159 Rubidge street, when his youngest daughter, Miss Marie L. Ketcheson, was united in marriage to Dr. J. M. Park of Marshville, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Henderson, pastor of Charlotte street Methodist church, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Miss Annie Spicer of this city. The wedding took place beneath an arch of evergreens and asters. The bride was given away by her brother Mr. M. E. Ketcheson and was becomingly attired in a suit of navy blue broadcloth over a waist of white point de'sprit. She wore a hat to match.

After the ceremony luncheon was served in the dining room which was prettily decorated with pink and white asters.

ALLEN—FAIR

Millbrook was the scene of a wedding of unusual interest yesterday when Miss Ida Margaret Fair, youngest daughter of Mr. Wm. Fair, of Millbrook, and sister of Mr. Robert Fair, of this city, was united in marraige to Mr Henry Burke Allen of Millbrook, third youngest son of the late Venerable Archdeacon Allen of Millbrook. The ceremony took place in St. Thomas' church and was performed by Rev. Wm. Cartwright Allen, rector of Cavan, and rural dean of Durham and Victoria, and brother of the groom. The chancel of the church was beautifully decorated with golden glow and asparagus. Although the wedding was private and the bride and groom were unattended, a large number gathered at the church to witness the nuptials of the popular couple. Two hymns were sung as the bridal party entered the church and the Swedish wedding march was played as they filed out, the organist being Mrs. Wm. Cartwright Allen, organist of St. Thomas' Church. The bride wore a handsome travelling suit of Parisian striped broadcloth, trimmed with taffeta, with hat to match.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Allen left on the 12.10 G.T.R. train, for Toronto, where they will take a steamer on a wedding trip down the St. Lawrence, thence to Portland Me., On their return they will reside in Millbrook.

The bride received many beautiful presents — an evidence of her popularity among a large circle of friends. Both she and her husband are exceedingly popular and will have the best wishes of a legion of friends. A large party gathered at the station and confetti and rice were much in evidence as the train pulled out.

WILSON—HOPE

Keene, Sept. 10 — A very pretty wedding was celebrated at Riverside, the home of Mr. Richard Hope, Wednesday evening, when his daughter, Mark Katherine, was united to Allen J. Wilson. The bride was charmingly attired in Dresden silk and was unattended. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. D. McDonald after which the guests to the number of about 70 sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast. The newly married couple are spending their honeymoon in Toronto and other western points. They will reside in Otonabee near Peterborough. They received many very handsome and costly presents.

WILLIAMSON—CURRY

The marriage of Mr. Cecil Hector Williamson, of Aylmer street, to Miss Gertrude Perina Curry, daughter of Mr. W. S. Curry, took place at the residence of the bride's father, 273 McDonnel street, yesterday at 2.30 o'clock. Owing to recent bereavement the wedding was quiet, only the most intimate relatives being present. Both Mr. and Mrs. Williamson are very popular, and this was seen in the number of beautiful presents.

Rev. James G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, officiated. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served.

COCHRANE—SIMPSON

A quiet wedding was celebrated at St. Andrew's Manse yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, when Mr. Hugh Davidson Cochrane, of Ketchecum, David Cochrane, of Ketchecum, marriage to Miss Violet Simpson of Harvey. Rev. James G. Potter, of St. Andrew's, officiated.

DEVER—THOMPSON

Mr. Wilfrid Dever, of Smith township, and Miss Margaret Cathcard Thompson, daughter of Mr. Alexander Thompson, of Harvey, were united in the bonds of matrimony at St. Andrew's Manse yesterday at 7.30 p.m. by the Rev. EXPRESSES HIS HOPE FOR A ROMAN CATHOLIC ENGLAND

Montreal Archbishop Declares That Conference in London Marks Re-Entry of Catholicism Into Old Kingdom —Montreal Gets Next Congress.

London, Sept. 11.—(C.A.P.)—The Eucharist Congress held a huge meeting in the Albert Hall, the cardinal legate presiding. The Archbishop of Montreal, speaking in French, said the congress must remind the cardinals of the glorious days of Rome.

He represented Quebec, the most Catholic land of the British Empire. He declared the recent protest by Protestant societies against the congress proceedings was not a national protest. Moreover, the congress was being greeted with sympathy and respect in every quarter. The congress marked the re-entry of Catholicism into its old kingdom. The whole Catholic world was now looking Westminsterward, where the holy eucharist, after being carried through the streets of the first capital of the world, protected by the English flag, the symbol of civic and religious freedom—(applause)—would find a new triumph as the result of the congress. He would cherish the hope that the whole of England would return to the Catholic faith.

Prior to the Albert Hall meeting, the Archbishop of Montreal took part in the debate and aroused the most fervent applause of any speaker. He spoke of the complete freedom in Canada and the piety of French-Canadians. Pointing to the Union Jack, he brought down the house by declaring that the Catholics of Canada "were equally attached to the flag of our faith and the flag of our loyalty."

He concluded by inviting all to the eucharistic congress in 1910 at Montreal.

It was announced last night that the Protestant Alliance would seek an injunction to prevent Archbishop Bourne from carrying the host in Sunday's procession.

The authorities thus far have taken no action against the holding of the procession; on the contrary, the police are making arrangments to preserve order along the line of march.

It comes as a surprise to most people that the suggested Catholic procession is against the letter of the law which emancipated the Catholics in 1829.

THE SYSTEM CONDEMNED

Justice Trenholme Says Grand Jury is a Burden.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—At the opening of the September term of the criminal side of the court of King's Bench yesterday, Justice Trenholme condemned the grand jury system.

In his address to that body he said: "So long as the Legislatures of the country see fit to impose upon the community the burden of the grand jury system, which it does in my opinion without any corresponding advantage, it is the duty of the judge presiding at the opening of the term of his court to give the grand jurors some instructions that may aid them in discharging their duties."

There was a torchlight procession, with many bands and banners, to the town hall where an address was presented, thanking Mr. Redmond on behalf of the people for his priceless service.

Port Arthur, Sept. 11.—Bush fires surround Port Arthur and Fort William, and all day Wednesday the fire-fighting appliances of the two towns were engaged in fighting the flames. At one time the fire between the cities threatened several residences, but after a stubborn fight it was finally extinguished. At the mission at Squaw Bay the Indians had a hard fight with the elements to save the village from destruction.

Murder Over Watermelons.

Fayetteville, Ark., Sept. 11.—Because John Murray, a well-known farmer, who lived near here charged John D. Holt, aged 28, son of a prominent merchant of Lincoln Park, with stealing watermelons and threatened to whip him, Holt shot and killed Murray from ambush.

Murray's grandfather was shot from ambush and killed in Ohio 40 years ago by a man named Holt.

STRIKERS LOOK FOR A BLOCKADE

Tie-up Predicted as Result of Machinists Trouble.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—J. McVety, speaking from the standpoint of the striking C.P.R. mechanics, yesterday predicted that the greatest blockade in the history of the west would be the inevitable result if the present strike continues much longer. He produced reports from points in the country to substantiate this, showing that already the company has failed to supply rolling stock to handle the grain offering. Strikers are now busy preparing affidavits showing the condition of the rolling stock and the running of trains, which will be submitted to the Railway Commission next week. That body will be asked to see that the law regarding inspection is carried out.

Victoria Terminus.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 11.—At a reception given Hon. William Templeman by Liberals, the Minister, referring to what he said the Laurier Government had done, instanced the bonus granted to this section of the Victoria and Eastern Railway from the east and north extension to Fort St. George. He said this would afford means for the G.T.P. to reach Vancouver Island and Victoria, so that Victoria might really become the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

TOLSTOI'S BIRTHDAY

Russian Novelist Eighty Years Old.

Greatest Survivor of Nineteenth Century and Only Free Man in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—The newspapers of Russia appeared yesterday, almost without exception, as Tolstoi jubilee numbers, and published pages devoted to his life, criticisms of his literary work and anecdotes of his career. Many of the articles naturally are phrased in terms of extravagant adulation, but in general the criticisms are discriminating and just.

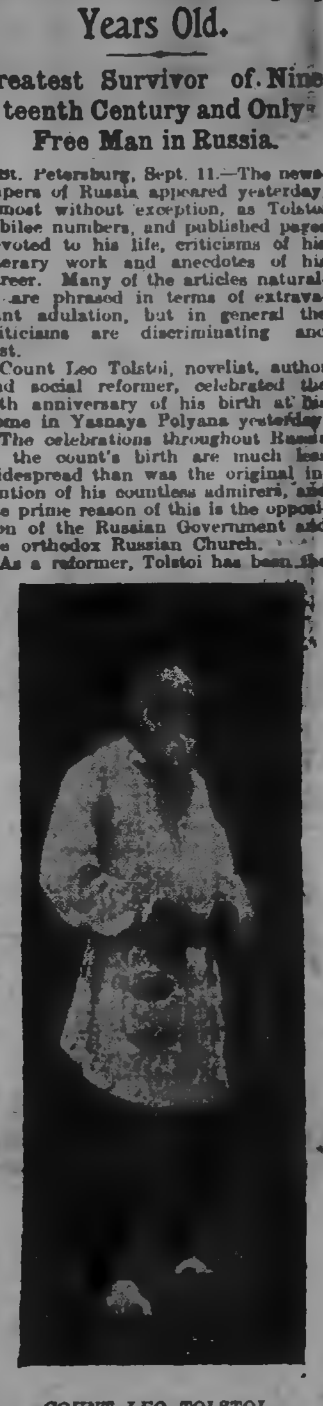
The celebrations throughout Russia of the count's birth are much less widespread than was the original intention of his countless admirers, and the prime reason of this is the opposition of the Russian Government and the orthodox Russian Church.



COUNT LEO TOLSTOI.

As a reformer, Tolstoi has been the one articulate voice for the one hundred and twenty odd millions of silent suffering people who speak the Russian language.

As an author, he is the greatest survivor of the 19th century, the one man of letters whose reputation has gone to all the ends of the earth.

Uniting the genius of a Shakespeare with the moral fevor of a Hebrew prophet, the recluse of Yasnaya Polyana towers above the grand dukes and superficial aristocracy of his day as a giant among pigmies.

Excommunicated by the church, contemptuously ignored by the state, impatiently regarded by the Liberals, and flouted by the aristocracy, this grown old warrior-saint—the only free man in Russia, as he has been called—is, at four-score years of age, still the beloved and admiration of millions.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 11.—A sorrel mare, attached to a runabout buggy, owned by King's livery, Niagara Falls, New York, ran away from her driver at the freights at Suspension bridge, N.Y., down through one mile of railway yards, over switches and tracks, and crossed the steel arch bridge to the Canadian side.

Brazil Has the Biggest.

To Examine Sanity.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—Justice Trenholme yesterday gave permission to the lawyer for Dillon, who killed Policeman Shea and nearly killed Chief Carpenter, to go to the fullest extent in enquiring into the prisoner's sanity, and this will probably mean a commission to Ireland.

Wine District Ravaged.

Rheims, Sept. 11.—The vineyards throughout the entire champagne districts have been devastated by mildew. The crops have been practically destroyed and the output will be only 3,000,000 bottles instead of 45,000,000, which represents a loss to the growers of nearly $30,000,000.

DANGER EXISTS

Lumber Magnates Fear Forest Fires

Everything in Woods is Dry as Tinder and Fire Could not be Stopped.

Officials of local lumber companies are apprehensive of fire breaking out in their limits in the back country. Everything in the forests is as dry as tinder and if a fire once started there would be no way of stopping it. A heavy downpour of rain is badly needed and it will be welcomed by everybody. Growth is at a standstill in the country and the pastures are as brown as the way the Grit candidates will be done up at the coming elections.

It is a rather curious fact that the lumber companies cannot get insurance upon their timber limits. There is but little doubt but that they would insure them if it were possible even at a high rate as a brush fire in the fall of the year can do away with a few thousand dollars about as quickly as anything known. The insurance companies apparently consider that this kind of insurance would be too risky and do not make provision for it.

A few years ago the Rathbun Lumber Company of Deseronto lost nearly a hundred thousand dollars by a fire which broke out in one of their limits north of Madoc. It was in the fall that the fire took place and there had been no rain for weeks. The conflagration travelled like the proverbial wildfire sweeping a wide area of country clean before it. Some of the company's men who were working in the limit preparing for the camps had to get on their horses and ride for their lives. The flames travelled with great rapidity and were almost upon the men before they were aware of their danger.

When the danger of great losses being sustained from forest fires it is little wonder that the lumber magnates are apprehensive and are praying for rain.

Farmers state that the root and corn crops as well as the pastures are badly in need of moisture.

UNEMPLOYED IN GLASGOW ARE PLEADING FOR BREAD

Estimates of Those Out of Work Range From 25,000 to 130,000 and Many Industries Are Paralyzed—All the People Demand is Work.

Glasgow, Sept. 11.—A remarkable scene was witnessed at the offices of the City Council yesterday afternoon.

A crowd of the unemployed gathered in George square, before the council convened, and a delegation of 12 was admitted to the meeting. The councillors received the delegation by rising from their seats.

The spokesman of the unemployed said that never before had there been such distress in Glasgow.

"Every human unit," said the man, "is entitled to food. We make no outrageous request; we are only here to plead for the souls of men and women. They demand work."

The chancellor replied with deep emotion. He said the council had received the delegation in a spirit of brotherhood and that it would do all in its power to help those who needed work.

Large bodies of troops were held in reserve yesterday afternoon in anticipation of rioting and attacks on property. The men, however, have decided to refrain from demonstrating for one week in order to give the council an opportunity to adopt measures for the improvement of the situation.

Estimates of the number out of work in Glasgow and in the towns along the Clyde run as high as 130,000. This is the estimate of the Socialist orators, and men in a position to know call the figures absurd, but the most conservative admit that the number must reach 25,000.

The shipbuilding industry is almost paralyzed and most of the great yards on the Clyde are doing little or nothing.

The depression has spread to the steel and textile manufactories, few of which are now employing anything like their full quota of men. Almost every industry is at a standstill, the building trades suffering keenly.

BECOMING A DAILY STORY

Barrie Prisoner Pummels Jail Governor and Escapes, But is Caught.

Barrie, Sept. 11.—J. A. Cannon, a smartly-dressed young man, arrested here for cashing worthless checks, made a daring attempt to escape, and almost succeeded.

When Turnkey Joseph Somerville went to the south upstair corridor to remove the breakfast dishes, Cannon jumped past the guard into the hospital ward, closing and fastening the corridor door behind him. With the turnkey safely disposed of, he opened the hospital door, which, as it happened, had been left unlocked, contrary to orders, and encountered Governor Sissons in a narrow hall. Here a rough and tumble struggle took place, the governor, notwithstanding his advanced age, putting up a determined fight. The younger man pummelled the governor without mercy. Cannon then jumped over a bannister and landed on the ground floor. Cannn then reached the open air without further serious difficulty.

He was captured at Allandale about six hours later, after having had a shave in the meantime.

THE PATRONAGE LIST

The Royal Commission appointed at the demand of the Opposition who threatened obstruction, found that "your commissioners however, consider that while the practice was always bad, yet through the great development of the country the extent was not so great as to become serious until of recent years."

In the last twelve years the purchase of supplies from those who were for favors done, placed on the patronage list, has become a tremendous affair. It has, the commissioners find, increased by 60 per cent. These supplies were paid for on being certified by certificate. and yet the "auditor-general in his evidence, pointed out that in one department he did not believe in the certificates received. This is a very serious affair." The people of Canada will probably agree with the commission that it is a very serious affair indeed. In fact it amounts to a huge and permitted swindle. No wonder the expenses of government have increased to such an extent. Beyond all doubt this country is, under the present system, being robbed of from five to ten million dollars a year. It may be more. It may be vastly more. Where dishonesty is rife and unchecked or Liberal, much occurred apparently putation.

SATISFACTORY

"There is rejoicing in the Conservative press because the leading workers were not shown in court to have been connected with the Colchester bribery. It was a triumph of a certain kind, for the counsel at Truro was eager in preventing disclosures."—The Globe.

It is very satisfactory to find the Globe acknowledging that no prominent Conservative was found by the court or for that matter by anybody to have been mixed up in that horror of bribery and debauchery known as the Colchester election. At the time Colchester looked like a fair win for the Conservatives and was hailed with rejoicing accordingly. but now we find that, owing to the shamelessness and desire for vengeance of a former Liberal, much occurred apparently and no doubt really, in the interests of the Conservative candidate, Mr. Stanfield, that no half decent man would not feel ashamed of. If men can be crooks and gain all the riches of this world and none of its opprobrium, by trickery, most of them will practise it. It is eminently satisfactory, therefore, to find the instantaneous effort of the Conservatives to show that they were not mixed up in it and to find that what they said be claimed in this respect be perfectly true.

POLICY OF CONCEALMENT

Of all the Government policies the hardest to meet is the policy of concealment. Ministers in possession of records may deprive opponents of necessary information and the majority in the House and Committees may choke off inquiry and suppress evidence.

During the last three years a constant struggle has been necessary to bring out the facts regarding the conduct of public business. It was so with the Merwin contracts, the "Arctic" expedition accounts, the North Atlantic Trading Company deal, the club-Target affair, the timber limits the general administration of the Marine Department and the accounts presented by the Grand Trunk Pacific Company against the Government. The struggle against concealment culminated in the session of 1908 in two severe contests.

A CHANGE OF PROGRAMME.

Until 1907-08 the right of a member to inspect documents relating to public business was admitted. It is usual to ask for copies, but originals are required where it is important to see the handwriting, postmarks, official stamps, endorsements, and where error in transcribing would be serious.

At the beginning of his ministry Mr. Oliver invited opposition members to consult the files of his department in their inquiry respecting western land transactions. This year there was a change. Mr. Ames was refused access to the papers and requested to move in the House for the documents he wished to see. But when he accepted Mr. Oliver's advice Mr. Oliver himself requested the House to refuse the original papers.

January 23rd, 1908, Mr. Ames moved for the original applications and tenders for three timber berths. At Mr. Oliver's request the motion was rejected by a party vote, though Mr. Ames explained why he required the papers and stated that he would only need them for half an hour.

THE OPPOSITION INSIST.

The Opposition did not allow the matter to rest there. On the 21st Mr. Borden moved a resolution declaring:

"It is the undoubted right of the people's representatives in Parliament assembled to be informed of everything necessary to explain the policy and proceedings of the Government, and for that purpose to have an opportunity of seeing and examining all documents connected with the transaction of public business; and the denial of such right by the Government justifies the refusal by this House of further supplies to the Crown."

This proposition the Government did not venture to dispute. Sir Wilfrid accepted the resolution, which passed unanimously.

It was then supposed that the papers would be brought down. But they were not.

On the 23rd of January, on motion to go into supply the Opposition again raised the question when Mr. Northrup moved an amendment that:

"Subject to such consideration of the public policy as can be validly urged in any case, members of Parliament have the right of access to all the records of the Government and to all the archives."

This statement was taken verbatim from language used by Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself in the previous debate. Yet the Government and its majority voted down the motion.

There was no course for the Opposition but to give up altogether the demand for the papers or to stop supply. Conservative members refused to accept the doctrine laid down and four times repeated by Mr. Fielding that the right of members to see the records meant only such rights as the majority chose to allow.

So far the sittings of January 23rd and 24th the House discussed supply but not an item was voted, and the Premier was given to understand that he could get no money until the required papers were produced.

The next sitting was Monday, January 27th, and when the House met Sir Wilfrid announced his surrender, stating that he had asked Mr. Oliver to bring the papers and place them on the table for the use of members who desired to examine them.

As a result of this victory other original applications were brought down in response to motions. From them it was discovered that bids for timber, limits supposed to be competitive, were made by the same person under different names. It was found that the two generally successful bidders had the same habit of not stating the amount of their tenders but of enclosing two or three cheques to represent it. It was learned that these cheques were always for such amounts that if one of them had been withheld or were returned, there would be enough left to take the limit from any but the next highest bidder, suggesting that the additional cheque was the result of knowledge of other bids.

These original papers were the means of disclosing the fact that the Imperial Pulp Company, which holds 417 square miles of timber limits, is no other than T. A. Burrows, M.P. brother-in-law of Mr. Sifton, by whom the limits were granted. By this means it was found that bids by A. W. Farmer, J. H. Nolan and John McBain were all tenders from the same Mr. Burrows or financed by him.

This is part of the value of an original document and was doubtless part of the reason for keeping it back.

Other originals obtained revealed the fact that supposed competitive tenders for dredging were in some cases made by collusion between pretended rivals and sometimes by the same persons under different names.

So far not a word has appeared in the Liberal press of Canada in favor of Mr. Stratton's re-entering that public life which he boasts of having adorned. What would he do if he "cut loose"?

One of the most striking features of recent years was Mr. Stratton's back somersault out of the East Riding. Although he had been "organizing" there for a long time and had spent a good deal in various ways in the interests of the easterners and possibly his own, he found no place to rest his feet in. He was like the dove first sent out from the Ark.

POLITICAL NOTES

Well! Well! Well! What do you think of that, men and brethren, The Liberal nomination for West Peterborough has been given to "Spotless Jim" Stratton, the man who left the rotten Ross cabinet because of revelations in the Gamey bribery case and whose record stamped him as a politician below even the standard of the "Pinnacle" crew. It was Stratton who asked the Globe reporter to "forget some things" when he gave evidence before the Judges. For years he was given the credit with Vance and Cap. Sullivan of engineering all the shady deals which kept the Ross government in power, although in a minority of 50,000 votes in the province. He resigned from the Ross cabinet and people said his record had rightly forced him out of public life. Now he bobs up again as a standard bearer for Laurier. He wants to help Sir Wilfrid "finish his work." What the work will be like may be judged by the class of men who are being nominated by the Liberals. Has "Spotless Jim" Stratton any political future. Well, he might have if he did not have such a particularly odoriferous past. — Belleville Intelligencer.

PROPAGATION OF BLACK BASS

Government to Establish Fish Ponds in Northumberland County

The Ontario Government is to establish fish fields in Northumberland County for the propagation of black bass. This announcement has been made by Hon. Dr. Reaume in discussing charges brought against the department by M. A. C. Pratt, the Conservative member for South Norfolk.

Mr. Pratt declares that the Government goes seine fishing in the waters of Long Point Bay where individuals are forbidden to use nets. He says that the fish thus taken are destined for stocking northern lakes where the cold mineral waters kill them.

"The waters of Long Point Bay," remarked Dr. Reaume "belong to the Ontario Government and not to Mr. Pratt. The waters of the north also belong to the Government. The Department is simply removing fish from one lake of its own to another lake of its own.

The Minister added that only "fingerlings" are being taken; whereas adult bass used to be caught for this purpose.

"It is an experiment," he said. "We wish to restock the waters of Ontario and we are trying this way of doing it. Black bass cannot be propagated artificially as are other fish.

We intend, however, to establish fish ponds probably in Northumberland County, where we will breed black bass for the benefit of depleted Ontario streams. This proposition is now being worked out by the department.

FAIRY LAKE VILLA HAS BEEN SOLD

Local Summer Resorts Becoming More Popular Than Ever With Americans

As an example of how popular our summer resorts are becoming and appealing especially to people from the United States, is the fact that Mr Wm. Irwin has sold Fairy Lake Villa Stony Lake, to Messrs. W. F. and W. W. Willoughby one of whom is secretary of Porto Rico and a member of the Upper House of the Legislature and Deputy Governor of the Island and the other is Professor of Political Science in Johns Hopkins, University, Baltimore. These gentlemen visited Stony Lake this year for the first time and were so pleased with it that they decided to purchase this property, and expect, with their families, to spend the summers there in the future. We are pleased to find that citizens of the States of this, plans are coming to spend the summer in our back lakes and that many are becoming permanent summer residents.

WEDDING BELLS

The marriage took place at Winnipeg on Wednesday, September 9th, of Miss Jessie Dennistoun, formerly of this city, to Mr. James Andrew MacDonald, of the Confederation Life Assurance Company, of Toronto. They will reside in Toronto.

SHINER—FORD

Special to The Review.

Kingston, Ont., September 9th.—On Thursday, September 3rd a delightful event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ford, Portsmouth, when their daughter Sadie, was married to Wilfrid Shiner of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. MacQuarrie, of Pittsburg, an old friend of the family. The bride was dressed in embroidered organdie finished with lace. Her going away dress was of brown lady's cloth, with hat of tulle to match. The young people were unattended. In the departure of Miss Ford, Portsmouth loses one of its most popular young ladies and her departure will be especially felt in the Presbyterian church where she has been one of the most devoted and willing workers. She was a great favorite with the children in the Sunday school and a faithful member of the ladies' aid and Christian Endeavor Society. Among many beautiful and costly presents the one most prized was a rattan rocker, which, accompanied by an address, was the gift of the Ladies' Aid and Christian Endeavor Society, expressing in a slight way the high esteem in which Mrs. Shiner is held by those who know her best.

Immediately after the ceremony the young people, with the other members of the family, sat down to a rich repast, after which Mr. and Mrs. Shiner left, by the afternoon train, for Cobourg, where they intend spending a short honeymoon before taking up their residence in Peterborough.

A FAST LAUNCH

Fred. Gilbert of the Gilbert Boat Manufacturing Company, is at Toronto exhibiting on the Bay a fast motor boat launched here last week. The craft is thirty feet long and four feet three inch beam.—Brockville Recorder.

NOTES OF MOCK COURT TRIAL

Of course he fooled her;
Lock the jury up all night.
It looks like a packed jury.
Be sure there is no mire on the Ermine.

One juror has been tampered with, bought off, this we can prove.

The court officer has a cell all ready for the defendant. He must have "seen" the jury.

Too many widows have been fooled in this city. Some one should be hanged to round out the season.

Some folks will make a fuss over a smaller matter than a promise of marriage but they don't live in Peterborough.

One juror has a leather halter in his pocket; made it himself and says it is just the defendant's size.

We are sorry for the defendant; he is guilty, of course, but we always weep when we see a man drawn into a threshing machine.

Judge McWilliams has blood in his eye. He will avenge the outrage on the widows of this city or perish at the bar.

Go to the trial and take your wife with you. If you have no wife, take your sister, or better yet, take the sister of some other man and let him take yours. In any event go to the trial and have an evening of rare enjoyment.

BUSH FIRES NEAR LINDSAY TOO

Dense Smoke in Scugog Town Yesterday—Fire in West Ops

The town to-day was enveloped in a heavy cloud of smoke as thick as a London fog. At times it was so dense that it irritated the eyes and even filled the stores in town to such an extent as to almost necessitate the closing of the doors.

Many rumors were afloat concerning the cause of the smoke. One had it that a severe fire was raging out near Oakwood, (another that the woods and swamps near Coboconk were a mass of flames.

Investigation, however, revealed the fact that the cause originated from a muck fire on the farm of Mr. Silver in West Ops. about two miles from town. The fire has been smouldering for some time and has burned the sod for a considerable distance. The prevailing dry weather has worked to its advantage and the wind to-day carried the smoke into the town and in fact, all over the district.—Lindsay Post.

COLLIER'S WEEKLY AND BEAVER DAM

Collier's Weekly sent an artist to the scene of the beavers' dam at the head of Mud Lake and as a consequence the current issue has full page illustrations of that great work. It is 400 feet long and 7 feet deep. The item when first published in the Review excited some comment but that comment was not justified, as Collier's proves.

LEDUC NOT THE EQUAL OF CYR.

In a recent contest between Leduc the French-Canadian strong man, and his challenger, Lambert, the former won by a margin on totals of 126 3-4 lbs. The chief items of the rival programmes were shoving 242 lbs. bar up with two hands and 215 1-4, half being in each hand.

The contest does not show Leduc to be the equal of Cyr.

JOURNALISTIC "PEDS." COMING

Clark and Marchant are Expected Here To-morrow

The two English journalists, Ed. N. Clarke and Leo. Marchant who are after the distance walk world's championship, are expected to reach Peterborough to-morrow. They have been averaging thirty-five miles a day since leaving Montreal, their greatest day's distance being 42 miles between St. Anne de Bellevue Vankleek Hill. They expect to reach Toronto on Monday.

ROLLER SKATING

The way to roller skate is, of course to roller skate.

The preliminaries, however, are more complex. Among other things one must learn how.

First you get your girl—all the girls have the fad now—take her to the rink, procure skates, have them strapped on and tip the strapper, nonchalantly handing him a quarter if the girl is looking and unostentatiously slipping him a nickel if she is not.

You have never roller skated but you used to be the real mischief on ice skates and don't anticipate any difficulty in mastering these children's toys. The girl beamingly assures you that you will have a little trouble and asks if you wish to start right out. You arise and offer your arm gallantly. Then you sit down suddenly.

She suggests that you might like to go around once alone first. You scorn the idea but as she doesn't seem very eager to come out and do living pictures with you you say you believe you will take a turn by yourself, just to get used to the things.

You start to walk to the skating floor, but cannot control your feet so you hold your ankles rigid and propel yourself by pushing away from the shoulders of people you have never met. Soon you reach the floor, and immediately thereafter execute a few steps from the barn dance.

"Say, what do you know about that" you hear a nearby youth exclaim, and observe that he is pointing at you. You proceed to show him you don't know much about it. Your first action is to fling your feet as far in front of you as possible, alighting on the rim of your ear. If you have ever worked in a circus you may perform this feat gracefully and win applause. But whether applauded or not, you will give an encore as soon as you regain your feet. In fact, you will be generous with encores. After encore No. 6 two couples will pile upon you, reminding you of football days at dear old Rahrah. When you emerge from the pile you will look to see if your girl is watching. You will see her turn her head away quickly and show a disposition to devour her handkerchief. Maybe she is crying. Maybe not.

Then you apply to some one who knows. He takes hold of you and away you sail. Frequently your legs wave about beneath you as do flapping garments on a clothes line but the instructor has his arms under yours and try as you will you cannot succeed in making another dent in the floor.

As you are towed around the instructor pours counsel into your ears to all of which you answer, "I see," "sure" "of course," but it is not until he says it the forty-ninth time that you get an idea of what he means when he tells you not to strike so hard. The best method for a beginner to follow is to shuffle slowly forward. The light rolling skates will lengthen this lazy shuffle shuffle into an easy stroke.

Then the music strikes up and you claim your partner. Things don't go smoothly at first but she steadies you almost as well as did the instructor, and pretty soon you feel confident enough to relax your set jaws and converse a little. You are getting the hang of the thing now, and it is no longer work, but recreation. By the time the band plays "Home, Sweet Home," you are really having fun and when you take your girl home you invite her to go skating some other evening. Then you go home.

That night you dream you are working a treadmill.

Next day you feel that your dream must have been true.

DOUBLE CROSS IN WRESLING

From the New York Telegraph: A double warning to sporting editors is handed out this week at Keith & Proctor's 125th street theater in Frank J. Conroy's "The Double Cross."

Let the sporting editors beware of hoarding money and of boosting fake fights.

The vaudeville public has seen many one act fighting plays but it has witnessed none with a more interesting story or better types than Mr. Conroy has given in "The Double Cross." The promoter, the editor and the office boy are regular human beings such as are met in every-day life.

As for fighters the referee and the announcer, they are the real thing and each received a hand on his entrance. There are no heroics about The Double Cross and there are no love stories for a side issue.

It is a fighting sketch pure and simple with no distracting episodes caused by the introduction of women. All the characters who speak lines are crooked, but then that makes it the more real for fake fights have cured many a ringside regular of the habit.

The sporting editor has always been on the level but he falls to the smooth palaver of the fight promoter and digs up fifteen thousand dollars to bet against the favorite, who is going to "lay down" so the promoter says.

Sure the favorite doesn't lay down and the Sporting Editor loses his change and so does the office boy, who got the tip through listening at the door. A real live sporting editor in fact, the best known in New York, confided that the stage S.E. must have been bank robbing for a side line to have possessed so much coin.

The reason for this conclusion on the part of the real live S.E. was that at no time in his own career and he ever had more than if—well he had never had as much as the stage S.E. He also intimated that any sporting editor foolish enough to have fifteen thousand dollars, ought to have it taken away from him.

Ernest Carr, as the pugilistic promoter, is splendid, and added to the reputation he had already made for himself as the gambling house proprietor in George Ade's "Marse Covington." Louis Fierce, as the sporting editor and Arthur Pearce as the office boy, are also excellent. The story is holding from first to last.

For fighters, there are the regulars, Joe Bernstein and Kid Griffo. They put up a rattling good bout, and the ringside scene is made more realistic by having Ben Rosenthal, of the Princess A.C. to make the announcements and Billy Brown of Brown's A.C. to act as referee.

"The Double Cross" is all right, even if the sporting editor did have to return to his desk and continue as an ordinary workingman instead of becoming a grinding capitalist.

DON'T MISJUDGE!

The correct test of a Drug Store is by the manner in which Prescriptions and Medicines are prepared. The public has a right to demand competent, conscientious, and faithful service in every instance where life or health is involved. To meet this demand has been the constant effort of this store. How well we have succeeded is proven by the constant increase in our business. The number of those who intrust us with their Prescriptions and Drug Store wants continues to grow larger. The public appreciates our efforts to give better drugs and better service than it is possible to obtain in any other store.

CARELESS ABOUT THE GARBAGE

Dr. R. W. Bell Has Returned From a Tour of Inspection

Special to the Review

Toronto, September 10—Dr. R. W. Bell, one of the inspectors of the Provincial Board of Health has made an inspection of the sanitary conditions at summer resorts on the Kawartha Lakes, Lake of Bays, Georgian Bay, Magnetawan River, Temagami and Temiskaming Lakes. Generally speaking he found an evident desire to adopt sanitary methods. In some cases he made suggestions as to improvements. The worst feature about some of the summer resorts including a number of the largest was carelessness in disposing of kitchen garbage. In a number of cases where water was being taken from the lakes and rivers sewage was allowed to enter the water at points too close to the intake pipe.

AN UNUSUAL CONVERSATION

Especially to be Heard on a Street Car in Broad Daylight

A rather unusual conversation was overheard on a street car this morning by one or two passengers sitting in the rear of the car. A young man and a girl from their looks they came from the country, were taking a ride around the city to see the sights. Their conversation all along the line was in low tones, and nothing was said or done to attract any attention until finally, on the way in from Jackson park the girl was heard to say, "No, I ain't particular about getting married just yet, and anyway I don't think I would marry you." The young gallant looked quite heart broken as he heard his lady love use the above expression and for some moments sat with bowed head, likely contemplating the easiest way to end his life. After a short time he again resumed his pleadings, but the heroine was quite firm, and would not yield one particle, his passionate words of love not having the desired effect. The interesting theme was brought to a rather abrupt close at the corner of Hunter and George streets, when the young lady left the car, followed by the one willing to be her slave for life.

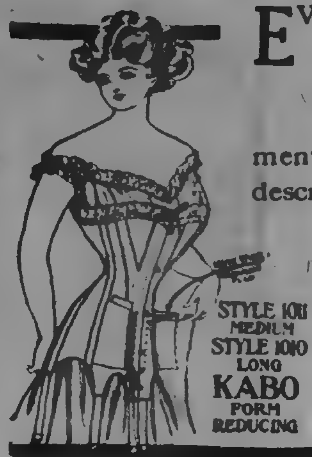
Mr. Prest states that the bed is over two and one half feet thick and extends as far as he had uncovered, over one hundred feet.

Have You Ever Worn Our Famous Kabo Corsets?



EVERY Stout Woman desires to appear slender and up to now, she has been only partially successful. Many ideas for reducing the large figure have been advanced by Corset Manufacturers, but, in our opinion until now, none have produced the ideal form reducing corset. This may seem an egotiscal statement on our part, but if it were possible for the women desiring a corset this description to compare other makes with the form reducing corset pictured here, we are positive she would agree with us, and would consider the above remarks very consertive. We call your particular attention to the reducing device, which does not come to a point as in other makes. but reduces over the breadth of the wide flap, appearing in the illustration. The advantage of this is readily apparent as it successfully prevents any bulging of the flesh. With this corset the form can be positively reduced from three to five inches without discomfort to the wearer. Another exclusive feature of this style is the fact the reducing device can be adjusted while the corset is being worn which is another great advantage over other makes. This admirable garment is made with six extra strong woven suspender web hose supporters and the 12 1-2 inch front clasp is reinforced by an extra strong steel. Style No. 1011 shown here is for the medium stout figure. Style No. 1010 which is made up in the same manner is somewhat longer below and above thewaist line and is designed for all tall, stout figures. We guarantee both of these modelsto be un-breakable. Both are made of the best grade of Coutil. and are boned throughout with double non-rustable steel.

MILITARY TATTOO OF 1908 WAS THE BEST EVER HELD

Splendid Programme Was Given by Massed Bands—57th Regiment Bands Took Part.

Describing the military tattoo at Barriefield camp on Wednesday night in which the 57th Regiment took part, a Kingston despatch says;—

At eight o'clock the hill was black with people. There was no light up to this time, other than the pale rays of the moon, and one by one, coming down the road, passing through the tented cities on both sides of the road, heard the pawing of horses, the flapping of tents, came in a while a bugle call, and then was suddenly brought in sight of the great mass of people drawn up in a square, without a light to distinguish one another by. It made one think what the soldiers were really for, and wonder for a moment if they had been engaged in a pitched battle. About 8.15 o'clock, the multitude began to wonder why the tattoo did not begin, when suddenly the strains of the 14th Regimental march were heard and into the enclosure marched the Kingston little bandsmen under Bandmaster Walker. After the 14th the other bands came in, each playing its own regimental air, until they arrived at their post, then one band's regimental march was taken up and played by the band that preceded it into the enclosure, so that when the eight bands were in the enclosure they were all playing the regimental march of the last regiment to enter. The bands entered in the following order;—14th, 16th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 49th and 57th. The following programme was rendered by the massed bands and was greatly enjoyed;—'British Grenadiers,' 'United Empire' (Waldmere) 'In Old Quebec' 'Dominion Grand March' 'Rule Britania,' 'Nearer, My God To Thee,' and 'God Save the King.'

During the intermission between the musical numbers, the large enclosure was turned into a veritable elves play ground, by one of the finest exhibits of fireworks ever seen in this section. The display was simply magnificent. Giant rockets would sail hundreds of feet up into the dark night to shower hundreds of many colored stars down upon the grounds; large fountains would make the complete square bright by its many colored lights making a very pretty scene. Hundreds of other devices, Roman candles, wheels, and many others were used. Two large free balloons were filled and sent up near the first of the performance, and they could be seen for a long time, until they finally became so small they could not be told from one of the many stars that gazed peacefully down on the night's gathering.

The tattoo of 1908 will certainly linger in the minds of all as the best one yet, and every citizen last evening expressed the same feeling. Everything that could be done was done by Col. Gordon and his staff for the comfort of the public and they succeeded even beyond the hopes of the citizens, who are not always easy to please. The affair was over by 9.45 o'clock, but it was quite late before the thousands were all home.

Matter is Not Regarded Serously Here---State Court Has No Jurisdiction

Word was received from Rochester yesterday that the Supreme Court of that particular district had continued the injunction issued last spring, restraining the Independent Order of Foresters from raising their rates of insurance.

The matter is not regarded seriously here as the State Court in question has no more jurisdiction over the matter than the late lamented Akound of Swat. Moreover, the increase in rates was agreed to by the majority of representatives of Foresters courts in the States.

RUGBY TEAM MUST GET INTO THE GAME WITHOUT DELAY

Dr. A. W. Macpherson Refers to the Value of Afternoon Workouts—Will Locate Here and is Willing to Give Team Benefit of His Gridiron Experience—Thinks Well of City League.

The afternoon is the time to hold rugby practices. Night practices are certainly beneficial but the afternoon workouts are much more valuable, Dr. A. W. McPherson who is in the city to practice his profession here had quite a conversation with the Review this morning concerning the outlook for rugby in Peterborough this season and among other things spoke of the necessity of the boys jumping into the game at once and getting as much practice in the afternoons as possible.

"If the team wants to be in shape the players must get out early and practice tackling and handling the ball. Expertness in these points are essential and can't be learned while the game is being played. There is nothing so essential as good hard drilling in the early part of the season."

Dr. McPherson says he will not play the game this season but is willing to get onto the gridiron in uniform and coach the team. As a coach, "Mac" is celebrated and his heady instructions would be of great value to local pig skin chasers.

Speaking of a city league, he said a flourishing one could be organized here of games for the respective champion. [illegible]

There is ample room and material for the development of this movement The intermediate series, with Peterborough, two Toronto teams, the U. A.A.C. and perhaps the Argos., Hamilton Tigers, the Hamilton West End Pleasure club, Dundas and London, and perhaps a Kingston team comprising the western district, would mean one of the strongest intermediate series ever formed in the province With these teams divided up into two sections, London, Dundas, Hamilton Tigers, West End Pleasure club in one section, and the Toronto clubs Peterborough and Kingston in the other and the winners playing off in a semi-final for the privilege of meeting the Eastern winners for a championship, a pretty good season's sport would be supplied.

The junior series would hardly be as strong, but with Hamilton, the Western University of London, the Toronto teams, Peterborough, and perhaps Kingston, it would be an improvement on last year. While, the time for organization is short, owing to the slowness of the Big Four executive in getting together, it is expected that these districts can be whipped into shape before the season opens in two weeks' time. With ample encouragement from the senior teams, there is no reason why junior and intermediate Rugby should not be a huge success this season. — Hamilton Spectator.

THINKS 2.17 CLASS SHOULD BE REPLACED BY FREE-FOR-ALL

Peterborough, Sept. 17.

Sporting Editor of the Review:—

Dear Sir,—

I notice by the prize list of the Peterborough Fair that there is no free for all on either day of the races. It seems to me that to be conducive to the best sport in speeding in the ring there should be one and I think the fair directors would be making a wise move if they were to replace the 2.17 class on the second day of the fair by a free-for-all. This would give an opportunity for some fine racing and the way the bill stands at present there is no chance for some of the horsemen from the outside to start.

If the fair directors take the move I have suggested they would be well advised in doing so and the action would meet with the unanimous favor of horsemen who are interested in seeing good races in the city.

Yours sincerely,
OTONABEE HORSEMAN

BIG WALK PLANNED FOR MONTH END IN TORONTO

In all probability a big six day, four hour a night walk, will be pulled off at the Mutual street rink, Toronto at the end of this month. At least the walk is seriously contemplated, although no definite arrangements towards having it held have been made, as far as the Review can learn.

The walk is to be under the management of Wm. Howard of Port Hope, and W. A. Hoagland, the champion pedestrian. Among those who are desirous of entering are Hoagland, Slater, Harrison, Messiah, the French-American walker, Kraenzlberg of U.S.; Player, the Yankee pro, and others. It is not likely that Stacey, the Irish-Canadian man, will make a try for the money as his doctor some time ago forbid him from doing any more walking this year.

SLATER AND HARRISON MAY MEET IN A 10 HOUR WALK

It looks as though there would be no walk held here this fall. Nothing towards having one has been done and from inside information it would appear as though nothing would be done in the matter of having a pedestrian festival arranged.

Jim Harrison informed The Review last night that in case a tournament was not held he had Slater would likely meet here in a ten-hour walk for a side bet Jim thinks he can beat Slater and Slater thinks he can beat him. Should the two ever come together in a matched race a red-hot contest is sure to result.

When they raced here Slater showed superior form but Harrison's unexpected victory over the American at Jimmy Reynolds' walk in Port Hope proved that he had picked up wonderfully

It is just a toss-up as to which would win in a go such as mentioned above and the duel should attract a bumper house if the two meet.

INTERPROVINCIAL OUTLOOK

The Hamilton delegates to the interprovincial annual are especially interested in the junior and intermediate series and have several good suggestions to make to the meeting. Last year the Intermediates received a little attention and a very successful series was run off. This year, however, it is felt that the interprovincial should specially foster their junior players, and it is expected that the meeting in Montreal on Saturday night will see steps taken to form junior and intermediate series which will leave little room for any other Rugby league in the country. The Hamilton delegates will suggest that the two series be split up into Eastern and Western districts with secretaries in charge of each, who will look after every detail in connection with the management of the sections. Suitable trophies will be put up and the winners of the two sections will meet in fin-

ROAD RACE AT THANKSGIVING

Long Distance Game Becoming Popular at Belleville

The road racing game seems to have jumped into popularity in this city and a big road race, which should bring competitors from all over the province has been arranged for the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. It will be given under the auspices of the AOUW lodge of this city. The race will be over a fifteen mile course and will start from and finish in this city. The idea, at present is to have the racers run seven miles and a half out on the road to Thrasher's Corners, turn and come back to the starting point. The race will be open to all amateurs under 25 years of age. There will be over a dozen prizes.—Belleville Intelligencer.

LACROSSE

MUST DEFEND CUP.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—It was semi-officially announced to-night that if Nationals defeat Cornwall on Saturday, which would make Tecumsehs champions the New Westminster club will be called upon to defend the Minto Cup this season. It is felt that in view of the attempts of the cup holders to bring Eastern teams out for exhibition matches they could just as well find dates for cup games. This decision would not affect the Capital's trip.

The New Westminster management was wired by Capitals' to-night and replied that the exhibition agreement with Caps for the New Westminster fair would hold good in any event.

FRED M'GRATH TO RUN AGAINST THE CHAMPION

Peterboro Sprinter Will Meet Bobby Kerr Thursday Night—Tom Flanagan and Tom Longboat Sure to be Here.

Word was received here to-day that Tom Flanagan and the Irish Canadian brigade from Toronto will be here for the big athletic meet at the Brock street rink next Thursday evening. The bunch will include the famous Tom Longboat who will run in the three mile race against Fred Simpson and anybody else who wishes to enter. Chas. Thorpe will be a starter and several other local boys will enter. Longboat is running in his old-time form again and the race should be a great one.

Fred McGrath announced yesterday that he would be a starter in the sprints against Bobby Kerr, the Hamilton flyer. It has leaked out that Fred has been doing considerable training and will be in good shape to meet the world's champion. McGrath will start on scratch and Bobby will have to do some hustling to gain much on it. Incidentally it may be noted that McGrath held the Canadian quarter mile championship for some time. Ernie Wilson has been training faithfully and will be in the sprints and the half mile. He is running in fine form.

Chuck Skene and George Goulding will both be here and will enter the mile walk. It is an open event and it is understood that some local walkers who can go some will also start.

Ed. Archibald will give an exhibition of pole vaulting. He can clear the bar around twelve feet and the event will add much interest to the programme.

Secretary Glover is receiving many entries and the handicaps will be arranged in a few days.

The 57th regiment band will render a select programme during the evening.

TWO IN ONE DAY FOR LONGBOAT

Will Run Two Races on Thanksgiving Day

The only and irrepressible Tom Longboat will undertake a difficult and spectacular task on Thanksgiving day. He will enter for two long-distance races at cities thirty or more miles apart, and he hopes to win both. In the morning he will be a contestant in the Hamilton Herald's 20 mile road race which will probably be over by 11.30 a.m. Entering a waiting automobile he will be whirled over the road to Guelph, where at 3 o'clock he will start in the 15 mile Marathon. If Longboat runs true to the form which he has shown at Halifax, Lindsay, Tottenham and Hamilton, he should be the victor in the first and probably in both as the afternoon event should not distress a runner of his endurance. Longboat states that from the present day he will train assiduously in order to be in the best possible shape for his double task.

MISS FIDGETY WAS SECOND

Beaten by Brockville Boat in Race at Toronto

The much talked of motor boat race between the Smalley of Brockville and the Miss Fidgety and Blue Streak Toronto, came off yesterday afternoon over the National Yacht Club course at Toronto, the Smalley winning by 3 minutes, with Miss Fidgety second 1 minute ahead of Blue streak.

SPORTING COMMENT

A mile run would be an interesting preliminary to the next wrestling match.

A wrestling bout has been arranged between Semi-Ready, the Mad Moor and Olive Oil, the slippery Spaniard.

Toronto fair broke all records but some Peterborough people who were in attendance say that the records were not the only things that were broke.

For a truly moral touch that man Hewitt, whose countenance daily adorns the sporting page of the Toronto News, has it on the Mulocks Corner's Gazette by a large margin.

WRESTLING

If Hurtubise comes to Hamilton in a Peterborough war canoe he will be met at the mouth of the harbor by Sergt. Bain's Marines, perhaps.

Charlie Conkle has denied that he has cold feet. He still passes up the old charge that he is not hot-headed, however.—Hamilton Times.

Charlie Conkle had a long distance call from Peterborough this morning, and as a result it is quite probable that the pair of grapplers will meet in the near future. Conkle suggested a date at the latter end of this month and the Peterborough man is to decide to-day.

Los Angeles, Sept. 10.—Stanley Ketchel, the former middleweight champion pugilist, who was so badly beaten about the face by Papke in their fight Monday is rapidly recovering. Reports that Ketchel is in a serious condition as a result of his beating are untrue. He was able to leave the house to-day in an automobile and go to the baths. He is suffering from no serious injuries.

DOMINION ELECTIONS

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN:—The condition of industry in Canada is bad. The condition of workingmen is following suit. Their beautiful homes are becoming the prey of reduced circumstances. To the extent that we pay out money to other countries for work that should be done here we are traitors to our workingmen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought this about to such a degree that Canada has paid out in the last twelve years (being the term during which the Liberals have been in power) hundreds of millions of dollars more than she took in. It was not so under a protectionist government. Those millions should have been spent at home. Then there would have been work for our workers to that extent at any rate, and what is more, the money would have been kept in the country. As it is we have to borrow to get it back. We have to borrow for gigantic enterprises which serve to make the big money-lender, the stock gambler and the contractor rich, but what good is it doing the workingman? To add insult to his injury Sir Wilfrid Laurier has opened the gates on the East and the West to immigrants. Those on the East, our own kith and kin, have been misled by misrepresentatation and entrapped by agents who are paid a bonus for their capture. Those on the West are the untold millions of the Orient who are displacing the whites in B.C. are working East and are dispossessing Canadians of their own country. They lower the rate of wages and the standard of living. If Canada is to be kept up as she was but a few years ago she must not be allowed to fall into the class of "cheap and nasty" nations. If her people are to be well housed, well fed, well educated and above the condition of sweaters, they must demand a tariff against sweatwork, against undue immigration, against undue importation and a high protection for employers and employed alike, against the trickery of men who make their money on the stock market and by graft. The workers are slowly but surely becoming poorer than they used to be in this naturally rich and resourceful country. Why? Because the cream of all work goes to the money-lender of New York and London.

Why are the men of Canada idle? Because others will do the work cheaper in Britain and Germany and we let them invade our markets while they keep us out of theirs. The German tariff, the United States tariff, the French tariff are all vastly higher than ours. Britain protects herself where she needs it, by a Cattle Embargo and by the Patents Act, which requires patented articles (and nearly all are patented) to be manufactured there. There is never depression in France. The French have a high tariff and economize. They have always plenty for a rainy day. The Germans likewise keep their own work in their own country, but are weighed down with militarism. Britain suffers because her work is being done elsewhere, although she is changing that rapidly, but she has an immense start over Canada in her already accumulated capital. The United States is the modern wonder of the world, due altogether to high protection. Protection or tariff has been well said to be the measure of the standard of life amongst the workers. Commodities in protected countries are not higher than in unprotected. Clothing under a low tariff in Canada is higher in price than it used to be under a high tariff. Certain ills due to over-expansion, the machinations of stockgamblers, etc., exist in all countries, but when an ill is plainly preventable, why not prevent it? Sending cash out of the country over and above what we take in will never make us rich. Yet we do it and must do it under our present system of trade. Opening up unnecessary lands as in the West, while Ontario is not half populated or developed is of a piece with rest, but it is the delight of the money-lender. Ontario farms are rapidly decreasing in value. A huge national deficit is accumulating for this year and unless times are checked and we are restored to our own, the coming winter will be a veritable horror. The money that we are borrowing in such immense sums if spent for supplies, made in Canada, would mean work for everyone at good wages. Why then does Sir Wilfrid permit rails for the G. T. P. to be bought out of Canada and clothing that would keep our farmers growing wool and our woollen mills weaving it, to be imported without hindrance?

To say that one government is as bad as another is to say that one man or one set of men is no better as managers than another. We know this to be the reverse of correct in government, in trade, in railways or in anything else. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although the Conservative administration, as it proved, was falling to pieces, could never have got into power had he not agreed to "let the tariff alone." This pledge he contrived to evade on the ground that while the U. S., Germany, etc., were prosperous under a protective tariff, he could make Canada a brilliant and enduring exception under a low tariff and a preference. Now he is compelled to fall back on the statement that depression is worldwide and that therefore Canada must share it.

Then the boast of great enterprises! Vast sums of money have been borrowed and spent but who has got the benefit of it? Who has been made rich? Where has it gone? The charge we make against the administration of Sir Wilfred Laurier is that it is in the grasp of the great money-lenders. It has ceased to represent the people. Is it any wonder men lose faith in the forms of government? Without any government at all there would be a happier people. If the times are not rescued, whether it be by a party or by a people, civilization will be destroyed. The thunder of revolt is already heard. Religion, art, education—all will go with the frenzied efforts of men to get out of the grasp of Money which never idles, never shares its needs, into a state of freedom and the natural fruition of honest work and a resourceful soil.

I am not rich, nor am I able to live without working, as has been said, and I never was. The stock exchange where so many have won fabulous riches at the expense of the steady worker underneath is unknown to me. If I have no money to lose I have none to be ashamed of.

The day of the abject party man is gone. Let humanity have a chance.

I solicit your vote and influence and have the honour to remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

LUMBER CAMPS WILL NOT BE SO PLENTIFUL AS IN PAST

Cut of Logs Will be Smaller Than Usual in Northern Peterborough and Upper Districts—Camps Will Soon be Opened.

In a few days the lumber companies will be sending men to the back country to start work in the camps. Preparations for opening the depots are now being made and men are being engaged to work in the woods. It is stated that the camps will not be so numerous in the north of Peterborough county, as in some past past years owing to the fact that there has been a falling off in the demand for lumber and it would not be good policy to have a big cut under the conditions. It is reported that one company which had three camps last season will only have one this winter. It is going to be an easy matter to secure men for the camps this fall and the wages will not be as high as in the past. From $16 to $20 per month with board about covers the range.

"Things are pretty dull this season as compared with other years," said a gentleman connected with a local lumber company to-day. "Wages are set on a sliding scale which runs from $16 to $26 and board. Good sawyers and teamsters are able to make the $26. Swampers as a rule, draw from $20 up and general hands, usually run from $16 to $20. This wage is indicative of present conditions in the trade, being about five dollars less than the companies were paying last winter.

"Jobs, too, are none too numerous and to get a place on a gang a man must be an experienced lumber jack."

In connection with the condition of the local labor market it is astonishing how men shun farm work. One local farmer recently offered for an inexperienced man who had much to learn, $10 and board per month, to be increased to $20 in the spring and it was with difficulty that a man could be secured by the Salvation Army to take the job.

Apparently lumbering operations rations will not be so brisk on the upper Ottawa this season as in past years. An Ottawa despatch says in this connection:

"Many of the lumbermen in the Sudbury district are starting up camps. The Spanish River Lumber Co are commencing operations, 80 men being sent out last week. Fifty men were recently booked for the Colonial Lumber Co. at Temiscaming and 25 for the same company at Kippewa.

Many companies who had ten or twelve camps operating last winter will put in only two or three this season. Lumber yards are all well stocked and while this is so, few logs are needed. Several companies have [illegible] to last them till next summer, and unless trade picks up considerably may start no camps this winter. However, the majority want to get some logs out to take advantage of the sleigh haul this winter and the "drive" in the spring."

ENGINE STRUCK THE HAND-CAR

Bancroft Men are Thanking Their Stars That They're Alive

Mr. S. Woodward, foreman on the Bird's Creek section of the C. O. R., and one of his men, John King, had a close call on Saturday morning last and are thanking their lucky stars that they are alive to-day. They were on their way to Bancroft on a hand car and the morning being very foggy with a dense smoke from bush fires they failed to notice a work train coming along behind them. They were "pumping" away industriously when Woodward happened to glance behind and saw their danger. He shouted to King to jump and took a flying leap himself. King was not so quick and the next instant the engine struck the hand-car and threw him headlong into a sand bank. His face was badly cut. He was taken on to Bancroft where his injuries were attended to and he was able to return to his home on the next train. — Bancroft Times.

TOWN WILL NOT SUPPORT THEM LONGER

Port Hope is Going to Shy on Charity This Winter—All Able Must Work

Mr. Robert Gray, secretary for the Port Hope Benevolent Society has received instructions not to support with money, food or fuel this winter any able-bodied immigrant of any kind, English Scotch, Irish or of any other nationality.

Port Hope has not the money to support any more of the gentry who lived on the town last winter, and the sooner they get this idea into their heads so much the better.

Last winter the town spent something like $352 to keep a number of chunky fellows who preferred to sit about the stove and smoke to getting out and putting in a hard day's work. Very few people in Port Hope can afford that masterly form of inactivity, still fewer can afford to pay to keep others as landed gentry.

This summer in one of a well-known residential houses a whole family of able-bodied men have lived rent free. They fished all summer and only earned enough money to buy a few bottles of ale for Sunday drinking. These men have to get down to work this winter.

Other cases might be cited where the men turned up their noses at hard work. — Port Hope Times.

USE OF KNIFE MUST CEASE

Three Months in County Gaol Result of Stabbing Affray

"This knifing business has got to be stopped. The people have to be protected against it," said Magistrate Moore this morning in sentencing Percy Nettleton the young man convicted of using a knife in a scrape at Fenelon Falls on August 31st.

"I do not think he had sufficient reason for the use of a weapon in the Harry case" continued His Worship, "and whatever the law may permit in his country I do not know, our the people of this country have to be protected. I do not like the motive that induces any young man to use a knife, and the accused took a great chance in this case. If several of the gashes he inflicted had varied in the least the injured man would have been killed. However I am going to take into consideration his youth" said the Magistrate, "and the straight way in which he gave his evidence."

He then sentenced the accused to three months in the county gaol with hard labor the two weeks' confinement that he has already put in to count as part of the sentence.

"I hope that inside of that time" added His Worship, "that you will recognise the enormity of your offence, and you will take better care of yourself in the future."

Nettleton did not appear to be at all disturbed by the sentence when it was passed and remained as cool as he had throughout the trial." — Lindsay Free Press.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY TO THEFT

Albert Wright and Howard Innes in Court This Morning

Albert Wright and Howard Innes, arrested last Saturday charged with stealing a case of brandy from the cellar of the Montreal House appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning. They elected to be tried summarily and pleaded not guilty. The prosecution was not ready to go on owing to Crown Attorney R. E. Wood attending division court this morning.

The case was enlarged until tomorrow morning.

The Ancients.

Few exporters were on sale and few buyers. Several drovers have made consignments to the British markets, refusing to take the offers of the dealers at present operating on the markets. The highest price quoted at the latter end of the week was $5, and many cattle have been reported at much lower quotations, some even as low as $4.30 to $4.50. Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair supply of milkers and springers offered, and as there were buyers from Montreal, the market ruled fairly strong at about the same prices that have been quoted for some time past. Good to choice cows, ranged from $50 to $60 each, but few bring the latter quotation. The average price for the best cows offering would be between $40 and $50; medium cows, $35 and inferior $30 down to $20.

Veal Calves.

Receipts of veal calves were light, and prices ranged from $3 to $6.50 per cwt.

NINETIETH BIRTHDAY OF A SMITH PIONEER CELEBRATED

There is something peculiarly interesting in old landmarks. Anything that links the present to the past is looked upon with a certain degree of reverence, and should be regarded as almost "holy." That this is so, one need only observe the desire on the part of the people and governments to preserve old buildings, citadels, etc., with which is connected any historic event whatever, in order that the young of our land may connect the living with the dead, the present with the past, and it is necessary particularly in this age, when "Young Canada" may be justly accused of a tendency to disregard the old, that such landmarks be preserved and occasionally pointed out to the rising generations that its members may see and appreciate their present condition and position in life.

But landmarks are not always of a purely material nature. There are around us human landmarks who serve as landmarks between the present and the past. There are those living in our community whose lives tell stories of patient endurance and victorious industry. The story of the opening up and of the development of our country is the story of the lives of some of our people.

Only those who have visited the remotest backwoods districts north of the settled parts of "Old Ontario," where pioneer farm settlements follow the track of the lumber camp can form any idea of the hardships undergone by the first settlers of Peterborough county, at a period still within the memories of living men and women. There are those living in our vicinity who remember well when an almost "illimitable forest-sea surged around them," through which for years they had only the precarious guidance of the axe-hewn "blaze" upon the trees. There are those who remember the many contrivances used to pulverize the wheat grain in some resemblance of flower, such contrivances often being two stones or a mortar made out of the hollowed stumps of hardwood trees. There are those who will remember when the tallow candle gave place to the lamp, when the horse supplanted the ox as a beast of labour when the ox-cart gave way to the waggon, etc., etc.

To preserve these human links in bodily form is, of course, an impossibility. Yet while they do live there should be on the part of those who benefit so much from the industry and perseverance of these nation-builders a greater appreciation of of their services to the country at large, and when they are gone, as they must go, they and their works should be cherished more closely than, sad to relate, they sometimes are.

Undoubtedly to many it would seem tedious to set down a mere host of names of those whose memory carries them back to the early years of the past century. It is not the object of this sketch to do so. There is, however, one "nonagenarian" whose privilege it is to recall most vividly such early scenes as has been mentioned. To one who has reached the 90th milestone of this life, and to one who lived almost all those ninety years in one township, there must be a strange contrast as she looks about her today and compares present conditions with those of her early years. To recall the time when her father found it necessary to walk to Port Hope with a bag of wheat to be ground into flour and to return in the same manner, the load, however, being much lighter because of the miller's toll; to recall the time when all travel to and fro in the township of Smith was by ox-cart or springless waggon; to recall the time when cookstoves were a novelty; such, with other similar recollections of things incident upon pioneer life are the recollections of Mrs. James Mann, sr., of Smith, who, today, surrounded by her family, grandchildren and great grandchildren celebrated the 90th anniversary of her birth.

Mrs. Mann (Margaret Robinson) was born in the northern part of Yorkshire on the 11th of September 1818. When she was six months old her parents sought Canada to hew out a home for themselves in the now thickly populated country. The journey across the ocean lasted for thirteen weeks. When Mrs. Mann was two years old, the Robinson family moved from Port Hope into Smith township, and settled upon the farm now owned by Mr. Frank Hogg, on the 7th Con. of Smith.

In 1841 the subject of our sketch became the wife of Mr. Jas. Mann, who died some years ago. As a young couple they settled upon the farm which is now looked upon as the old homestead and upon which Mrs. Mann still lives with her son, G. W. Mann. Upon this farm their family of seven—three sons and four daughters—were born, all of whom are still living, except the eldest, James H. of Bridgenorth, who died last April.

Mrs. Mann has fifty grandchildren living and twenty-eight greatgrandchildren, the majority of whom are celebrating her birthday at the old homestead today.

During her long life, Mrs. Mann has been a power for good in the community in which she lives. Her influence was particularly felt in her own home, where there grew up sons and daughters to call her name "blessed." Some one has said that that parent is thought to have made a valuable contribution to the strength of his or her country who gives her a group of healthy, stalwart, courageous sons for her armies; but, if this be true, how much more shall he or she be reckoned a benefactor who leaves behind a whole family of children trained to wisdom and exercised in godliness. Increase of population may be only the increase of idleness, ignorance, vice, etc. but increase in trained Christians will be the security of good institutions. Hence Mrs. Mann, knowing this, felt that the very noblest field of every patriotic and Christian exertion is that which is nearest, the home field.

Though ninety years old, Mrs. Mann is still very active and attends to her own household duties. Sunday sees her always in her accustomed pew and despite her years, she is intensely interested in all that pertains to the several branches of the church work. Her many friends and acquaintances hope that she may be spared a goodly number of years, and that the same divine protection and blessing, so long experienced by her may be vouchsafed to her in the coming years.

In order to show in some external form, a proper appreciation of this "mother in Israel," a family re-union is being held this afternoon and evening at the old home which speaks volumes for the indomitable courage and persevering industry of this aged woman and her late husband.

FATHER SAYS HIS SON IS INCORRIGIBLE

Charged With Ill-treating Eleven Year Old Boy—Case Dismissed

David Moore was charged with abusing his eleven-year-old boy Walter, at the police court this morning. Mr. W. F. McWilliams appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty. Mr. Geo. Cochrane was present on behalf of the Children's Aid Society.

Young Moore, in the witness box stated that his father told him not to leave home last Saturday. He did so and went down to the market. His father gave him a whipping, leaving big marks on him. The boy took off his coat and shirt but His Worship could find no evidence of a thrashing. On Sunday the boy broke a jar of fruit and his father sent him up to his room. He jumped out of the window and ran to his grandmother's house on Murray street. His father followed him and gave him another beating.

Mrs. Gray, grandmother of the boy, said that he came to her Sunday morning, saying he had run away from his father. His father was already at her house. He caught his son and, picking up a stick of wood, hit him.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane stated that he was going to church on Sunday morning and young Moore was lying on the side of the street, on Murray St. crying. He picked the lad up and found a big lump on the boy's head as well as several bruises. Mr. Cochrane took the lad to the Shelter. He admitted that he was incorrigible and had run away from the Shelter.

Mr. Moore stated that he had whipped his son as told by previous witnesses. The child was disobedient and beyond his control. He had been expelled from school for his bad conduct.

His Worship gave both father and son some good sound advice, the boy promising to behave in the future. The magistrate told Moore to take his son right away to the school inspector and try to have him taken back.

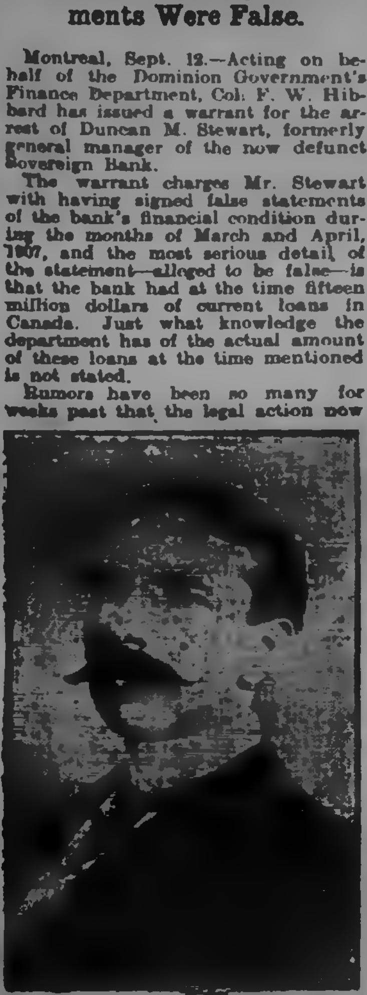
Manager of Defunct Sovereign Bank

Bought by Police on Grounds That His Monthly Statements Were False.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Acting on behalf of the Dominion Government's Finance Department, Col. F. W. Hibbard has issued a warrant for the arrest of Duncan M. Stewart, formerly general manager of the now defunct Sovereign Bank.

The warrant charges Mr. Stewart with having signed false statements of the bank's financial condition during the months of March and April, 1907, and the most serious detail of the statement—alleged to be false—is that the bank had at the time fifteen million dollars of current loans in Canada. Just what knowledge the department has of the actual amount of these loans at the time mentioned is not stated.

Rumors have been so many for weeks past that the legal action now taken is not a matter of any great surprise. It is known that Mr. Stewart learned three months ago that a special enquiry was being made by the Finance Department with a view to criminal prosecution. He then made preparation to leave Montreal, and, acting upon the advice of friends, he gave up his business as a private banker and went away. The fact was published at the time.



DUNCAN M. STEWART.

A little over a week ago he came to Montreal and, staying with friends, closed up his private affairs and went away again.

When the warrant was issued it was at once handed to High Constable Bissonnette. That officer went to Mr. Stwart's home, but got no satisfaction beyond the statement that Mr. Stewart was not in. In the office on St. James street it was found that the business had been closed for some time.

What steps will now be taken to trace the accused is not known, but there is good reason to believe that the matter will be placed in the hands of Col. Sherwood, chief of the Dominion police, with instruction to find him at any cost or trouble.

Injured Man's Trip.

Cobalt, Sept. 12.—Charles Mabary, a young man of 27, whose home is in Bracebridge, was brought into Cobalt to the Red Cross Hospital suffering from a broken skull and broken nose. He will recover.

It appears Manary and companions were behind a tree waiting the report of a blast, and Manary came out too soon.

The accident occurred seven days before the young man finally landed in the hospital, his companions having spent days in getting him down in a canoe and carrying him over the portages between the lakes.

He leaves a widow, but no family.

EXPLOSION OF NATURAL GAS CAUSES GREAT DESTRUCTION

One Killed, Many Hurt and Buildings Blown up in Brantford---Ignition of Gas in Theatorium Results in Demolition of Business Houses For Considerable Distance on One Side of Street.

Brantford, Sept. 12.—A natural gas explosion, the worst in the history of Brantford, occurred at two o'clock yesterday afternoon along the south side of Colborne street, just west of King street, demolishing several of the important places of business, killing one child, injuring a dozen people and piling the ruins in the street.

A child name Hornie is dead.

The list of injured is as follows: Albert Holstock, badly burned and cut; Charles Stover, internal injuries; Lloyd Meyers, leg broken; Joseph Blayboro, internal injuries; Mr. and Mrs. Hornie, cuts, bruises and shock; James Finch, cut by glass; Allan McFarlane, cut by glass.

There were three shocks, and they were felt in every building in the business section. For a great length, all the buildings on one side of the street are caved in, others have only walls standing, and for a distance of many yards no building on one side of the street but is damaged to a great extent. On the opposite side of the thoroughfare the buildings are also damaged badly. Windows are broken in, and the fronts of business houses badly disfigured. At least six people are injured more or less seriously if not fatally.

The origin of the catastrophe was in a theatorium building, which is the most complete ruin on the street. Strange to say, there was no fire consequent upon the explosion, except a small blaze from an over-turned stove.

One family, Mr. and Mrs. Hornie and two infants, were buried in the debris, and were removed by the firemen. The elder of the children died within a couple of hours from a fractured skull.

The family lived in the first storey of the building next to the Theatorium. The foundation gave way and they were precipitated with the falling walls to the cellar. All were hurt except the younger child, who escaped unhurt. Mrs. Hornie, who was in bed with the infant at the time, is very seriously hurt.

The wrecked buildings include Stephen Armour's Theatorium, Boston Chinese Cafe, Jas. Doyle's poolroom, John Bouey's bowling alley, T. B. W. Henderson's tailor shop, James Williams' restaurant, O'Neil's flour and feed store, Miss Radford's furniture store, Western Counties Power Co., Cockshutt Securities Co., and Stedman's warehouse; across the street, Jack Kelly's cigar store.

The loss in all will amount to nearly $50,000. The Theatorium was a four-storey building, and O'Neil's a three-storey affair. Both are complete wrecks.

How Injuries Were Received.

Two of the worst injured are Holstock and Blayboro. They were sitting in the steps waiting for a key to enter the Theatorium to do some work. Both were knocked clear across the roadway. Holstock, when picked up, was in a state of delirium, while Blayboro was unconscious.

Lloyd Myers, who was seated in Grierson's delivery rig across the road at the time, was knocked out by the explosion and sustained a broken leg.

Miss Radford, who was in her furniture store, also on the other side of the street, was severely cut by flying glass and taken to her home unconscious.

Charles Stover was at work constructing a trench in the street for the gas company and his condition is reported serious.

There were many narrow escapes. Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Smith with children, who resided next to the Hornie rooms, were nearly buried in the wreck. The front of the room in which they were was blown right out. The stove, in which there was a fire, tumbled from the open side into the mass of debris and resulted in a blaze, which was quickly extinguished.

The theory is generally held that there was an underground escape of natural gas which filled the whole row of buildings along the street. James Williams, restaurant keeper, says he reported the matter to the authorities several days ago.

NORTH HARVEY FARMER HAD TO SHOO BEARS OFF ROAD

North Harvey, September 11—Mr. Alex St. Thomas while returning home from Bobcaygeon on Saturday evening with a horse and buggy, was surprised to find three bears in the road about half a mile south of his home. It was an old bear and two cubs. The old one was large and had a jet black coat, and owing to the good berry crop this year they were all rolling fat, and as lazy as Teddy bears. The horse rather objected to them and they had to be shooed off the road. The most they could be got to do, was to move to the side so that the horse would go by and there they squatted on their haunches looking disgusted at the horse making such a fuss and putting them to the trouble of moving out of the way. They were tame enough to feed out of ones hand.

WANT SERVICE TO BE RESUMED

Niagara Peninsula Farmers Want Sunday Trains Again.

Welland, Sept. 12.—Interesting developments are expected to follow the operating of a passenger service on the Welland division of the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway on Sunday next. Notification was quietly sent out to agents yesterday from the head office.

When this division was put in operation early last year, the Sunday service awakened a storm of protest, fanned by Rev. C. Caldwell and Rev. C. N. Simmons of Fonthill. The matter was reported to the Lord's Day Alliance, and in turn to the Railway Commission.

The Sunday service was suddenly discontinued and notice posted to the effect that its discontinuance had been ordered by the Railway Commission.

Citizen of Fonthill then held an indignation meeting, which 300 attended, and passed a vote of approval of the Sunday service. Two months ago a petition was circulated and largely signed, asking the railway to again put on the service. It would appear that this has had the desired effect.

ESTIMATE BY GOVERNMENT

Of the Canadian Crop---Lack of Rain Hurts Ripening Cereals.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The census and statistics monthly for September reports the rainfall of the month as scant and the temperature high, and the condition of the later ripening cereals somewhat lowered as compared with promises of June and July.

In Quebec the outlook has continued to be favorable and in Ontario also, in spite of the drouth, the conditions have been fairly well maintained. West of the Great Lakes cereals were considerably affected by hot winds in August, but less in Alberta than elsewhere, owing to the earlier ripening conditions there.

In Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the estimated yield of wheat is 104,053,000 bushels, as compared with 110,524,000 bushels at the end of July. The estimated yield of oats has also fallen from 120,258,000 bushels to 107,660,000.

QUEER BUT VERY COSTLY REVENGE

Heidelberg, Sept. 11.—An act of revenge on the part of an Italian laborer because he considered he had been dismissed without cause has cost the Government of Baden the sum of $875,000.

The government has been constructing a railroad tunnel tunnel through Black Forest Mountains, working in from each end to meet in the centre. It was discovered to-day that the two halves which should come together at the village of Forbach, miss each other by 20 feet. The reason is a mistake in the survey which arose from the purposeful misplacing of a surveying pin. This act was the work of the Italian who had a grudge against the Government.

Special to the Review

Port Hope, Sept. 12.—Henry Neville, aged 22 years, of Cavanville, a popular young farmer, well-known in Millbrook, was instantly killed here late last night, when he jumped from a freight train going west and was struck by an east-bound light engine.

Neville had been at camp in Kingston with the 46th regiment and came up on the freight to catch his companions on an earlier train. He was a noted solo singer in the countryside.

News of the sad fatality at Port Hope was received in Peterborough last night but the information was not of a definite nature. The young man acted as cook for the officers of the 24th Field Battery. Henry Neville is well-known in Peterborough, and friends here heard of his death with deep regret. GIRLS WHO WORK

Girls who work for their living are especially exposed to the dangers of organic feminine disorders. Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions; walking to and from their places of employment in bad weather all tend to break down their delicate feminine organism.

No class of women are in need of greater assistance, and thousands of letters like the following demonstrate the fact that restores the feminine system to a strong, healthy, normal condition.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very sick, had dull headaches, pain in my back, and a feminine weakness. I had been to several doctors and they did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I can do most any kind of work. I am in better health than I ever was, and it is all due to your medicine."

Miss Lillian Ross, of 530 E. 84th St., New York, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had a female trouble, nervous headaches, and was tired all the time, and could not sleep. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me feel so much better that I hope every woman who suffers as I did will try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, and has positively cured thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

THE CHRISTIAN FAITH

There is a marvellous recrudescence of faith in the world at the present time. A wave of "goodness" as it may perhaps be appropriately called is flowing slowly and majestically over the world. It is faith too, of the practical sort. An analysis of the various assemblies gathered together for the promotion of Christian knowledge and endeavor shows that there is a longing for the idealism of Faith in the hearts of the world-peoples. There is still a disposition in some places on the part of branches of the Christian churches however to compromise with the unclean on various pretexts such as those of charity, sympathy, gratitude or the like but it cannot stand either a close scrutiny or the suspicion of the everyday man because it implies always a denial of Christ. Christian ideals and the Christian faith. It substitutes a heavily subsidized sympathy, etc. for what by no means can be tortured into being truly described as misfortune. It is too often preceded or accompanied by a reward to be altogether guiltless or guileless. But all this is merely a passing cloud that for a moment casts its shadow upon the Cross and then disappears. The Christian heart is true. It must be true. The weakness of misplaced emotion must not stain it. The charity which forgives and forgets must not help in perpetuating what it forgives. That is another matter. "Are we with Christ in the church and out of it or are we with Him only on occasion." These memorable words of a great divine describe it exactly. It is not too much to say that it has been in the past the chief cause of the backward condition of the Christian Faith that it has been betrayed by those who most should cherish it. This betrayal manifests itself like poison in the blood, almost instantly throughout the whole body politic, the social world and in the councils of those who proceed to make further use of that which they subsidise in order that it may help them in turn. No real excuse can be lodged. The evil remains just as unblushing as before. The world sometimes is strong enough to put down that which a church maintains. The world in time learns to despise such a church. Then the "called of God," the real lovers of truth gird themselves once more and the world salutes them and is called back to the Most High.

THE POST OFFICE

"Hundreds of post-offices are used for the benefit of politicians rather than the benefit of the State." P. 31 of Report of Royal Civil Service Commission, and then again: "But a great defect in the outside service which strikes your commissioners is the utter inability to give promotion to deserving officials. Once a letter-carrier always a letter-carrier." There are some 2 500 employees in the civil service at Ottawa. In view of of the utterly reckless rottenness and crookedness characterizing every branch of the Civil Service Commission how can the people of Canada get their dues? How can the service be what it ought to be? The whole scheme of government at Ottawa is one of plunder and the extravagance which it feeds upon. There is no getting away from the warnings of the Commission. And yet Sir Wilfrid at Sorel said he would not change his policy. The grafters have a free hand. The prospects are like those in California in '49. Is it any wonder that a certain class of politicians is trying to get there?

THE YELLOW PERIL

It will be remembered that last winter the Globe came out with an article so academic and so heartless with regard to employment and the wages of employees that the whole working population of Canada stood amazed. To the idle men walking the streets of Toronto it delivered the message that the law of supply and demand was worldwide and must govern. That if the idle, foodless husbands and fathers wanted work they could get it by working for less than those already at work. It was a straight bid for lower wages. This is the legitimate result of the Liberal theories of "free" trade. Free trade is trade, commerce or employment that is unhampered by laws or restrictions of any sort. It is a way of proceeding that gives men the freedom of fighting each other like beasts for low wages and poor food. At the other end of the stick it gives Money the cheapest means of making more. Unless the Money power is restrained by considerations of decent living and fair treatment for the workingman it will gravitate down to the level of the lowest at all able to do the work. What a theory! God help us. One would think that the first consideration of a government would be the health, comfort and care of the great toiling mass of its people. But no. The editorial on "The Yellow Peril," which we publish on another page, is the brief which the Liberal party holds for those who hold the weapons of war in their own hands and treat men, women and children as if they were worthy of no more consideration than the tools they use.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The exhibit of Spanish paintings in the French Salon is of such a high character that critics are beginning to say that the true school of art is in Spain.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Examiner is endeavoring to fasten upon Mr. Borden some possible taint of corruption. It is of course a huge bluff to hide the crude putridity which characterizes much of the politics and "adorns" some of the political careers of the riding of West Peterborough.

"Why didn't he stay out when he was out? We don't want him any more. It's his own fault now," is a common remark.

No complimentary comments are yet discoverable anywhere in the Liberal press regarding Mr. Stratton's new break for public life.

Some members of the old Ross Government have more sense of their positions and responsibilities than many of their party, who show their utter loss of respect for the character and reputation of the party to which they belong by urging the discredited members of the late Government to become candidates for seats in the Dominion Parliament. Hon. R. Harcourt, knowing what the result would be, declines to accept the nomination for Haldimand. "Spotless Jim" Stratton is not so sensible. He will ride for a fall in West Peterborough. — Belleville Intelligencer.

In the Montreal Star of Tuesday a correspondent writing over the signature, "The Doctor," gives the following statement of reasons for supporting Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"I will vote for honest Laurier because I like the sham and humbug of his past 'Honest Administration.'

"I love the odor of the scandals in high public places—smells that reek to heaven.

"I like to see Laurier gather around him men with tawdry ideals, cheap characters and elastic morals.

"I like to hear of rich Liberal members getting richer through Land Syndicates, Timber Syndicates, Swollen Public Contracts, etc.

"I like to hear of a 'Made in Canada Ross Rifle; of a $1 lease—99 years; Plains of Abraham land to the Ross Rifle Company; of a $2000 dinner service to the Montcalm ice breaker.

"I like the Spirit of Graft' and 'Rake-off'. It should be taught in every Christian Canadian school.

"I like the Black Flag and I want to see it nailed to the mast for another five years."

NO MORE HEADACHES

Suffered From Constant Headaches—Cured by "Fruit-a-tives" When Doctors Failed.

"I was a sufferer from fearful headaches for over two years, sometimes they were so bad that I was unable to work for days at a time. I took all kinds of medicines, was treated by physicians, and yet the headaches persisted. I was rarely free from headache. A short time ago I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so with, I must confess, very little faith, but after I had taken them for three days my headaches were easier and in a week they left me. After I had taken a box of the tablets my headaches were quite cured. My appetite was always poor and my stomach bad, and now my appetite is splendid and my digestion is excellent. I had become thin and weak from the constant headaches, but now not only have I been cured of all these awful headaches, but my strength is growing up once more, and I feel like a new man. I have taken in all three boxes of "Fruit-a-tives." I am exceedingly grateful to "Fruit-a-tives" for curing me, and I give this unsolicited testimonial with great pleasure, as I hope thereby some other sufferer of headaches will be induced to try "Fruit-a-tives" and will be cured."

"Fruit-a-tives" is now put up in the new 25c trial size as well as the regular 50c boxes. Write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, if your dealer will not supply you.

BRITISH TARS FIGHT JAPANESE

Shanghai, Sept. 10.—Outnumbered ten to one, bluejackets from a British cruiser at this port put up a desperate battle with Japanese non-commissioned men and a motley Japanese mob to-day until the police broke up the fight by the free use of revolvers. They fired repeatedly into the mob and many Japanese civilians were wounded, but were carried away by their companions.

The fight started over the arrest of a Japanese officer for a particular atrocious assault upon a low class European woman, which was resented by the English tars.

A well organized riot came simultaneously with the publication of a letter from the Japanese Consul-General to the municipal council of a highly recriminatory and incendiary character in which he defended the ruffianism of his own people and the failure of his court to assist in maintaining order.

The feeling between British and Japanese is intense and further outbreaks are feared.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

NOW IS TIME TO GET IN WINTER'S COAL SUPPLY

The people have been slow to take advantage of the low coal prices and seem to be holding off until later to obtain their winter's supply. Coal is now being sold at $7.40 a ton and next month will reach $7.50, which will be the maximum price.

The consumers, it would seem, would do well to get in their winter's supply now. The dealers have plenty of coal on hand now with which to meet the demand, and those who wish to lay in their coal for the coming cold weather can have their orders filled quickly.

These favorable conditions may not continue all through the winter, however, and it is quite possible that there may be a scarcity of coal when the rush for it sets in.

BUSH FIRES DESTROYING MUCH TIMBER NORTH OF HAVELOCK

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Sept. 11.—The cry for rain comes from every farmer in this vicinity and also a great many in the village. The dry, scorching heat of the past two weeks with no rain to counteract the rays of the sun is burning up everything. The corn, a great quantity of which was sown this year is being dried up, and the late potatoes will not be a good crop with the result that potatoes will be very dear this year. Fierce fires rage on all sides and are destroying a lot of valuable timber. Fire has been in full swing for about two weeks north of Round Lake, eating up a lot of the woods. On Thursday a big fire broke out in a swamp about three miles west of here, and great clouds of smoke and cinders covered the village. This morning a fire broke out in a woods two miles east of here while other smaller flames are going all over the country. No buildings as yet have been burned but a great many fences have been destroyed. A number of farmers have had to move their hay, which was stacked near the woods, in order to save it. There is no possible way of stopping these fires unless some rain comes, and if it does not soon come it is likely that a lot of damage will be done in this vicinity. The storekeepers and a great many other people are complaining of the dust, there being no rain lately and the village having no sprinkler, the dust is terrible, especially with the storekeepers as it comes in through the open doors and covers their goods.

24th FIELD BATTERY CAME BACK FROM CAMP FRIDAY

A large crowd was at the G.T.R. station yesterday afternoon to see the return of the 24th Field Battery from their camp at Barriefield, Kingston. The boys were thoroughly tanned from their 12 days' exposure to the sun and wind and presented an excellent appearance. All their equipment looked spick and span. At the camp they went through their manoeuvres in fine style and won the approval of General Lake, the inspecting officer, by their efficiency in the various drill movements.

After they had unloaded at the station yesterday the members of the Battery marched up Charlotte street George to Hunter and then across to the Ashburnham drill shed. They are being paid off to-day.

HAVELOCK HAS A ROBIN THAT WHISTLES

Persons Passing Along the Street are Deceived by His Merry Trills

Special to the Review

Havelock, September 11— Havelock has a curiosity in the shape of a whistling robin. A great many persons passing the Armstrong House have been attracted by a whistle, sounding as if some one was calling them. The bird is placed on the balcony and a person passing cannot tell where the whistle is coming from. If you will see a person pass, the bird whistles and the person turns and looks back along the street. They continue their way and soon the same performance takes place. Some as yet have not learned the secret of the whistle but a great many who have taken the trouble to investigate have found the robin perched on a rod in his cage continuing to whistle, unintentionally causing many a person to turn around or causing many a laugh from bystanders who know the secret. The robin is a common red-breasted one and whistles instead of singing.

PRESENTED WITH SIGNET RING

Mr. Ralph Quinn, Remembered by His Friends, Before Leaving for College

Prior to his departure for the Toronto School of Pharmacy, Mr. Ralph Quinn, of this city, was presented with a handsome gold signet ring, suitably engraved. The presentation which was an informal one, was made by a number of his gentlemen friends at the drug store of McDermid & Jury, where Mr. Quinn had been engaged for the past four years. Short speeches of regret at Mr. Quinn's departure, were made by each one present, and best wishes for a successful course at college were expressed.

SLIGHT WRECK AT HAVELOCK

Six Box Cars Were Derailed—Rebuilding Soon to be Started —Other Havelock News

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Sept. 11. — Six box cars were derailed at the west end of the C.P.R. yards on Sunday morning last at about 4.30. A train for the west was going out and had got half way over the second switch when the switch sprung, thus doing the damage. The early morning train was delayed for some time over the accident.

A great deal of the debris from the fire has been cleared away and building operations will soon commence.

S. S. Joyce has already got the framework up for a new boot and shoe store, on the corner, the same size as the one that was burnt. It is not as yet known who will rebuild.

A regular meeting of the council was held in the council chamber on Wednesday evening, Reeve Thompson and Councillors Campney and Phillips were present. The following accounts were ordered paid.

J. Thompson, expenditures	$ 1.00
[illegible] tel. to Cou Cochrane	.75
S. S. Joyce, law costs	2.17

Never before has so much fruit been sold in Havelock as this year. Every day brings large shipments in for nearly every dealer in town.

School is in full swing again since the opening, although under the disadvantage of a new addition being built to it. The high school department is under the management of Mr. Bain, who gave good satisfaction last year and the public school is under Mr. Nelson with five assistants. The lower classes are held in the basement of the town hall on account of the scarcity of seats.

However there will soon be plenty of room for the new addition to the school is going up quickly. The basement of solid cement is very spacious. The walls of the building are of cement blocks and they are going higher every day. The building is about 35 feet square and will present a splendid appearance when finished.

The local train has been running an hour late in the evening the last two weeks on account of the Toronto exhibition.

Mr. O Burkel of the Havelock branch of the Bank of Toronto, has returned from his holiday outing.

Messrs. T. Dineen, T. P. Lancaster, T. Beaver and R. Barlow spent Labor Day in Toronto.

SUN AND MOON ARE MURKY RED

So Much Smoke That Heavenly Bodies Have Peculiar Appearance

The smoke-laden condition of the atmosphere is one of the main topics generally discussed on the streets. The moon crossed the sky last night like a luminous ball of glowing fire, shrouded by a rather dense pall of smoke. The sun is seen through a veil of the same murky red. The cause veil of the same murky red. The cause of the present condition is the large bush fires throughout the country. The upper air currents are in such a condition that the smoke cannot ascend. The upper strata is heavier than the lower, hence the smoke lies close to the earth.

DON'T MISJUDGE!

The correct test of a Drug Store is by the manner in which Prescriptions and Medicines are prepared. The public has a right to demand competent, conscientious, and faithful service in every instance where life or health is involved. To meet this demand has been the constant effort of this store. How well we have succeeded is proven by the constant increase in our business. The number of those who intrust us with their Prescriptions and Drug Store wants continues to grow larger. The public appreciates our efforts to give better drugs and better service than it is possible to obtain in any other store.

REGISTRATION OF STATISTICS

New Vital Statistics Act Contains Many Changes Over the Former System

The city clerk's department has received a copy of the new Vital Statistics' Act, which contains many changes in the matter of registration of births, deaths and marriages, and incidentally involves a big increase in the work.

Formerly the undertaker could procure a burial permit, on presenting to the clerk a duly executed statement regarding the deceased and signed by the attendant physician. According to the new Act a second elaborate form must be filled out by a relative or intimate acquaintance of the deceased, before the clerk may issue this permit.

The new birth-forms also go into more searching detail regarding the parentage of the child than formerly. The date and place of birth must be accurately given, as well as the names of the child's grandparents and a detailed statement of whether the mother is married, single, widow or divorced.

Under the new act it will be obligatory on the part of the registrar if he knows of any births, deaths or marriages which have not been duly registered within thirty days of their occurrence to report them to the Inspector of Vital Statistics, who will write a peremptory note to the delinquents. If such a notice is ignored, summonses will be in order.

PULPIT BIBLE IS PRESENTED

To George St. Church by Mr. H. C. Stabler

In connection with the re-opening services of George street Methodist church, a handsome pulpit bible has been presented to the congregation by Mr. H. C. Stabler. It is a large and splendidly printed volume and it will be used for the first time tomorrow. Mr. Stabler's gift is greatly appreciated.

GEORGE ST. CHURCH HAS BEEN BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED

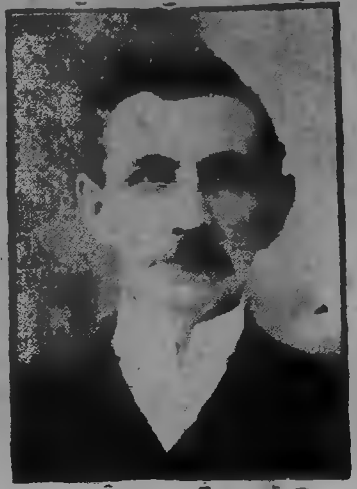
Will Present an Artistic and Attractive Appearance at the Re-opening To-morrow—Rev. Dr. Young, of Montreal, a Former Pastor, Will Preach at Both Services

The George street church will be open to the public to-morrow and services will be held there again. The building has been closed for the past eight weeks during which time extensive repairs have been going on. The interior will be a revelation to the congregation and the handsome decorations are bound to please everyone. Much labour and money have been spent on the building, but the the results are strikingly in evidence and the George street church ranks among the highest in the way of decoration of any church in the city. The mural decorations are very fine and the work of expert artists. The walls are done in colors blending in perfect harmony and give the church a bright, attractive appearance. The decoration is of the Gothic style.

Through the indefatigable efforts of the Ladies' Aid, the trustees of the church were enabled to redecorate the interior of the building. The ladies have undertaken to furnish the funds to pay the entire cost. Likewise, Rev. Mr. Pearson's social adult Bible class undertook to pay for the installation of the electric lights, four members donating $750, and the remainder of the class contributing the balance. The trustees only had to supply the money for the new roof.

REV. E. A. PEARSON
Pastor of GeorgeSt. Methodist Church

The decoration is a marvel and the work of P. C. Brown & Co., the church decorators of Toronto, who are noted for the beautiful work they do in this line. The ceiling is done in a light ivory color, the upper walls are painted in a Sienna tone and the lower ones in a dado tone. The borders are in handsome scrolls painted in colors of blue, red and two shades of green. In the ceiling are painted two figures, one the Angel of Truth and the other the Angel of Purity. These were the work of Mr. Nelson Murray, one of the company's special artists.



REV. DR. YOUNG
Pastor of Great St. James Methodist Church, Montreal, who will conduct the Re opening Services at George St. Church

Mr. Bennett with six men under him, had charge of the decorating.

The new electric light system was installed by Alexander & Miller. It is steel tube work. There are two large centre fixtures with twenty-five lights in each. There are brackets along the wall and ceiling clusters underneath the gallery. The choir is lighted by brackets of lights on the organ and on the corner pillar.

The church is under control of a twelve circuit Gross Hinds panel board. One section of the edifice may be lighted without turning the lights on in the whole building. The fixtures are fitted with opalescent balls. The contract was splendidly executed by Messrs. Alexander & Miller and is another evidence of the high grade work done by this firm.

Rev. Dr. Young, of Montreal, a former pastor of George street church, will preach at both services to-morrow.

YOUTHS PLEADED GUILTY TO DARING BURGLARIES

Arraigned Before Magistrate in Police Court This Morning—Entered House By Daylight and Cellar of Hotel By Night

Four youths not over fifteen years of age were arraigned before Magistrate Dumble at the police court this morning charged with stealing two jars of fruit, part of a loaf of bread, a pair of cuff links, a pair of pants a bracelet and a set of men's underwear from the house of Mr. Ed. McGregor, Ashburnham.

Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution and Messrs. G. N. Gordon and E. L. Goodwill, appeared for the defendants.

Three of them pleaded guilty and the fourth one pleaded not guilty, but from evidence given was found guilty by the Magistrate.

Another charge was preferred against a fifth lad along with the other four that of entering the cellar of J. R. Larocque of the Montreal House and stealing a case of brandy. Two of them were found guilty of this offence.

One of the youths in the witness box stated that the four of them went across the C.P.R. bridge on Saturday last. They went to McGregor's house to get a drink of water. They went to the door to get a cup and found that there was no one at home. They were sitting near the barn and feeling kind of hungry they returned to the house and entered the cellar. They got preserves and bread which they ate. Only three of them went into the cellar. They went upstairs and witness got a bracelet and a pair of pants. He afterwards gave the bracelet to the police.

Mr. Ed. McGregor sworn, said that last Saturday they were all away from the house. When he came home his sister told him that there was fruit taken out of the cellar.

Miss McGregor said that it was about 11.30 when she left the house. When she returned about three o'clock she first found the fruit gone.

On the second charge, Mr. J. R. Larocque, proprietor of the Montreal house stated that he kept brandy in cases in the cellar. He did not miss it until he was told of it being taken. He then investigated and found one case missing. He found no trace of anyone being in.

Mr. Thos. Lytle, acting policeman, said that he found the box in the bushes near a number of telegraph poles on Aylmer street. He watched all Friday night and about noon Saturday saw the boys come and get it. He then arrested one of them.

The arrested youth said that one of the other boys and he were the only two that went in after the brandy. One held the door open and the witness went in. They all drank some of the brandy.

Innes went into the box. He did not know that the theft was committed until next morning. Wright had a bottle. He did not know anything of the intentions of Wright. They all, with the exception of Bolder, slept the night of the theft in a barn.

Mrs. Barbara Innes, mother of one of the accused said that her son was fifteen years past. He son had worked steadily with Mr. Robt. Gibbs. He was a good boy.

Another one said that he was in the house but did not take anything. He was looking around for stuff, he said, but found nothing that he wanted to take.

His Worship reserved judgment until next Friday.

"They are a gang of thieves going to the devil," said His Worship. "A party of young gentlemen getting the sympathy of the public, sleeping out in barns and doing as they please."

An express train running 60 miles an hour without stopping for 25 hours would travel just the distance covered by the packets (placed end to end) sold in one year of "Salada" Tea. Annual sale exceeds eighteen million packets.

THE FENCE CAUGHT FIRE FROM SPARKS

Fenelon Falls, Sept. 11.—On Friday afternoon, while Mr. W. H. Stephenson's threshing outfit was passing Mr. William Golden's farm some sparks from the chimney of the engine set fire to the fence in two places. Part of the fence was built of rails and part of stumps, and both, being as dry as tinder, blazed up right merrily. It was a time to hustle; so Mr. Golden's family and neighbors—the women as well as the men—hustled, "for all they were worth"; and, after they had carried water in pails for about three hours and distributed it where it would do the most good, the fire was extinguished. Had it got into the stubble field between the fence and the buildings the consequences might have been disastrous.

If Clifford Sifton enters the cabinet it is reported that W. S. Fielding will quit.

SMITH STREET BRIDGE WILL BE REPAIRED

More repairs will have to be made to the Smith street bridge this fall to make it safe for winter. There was some talk of building a new bridge, but nothing will be done till next summer at least. Money is not at all plentiful just at present.

Good progress is being made on the bridge at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets and it will be open for vehicle traffic next week. No time has been lost in having the structure completed.

THIRTY DAYS IN COUNTY GAOL

Eugene Williams Sentenced on Charge of Assault

Eugene Williams was given thirty days in gaol at hard labor yesterday afternoon at the police court on a charge of indecently assaulting a little girl under the age of fourteen years. He appeared before Magistrate Dumble at four o'clock and pleaded not guilty. The evidence of the little girl and her mother was taken. It appears that the prisoner was under the influence of liquor when the offence was committed.

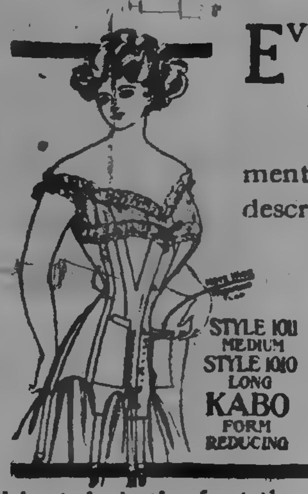
Have You Ever Worn Our Famous Kabo Corsets?



EVERY Stout Woman desires to appear slender and up to now, she has been only partially successful. Many ideas for reducing the large figure have been advanced by Corset Manufacturers, but, in our opinion until now, none have produced the ideal form reducing corset. This may seem an egotiscal statement on our part, but, if it were possible for the women desiring a corset this description to compare other makes with the form reducing corset pictured here, we are positive she would agree with us, and would consider the above remarks very consertive. We call your particular attention to the reducing device, which does not come to a point as in other makes. but reduces over the breadth of the wide flap, appearing in the illustration. The advantage of this is readily apparent as it successfully prevents any bulging of the flesh. With this corset the form can be positively reduced from three to five inches without discomfort to the wearer. Another exclusive feature of this style is the fact the reducing device can be adjusted while the corset is being worn which is another great advantage over other makes. This admirable garment is made with six extra strong woven suspender web hose supporters and the 12 1-2 inch front clasp is reinforced by an extra strong steel. Style No. 1011 shown here is for the medium stout figure. Style No. 1010 which is made up in the same manner is somewhat longer below and above thewaist line and is designed for all tall, stout figures. We guarantee both of these modelsto be un-breakable. Both are made of the best grade of Coutil. and are boned throughout with double non-rustable steel.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE TO THE MAJESTIC BOWLING ALLEYS

The Majestic Bowling Alleys present a bright and finished appearance as a result of work which has been done on them during the past three weeks. They have been thoroughly refitted and redecorated and are now in better shape than ever.

The operations have consisted of having them planed down to a dead level and refinished and shellaced. The ceiling of the room has been painted and improvements generally have been made. Mr. Smyth has ordered a number of new bowling balls and they are expected to arrive shortly.

In the opinion of expert bowlers the alleys are now fast and accurate and conducive to high scores.

Following his precedent of last year the proprietor has opened two competitions. One is a five dollar prize for the bowler making the highest total in three consecutive games and the other of a box of cigars for the best individual score. Both prizes will be renewing each month during the bowling season. Mr. Wallie Parnell is at present high in the three consecutive games score and Mr. Sam Baker in the single score competition. Both of them have very creditable scores.

Mr. Smyth says that the weather has been rather warm for much activity in bowling circles but judging from the interest that has been displayed at this early date the season will be a flourishing one.

EVERYTHING SHAPING NICELY FOR THE BIG ATHLETIC MEET

Appearance of Bobby Kerr and Tom Longboat Attracting Great Interest—Many Local Boys Are Getting in Shape—Big Squad from Toronto

A big bunch of local boys worked out at the Brock street rink last night in preparation for the big indoor athletic meet to be held under the auspices of the YMCA Harriers next Thursday evening. There is a splendid track at the rink and the boys are taking advantage of the splendid training quarters. Some of the younger athletes are showing up remarkably well and there may be some surprises when the night of the meet comes around.

Probably the chief interest in the meet centres in the appearance of Bobby Kerr, the world's champion sprinter. He is running even faster now than when he appeared at the Olympic games at London and he should be given a grand reception when he appears on the local track. He will run in the 50 yard and 220 yard dashes and among his opponents he will have Fred McGrath who has been training hard to meet the Hamilton flyer. Fred does not expect to beat Kerr but he will give him a chase that will make the two sprints exceedingly interesting.

Tom Longboat, the Onondago wonder, will appear in the three mile race where he will meet Fred Simpson and several other good ones. Tom is about the most talked of man in Canadian athletics to-day and this will be his first appearance in Peterborough in his running togs.

Tom Flanagan is coming along, too and will bring a squad of his Irish-Canadians with him. They will make things interesting at the meet.

Lindsay will be represented by some of her best athletes.

The exhibition of pole vaulting by Ed Archibald who was a member of the Canadian Olympic team will be one of the features of the meet. Archibald holds the championship of Britain.

220 yard dash for boys under eighteen.

Half mile handicap.

50 yards dash, handicap.

One mile race for boys under eighteen.

One mile walk, open.

220 yards, handicap.

Exhibition of pole vaulting by Ed. Archibald, Canadian and British champion.

Mile race.

Three mile race.

Entries should be made to Secretary Glover at the Examiner office at once. There is no entrance fee.

The 57th regiment band will be in attendance and will give a choice programme.

WHO WILL BE ONES TO DEFEAT THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS?

With the defeat of Joe Gans and Stanley Ketchel by Battling Nelson and Billy Papke, the followers of the fistic game are already figuring who in the game can beat them or give them a good run for the championship. In Nelson's class there doesn't seem to be a man who can compare with him. The one whose name comes to mind first is Packy McFarland, but when such a clever boxer as Gans was known to be fails before the onslaught of the Battler, how can the frail and slim Pack expect to fare? Leach Cross and Tommy Murphy are making a big splurge down east, but they are bandbox fighters and don't begin to compare with the real article.

Murphy, Hyland, Baldwin, Cross and that crew are nowhere near championship timber, despite the boosting the sport experts give them. So it looks as if Nelson will be lord of his domain for a good while. How long it will be is not known and cannot even be conjectured. But it will be until some tough youngster, not necessarily clever, but strong, rugged and with the same ability to assimilate punishment as the Battler possesses, appears on the scene to catch Nelson declining as he caught the Old Master.

Billy Papke stand supreme in the middleweight class. He has been matched for a bout with Hugo Kelly, but no one thinks the Italian will bother him. Stanley Ketchel's friends are urging him not to ask for a return match next year, but the Western wonder probably will heed.

The one man who shapes up as having a chance, and a royal chance, of giving the Illinois thunderbolt a battle for his title is by Papke's own declaration barred from a test of speed, strength and skill with the champion. That man is Sam Langford. The dusky phenom has been tapping 'em over right and left down east. He fights middleweights, welterweights and heavyweights and disposes of them all with ease. He has been boosted for a chance at Ketchel and Papke, but Bill says there's nothing doing for the colored man. It is to be hoped that he can be prevailed upon to change his mind, for while there's a man conceded a chance with him those of the fight-loving public who want a champion to be a real champion will want the issue to be decided. Perhaps if Papke finds the field barren and no one to meet him Sam may be given a chance. Meanwhile, as Papke won from the man who promised he would go into the heavyweight ranks and bet Burns, he will wait to see if the Illinois man will spring anything in this line.

WRESTLER FROM THE SULTAN OF TURKEY'S COURT, WHO HAS WON INTERNATIONAL HONORS

Turkey, that land of the Orient, that is so much in the eye of the politician of to-day has for ages been the land of wrestlers. Long even before this land, that to-day boasts of its Gotch, Burns, Jenkins, was even discovered, the land of the Sultan had the great wrestlers.

In recent years probably the Turkish wrestler most in the eye of the American public was poor Yousof, who, with his purse of dollars, went down in the ill-fated Elbe. Then there was Madraile, the man whom Hack beat in two minutes. Both these men were the Sultan's wrestlers attached to the Sultan's palace on the shores of the Golden Horn. Madraile was told to come back without a defeat on his head or he would be put in the basket. He never went back to the land of olives, for he got wise and is still in England. And now comes another Sultan's royal wrestler, a man who has won great honors both in Paris and Brazil where the wrestling game is great sport. Abdallah is a man of good family in his own town on the shores of the Bosphorous. His brother is on the private staff of the Sultan, a kind of secretary or aide de camp, in fact, and Hassan got away without that forbidding honor of losing his head if beaten.

He is undefeated in Brazil, once defeated in Paris by Paul Pons, and is undefeated in America, although it must be explained he has only wrestled four matches. These were with Karlsen of Sweden, Auvrey of Belgium, Perrill, the fighting Dago—this was undoubtedly a clever performance—and on Monday night at Sherbrooke when he beat Simard the French-Canadian heavyweight in 6 minutes and 4 minutes. To show his great strength of arm and hand, immediately after the last-mentioned bout, he took from people in the audience a number of pennies and bent them between his fingers with one hand. When told he was matched with a man who had a victory over Yankee Rogers whom he said he had heard of in Paris, he shrugged his shoulders and said he would meet both men the same evening. There is evidently gall as well as intrigue in Constantinople.

Gene had better get busy if he intends to get a victory or even put up a good fight.

Who Will Meet Longboat in a Three Mile Race at the Athletic Meet Next Thursday Night

SPORTING COMMENT

Uneasy lies the head these days that wears a crown—of straw.

The Herald road race this year promises to be the best yet. With Tom Longboat, Tom Coley, Fred Simpson, Harry Lawson, Eddie Cotter, Claude Pearce and many others training for the event, the "railbirds" have plenty of work ahead of them.—Hamilton Herald.

Jimmy Reynolds, the Port Hope walking barber, is at it again. On Monday, Jimmy will attempt to walk from Port Hope to Toronto and return in 33 hours. Jimmy would have looked at home in the asylum sports yesterday.—Hamilton Spectator.

Another Canadian has made good in the American league this year, Eddie Summers one of the Detroit Tigers' leading pitchers and inventor of the now famous knuckle ball, hails from Winchester, Ont. Summers was teaching school and playing semi-professional ball near Windsor. Hughey Jennings, manager of the Tigers, heard of his work, and as a result, Summers joined his team and has made good in his first year in professional ball. The Canadians in the big leagues are: "Mooney" Gibson, the star back stop of the Pittsburg Pirates, National league; Dockman and Hickey of the Torontos, and Bill O'Hara of the Baltimore Eastern League teams.

ABDALLAH AND HURTUBISE ON SEPTEMBER 23

Date Has Been Definitely Decided Upon --- Result Means Much to Gene

Arrangements have been closed for a bout between Hurtubise and Hassan Abdullah, the Terrible Syrian. The match has been definitely fixed for Sept. 23rd, and will take place at the Brock street rink.

Both men are actively training for the bout and judging from what can be learned from the Syrian's training quarters, he is quite confident of winning. The result of the match means a great deal to Gene. Should he win he will be able to branch out into the professional heavyweight wrestling with good prospects. If he loses it will take him sometime to overcome the defeat.

Fred McGrath Training Hard for Sprint With Bobby Kerr—Regards Hamiltonian as Wonder

Fred McGrath will be well conditioned for his dash with Bobby Kerr at the Harrier's meet. He informed the Review last night that he was feeling well and had been training at Riverside Park for the past three weeks.

Fred has a very high opinion of Bobby Kerr, both personally and as a runner.

"He's the best in the business," remarked the local sprinter, "and is regarded as a phenomenon by all those who have seen him perform."

MISS FIDGETY TRIMMED THE BLUE STREAK

Exciting Race at Toronto Thursday in a Rough Sea---Brockville Boat Was First

Special to the Review.

Toronto, September 11 — Yesterday's motor boat race in the lake off the Exhibition grounds over the National Yacht Club course was a decidedly exciting affair. A choppy southwest sea ran, and made things decidedly lively for the contestants. Only three of the four entries turned out. Smalley, the Brockville boat; Blue Streak and Miss Fidgety of Toronto. It was a foregone conclusion that barring accident the long, slim, Smalley would win handily. She went away from her rivals at the start, and slowly but surely drew out a lead, but the surprise of the day was when Art Holden in Miss Fidgety trimmed the saucy Jack Robinson's Blue Streak. The owners of these two boats are the keenest of rivals. The little vanished craft and the robin's egg blue flyer hooked up at the start and the way they smashed into the seas in their endeavors to worst each other made the spectators sit up. They drove along at times half concealed by flying spray, when they were headed into the seas, but wet or dry they were held at top speed all the way, Miss Fidgety winning by 49 seconds.

EDMONTON TO PLAY FOR CUP

Ottawa, September 12—The challenge of the Renfrew Hockey Club, champions of the Upper Ottawa Valley League, for the Stanley Cup, will not be accepted by the trustees. The Renfrews challenged last spring, but the trustees do not think that they have qualified to play for the cup as the league they played in was only a three club one and then there was no play off with the Lower Ottawa League champions as there should have been to make the Renfrews really champions. The trustees will be glad to favorably consider a challenge from Renfrew this season if they get into a strong league and win the first honors. The only challenge now in and accepted is the one from the Edmonton Club who say positively that they are coming after the silverware.

DOG RACE AT LOCAL FAIR

Ex-Mayor Yelland Again Offers Prize of Five Dollars

The dog race will be a feature of the Peterborough fair again this year. Ex-Mayor Yelland has again offered a $5 prize for the event and a big list of entries is looked for. Boys who have dogs trained to pull a cart or waggon should put them through their facings for the race. The prize is a good one and well worth the boys trying for.

THE RING

Tommy Burns is today one of the best fixed boxers in the realm of Queensberry and is making money faster than any fighter that ever wore the heavyweight crown. Most of Burns' earnings have come from abroad the field in America still being open to him when he returns. If he is matched to fight when he gets back home all he will have to do is to start on a theatrical tour preceding the match and this alone will probably bring him in more money than John L. Sullivan ever made in a year on his tours, his ring battles being excepted. If John L. was a smart fellow, then Burns must be given credit for being a wonder for he has Sully beat a block any way you want to line them up for comparison.

DR. MacPHERSON ON COACHING LINES

The rugby team is having a workout at Riverside Park this afternoon. Dr. A. W. MacPherson is out with the boys and giving them some pointers on playing the game.

His return to the city will be welcomed by the players and his coaching will be of great use.

THE RING

London, Sept. 11.—Tommy Burns has at last decided to fight Jack Johnston the colored heavyweight who has trailed him all over the world for a battle. A syndicate of Australians has practically clinched the match, which will probably take place in Sydney during the latter part of November.

They have offered a purse of $25,000 for a finish fight with 4-ounce gloves, the winner to receive 60 and the loser 40 per cent.

Arrangements were concluded today and the details are all that remain to be settled. During his victorious and profitable stay in this country Burns has lost many friends by his refusal to meet the negro.

His claim that he should receive almost the entire receipts did not savor much of sportsmanship, and it began to appear as if fear of his rival kept him from signing up for a battle to determine a world's championship.

Johnson, on the other hand, has gained many admirers. Constant pressure on Burns and the fact that he was going backward in public esteem are supposed to be the main reasons why he has concluded to fight Johnston.

FAIR DIRECTOR REPLIES

In last night's Review a letter signed 'Otonabee Horseman,' and in which was suggested that the 2.17 class on the first day of the fair in Peterborough, be changed to a free for all, brings the following reply from one of the directors who thinks the 2.17 class at the fair should not be changed to a free for all.

In reply to the Otonabee Horseman I wish to advise him that the class as it stands, is much better than a free for all. It gets outside horses to come in that would otherwise not. Who ever saw more than three horses in a free for all, whereas a 2.17 class will let such horses in as Maud Wilkes, Gipsy Girl, Deltie, Harry Direct, Muriel Wilks, Queen's Baron and any other horses with marks around 2.17 and upwards. The directors are well aware why this change is suggested but they are catering to the public and not to one individual.

Yours respectfully,
DIRECTOR OF FAIR.

WOOD PRICES DROPPING

It is cheerful to know in these times of rising prices that wood is falling, and the householder who thinks of buying kindling and light wood will do well to read the advertisement of the Ontario Coal Co. The reduction in price is a decided advantage, and well worth considering. Better buy now.

DOMINION ELECTIONS

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN:—The condition of industry in Canada is bad. The condition of workingmen is following suit. Their beautiful homes are becoming the prey of reduced circumstances. To the extent that we pay out money to other countries for work that should be done here we are traitors to our workingmen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought this about to such a degree that Canada has paid out in the last twelve years (being the term during which the Liberals have been in power) hundreds of millions of dollars more than she took in. It was not so under a protectionist government. Those millions should have been spent at home. Then there would have been work for our workers to that extent at any rate, and what is more, the money would have been kept in the country. As it is we have to borrow to get it back. We have to borrow for gigantic enterprises which serve to make the big money-lender, the stock-gambler and the contractor rich, but what good is it doing the workingman? To add insult to his injury Sir Wilfrid Laurier has opened the gates on the East and the West to immigrants. Those on the East, our own kith and kin, have been misled by misrepresentatation and entrapped by agents who are paid a bonus for their capture. Those on the West are the untold millions of the Orient who are displacing the whites in B.C. are working East and are dispossessing Canadians of their own country. They lower the rate of wages and the standard of living. If Canada is to be kept up as she was but a few years ago she must not be allowed to fall into the class of "cheap and nasty" nations. If her people are to be well housed, well fed, well educated and above the condition of sweaters, they must demand a tariff against sweatwork, against undue immigration, against undue importation and a high protection for employers and employed alike, against the trickery of men who make their money on the stock market and by graft. The workers are slowly but surely becoming poorer than they used to be in this naturally rich and resourceful country. Why? Because the cream of all work goes to the money-lender of New York and London.

Why are the men of Canada idle? Because others will do the work cheaper in Britain and Germany and we let them invade our markets while they keep us out of theirs. The German tariff, the United States tariff, the French tariff are all vastly higher than ours. Britain protects herself where she needs it, by a Cattle Embargo and by the Patents Act, which requires patented articles (and nearly all are patented) to be manufactured there. There is never depression in France. The French have a high tariff and economize. They have always plenty for a rainy day. The Germans likewise keep their own work in their own country, but are weighed down with militarism. Britain suffers because her work is being done elsewhere, although she is changing that rapidly, but she has an immense start over Canada in her already accumulated capital. The United States is the modern wonder of the world, due altogether to high protection. Protection or tariff has been well said to be the measure of the standard of life amongst the workers. Commodities in protected countries are not higher than in unprotected. Clothing under a low tariff in Canada is higher in price than it used to be under a high tariff. Certain ills due to over-expansion, the machinations of stockgamblers, etc., exist in all countries, but when an ill is plainly preventable, why not prevent it? Sending cash out of the country over and above what we take in will never make us rich. Yet we do it and must do it under our present system of trade. Opening up unnecessary lands as in the West, while Ontario is not half populated or developed is of a piece with rest, but it is the delight of the money-lender. Ontario farms are rapidly decreasing in value. A huge national deficit is accumulating for this year and unless times are checked and we are restored to our own, the coming winter will be a veritable horror. The money that we are borrowing in such immense sums if spent for supplies, made in Canada, would mean work for everyone at good wages. Why then does Sir Wilfrid permit rails for the G. T. P. to be bought out of Canada and clothing that would keep our farmers growing wool and our woollen mills weaving it, to be imported without hindrance?

To say that one government is as bad as another is to say that one man or one set of men is no better as managers than another. We know this to be the reverse of correct in government, in trade, in railways or in anything else. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although the Conservative administration, as it proved, was falling to pieces, could never have got into power had he not agreed to "let the tariff alone." This pledge he contrived to evade on the ground that while the U. S., Germany, etc., were prosperous under a protective tariff, he could make Canada a brilliant and enduring exception under a low tariff and a preference. Now he is compelled to fall back on the statement that depression is worldwide and that therefore Canada must share it.

Then the boast of great enterprises! Vast sums of money have been borrowed and spent but who has got the benefit of it? Who has been made rich? Where has it gone? The charge we make against the administration of Sir Wilfred Laurier is that it is in the grasp of the great money-lenders. It has ceased to represent the people. Is it any wonder men lose faith in the forms of government? Without any government at all there would be a happier people. If the times are not rescued, whether it be by a party or by a people, civilization will be destroyed. The thunder of revolt is already heard. Religion, art, education—all will go with the frenzied efforts of men to get out of the grasp of Money which never loses, never shares its needs, into a state of freedom and the natural fruition of honest work and a resourceful soil.

I am not rich, nor am I able to live without working, as has been said, and I never was. The stock exchange where so many have won fabulous riches at the expense of the steady worker underneath is unknown to me. If I have no money to lose I have none to be ashamed of.

The day of the abject party man is gone. Let humanity have a chance.

I solicit your vote and influence and have the honour to remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

"THE GLOBE" ARGUES AGAIN FOR IMMIGRATION POLICY OF LAURIER GOVERNMENT

THE YELLOW PERIL

"The question of excluding Oriental laborers in Canada is viewed and discussed largely from the standpoint of class interests and antagonism. Those who profit or expect to profit through the advent of Orientals are opposed to exclusion. Railway companies, lumbering companies and other employing corporations at the coast favor the free importation of labor. This attitude is much more strongly supported than would appear on the surface in public discussions. The demands of patriotism and racial unity make many reluctant about publicly avowing a desire to supplant their own countrymen with workers alien and inferior. On the other hand, opposition to the Orientals may appear stronger than it really is, for it is a popular theme with speakers who appeal to workers affected by Oriental competition. Such appeals are effective with the workers of the Pacific coast. Of the white population of British Columbia there are about sixty thousand adult males and there are said to be in the province at the present time 40,000 adult Orientals, not more than 5 per cent being females. Of this alien population 16,000 are Japanese, 16,000 are Chinese and the rest are Hindoos. The aggregate white male population is comparatively so small that the industrial classes must be greatly outnumbered by foreigners.

The secretary of the Oriental Exclusion League stated in Winnipeg that Hindoos and Japanese started work in the mills at 80 and 90 cents per day and were advanced to $1.50 their living expenses being 20 cents per day. Mill owners could discharge a white man earning $3.50 a day and living at an expense of $800 a year and install three Orientals in his place. Such a course may be condemned in some quarters but until we draw nearer to the milienium we need not expect employing corporations to throw away chances of increasing profits in order that they maintain a higher standard of industrial citizenship. The movement for exclusion may be strengthened when the Orientals undertake new enterprises. The Japanese fishermen were welcomed by the canners, for they lowered the rate allowed for catching salmon. Now they have the fishing industry completely in their own hands, and white men are afraid, especially at night, to engage in the work. When Japanese of wealth and enterprise make a further move and establish canneries of their own, the exclusion movement may be strengthened, but the resistance to it will be proportionate. It may be the same with many other large enterprises. Oriental labor for a time a source of great profit, may lead up to Oriental rivalry.

The question is complicated by the imperial issues involved in Britain's amicable relations with Japan. It would be unwise to heed the counsel of alarm or despair from the Pacific coast. Canadians can hold their own against any form of competition from any branch of the human race. The agreement with Japan restricts immigrants of the working class and others are under direct control. Permanent success will rest with the superior race."—The Globe.

LARGE GATHERING OF Y.M.C.A. MEN

Complimentary Dinner by Mr. John Penman at Toronto—Local Men Present

Last Thursday evening eighty-six men from all over Canada were the guests of Mr. John Penman at McConkey's Toronto. Mr. Penman, well known for his gifts to educational and philanthropic institutions and his active interest in Y.M.C.A work is chairman of the Provincial Committee, which has the supervision of the Y.M.C.A. work in Ontario and Quebec.

Among the guests were Principal Falconer, of Toronto University, Principal Kilpatrick of Knox College, Professor McCrimmon, and many prominent business and professional men of Toronto and Montreal.

Addresses on different phases of Association work were given by Messrs. T. H. Billings student secretary for Canada; J. M. Dudley, Railroad Secretary for Canada; F. H. Ritchie, Boys' Secretary for Canada; C. R. Sayer, Provincial Secretary for the Canadian West; D. A. Budge, and C. M. Copeland, Provincial Secretary for Ontario and Quebec.

The growth of the Association in Canada and its tremendous possibilities as well as its value in influencing the lives of young men was the dominant note of all the speeches.

There was present a business man from St. Johns, Newfoundland, who stated that there is no Y.M.C.A. in Newfoundland, but initial steps are now being taken towards organization.

The local Association was represented by Mr. F. G. Hazard the General Secretary, and Mr. G. M. Roger, one of the directors, who is also a member of the Provincial Committee of Ontario and Quebec.

MACHINISTS STILL OUT AT HAVELOCK

Men From Toronto Who Replaced Them Get Their Supplies From Peterboro'

Special to the Review.

Havelock, September 11.—The strike situation in Havelock remains the same. There are about thirty men on strike and as yet their ranks are unbroken and they are confident of making the CPR come to terms. A great many men have been brought down from Toronto. Some have returned on advice of the strikers, others have been given jobs in town, while about thirty men are at work in the shops. They sleep in cars near the shops and do not come into the town. All supplies are brought from Peterborough. There are several detectives on duty here at present. The CPR trains appear to be making pretty good time considering the fact that the Toronto Exhibition puts them out quite a bit. A celebration was held in the park on Labor Day in aid of the strikers. The great attraction was a football match between Canadians and Old Country boys, resulting in a draw, there being two goals scored on each side. A baseball match between the Havelock senior and junior teams was also an interesting feature. The afternoon closed with a shooting match for ducks. The financial returns were all that would be expected.

POLITICAL NOTES

There is as yet no sign of "Gerhumbug" over Mr. Stratton's candidature. If there were any in the Liberal press it is possible the Examiner would have discovered it. It looks like a "conspiracy of silence."

The man who keeps straight will make enemies, of course, and bitter ones.

A party whose conventions nominate Hon. J. R. Stratton in Ontario needs a little of the virtuous advice the Globe has been squandering upon a party whose camp followers distributed whiskey in Nova Scotia.—Toronto Telegram.

When Mr. Robert Hall, the Peterborough M.P., left the precincts of Parliament at prorogation it probably had not occurred to him that his extensive business interests would within a few short weeks, demand the whole of his time. Yet that is the published excuse for his retirement and the substitution of Mr. James Stratton as the Liberal candidate. Mr. Stratton's paper rather broadly hints that he is going back to the political game in order that he may get after the people who have been saying things about him since his retirement from Ontario politics. But if by any chance the Government were returned and Mr. Stratton elected they would find themselves in mutually congenial company.—Ottawa Journal.

DOMINION GRANGE PROTESTS AGAINST THE EXPENDITURE

Salary Grab, Military Extension, Bounties to Private Interests and Railway Subsidies Are Condemned—Tariff Should Also Be Revised

The Dominion Grange of Canada, has issued the following circular regarding the approaching Dominion elections;

To All Subordinate Granges;

The Executive of the Dominion Grange respectfully directs the attention of all members of Subordinate Granges to the opportunity which the pending Dominion election affords for pressing forward certain demands to which the Grange has on more than one occasions committed itself. We do not ask that any member of a Subordinate Grange shall abandon the party with which it is allied. What we do ask is that all those who are connected with either one of the great party organizations shall endeavor to make use of that organization to advance the reforms which the Grange has been steadily urging for years. This can be done by endeavoring, where nominations have not yet been made, to secure the nomination of candidates in sympathy with our views, by pressing, by letter or personal interview; these views on candidates already in the field; by making the questions in which we are so keenly interested, subjects of discussion at meetings to be held during the campaign about to open.

Chief among the subjects on which the Grange has pronounced so far as federal questions are concerned are the following:

1 The salary grab.
2 Military expansion.
3 Bounties to private interests,
4 Railway subsidies.
5 Increasing expenditure.
6 The tariff.

We believe an increase in the sessional indemnity of members of Parliament to $2500 was wholly uncalled for and has been one of the chief causes of the waste of time in useless discussion at Ottawa, with all this involves in adding to the general cost of legislation. We believe $1500 an ample allowance for all the time that the members of a business Parliament really need to spend at Ottawa. We also disapprove of the annual vote of $7000 to the leader of the Opposition.

Eighteen years ago our expenditure on militia and mounted police, aside from cost of armories was a little over $2,000,000. In 1906 the last full year for which official figures are available the cost of the same services was $6,600,000. In the expenditure on armories which is carried out under the Public Works Department, a proportionate increase has taken place. It is now proposed to go still further in this same direction and make military training a compulsory part of the Public school system. Against this tendency to emulate the military madness of European farmers on whom the chief burden of all this falls should make vigorous protest.

According to the Canadian Year Book, issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, there was paid out in bounties to iron and steel manufacturers, by the Dominion Government, in the thirteen years from 1896 to 1907 inclusive, over nine and one half million dollars. This money was not paid for goods bought by and delivered to the Government. It was an absolutely free gift by the Government to this favored interest.

Nor is the iron and steel industry the only beneficiary of this bounty system. From 1882 to 1907 inclusive over $4,050,000 was paid for bounties to the fishermen of Quebec and the Maritime provinces. In the nine years ending with 1907, the sum of $772,843 was paid in bounties, and in three years ending with 1907, petroleum producers received $907,757 in the same way. Farmers on whom the chief burden of meeting these exactions fall should unite in demanding a discontinuance of the whole system.

Between the beginning of the fiscal year of 1884 and the end of the short fiscal year of 1907, a period subsequent to the $25,500,000 donation to the Canadian Pacific, almost the even thirty-five and a half million dollars was paid out of the federal treasury in railway subsidies. In addition to this millions of acres of land have been granted by the Dominion and the various provinces. Many of these subsidies were granted for lines in parts of Ontario settled for 100 years. These lines pay a little more than nominal taxation, while in adjoining States railways built without subsidy pay $400 per mile and more in taxation. Surely the time has come for farmers to insist that no matter which party may succeed in the coming election this particular form of misappropriating the people's funds shall absolutely cease and determine.

Eighteen years ago the total disbursements of the Dominion Government under all heads was less than $42,000,000. In 1906, the last full year for which we have official figures the total was over eighty-three and one quarter millions. The appropriations for the current fiscal year, aside from the railway subsidy voted, amount to over $130,000,000. True the country has expanded and population has increased but expenditure has run far ahead of development and it is up to the farmers, who stay on the ground, whose capital is in a sense fixed and immovable, to demand that a check shall be put upon this rapid increase in an annual burden, which rests mainly on their shoulders.

In 1906 the last full year for which we have the official figures, $173,000,000 worth of goods subject to duty were imported in Canada, and the same amount in duties on these imports was $46,671,000. This was at the rate of nearly 27 per cent. In other words the first cost of a dollar's worth of goods was increased, to $1.27, by the tariff. By the time the profits of the wholesale and retail merchants were added on, the cost was at least $1.40. And this is not all. By reason of the protection afforded home manufacturers the latter were put in a position to add a proportionate amount to the selling price of $718,000 worth of manufactured goods produced in this country. Still in the face of all this manufacturers are seeking to secure an addition to the protection now enjoyed by them. They are endeavoring to obtain this by working through both great political parties. It is up to farmers to use the same means to compel a reduction rather than an increase in the burdens imposed.

Our brethren in Michigan some years ago carried on a similar campaign in the matter of railway taxation. They made use of their representation with both political parties in that State to urge the fair taxation of railways and as a result railways in Michigan today pay about $400 per mile in taxation as against $100 here. By following the example we well set, we may secure the reforms herein advocated.

DEFENDANT WAS ACQUITTED AFTER INTERESTING TRIAL

Mock Trial Under Auspices of Y. M. C. A. Marked Success —Splendid Work of Those Taking Part— Afforded Great Amusement

A thoroughly successful and much appreciated affair was the mock court trial held at the Conservatory of Music Hall last night under the auspices of the Boy's Department of the Y.M.C.A. The main issue of the evening was the suit for damages for breach of promise announced under the title of "Are our ladies' affections to be trifled with?"

The case was very cleverly handled by both the defence and the prosecution and bright sayings of the counsel and witnesses kept the audience in perpetual laughter. Col. O. V. Newton, of Worcester, Mass., who puts on the entertainment in various places, acted as the prosecuting attorney, and Mr. Walter Davidson appeared on behalf of the defendant, who was mercilessly attacked by the other lawyer, but who managed to get the favorable verdict of "not guilty" from the jury. The cross-examination of the prosecuting attorney was very interesting and he assumed somewhat the ultra sympathetic attitude of Col. Bosfuz towards Mrs Bardel in the celebrated Pickwick trial and on one occasion, was so moved by the plight of his downtrodden defendant that he was compelled to shed several real salt crocodile tears.

Mr. Walter Davidson, the defendant's counsel, put up a splendid defence and his address to the jury was a brilliant one. Judge R. F. McWilliams was most impartial and just in all his rulings.

Mr. George Martin, the court crier, announced the opening of court with the case of the King vs Bunton, the latter being charged with overexertion. A plea of guilty was entered, but leniency was asked for as it was the first offence. Benjamin Shortly was charged with eating all the oysters at a church social. The case was ruled out on a technicality, the defence calling attention to the fact that "s" had been used on the end of the word oysters and the plural of the toothsome clam is never in evidence at a church social. The prosecution could offer no opposition to the strong point advanced. Mr. W. G. Davidson was counsel for defence in both cases.

MR. R. F. McWILLIAMS
Who Essayed Role of "A Daniel Has Come to Judgement."

The big trial was then heard and resulted as stated.

CHARACTERS.

The characters of the mock trial were:

Judge, R. F. McWilliams.
Plaintiff, Miss Ruth Carlisle.
Defendant, Chas. Reid.
Prosecuting Attorney, Col. A. V. Newton.
Defendant's Attorney, Walter Davidson.
Clerk of Court, S. R. Armstrong.
Court Officer, W. H. G. Higgins.
Court Crier, George Martin.
Witnesses, Dr. J. Malcolm McCulloch, G. E. Bruce, Frank Simpson and Misses Florence Coveney and Hazel J. Pentland.
Jurors, A. W. Cressman, J. J. Turner, jr., J. H. Connal, A. B. Cunningham, V. Eastwood, R. N. McWilliams, R. M. Glover, R. J. Kidd, R. L. Dobbin, J. F. Thornton, C. G. Graham, A. MacFarlane.

All taking part did admirably and considering they had practically no time in which to prepare their lines their work in connection with the famous case was decidedly clever.

It is understood the jury gave the verdict without receiving financial encouragement from either side. A feature of the trial was the fact that the plea of insanity was not advanced at any stage.

The crowd was a large one and greatly appreciated the entertaining proceedings.

The committee desires to thank all those who contributed their services especially Mr. Charles Reid, who came in at the last hour and so successfully took the part of the defendant. Also to Mr. D. Belleghem for furniture loaned.

The decision was gained after five hours' of weary tramping and marching and the troops were heartily glad when it was over.

CANON DAVIDSON SPEAKS TO Y.M.C.A. MEN IN ENGLAND

Address Given by Local Cleryman in the Y.M.C.A. Hall at Homescroft, Suffolk County — An Interesting Discourse.

The following article from the Lowestcroft Journal of Lowestcroft, Suffolk County, England, refers to an address given by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church, at the men's meeting of the Y.MCA. of that town:

Upwards of 70 men were present on Sunday afternoon in the YMCA. Hall, at the men's meeting. Canon Davidson, rector of Peterborough, Canada, and delegate to the recent Pan-Anglican Congress, was the speaker, taking for his subject, "The Land of the Setting Sun." The singing was excellently led by the instrumental band under the direction of Mr. Bobby, and Miss Welsford very appropriately sang, "The Better Land." Mr A. E. Brown accompanied.

Canon Davidson's address was wonderfully interesting and informative. His account of the religious and social life of Canada, —more particularly Ontario, with which he is so well acquainted —and his impressions as a visitor, of the religious and social life of this country was very striking.

Incidentally the speaker paid a warm tribute to the work of the YMCA throughout Canada. In practically every town the association had a splendid building and was doing good work. The clergy and ministers in the Dominion were unanimous in their whole hearted support of the YMCA. and to use the speaker's own words, "not for anything would we be without the association in Peterborough. Secular education prevails in the day schools in Canada and Canon Davidson urged his hearers to fight against its introduction into this country. Their experience of secular education was proving to be disastrous to leave the children practically untaught, so far as religious education was concerned.

The Sunday Schools could not make up the deficiency and clergy and ministers alike in that country were united in the matter of bringing pressure to bear on the Government for the introduction of the Bible in the schools with a view to simple Bible teaching. They asked for the teaching of no creeds or doctrines, except the foundation truths on which they were all agreed, and the demonstration to the children that the Bible and religion was at least as important as their other lessons. They had a problem of juvenile offenders, for which secular education was partly responsible. In very effective terms the speaker showed that in the matter of temperance reform, the Dominion was far ahead of this country. Morality, the unity of the churches, the temper of the people, thrift, was included among other subjects made between Canada and this country showed that Canon Davidson had been clearly studying the everyday life of the people in the old country during his visit.

Throughout the address the speaker lost no opportunity of pointing lessons from his impressions and at the close directed the thoughts of his hearers to the necessity of preparing to become inhabitants of "The Better Land," so beautifully set out in the solo. The address extended well beyond the ordinary time for closing and was greatly appreciated.

PETERBOROUGH SHOULD HAVE A SUITABLE RIFLE RANGE

That Peterborough should have a suitable rifle range was the opinion advanced last night by a well known local military man. He regards a range as practically a matter of necessity and says in view of the importance of rifle shooting it seems to him that the Dominion authorities should lose no time in having one built.

"The 57th should be able to turn out some crack shots," he stated, "if proper facilities for target practice were provided. The members of the Dragoons and 24th Battery would also like to have an opportunity of rifle and carbine practice. With the large armouries here it seems strangely out of place not to have a rifle range."

BROTHERHOOD OF CHARLOTTE CHURCH TO BE ORGANIZED

A very encouraging meeting was held at the Charlotte street Methodist church last night for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the formation of a Brotherhood of the men of the church. There were about fifty members of the bible class in attendance on the invitation of Rev. W. G. Henderson, the pastor, and Mr. H. B Collier, who are the prime movers in the matter.

Mr Henderson occupied the chair and outlined the object of the brotherhood. It will be an organization of the men of the church to promote their moral, intellectual and athletic interests.

A committee of four was appointed to draft a constitution and will meet on Wednesday evening for that purpose. On Friday a general meeting will be held for the purpose of effecting organization.

BETTER THINGS AHEAD FOR PETERBOROUGH FALL FAIR

This Year's Exhibition Appears to be the Turning Point in History of the Association---With Fine Weather There Will be Record Crowd.

Peterborough people are naturally interested in the sixth Peterborough Industrial exhibition which will be held at the Driving park on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. The directors and officers have spared no pains to make this year's fair a success and if the citizens of Peterborough give their co-operation and support their efforts will be rewarded. Of course the weather is an uncertain element and it is true that in the past the management of the local exhibition have not been very lucky in choosing dates. This year, however, better things are looked for and if the weather man is in good humor on the three days of the exhibition the directors should have a nice surplus to start with next year. Peterborough should have a better fair than it has but in the past a certain amount of ill-luck has apparently been following the association but the hoodoo cannot last forever and the directors believe that this year will be the turning point. They have worked hard and have prepared a programme that will be interesting as well as instructive. It will appeal both to the people from the city and the country. This is what is required—something that will draw both the urban and rural population.

A REMARKABLE TRIP.

Beech Family's Journey In Northern Wilds Was Memorable One.

Many marvellous feats have been performed by travelers in the northern regions of America. Explorers have suffered hardships and performed great deeds of daring and endurance, in trying to solve the mysteries of the North. Most of these daring adventurers have been white men, and it was not until last year that any white woman braved the perils of the north and made a considerable journey through the trackless wilderness. Last winter two women crossed from Hudson Bay to Winnipeg, a distance of some seven hundred miles. Mrs. Ray and her three children, accompanied by a corps of guides and half a dozen dog trains, crossed from York Factory to Lake Winnipeg. A much greater performance was that of Mrs. Beech, who, accompanied only by her husband and son, with two dog trains, crossed from Fort Churchill to Winnipeg. Fort Churchill is farther north, the distance to Winnipeg greater, and there was no corps of trained guides to insure the party's safety. This ninety day trip made by the Beech family must ever be memorable in the annals of Canadian travel.

This performance, by the first white family to travel by dog train from Fort Churchill to Winnipeg through eleven hundred miles of wilderness, is made all the more remarkable when the ages of two members are considered. Mrs. Beech is 56 years of age, and her husband is 60. For a couple so far advanced in years to attempt so great a journey was certainly a hazardous experiment. The Hudson Bay officials believed that the successful accomplishment of the enterprise was exceedingly doubtful, and could provide them with guides only as far as the Nelson river.

The Beech family left their home on the east side of Churchill river on Dec. 10, 1907. It took them seven days to accomplish the journey along the coast from the mouth of the Churchill to the mouth of the Nelson. When they arrived at the latter river they found it free of ice, and as no boats were available they were forced to wait until the ice had formed. The Nelson river is a wonderful river, draining as it does almost the whole of the vast district between Hudson Bay and the Rocky Mountains. Its current is strong and the volume of water passing down is enormous. At its mouth it is fourteen miles wide.

During this wait at the Nelson river, which lasted twenty-three days, the Beech family were located in a rough shanty on the bank of the river, which they shared with five Indian families. They had only such provisions as they brought with them and the food for the dogs had become exhausted. During the whole of this tedious three weeks the dogs had not a bite to eat. When at last the river froze and a crossing was effected, the dogs were scarcely able to draw the loads over the ice. After the crossing, an Indian chanced along with scant provisions and relieved the situation for a few days. He and Mr. Beech started off on a hunting trip which lasted nine days, but not a deer, rabbit or game of any kind was sighted. Eventually, however, the party managed to reach York Factory. Here they fared a little better, but it was not possible to obtain a candle, a can of condensed milk or a bit of butter. All supplies at Fort Churchill and York Factory are controlled by the Hudson Bay Co., and it is not the policy of that great company to encourage the invasion of its territory by independent persons.

THE PROGRESS OF CANADA A FRENCH-CANADIAN VIEW

Union of Provinces, Says La Presse, Made British North America a Responsible Nation With a Credit of Her Own and the Capacity for Giant Development of Her Resources—Georgian Bay Canal Will Revolutionize Commerce.

The following extract from an article published in La Presse, one of the leading French-Canadian newspapers in Canada, is of interest as it shows the views of our fellow Canadians of another race respecting the trend of Canadians affairs during the forty-one years that have elapsed since Confederation. La Presse writes:

"Canada is perhaps the one country in the world which possesses two national holidays. The first, the 24th of May, is our homage to British sovereignty, while the second is the affirmation of our autonomy. Properly speaking, the first of July is the one holiday for the whole country, and we have a thousand reasons for celebrating the birthday of our Canadian Confederation. What would we be to-day, in fact, without this grouping of our forces? Could we have built an Intercolonial or a single transcontinental railway? Without it the Province of British Columbia and the prairies of the Northwest would have remained ignored quantities and the Maritime Provinces inaccessible neighbors. In fact at that period our credit was so poor that even after Confederation, Great Britain had to guarantee the initial loan of $7,500,000 to commence the construction of the I. C. R. Without the union of the provinces we would have never been able to find the necessary funds, and as a matter of fact, we had to secure British endorsation to the extent of $31,000,000 from 1867 to 1878, or for the first eleven years of the new regime.

"At that time the new Dominion occupied the position of a good farmer well installed on his property, but unable to secure any credit at the banks. The Canadian Confederation, which was the convergence of all our resources and the unification of our prodigious domain from the Atlantic to the Pacific, opened to us the markets of the world, and at the present time we can do business at our own counter. In a word, the first of July should be the most enthusiastic of all the past celebrations, because a great triumph, and an unexpected one, has come to crown our great work—the beginning of that supremacy in the traffic of the continent. The cry of alarm which has just been heard in the powerful metropolis of New York has not failed to thrill the national pride of our country. It is true then that the dream of Canada for many years past has at length been realized. The St. Lawrence has been, in fact, proclaimed by our rivals the key to the commerce of the continent. Wheat, it appears, can be landed in Montreal at two and a half cents less than in the port of New York. It is the vast railway and canal policy based on the federal association that has brought about this result. Foreign capital, encouraged at the sight of our vast lines of communication by sea and by land, has not been afraid to place the largest steamers on our lakes, and to-day there is no less a sum than $140,000,000 invested in our inland navigation.

"This, therefore, is why we to-day command the traffic of lakes Superior and Michigan to the Atlantic ocean. What will therefore be our position when we will have completed the Georgian Bay canal? What a revolution there will then be of the commerce of North America. We are also promised a railway to the Hudson Bay, and La Presse has already designated Fort Churchill as the New Orleans of the north. With the Georgian Bay canal, Montreal will be the New York of the future, and when we will have a port open ten months of the year on the coast of Labrador, our commercial situation will be quite as impregnable in America as that of the British Isles in Europe. It was this Confederation permitted Sir Wilfrid Laurier to proudly proclaim that the twentieth century would belong to Canada. Let us therefore celebrate in a most worthy manner this Confederation, without which Canada would still be two small provinces out of which nothing great could have come."

EFFORT TO TEACH CHILDREN GEOGRAPHY OF THE EMPIRE

Colonial Office Has Inaugurated Scheme Which Has an Imperial Object—Canadian End Now Under Way.

The Colonial Office of the British Empire has inaugurated a scheme which has for its object the supplying of schools of the Empire with views designed to promote in each part of the Empire accurate knowledge of other parts.

The Canadian end of this laudable enterprise is now under way. The idea was first broached in the old country when Chamberlain was Colonial Secretary, and he naturally regarded it with favor. An influential committee representative of the Colonial Office, Indian Government, Victoria League, and several private and semi-private societies was formed with Lord Meath, the well-known advocate of military training for lads, as chairman. Other members were H. J. MacKinder, at that time director of the School of Economics, London, and Prof. Michael Sadler, the well-known British educationist.

After giving the matter serious consideration the committee decided that instruction of the sort proposed would be best conveyed by accurate and comprehensive views and that if anything really helpful was to be accomplished it could only be by some well systematised plan of action.

First, a start was made in the crown colonies of the east, which undertook to introduce lantern slide teaching about Great Britain in the schools.

The slides were prepared by Mr. MacKinder, reader of geography in Oxford University, and author of "Britain and British Seas." Teachers were prepared to accompany the visual instruction.

Later on the Indian Government took the matter up and instituted lantern slide teaching in every province of that country, lectures being translated into the various languages spoken in India. The West Indies, West Africa and other crown colonies followed suit.

More recently the problem of accurately representing the colonies to the school children of the Mother Country has been taken up and in this connection the great difficulty was the lack of funds.

Fortunately the Princess of Wales became interested in the enterprise, her attention having been drawn to it as the result of a lecture by Mr. MacKinder. Through the efforts of Her Royal Highness, a Princess of Wales' fund of some $20,000 was raised to cover the preliminary cost. It was decided to engage a competent artist, and send him through the whole Empire, one who would apply exactly the same principles of treatment to each country of the Empire.

The artist chosen for this important work was A. Hugh Fisher, who first exhibited at the Royal Academy when 20 years of age, and who has studied under the best masters, and is a member of the Royal Society of Painters. Mr. Fisher has already visited many of the crown colonies of the east, and has produced a set of photographs of the regions visited and also color sketches.

A set which will shortly be issued to show the Princess of Wales will be available throughout the Empire at the cost of production.

Mr. Fisher will now spend some time in Canada. He has been here several days planning his campaign. He is going west at once to see the prairie harvest and the Rockies. Then he will come east for the autumn and visit the fruit districts.

While in Ottawa Mr. Fisher met Mr. MacKinder, editor of the series, who is at present in Canada on his own account. Mr. Fisher hopes to produce uniform, coherent sets of views of the whole Empire, which should be used with beneficial effect in the schools of Canada, as well as those of England.

Weds a Hindu.

The first wedding in this country between a white woman and a Hindu occurred at St. James' Church, Vancouver, recently. The bride was Mrs. Annie Wright, an attractive-looking woman in the early thirties. She has a daughter of nine or ten years of age. The groom was Joseph Munchi-Singh. Mrs. Munchi-Singh discussed her second embarkation on the sea of matrimony with much pride, saying:

"My husband is Hindu and has been in British Columbia for five years. He is 26 years of age, well educated, and speaks and writes English very fluently. I have known him for a long time, and he is a good man. Some of my relatives objected to the marriage, but my brother, who has lived in Vancouver for twenty years, knows my husband well, and approved of the match."

Lady Violet Can Milk.

Lady Violet Elliot, daughter of Lord Minto, now visiting at Government House, gave a unique demonstration of her ability to take a useful place on the farm. While visiting a dairy farm at Deschenes with a Government House party Earl Grey jokingly remarked to her.

"I wonder if you can milk a cow?"

Lady Violet promptly showed him that she could. The cow was milked, the milk put through the cooling process and then bottled by the daughter of India's Viceroy.

Carp For Toronto Jews.

A new industry has sprung up around Beaverton in the shape of carp fishing. Enterprising fishermen from the village catch these fish in nets and ship them to the Jewish population in Toronto.

Hunting a House

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Wilson jangled the big bunch of keys as he inserted one of the number into the lock of a door on a large empty house, turned the key and threw the door open.

"Step in, Miss House Hunter For Another," he exclaimed, with a magnificent wave of his hand.

Dorothy White laughed as she entered.

"I only hope Bertha likes the house we pick out for her," she replied. "Bertha's the first prospective bride I ever knew that couldn't find time to go house hunting herself. And Jo is just as bad. It's a wonder to me they ever found time enough to decide to get married."

"While we," assented Wilson, "not only have time enough to investigate innumerable dwellings for them, but also have so much leisure that we could get married several times if we cared to."

"Which we don't," the girl promptly cried. "I'm going to be a bachelor girl," she added, with a certain air of defiance.

Wilson laughed.

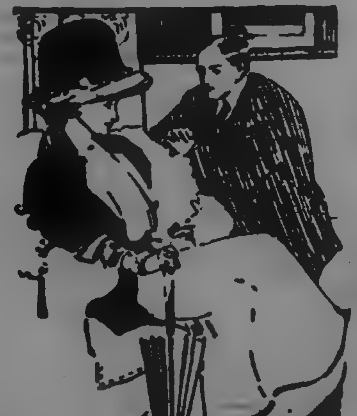
"What," he cried, "a bachelor girl? And with those rose petal cheeks and those twinkling eyes and"—

"You mustn't say those things." Dorothy, blushing prettily, stopped him.

"It's a cousin's privilege," declared Wilson.

"But you're only a third cousin."

"That's a good enough excuse," declared Wilson and continued as though he had not been interrupted, "and with those lips—those kissable lips!"



"THERE'S ONLY ONE THING TO DO NOW."

He advanced toward her.

"I've heard something more about cousins' privileges," he exclaimed.

The girl made a quick retreat across the length of the big room in which they were standing to the big bay window that overlooked the porch.

"This house seems almost too big," she exclaimed hurriedly. "It would take a lot of furniture to make it seem cheerful and a lot of people, too, I think. I"—

"I guess you don't like your little cousin," sadly murmured Wilson from his post across the room.

"Oh, pshaw, of course I do!" Dorothy exclaimed, laughing and blushing. "Don't be a goose!" She hurried on: "I'm sure Bertha and Jo wouldn't care for this place. Let's try another house."

"Plenty more to try," declared Wilson. "I've got the keys here for about a million and a half." And he jangled the keys again.

They left the big house, with its big rooms, big bay window and big veranda, and turned away. Wilson consulted a list which he had in his pocket and then directed their steps into a quiet, pretty, little side street where the houses were mainly cottages with miniature gardens and lawns in front and where a general air of homely cosiness and comfort seem to prevail.

In the middle of one of the squares stood an especially attractive little home, with a tiny veranda and a tree or two in the front yard. The house seemed to have a saucy air, as though it were saying to every one: "I'm all nice and cozy. Don't you wish you were as comfortable as I am?"

The girl clapped her hands when she saw it.

"Oh, what a dear little house!" she cried. "Oh, I just love it!"

The girl clapped her hands again and, opening the gate, ran up the little path to the veranda, where, shading her face with her hands, she peered into the interior.

"It's just a dear!" she cried again as Wilson opened the door and she ran in.

From room to room she darted breathlessly; then, the inspection finished, she sat down on the third step of the stairs which ran from the hall to the second story.

"It's just the thing for Bertha and Jo!" she cried at last. "I know just how they can arrange everything. The front room they'll have fixed up nice and livable. Jo will have a big easy chair there by the window, where he can smoke and read in the evening and the piano will be opposite the window, with its side to the wall, so that Bertha can play and yet see Jo while he smokes. And then that open fire—think how cosy it will be for them in the winter!"

"Yes, that would be all right for some couples," said Wilson, "but honestly, Dorothy, do you think that Jo and Bertha with all their money would be content to begin life in a humble cottage like this, in the humble way you suggest?"

"Why, Harry, of course they will!" the girl exclaimed in a hurt tone. "When they see what a dear house it is they'll just fall in love with it, as I have."

"Maybe," said Wilson dubiously, "but it strikes me that it would be more suited to—well, say, for example, a couple like us—if we were married. The rent of this house can't be much, and I haven't got much money. You're in love with the house, and I'm in love with—it too. Now"—

"Goodness!" she exclaimed. "We'll have to hurry if we're going to investigate all those other houses!"

Somewhat sulkily Wilson locked the door of the little house. But he and the girl visited no more houses that afternoon, for Wilson very suddenly became converted to the idea that Bertha and Jo would be charmed by the little house, and nothing would do but he must see the real estate agent and secure an option on it. The girl demurred at this at first, but Wilson finally convinced her that Bertha and Jo would be mightily pleased at their action in securing such a desirable home for them.

The real estate dealer's office was finally found and the option secured. Then the couple started on their journey to Bertha's home, where they would acquaint her with what they had done.

"They'll be very happy there," said Dorothy somewhat wistfully as they left the office.

"Sure they will," assented Wilson. "Any one could be happy in a little house like that."

For some reason Wilson's mood had become rather joyous. He solicitously took Dorothy's arm and skilfully guided her through the crowds. It was becoming dusk, and the street lights were not yet out. They turned into a side street on a short cut to Bertha's home, which was a big, ornate affair. It looked blatant and uncomfortable. The little house from which Dorothy and Wilson had come by the comparison to them seemed much more desirable.

Bertha had not yet arrived when they entered, but a moment after they had seated themselves in the drawing room she flew in. As usual, she seemed very busy and was in a tremendous hurry.

"Oh, I'm so glad you came, people!" Bertha exclaimed. "I won't have to put you people to any more trouble trying to find a house for us. Jo and I managed to find time to look at one this afternoon. It is a nice big one, has large rooms and a big bay window, and we're just delighted to get it. The agent said you had been looking at it. Wait a minute until I take off my wraps."

She left the room. The two young people she had left looked at each other.

"And you've signed the option!" exclaimed Dorothy.

"Yes," said Wilson, suppressed and eager. "There's only one thing to do now."

"What's that?" asked the girl shyly and with averted face.

"Take the house ourselves."

When Bertha came to the door of the room a moment later she did not enter, as she had intended. She gave one look, saw Dorothy and Wilson standing in the middle of the room, very close together, and then she fled. As she fled, though, she heard Wilson say somewhat tremulously:

"Don't blush so, dear. It's a cousin's privilege, you know."

Pompeii.

Pompeii remained a heap of hardened mud and ashes from A. D. 79 to the year 1592, when the architect Fontana, in cutting an aqueduct, came upon some ancient buildings. It was not, however, until 1748, over a century and a half after Fontana's discovery, that the "finds" were recognized as being a part of Pompeii.

Treaties.

The first formal and written treaty made in England with any foreign nation was entered into at Kingston between Henry III. and the dauphin of France on Sept. 11, 1217.

Saving Jimmie.

By LULU JOHNSON.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

"Paste her on the trademark, Skinny," urged the captain of the team. And Skinny, otherwise Master James Treadgear, being ever mindful of advice, "pasted" the sphere with such good effect that the ball sailed over the stone wall at the far end of the lot.

This changed jubilation into regret, for not even three scores brought in by the home run offset the fact that Skinny had knocked a fifty cent ball over the wall into the colonel's garden.

Billy Sniffen, who had been cajoled into lending his new ball to the "big fellows," some of whom were all of twelve years of age, let out a roar at the sudden disappearance of his property.

Balls that went over the high stone barrier which surrounded the property of the peppery Colonel Moulton were regarded as good as lost. None of the boys dared brave the wrath of the retired officer in search of lost property.

Colonel Moulton would have been regarded as an ogre by mediaeval youth, for he stormed and raved at children. The smaller lads firmly believed that he liked to kill children, and when dusk had fallen they hurried past his house lest he spring out and seize them.

Now, at the disappearance of the ball, the outfielders followed the base runners up to the home plate and joined in the volley of reproach directed toward the unfortunate Skinny.

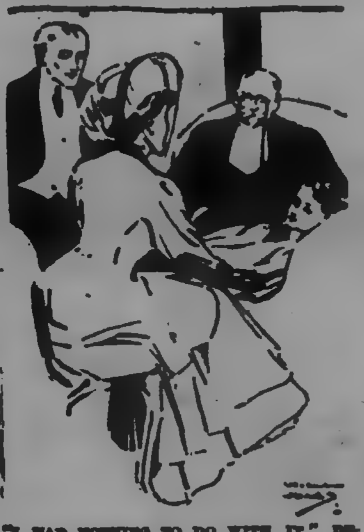
"You told me to paste her," he reminded the scowling captain.

"I didn't tell you to knock her over the wall," was the scornful retort. "Poor Billy's ma'll lick him when he goes home without that ball."

This was an angle from which the unfortunate William had not hitherto viewed his loss, and it caused his grief to double.

"You better skip over the fence and get it," decreed the captain, and the gang shuddered.

Like a true despot, the captain could not be induced to alter his command, and, though he weakened perceptibly as they drew near the fatal wall, he affected a nonchalance he did not feel, and, bending over, he formed his hands into a stirrup, in which the trembling Skinny placed his foot.



"I HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH IT," DECLARED THE COLONEL.

With a heave the boy shot up until his fingers grasped the wall, but he could not hold and came tumbling back, carrying the captain to the ground with him.

"I can't do it," pleaded Skinny, but the captain was adamant.

"You gotter," he insisted, made heartless by a skinned elbow. "Get up there or we'll throw you over."

The threat had its due effect. Skinny clung shivering to the top of the wall for a moment; then he tumbled over on the other side, and in a moment the air was pierced by shrieks of agony so shrill and terrifying that the gang fled incontinently toward the street, with the doughty captain well in the lead.

As they reached the sidewalk and turned to reconnoiter Skinny's sister Lucy came down the street and paused to regard the boys inquiringly.

"Where is Jimmie?" she demanded of the captain.

The captain hung his head.

"That's him," he confessed, with a jerk of his thumb in the direction of the spot whence Jimmie's screams still proceeded.

"We boosted Jimmie over the wall to get a ball he lost, and I guess the colonel's killing him."

The entrance to the stone encircled park of the Moulton place was on the other street, and with the gang trailing after her Lucy ran toward the gate. The boys were there before her, but made way that she might approach the dreaded portal. Every one of her attendants admired the courage and determination with which she pressed the button of the electric bell.

Her finger was still on the porcelain knob when the gate was thrown open and a young man, hatless and without his coat, appeared in the aperture. He started back as he perceived the excited group.

"Has anyone gone for a doctor?" he cried.

"Is a physician needed?" asked Lucy, with sinking heart. It was worse than she had feared. The savage old colonel must have carried his punishment for trespass to an excess that had resulted in serious injury.

"Some of you boys run for a doctor, quick," commanded the young man sharply. "The little fellow has a broken leg."

The entire gang raced up the street after the physician, and Lucy was left alone with the stranger.

"May I come in?" she demanded coldly. "It is my brother whom you have injured."

"You will be most welcome," was the courteous reply. "My father's household does not include any women, and I was somewhat at a loss to make him comfortable. I am Lieutenant Paul Moulton," he added by way of introduction. "My father is Colonel Moulton, and I am visiting him on leave."

"I am Lucy Treadgear," announced Lucy in response. "It is my brother, James, whom you have injured."

Moulton stepped aside to permit her to enter, and after closing the gate he led the way into the house, where Jimmie lay on a sofa in the library with the white haired old soldier leaning over him and trying to soothe his fear.

"He seems to be more frightened than hurt," explained the colonel as he gave place to Lucy, "and a broken leg is no joke at that."

"No wonder," was the indignant response, "when it is known that you have shot at several boys. It is fortunate that you did no more than break his leg—fortunate for you, I mean," she added in explanation.

"Bless your pretty face, I had nothing to do with it," declared the colonel. "As for the shooting, a few blank cartridges and my consequent bad reputation have been the salvation of my fruit trees. This little fellow will tell you himself that neither Paul nor I was in the garden when he fell and broke his leg."

Lucy looked inquiringly at Jimmie, who nodded.

"The boys pushed me up too fast," he explained. "I went right on over. And I didn't get the ball," he added inconsequentially, "and Billy's ma'll lick him for losing it, and Don Fraser said he'd lick me if I didn't get it."

"I'll find it," volunteered the lieutenant, and he slipped out, leaving Lucy with the colonel.

"My bark is worse than my bite," explained the old colonel, with reddening face. "I had to do something to keep the boys from overrunning my garden, but I did not suppose that the grownups would take my threats seriously. I shall have to make Paul my deputy to clear my reputation."

The arrival of the physician interrupted the conversation, and presently the colonel himself tenderly carried the boy to the waiting carriage and insisted that Paul ride on the box with the driver in case he might be needed.

It was perhaps only natural that Paul should call frequently to ask after the invalid and that he should select Lucy as his first proselyte in his missionary work in behalf of his father.

"Forty years in a garrison would ruin the temper of any man," he declared, "and you cannot very well blame dad for wanting to be let alone when he had the chance. He loves gardening, and the boys were wrecking his grounds. He simply had to scare them off."

"He was very effective in his methods," agreed Lucy, "almost too much so. For a moment I supposed that he really had broken Jimmie's leg."

"I wish that I could make you realize what a splendid father he is," said Paul, with enthusiasm.

"I do not remember my father very well," said Lucy reminiscently. "He died just after Jimmie was born. I was only eight."

"Let me share mine with you," offered Paul generously. "Will you, dear?"

• • • • • • •

From a coign of vantage on the far side of the street the gang watched the wedding procession emerge from the church and set up a shout as Jimmie, resplendent in white satin coat and knickerbockers, preceded the happy couple as their page.

"Jimmie looks like a stick of candy," declared the captain contemptuously, "but he's got an all right sister. There ain't many girls that would marry a man just to save their little brother from a man like Colonel Moulton. He was just goin' to kill Jimmie when she rushed in and said if he would spare Jimmie's life she would marry the lieutenant."

The gang looked with awe upon the brave bride, and Lucy, radiant in her new happiness, never realized that they were cheering her with such enthusiasm because she had sacrificed herself to fate to save her little brother.

ETIQUETTE POINTS.

How a Woman Should Receive an Introduction.

A woman's manner of receiving an introduction to a man is what makes an impression on him, and the most desirable effect is gained by the woman's cordial and gracious greeting.

When a strange man is brought to a woman it is the woman who speaks first, and precisely the form of her words depends upon previous conditions. If she has never heard of him before and he comes to her literally a stranger she may simply say "How do you do?" She does not rise from her seat, neither does she offer her hand, unless the man extends his. He should not do this, but sometimes he does, and to ignore it is the height of rudeness.

If the woman has heard of the man before he is presented and he knows of her through mutual friends, her greeting is more personal. She may say "This is a pleasure" or "How do you do? I have heard of you so much that I am particularly glad to meet you." This idea of extreme cordiality may be carried so far as for a woman to say, "Mr. So-and-so does not need to be presented, for I know him so well by reputation that I feel as though he were an old friend."

The man's answer is naturally of the same kind, and the conversation begins with interest, according as the two persons know something of each other or are total strangers.

At leaving the woman again may express her feeling in a measure. If she has known nothing of the man previously and has not found him especially interesting it is not necessary that she should say anything more than "Good afternoon" or "Good evening." It is courteous to say, "I am glad to have met you," but that depends upon how she feels. If, on the contrary, she has found him really agreeable and enjoyed her talk she may say so frankly in this way: "It has been nice to meet you" or "I have enjoyed so much meeting you. I hope I may run across you again." The man must take his cue from the woman.

The matter of shaking hands should rest entirely with the woman, and it is no longer perfunctory. For her to offer her hand suggests a certain friendliness, and if she wishes to imply such interest it is perfectly proper for her to do so. In this way, while she does not shake hands on meeting the man, she may, if she has liked him, give hers when they separate.

A woman never rises to meet a man, nor does she go to him. He must go to her.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Paris is Full of Them and Nearly all Use Parisian Sage.

In the beauty show in the metropolis two years ago gold medals were awarded to five different women.

To the most beautiful woman between 20 and 25; between 25 and 30; between 30 and 35; between 35 and 40 and between 40 and 45.

A society reporter who interviewed all five women in the interest of his papers, reported that all of them had beautiful hair and that each of the five enthusiastically attributed her luxuriant hair to Parisian Sage.

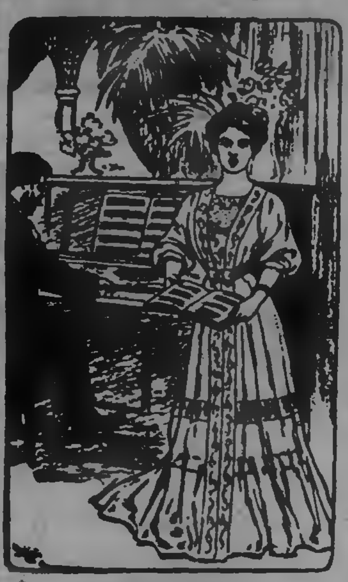
GRAND OPERA HER GOAL.

Miss Flora Wilson, Who Has Chosen a Musical Career.

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the American secretary of agriculture, has been in Paris for the last three years preparing for grand opera under Jean de Reszke. At her first public appearance she rendered a number of difficult operatic selections in such a way that her friends were enthusiastic. Practically every prominent member of the American colony was present. Miss Wilson received an ovation and was also the recipient of about 100 pounds of orchids and roses. Miss Wilson will probably make her debut in grand opera next year.

Since the death of her mother Miss Wilson has presided in her father's home, supervising his domestic interests and welfare and that of her brothers and filling the role of hostess on social occasions.

In addition to these exacting duties, Miss Wilson held the position of librarian and taught literature in the Iowa State college, whence she was graduated in 1892.



MISS FLORA WILSON.

She is deeply interested in the development and progress of women, a believer in their higher education and an advocate of their rights and is herself a living demonstration of the fact that the currents of a public career and a private life may run side by side in perfect harmony.

The women of her state have already enjoyed the privilege of casting their ballot on some local questions, and Miss Wilson thinks it is only a matter of a very short time before they will be voting in state elections.

The first time they were permitted to exercise this prerogative Miss Wilson was the only woman in her ward who availed herself of the coveted privilege.

Miss Wilson is of medium height, slenderly built, with a delicate, intellectual face, gray eyes, an abundance of dark hair and a broad, well developed brow. She is a woman whose strength is none the less felt because she is gentle and persuasive.

Gentle Art of Making Enemies.

Whistler, the great American painter, may be better known for his pamphlet entitled "The Gentle Art of Making Enemies" than for his wondrous pictures. And it is an art practiced by not a few people, though it is only cynicism that would ever call it gentle. Some are always getting hurt and offended. They seem ever on the lookout for slights and rudeness, and so turn and twist many an unintentional thing into a deadly insult. And it's funny, if we are on bad terms with some folks, whether by their fault or ours, how we are always running up against them.

He that hath a thousand friends
Hath not one friend to spare,
And he that hath an enemy
Will meet him everywhere.

Though true, this is decidedly an unpleasant circumstance, and so, for your own sake, it is best to be as little pugnacious as possible. Having enemies is a luxury none of us can afford if we want to make the best of life and have our friends and relatives make the best of it, too, and, in addition to this, there is the higher side of the question; for we are enjoined in the book to love one another. We must not be too hard on one another nor too critical. If we were weighed in the balance we use for others I am sure we would often be found wanting. But we have a private, a very different, balance for home use as a rule. Let us ponder on what Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "Surely while the Lord can tolerate me I can tolerate my fellow creatures." It is not love, but an excess of self love, that is at the root of all evil. We fancy that we are not treated with proper respect, not as we ought to be. We would all get on a good deal better if we put self in the background and tried to make others happy and enjoy themselves. We wouldn't get offended then. Let us try it.

Cretonnes in Bedroom.

Of the various materials shown in the shops nothing is daintier than cretonne for a bedroom. There are a freshness and a crispness about the material that give a homelike atmosphere. The first thing to do is to choose a pretty and artistic design, for there are some figures shown that would not be appropriate if used throughout in the furnishings of a room. Bureau scarfs, table covers and bedspreads can all be made of the chosen material. The walls should be covered with a paper of light tone—say a floral design—that will harmonize with the cretonne, a plain stripe in pale blue and white, running two-thirds the height from the baseboard and surrounded by a photograph rail, while the upper third is decorated with a lattice floral paper to harmonize. The ceiling, either of plain white plaster or white moire paper bordered for about fifteen or eighteen inches by a continuation of the floral design, will be a great addition. If pictures are to be hung in the bedroom, a paper of inconspicuous design must be used, and in this case a decorative frieze will add to the beauty. Friezes come in a variety of designs and figures.

The floor, of course, should be of hard wood, and if this is not possible it should be painted. Several rag rugs are most appropriate if carefully selected. The woodwork and furniture are most attractive if of white enamel. In such a room shirt waist and hat boxes covered with cretonne and setting in white enameled frames are not only useful, but quite ornamental.

The toilet articles should be of either ivory or celluloid, with the initials or monogram in the prevailing color of the room.

Benzine as a Cleanser.

Every one is familiar with benzine as a remover of spots and stains from cloth and woolen goods, but there may be some house mothers who do not know to how many uses it can be put in the household for cleaning purposes. Grease spots, dirt and finger marks when rubbed with a few drops of benzine vanish from doors, window panes and woodwork generally and from the painted kitchen and bathroom walls as well.

The unsightly "rim" which insists on forming in bathtub and wash basin disappears, as do spots and stains from the washstand marble, when briskly rubbed with benzine. The latter should be polished with a dry, soft cloth to restore its polish.

Finger marks and "spatters" on furniture, whether varnished, polished or stained, fly before the benzine dipped cloth, and all enameled tinware for bedroom and bathroom use can be kept beautifully white and cleans very easily when treated with benzine, and a few drops only are needed at a time.

Home Truths.

No man is half as smart as his wife tries to make people believe he is.

You can kill time, but it will come back and haunt you.

He who realizes his own weakness thereby adds to his strength.

The greatest proof that marriage is not a failure is that widows and widowers are always anxious to try it again.

"Cherry Tree" Dress.

A charming little one piece dress for baby boy was fashioned of white linen and embroidered in a design of cherries and leaves highly conventionalized. It was not only unique, but very pleasing and of unfailing interest to the small man, who clamored for the time honored story of George and the cherry tree every time he donned this particular costume. The design was worked, of course, in all white, while French embroidery stitch and buttonhole stitch were combined with excellent effect.

The Facial Expression.

You know the sort of people who are always dashing about in a hurry, who never have time for anything, though they never seem to accomplish very much, the women who are always excited and hustling, but have you ever noticed the result of the expressions they try to put in their faces and manners? If they would watch themselves for just one day they would be surprised beyond all measure to see what wonderful and fearful things they did with their faces.

The Golf Barometer.

Golf has become far too serious an affair for trifling. It is a business or profession and not a recreation. If paterfamilias is on his game and winning his matches, his bright and sunny cheerfulness pervades the family circle. But should he be "off it," what a contrast.

A Mayonnaise Hint.

See that the olive oil is kept in the refrigerator now that warm weather is here. Otherwise the mayonnaise will be a failure. In summer more than in winter the bowl in which the mayonnaise is made as well as the ingredients of the salad dressing should be very cold.

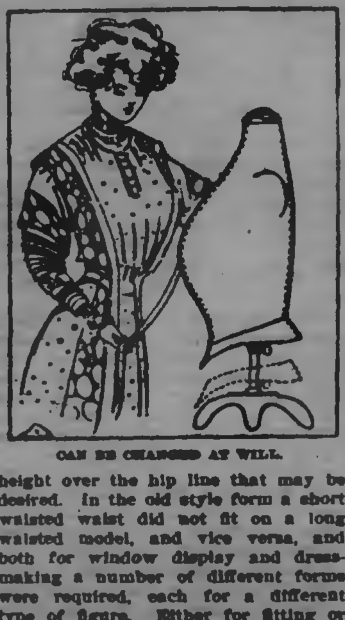
FORM THAT FITS ALL.

Long Waists or Short Waists, It Makes No Difference.

Through the ingenuity of a New York man shopkeepers and dressmakers will be able to get along hereafter with one kind of dress form. Long waists and short waists look alike on this body portion, which can be adjusted to fit anything the human form can wear. The form is made similar to those now in use, except that the model can be moved up and down on the upright rod that runs through the center and affixed at any height over the hip line that may be desired. In the old style form a short waisted waist did not fit on a long waisted model, and vice versa, and both for window display and dressmaking a number of different forms were required, each for a different type of figure. Either for fitting or display this invention is expected to be of value both in the saving of money and time, for not only will one take the place of several of the old designs, but it will not be necessary to scour about for the suitable form for each occasion.



CAN BE CHANGED AT WILL.

IN THE KITCHEN.

Sunshine Cake.—For sunshine cake sift the flour and sugar the same as for angel cake, only lessening the flour to three-fourths of a cup. Add a pinch of salt to the whites of seven eggs and beat until stiff and dry. Beat the yolks of five eggs until lemon colored and thick, add the sugar and flour to the yolks, stir in lightly the white of the eggs and half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, flavor with orange extract and bake the same as angel cake. Frost with yellow icing, flavored with orange, and decorate with bits of candied orange peel and leaves cut from angelica.

Lemon Ginger Beer.—This beverage should be made a couple of days before using. Pour two gallons cold water over a half dozen lemons sliced thin, add a pound and a half sugar and a scant ounce ginger root. Let this come to a boil, then add a tablespoonful cream of tartar. Strain and set in a cool place. When nearly cold add a yeast cake dissolved in a little lukewarm water, stir thoroughly, then set in a cold place overnight. In the morning mix well and bottle, corking air tight, and lay the bottles on their sides in a cool place. A small bottle of Jamaica ginger extract may be used in place of the whole ginger if preferred.

Lemonade.—For every quart of lemonade desired allow three lemons. Scrub the lemons thoroughly, as their rough skins hold many particles of dust and grime. Clip off the thin outer skins of part of the lemons and steep for a few minutes in a little water. Cut two thin slices from the center of each of the remaining lemons and lay one side. Press the juice from the lemons, using a corrugated glass or a lemon squeezer. Add enough sugar to the juice to make as sweet as desired, then pour on the proper amount of boiling water, together with the strained water from the chipped yellow peel. Let stand until cold and if not ready to use put in the icebox until needed. Serve a couple of slices of lemon in each glass and a little chipped ice if you are assured of its purity.

A Plea For Less Snobbishness.

One wishes there were less snobbishness in the American woman, less shrinking from people on whom she bestows the epithet "common," less pride in figuring by name in the daily papers. It cannot be denied, though it is atmospheric rather than tangible, this condescension of the well bred to those who have not the requisite hallmark of culture. When shall the day dawn when a person with a witch hazel wand of perfect courtesy shall accept people for what they are, not caring whether they live on the north, the west or the south side of a town, whether their husbands are professional men or clerks behind a counter, whether their social training has been gained among people who wear the blue ribbon of exclusiveness or down among the ranks? asks a writer in the Woman's Home Companion. Snobbishness in this country is an anachronism. Women ought to be ashamed of it all the more that it is a sign of American weakness, largely feminine and seldom practiced by men. The ancestry of so many conspicuous social leaders three or four generations ago belonged probably to the plainest of plain people, who handled the broom and the hoe and little dreamed of the foundations it was laying for the future aristocracy. If one is candid with herself and discerns anywhere in her soul an ignoble tendency to being a snob, be inhospitable to that, and try to trample it under foot and get back, if not to plain living, at least to high thinking.

DELIGHTS OF STUPIDITY.

Knowledge Has "Downed" Us Since the Day of Eve.

Knowledge is no help to courage. Fools rush in where angels fear to tread, and how useful these fools are sometimes every general knows.

It is said that the British army was beaten three times during the day of Waterloo, only it did not know it. Napoleon raged at its stupidity. Education cultivates the imagination, which is the greatest foe of courage. When in the dead of night you hear a noise in the front parlor you remember all the stories you have read of worthy householders being shot by fierce burglars. You wonder how it feels to be hit on the head with a jimmy, and you take a long time finding your slippers. Ignorance would have saved you from these fancies, and you would have gone downstairs without a tremor and found it was only the cat.

It was the acquisition of knowledge that lost our first parents the garden of Eden. If they had only been content with their ignorance we might all be living there now instead of only getting an occasional week's end.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Saucepans should be as flat and broad as possible, so that no heat may be wasted.

If canned pears have a flat taste, and most pears have, they will be improved by adding stick cinnamon to them while cooking.

To dry clean cloth moisten fuller's earth to a soft paste and spread in thin layers over soiled places. Mix with the earth a little turpentine and use this over grease spots. Let the garment dry for a couple of days and brush off the earth which has become dry, then press.

If satin is very much soiled, pour into about three quarts of soapsuds nearly two tablespoonfuls of kerosene and soak the satin in this for about one or two hours. Work the fabric up and down in warm water and soap and rinse thoroughly. When the satin is almost dry, press carefully.

How George Eliot Wrote Novels.

The famous authoress George Eliot was very particular about her surroundings when she was engaged on a novel. She exercised the greatest care over her dress and insisted that everything in her beautiful study was in perfect order. She displayed none of the modern writers' feverish energy and seldom wrote more than sixty lines a day. Directly she finished a novel she was a victim to terrible nervous exhaustion in such an acute form that only a trip to Italy or France effected a cure to her normal condition.

HUDSON BAY CO.'S "PELICAN" IS TIME-HONORED CRAFT.

Once a British Sloop-of-War She Is Now Engaged In Carrying Food and Supplies to the Great Company's Forts on the Shores of the Bay—Her Captain Does Not Think Much of Railway Scheme.

A sloop-of-war propelled, of course, by sails, and a "Dreadnaught," of steel driven by the most powerful engines yet devised, mark the extremes of the great navy with which Britain polices the high seas. The contrast emphasizes the progress made by naval architecture during the past quarter of a century.

Not many of those old sloops remain and they are no longer taken into account when computing the seapower of the Empire; but small, antiquated and comparatively powerless as they are, in time of peace they are still capable of rendering valuable service. One of these old sloops is now making her way to the ports on Canada's inland sea, Hudson Bay, on a mission of importance to Canadian trade in the Far North, for she is carrying to the "Great Company's" posts along the Bay supplies for the factors and their men and goods to be used in barter with the trappers and the Indians who, with the little isolated bands of Royal Northwest Mounted Police, still form practically the only inhabitants of that vast region.

This old British sloop-of-war is the "Pelican." She sailed from London, Eng., for Montreal, touching on her way out at points on the Labrador coast, where supplies were landed for Dr. Grenfell's missions. Then the Pelican proceeded up the St. Lawrence river and docked at Montreal. For a few days she was one of the sights of the harbor, where, among the big steamships, she looked so small and quaint.

The Pelican carries three masts and her mass of rigging, so conspicuous on a sailing vessel, almost hides her little funnel, for besides her sails the Pelican is fitted with an engine. As she could not carry sufficient coal to enable her to steam across the Atlantic or from Montreal to Hudson Bay and thence back to England, her engine is used only in case of calm or head wind or when impeded by the ice of the northern sea.

The Pelican was built thirty-one years ago at the dockyards of the British Admiralty at Devonport, Eng. Shortly after going into commission vessels of this class were dropped from the Admiralty list, and so the Pelican was sold to the Hudson Bay Co. as a supply ship. Her length is 180 feet, breadth 36 feet, and depth 16 feet. She is of 632 tonnage and her engine has a capacity of 122 horsepower. The Pelican is commanded by Captain Gray, a weather-beaten Scottish sailor, who has navigated Hudson Bay for thirty-seven years. An experience extending over that length of time gives weight to his opinions respecting the commercial navigation of those waters. Captain Gray does not think highly of the Hudson Bay route as a possible outlet for the central Canadian West, and in an interview given during his short stay in Montreal he discussed that project very frankly.

Special ships, he thinks, would have to be constructed for that service. At the longest the season of navigation would last only from the middle of July to the end of September, when it is time for vessels to get out of the Bay before the Straits are closed with ice. This would mean that the vessels engaged in this trade would be idle for at least eight months of the year, for being of special construction they could not be economically used elsewhere. As the season of navigation would close in September, the year's crop in the West could not be exported by this route until the following season.

The best harbor in the Bay is that at Fort Churchill, where there is a depth of nineteen feet, but at York Factory the water is so shallow that the Pelican has often to anchor eight miles out. James Bay, he says, is too shallow to permit its navigation by ocean steamships.

In this service the Hudson Bay Co. have, besides the Pelican, two other vessels of about the same size. Each makes annually one round trip to the Bay from England, taking out supplies and goods and returning with furs for the British market. The Pelican should be in London early in the autumn.

From Montreal the stout little vessel will proceed to Fort Churchill and there discharge the greater part of her cargo. Then crossing the Bay she will skirt the Ungava coast, landing supplies at Fort Chimo. She will leave two passengers there, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Cotter, who were married but a short time before sailing from Montreal. Mr. Cotter is going to Fort Chimo as factor for the Hudson Bay Co. and his stay at that lonely northern outpost will likely extend over several years. Both Mr. Cotter and his wife were born in the Far North, where the parents of both were for many years in the service of the Hudson Bay Co.

Stringent Milk Bylaw.

A new milk bylaw prepared by the Board of Health of Edmonton has been passed, and it is pronounced the most stringent in Canada. The dairymen will be given until January next to comply fully with all its scrupulous exactions touching licenses, inspections, and tests of milk.

What He Enjoyed.

Mr. Makinbrakes was trying to say something complimentary to the distinguished actor to whom he had just been introduced.

"What I particularly enjoy about your acting, Mr. Strutters," he said, "is your perfect naturalness. You can take an old man's part, you know, without the slightest necessity for making up—that is, I mean you don't have to change your—your voice, you know, or—why, take it in that play I saw you in the other night, when you appeared as an old man. All you had to do was to be just your natural—er—self, though, of course, there were plenty of wigs and wrinkles you could have put on if you had—er—needed them—which isn't quite what I was trying to get at either—for anybody could see how admirably you fitted the —the part, you know, without any—and all that sort of—what do you think of this new theory, Mr. Strutters, that a man can live on peanuts?"—Chicago Tribune.

Reciprocity.

Men are enlisted for the labor that kills—the labor of war. They are counted, trained, fed, dressed and praised for that. Let them be enlisted also for the labor that feeds. Let them be counted, trained, fed, dressed, praised for that. Teach the plow exercise as carefully as you do the sword exercise and let the officers of troops of life be held as much gentlemen as the officers of troops of death, and all is done. But neither this nor any other right thing can be accomplished—you can't even see your way to it—unless, first of all, both servant and master are resolved that, come what will of it, they will do each other justice. People are perpetually squabbling about what will be best to do, or easiest to do, or adviseablest to do, or profitablest to do, but they never, so far as I hear them talk, ever ask what it is just to do. And it is the law of heaven that you shall not be able to judge what is wise or easy unless you are first resolved to judge what is just and to do it.—John Ruskin.

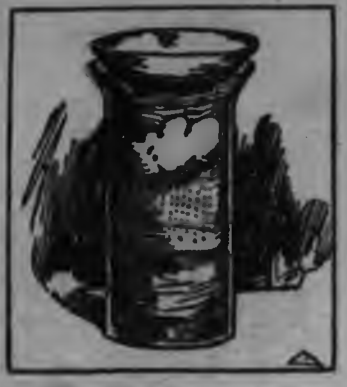
MIMIC RAINSTORM.

An Interesting Experiment That Is Easily Performed.

You may produce all the phenomena of a rainstorm—atmospheric evaporation, condensation and precipitation—by a very simple but interesting experiment. Here are the directions. Suppose you try it:

Take a glass jar about eight inches in height by five inches in diameter, and into it pour strong alcohol—92 per cent—until the jar is half full. Cover the jar with a saucer and put it in a water bath to heat. It must be heated a long time, so that the liquid, the saucer and the jar may all be brought to a high temperature without going to the extent of boiling the alcohol.



STORM IN ACTION.

When the desired temperature has been reached, remove the jar from the water bath and stand it on a wooden table. In moving it, be careful not to agitate the liquid. If you notice the liquid you will see that it gives off vapor in abundance. In a short time the saucer will become cool enough to condense the vapor, and clouds will begin to form near it.

Then from the clouds fine drops of rain will fall into the liquid. This miniature rainfall will last for nearly half an hour.

A NATIONAL RELIC.

History of Old Liberty Bell That Rang For Independence.

Everybody knows, of course, that the old Liberty bell is the bell that was rung when the Declaration of Independence was signed, July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia, and that it is now kept in Independence hall, in that city, as our most precious national relic, says the Chicago News. But there are facts about it that everybody does not know.

The original bell was cast in London in 1752, by order of the Pennsylvania assembly, for use in its statehouse. It was shipped to Philadelphia in 1753, but it cracked without apparent cause when it was rung to test its tone. Of course it was necessary to recast it, and this was done in Philadelphia. In June, 1753, it was again hung in the belfry of the statehouse, where it was used as was intended.

On July 4, 1776, when the Continental congress signed and issued the Declaration of Independence, it was rung to announce that event, and it is said that the old bellman was so carried away by patriotic enthusiasm that he continued ringing it for two hours. This part of the story is probably an exaggeration.

When the British threatened Philadelphia in 1777 the bell was taken from the belfry and kept hidden up in the state of Pennsylvania, where is not definitely known, but it is generally believed that it was at Bethlehem. It was taken back to the statehouse in 1778, when a new belfry was built for it.

It cracked in 1835 when tolling for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall, who died in Philadelphia, and, although an effort was made to restore its tone by sawing the crack wider, it was not successful, and its sound has never been heard from that day to this.

Hide the Thimble.

A game which never fails to delight the children is the game of hide the thimble. This game needs no preparation and is easily explained to the children, a good many of whom probably already know it.

The thimble is given to one child, and the rest are to leave the room. When no one is in the room she hides the thimble in a vase, behind a picture, on the window sill, behind the curtain or any place which suggests itself to her as a good hiding place.

The other children are called back into the room and begin the search. The child may give hints as to where the thimble is by telling the children as they come near to the hiding place that they are getting "warm" and farther away the "colder" they get. This prevents the game from becoming tedious. The child who finds the thimble is then the "hider," and the game is continued.

What Becomes of Pins.

See a pin and pick it up,

What becomes of the 80,000,000 pins that are made daily throughout the world? This enormous output has been going on regularly for years. Who can tell where they go? They do not wear out, they do not dissolve into air, and yet they disappear. It is indeed an interesting problem to discover what becomes of them.

It is estimated that in the United States alone pins to the value of [illegible] are lost daily.

ABOUT M'GUIGAN.

Man Who Will Build Power Lines Is Famous Railroader.

Frank H. McGuigan, otherwise "Big Mac," who is to build the Hydro-Electric Power transmission lines, is one of the biggest railway men on the continent. He is a big man every way, big in resources and big in execution. One of his monuments is the reconstruction of the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway between Montreal and the Niagara and Detroit rivers, and between Port Huron and Chicago—now one of the finest double-tracked roadbeds in America. One of his last works was the elevation of three miles of track on the Grand Trunk between Elsdon and Chicago on the south side of that city.

Mr. McGuigan is come of a great parental combination — a Highland Scotch mother and an Irish father. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1850, four months after his parents left Scotland. He once told Andrew Carnegie what a narrow escape he had of being a Scotchman, a privilege of which the Skibo Castle man is very proud. There was a time, too, when Carnegie and McGuigan drew pay on the same payrolls as the library builder was much interested to hear, reminding him of his old days in the Pennsylvania Co.

Mr. McGuigan's father had taken up contracting and had the work of constructing the Grand Trunk from Hamilton to Port Credit, with headquarters at the latter place. This was in civil war times and when wages went up to ruinous limits, the profits of contracting went in the opposite direction to the wages. The elder McGuigan died 39 years ago, and young Frank had to make his way in the world. He went into the railway service as a water boy for the Erie & Pittsburg division, walking 20 miles a day for 50 cents pay.

Promotion came by degrees. In 1874 till 1880 he was roadmaster, and in 1880 foreman of construction train, St. Louis & Omaha division, Wabash road. From July, 1880, till Jan. 1, 1885, division roadmaster of this road; Jan. 1, 1885, till 1887, general roadmaster of lines west of Mississippi river; 1887 till Dec. 31, 1895, superintendent of western division of same road at Kansas City, Mo.; Feb. 15, 1896, till March 1, 1902, general superintendent, G. T. R.; manager till 1905, and then fourth vice-president of the system. Thence he went to the Great Northern Railway as first vice-president, April 1, 1907. He left the Great Northern a few months later and took up contracting.

FOUND SUNKEN LOGS.

Lindsay Men Make Find Worth From $15,000 to $65,000.

Some thirty or forty years ago great quantities of oak and elm timber were cut and squared in the Lindsay district, and floated to Quebec for shipment to England. When for any reason, such as low water, or a dispute as to price with the prospective buyer, it frequently happened that cribs were held over for several seasons, the result was loss by sinking.

For a number of years past there has been a tradition among old timber men in Lindsay that a fortune awaited the discoverers of a sunken crib of white oak timber said to have gone down in Goose Lake or in the bay near Pleasant Point, Sturgeon Lake. Various parties have taken soundings, and last fall a Kingston man employed a diver, but without result. About three weeks ago Bert McGrath, Dave Watson and W. Raymond happened in the vicinity of Bruce's Island, Lake Scugog, while raising sunken logs, and a fishing line fouled on a snag, which proved to be one of the lost cribs of white oak logs.

The discoverers at once took into their confidence Mr. I. E. Weldon, who visited the spot in a tug, satisfied himself as to the bona fides of the case, and then proceeded to back the discoveries in the matter of preliminary expenses. Half a dozen men were sent to the scene, along with one of Bustard's stump-pullers, and it is reported that the work of salving the huge sticks of timber is proceeding apace. The value of the "find" is estimated all the way from $15,000 to $65,000.

Round the World For Seals.

The sealing schooner Agnes Donahoe has left Halifax for a year's sealing trip around the world. She clears for points and places in the north and south Atlantic, the north and south Pacific, and the Indian Ocean, her final port of discharge being Halifax. It is expected she will sail 15,000 or 20,000 miles before she returns to Halifax, as new sealing waters will be explored. Captain Balcome expects to go via Cape of Good Hope to the Indian Ocean and southern Pacific, returning via Cape Horn. The Agnes Donahoe is the schooner which was seized by the Uruguay Government for alleged poaching three years ago when several of the crew were imprisoned. They were only released after strong representations had been made by the Imperial Government, although the charge against them was groundless.

Ocean Canoe Trip.

Remarkable is the canoe trip upon which Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Wood of New York are making. They have gone over the most difficult and dangerous part of a journey from Gloucester, Mass., to Prince Edward Island in a sixteen-foot canoe. Mr. Wood in speaking while in St. John, N. B., said they were 19 days on the water from Gloucester to St. John. They made the cruise by single day trips averaging about 35 miles a day, and spending the nights ashore, either in houses or making camp for themselves. The canoe is provisioned for a week's run in case of emergency.

Canadian Oil For Navy.

J. D. Henry, in a recent Times' article, states that the time is increasingly opportune and propitious for a renewal of Canada's appeal to the Admiralty respecting her oil supply, and adds that Canada is a land of small oil wells and square deals.

SNOW'S BROTHER IS FREE DARING ESCAPE FROM JAIL

"Bill" Snow, Brother of the Lad Who Got Away With Six Others From Toronto Jail Squeezes Between Bars of Central Prison—Has Bad Record.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Forcing his way through the 6 1-2 inch space between the sill and the first bar on a window in the Central Prison on Sunday afternoon, William Snow got clear away. He is a brother of the notorious young Robert Snow who was one of the seven making the getaway from the Toronto jail some time ago.

The escape is supposed to have taken place about 3.30 in the afternoon; he was not missed till 4, and an additional quarter of an hour was lost trying to locate him in one of the cells, so that he had a good three-quarters of an hour start.

He is reported to have been seen at his father's home wearing a short coat over the regulation blue and brown striped garb of the institution, a peaked cap, and a pair of rubbers. He was also seen in the "Ward."

On Sundays no guards patrol the walls as all the outer doors are locked up. Snow was attending divine service in the prison chapel and during service whispered to the guard at the door that he wanted to go down to his cell for a minute, and the guard, knowing that all the doors were securely locked and barred, gave him permission without attending him, or sending any one along with him.

Crossing the swing bridge separating the cell galleries from the main building, Snow made his way to the bottom floor. Convenient to his purpose he noticed beneath a window, set fully six feet from the floor, a wash tub which had been used to wash up some of the prison vessels. He climbed the tub, and thus was enabled to get a good purchase on the solid bars. Pulling himself up he got his head and arm through the six and a-half inch space between the solid masonry and the long bar, gradually pulled himself upward and outward and got through.

It was but the work of a minute for him to place a couple of 18-foot planks against the wall — one reaching to within a couple of feet from the top at a steep incline, and the other at a long angle.

The escaped man has a bad record. Three months ago he had aided his brother in the robbery at Peter Ellis' sporting goods place.

The crime for which William Snow was sentenced to 23 months was for robbery in Kling Bros'. jewelry store on West Queen street.

The police only got Snow and his companions after some shooting, but they consented to waive extradition.

SEVERAL MORE RECORDS BROKEN

Orville Wright Continues in Wonder-Working Aeroplane.

Washington, Sept. 14.—In two flights at Fort Myer Saturday afternoon, Orville Wright in the "Wright Flyer" broke three records.

Staying up nine minutes and six and one-third seconds in the first flights, in which George O. Squier, acting chief signal officer, accompanied him, Mr. Wright broke the record for a two-man flight which he established on Tuesday.

In the second flight Mr. Wright broke the record for time and distance of a heavier-than-air flying machine which he established yesterday, by remaining in the air for one hour, fourteen minutes and 24 seconds. In this flight he also went higher than an aeroplane has ever gone, rising to an altitude of 250 feet.

Mr. Wright also maintained a higher speed than in his other flights at Fort Myer, [illegible] around the grounds at the rate of [illegible] miles per hour on the first flight, when Major Squier accompanied him.

In this flight Mr Wright broke the world's record for time and distance for the fifth time last week.

Beats Zeppelin's Trip.

Berlin, Sept. 14.—A record flight was made by the military semi-rigid dirigible balloon, under command of Major Gross, which returned here shortly before noon Saturday, after having been in the air for 13 hours and two minutes.

This surpasses the record made by Count Zeppelin, when on July 1 he traversed the greater part of northern Switzerland, occupying 12 hours in the journey.

"Peterboro' Integrating Meter" Has Been Placed on the Market

The Peterborough Integrating Watt meter for alternating current is now being placed on the market by John Forman, 248-250 Craig St., West, Montreal. This type D meter, Mr. Forman claims, is designed to meet the most rigid requirements of modern central station practice. Its construction is simple, substantial and practical. It is the result of years of experience in the manufacture, and also the operation of integrating wattmeters. This company makes a specialty of electric meters and furnishing central stations with good appliances for measuring electrical energy. The central station manager has realized the usefulness of the meter system as a businesslike and profitable method of selling electric energy and a demand has grown for a sturdy, accurate and reliable meter. The type D meter is designed to meet this demand. This meter is symmetrical in form and pleasing in appearance. It is furnished with a metal cover having a heavy plate glass front. It has been found that the entire glass case is not substantial and has been eliminated. The case is insect and dust proof and strongly constructed.

The company state that the meter is equipped with the best sapphire jewels and the bottom of the main shaft carrying the disc is concaved with a highly polished hardened steel ball inserted; that it possesses a very high torque, insuring security on low loads, and that the speed of the meter can be regulated by means of micrometer or screw adjustment provided. They state also that it records under a load of less than 1 per cent of its rated capacity and registers within two per cent. of rated capacity to 50 per cent. overload continuously without injury. The dial reads in kilowatt hours without a constant. Mr. Forman is general salesman and controls the output of the Peterborough Integrating Meter, having introduced it throughout the whole of Canada.—Canadian Electrical News.

DANISH PREMIER HAS RESIGNED

Has to Quit Because of Colleague's Downfall.

Copenhagen, Sept. 14.—The Danish Premier, J. C. Christensen, on Saturday night handed the Cabinet resignation to the King in accordance with the latter's demand.

The order for the Cabinet's resignation was issued yesterday afternoon in consequence of the strong public opinion against the Ministry, which p wsormcaoml-gdhP.U3? [illegible] was compromised through the Premier's guarantee of M. Alberti's honesty and integrity.

Premier Christensen's resignation had been loudly demanded by the public and the newspapers ever since the downfall of M. Alberti, the ex-Minister of Justice.

Excitement in Fireworks.

New Westminster, B.C., Sept. 14.—After deliberating on the question for over two hours, the school trustees of this city have decided that the Canadian flag should be flown over the public schools, this in spite of the order of the Provincial Government calling on all school teachers to fly the Union Jack. Only one trustee favored the floating of the emblem of imperialism.

Toronto Ex. Over.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—There was a bumper crowd watching the closing performance before the Canadian National Exhibition grand stand on Saturday night. The estimate is 15,000. For the final day's attendance the figure was placed at 60,000 people. It is noteworthy that the number of lost articles reported equalled any day during the exhibition.

Used Revolver.

Guelph, Sept. 14.—There was a shooting in the downtown streets on Saturday evening, and Joshua Peters can consider himself fortunate that he didn't kill a man.

Joshua is the city dog catcher. He says he was chasing a canine back of the Central Hotel when Robert Bulger interfered. Peters started in to use his "billy" on Bulger who got possession of it and struck back. Then Joshua drew his revolver and fired. The bullet went over Bulger's shoulder and passed through the hat of the usual innocent bystander.

Bulger grappled with Peters and both were on the ground when P. C. Borthwick arrested them.

PERMISSION TO TRAVEL ABROAD

Was Granted to D. M. Stewart by the Militia Department

In connection with the issue of a warrant for the arrest of Mr. D. M. Stewart, ex-general manager of the Sovereign bank, it is odd to read in the militia order issued on Friday that:

"Leave of absence with permission to travel abroad has been granted as follows, Lieut. Col. D. M. Stewart, 13th Scottish Light Dragoons from the 1st inst., to the 30th November, next."

Up to within a few days ago Stewart is believed to have been in hiding in the city of Montreal making his home with a relative. It is now believed, however, that he has left for parts unknown. Weeks ago Stewart left Montreal upon the advice of his attorneys and it was thought at the time that he would be seen no more in Canada. It appears, however, that he was and is in straightened circumstances and this did not permit of going as far as both he and his attorneys intended.

Stewart is said to be a nervous wreck.

Fire has broken out in the Nova Scotia Steel Company's No. 1 mine.

CHURCHILL IS MARRIED

Young Parliamentarian Weds Miss Hozier.

London, Sept. 14.—Winston Churchill, President of the Board of Trade, was married in this city Saturday afternoon to Clementine, daughter of the late Sir Henry Montague Hozier, who for thirty-two years was secretary of Lloyds.

The ceremony occurred at St. Margaret's Church, the little edifice which stands in the shadow of Westminster Abbey, where so many fashionable weddings have taken place, and attracted more attention than any wedding this season, principally because of the social and political prominence of Mr. Churchill, who is one of the most discussed men in the United Kingdom.

MISS CLEMENTINE HOZIER.

A reception was held afterwards at Lady St. Helier's in Portland place, where the numerous and costly presents were displayed. A wedding cake five feet high was cut at the reception.

Later in the afternoon the couple took a train for Blenheim Palace. After the visit there they will go to Berlin until the opening of Parliament.

To Be Seen and Heard.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Another feature, besides the talking machine with records of the speeches of candidates, has been added to the novelties of the Presidential campaign by the Democratic national committee, which yesterday announced that moving pictures of William J. Bryan in Chicago on Labor Day would be thrown upon canvasses at political meetings all over the country.

When the pictures show Bryan speaking the candidate's voice will be heard from the phonographic record of the Labor Day address.

Infernal Machine In Mail.

Seagirt, N.J., Sept. 14.—An attempt to assassinate Governort Fort of New Jersey has been thwarted by the watchfulness of postoffice employes, who discovered an infernal machine addressed to the governor in the mails.

The package contained powder, bullets and matches so arranged that opening it in the ordinary way would have caused an explosion with probably fatal results.

Holland's Queen Expects Heir.

The Hague, Sept. 14.—Joy was brought to the hearts of the entire Dutch kingdom yesterday afternoon by the announcement from the royal castle at Appledoorn that the stories regarding Queen Wilhelmina's condition and her reported premature delivery of a child are false.

The physicians in attendance on the Queen say that an heir to the throne may be expected in April.

Rivals Use Poison.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—The "war" between the Jewish butchers in the "Ward" assumed a serious aspect on Saturday night when D. Caplan, who started the trouble by underselling his competitors, suffered the loss of a horse valued at $200. The animal was poisoned in the stable between 10 and 12 o'clock Saturday night.

School Teacher Suicided.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 14.—The young woman who went to her death over the American Falls on Tuesday afternoon, near Prospect Point, was Miss Grace Greenfield, 19 years old, a school teacher living at Derby, N.Y. She was crazed from over study.

Dangers of the Harvest.

Oak Lake, Man., Sept. 14.—At the farm of George Mackay, near Kenton, Herbert Laird, aged 30, from Prince Edward Island, engaged at threshing, fell into the separator and was killed.

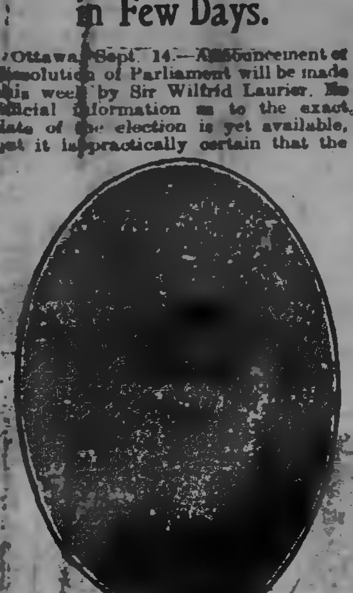
DISSOLUTION THIS WEEK

Announcement Expected in Few Days.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—Announcement of dissolution of Parliament will be made this week by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. No official information as to the exact date of the election is yet available, but it is practically certain that the day selected for polling will be, as announced some time ago by your correspondent, either Wednesday, 28th, or Thursday, 29th, of October. Good progress has been made with the printing of the voters' lists, and the Secretary of State Department is now sending them out to the various constituencies as rapidly as possible.



HON R. W. SCOTT,
Who According to Authoritative Reports Is Soon to Retire.

It is stated on good authority that a Cabinet change will probably be announced shortly. Hon. R. W. Scott, the venerable Secretary of State, after over fifty years of public service is ready to be relieved of the constant stress of statecraft, and Mr. Charles Murphy, one of the foremost members of the eastern Ontario Bar and a prominent Irish Roman Catholic, is said to be slated as his successor. Mr. Murphy will probably be the Government candidate in Russell county.

Unusual Fog.

Port Dalhousie, Ont., Sept. 14.—The dense fog which is impeding navigation on the upper lakes, has struck Lake Ontario, also the Welland Canal. Boats that were bound both up and down the canal had to tie up all night, being dangerous to navigate. Old experienced navigators never saw the fog so thick. It did not lift until the sun was out good and strong yesterday morning, and then set in again and still is as bad as ever here. The fog horn is blowing continually.

Killed by a Car.

Kingsville, Sept. 14.—While riding on a gravel train on the Windsor, Essex and Lake Short Electric Railroad, George Sherman of Windsor, an employe of the road, happening to make a misstep when the car was in motion, was run over and instantly killed.

Dumb Man Henpecked.

New York, Sept. 15.—Charging that his deaf mute wife nags him in sign language, James William Nash, himself deaf and dumb, has instituted divorce proceedings, which will be heard before Vice-Chancellor Howell in Newark on Wednesday.

Will Organize Japs.

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—R. P. Pettapiece of British Columbia, who is in the city at present, intends running as a Socialist for Medicine Hat. Mr. Pettapiece, in an interview, expressed his intention of organizing the Japanese.

He states that the Orientals in British Columbia are well armed and ready to prevent any further attacks from the exclusionists. He has a great opinion of the Japanese, stating that they recently struck on the coast for higher wages, and even appealed to the Trades and Labor Council against white labor acting as strike-breakers.

His avowed intention on his return to British Columbia is to organize the Japanese, and, as he puts it, clean up the country with them.

Author Turns Miner.

Boston, Sept. 14.—Julian Hawthorne, the novelist, is to abandon literature, and says that he has written his last work. He will devote his future energies, according to a letter written to Dr. A. E. Brownrigg of Nashua, N.H., a personal friend, to the exploitation of a Cobalt mine in Ontario. His announcement is received with much surprise, although it has been known that the author has had a tendency to mining.

Offered More, But in Vain.

London, Sept. 14. (C.A.P.)—The Financial News publishes a communication indicating that the tender of the Anglo-Canadian Finance Co. offering one-half per cent. above the highest offer for the recent issue of the Vancouver debentures was rejected by reason stated being ambiguity.

Durnan in Boston.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 14.—Eddie Durnan of Toronto is in Boston to arrange for a match with Greer for the professional championship of America.

ASQUITH FORBIDS HOST IN EUCHARISTIC CEREMONIAL

With Huge Crowds Looking on Roman Catholics Parade in London Streets, But Pope's Legate Wears Court Dress and Does not Carry the Host.

London, Sept. 14.—A great procession of Catholic clergymen, which brought the Eucharistic Congress to an end, was held yesterday afternoon amid scenes such as the English churchmen who planned it, had never anticipated.

Cardinal Vannutelli, the Pope's legate, walked at the head of the procession, wearing his scarlet robes and hat, but not carrying the Host. He was accompanied by a bodyguard of English peers, of whom the Duke of Norfolk was the most prominent, and a concourse of cardinals, archbishops and bishops, who were attired in unceremonial robes instead of vestments, which originally had been proposed they should wear.

No such throngs of people have been seen in London since Queen Victoria's funeral, if even then.

The Catholic element cheered heartily while the procession passed by and throughout the route, but there was also heard considerable "booing."

The announcement that Premier Asquith had intervened in the matter and that as a consequence there had been some modifications of arrangements, was made Saturday night at a mass meeting in Albert Hall, where it caused a great uproar. The meeting was exclusively for men and was attended by about 10,000.

The archbishop insisted that if a change in the proposed program was necessary Mr. Asquith must take the responsibility of making a public request. The Premier replied that in the Government's opinion it would be better in the interests of order and good feeling, that the proposed ceremonial, the legality of which was open to question, should not take place.

There were cries of "shame" from the audience, and after a prolonged interruption Archbishop Bourne continued, saying that he had replied to the Premier that "in deference to your wish, all the elements of an ecclesiastical ceremonial will be eliminated. The procession of cardinals and bishops will walk in court dress, and we expect the Government to ensure comfort and courtesy to our honored guests."

Long before the hour set for the ceremony, it was impossible to get near the line of march, and windows and the tops of houses were crowded. The police had not expected such crowds and met with much opposition in their attempts to keep the path clear, which they hardly succeeded in doing, so that the papal legate and his followers had to push their way through a narrow lane, being frequently and unpleasantly jostled about. A number of persons fainted in the crush.

As the head of the procession emerged from the cathedral doors, a cheer went up which was repeated as cardinal after cardinal came slowly out, followed by the archbishops, bishops, minor prelates of the church and a great army of white-surpliced men, singing hymns. The procession was more than a mile long.

At one of two points the processionists had practically to force a passage through the crowds who broke through the police lines. At one place, where several streets converge the crush was so great that the spectators broke up the procession, but the police, stationed at this point in strong force, managed eventually to clear a narrow line through which the papal legate and the others passed in single file. The crush here was frightful for half an hour, and the police had to use heroic measures. Many women and not a few men fainted and those who were found wilfully pushing and jostling were carried away in police wagons.

SENSATIONAL REVELATIONS

Firm Juggled Books---Booth Company's Accounts Were Falsified.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Revelations of a sensational nature were made public yesterday regarding the failure of A. Booth & Co., the $12,000,000 fish, game and sea food corporation, which was placed in the hands of a receiver Thursday.

That the concern's books have been juggled for a period extending back at least three years, is charged in a circular sent out by the interested bankers, who also set forth that in the company's statements $1,200,000 had been deducted from the liabilities and the books made to balance by a similar juggling in the asset column.

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—The failure of the Booth Company of Chicago, known as the fish trust, is of deep interest to Western Canada. Some years ago the company absorbed a number of small concerns operating in the fishing business on the lakes of Western Canada from Port Arthur to Lake Winnipegosis.

Fought With Hatchet.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—George Stelton and Henry Green got mixed up in a brawl in the Robert Davies racing stable on Leslie street, and Stelton is alleged to have struck Green on the head with a hatchet, inflicting a bad cut on the ear and one on the head above the eyes. Both men are said to have been drinking during the day.

Feared Consumption.

Youngstown, N.Y., Sept. 13.—H. C. Marshall, Jr., who was found dead in a field in Stanton avenue, Pittsburg, yesterday, is said to have told his friends here that he feared he had consumption, and to have declared that if he ever became positive that he was thus afflicted, he would kill himself.

Horse Killed; Men Escape.

Belleville, Sept. 14.—William Dean and a companion were driving near Garson Hill and tried to run their horse over the G.T.R. crossing towards which a train was coming. The train was too quick. The horse was cut in two and the two men had a narrow escape.

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 14.—Miss Galloway, aged 26 years, was in her dressing-room last night when a lighted lamp dropped on the floor igniting her dress. She was burned to death in a few minutes.

DRUG FIRM GETS A NEW STORE

McDermid & Jury, druggists, have secured the store at present occupied by Demetre Bros. and will conduct a drug business there commencing in October. Their present premises are being vacated for Mr. T. C. Elliott, of the Port Hope Knitting Works. Demetre Bros. are leaving for Montreal.

BIG STEAMER IS BEACHED

Corinthian Collides With Marlin Head in St. Lawrence.

Quebec, Sept. 14.—A severe collision between the steamers Corinthian of the Allan line and the Malin Head, belonging to the Head line, occurred Saturday morning near the Gosse Isle quarantine station, in a slight hase, and resulted in the Malin Head being beached in a badly damaged condition. The Corinthian, with a few passeners and cargo from Montreal, passed by the port of Quebec at 4 o'clock Saturdoy morning, and two hours later ran into the Malin Head, bow on, striking the latter almost amidships, and cutting her down below the water-line. She commenced to fill rapidly, and there was nothing left for the master, Capt. Campbell, and Pilot Soulett, in charge, but to beach the vessel. This was done none too soon, for her three holds were by this time filled with water. The Corinthian in the meantime did not escape uninjured. Her bows were stove in, and water commenced to fill her first compartment.

Captain Dunlop and Pilot Simard, in charge of the steamer, covered the badly injured bow with canvas, which enabled her to return to Quebec. It is said that each captain blames the other.

The wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona, with lighters, has gone done to the scene of the disaster to assist the Malin Head.

Plague in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 14.—The Asiatic cholera in St. Petersburg is increasing, and each day that passes brings a larger number of cases. Already it has assumed the proportions of the epidemic of 1891. Up to noon Saturday 109 new cases had been officially received at the hospitals. Twenty-three deaths were reported on Saturday.

Arrested at Brantford.

Brantford, Sept. 14.—Fred McArthur, a well-known local man, was arrested here early yesterday morning, following an attempt to rob the grocery store at Harp Bros. in West Brantford. Entrance was effected through a rear window and the marauder's presence was noticed. A small amount of cash was secured.

DON'T BLAME HER

For she cannot help it. Women are often cross, irritable, hysteric, and declare they are driven to distraction at the slightest provocation.

Men cannot understand why this should be so. To them it is a mystery because in nine times out of ten this condition is caused by a serious feminine derangement.

A remedy is necessary which acts directly upon the organs afflicted, restoring a healthy normal condition to the feminine system, which will quickly dispel all hysterical, nervous and irritable conditions. Such is

NO NEW FOREIGN MARKET

The Laurier Government has not opened to Canada a single new foreign market. It has closed to Canada the market of Germany, the second best in the world for Canadian staple products. It has made a treaty with France from which even the Minister of Trade and Commerce declares that he expects little benefit, since France retains high protection on all articles that Canada would be likely to sell her. But this treaty gives at the same time to twelve countries the same terms in the Canadian market that it gives to France, and obtains from them no concession whatever.

The Government made a preferential tariff, open to all the world on equal terms. When internal difficulties arose this preference was, contrary to the original design of the Government, limited to British countries. Twice afterwards it was increased. Then it was reduced. Next it was opened to unknown contingencies by the Intermediate schedule rates, and finally it was again modified by the French treaty. To-day there is no preference on some articles and the whole preference programme is thrown into utter confusion.

WHAT IS THE MATTER HERE

"American blast furnaces are starting up, and the demand for iron and steel is the best indication of the general condition of trade and industry. It looks as if the grip of hard times was relaxing on the Republic."—Toronto Globe.

The over expansion era in the U. S. is being followed by a rapid return to prosperity as the Globe here confirms. But the prospects in Canada remain of the worst. The difference lies in the fact that the balance of trade is not, and has not been against the U.S. There money has not gone out of the country. It is just the reverse with us and we cannot rise. It is impossible except as conditions are changed.

AS A MEMBER

In an effort to offset objections made of Mr. Stratton's candidature are urging that he did more for West Peterborough than any other representative. As an interesting commentary on this it may be well to notice that one of the most prominent citizens in Galway stood up in Mr. Bradburn's meeting and admitted that for the first time in his recollection the Government money had been spent on the roads. In the city nothing equal to the Normal school, which Mr. Bradburn got, was ever touched upon by Mr. Stratton. Government buildings went to other places, but they did not come here during his short ministerial career. If Mr. Stratton had got the armouries for us as Mr Hall did, a brass band would not be equal to making noise enough about it. Mr. Hall did exceptional work on the canal and in the damages and wharf line at Stony Lake, Mr. Stratton himself enjoying some of the privileges to the extent of several hundred dollars worth. Mr. Stratton brought some small contracts to Peterborough merchants, but the benefit of his membership will not stand a moments comparison with that of either of the two first named. But he gave Peterborough a name which unfortunately, will last for the greater portion of time.

A WORD FROM THE GLOBE

It is worth noting that leaders of the two great political parties in Canada have condemned political corruption in very definite terms. And they have both condemned it when chargeable to their political friends as well as when proved against their political opponents. Both Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. R. L. Borden are too experienced in politics to have many illusions left as to the depravity of human nature, especially in relation to political conduct; and while each in his own way openly condemns political wrongdoing in general, and as proved against his opponents in particular, both agree in this experience that the heaviest burden a leader has to carry is the political sin of his own party. They may not say much on the open platform, but in their hearts the fire burns strongest, and on occasion their words are sternest when the shame of it comes home to their own ranks. Mr. Borden may not have used many words in his references to the Colchester carnival of bribery and liquor, even as under similar circumstances Sir Wilfrid's words may have been few and well chosen, but all honest minded men who know these two party leaders would say that to the one as to the other the attacks of opponents are easily borne in comparison with the disgrace involved in the offences of party friends.

The day may come in the evolution of Canadian politics when the cardinal aim in the party's calendar will be treason to the party's ideal and infidelity to the leader's trust. That day is brought nearer every time an offender is made to suffer, not by exposure and condemnation from his opponents but by rebuke and repudiation from his friends. When that day comes it will be easier for self-respecting and public-spirited men to give themselves to the advocacy of their party's causes on the platform and in the Press without regret or reserve. As it is, for a politician or a political journal not to defend is to condemn and ten words of open condemnation from an honest political ally is more to be feared than the whole torrent of an opponent's scandal talk. But the situation to-day is very hopefully better than that of a generation or two ago, and among the causes making for betterment is the growing indisposition on the part of leading public men and public journals to defend the wrongdoings of their political friends. The time has surely come when the honor of neither political party should be compromised or the prestige of their leader damaged either by the mistaken zeal of campaign workers or by the incapacity or malfeasance of responsible officials. Party politics aside, however, it is matter for gratitude on the part of all rightminded Canadians, that the two political leaders are men of unstained personal integrity and high ideals of public service.—Globe.

CORRUPTION

The political parties in Canada are gradually simmering down to two—the eaters and the eaten. Piracy and not politics, is the name that should be applied to much that hides under the name of the latter. Politics in West Peterborough just now is more chock than anything else. Casting bread on the waters is nothing to the wholesale "benefactions" going on. But wait until they return 'a hundred-fold' won't be in it. It is time with a view to being good business and no doubt it is. It is corruption reduced to a science. The charge that much of the holy horror of it is hypocrisy is justified. This form of holy horror is the mother and father of grafting. As a matter of fact it is a good deal meaner, and more wicked than grafting. Moreover it is grafting. We do not pretend that there is no corruption, and has never been any in the Conservative party. Unfortunately there has been too much of it. But it was punished. No attempt was made to protect it. No original documents were refused. That is where the difference between the Conservatives and the present Liberal administration comes in. Sir Hector Langevin met his political death for permitting it in his department. Contrast that with the report of the recent civil service commission and see if there is no difference. Sir Wilfrid goes serenely on as if black sheep did not matter. Is it any wonder that they have got hold of his government neck and crop? No one expects the affairs of a country to be decently and justly administered when all haste is required to get in a graft before the plunder is all gone. Mr. Borden is above every suspicion. No one thinks for a minute that he would condone it. That is the sort of man we need.

EDITORIAL NOTES

To read some of the comments of the Liberal press one would think that the defeat of Sir Wilfrid was a mathematical impossibility. Hadn't Sir C. Tupper a substantial majority when beaten by Sir Wilfrid? It is possible to reverse surely.

The Mail and Empire in its report of Mr. R. L. Borden's speech at Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, says:

"Another phase of his attack was his stating the fact that the cost of the Transcontinental which Liberals in 1904 asserted would be only $13,000,000, it is now admitted will be nearly $200,000,000."

It is quite possible that the leader of the Opposition was misreported by the Mail and Empire, but if he was it is open to make the necessary explanation of what he did say. The statement he is credited with making is so utterly erroneous and inexcusable that under ordinary circumstances it might safely be ignored.—The Globe.

We have met many men here who declare that they heard Sir Wilfrid say what he is charged with, viz., that $13,000,000 would be the total cost of the G.T.P. to Canada.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

POLITICAL NOTES

There is the greatest confidence in political circles in West Peterborough that Mr. Stratton will be defeated. The whole weight of public opinion is against his candidature, here and everywhere. In Durham he failed utterly to elect Mr. Gillespie, a man without a stain and the East Riding rejected him recently without difficulty or ceremony. His position is endorsed neither by his party nor the Laurier government. Even if it were, no supporter of so corrupt an administration can be elected here especially in the person of Mr. Stratton. The bombast being utilized as to what he did for West Peterborough vanishes when the armouries and the Normal school are pointed to.

"I notice," said a reader, "that both you, Mr. Topics, and a correspondent express surprise at the Peterborough Liberals selecting Stratton as their candidate at the next elections. Why sir, should you, or any one be surprised. Stratton's conduct in the Gamey affair, in which he suggested to the Globe reporter when he was about going into the witness box to give evidence, that he forgot some things, was simply a recommendation to the latter day Liberals. — Belleville Intelligencer.

HOT STUFF FOR JIM REYNOLDS

Newcastle Independent Gets After the Walking Barber

Jimmy Reynolds, somewhat after the bicyclist, as may be perceived herein, has found out by experience that all his past efforts have resulted in failure from his stipulated time being too long instead of too short, as most of us have all along been thinking, and as evidence of this theory he was dead sure of winning his first walk and sat down on the wayside west of Newcastle, merely to rest, but the accompanying officials seem to have considered that from the terms of the contest he had to keep agoing, and consequently, when he stopped, and refused to get along they threw him into the buggy, hustled him into town and, to bed in the Oriental and locked him up with sleep while a plaster was being gotten up for his wounded feelings rather than his blistered feet; but Jimmy now declares he was robbed of his laurels.

His last effort in 33 hours was similarly unsuccessful, when on the east side of Newcastle. He knew he had plenty of time to reach Port Hope, and yet rest on the top of Flagg's hill, but to rest meant forfeiture, as in former days, so he decided to return to Newcastle and here entrain for home.

To avoid repeating himself he has been trying to more accurately gauge his time to the widest notch and yet keep going. Now he is dead certain he can make the journey in 33 hours, but we understand he has expressly stipulated as the basis of all wagers that he is to be given half an hour any place or place as he may choose to rest, roll over or turn somersaults—or, in brief, (if he accomplishes the trip in 33 1-2 hours, starting at 6 o'clock a.m. next Monday, the game is his.

RUGBY

The ORFU is making a great effort to hold up. President Billy Slee announces that Westmount has decided to stick with them and enter a senior team. The following statement has been handed out by the secretary of the union.

A communication was received today by President Slee of the ORFU from J. Stanley Cook, president of the Westmount Football Club of Montreal, to the effect that they intend staying with the ORFU and that they wish to be grouped with Kingston, the same as last year, the winner to play off with the winner of the western series.

Up till a few days ago it did not look as if the ORFU would be able to have a senior series, but now that this communication comes from Westmount and also that Kingston will be able to have senior and junior teams, things look entirely different.

If at the meeting at Montreal today the Interprovincial decides to remain a four-club league, either one of the Toronto clubs will be found in the ORFU senior series. Peterborough has not given up hope of having a strong team this year, and although not at present members of the ORFU, on account of playing off with Montreal last year without sanction from the union, they could undoubtedly be placed in good standing again on application to the CAAU, the same as other clubs were who played against Montreal last year.

There is hardly any chance for a senior ORFU series. In the first place it would never pay, and it is very doubtful if the Argos or TAAC, if thrown down at the Big Four meeting would care to take up the ORFU proposition. Westmount and Kingston along with Peterborough, would be better in the intermediate series of the Interprovincial where they would have plenty of games with teams of their own calibre and the fans would be better satisfied. With Ottawa, Montreal, Westmount, Kingston, Peterborough, TAAC, Parkdale Hamilton Tigers, West End Pleasure club of Hamilton, Dundas and London in an intermediate series, how much better off the different teams would be than if they were split up into two different organizations. The same thing applies to the junior proposition and the officers of the various teams would do well to consider the matter carefully before jumping headlong, owing to past associations.

LYONS ADOPTS MACHINE PHONE

Hello Girl May be Doomed in One City in France

Lyons, Sept. 12—The Lyons postal authorities are about to test a new telephone apparatus which is to abolish the telephone girl. The device enables subscribers to communicate with each other by means of an apparatus installed in their own homes. The system will be in working order by Monday next, when 200 subscribers selected by the administration will, by turning a handle and arranging in order the numbers on a dial attached to the transmitter, be able to obtain communication within nine seconds. The invention in combination with a penny in the slot box, will also be tested in the public telephone booths.

REPORT THAT TIMBER LIMITS WERE ON FIRE

The Review received a report from Stony Lake this morning that the McDonald timber limits in Anstruther were on fire.

Inquiry was made at the office of the company, Peterborough, this morning, but nothing had been heard of the fire at the office. However, the report could not be either denied or confirmed, as the company had heard nothing from that part of the country since last Thursday.

EXONERATES FAIRBANKS.

Sir Louis Jette Says U. S. Vice-President Is Not to Be Blamed.

The widely-published criticism of Mr. Fairbanks' conduct at Quebec during the visit of the Prince of Wales has called out a vigorous protest from Lieutenant-Governor Jette.

A prominent English woman, said to belong to the Canadian official family, has been given as the author of the following paragraph in several American and Canadian papers:

"What business was it of Mr. Fairbanks to stand ahead of Sir Louis Jette, the governor of the province at the garden party in honor of the prince, to receive the guests? Pure cheek, I call it."

The Governor's secretary publishes a letter saying that his honor cannot let the assertion pass without contradiction, and adds the following statement:

"It is not true that the vice-president stood ahead of Sir Louis Jette at the garden party at Spencerwood. The Lieutenant-Governor, through courtesy to the vice-president, invited him and Mrs. Fairbanks to receive the invited guests with himself and Lady Jette and from the same motive of doing honor to the occasion the vice-president and Mrs. Fairbanks consented to do so.

"When His Royal Highness arrived, both Sir Louis and Lady Jette had to go and receive him at the door, so that vice-president and Mrs. Fairbanks were left alone to shake hands with the incoming guests who were introduced to them by myself in the usual way, and, as above stated, the special request of the hosts themselves. It is much to be regretted that such an ordinary and most proper proceeding should have been given an interpretation which the manner, and intention of the vice-president could not justify.

COAL FIELDS SOLD.

Harmsworth Interests Acquire Big Areas In Cape Breton Island.

With the purchasing by Lord Northcliff, on behalf of the Harmsworth people, of the immense Burchell coal areas at New Campbellton and Alder Point, it is quite likely coal in the near future will be shipped from the Little Bras d'Or.

Last year prospecting for coal at Plant Point resulted in the finding of a seven-foot seam a distance of 131 feet below high water mark, and on the shores of the Gut a seam of excellent coal nine feet in thickness was discovered. This latter seam is about 161 feet from the surface.

The fact that no shipments of coal have been made this year from New Campbellton, together with the fact that the Government have called for tenders for dredging the Little Bras d'Or Gut, leads to the conclusion and belief that a wharf or shipping pier will be erected at the entrance of the Gut, from which coal can easily be shipped to the Atlantic or westward.

The buying of the coal areas owned by the Burchells is one of the biggest deals to be put through in Cape Breton for years, involving an outlay by the Harmsworth people of $80,000. The principle object of the latter in buying the areas was to obtain a constant supply of coal for their big lumber and pulp mills at Newfoundland.

MOOSE SUPERSTITIONS.

Indian Guides Will Not Shoot Animal Without Apologizing.

In some sections of Canada superstitions regarding the moose are still extant among the Indian guides. If he can avoid it, the Indian hunter will not shoot the moose when the animal is looking at him. Instead, the creature's attention will be diverted by some means or another, and at the moment of firing the hunter will beg its forgiveness for being obliged to slaughter it. Perhaps the reason for this reluctance may be that the bogey man or Windigo of the old-time Indians was supposed to have the form of a moose. When the Indian has a chance to kill the black bear, however, he generally indulges in a little pleasantry with him before firing the fatal bullet; for bruin is looked upon as a clownish fellow, although respected for his massive strength and hold on life. The carcass of a black bear suspended at a camp is generally believed to bring good luck.

Persian Beauties.

Stonehenge.

The most noted collection of stones in the world, aside from the pyramids and the sphinx, is probably that at Stonehenge, England, variously attributed to the Druids and to the early Britons, but the design of which is still conjectural. Whether a temple, a court, a place of sacrific or designed for astronomical purposes is uncertain.

Live Steaks.

A Turk and His Mother.

The strongest sentiment of the Turk is his reverence for his mother. He always stands in his presence until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else.

SPLENDID SERMON AT THE OPENING OF GEORGE ST. CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Young of Montreal Speaks of the Future of Canada—Sanctity of the Home Must be Preserved—Interior of Edifice Beautifully Decorated.

"If we want Canada to belong to Canadians sons at the end of the twentieth century we must put the right ideals in our national life and preserve the sanctity and purity of the home."

Thus spoke Rev. Dr. Young of Great St. James church, Montreal, in preaching at George street church last evening. The reverend gentleman gave an eloquent address, dealing with the future of Canada and urging Canadians to build up a strong and pure national life.

The church was crowded at both the morning and evening services, Rev. Dr. Young, who is a former pastor, being the preacher on both occasions. The congregation was so large at the morning service that many could not gain admittance. The beautiful interior decorations were greatly admired and many remarks were heard regarding the splendid work of the Ladies' Aid Society in undertaking the renovation of the church. The cost was $1700 and it is gratifying to know that this amount has already been subscribed. The musical part of the services yesterday was in keeping with the spirit of the occasion.

At the evening service, Dr. Young dealt with the future of Canada, his text being the 16th verse of the 115th Psalm "The heavens, are the Lord's but the earth hath He given to the children of men."

Man, said Dr. Young, had been given absolute authority on the earth but there were two ways in which this might be taken, absolute ownership and faithful stewardship. The latter was the life man should lead, acting as a steward of God, who had given him the earth.

Passing on, the speaker said that as the nineteenth century belonged to the United States, the 20th century belonged to Canada. There would be marvellous development in the Dominion during the present century and with this great expansion would come great responsibilities and great problems. People were flocking to Canada from many countries and in this connection a great question arose. Who would Canada belong to at the close of the present century. The speaker believed that if Canadians kept before them a high ideal in private and public life and maintained the sanctity and purity of the home, the Dominion would belong to the sons of Canadians when the twentieth century closed.

Regarding foreign immigration, Dr Young said that newcomers who were healthy and industrious could not be told to stay away but immigrants must all be impressed that this is Canada and that the laws of Canada must be obeyed.

In closing Dr. Young impressed upon his hearers the necessity of selecting men of a high standard of citizenship to represent the people in parliament and in the municipal politics. Men who were wanted who would insist upon the same standard and attention to duty in public life as in private life.

BRIG. SCOTT-POTTER WILL BE SPECIAL SPEAKER

At Salvation Army Harvest Festival on First Two Days Next Saturday and Sunday—A Four Days' Festival and Bazaar to be Held.

Endeavors are being made to have the largest Harvest Festival ever conducted under Salvation Army auspices in Peterborough. The days decided upon for holding the festival are next Saturday and Sunday and the following Tuesday and Thursday.

Brigadier Scott Potter, the Salvation Army Financial Secretary, Toronto, will conduct the meetings on Saturday and Sunday.

It will mark his second visit to Peterborough since he came to this country from the United States. When heard here before he was very before he was very much appreciated and is coming this time by special request. No doubt, large audiences will be on hand to hear this gifted worker.

The hall will be decorated for the four days of the festival with fruits, vegetables, grains and flowers, and contributions of these are asked for. They may be left with Staff Capt. Goodwin at the barracks.

SALE ON TUESDAY.

On Tuesday evening all the goods at the festival will be offered for sale at a bazaar under the direction of the Staff Captain.

Special music will be given by the vocalists and the band.

On Thursday at the closing meeting an interesting service will be given by the young people of the local corps, when a very pretty spectacle, "King and Queen of the Harvest," will be given.

MONEY REQUIRED.

Financial assistance will be welcomed in the matter of arranging and carrying through the festival, as many matters in connection with the work of the Army will have to be arranged for. Among them is the shingling of the roof of the Army building and this alone will cost over $200, and the work must be done before the cold weather sets in.

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE A GAY AFTERNOON ON RIVER BANK

It was a rather festive Sunday that was spent down the Otonabee yesterday by a party of well known young folks from the city. They had a real enjoyable time on the river bank in the vicinity of Yankee Bonnett.

A violin was on hand and they indulged in waltzing, dancing, the lancers, etc.

During the afternoon in the same locality an impromptu baseball match was made.

Quite an interest was evidently taken in the game by the players as their shouting and coaching could be heard for some distance along the river.

The people who passed by in canoes and launches were somewhat surprised at the hilarious sport and also commented on the dancers making merry on a day that is usually quietly observed in this part of the country.

MR. J. COYLE BROWN TELLS OF VISIT TO WESTERN CANADA

County School Inspector Has Returned From Two Months Holiday Trip—Superior School Buildings There.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown, Inspector of public schools for the county of Peterborough has returned home after a delightful two months' holiday trip to Western Canada where he has five sons and daughters with whom he visited.

While away he was at Fort William, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Gladstone, Battleford and Neepawa.

"As a general statement," remarked Mr. Brown, "the crops in the Northwest are magnificent although in a few places they have suffered from the frost. The wheat crop is on the average superior to the oat crop."

From the manner of his calling, Mr Brown was naturally interested in the educational institutions and visited several schools.

"The school buildings in Western Canada are very fine," he stated and [illegible] far surpass those of the East."

FIRES RAGING

Mr. Brown left Fort William on Tuesday last on his trip home. He passed through Indian Village, south of the town and there the forest fires which have been mentioned at some length in recent press despatches are raging.

Mr. George M. Hogg, of Baltimore, Ont. a nephew of Mr. Brown, who has been visiting his brother at New Liskeard, says the fires in that vicinity are doing great damage burning down fences and timber and doing much harm to the crops.

Getting Ready

WE are getting ready for the largest Autumn business that Peterborough has ever known—everything indicates it and we are rapidly preparing preparing for it. New stocks are pouring in, the summer stocks are taking a rear seat to make room. The summer sales are nearly over and we are bringing the goods that are needed now to the fore. Are you getting ready for winter? September is the month of housecleaning, the only sure month now; the rest are uncertain with regard to weather. BOWMANVILLE MAY BECOME DRY

Vote Will be Taken on Local Option at Election in January

The feature of Tuesday's Town Council meeting was the presentation of the petition praying for the submission of a Local Option by-law, at the municipal elections in January. Three hundred and sixty names were on the petition an excess of the number required and on motion of Messrs. Cornish and Tole, the prayer of the petition was granted.

There are 907 voters on the list so that only 228 were required on the petition but to carry the by-law some 546 votes must be cast in its favor.—Bowmanville Review.

HOME FROM TRIP TO OLD COUNTRY

Lindsay People Well Known Here Had Most Enjoyable Holiday

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Sutcliffe, town, and Miss Sutcliffe, of Tornoto, returned to Lindsay Friday after a couple of months spent in Great Britain and in Europe. A delightful two months were spent in the Old Country, and the many historic scenes and places visited.

The return voyage was made on The Empress of Ireland. The liner left London on Friday, Sept. 4st, at one o'clock and arrived in Peterborough yesterday at the same time, the journey taking exactly one week. On the voyage two bad days were experienced and the Gulf of St. Lawrence was very foggy.

There was a large number that toured the British Isles in company with the Sutcliffe party. England and Scotland were traversed as far as Inverness. There are numbers out of employment in both countries but there is little talk of hard times.—Lindsay Warder.

MERRY TIME AT JUBILEE POINT

Annual Outing of C. G. E. Employees Proved Very Successful —Many in Attendance

The annual picnic of the C.G.E. Company Mutual Benefit Society was held on Saturday afternoon to Jubilee Point, the steamer Otonabee carrying the merry makers. The works closed at eleven o'clock to allow the employees to be ready to leave at 12.30, at which time the boat pulled out from the Wolfe street wharf. The day was an ideal one and the outing was a big success. At Jubilee a good programme of sports was run off, the results being as follows:—

Boys' race, 15 years and under—F. Cassidy, R. Carson, and J. Henry.

The new Skirts are more full fashioned and a trifle longer than was the style last Fall. The "Directorie" closed panel effect is much in evidence, and circular and gored models are most favored. EAST WANTS TO KNOW WHAT MADE STRATTON WITHDRAW Liberal Candidate not Chosen There Yet—Speculation as to Who He Will be—Convention Will be Held To-morrow.

Special to the Review

Havelock, Sept. 12.—A great surprise was sprung on political East Peterborough, both Liberal and Conservative, by the nomination of J. R. Stratton as Liberal candidate for West Peterborough for the Dominion House, as it was thought it was a settled question that Mr. Stratton would try and get the nomination for East Peterborough. His reason for deserting East Peterborough is not known. Whether he was afraid of the Conservative member in this riding or afraid he would not get the nomination is an unsettled question. He has made several visits to this vicinity during the past few months and that is what led the people to believe that he had taken an interest in this riding.

The Liberals are not very talkative over whom they will place as Liberal candidate in this riding, but say they have several good men whom they could place to contest this riding. "What Mr. Finlay, the former member, will do is not decided upon, but he will try for the candidature. As far as can be learned from the Liberals who do not wish to talk on the subject just now, the most likely man in this vicinity is Mr. J. W. Brynes of Havelock. Mr. John Lang, a former member, of Keene, is also on the list along with Thomas Johnson, of Otonabee, and Thomas Curtis, of Havelock.

On account of the notice of when the convention would be held being so short, no great interest has been taken in the matter until the past week when it has been freely talked about.

Meanwhile both parties will anxiously await until Tuesday, Sept. 15th when the Liberal convention at Norwood will decide who shall be the man to contest the Dominion elections against Mr. John A. Sexsmith of Belmont, the Conservative candidate for this riding.

THE SMOKE OVERHUNG THE LAKES LIKE DENSE FOG

Persons who returned from Stony Lake today say that the smoke was so dense at the lakes that the captains on the boats had to run them very slowly to avoid accident. It was as if a thick fog overhung the water and it was impossible to see more than twenty or thirty feet ahead. The captains of the steamers state that the conditions were almost unparalleled in the history of Stony Lake navigation.

TRAVELLER HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Kingston Man Nearly Fell Between Cars of Moving Train

A Lindsay despatch says:—One of the travellers for Carruthers, candy and biscuit firm, Kingston, had the narrowest possible escape from death at Tory Hill on Thursday. The "drummer's" name is Hughes and his route extends throughout the north country, where he is well known and popular.

At Tory Hill he was boarding a train when it was moving out of the depot and grabbed the guard rails of the passenger coach, which was second from the last. One hand slipped and Hughes swung in between the cars. Those who saw the mishap held their breath expecting to see the man fall between the cars to meet sure death beneath the wheels of the train. The traveller, lucky for himself, is a muscular man, and as the train gathered speed, he swung out again and dropped on the platform.

The feat was an extraordinary one, Hughes being a stout man. For an instant he said afterward, he could not get his breath, but he had sense enough to hang on firmly with the one hand. "The greatest musical feat I ever saw," said Jack Anderson, of Tory Hill.

COL. EDWARDS GAVE ADDRESS

Speaking of the Y.M.C.A meetings at the military camp at Barriefield, the Kingston Whig says:

At the close of the series of meetings, a "soldiers' night" was held when Col. Edwards gave a splendid address. Col. Gordon sent his regrets. Different officers testified to the good done by the Y.M.C.A and the association officers were cheered to the echo for their work. It was a remarkable ending and amply repaid any effort made. The Y.M.C.A is a recognized part of military camps now and it is a satisfaction to the supporters of the local branch to know the work at Kingston is uptodate and aggressive.

SHOWED BAD TASTE

A well-bound pocket diary, with the name of the owner beautifully lettered on one of the corners was found t. a morning on William street by a well-known gentleman. His curiosity was aroused, and opening the book he read the doings of a prominent young lady during her vacation. While away she seems to have met several of the opposite sex who appear by the diary to have been attentive to her and since her return have written letters expressing their loneliness since her departure. The man who found it, in order to relieve the young lady of any embarrassment, sent the book to her by mail. He can be depended upon not to disclose the name of the young lady who happened to have such a delightful time during her holidays. — Lindsay Free Press.

The well-known gentleman should have at once taken steps to return the diary to its owner and not pry curiously through pages which were private to him

HAMILTON HERALD TALKS OF HURTUBISE-CONKLE MATCH

So big Gene Hurtubise of Peterborough is to wrestle Charlie Conkle and the latter is to throw the big Rugby player twice in an hour. That seems easy money for Conkle on paper, but when one stops to consider what Conkle has undertaken, the local grappler's end of the bargain does not seem so soft.

The Peterborough giant is not as scientific as Conkle and has not had as much experience on the mat as the welterweight champion, but Hurtubise has the weight and his recent matches with some of the good men from across the border have taught him a heap about the game.

He is big and strong and it is just a question whether his strength and weight is more than a match for Conkle's gameness and science. As the Peterborough man has never wrestled here it remains to be seen whether he is capable of sticking an hour with Conkle without being thrown twice in the hour. Many of Conkle's closest friends think that the Peterborough man has the better of the agreement.

Tackling a man than weight nearly 100 pounds more than he does will be no new experience for Conkle. He has landed home many times minus a portion of his anatomy after wrestling the champion of champions, one Francis Gotch. Big as Gotch is he always had his troubles with Conkle. Not that he could not throw the game local wrestler but the fact that Conkle was so small and slippery bothered the champion. On several occasions the pair met at Buffalo in bouts at the theatres in which Gotch was to throw Conkle twice in half an hour.

When the slate was marked up at the end of the season the honors were about even, Conkle winning as many matches as Gotch. When Gotch did manage to throw Conkle it was always the deadly toe hold that did the trick, and several times Gotch has said that Conkle was the best piece of human flesh that he ever saw. It is a good bet that if Conkle cannot throw Hurtubise twice in an hour, the ex-gridiron hero will not throw him. —Hamilton Herald.

INTERPROVINCIAL REJECTS APPLICATION OF T. A. A. C.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—With only one club, Hamilton, voting in its favor, the application of the TAA Club for admission to the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union was rejected at a meeting of the executive of that body, held at the MAAA clubhouse on Saturday afternoon. Apart from Hamilton, the clubs objected to the admission of a fifth club on the ground that the schedule would not work out satisfactorily. The football season is short, and with one club idle each Saturday it would not be possible to finish out a schedule within a reasonable time. TAAC's application was presented by W. A. Wood.

The chief business of the meeting apart from passing on Toronto's application, was the drawing up of the schedule. The season will open on October 3rd, with Argos playing at Hamilton and Montreal at Ottawa. The first local game will be Hamilton at Montreal. The complete senior schedule is as follows:

Oct. 3—Argonauts at Hamilton, Montreal at Ottawa.

Oct. 10 — Ottawa at Argonauts, Hamilton at Montreal.

October 17. — Ottawa at Hamilton, Argonauts at Montreal.

October 24.—Argonauts at Ottawa, Montreal at Hamilton.

October 31.—Ottawa at Montreal, Hamilton at Argonauts.

The Interprovincial will follow out the same amateur rule as last season. The rule is not likely to cause any trouble this year; Russell who was the centre of the storm last autumn, is no longer a member of the MAAA and Hamilton will make the trip to London with the Olympic lacrosse team.

King Claney of Ottawa was appointed secretary-treasurer by the president, Percy Molson. With the consent of the executive, Jno. Davidson, of the MAAA, was appointed assistant secretary-treasurer.

Montreal has suggested as members of the board of referees for the coming season the following;

Dr. Austin Irvine, W. Burland, J. Craig, H. Molson, Phil. McKenzie, and Jack Savge.

Before the meeting the delegates were entertained at luncheon at the St. James Club, by the president, Mr. Percy Molson.

The following were present at the meeting;

Ottawa, Messrs. Baskerville and Claney:

Hamilton, Messrs Seymour and Geo Ballard.

Argonaut, Messrs. F. B. Thompson and Joe Wright.

Montreal, Messrs. W. Hagar and Percy Molson.

At the meeting it was decided to form intermediate and junior series and, as applications have been received from practically all the clubs of any importance in Ontario and Quebec, Parkdale Canoe Club among others, the death knell of the ORFU has been sounded. These two series will be divided into eastern and western sections.

JACK HAYES IS MAKING MONEY

Marathon Winner Gets $1000 a Week in Vaudeville—What He Does

Jack Hayes, who won the Marathon in England, has become an actor and is making a big hit in one of the Keith & Proctor houses in New York. Hayes is getting $1000 a week for waiting behind the curtain until the moving pictures of the Marathon race have been shown, after which he is carried to the front of the stage on a table supported by six husky athletes. Jack forgot his lines the first two or three times he appeared, but he pleases the hero-worshippers and is a great drawing card. He wears the suit he wore in the big race, and they say that the best part of his talk is his own plain story of the race. The New York Telegraph says of his act;—

Somebody had written a monologue for him, but Hayes is not an actor. Still, no one cared that he halted in his speech and groped for the jokes he had been unable to memorize. When he couldn't remember the comedy monologue and got down to the description of the race he was thoroughly at home. In telling of the finish he said;—

"Of the sixty starters not one was a quitter. Only twenty-eight actually reached the tape and five of these were Americans. Two Swedes are running yet.

"My hat off to Dorando for his gameness but we all think that the trophy looks better in the home of Uncle Sam."

Then he showed the stride suited for long distance running preceding the exhibition by stating;—

"I'd rather run my races in the pictures for it only takes eight minutes to cover the same ground it took us two hours and fifty-five minutes to do in London."

SYRIAN IN FINE SHAPE

His Manager Writes That Hassan Abdallah is Preparing for Bout With Hurtubise

The following letter has been received from Mr. W. B. Naylor, manager of Hassan Abdallah:

Montreal, Sept. 12,

Sporting Editor Review,

Dear Sir,—The Syrian is training hard for his bout with Hurtubuise. He will be in the pink of condition. He expects to win but does not anticipate an easy victory by any means as he has heard of Gene as being a strong and aggressive wrestler. He has a good opinion of the Peterborough man on account of him staying 22 minutes with Yankee Rogers.

Give my regards to Peterborough people. I had most pleasant associations during my visits there.

Yours very truly,
W. B. NAYLOR.

REYNOLDS AGAIN ON HIS JAUNT

Is Trying to Make the Port Hope-Toronto Walk in 33 Hours

Port Hope, Sept. 12.—Jimmie Reynolds, Port Hope's famous walking barber, is walking to Toronto and return on Monday in an attempt to do the journey in 33 hours. This will be the fourth time, Jimmie having collapsed on each of his previous walks. Once he walked 115 miles, again 120 miles and still again 125 miles. The distance is 134 miles. Reynolds is feeling fit, and is in good shape. The issue is $500 to $1,000 against a town syndicate. Capt. Reed is the referee.

RUGBYISTS TURN OUT TO PRACTICE

Good Turnout at Riverside Park on Saturday

The Rugby team had the first real practice of the season at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon, when about a dozen men turned out. It was rather hot for strenuous work and the workout was confined largely to punting the oval. Alex. Mulburn was among those out and will be in better form this year than ever. There should be a big squad on hand on Saturday afternoon next.

WRESTLING

FROM MUDVILLE.

According to statements made by gentlemen who witnessed the recent wrestling contests pulled off in Peterborough the sports of that burg may yet introduce Mexican bull fights "to make a holiday." These wrestling bouts have been characterized as disgusting exhibitions of brute strength and it is surprising to learn that the affairs have been greeted by good houses.—Lindsay Post.

For the information of the Lindsay natives it may be stated that when the Post does not know what it is talking about it "should mind its business and let it alone." For a fine demonstration of brute strength and ignorance recommend us to a visiting hockey team getting driven out of Lindsay with bottles, chunks of coal and other marks of esteem.

RUNNING

Thirty-one entries have already been made for the big Ward Marathon twenty mile road race on Oct. 10. Among the entries so far are three Indians —Longboat, who has won the trophy twice; Hilton Green of the Irish-Canadians and Henry Jackson, of Midland, who is spoken of as a great runner. Harry Lawson, who won the Canadian Olympic trials; Pat Kelly, the long distance runner of the Toronto Police A.A.; Harry Westerby of the West End YMCA.; Claude Pearce, ICAC, and John Roe, West End YMCA, have also entered. Last week's entries were; B. V. Tratt, of West End YMCA.; A. Watkins, Central YMCA.; F Dixon, Alex K White, Moore Park; Wm. Gidlow of East Toronto; J. W. Yates, Boys' Brigade; J. Brown and Ernest Claxton, unattached. The Irish Canadians have fourteen entries.

ALL RECORDS SMASHED

New York, Sept. 12.—In the presence of a crowd of motoring enthusiasts, numbering 25,000, many of whom had been at the track side since 8.30 o'clock Friday night, the American entry, driven by Mulford and D. Cobe, won the 24-hour race of the Motor Racing Association, covering 1,107 miles, and shattering all records.

Following Mulford was another American car, driven by Michener and Lynch, which finished second, with 1,092 miles, also surpassing the best previous performance in a 24-hour race. The Italian car, driven by Cepra and Parker and Hawley, was third, with 1,074 miles. Save for the accident to the French entry, driven by Sartori, in the second hour of the race, in the course of which both drivers and mechanician were injured, the race was without serious mishap. The greatest enthusiasm marked the running of the race.

MORE ABOUT 2.17 CLASS

Peterborough, Sept. 11.

Sporting Editor Review.

Dear Sir,—I saw in your paper on Friday night a letter by "Otonabee Horseman," in which he thought the 2.17 at the fair races should be changed to a free for all. I think people are getting tired of seeing only local horses take part and the time made at the summer races was not very fast either.

I think it up to the directors to make it a free for all and get some real good ones here. I think most of the people would like a free for all

Yours truly,
FOLLOWER OF TURF

Sporting Editor of Review,

I note the reply "Director of Fair" makes to my letter that the 2.17 class should be changed to a free for all. In spite of his explanations I am still of the opinion that a free for all should take the place of 2.17 and the large majority of those who take any interest in horse racing in Peterborough will share my view in the matter, and my first letter was not written for any particular horseman, but in the interests of local racing in general.

The fair director asks "were any more than three horses ever known to start in a free for all." The answer to this is yes, and besides if three fast steppers got away in a straight race it would make interesting sport. The public does not want a repetition of the races at the summers meet of the Turf Club, which the sporting writer of your paper wrote up as a wonderful affair. The result of the race did not prove very satisfactory to the general public and they were and are not slow in saying so. Give us a free for all and then we will at least have the idea that we will see some real racing.

Thanking you for your space and hoping that the fair directors may see matters in the light I have suggested. I am.

Yours for good racing.

JENNIE K.

On the front page of the Canadian Sportsman this week will be found an admirable likeness of the black mare Jennie K., by Arklan, a son of the famous Guy Wilkes, (the sire of 91 performers in the 2.30 list), he by the famous George Wilkes, 519 (the sire of 83 in the list and the grandsire of over 3,000 more). Her dam, Black Moll, is by Iron Duke, another speed producer of high merit. This mare is owned by Mrs. Wm. H. Knapp, of Montreal, who intends having her handled by a thoroughly competent trainer. With no handling worth mentioning she has gone a half in 1.06 and did it in such easy fashion as to warrant the belief that with proper development she will prove a sensational performer. She is level headed, level gaited, in fact, a smooth going pacer of the right sort. Whether she will be heard from on the ice this winter or whether her owner will hold her up for next season on the turf, we are not in a position to state, but if a reasonable part of what we have heard about this mare is true she is worth a little patience and going slow with. Certainly, those who know her owner will wish him every success with this speedy daughter of Arklan. Mr. Andy Hogg, of North Monaghan, has several animals by Arklan on his farm and that famous stallion died at his place.

George Powell's Orillia Belle was out of form at Kinmount yesterday. The horse has won a great many races both in Canada and across the border.—Lindsay Warder.

Minor Heir, the pacer, who beat the Canadian horse, The Eel in the Chamber of Commerce this year, at Detroit, paced an exhibition mile in 1.59 1-2, thus breaking his own record of 2.00 1-4. He did the first quarter in .29 3-4, the half in .59, third in 1.29 and the mile in 1.59 1-2.

Hazel Belle is doing well at the Dufferin Park races. She is being trained by Benny Dunsford, who drives her to the best advantage. The mare got third money in class B. on Saturday.

DOMINION ELECTIONS

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN—The condition of industry in Canada is bad. The condition of workingmen is following suit. Their beautiful homes are becoming the prey of reduced circumstances. To the extent that we pay out money to other countries for work that should be done here we are traitors to our workingmen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought this about to such a degree that Canada has paid out in the last twelve years (being the term during which the Liberals have been in power) hundreds of millions of dollars more than she took in. It was not so under a protectionist government. Those millions should have been spent at home. Then there would have been work for our workers to that extent at any rate, and what is more, the money would have been kept in the country. As it is we have to borrow to get it back. We have to borrow for gigantic enterprises which serve to make the big money-lender, the stock gambler and the contractor rich, but what good is it doing the workingman? To add insult to his injury Sir Wilfrid Laurier has opened the gates on the East and the West to immigrants. Those on the East, our own kith and kin, have been misled by misrepresentation and entrapped by agents who are paid a bonus for their capture. Those on the West are the untold millions of the Orient who are displacing the whites in B.C. are working East and are dispossessing Canadians of their own country. They lower the rate of wages and the standard of living. If Canada is to be kept up as she was but a few years ago she must not be allowed to fall into the class of "cheap and nasty" nations. If her people are to be well housed, well fed, well educated and above the condition of sweaters, they must demand a tariff against sweatwork, against undue immigration, against undue importation and a high protection for employers and employed alike, against the trickery of men who make their money on the stock market and by graft. The workers are slowly but surely becoming poorer than they used to be in this naturally rich and resourceful country. Why? Because the cream of all work goes to the money-lender of New York and London.

Why are the men of Canada idle? Because others will do the work cheaper in Britain and Germany and we let them invade our markets while they keep us out of theirs. The German tariff, the United States tariff, the French tariff are all vastly higher than ours. Britain protects herself where she needs it, by a Cattle Embargo and by the Patents Act, which requires patented articles (and nearly all are patented) to be manufactured there. There is never depression in France. The French have a high tariff and economize. They have always plenty for a rainy day. The Germans likewise keep their own work in their own country, but are weighed down with militarism. Britain suffers because her work is being done elsewhere, although she is changing that rapidly, but she has an immense start over Canada in her already accumulated capital. The United States is the modern wonder of the world, due altogether to high protection. Protection or tariff has been well said to be the measure of the standard of life amongst the workers. Commodities in protected countries are not higher than in unprotected. Clothing under a low tariff in Canada is higher in price than it used to be under a high tariff. Certain ills due to over-expansion, the machinations of stockgamblers, etc., exist in all countries, but when an ill is plainly preventable, why not prevent it? Sending cash out of the country over and above what we take in will never make us rich. Yet we do it and must do it under our present system of trade. Opening up unnecessary lands as in the West, while Ontario is not half populated or developed is of a piece with rest, but it is the delight of the money-lender. Ontario farms are rapidly decreasing in value. A huge national deficit is accumulating for this year and unless times are checked and we are restored to our own, the coming winter will be a veritable horror. The money that we are borrowing in such immense sums if spent for supplies, made in Canada, would mean work for everyone at good wages. Why then does Sir Wilfrid permit rails for the G. T. P. to be bought out of Canada and clothing that would keep our farmers growing wool and our woollen mills weaving it, to be imported without hindrance?

To say that one government is as bad as another is to say that one man or one set of men is no better as managers than another. We know this to be the reverse of correct in government, in trade, in railways or in anything else. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although the Conservative administration, as it proved, was falling to pieces, could never have got into power had he not agreed to "let the tariff alone." This pledge he contrived to evade on the ground that while the U. S., Germany, etc., were prosperous under a protective tariff, he could make Canada a brilliant and enduring exception under a low tariff and a preference. Now he is compelled to fall back on the statement that depression is worldwide and that therefore Canada must share it.

Then the boast of great enterprises! Vast sums of money have been borrowed and spent but who has got the benefit of it? Who has been made rich? Where has it gone? The charge we make against the administration of Sir Wilfred Laurier is that it is in the grasp of the great money-lenders. It has ceased to represent the people. Is it any wonder men lose faith in the forms of government? Without any government at all there would be a happier people. If the times are not rescued, whether it be by a party or by a people, civilization will be destroyed. The thunder of revolt is already heard. Religion, art, education—all will go with the frenzied efforts of men to get out of the grasp of Money which never loses, never shares its needs, into a state of freedom and the natural fruition of honest work and a resourceful soil.

I am not rich, nor am I able to live without working, as has been said, and I never was. The stock exchange where so many have won fabulous riches at the expense of the steady worker underneath is unknown to me. If I have no money to lose I have none to be ashamed of.

The day of the abject party man is gone. Let humanity have a chance.

I solicit your vote and influence and have the honour to remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

OVER NINETY PER CENT. OF THE WHEAT HAS BEEN HARVESTED

Western Farmers Getting an Average of 85c to 90c Per Bushel for Their Wheat—Yield Will Pass the Hundred Million Mark.

Special to the Review

Winnipeg, September 12—The rush of settlers, unprecedented in the history of the country, took place last week when thousands of homeseekers tarried for hours outside the registry offices in order to gain first chance. This rush lasted for days at the Dominion Land Offices at Winnipeg, Regina, Brandon, Dauphin, Moose Jaw, Yorkton, Humboldt, Prince Albert, Calgary, Battleford, Edmonton and Red Deer and many other points.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway opens for traffic on September 14th in which freight and passenger service will be given over [illegible] miles of their road from Winnipeg west to Wainright, Alta., nine miles east of Battle River. Wainwright the terminal town, is just three months old. It has its own board of trade organized and their enterprising members are making plans to visit Winnipeg in a special car at the opening of the line.

Harvesting Progress General

It is estimated that over 90 per cent of the wheat is cut and many districts report that no more favorable season has been had for twenty-five years. Manufacturers, wholesalers, and storekeepers throughout the country feel that the country was never in a safer financial condition than now. Railway officials claim they are equal to the occasion of handling the big crop.

Wheat receipts which amounted to 125 cars September 8, are expected to jump between 400 and 600 cars daily by the end of the week, with the probability of the latter figure being very close to the mark. The farmers are getting an average price per bushel of from 85 to 90 cents. Grain men as a whole agree that the total yield will pass the hundred million mark with a nice margin to spare.

Good crops of course cause enthusiasm, and as a prominent eastern capitalist remarked on his return journey from a tour of the three provinces, "May the West continue its enthusiasm, its hope and its ambition." It is only by such forces that a wonderful territory can become populated which means that the whole of Canada will benefit.

Scottish Agriculturists' Commission

To the music of the pipes the distinguished Scottish agriculturist delegation were right royally received at Winnipeg last Saturday. In the absence of Premier Roblin, the Hon. Colin Campbell extended the address of welcome. Following the reception the commission visited the horticultural show and an auto tour arranged by the Industrial Bureau, took the visitors about the city, out to the Manitoba Agricultural college, the new city park, and country club, where they were entertained as the guests of the Hon. Robert Rogers.

Sir John Sinclair, one of the party in his remarks commented on the great devotion to the motherland that he found everywhere apparent. Dr. Charlow Martin chairman of the commission and others of the party congratulated Winnipeg on her most rapid development.

Horticultural Exhibition Success

Public interest in the highest degree was shown at the first horticultural show held under the joint auspices of the Horticultural Society and the Florists' Association. The exhibits in fruits, flowers and vegetables were a great surprise to the large number of citizens and visitors and the exhibition as an educational one was such as to prove that the fertile soil of Manitoba is capable of producing garden products of great variety and yield. The possibilities of the province from an orchardists standpoint were demonstrated by such well known men as A. P. Stevenson of Nelson, Man., and Mr W. A. Buchanan of the St. Charles Nursery, Winnipeg.

MANY TRAMPS KILLED YEARLY

Are Put off Trains Going at Full Speed—Some Trains Crowded With Them

How often during recent months have there appeared in the daily press accounts of trouble between tramps and train crews. Recently the following appeared in the Review. It is a sample of what is occurring daily:

"In consequence of many complaints from residents in the outskirts of the city, Chief Gennest of Hull has declared war upon tramps and loiterers and orders have been issued to use every effort to free the city of these undesirables.

"Of late a large number of these baggageless summer tourists have been frequenting the outlying districts and making themselves generally undesirable to the residents."

Only those who have "hit the road" or who are as railroad police engaged in preventing railway vagrancy know the many secret and tragic sides of the life of the tramp on the railroad. Yet some very significant facts have recently been presented in an article in the Atlantic Monthly, which show that every year some 5000 trespassers are killed and another 5000 trespassers seriously injured on American railroads. Railroad officials estimate that from one half to three fourths of all trespassers on American railroads are tramps. The writer states that if these mangled bodies were lying side by side three feet apart, a brisk walker would consume almost four hours before coming to the end even of the line of the killed.

Yet to consider particularly the train crew's relation to the tramp. It is true that on some roads individual tramps are allowed by sympathetic trainmen to ride even to the end of the division "for a consideration." But generally the relation between crew and tramp is hostile. We have heard it hinted that on the trunk lines that campaign vigorously against tramps the tacitly understood orders are that the tramps must get off, whether or no, and that there is to be no stopping of the train for their departure either. So the enmity is maintained. It is foe against foe.

Officials, whether policemen or train men are always liable to lose their lives in these encounters with train tramps. The death of Policeman Kane at Middleton, N.Y., a few days ago who was thrown from the top of the train in his pursuit of tramps, is but one occurrence in hundreds. George T. Slade, general manager of the Northern Pacific Railroad, writes under date of July 16th, 1908 that his railroad is troubled this year more by vagrants than ever before.

"The camps of tramps are to be seen at bridges and water tanks all along the main line and vagrants are seen riding on the passenger and freight trains in every conceivable place where they can catch on and before detected by the trainmen. In many cases there are so many vagrants on a train that it is hazardous for the trainmen to attempt to put them off."

And W. H. Canniff, president of the New York, Chicago, and St. Louis reports that on one occasion in June 1908, 103 men were ejected from one of the company's trains in going a distance of 132 miles. Almost one tramp to a mile.

The seriousness of this wholesale free riding on American railroads is obvious. The remedy for it is the better enforcement of vagrancy laws relating to railway trespass, or the passage of such laws as soon as possible. The men are the same men who come to our back doors asking food, or beg from us on the street, or indulge in petty thievery. For the protection of the railroad employees, and for the general protection of society, free rides for tramps on trains ought to be stopped.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

What Booth's Kidney Pills are Doing for Peterborough People.

All the blood in the body passes through the Kidneys every three minutes.

The Kidneys filter the blood.

They work night and day to daily remove about 500 grains of impure matter. If they fail, some part of this impure matter is left in the blood, bringing on pain in the back, headache, dizziness, irregular heart, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gravel, dropsy, deposits in the urine. Booth's Kidney Pills make the filtering right and overcome Kidney trouble. Hundreds of Peterborough County residents have found this out.

Mrs. John Wallace, of 323 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., says: "I had suffered with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble for over two years and could find nothing that would benefit my condition. My back was weak and a dull, heavy pain settled across the small of it extending to my kidneys and into my sides and shoulders. I could not sleep at nights as the kidney secretions were so frequent and irregular that I would have to leave my bed a number of times. I was dizzy and weak and would usually awake with a dull headache. Booth's Kidney Pills procured at McDermid & Jury's Drug Store cured me when all else failed. I am stronger and feel better generally. I can conscientiously recommend Booth's Kidney Pills and I would not be without a box in the house."

FALL FAIR SEASON

This is the Fall Fair season,
When secretaries burn the midnight oil
And plan a gala day for tillers of the soil;
When commons, long deserted, teem with life,
Where through the summer days the busy bee
Toiled on, nor took a holiday;
Where lovers sat, perchance, and billed and cooed,
(For many a maid is on the fair ground wooed,
And oftentimes such courting has been rued;
For months the grand stand gaped in empty state,
Except when baseball drew a crowd together,
Which it will do, no matter what the weather;
But changing seasons bring a change of scene,
They come, they come, the people flock galore,
As but a few weeks since they did to wave-swept shore;
The taffy man, the merry whirl-me-'round,
The lemonade dispenser, try your luck,
The five-legged cow, the educated duck—
All, all are there, fine horses, pigs and cows,
The patent pumps and pumpkin pies and ploughs;
The races, too, will hold the patient crowd,
And in the ring, as in the days gone by—
"Bring on your roadsters," comes the judge's cry.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Special to the Review.

New York, Sept. 12.—The striking news developments of the financial week have been, first the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Eastern Pennsylvania, declaring the commodity clause of the Hepburn law unconstitutional; second, the promulgation by the Department of Agriculture of what for practical purposes is the preliminary harvest return, and, third, the sudden advance in call money to 2 1-2 per cent. The first two of these items were reassuring; the last named is not surprising. The wheat and corn harvests, it is true, will probably not figure quite up to expectations current a month or so ago, they are, however, considerably above the average, and as the danger point even for corn may now be considered to have been safely passed, one of the chief sources of uncertainty in the general financial situation is removed. The wheat promise is 32,000,000 bushels ahead of the final harvest returns of a year ago, itself an excellent crop year, and prices are fully as high as those current at this date in 1907—about $1.04 per bushel for No. 2 red, the standard. The corn promise also exceeds that of last year, though by only 3200,000 bushels, the indicated yield being 2,535,597,000 bushels; and corn futures are about 10c. per bushel over the prices current at this time last year. Final harvest returns usually exceed the preliminary indications Oats and hay, which are also important crops, are well above the 1907 returns, while cotton, though it has not yet advanced sufficiently to justify definite estimates, will unquestionably rank among the highest yields of recent years. Taken altogether, therefore, the agricultural sections, and all whose success is associated with the products of the ground, are assured of still another addition to the long yearly record of agricultural prosperity that has remained unbroken since the partial failure of the corn crop in 1901. The agricultural interests have participated only indirectly in the recent financial upheaval; they are sound and solvent; their purchasing power is still intact and they are merely awaiting the touch of complete confidence to extend the hand of fellowship and fraternal aid, to the industrial and, in turn, the mercantile interests of the country. It is hardly probable that these two interests will show much progress until after the November election, and in the meantime their demands will not become important factors in the money market.

THROWN FROM BUGGY AND CUT ABOUT THE HEAD AND FACE

This morning Mr. Robert Sturgess, of Monaghan, was badly cut about the head and face as the result of being thrown from his buggy during runaway on Charlotte street this morning. The horse he was driving became frightened of an automobile and commenced to plunge and rear, finally breaking into a gallop and tearing down the street.

The buggy swerved owing to the speed at which the animal was going and threw Mr. Sturgess out. His injuries were attended to by a physician.

The buggy was badly wrenched and the harness broken in a couple of places. The horse was caught in the south end of the city.

WEDDING BELLS

MacDONALD-DENNISTOUN

Winnipeg Free Press—The most brilliant of sunshine greeted a charming bride of yesterday. Miss Jessie Dennistoun, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun, whose marriage to Mr. James Andrew Macdonald, of Toronto took place yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in All Saints' church, the Rev. F. C. C Heathcote, performing the ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the chancel being banked with palms and the pews marked with pink ribbons and pink asters, and as the guests were seated they were handed the flower favors and cards on which were found the wedding hymns, by two pages, Master Peel Dennistoun and Master Barry Bain.

Promptly at four o'clock the bridal procession was formed, the choir, which sang 'The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden,' leading, then the ushers, Dr. Simpson, Dr. McDonnell, Mr. W. McDonnell and Mr. Dennistoun Jones, next the two pages, the bridesmaid, Miss Baldwin, of Toronto, and lastly, the tall, stately bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun. They were met at the chancel by the groom, attended by Mr. Hugo Ross.

The radiant bride wore a lovely Empire wedding gown of ivory liberty satin, the skirt falling in soft folds and the bodice having a chemisette of tucked net on which was embroidered a knot of seed pearls; a fichu of embroidered Brussels net was caught with a large satin buckle. Her filmy veil was fastened with a pearl coronet which had been worn by her mother and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and valley lilies. She also wore a beautiful diamond pearl pendant, the groom's gift to her.

Miss Baldwin was a stately bridesmaid in an Empire gown of pale pink marquisette, the skirt having a fold of embroidered marquisette, the bodice being trimmed with cream applique and having mousquetaire sleeves of the embroidered marquisette. She wore a large pink hat trimmed with tulle and American Beauty roses and she carried a sheaf of American Beauties. The groom's gift to her was a pretty gold bangle. To the best man the groom gave a carbuncle tie pin, and to the pages and ushers gold tie pins.

After the service the reception was held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Jones. The house was a bower of palms and pink blossoms; the table centred by the wedding cake, being also decked with pink flowers. Mrs. Dennistoun, Dr. and Mrs. Jones and the bridal party received in the lovely square hall. After the toasts had been given and responded to, and the wedding cake had been cut, the bride retired to dress for travelling. She donned a very smart suit of dark green cloth trimmed with black buttons opening over a dainty lace blouse; her hat was of green velvet faced with green satin and trimmed with a soft scarf of maize silk and a green cabochon. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left on the west train for a trip to the coast, after which they will go to Toronto, where they will reside.

Mrs. Dennistoun wore a very handsome gown of black velvet with rose point lace and a bonnet of black lace with mauve flowers and aigrette; she carried a bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun was most beautifully gowned in pale blue chiffon satin, the draped bodice having a yoke of baby Irish lace, straps of gold lace embroidered in white and and studded with amethysts falling over the shoulders of the hem of the skirt, ending in gold tassels; her hat was of pale blue satin with blue plumes and amethyst velvet; she carried a bouquet of pansies.

Mrs. Jones wore a becoming gown of gray satin striped voile with silver trimming, and a hat of plum colored velvet lined with white satin and trimmed with plum colored flowers.

Mrs. A. Bain wore a lovely gown of apricot striped marquisette, made on the Directoire lines, the bodice having a chemisette of lace embroidered in Persian colors, and a Grecian girdle of black satin; her hat was of apricot satin faced with black and trimmed with black plumes and large gold buckle.

Mrs. H. H. Smith was in black satin with a touch of yellow, and a black hat.

Mrs. Harvey Smith wore a pretty gown of pale blue messaline with blue plumed hat.

ANGUISH—TURNER

The marriage was solemnized at the Congregational church parsonage 150 Nelson street, yesterday afternoon, of Miss Caroline Turner, and Mr. Leslie Anguish, both of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Anguish who are very popular in local circles left on a honeymoon trip to London and Detroit and on their return will take up their residence at their new home at the corner of Chatham and Clarence streets.—Brantford Expositor.

SPLENDID FAIR AT KINMOUNT

Excellent Display of Produce of the Farm---Cattle Not up to the Mark

The Galway Agricultural Society held their annual fall show at Kinmount on Friday and was fairly well attended. There were quite a number went out by special train from Lindsay among whom were Mayor Jas. Begg, George Curtis, John Carew, D Irew, W C T. Morson, G H. Wilson, W Simpson, J Gillogly, W White, J. Brown and others.

Several from Peterborough were present.

The local attendance was not as large as it should have been but taking it altogether it might be considered a very successful show.

The exhibits in the hall were good. The excellent samples of bread, buns etc., were certainly a credit to the lady housekeepers of Galway and the samples of butter shown were of the very best and not of that variety that will not meet with a ready sale when on the market.

The farm produce, grain roots, pumpkins, etc. were excellent samples indeed there was no better shown at the Toronto exhibition.

The cattle shown were not however up to the mark as fancy show cattle. They were gaunt, business looking animals, evidently taken from the swamp driven up to be milked, and then away to the show, instead of back to pasture. But it is the results they are after and judging from the butter shown they get it.

Horses were a fair show, there being some good animals, that would make good drivers and a few good draught horses that would render good service on the farm.

The races were the centre of attraction in the afternoon and the crowd were quite content to swelter in the hot sun and put up with the dust to see the sport.

WINTER COMERS MUST HAVE $50

More Stringent Immigration Regulations go into Effect

An order in council has been passed raising the minimum money qualification of $25 now required of all immigrants coming to Canada to $50 for the period from Janurary 1st to February 15th. The doubling of the money qualification during the mid-winter is with a view to restricting as far as possible the arrival of any immigrants without an independent means during the period when employment is not easy to obtain.

The restrictive immigration regulations adopted by the Government early this year have had the desired effect of cutting down immigration by considerably over one-half and the total immigration for the year will, it is expected, be only a little over one hundred thousand.

NEWSBOYS SEEM MOST TOOTHSOME

To Vicious Little Stewart St. Dog—Bit Three of Them

A small white dog owned by a Stewart street resident is evidently much too fond of biting passersby and as a result will have to be done away with according to a promise its owner is said to have.

The animal seems to have an especial spite against newsboys and in the past couple of days or so has bitten no less than three, Willie Hardwicke, Max Metheral and Allen Dumpers.

The mother of one of the boys paid a call on the owner of the dog and complained of the actions of the canine and the latter said he would have it destroyed, so it is stated.

PASSENGERS WERE INDIGNANT

At Examination They Had to Undergo at Hands of Immigration Inspector

Montreal, Sept. 12.—A party of Canadians who have been travelling abroad and returned by the Allan liner Corsican reached here to-day in a highly indignant frame of mind over their treatment at the hands of the medical branch of the Immigration Department at Quebec, which they say subjected them to the same rigorous examination as the newcomers from the slums of Europe. They are very sore because they chose to travel second cabin, the first-class cabin passengers by the payment of a little more money should be exempt, notwithstanding the absence of social distinction between them.

An indignation meeting was held and resolutions adopted protesting against returning Canadians being treated in this manner, and demanding that the Government amend the regulations as to relieve Canadians from such humiliation and annoyance while returning from abroad. The resolution is signed by Messrs. F. M. Bell-Smith, R.C.A., Toronto; Robert Laidlaw, F.R.P.A., Hamilton; Rev. W. H. Hincks, Toronto and a large number of other people, mostly from Western Canada.

BORDEN GETS BIG OVATION AT MEETING AT HALIFAX

Surrounded by Hon. W. J. Hanna, Premier Roblin and Others He Addresses Huge Gathering—Laurier Record has Been One of Failures.

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 15.—Looking down on a sea of faces, which numbered five thousand, R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party in Canada, came into his own last night at Halifax. A more enthusiastic and flattering reception to himself and colleagues could not have been desired. The red-lettered banner above the platform bearing the words, "Welcome to Canada's next Premier" sounded the keynote of the meeting. The meeting was held in the arena.

The platform was small and outside of the speakers not a half dozen gentlemen sat on it. The speakers were placed in an elevated position, and every utterance of theirs was easily heard.

Flags and bunting added to its attractiveness. Surrounding the vast amphitheatre was a border of campaign banners interspersed with flags.

The audience of 5,000 probably contained 500 ladies. The audience was representative. It was of a provincial character as well as local, as, the trains on all the railroads brought in hundreds of provincial political enthusiasts.

Senator McKeen was the chairman. He first introduced Provincial Secretary Hanna of Ontario, who was received with great applause. His reception was an index of that given to each successive speaker.

Mr. Hanna stated that he was accompanying Mr. Borden as a representative of Sir James Whitney, who was expected to return from England to take a personal part in the campaign in ten days.

Landry of New Brunswick followed. He, as a representative of the French element, received a warm reception.

R. L. Borden then rose to the accompaniment of music, cheers and applause. He spoke at considerable length on the broken pledges of the Liberal administration, and on his own Conservative platform. Clean elections, pure Government and Canada for Canadians was the theme of his speech, which was a powerful exposition of the Conservative policy.

Hon. R. P. Roblin, Prime Minister of Manitoba, expressed his pleasure at being present and conveying the greetings of the people of the great West.

He condemned the Government for the following reasons: For having violated their promises; for having demoralized the public service of the country; for their extravagance and waste of public funds; for alienating the public domain to political friends; for carelessness and indifference in the administration of public affairs, inefficiency and incompetence, seem to reign in every Department; for having brought the name of Canada into discredit; as witness the Yukon administration; for lowering the public life of Canada.

Premier Hazen of New Brunswick followed in an eloquent address, which was well received.

At the outset of his speech, Mr. Borden referred to his own nomination in Halifax, stating that he had accepted it on one condition, namely that the campaign must be a clean one, adding: "I do not fear defeat in a clean campaign, but I prefer overwhelming defeat to victory won by improper means. I stand upon my platform of a year ago. Fight the ballot thief and the briber. Fight also any influences within our own party which favor corrupt methods. Rely on the justice of our cause and upon a thorough exposure to the people of our opponents' evil record."

Mr. Borden denounced the wrongdoing in Colchester, and declared that those responsible should be punished with the full legal penalties. "If we preach purity and practice corruption, we will be worthy of all the scorn that can be poured upon us," he said.

Coming to the issues of the campaign and the record of the Government, he outlined the declaration of principles of the Liberal party in 1893. Putting aside two minor planks, relative to the Franchise Act and the delimitation of electoral divisions, the present Government, Mr. Borden said, had not pretended or even attempted to carry out its declared and avowed policy except with respect to closer trade relations with the United States. This departure from their announced policy had led to the charge of insincerity, but it must be admitted that no such charge could fairly be made against those who possess no political principle save that of party expediency.

HE STOLE HIS FRIENDS MONEY

Young Man at Galt Robs Pal of Three Year's Savings.

Galt, Sept. 15.—Arthur Hartung of Berlin, a young man of 23, is under arrest charged with robbery.

The victim is Victor McLellan, a lad who roomed with Hartung at the home of W. H. Braidwood, on the outskirts of the town. Both worked for Braidwood.

The money, $238, representing three years' hard struggle, disappeared on Saturday night from McLellan's trunk. All indications pointed to burglary, a window screen having been removed to effect entrance. The trunks of both the young men were found broken open and ransacked and it seemed that some tramp must have done the job.

But Chife Gorman had his suspicions, and when young Hartung returned yesterday from Berlin, after spending the week-end at his home, the officer asked him in to headquarters, taxed him with the theft and finally discovered that his suspicions were correct.

The youth broke down and confessed to the rifling of his own trunk as a scheme to divert suspicion from him. He is up for trial to-day.

He was returning to the city from Chicoutimi, where he had gone in the interest of his constituents, and on arrival at St. Gideon he stepped from the train to grasp the hand of a friend whom he saw on the platform, but, miscalculating the distance, fell on to the rail, when the wheel completely severed his right leg close to the trunk.

The deceased was reported to be worth a million of money. He came to Canada about seven years ago, and purchased extensive lands in Northern Quebec.

The names of the killed are Damien Huber, one of the owners, a married man, and William Attic of Newton, Ont., married.

The force of the explosion was so great as to level the building to the ground, while the bodies of the two men were blown into a nearby field.

No cause can be assigned for the accident, the rest of the employes having left the mill some time before, when everything was apparently all right.

Wiarton, Sept. 15.—Arthur Vogan, the 20-year-old son of Councillor Thos. Vogan, was drowned in the dry dock slip last evening. It is not known how the accident happened. The body was in the water nearly half an hour before being recovered.

Killed by Live Wire.

St. Catharines, Sept. 15.—Charles Stuart of Merritton, while working in front of the public library at Schenectady, N.Y., fell against a live wire, 2,300 volts passing through his body.

Train Off the Track.

Kingston, Sept. 15.—A Bay of Quinte Railway train ran off the track at Yarker yesterday. No one was injured. A special was sent out from Kingston to carry the passengers.

SECRETARY APPOINTED

Charles Murphy, K.C., Will Succeed Scott.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Mr. Charles Murphy, K.C., who will ere long succeed Hon. R. W. Scott as Secretary of State, is an astute counsel, a skillful cross-examiner, and, through much practice before Parliamentary committees, has become versed in the ways of politicians. Thus, although he has never sat in Parliament, he has an excellent working knowledge of the country's system of government.

CHARLES MURPHY, K.C.

The appointment of D'Arcy Scott, son of the retiring Secretary of State, Hon. Thomas Greenway and W. A. Galliher, M.P., to the Railway Commission, it is rumored, will be confirmed on Wednesday.

Germany Is Peaceable.

London, Sept. 15.—The Standard prints a long interview with Prince Von Buelow, the German chancellor at Norderney. Prince Von Buelow says:

"I can assure you that no one of any sense in Germany dreams of picking a quarrel with England, much less is there any insane idea of invading England. But for Germans there are far more tangible reasons for apprehensions through our exposed geographical position, let alone a dark historical background.

"So far as the idea of Germany's power being a menace to other countries is concerned, Germany, as you well know, is only one of the great powers, which has waged no war during the last thirty-seven years."

Alberti's Brother a Crook.

Copenhagen, Sept. 15.—The King has accepted the resignation of the Cabinet in accordance with his demand, on condition that the Ministers continue to perform their duties until Parliament reassembles on Sept. 28.

The situation is a very complicated one, neither the Conservatives nor the combined Socialists and Radicals being considered strong enough to take office.

The elder brother of M. Alberti, the former Minister of Justice, who is in prison on a charge of widespread fraud, it is learned, absconded more than twenty years ago, after committing frauds and forgeries involving large sums. His sister is a leader of the Danish suffragettes.

Two Men Washed Overboard.

Victoria, Sept. 15.—Word has just reached the city from the Behring Sea sealing fleet, that the schooner Thos. F. Bayard, locally owned, lost two of her crew, John McLean and Arthur Black, the latter an Englishman, on May 30, in a severe [illegible]. They were carried overboard, together with the mate, Blackstad, who, however, was snatched up by Indians.

The Bayard has taken 28 sea otters pelts, being valued at from $15,000 to $25,000. It is a record take.

Board of Conciliation.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The Board of Conciliation to investigate the difference between the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway and their engineers will consist of J. Harvey Hall, engineers; F. R. Richardson for company, and Judge Gunn of Ottawa, chairman.

Ravages of Cholera.

Babe's Body Washed Ashore.

Wiarton, Sept. 15.—The body of a newly-born female child was washed on to the rocks at the north side of the breakwater here at noon yesterday. The head is missing and the trunk is considerably bruised.

Excursion Boat Overloaded.

Belleville, Sept. 15.—Capt. Roys of the steamer Aletha has been charged by the Dominion Government with on three occasions last summer, carrying more passengers than he had the legal right to.

MUCH DESTRUCTION BY FIRES CONFLAGRATIONS REPORTED

Parry Sound District From Seven River to Sudbury Will Lose Immense Quantities of Timber—Havelock Has Destructive Fires in Near Vicinity.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Forest fires are raging in many parts of the province. A despatch from Parry Sound says that fires are raging all through the district, extending from the Severn river to Sudbury, and great damage is being done to standing timber.

In the neighborhood of Waubaumic and at other points along the line of the C.N.O.R. and C.P.R. the reflection of the fires is so bright as to almost allow one to read without any other light.

Bush fires are playing havoc around Folger's Station on the K. & P. Railway, and threaten to make serious trouble.

A Havelock despatch says that large bush fires are raging in every direction destroying very much valuable timber and keeping the farmers on the qui vive. The town was in darkness at six o'clock last night owing to the dark clouds of smoke in the air.

Forest fires are assuming serious proportions in New Ontario, says a despatch from North Bay. The towns are filled with smoke by day and blazing fires at night betoken serious menace to settlers and new necessities unless heavy rain comes soon.

At Port Arthur a despatch was received that a large tract of timber land with tie, pulpwood and lumber camps in Mattiwan valley district is in danger of destruction by forest fires, recently started. The district is an unsurveyed township, fifty miles west of here.

Rosseau, Muskoka, is the centre of the worst fire ever known since the settling of the district about the Muskoka Lakes. All work in the village, on the farms and in the woods is suspended, and heroic efforts are being put forth to save the property of those endangered.

WILL BE NO INVESTIGATION INTO THE LESLIE SHORTAGE

Mayor Oliver Believes That it Would Cause More Harm Than Good—Better System for the Future.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Mayor Oliver says there will be no enquiry into exhibition affairs. He reached this decision yesterday on receiving the following report from special auditors Barber and Vigeon:

"It is because of our sincere conviction that only further harm, and no possible good will be wrought, that we urge that no such investigation as that before Judge Winchester be undertaken.

"The Exhibition has been managed by a body of men who have no pecuniary interests to serve, not simply from public-spirited interest, in the success of what has come to be a great civic enterprise. To submit these gentlemen to further loss of time and money judicial enquiry will only lead, in our opinion, to embittered feeling and foster a fixed disinclination to give their services to the city in such capacities."

The auditors conclude by suggesting that the city merely "take the position as it is, and quietly affect the reform required for the better government of affairs for the future."

ARTESIAN WELL DRY FOR FIRST TIME IN MANY YEARS

The dry weather is causing a great deal of inconvenience to citizens, as regards their water supply. The cry for rain is on every tongue. Wells and cisterns are emptying rapidly and the warning is to be easy on the water.

At the Burleigh Falls hotel, it was impossible to get any water out of the taps and it has to be carried up from the lake.

It is pumped into the house by the means of a windmill but there has not been much wind for the last week and the tank has gone dry.

Mr. D. Bellegham, the Hunter St. undertaker gets the water supply for the factory and the house from an artesian well. Mr. Bellegham has occupied the present building for a great many years and in all his experience has never known the well to go dry until yesterday.

A RUNAWAY WITH INCIDENTS; HAD FORTUNATE ESCAPE

It was a most fortunate escape from serious injury that a man, whose name could not be learned had as he was driving along Charlotte last night about 8.30. In front of the Snowden House one of the front wheels of the buggy in which he was driving caught in the street car track and was wrenched off. The wheel slid along and struck the horse on the leg frightening it and causing it to start along the street at a good clip. The buggy tilted and was bumped along on three wheels but the occupant managed to stay in and was not injured when the horse was stopped at Lewis street by Mr. Bruce Hickey.

He got out of the vehicle and in pulling on the reins to bring the horse to a standstill they both broke and the owner fell back onto the road.

The horse was finally unhitched, however and the buggy taken to the side of the road, and later removed in an express wagon.

It is remarkable that the man in the buggy was not injured as the horse was plunging and kicking quite freely.

Council Unseated.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—For the second time this year, the town of Midland is without a council, and an order has been issued by the Master-in-Chambers for a new election — the third this year. Judgment for the unseating of the mayor and six councillors per quo warranto proceedings was given at Osgoode Hall yesterday by the Master-in-Chambers.

Councillor Oades is to pay $10, and Councillors Hanly and Simpson the costs throughout. The others escape expense.

The master in his judgment, says that the action of Councillors Hanly and Simpson, is accepting nomination and office after having been declared disqualified in previous judgment, does not differ substantially from contempt of court.

Says He Jilted Her.

Chatham, Sept. 15.—J. S. Fraser, K.C., acting for Mrs. Carpenter, a widow of Wallaceburg, has filed a writ for breach of promise against Salem Merriam, bachelor, a farmer of Sombra, claiming $5,000.

Merriam had bought the wedding ring and told her children to call him "Pa" but refused to set the day for the wedding.

No Registration.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—There will be no registration of voters for the Federal election, the list compiled and used for the recent provincial will be used. The election act provides that when a Federal election comes within a year after a provincial election, the voters' lists prepared for the latter shall be used in the former.

Mr. Dormer, who resided in Corning, N.Y., passed away August 1st, after a short illness, leaving to his niece, Mrs. Stillman, who lived at Napanee, a share of his property, which will amount to $20,000.

JOS. CHAMBERS LEFT FORTUNE

Former Peterborough Man Died Recently in Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 14— The late Jos. Chambers of this city retired bookkeeper left an estate of $25,486, of which $18,907 is in cash; $418.70 in jewelry and $5,500 in real estate, at 45 Brunswick avenue. The legatees are the widow who receives $13,243, and three sisters and three brothers, who receive each $1749. A like sum is set aside for the children of Mrs. Mulligan, a sister of the deceased, whose residence is not known.

The late Joseph Chambers was a former resident of Peterborough.

WALKERS DIDN'T PASS THROUGH PETERBOROUGH

Ed N. Clarke, and Leo Marchand two English newspaper and magazine writers who are walking from Quebec to Vancouver, and writing the story of their adventures for Pearsons' syndicate of periodicals of London, England arrived in Toronto today from Port Hope. They leave here Wednesday en route for North Bay, and expect to reach Vancouver by Christmas Day. They started without a penny and have to go through without remittances from home.

These walkers were expected to pass through Peterborough but failed to do so.

The corner stone of the new Ryerson Methodist church, Hamilton, will be laid next Saturady by Cyrus A. Birge.

ARTICLES WE SHOULD MAKE AT HOME

The following table shows the increase since 1896 of imports in some particular lines. The comparison would be still more striking if the figures for 1907 could be used, but the change in the fiscal year makes this impossible.

Imports	1896	1908
Breadstuffs	$6,417,767	$10,955,498
Brick, clays and tiles	261,000	1,220,913
Carriages	1,410,473	2,525,177
Cement	252,882	1,008,022
Cocoa, chocolate, &c	1,040,493	4,442,085
Twine, all kinds	261,082	2,013,091
Cottons	5,229,050	10,745,206
Earthenware	548,398	1,674,817
Fish and their products	947,886	1,986,527
Flax and hemp, mfs. of	2,745,582	5,212,231
Gloves and mitts	636,618	1,167,404
Hats, caps and bonnets	1,465,742	2,600,820
Leather and mfs. of	1,243,113	3,031,589
Brass and manufactures	542,874	1,938,160
Copper and mnfs. of	296,054	3,102,726
Agricultural implements	400,875	1,615,123
Iron and steel mnfs.	10,203,052	44,975,807

Provisions	1,208,041	3,180,704
Vegetables	298,881	996,154
Wood and mfs of	2,304,196	8,656,370
Manfs of wool	8,772,867	17,902,208

This table deserves attention. Canada is a food producing country, yet it nearly doubled its imports of breadstuffs in ten years. Cement is one of our natural industries and the importation is nearly quadrupled. The Canadian twine industry has remained stagnant in spite of the greatly increased demand, whilst imports have increased eightfold. Our cotton factories are not getting their share of the increased business and the imports have doubled. We have more than doubled our importations of leather goods. While we talk of shipping agricultural implements to France under the new treaty, we have trebled our imports of those articles. We are sending pulpwood to United States and importing three times as much paper as we did twelve years ago. Our imports of wood manufactures have increased threefold, and while our woollen industry is having the struggle of its life, imports of woollen goods have more than doubled.

THE MINISTER OF CUSTOMS

Our own member for North Brant, the Hon. Wm. Paterson, has been touring "down by the sounding sea," and has taken occasion to make several vicious attacks upon the Conservatives in Parliament. They evidently take the Minister of Customs much more seriously in the Maritime Provinces than we do in his own bailiwick, and his remarks have called for a good deal of attention. Mr. Paterson stated on one occasion that the Conservatives in Parliament were charging theft, graft, and maladministration in the hope that Liberals would hope there is something wrong. "But, of course, there is absolutely nothing wrong in the accusations. Every one of them had been fully answered and disproved on the floor of Parliament."

The Huntingdon Gleaner, the principal Independent organ in the Eastern Townships doesn't take kindly to this typical Patersonian manner of disposing of serious charges. It says:—

"We could wish that this was true, —that there had been no giving away of Western lands, timber limits, coal mines and townsites to party followers; that the Quebec bridge and Ross rifle transactions were prudent and honest and that the expenditures of the Militia and Marine Departments have been economical. It is past understanding why, if everything was so straight, the Government has a legal bully in every investigation to confuse witnesses and prevent critical questions being asked. To pretend that nothing was brought out that reflected on the Government is an insult to those who followed the daily reports of the proceedings."

Mr. Paterson well deserves this stinging rebuke. No man knows better than he does of the rank corruption that has been rife during the whole of the Liberal regime. No one knows better than he does that the graft wing of the Liberal party has completely captured the stronghold and with it the strong box, and that the old guard of which he is a member, has been thrust in the background and the new corrupt Liberalism exalted and given complete control.

Mr. Paterson can't by a few words lightly brush aside the grave scandals that have been unearthed in every department, and in almost every Government transaction during the last few seasons. The great mass of the electors can't be humbugged any longer by this 'there ain't nothing in it" form of argument. The facts of wholesale corruption at Ottawa are indisputable, and in November next, Mr. Paterson and his colleagues will certainly have meted out to them the just condemnation they most righteously have deserved.—Brantford Courier.

A QUESTION ANSWERED

One of the organs, the Toronto Globe, seeks to justify the Burrows-Sifton timber operations by asking the following question:—"Will Mr. Ames, or anyone else, tell us how the public exchequer could be prejudiced in the leasing of Western timber limits, while in every case the highest bidder got the limit?" The best answer to this question is that which is afforded by an illustration. On January 17th, 1908, there came to the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, an application by the firm of Urquhart, Richards and Pattinson, of Winnipeg, for fifty blocks of timber land of ten miles each just outside of Prince Albert. The firm, according to its statement, was acting on behalf of "a syndicate of American financial men." The timber was to be selected by the syndicate out of an area covering 7,000 square miles.

The moment this application reached the Department Turriff got busy, and within two weeks advertisements were out intimating that this huge area was to be sold to the highest tenderer. The notification for the sale, however, was put into but two papers, and only once in each of these journals. Few people knew from these scanty announcements that an empire was for sale. The advertisements were sent from Ottawa on January 28th, and the bids were to be back in Ottawa on March 7th. As it takes three or four days to communicate with Ottawa from Prince Albert, and vice versa, the time allowed for the inspection of the 7,000 miles of territory, and the estimating of its value, was about 30 days. The season was the middle of winter, and this circumstance made it the more improbable that expeditions would be fitted out to examine the timber for the purpose of making a bid. One month, in the dead of winter, was given for the probable tenderers to go over 7,000 square miles, and to determine how much they could offer for the right to select timber, from 500 miles of that area. The people of Prince Albert, when they saw what was being done, entered a protest. The Mayor telegraphed Sifton as follows:

"People of Prince Albert protest against sale of timber berths north of river; timber limits passing into the hands of speculators to the detriment of settlers.

"J. F. Austuil, Mayor."

The Board of Trade also entered a protest. It asked that the area be offered in smaller blocks; also that "the time for receiving tenders be extended for six months to enable lumbermen to examine limits for themselves." The Prince Albert people, it will be observed, were of the opinion that the public interest would be prejudiced by the disposal of the timber of the country in the manner adopted. On March 7th the bids were opened. Curiously enough the firm which sent the application "on behalf of an American syndicate" did not make any offer. But Theodore Burrows, M.P., did. A. W. Fraser, the president of the Liberal Association at Ottawa, and now the Government candidate there, tendered on Burrows' behalf in the names of other persons, and the 500 miles went to Burrows for $6,000.

Immediately afterwards Burrows sold out to William Cowan, of Prince Albert, for $80,000, thus clearing $74,000 on the deal. These facts point to the conclusion that the tendering was farcial. The process was of such a character that Burrows got the timber limits at his own figure, which was far below the price that would have been paid had the desire of the Prince Albert people for an extension of the time for bidding been acceded to. Having acquired the concession for $6,000, Burrows sold to the actual lumberman for $80,000. In this case the Treasury got $6,000 and Burrows got $74,000. This division seems to answer the question submitted by the organ:—"Will Mr. Ames, or anybody else, tell us how the Public Treasury could be prejudiced in the leasing of Western timber limits, while in every case the highest bidder got the limit!"—The Mail and Empire.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

Should Mr. R. L. Borden accept the Conservative nomination for Carleton county there is a probability that no Liberal will oppose him and the election will go by acclamation. Such an announcement was made by an official of the Liberal Association in the county this morning. Should Mr. Borden not run for Carleton county, Mr. J. E. Cradwell will doubtless be the Liberal candidate. The Liberal convention will be held on Sept. 23rd.

All the Conservative aspirants for the convention are willing to withdraw in favor of their leader. Mr. Borden. Mr. W. F. Garland, of Hintonburg, will go before the convention. He has made a complete tour of the county.—Ottawa Citizen.

Hon. A. B. Morine, the Conservative candidate in Queen's-Shelburne N. S., (who is pitted against Hon. Mr. Fielding, is conducting a lively campaign in that riding. He was one of the speakers at Mr. Borden's meeting in Liverpool, N.S., on Tuesday night, and C. F. Hamilton, the correspondent of the Toronto News, who is following up the fight in Nova Scotia at present says that Mr. Morine's particularly effective speech puts his fight against Mr. Fielding among the interesting features of the campaign.

There is bitter dissension and heartburning in the Liberal party in South Renfrew and the partisans of Mr. A. A. Wright M.P., are breathing fire and slaughter. For eight years Mr. Wright has represented South Renfrew in the House of Commons, but at the convention to nominate a candidate Mr. Wright was turned down and Mr. Thomas Lowe of Renfrew was chosen, having polled more than double the votes cast for the sitting member. Mr. Lowe's chances of election under the circumstances are regarded as decidedly slim. The vote showed Mr. Lowe 70, Mr. Wright 36. One hundred and sixteen delegates were present at the meeting, which was presided over by Dr. Connolly, of Renfrew, Mr. J. E. Thompson, of Arnprior, and Mr. McCormack, of Renfrew, were also honored with nomination but withdrew.

IS THE KNAPP ROLLER BOAT A REAL SHIP?

Is the Knapp roller boat a ship? Part of the defence in the damage action brought in the Admiralty Court at Osgoode Hall by the Turbinia Steamship Company is that the roller boat is not a ship.

Last fall, after navigation had closed the Turbinia was run into by the Knapp boat in Toronto harbor the roller boat having slipped its mooring at the Polson shipyards, and rolled out into the bay.

Judge Hodgins who has already issued an order for particulars of the damage and the act, will hear the action on the 23rd.

FAIR WILL BE HELD ON LARGER SCALE THAN EVER BEFORE

Directors Met Last Night—Longboat and Simpson May Run Five Mile Exhibition—Special Attractions Will Be Strong.

The fair directors are working indefatiguably in the interests of the exhibition and transacted a great deal of business at the meeting last night. President R. H. Leary was in the chair and the following directors were in attendance: Messrs. G. E. Elliott, W. B. Stewart, T. Johnston, V.S., J. J. Turner, Jas. R. Bell, J. O'Shea, G. W. Gillespie, W. E. Conway and Wm. Switzer.

The report of the committee appointed to look after the selection of a band was presented and the 57th was the band decided upon to render music at the fair.

Quite a discussion was held over the matter of getting Longboat and Simpson to run a five-mile race and it was decided to secure the speedy redmen if possible. They would certainly be a strong attraction and, as both are at present running in fine form would put up a most interesting exhibition.

The directors talked over the advisability of changing the 2.17 class on the second day to a free for all and decided it was best to let the class stand as it is.

MULTITUDE OF ENTRIES.

Secretary Hall has his office at the store of Storey & Simpson, Water street, and all those who wish to make any entries should call on him as soon as possible or else mail their entries at once.

"How are they coming in?" he was asked by The Review to-day.

"I am being flooded with them" he said; "they are pouring in for all classes."

President Leary is very optimistic as to the success of the exhibition and says it will be easily superior to any ever held in the history of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society.

The midway will be a big, bright, clean one, the grandstand performance will be an excellent one, while the races promise to be interesting and closely contested. A large number of horses are expected to start in the various events.

Triple the number of booths that ever have been at any fair in Peterborough and a well known Toronto caterer will look after the furnishing of hot meals. Taken altogether, the fair will be held on a much larger scale than heretofore attempted.

REYNOLDS HAS QUIT

Is in Bed at Newcastle Hotel

Big Hill There Proved too Much for Jimmy Once More.

pujm pujm pum pujm

"Jimmy Reynolds is in bed at Newcastle."

This was the message the Review received from Port Hope this afternoon and one can hardly keep from smiling.

At three o'clock the Review rang up Port Hope and inquired at the "Guide" office "Where is Jimmy Reynolds."

"He's in bed at Newcastle" was the answer.

For the fourth time the walking barber has failed to make the Port Hope Toronto and return trip in the time which he set out to do it.

This time he loses $500 which he wagered against $1000 put up by a Port Hope syndicate

It is too bad that Jimmy Reynolds should lose his money by his foolhardy feats.

He was forced to quit at Newcastle about eleven o'clock this morning. Newcastle is twenty-two miles from Port Hope. The big hill there has proved to be too much for Jimmy every time.

ON TIME AT TORONTO.

A Toronto despatch says:—Jimmy Reynolds, who left Port Hope at 6 a.m. yesterday morning, on a wager of $200 against $150, that he could walk to Toronto and return in 33 hours, arrived at the King Edward at 10.05 last night. After signing the register at the hotel, he was assisted to a friend's room, where he was rubbed down and given some light refreshments. He set out again about midnight, confident of success. He was almost fagged on reaching the King Edward, but, if the weather keeps favorable, expects to finish his walk in the specified time. He is making almost identical time with his June effort, as these figures indicate: September, 1908, Newtonville, 8.25; Newcastle, 9.32; Bowmanville, 10.10 a.m.; Toronto, 10.15 p.m. June, 1908 Newtonville, 8.21; Newcastle, 9.29; Bowmanville, 10.40 a.m.; Toronto, 10.05 p.m.

THE RING

London, Sept. 11.—Tommy Burns has at last decided to fight Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight, who has trailed himself over the world for a battle. A syndicate of Australians has practically clinched the match which probably will take place in Sydney during the latter part of November.

The Australians have offered a purse of $25,000 for a finish fight with four ounce gloves, the winner to receive 60 and the loser 40 per cent.

ATHLETICS

The attempt is being made to secure the entry of Fred Schaeffer, the Halifax sprinter, who defeated Bobby Kerr at Halifax for the Canadian championship; Hans Holmer, of Halifax, the Canadian mile champion, and A. C. Wood, of the Gordon Harriers, Montreal, the Canadian half-mile champion, by James Bryden, secretary of the Canadian league championship games to be held in Toronto Saturday, September 26th, at Varsity field.

No one doubts what the result of a meeting between Kerr and Schaeffer would be. It is now up to the Bluenose pistol beater to show what he can do with Kerr, all things being equal.—Hamilton Herald.

A. M. Knox, Jack Near, George Goulding and E. P. Macdonald of the Central Y.M.C.A., Lou Sebert and Jack Tait, of the West End Y.M.C.A., will go east to Peterborough to the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers' indoor meet Thursday night.

Ed Archibald, who is billed to pole-vault at Peterborough Thursday in the Harriers', is in Cobalt, and will not be able to keep the engagement.

Bobby Kerr will run in Peterborough on Thursday night in a handicap 100 yards.—Toronto Star.

MEETING TO FORM CITY RUGBY LEAGUE

Will be Held in the Y.M.C.A. Tomorrow Night

A meeting will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening for the purpose of taking steps toward the formation of a city Rugby league. The prospects for a league are good and all interested are requested to attend. It is likely that four teams will be entered should the league be formed, and it should have a most successful season. Much interest is being taken in the matter by the older heads as well as the younger enthusiasts.

WRESTLING

The articles for the match between Hassan Abdullah and Gene Hurtubise have been signed by Mr. Chris Graham and Mr. W. B. Naylor, the managers of the men, and it will be for a purse of $200, winner take all.

The match will be catch as catch can style, best two out of three falls. The referee will be decided as soon as Hassan and his manager arrive in Peterborough.

According to reports from Boston, the quaint costume of the Syrian attracted great attention and whenever the famous wrestler appeared on the streets he was the centre of a curious crowd. When he appears in Peterborough attired in his costume of an Arab Bedouin similar attention will doubtless fall to his lot. When he came up to his manager's house in Montreal, last Sunday Mr and Mrs. Naylor, were astounded at the crowd of not only children but grown-up persons, who followed him right up to the door, and one might say the neighborhood is very quiet and suburban and it was not exactly Sunday quietness that reigned. Still, the man is here in America with a great record and he is out to win every match. He does not know Gene, never heard of him, but he says he will crush him like he did the fighting Dago. Allah is good.

THE FRUITS OF THE EARTH

Seem To Be Nature's Provision For Keeping Man Healthy and Warding Off Disease.

Cereals, vegetables and meat supply the elements needed for man's nourishment. Yet fruit — though it has very little food value—has proved to be absolutely necessary for perfect health.

Careful investigation has shown that all the common fruits act on the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin. These are the organs that rid the body of dead tissue and waste products, and the fruit juices stir them up to more vigorous action, thus keeping the whole body clean and healthy.

But few people eat enough fruit. Realizing this, after several years of experimenting, a prominent Canadian physician succeeded in combining the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes in such a way that the medicinal action is many times multiplied. Then he added valuable tonics and made the combination into tablets called "Fruit-a-tives." They are really Nature's cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness and Stomach Troubles. Mild as Nature itself — but more prompt and effective. Sold by dealers at 50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50—trial size box 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Hamilton street cars are now operated at 8 o'clock Sunday mornings, instead of 10 o'clock as formerly.

Harry Barnett, who said he came from Toronto, was sentenced at Owen Sound to one year for burglary.

The north shore of Lake Superior is clouded with the smoke of forest fires and navigation is impeded.

W. George Elliott, of Brantford, manager of the Ontario Portland Cement Co., is dead of paralysis.

Miss Henrietta Galloway, of Halifax was burned to death by a lighted match which set fire to her dress.

Over one million acres have been taken up in Alberta and Saskatchewan last month by homesteaders.

BUSH FIRES AND DROUGTH IN THE BACK COUNTRY

A cloud of smoke overcasts the back country, coming from the bush fires there. It covers a wide area and is working toward many valuable farms which are in grave danger. Dense woods are in the vicinity of the conflagration and should the fire reach them there is no telling where it might end as everything is very dry.

Rain is badly needed throughout the district. Cattle are suffering and running about the pastures bellowing for water. Wells are dried up in almost every part, while great difficulty is being experienced in getting water to run the threshing machines.

NORMAL SCHOOL OPENED TO-DAY WITH 115 PUPILS

Principal Walker and Full Staff in Attendance—Some Pupils Trying Examinations To-day and To-morrow—Regular Work Begins on Thursday.

The Peterborough Normal School opened this morning. One hundred and fifteen pupils registered, they coming, some from the city and others from the surrounding towns and country. Principal Walker has been kept busy today with the examination of the pupils' certificates. There are twenty-two pupils who not coming from approved schools, have to try examinations for admittance to the Normal. These scholars are writing today and tomorrow.

The regular work will commence on Thursday morning. The full staff of teachers were present today.

WON'T BE MUCH WORK FOR LUMBERMEN THIS WINTER

Mr. Mat Jamieson of Cavandish Lumber Co. Tells of the Situation—Chopping Will Not be Carried on to Large Extent—Some Companies Will Have But One Camp.

This will be a hard winter for lumbermen, according to Mr. Matt Jamieson, clerk of the Cavendish Lumber Company. Chopping will not be carried on on a very extensive scale as a great quantity of logs from last year's cut have not been delivered.

"They have been bought," Mr. Jamieson stated, "but owing to the tightness of money the purchasers have not had the cash to pay for them and the companies have therefore had to hold them. There will be a slackness of work in the limits of every lumber company from here to the Soo and many companies will only have one camp. It will, in my opinion be nearly as hard a one as that of ten years ago when men worked for their board. The man in the woods will not get more on the average than $15 a month in the coming winter."

Mr. Jamieson stated that the Cavendish Company had some men cutting hemlock at present and he is getting a gang together to-day to go to the woods.

The lumbermen are now repairing the dams in the creeks while the water is low in preparation for bringing down the drives next spring.

La Nationaliste predicts that the Dominion elections may be delayed till next year.

DID "ALETHA" CARRY TOO MANY PASSENGERS?

Captain of Boat That Carried 57th Regiment is Charged With This Offence

HAVELOCK WOMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED BY FALL ON STAIRS

Mrs. Wescott Suffering From Concussion of the Brain as Result of Cut in Back of Neck.

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Wescott, a middle aged lady, wife of Wm. Wescott, who resides at the east end of the town, met with a very serious accident, which may yet prove fatal, this afternoon, on George St., east.

The unfortunate woman was going down the stairs into the cellar from the kitchen. The stairs are very steep, and she had a tub in one hand while in the other she had a large, sharp butcher knife. When about half way down she missed her footing, slipped and fell, and, as result, got a very bad gash in the back of her neck, causing concussion of the brain.

A doctor was at once summoned to attend the injured woman and found the cut a very deep one.

She was resting easily to-night, but is very low, and the doctor cannot tell till to-morrow how the accident will turn out.

REV. DR. YOUNG TELLS OF THE WONDERFUL CANADIAN WEST

Montreal Divine Spoke at George Street Last Night—A Comprehensive and Interesting Address.

If Rev. Dr. Young could make an hour's journey across the Canadian continent so delightful as he did in his lecture in the newly-decorated George street Methodist church last night, the delight would be multiplied many fold by the actual journey of seven days. Last night's lecture, which was the conclusion of the services, etc., in connection with the occasion of the re-opening of the church after its subjection to the hand of improvement. There was a good sized audience present to assist at a most enjoyable evening.

Rev. H. A. Pearson, the pastor, presided and introduced the lecturer and a brief, but musical, programme.

A well-sung anthem by the choir was succeeded by devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Mr. Coon, pastor of the Mark street Methodist church, followed by another selection by the choir.

The violin solo, Raff's Cavatina, was performed in a most artistic manner, marked by roundness and delicacy of tone and discriminating appreciation of its sentiment.

THE LECTURER

Rev. Mr. Young's lecture was an oratorical treat. He had his subject perfectly in hand, the narrative never being allowed to degenerate into dull news. It was lighted by flashes of humor and of elegant word-pictures, and throughout breathed fervent patriotism and large optimism. Dr. Young has evidently great faith in the future possibilities of the Canadian west, as a seat of empire, the home of happy millions and the granary of the empire.

Sketching rapidly the outstanding features of that part of the journey from Owen Sound through magnificent scenery of the thirty thousand islands of the Georgian Bay; through Port Arthur and Fort William, the destined greatest grain depot on the continent, Winnipeg was reached. This is a brick, wide-streeted city cosmopolitan as to its character and polyglot as to its population — 53 languages being represented in the books on the shelves of the Methodist Book Depository. Winnipeg has had a wonderful growth in the past thirty years and has a wonderful future.

On west into the wheat fields. The lecturer furnished a calculation as to the extent of the "consecutive wheatfields," stretching out into the deep west. It has an area of 300 by 900 miles, 270,000 square miles, or 173 million acres. At 15 bushels an acre, 100 million acres of this area would provide 1,500 million bushels of wheat. If this were garnered in Winnipeg, and shipped out at the rate of a train of 40 cars, a thousand bushels to a car, every fifteen minutes, a full year would elapse before the last train left Winnipeg. This was given to show the limitless possibilities of a country of such extent, with a fertile soil that stands almost unlimited cropping and a possibility of supplying millions of population. Beyond the wheat fields is the ranching country and beyond that the rockies, the most magnificent clusters of mountain peaks and passes, plunging rivers and lakes of indigo blue in the world. Further beyond is British Columbia, the sunset province. No condensed report can give an idea of the interest with which Rev. Dr. Young invested his word journey, and the hearty vote of thanks moved by Rev. Mr. Henderson and Rev. Mr. Manning, tendered the lecturer, was evidently more than a formality.

A delightfully sung solo by Miss Recsor, with violin obligato by Miss Chicate was a musical treat in which both soloist and accompanist acquitted themselves as artists. The duet by Miss Ida Sanderson, contralto and Miss Recsor, soprano, "My Faith Looks up to Thee," was sung with excellent fusion of tone and beautiful expression and shading.

God Save the King, and the benediction by the pastor, concluded the evening.

The lecture, with its attendant entertainment was a pronounced success, regarded in every way.

5 DOCTORS FAILED

CHRONIC ULCERS COVERED HER BODY & CRIPPLED HER.

HOW CURE CAME

How Zam-Buk cures chronic ulcers and sores is seen by the following experience of Mrs. Beers, of L'Original (Ont.) She says: "Some years ago ulcers and sores broke out on my legs and different parts of my body, and spread to an alarming extent, causing me great agony. I began to try salves, oils and medicines of various kinds, but the sores refused to heal. I then consulted a medical man, who treated me for some time, but the ulceration continued just as bad as ever. Another medical man was consulted, then another, and one after another until I had tried five different Doctors. All gave me up in despair. The ulceration and the skin disease were getting worse all the time, so I then went into the Hospital. I was there five months and came away very little better. I next went to another Hospital, and stayed there three months—again with no success. By this time my legs were covered with sores, my bones seemed all picked out with ulcers, and I could not walk without the use of a cane and a crutch. I was in such a shocking condition that I was longing for death.

"I saw a report of the value of Zam-Buk and I obtained a small supply. This did me so much good I bought a further supply. A few weeks steady use of this wonderful balm healed the ulcers, removed the sores and I am to-day completely cured. For many years I was obliged to use a cane and crutch to walk. Now I have thrown both cane and crutch away, and feel as well and vigorous as at the age of 30."

SPORTING NEWS

HARRY BURRIDGE IS HOME MADE GOOD WITH THE PROS.

Was One of the Best Catchers in the P. and O. League and Batted Over 200—A Favorite With the Youngstown Fans.

Harry Burridge, who did most of the backstopping for the Youngstown team of the Pennsylvania-Ohio League this season, arrived in Peterborough last night and is getting the glad hand from a host of friends. Harry is looking fine and is feeling that way, too, he says. He had a most enjoyable time across the line and made good in fine style in pro. company. According to the Youngstown papers, Harry was a great favorite with the fans there, and they are dead anxious to have him back again next summer. To jump from a small league into big company and become a star in one season is somewhat of a remarkable record. Youngstown led the league for the first part of the season, but on the home stretch their pitchers went to the bad and the team finished in fifth place, Akron winning the pennant. Youngstown had three catchers at the first of the season, but one of them was let out, Burridge and Jackson being retained. Several of the players in the Pennsylvania and Ohio League have been drafted to the big leagues, the National and American. A number of former Eastern League players were with the P. and O. teams this season, and the class of ball played was about as good as that in the Eastern.

Harry says he was used white by the Youngstown people and could not have received better treatment. He will likely remain in Peterborough for the winter. He batted over the 200 mark this season and on one occasion caught five games in three days.

LONGBOAT COMING DESPITE REPORTS TO THE CONTRARY

An item appears in the Toronto papers that Tom Longboat will not appear here on Thursday night on account of running a ten mile race at Erie the next day. The above is not correct. Officers of the local Harrier Club were in communication with Tom Flanagan last night and the Irish Canadian manager stated emphatically that Longboat was going to Peterborough. Flanagan is coming himself and there is no doubt but that the Indian will be brought along with him.

Sellen, Black and Selbert are also sure starters.

Ed. Archibald is in Cobalt and has sent word that he will be unable to come.

Bobby Kerr is coming of course, and will be given a great reception. It is quite an honor to Peterborough to have a visit from the world's champion sprinter. Kerr will run the 50 and 220 yards. He is running in great form.

There promises to be a record attendance. The 57th regiment band will be in attendance and will give a fine programme.

SENIOR SERIES FOR O. R. F. U. WILL PETERBOROUGH ENTER?

The Mail and Empire says:

Events are moving rapidly in the world of football. Yesterday the Old FU was a thing of the past. To-day it is once again a Rugby factor and one of no mean calibre.

Last night the TAAC called a football meeting and without a dissenting vote decided to enter teams in both the senior and junior series of the Ontario organization and to seriously consider the placing of a team in the intermediate series as well. Their determination following, as it does, on the heels of Westmount and the probability of applications from Kingston and Peterborough means much and gives promise of the restoration to the ORFU something resembling its old-time glory.

In the intermediate and junior ranks President Seo states the number of teams will far exceed that of last season. All the old clubs are in line reports to the contrary notwithstanding and, in addition, many new towns will be represented. The ORFU has decided that there shall be three series, senior, intermediate and junior, and is now making up for the time lost waiting for the outcome of the Inter-provincial Union meeting. Things will be whipped into shape rapidly and schedules in all three series drawn up as soon as possible.

The decision of the Athletic Club to enter teams in the ORFU will not interfere in any way with the games which have already been arranged by them, to which a city championship battle with the Argonauts will likely be added. They will keep their engagement with Hamilton on September 26th, among others, and on Thanksgiving Day, October 19th, will play Montreal at Rosedale, the eastern club having changed the date of their game with the Argonauts scheduled for that day, to Saturday, the seventeenth, to avoid a clash with the Ottawa College-McGill Inter-collegiate fixture. Furthermore, should they be fortunate enough to win senior ORFU honors, they will be entitled to challenge for the Canadian Championship.

At their meeting last night the Athletic Club went right ahead with their plans for the season. A. Rathbun, the ex-UCC, McGill and Argonaut quarter-back, easily the best man in his position in Canada, was elected captain. Rosedale has been secured both for practice and match purposes and it was decided to have players to the number of 30, sleep in the clubhouse, so as to make it possible to hold early morning practices. Thirty cots, with all accessories, will be installed and at 10.30 tonight the men will report to Captain Rathbun. Every player has declared his intention to stick by the club and the idea of being weakened by desertions to the Argonauts is laughed at. The gathering last night was a most enthusiastic one. Over 20 players of senior calibre were present, among others, Johnston, Mara, Rathbun, Crooks, Naismith, Hugh Clarkson, Guy Clarkson, De-Gruchy, Hargraft, Len Morrison, Clark, Mert Kent, Wood and Swale, and many others have signified that they will cast in their lot with the TAAC.

BASEBALL

Arrangements are being made to have the winners of the Senior Amateur Baseball League of Toronto, appear here in the near future in three games against a Peterborough team. The matches should draw big crowds as great baseball would be played.

The Peterborough team will have Quinlan, Clements and Hawkins on the pitching staff while Jerry Edmunds and Harry Burridge would do the backstopping. Harry has just returned from Youngstown.

Corney Burns will also be on the line-up and the other positions will be filled by equally good ones. This aggregation should be able to take a drop out of Toronto's best.

Further announcement regarding the games will be made shortly.

New Liskeard defeated Haileybury on Saturday by 9 to 3, and won the Temiskaming Cup, also the Silver Foam Brewing Company's silver cup. New Liskeard lost only one game in the league series.

Batteries—New Liskeard, Dick Rudolph and Elmer Pierce; Haileybury, Baker and Montgomery.

Burton, the Barrie pitcher, has reported to the Torontos and will be given a trial.

There is not a regular hitting over 300 in the Eastern League. Jimmy Jones of Montreal, and Arndt, of Providence, are clouting .296. Jack White, Buffalo, and Fox, Jersey City, are hitting .295.

If Bill Phyle had not been handicapped by injuries this season he would have given that .300 mark a battle.

That Cleveland team looks strong contenders for the American League pennant, but it will be a battle royal between the four teams, the season finishing with Detroit at Chicago and Cleveland at St. Louis.

Indianapolis, the winners of the American Association, refuse to play the winners of the Eastern League.

SPORTING COMMENT

Bobby Kerr will give an exhibition race at London fair to-day. Next week he will be the attraction at the Peterborough Harriers' meet. Fred McGrath, the old Peterborough sprinter and ex-quarter mile champion will be Kerr's chief opponent.—Hamilton Spectator.

It is expected that the Conkle-Hurtubise wrestling match will take place next week. The Olympic Club is dickering for the drill hall, and hope to secure it for the big bout.—Hamilton Spectator.

If old Jimmy Reynolds fails in his walk this time he'll have a brand-new excuse—too much smoke in the air.—Belleville Intelligencer.

If there are errors or omissions in the list of entries as published, for the Harrier meet, those interested are requested to inform the secretary, Mr. R. M. Glover, of the fact.

James J. Corbett, former boss of the prize ring, and present day actor man, has assumed new duties and is now conducting a column on ring matters in a leading Chicago daily. "Gentleman Jim" makes a shifty lead when he gets away with the following quotation as the introduction to the first article:

"Train up a child in the way it should go and when it is old it will not depart from it."

The great Napoleon is credited with these words.

James J. no doubt knows all about the squared circle but he is apparently somewhat deficient in ancient history and some other things. If the ex-champion was around it might not be safe to correct him, but the general impression is that a much wiser man than Napoleon is authority for the words we have often listened to with fear and trembling in the good old days when the minister paid his family call.

RUGBY

The meeting of the Interprovincial in Montreal decided to inaugurate a junior and intermediate series, Eastern and Western. This decision will practically mean that the death knell of the O.R.F.U. has been struck. Already applications have been received from intermediate teams in Peterborough, Toronto, London, Hamilton and Dundas, and a meeting for organization purposes will be held next Saturday. The secretary for the Western division will be M. M. Robinson, sporting editor of the Spectator. The fee for the intermediates will be $10 per club and for the juniors $5 per club. The champions of each division and subdivision will play off for the championship at the end of the season.

WILL MEET SATURDAY.

Vice-President W. H. Seymour of the Interprovincial Rugby Union and convener of the western district for junior and intermediate teams has called a meeting at Hamilton for Saturday afternoon, when the different groups and schedules will be adopted and arrangements made for the season. All teams desirous of placing teams in either the junior or intermediate sections are requested to send representatives. M. M. Robinson, of the Hamilton Spectator, has been appointed secretary of the western division and particulars can be procured from him. An entrance fee of $10 has been fixed for the intermediate teams while the junior fee will be $5.—Hamilton Spectator.

KINGSTON'S PROSPECTS.

No city rugby league has yet been formed, and no city team has been entered in the O.R.F.U., so the boys have nothing to work for, or to get out and practise for. It certainly seems very peculiar that football has died so suddenly in this city, where only a few years ago teams were turned out, that made all Canada sit up and take notice. Now not even a junior league team can be got together to defend the city's reputation. The Westmounts have entered a team in the O.R.F.U. according to word received, and they expect to see the Limestones back again this year. Will they see them?—Kingston Whig.

LACROSSE

Cornwall, Ont., Sept. 14.—Considerable talk was going on here yesterday of Cornwall protesting Saturday's match with the Nationals on the ground of the ineligibility of Pelletier to play with the Nationals. On June 1st, 1907, Pelletier played at third home for Cornwall against the Montrealers here on which occasion the winged wheel team won by 9 to 4. The residence rule would bar Pelletier from figuring on any team other than Cornwall for two years, and on this score Cornwall would seem to have good grounds for a protest.

If Cornwall protests and the match is awarded to them, or if they and the Nationals are ordered to play over again, and Cornwall wins, this will place the Tecumsehs and Cornwall a tie for the championship, with 8 wins and 4 losses each.

People who witnessed Saturday's match feel a great deal of regret at the usage some of the Cornwall players received. Genuine regret is expressed on all sides that Sauve should have attacked Johnny Broderick in such a manner. It is doubtful if there is a more gentlemanly lacrosse player in all Canada than John Broderick. His nose is broken and he has a deep gash under one eye. Sauve's attack was unprovoked and should have received a greater penalty than ten minutes. The action of a section of the crowd in applauding him for dirty work is severely condemned.

An afterstudy of the situation leads one to believe that when Broderick was forced to retire Cornwall should have placed either McAteer or Thompson in his place instead of allowing the Nationals to drop Pelletier, who showed poor form during the time he was on. Broderick's loss was a serious one for Cornwall, and it is felt here that had he been able to continue with his team mates throughout the match, Cornwall would have won.

Following is the lacrosse rule applying to this:—

Section 1, rule 8.—No protest for a violation of the constitution and laws of lacrosse of this Union shall be entertained by the committee of management unless it has been mailed or filed with the president within two days after the match in which said protest occurred.

It is learned later that Cornwall has protested.

WAGNER LEADS THE NATIONAL

And Will Likely Retain the Position for Rest of Season

Hans Wagner continues to hold the batting laurels of the National League and seems sure to retain first place to the finish of the season. Second place will be warmly fought over, as Johnny Evers is making a great bid to displace Mike Donlin, and Kitty Bransfield has suddenly broken over the .300 column with some of the best batting he has ever done in fast company.

While the averages are mostly tight they show signs of improvement over the previous week and may go still higher before the end of the season.

New York leads in team batting, Chicago second. Pittsburg leads in long hits and Chicago and Philadelphia are tied in team fielding. Five pitchers still have perfect fielding averages. Bliss heads the catchers and Gill the first basemen. Knabe leads on second, Mowrey at third and Tinker at short. Osborne has about the most creditable outfield record.

WALKING

London, Sept. 14.—The English walker, T. E. Hammond, made a record for the 100 mile walk Saturday. He was one of the 42 contestants who left the Stadium at 5 o'clock Friday evening in the walking contest under the auspices of the Middlesex Walking Club. He covered the distance in 18 hours 8 minutes 10 1-2 seconds. In 1907 Hammond made a record in walking from London to Brighton and back. Hammond won also the 24-hour walk. In this time he covered 131 miles 820 yards, breaking all previous records.

DOMINION ELECTIONS

To the Electors of the West Riding of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN:—The condition of industry in Canada is bad. The condition of workingmen is following suit. Their beautiful homes are becoming the prey of reduced circumstances. To the extent that we pay out money to other countries for work that should be done here we are traitors to our workingmen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought this about, to such a degree that Canada has paid out in the last twelve years (being the term during which the Liberals have been in power) hundreds of millions of dollars more than she took in. It was not so under a protectionist government. Those millions should have been spent at home. Then there would have been work for our workers to that extent at any rate, and what is more, the money would have been kept in the country. As it is we have to borrow to get it back. We have to borrow for gigantic enterprises which serve to make the big money-lender, the stock gambler and the contractor rich, but what good is it doing the workingman? To add insult to his injury Sir Wilfrid Laurier has opened the gates on the East and the West to immigrants. Those on the East, our own kith and kin, have been misled by misrepresentation and entrapped by agents who are paid a bonus for their capture. Those on the West are the untold millions of the Orient who are displacing the whites in B.C. are working East and are dispossessing Canadians of their own country. They lower the rate of wages and the standard of living. If Canada is to be kept up as she was but a few years ago she must not be allowed to fall into the class of "cheap and nasty" nations. If her people are to be well housed, well fed, well educated and above the condition of sweaters, they must demand a tariff against sweatwork, against undue immigration, against undue importation and a high protection for employers and employed alike, against the trickery of men who make their money on the stock market and by graft. The workers are slowly but surely becoming poorer than they used to be in this naturally rich and resourceful country. Why? Because the cream of all work goes to the money-lender of New York and London.

Why are the men of Canada idle? Because others will do the work cheaper in Britain and Germany and we let them invade our markets while they keep us out of theirs. The German tariff, the United States tariff, the French tariff are all vastly higher than ours. Britain protects herself where she needs it, by a Cattle Embargo and by the Patents Act, which requires patented articles (and nearly all are patented) to be manufactured there. There is never depression in France. The French have a high tariff and economize. They have always plenty for a rainy day. The Germans likewise keep their own work in their own country, but are weighed down with militarism. Britain suffers because her work is being done elsewhere, although she is changing that rapidly, but she has an immense start over Canada in her already accumulated capital. The United States is the modern wonder of the world, due altogether to high protection. Protection or tariff has been well said to be the measure of the standard of life amongst the workers. Commodities in protected countries are not higher than in unprotected. Clothing under a low tariff in Canada is higher in price than it used to be under a high tariff. Certain ills due to over-expansion, the machinations of stockgamblers, etc., exist in all countries, but when an ill is plainly preventable, why not prevent it? Sending cash out of the country over and above what we take in will never make us rich. Yet we do it and must do it under our present system of trade. Opening up unnecessary lands as in the West, while Ontario is not half populated or developed is of a piece with rest, but it is the delight of the money-lender. Ontario farms are rapidly decreasing in value. A huge national deficit is accumulating for this year and unless times are checked and we are restored to our own, the coming winter will be a veritable horror. The money that we are borrowing in such immense sums if spent for supplies, made in Canada, would mean work for everyone at good wages. Why then does Sir Wilfrid permit rails for the G. T. P. to be bought out of Canada and clothing that would keep our farmers growing wool and our woollen mills weaving it, to be imported without hindrance?

To say that one government is as bad as another is to say that one man or one set of men is no better as managers than another. We know this to be the reverse of correct in government, in trade, in railways or in anything else. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although the Conservative administration, as it proved, was falling to pieces, could never have got into power had he not agreed to "let the tariff alone." This pledge he contrived to evade on the ground that while the U. S., Germany, etc., were prosperous under a protective tariff, he could make Canada a brilliant and enduring exception under a low tariff and a preference. Now he is compelled to fall back on the statement that depression is worldwide and that therefore Canada must share it.

Then the boast of great enterprises! Vast sums of money have been borrowed and spent but who has got the benefit of it? Who has been made rich? Where has it gone? The charge we make against the administration of Sir Wilfred Laurier is that it is in the grasp of the great money-lenders. It has ceased to represent the people. Is it any wonder then lose faith in the forms of government? Without any government at all there would be a happier people. If the times are not rescued, whether it be by a party or by a people, civilization will be destroyed. The thunder of revolt is already heard. Religion, art, education—all will go with the frenzied efforts of men to get out of the grasp of Money which never loses, never shares its needs, into a state of freedom and the natural fruition of honest work and a resourceful soil.

I am not rich, nor am I able to live without working, as has been said, and I never was. The stock exchange where so many have won fabulous riches at the expense of the steady worker underneath is unknown to me. If I have no money to lose I have none to be ashamed of.

The day of the abject party man is gone. Let humanity have a chance.

I solicit your vote and influence and have the honour to remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

SUMMER SEASON STILL IN EVIDENCE AT STONY LAKE

A Few Cottagers Remaining to Enjoy the Balmy September Days—Viamede Closed Yesterday—Last Saturday Evening Boat Carried a Large Number of Passengers.

Special Correspondence

Stony Lake, September 15—The season is practically over at Stony Lake, although there are yet some cottages open, their occupants remaining to enjoy the last days of summer; September this year has been extremely warm making life at the summer resorts much more pleasant than in the city. The steamer Stoney Lake made her last evening trip of Saturday and quite a number of people availed themselves of the opportunity to spend the week end at their cottages. The foliage along the shores looks quite pretty in the autumnal tints and the scenery at this season of the year is very beautiful.

The guests at the Park hotel, Burleigh Falls have nearly all returned to their homes save a few who have remained to enjoy the duck shooting. They are having great luck this much sought after bird being in great flocks in the vicinity of the Falls.

Mrs. H. W. Darcy and Miss Goodman of Rochester, NY., were on a two days' fishing expedition to Loon Lake last week. Miss Goodman landed a three pound bass and also a fine lunge.

Messrs. H. G. and R. H. Dana of Rochester who have been holidaying at the Park hotel, returned home last Friday, taking with them a large number of fish, among them being a fourteen pound lunge.

Mr. Alf. Simmons of the Peterborough Lumber Company, was at the Park hotel last week with a number of men en route to the lumber districts.

Mr. John McFarlane who has the contract for building a stone abutment to the Burleigh-Smith bridge, has completed the work and is awaiting it to be inspected.

Mr. H. W. Darcy of the Park hotel, intends spending the winter with friends in Los Angeles, Cal.

Those registered at the Park hotel during the past week, are:

F. K. Clarke, and W. D. French, of Toronto. R. B. Carruthers of Ottawa and Mrs. and Miss Bowen of Toronto.

Mr and Mrs Graham and Miss Graham closed Viamede for the season and returned to their home at Lakefield yesterday.

Mr. L. Robinson, proprietor of the Juniper Island store intends keeping it open for a week longer.

Ald. and Mrs. Buller spent Sunday and Monday at Stony Lake.

Ald. Morrow was at his cottage over Sunday.

Ald. and Mrs Neill were at "Clear View," Clear Lake for the week end.

Mrs. Rutledge returned to the city last evening after holidaying at South Beach.

Miss McFadden, Gilmour street, has returned home after a holiday at South Beach.

Miss Smythe has returned to the city from Youngs' Point where she was the guest of Miss Kearney.

Mr. C. Browne and Miss Browne, closed "Woodside" today and returned to the city.

LATE SUMMER

From Baltimore American

How glorious are these later days, when summer's passing by.
And the colors of the coming fall
show in the August sky,
When in the heat of morn and eve,
there comes a cooling breeze,
And richer, deeper grows the green
upon the branching trees,
And fruits begin to mellow and the gorgeous flowers bloom,
As though the summer sought to deck a garlanded fair tomb,
Whose beauty would keep thoughts of love alive with fond regret,
And leave a trace of loveliness and brightness with us yet.

TO MAKE GOLD OUT OF SILVER

Sir Wm. Ramsay Says it is a Possibility

Paris, Sept. 14—Sir Wm. Ramsay, the celebrated English scientist, discoverer of the five gases found in the air—crypton, argon, helium, neon zeon—went to France recently to accept a gold medal from the French Association for the advancement of Science, conversed with a representative of Le Matin on his researches in radio activity and the experiments he is now engaged upon.

"Last year," said the scientist, "I showed that the emanation of radium changed into helium or neon, according to circumstances. In presence of a solution of copper the emanation degrades the copper and yields another metal of the same series, but of an inferior atomic gravity, lithium, then potassium and sodium. The emanation itself is transformed into neon and argon."

Sir William was asked if a metal could not be raised in the scale instead of degraded and so fulfil the dream of turning silver to gold. "I do not think" he replied, "that the emanation of radium can only degrade metals. The emanation only acts by its tremendous energy. It may just as well construct as disintegrate, and I have reasons for believing that it will not be impossible to obtain gold from silver. My present experiments are in that direction."

In explaining this process Sir William said that there are two elements that hold places according to their atomic gravity, between silver and gold. One cesium, is known; the other, unknown, has been named argentaurum. When submitted to the emanation, therefore, silver may be transmitted into caesium, argentaurum, or gold. But, the scientist concluded, although this would be a great victory for science, it would not be a lucrative or even remunerative way of making gold.

IN A BREATH THERE'S REST

Breathe Hyomei and be Cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma

Nature has a remedy for catarrh, epidemic colds and bronchitis that is far better than dosing the stomach with medicine and drugs.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomei which medicate the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

Hyomei acts like a curative internal air bath and has the same healing and antiseptic effect as the air where pine and Eucalyptus forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams.

Breathe healing Hyomei and see how quickly you will get relief from catarrh and head colds. If it does not help you there will not be a penny's expense, as W. Madill, druggist, corner Hunter and George Sts., agrees to refund the money. The complete Hyomei outfit costs only $1.00.

CARELESSNESS IS THE CAUSE

Railway Official Says it is the Primary Cause of the Bush Fires Which Have Been Prevailing

A prominent railway official today attributed the prevalence of bush fires, to the laxity of county officials and the carelessness of farmers. He stated that the farmers would light a field of stumps or a patch of bush to make a clearing for themselves and then would let the blaze spread. When the county officials found any of them doing this they should have interfered and had the farmers fined, but this they had neglected to do.

The railways, he said, had been generally blamed for the fires but it was more due to the carelessness of the county officials than to that of the railways, which saw to the putting out of all the fires which they lighted along the sides of the tracks.

Judging by present indications, September, in the matter of weddings, is going to beat June all hollow. And surely no one could want a nicer month to be married in than September, with its wealth of fruit and flowers, cool evenings and warm days. If Dame Nature smiles more genially in one month than another surely it is in sweet September. So good luck to the happy lads and lassies who jump the broomstick this month. May their joys be big ones and their only troubles little ones.—Belleville Intelligencer.

1 CRIMINAL AND 3 CIVIL CASES AT FALL ASSIZES

Opened To-day Before Mr. Justice Magee—His Lordship Does Not Think County Gaol Desirable Place for Old and Infirm—Case of Port Hope B. and M. Co. Versus Fox Being Heard.

The fall Assizes of the High Court opened yesterday at the Court House Mr. Justice Magee presiding. There is one criminal case that of (Jos. Lasmeur, jr., who is charged with perjury and three civil cases.

The following representatives of the bar were present:—D. O'Connell, W. H. Moore, K.C., Louis M. Hayes, K.C., G. N. Gordon, R. F. McWilliams, E. B. Edwards, K.C., E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, John [illegible].

Upon the Grand Jury being selected his Lordship delivered his charge to that body.

"Mr. Foreman and gentlemen of the Grand Jury," he remarked "your duties fortunately will be light at this assizes: Only one criminal case will come up."

He said the jurors would be glad to be relieved and spoke of the custom nowadays of prisoners being tried by the county judge in order that their cases might be quickly disposed of.

The only criminal case was one of perjury. His Lordship explained the nature of the evidence given by the defendant when he was tried under the Liquor License Act for selling liquor without a license and it was alleged he gave false evidence then.

One who is guilty of perjury gives testimony with the knowledge that it is false and with the intention of misleading the court.

His Lordship said that he saw by the list of those in jail that there were seven vagrants who were over 65 years of age and he thought it was no place to house men of this character, who quite often were not criminally inclined. Eight of the prisoners were serving sentences for theft There were seventen altogether.

The first case was that of the Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co., Limited, versus Manley E. Fox. In this case the plaintiffs claim that the defendant, Mr. E. Fox, Trenton, entered into an agreement with them to become a shareholder in the Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co., Limited, to the amount of two shares, valued at $200. This the defendant has not done, and they claim $200 interest amounting to $27.60, and the costs of the action. Defendant denies that he ever executed such an agreement as alleged, or that if he did the plaintiffs were not a properly incorporated body. O'Connell & Gordon for plaintiffs; Archie Abbott, Trenton, for defence.

All Reached Safety But Two Who Met Death---Fire at Windsor Blocks Tunnel

Special to the Review.

Windsor, Ont., September 15.—Two hundred men were trapped in the Michigan Central tunnel under the Detroit river at this side of the river at midnight last night by a fire which started from some unknown cause.

All but Walter Kimball a night superintendent and Bert Johnson, a laborer escaped. Kimball reached the surface in safety but returned to aid others. Kimball had been married only two months. Johnson was single. Many men fell in the wild scramble for safety but were assisted to safety by others.

The property loss will amount to some thousands of dollars.

WILL HAVE HARD WORK TO SECURE A SEAT FOR MURPHY

Resignation of Hon. Mr. Scott is Not Regarded With Favor in Many Localities.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—When Sir Wilfrid Laurier returns on Wednesday from his general election meeting at Niagara Falls a Cabinet meeting will be held at which several important political changes will be announced. In the first place there will be the resignation of Hon. R. W. Scott to be accepted as Secretary of State, and the call of his successor, Mr. Charles Murphy K.C., to be approved. Mr Murphy to be sworn in in the afternoon.

Other appointments to be put through will be those of Mr. W. Gallaher M.P., Hon. Thos. Greenway, M.P., and Mr. Darcy Scott, Mayor of Ottawa as members of the Railway Commission, and of Mr. Charles Parmelee, M.P. for Shefford, as King's Printer.

It is well known here that the resignation of Hon. R. W. Scott was only obtained on consideration of his son, Mr. Darcy Scott, being appointed to the Railway Commission. Nevertheless the impression prevails that the Prime Minister has made a mistake in thus swapping horses while crossing the political stream. Mr. Murphy is backed by influential Roman Catholic interests in Eastern Ontario, but it has been pointed out that with the exception of the Toronto contractor he is without backers among the Irish Catholics of Western Ontario and the trouble will be to provide him with a constituency. The only one available in the district is that of Russel, wherein Mr. McLaurin recently secured the nomination over Mr. Wilson, M.P., the juvenile nephew of Senator Edwards.

It must be said, however, that the resignation of Hon. R. W. Scott, for so many years recognized as the balance wheel of the Liberal Government, is now regarded in Ottawa with unmixed favor.

NEW BRIDGE AT BROCK ST. ATTRACTING MUCH COMMENT

Structure is of Very Permanent Nature—Is Now Open for Traffic But is Not Yet Completed.

The new bridge at the corner of Aylmer and Brock streets is now open for traffic although still uncomplete in some respects. The structure is a great improvement over the former one and is attracting much favorable comment. The plans for it were prepared by City Engineer Hay, and the work was done under the direction of Mr. W. J. Martin.

As yet the work is not completed. The wing walls on the north end are under way and the railings around the Aylmer street wall and the north and south ends of the bridge have to be put up. Consequently the cost cannot be figured, although it is expected that it will come within or a little below the original estimate.

The construction of the Brock street bridge is of a particularly permanent nature. It is of concrete reinforced under the Kahn system which is the placing of steel bars all through the concrete, forming bones which bears the weight of the body. It is just as strong as a 21-inch I beam would be, but more rigid. There is less vibration when a heavy load passes over on account of the greater number and the position of the members forming the reinforcement.

The deck of the bridge is a continuous slab of concrete six inches deep, all reinforced with a net work of similar bars, only of smaller section. The length is 156 feet on the east side and 175 feet on the west side, and has a clear span of 27 feet with openings for connections of sewers, waterworks, gas mains, telephone conduits, etc. The walls supporting the deck are 18 inches at the top and 3 feet 6 inches at the bottom with footing five feet wide and two feet deep, all of solid cement.

The wing walls at the north and south ends are 18 inches thick at the bottom and 12 inches thick at the top. The object of these walls is to guide and control the volume of water and ice which comes down in the spring. The wall on the east side at the north end extends from the bridge to a point where the 18-inch drain on Aylmer street empties into the creek. This wall is not yet finished, but when it is the space between it and the roadway will be filled in, making the street at this point considerably wider. On top of this wall and along all exposed places a substantial railing will be able to protect the travelling public.

Ald. Phelan and the other members of the Board of Works deserve credit for what has been accomplished.

SAYS WRITER IS A KNOCKER

Another Reply to "Otonabee Horsemen"—"Fair Minded Citizen" Writes

Sporting Editor Review.

Dear Sir,—In reply to several letters in your columns, I would like to ask "Otonabee Horseman" if he could point out where there are any free for all horses around here to race in this free for all that he is hollering about and I would like to know if all he has to do is to sit around and act as a knocker, also if he has any horses that he is spending time and money on, trying to educate.

Now, my esteemed friend, "Otonabee Horseman," I dont think you are capable of having a horse or you would be down and instead of knocking, try to do a little to cultivate good speed horses.

We have several horses in our town and I have often watched them in their work and races and I have always been satisfied. Now, if this were a free for all what would stop some fast one coming from Toronto and making a regular procession of the races. Time cuts no ice, it is the finish.

Now, in regards to the summer meet we all know that as a financial success it was a failure, but as to the races they were splendid and I think that we will see just as fast a time and as fast horses as in previous years.

Now, this fair was never a success until the horses got into it and now they are on their feet and no thanks to you, "Otonabee Horseman."

Hoping this will hold you for a while.

Yours for sensible racing,

INFRINGED ON PATENT.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—That man Byrne, who brought liquor into Colchester, N.S., during the bye-elections must be an exceptionally bad man, as he actually infringed on J. R. Stratton's patent by asking one of the witnesses, who was to give evidence before the Magistrate, "if he could not forget some things." Just think of such a flagrant exhibition of moral turpitude as stealing a man's patent. It is far worse than treating the electors and that is bad enough.

VOL. LVII., No. 64. PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1908 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

A MATTER OF THE FITNESS OF THE TWO CANDIDATES

Will the Electors Consider the Claims Made by Mr. Stratton and Those Advanced by Mr. Burnham and Vote Accordingly?

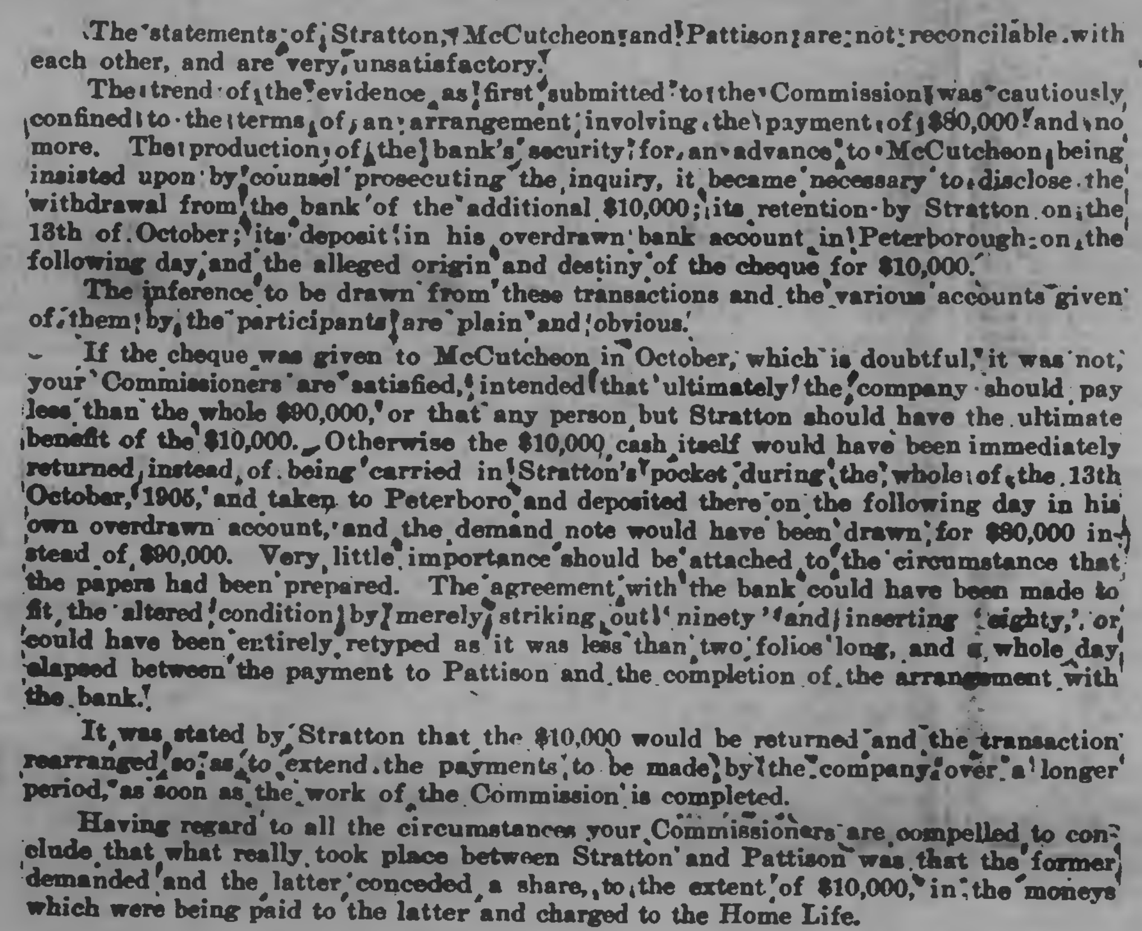
The Examiner of September 14. has a review of Mr. Burnham's address and of his general character and ability as contrasted with Mr. Stratton, who, on his part, boldly challenged criticism at the recent Liberal convention. It is necessary to remark upon these things. Let us consider what they mean. They mean in the first place that Mr. Stratton has been a large employer of labor, while Mr. Burnham "has never done anything to put a dollar in their way." That Mr. Stratton has been a large employer of labor no one can very well maintain. He has been a stock exchange man chiefly. There is where he made his money. He has been heard to say many a time that he did not make a dollar out of his chief commercial enterprise here. His career cannot be considered so much a successful as a lucky career can it? Speculators on 'change do more harm to industry than any other men. Stock-gambling is taking by fictitious investment what the public is led to suppose is genuine. It leads to more widows and orphans being made penniless than any other known cause. Mr. Stratton is a director of the Traders' Bank and was or is president of the Home Life Assurance Association, of which more will be found below.

Like all insurance companies, the latter bears ultimately for good or ill on the widows and the fatherless. What affected that association affected the orphaned and the husbandless. Mr. Stratton's connection with it will be found above. Mr. Burnham has been engaged in none of these affairs. He has spent many a dollar in wages, but not enough to more than refute the sweeping statement made of him. That Mr. Burnham has not done his best to do his part as a Canadian and a lover of his fellowmen is not true. It is neither seemly nor necessary, however, to discuss such matters at length. The records of the two men in this respect are before the people. But the Examiner's criticism is intended to show that Mr. Stratton would make a better representative than Mr. Burnham. We do not agree with that statement. Mr. Stratton did not begin to do as much for Peterborough city or county as Mr. Hall or Mr. Bradburn. He did not make a good representative at Toronto.

He wrecked his party and provided an example that has done far more injury to Canadians and Canada and to Peterborough than he can ever repair. His conduct in the insurance investigation as the phototype in this issue shows was such as to bring down upon him the scathing scorn of the Laurier Commission. In that famous report made by a Commission selected by the Laurier Government and with all parties protected by counsel he is found to have taken $10 000 00 that did not belong to him and of swearing falsely that he did not. He is found by that report to have been in a conspiracy to defraud the Home Life and of doing so and therefore also those unfortunates who would ultimately feel the effects of such an injury to that company. We do not wish to do over again here what Canadians of all parties have already done, viz., condemned him. He excites everybody's pity but his own. He still thinks that people are only chattels, that they exist only to be bought and sold. Mr. Burnham has no such record behind him, and we hope no such future before him. All his life he has devoted himself to the study of industrial questions. This is no new thing for him. He lectured on them before the Canadian Institute in Toronto 20 years ago, upon which occasion the late Mr. John Bertram, ex-M.P., paid him the highest and most kindly compliments. If Mr. Burnham is not a money-getter it is perhaps just as well. The way money is amassed in these days is no credit to most of those who amass it. Briefly, then, the question for the electors to whom both candidates appeal, is a moral one. Which has been truest to the best interests of his country—and most forgetful of his own? Only a very thin partition separates the goodness and kindness of life from the heartless world of vice, graft and ruin. Which of these men do we most need at Ottawa?

Readers can do a great service to the cause by bringing the Review to the attention of their neighbors.

Extract from the Royal Insurance Commissioners' report, made to Parliament, 1907. Following is a photographic copy of a portion of the report:



The statements of Stratton, McCutcheon and Pattison are not reconcilable with each other, and are very unsatisfactory.

The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $80,000 and no more. The production of the bank's security for an advance to McCutcheon being insisted upon by counsel prosecuting the inquiry, it became necessary to disclose the withdrawal from the bank of the additional $10,000; its retention by Stratton on the 13th of October; its deposit in his overdrawn bank account in Peterborough on the following day, and the alleged origin and destiny of the cheque for $10,000.

The inference to be drawn from these transactions and the various accounts given of them by the participants are plain and obvious.

If the cheque was given to McCutcheon in October, which is doubtful, it was not, your Commissioners are satisfied, intended that ultimately the company should pay less than the whole $90,000, or that any person but Stratton should have the ultimate benefit of the $10,000. Otherwise the $10,000 cash itself would have been immediately returned, instead of being carried in Stratton's pocket during the whole of the 13th October, 1905, and taken to Peterboro and deposited there on the following day in his own overdrawn account, and the demand note would have been drawn for $80,000 instead of $90,000. Very little importance should be attached to the circumstance that the papers had been prepared. The agreement with the bank could have been made to fit the altered condition by merely striking out "ninety" and inserting "eighty," or could have been entirely retyped as it was less than two folios long, and a whole day elapsed between the payment to Pattison and the completion of the arrangement with the bank.

It was stated by Stratton that the $10,000 would be returned and the transaction rearranged so as to extend the payments to be made by the company over a longer period, as soon as the work of the Commission is completed.

Having regard to all the circumstances your Commissioners are compelled to conclude that what really took place between Stratton and Pattison was that the former demanded and the latter conceded a share, to the extent of $10,000, in the moneys which were being paid to the latter and charged to the Home Life.

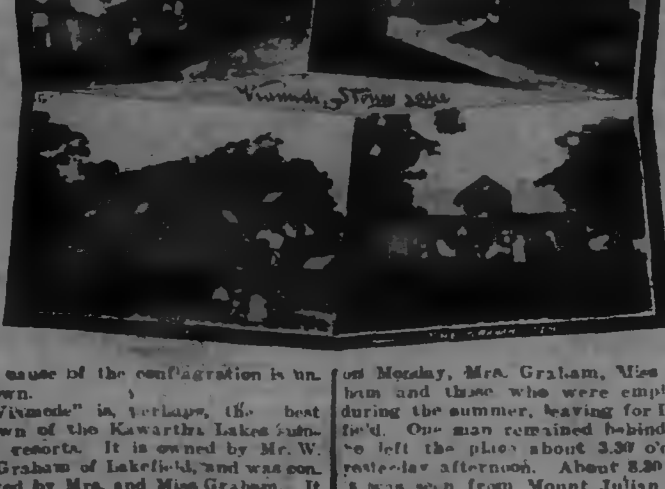
"VIAMEDE," STONY LAKE, PREY TO MOST DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

Main Building and Two Cottages, "Shamrock" and "Eyrie," Badly Gutted [redacted] —Fire Broke Out About 8:30 Last Night—A Severe Loss

The main building of "Viamede" and two of the cottages in connection therewith, the "Shamrock" and the "Eyrie" were completely gutted by by fire which broke out about 8.30 o'clock last evening. The loss is placed at about ten thousand dollars and the cause of the conflagration is unknown.



"Viamede" is, perhaps, the best known of the Kawartha Lakes summer resorts. It is owned by Mr. W. M. Graham of Lakefield, and was conducted by Mrs. and Miss Graham. It was known throughout the whole province and in many parts of the United States, being a popular summer place for American holidayers. It had accommodation for sixty or seventy guests and the season just closed was one of the best in its history.

The resort was closed for the season on Monday, Mrs. Graham, Miss Graham and those who were employed during the summer, leaving for Lakefield. One man remained behind, but he left the place about 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. About 8.30 p.m. it was seen from Mount Julian that Viamede was on fire, the reflection lighting up the sky for miles around. A number of people gathered as quickly as possible but it was useless to try to do anything. The fire had a good start and the destruction of the buildings was rapid, everything being as dry as tinder. The fire broke out in the main building and spread to the two cottages which were in close proximity.

Although bush fires are raging at many points at Stony Lake, there was none near "Viamede" so that the fire was not caused from that source.

"Viamede" had all modern improvements, nothing having been spared to make the place an ideal resort. It contained an excellent system of waterworks and was illuminated by gas.

"The Eyrie," one of the cottages destroyed, contained four bed rooms and closet and would accommodate eight persons.

"The Shamrock" contained sitting room and six bedrooms, closets, spacious first floor verandah, and balcony on the lake front of second floor. It would accommodate twelve to fourteen persons.

It could not be learned if Mr. Graham had any insurance on "Viamede" but it is likely that he had.

The destruction of "Viamede" will be read of with great regret in Peterborough and in many parts of Canada and the United States, from which points had come persons who enjoyed the beauties of Stony Lake.

NAIL PENETRATED HIS RIGHT FOOT

Mr. S. Hycke, Rogers St. Victim of Painful Accident

Mr. S. Huycke, Rogers street, sustained a very painful injury yesterday afternoon. Going from the house to a shed he stepped on a two-inch nail, which was projecting from a board. The nail penetrated the light shoe he was wearing at the time, and passed through the front part of his foot. A nasty wound was the result and it was necessary to call a doctor to dress the injury. Mr. Huycke will be unable to walk on his foot for some days.

THE OPENING IN ONTARIO LAURIER AT NIAGARA FALLS

Premier Says Canadians Must Look Ahead for Big Things Are Coming—Declares Government is Not Extravagant—Speech not up to Expectation.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier opened his campaign in Ontario with a very large meeting yesterday afternoon. His speech was not quite the effort that had been anticipated. There were no bursts of eloquence, no ripple of applause, but his voice was in good form, and the conditions against which he struggled were difficult.

Sir Wilfrid was greeted by a number of prominent residents who were presented by W. M. German, M.P., for Welland.

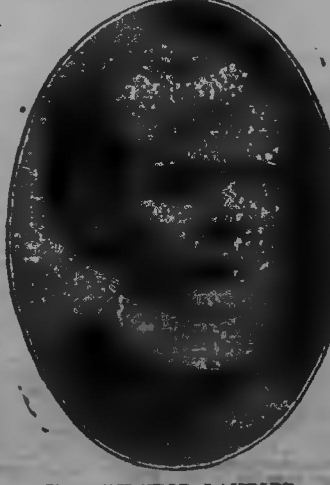
Mayor Carter, who is a prominent Conservative, then read an address of welcome to Niagara Falls, to which the Prime Minister replied briefly.

The parade, which started at Suspension bridge, at 1 o'clock, followed a route of two and a half miles. Flags floated from almost every window.

From the platform in Victoria Park probably 15,000 people listened to addresses of Sir Wilfrid and his colleagues. Their speeches were freely applauded. Some of the outstanding utterances of the afternoon were:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier assured his auditors that the Hudson Bay Railway would be undertaken at once, and would be built by the Government of Canada.

The date of the election the Premier was not in a position to announce, but he intimated that it would be made public in his speech at Strathroy on Saturday.



SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

The greater Welland Canal with 25 foot channel would be undertaken as soon as the country's revenues were sufficiently buoyant to justify the step.

Sir Wilfrid then alluded to the historic Pacific, McGreevy and Lake St. John scandals, where the Government was taken to task. In charges of corruption that had been made not one had been made against his colleagues during the eight months' session. The charges were all against subordinates, and the Government had taken quick steps to have the accusations fully investigated.

The present administration in twelve years could show a surplus of $113,000. That was his reply to Mr. Foster's charge of criminal extravagance. Investors had become inspired with confidence and $350,000,000 of new capital had poured into the country. The trade of the country rose, he pointed out, from $250,000,000 to $650,000,000 annually.

"The one question to which we have given greatest attention, the one measure which will do more for the people of Canada than any other is, I believe, the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific. We were attacked by all the forces for taking that step. They said 'Don't go so fast.' That railway was not started one day too soon. It is already serving settlers along hundreds of miles of its lines in the west.

"We have undertaken to build the Hudson Bay railway. It may not appeal to the people of Welland, but I say to you that what affects one part of the Dominion affects all, and you are asked to bear your share of this national undertaking.

"We have reached the status and dignity of a nation," said the Prime Minister in conclusion. "The British Empire is composed to-day of a galaxy of young nations and among these Canada is by consent in the first rank."

Mr. Seeley, Liberal candidate for Wentworth, opened the meeting.

HARD WINTER IS PREDICTED BY PRESIDENT OF THE C.M.A.

Second Day of Convention at Montreal is Chiefly Taken up With the Discussion of Labor Problems—London Employment Bureau Was Failure.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—The labor question loomed large in yesterday's reports, presented before the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

J. D. Rolland, in his presidential address, predicted a reptition of last winter's hard times.

The parliamentary committee was also inclined to pessimism.

The report of the British office committee, of which G. W. Watts was chairman, was devoted to a discussion of the employment of labor. The closing of the association's labor bureau in London was lengthily explained.

"Strictly speaking," says the report, "there was but one cogent and valid reason for taking this step, and that was that the office had ceased to satisfy its existence as a business enterprise." There were, however, other influences tending to make the bureau unpopular then, but a revival is hoped for.

Complaints were being made that the help supplied was unsatisfactory; that hands for whom a fee had been charged never reported for duty; or worse still, that parties whose passage had been advanced left their posts without discharging their indebtedness.

Organized labor, the report says, has continued throughout the year to press for class legislation at Ottawa, though not perhaps with as much insistence as usual, and the defeat of the agitation for an eight-hour day on Government contracts was easy. To recognize the union label as a trade mark, attempted legislation, which also fell through, would "simply be to legalize the boycott."

The committee saw to it, therefore, that prominent members on both sides of the House were well supplied with data on the subject of Ralph Smith's resolution, which was never reached.

The employment of child labor in factories is condemned, but that the parents, not employers, should be responsible if depositions of children are found to be incorrect.

The association's efforts to secure the franchise for incorporated companies on money bylaws have at length been successful, so far at least as Ontario is concerned.

The clause in the Ontario Election Act allowing employes from 12 to 2 p.m., at the employers' expense, to vote, is not relished and the committee are of the opinion that the act should be amended at once, either by the inclusion of the old proviso or by keeping the polls open until 8 p.m.

INDICATOR AT FIRE HALL IS AN EXCELLENT DEVICE

The indicator at the fire hall, which was installed yesterday, is what a mechanical man would call a beauty.

It consists of two parts the indicator proper and the switchboard, and numbers to 999 so there is no danger of it not doing for Peterborough no matter if there is an increase in the number of fire alarm boxes.

The indicator is made of oak, that is the wooden part of it and it is as neat and about the same size as a large mantle clock. The mechanism can be seen working through the glass covering in the lower half. The numbers turn in similar to those on a cash register and shows the moment the alarm is rung in.

The switchboard is quite an elaborate affair, and has also a body of oak with a glass covering.

The appliance is a most useful one and is of the greatest service to the brigade, as it enables them to instantly find out the locality of a fire. It was manufactured by the Northern Electric and Manufacturing Company, Montreal.

WINE, WOMEN AND GRAFT

On the 19th day of February, Geo. W. Fowler, member for King's and Albert, New Brunswick, was discussing Mr. Lemieux's Conciliation bill, taking the ground that the Government ought to consider carefully the objections which the railway men had raised against it. In the course of the discussion Mr. Duncan Ross, member for Cariboo, intimated that Mr. Fowler might have been sorry "if everybody got a fair deal." There had been other insinuations of this kind from the Ministerialists, referring to private affairs of Mr. Fowler. Referring to these Mr. Fowler now said:

"Up to this time I have not referred to private matters; but I want this House and the First Minister and the Government to understand that if matters in connection with my private business are to be discussed in this House, I shall take an opportunity to discuss the private character of Members of the Administration and Members on that side. I want to say, to hon. gentlemen opposite that I shall discuss these without fear or favor, that I shall call a spade a spade, and when I speak of the indisposition of an Hon. Minister which keeps him out of this House, I shall tell exactly what it was and how it was brought on. I shall allow no man to make an attack on me or my character without retorting. I shall discuss the character of hon. members opposite, whether they be Ministers or private Members, and their connection with women, wine and graft."

After referring to threats that had been made of an attack on him, and to the abuse and insinuations which had been thrown out from the Government side, Mr. Fowler added:

"I do not believe in this sort of thing. And sir, who is responsible for it. The Prime Minister is the man in whose hands rests the honor of the House and who is responsible for the tone of the debates on this floor. The Prime Minister can prevent that sort of attack. If he thinks it good politics to authorize that kind of attack; let him go ahead. He is responsible not I. But I should be a poltroon if, when I am attacked, I did not defend myself, and not only defend myself but having the material if I did not use that material to carry the attack into the other side. Now as I say, let these charges, let this scandal—this alleged scandal—if you have any, with respect to me, be brought forward. You cannot bring it on too soon. I have never, in my public or in my private capacity done anything of which I am ashamed or of which I have a need to be ashamed, or at which any honest, decent man should be ashamed. Let them bring on their scandal, let them produce their witnesses and the evidence. But let me tell you, if I am attacked, I shall defend myself, and not only defend myself, but also will lead an attack. —Hansard 1907 pages 3318-19.

Two days later Mr. Henri Bourassa, member for Labelle, a Liberal, who has lately shown a good deal of independence called the attention of the House to Mr. Fowler's statements, and to accusations that had been made or suggested in the chamber against Conservative members. He declared that charges, insinuations and reflections had gone far enough and that the time had come for investigation. He held that public confidence in public men was shaken by these reflections and by the growing opinion that the two parties were conspiring to suppress damaging facts. "It is high time," he said, "that the Government and parliament should take the matter into their hands and clear the atmosphere; and if there are unworthy men in this House, whether they be Conservatives or Liberal, their conduct should be probed to the bottom and they should be punished."

THE SUB-TARGET SCANDAL

In 1907 in response to agitation by the Opposition, an investigation was begun by the Laurier Government, into the sub-target deals. This investigation was as usual prolonged beyond all reason, but in the end the scandal came out. This machine is an instrument for teaching or training to shoot. H. H. Dewart, K.C., of Toronto, a prominent Liberal, joined the inventor in getting up a company. Then the assault on the friendly Government began. The first contract with the Government was for 200 machines at $250 each. The cost of each machine was stated under oath to be $64. The investigation interfered with the work-out of the affair. The net profit to the company of prominent Liberals organized for manufacture of 450 machines was $33,700.00. The point we wish to make is that 400 per cent is too high a rate of profit. It is graft.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The water in Stony Lake is said to be by "one who knows," wholly unfit to be drunk by anybody. People are beginning to feel thirsty for a glass of decent, ordinary well water.

The air is full of scandal and the worst of it is that most of the scandals have been the result of the investigation and report of commissioners. The Civil Service Commission, the Public Accounts Committee revelations all show nothing but graft! graft!

One of the most amusing and expensive blunders of the Government regarding the G.T.P. is that affecting the Moncton section. Here the grade is so steep as to be called a pushed grade, one on which a push engine has always to be used and yet that branch is only 5 or 6 miles shorter than the Intercolonial, which might well be made further use of.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

Some choice political personalities are arriving in the city almost daily. They are not putting up at the most conspicuous hotels.

Mr. Burnham's political headquarters are at the Young Conservative rooms, 420 1-2 George street, till further notice. They make an excellent centre of political activity. Other rooms on the ground floor will be opened later on.

LARGE NUMBER OF VISITORS TO FIRE HALL

Peterborough has undoubtedly one of the finest fire stations in the country. This fact is appreciated by not only the citizens but visitors to the city as well. The fire hall is getting to be quite a centre of attraction and those who call are shown every courtesy by the firemen, who are pleased to show them through the building and explain the working of things in general. Last night an unusually large number were shown through and the pavement was crowded to see the 8 o'clock hitching.

This morning a Review reporter was conducted through the building by Chief Howard. The dormitories, dressing rooms and recreation rooms are all clean and attractive and the appearance of the entire building gives evidence of industry and system.

THE TROTTING HORSE

The 20th Century Farmer differs in a most pronounced manner from a large number of agricultural publications in its estimate of the worth of the trotting-bred horse as a utility animal and a profitable horse to raise, referring to him as follows:

The trotting-bred horse, all things considered, is one of the very best and most serviceable, distinct type of horse product. The race track prejudice that for years threatened the advancement of this breed has about passed away. A farmer may drive a team of high-headed, rangy, stylish horses of this type to town now without being suspicious of criticism as lending encouragement and assistance to the race track interests and incidentally to the gambling feature that is credited as being a part of the fast horse or track horse industry.

The American trotting horse, as he has been bred and developed in this country, is the only competitor in the field with the automobile, and this is not in the matter of speed. The trotting horse is the carriage horse of the present time. From this blood the American horse as a breed has been started by the United States Government. This class of horse has so much to recommend it in size, style, ranginess, spirit, speed, and endurance that the efforts cannot prove a failure, whether or not the horse is made a means in the hands of some persons of ill-gotten gains.

The trotting horse is all right; he has a place in the legitimate affairs of service with man. He may be made the instrument in the hands of persons, so inclined to stimulate betting and gambling, but this is a matter with the man, not the horse. The horse must not be held responsible or condemned because he is put to a purpose not recognized legitimate before the public. He may be employed to carry away stolen goods yet not be a thief.

This type of horse is one of every day utility. He is the most satisfactory and valuable servant that man has ever employed. In his animation and spirit for travelling he joins with his driver in a fascinating exercise that is exhilarating alike to both. Man cannot enter into a more companionable relationship with animal life than that found in the horse and this is particularly expressive and pronounced in the type of horse designated as the American standard-bred trotting horse.

The utility features of this horse have scarcely a limit. He is employed in almost every position of servitude where the horse can be used as well as a horse of pleasure, and amusement. The improvement of this type of horse into a larger and more enduring animal is one of the characteristics that breeders recognize as important. There is a place for this horse that cannot be substituted by automobile or other device of machinery invention. The breeder of the large trotting horse will find a good profitable market for all such horses that he produces.

This view is one that ought to make some of the narrow-minded editors of agricultural papers thoroughly ashamed of themselves, when comparing it with the diatribes which they have written about this breed of horses whose field of usefulness is so large.

A LITTLE TOO MUCH MEDICINE

Young Man Treated by two Doctors at Same Time—Won't do it Again

A good story is being told this morning of a young Scotchman who is employed at a local livery. The employee in question was not in the best of health and during Saturday afternoon consulted a physician who administered a healthy dose of medicine. Returning to the livery the employee stood in the doorway gazing disconsolately over the horizon and soundly berating his ill health. A second physician passing at the time noticed his symptoms of illness and offered to prescribe. Whether the sick man thought he really needed the medicine, or whether his Scotch thrift came to the front matters little; but he accompanied the doctor to his office and swallowed another large dose.

If he felt ill before being administered to his sufferings shortly after were a hundred fold worse. When those two doses of medicine became antagonistic the employee was certain that his name was the first on the undertaker's list.

Shortly after the two physicians met near the livery in question and No. 1 mentioned that he had prescribed for the young fellow. He had No. 2 and explanations followed. The medical man had a hearty laugh, and passed on with expressions of sympathy for the sufferer.

He is all right this morning but he emphatic in his statement that in future medicine from one doctor will be sufficient.

BORDEN'S WELCOME

Enthusiastic Reception at St. John.

Twenty-five Hundred Persons Attend Meeting in Victoria Rink and Heard Fine Address.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 16.—Twenty-five hundred persons were present in Victoria Rink last night to welcome R. L. Borden and his friends.

The utmost warmth and cordiality was manifested in the welcome. When the speakers entered and as they mounted the rostrum 2,000 people were on their feet with waving arms and hats, cheering vociferously. Small knots of silent men here and there indicated the presence of Liberals anxious to hear more than one side of the questions of the day. Of the whole number present unprejudiced observers assert that not fifty persons left before the last speech was concluded.

Hon. Messrs. Borden, Roblin and Hanna were the only speakers, Hon. Mr. Hazen decided to give the evening to their leader and their guests.

Hon. Mr. Hanna announced that in eight or ten days Sir James Whitney would join Mr. Borden's tour.

Mr. Borden replied to the Liberal cry against the Provincial Premiers assisting in his tour. They were getting anxious, fearing the proofs of Liberal administration. The Premiers brought the message of hope and confidence. The Liberals had forced provincial politics into the Federal field and this tour would continue.

Mr. Pugsley had come to New Brunswick, others Ministers, Graham, Paterson and Aylesworth, to the Ontario elections, and had been beaten. These were precursors of a Federal victory.

A Narrow Escape.

Guelph, Sept. 16.—In leaving a moving train Charles F. Raymond, well-known among newspaper men, had a narrow escape from being killed.

Raymond had been seeing some friends off and did not notice that the train had got so well started. When he jumped he was only a few feet from the high railway bridge, just east of the station. The speed of the train threw him on his face, so close to the wheels that the crowd on the station platform were certain he would be killed. When the train passed, however, he got up and walked calmly back to the station with nothing more than a slight limp, caused by a sprained ankle.

Dynamite Explosion.

Windsor, Mo., Sept. 16.—A car of dynamite standing on the track in front of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad station here exploded at 10 o'clock yesterday morning with terrific force. The car and the station platform were demolished and 18 persons standing near by were more or less seriously injured. Three are dead.

Tom Lanning a well known figure in Hamilton is dead, aged 73.

POLICE AFTER SLEUTH.

Toronto Private Detective Must Answer to Three Crimes.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—A. G. Cardwell, superintendent of the International Detective Bureau, Continental Building, is wanted by the police. A warrant has been issued, charging him with abduction of a girl under 16 years of age. Cardwell is not to be found.

It is alleged that Cardwell, in the month of August, went to a woman living in the north end of the city. He told her that he had to go to Niagara Falls, N.Y., in pursuit of his calling. He asked her to let her 15-year-old daughter, who was attending school, go along, so that nobody would think he was a detective. The mother was persuaded to allow the child to accompany him.

It is also said that Cardwell saw a man at the jail, and by threats of continued imprisonment, induced him to sign over his share of a patent to his partner, under promise upon his release, he would be re-employed upon a good salary, which was not done.

It is further alleged that while employed by a woman seeking a divorce from her husband, who lives in another city, Cardwell conspired with a woman employed in one of the stores, to seek out and compromise the husband, which was done.

STRIKER SHOT.

Robt. Kerr of Winnipeg Is Seriously Injured by Strike-Breaker.

Winnipeg, Sept. 16.—Monday evening in the western part of this city, James Pepperton, a strike-breaker, was accosted by a picket of three, who asked him where he was employed. For answer Pepperton pulled a revolver and opened fire, shooting Robert Kerr in the hip. Pepperton then fled, but subsequently was arrested in the yards by one of the C.P.R. special constables. Kerr was removed to the hospital, where the bullet was removed at midnight. The case is serious, but not hopeless, although there is intestinal injury. The shooting of Kerr has aroused a bitter spirit among the strikers and threats of lynching Pepperton are heard.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The National Trades and Labor Congress of Canada opened its annual convention in Quebec yesterday.

The rail mill of the Lake Superior Corporation at Sault Ste. Marie opened yesterday morning with a full staff.

Hard Times In North.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 16.—That labor conditions in the north are very bad is the report all northern boats have been bringing down lately. According to the stories of returning passengers, men are practically starving at Prince Rupert. Hundreds of employes who have been working sometimes are in debt to the company for board and living expenses, and with no chance of paying fares to Vancouver.

A Stabbing Affray.

Cornwall, Sept. 16.—A lot of racetrack followers from Blue Bonnets were playing cards on the Rapid King, when trouble broke out between Ike Coyne of St. Louis, Mo., and Gus Porter of Louisville, Ky., and, it is claimed by the boat officials, that Porter stabbed Coyne in the head, face, and arms. Porter was arrested at Cornwall, but Coyne disappeared.

Mysteriously Shot.

St. John, Sept. 16.—Residents of St. John West are excited over vague reports which have reached them of the death of Whitney Clarke, a native of Carleton. Word has come that Clarke's death was the result of a shooting affray which took place near Moosejaw. He was found dead in a harvest field with a bullet through his head.

Professor Found Dead.

Lowestoft, Eng., Sept. 16.—Prof. John Churton Collins, author, essayist and lecturer, and professor of English literature at Birmingham, was found dead in the woods near here yesterday.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 16.—The Northern Life Assurance Co. is suing Mrs. George Zigler and her mother-in-law for $1,000 fraudulently obtained on a bogus death by George Zigler, the company's agent here, who later suicided. KILLED IN TUNNEL.

Two Men Lose Lives Trying to Save Others at Windsor.

Windsor, Sept. 16.—The first double fatality to be charged to the construction of the Michigan Central tunnel under the Detroit river occurred early yesterday in shaft No. 4, of the Canadian approach to the tunnel, when two men were suffocated to death by smoke from burning timbers and tar paper in the shaft, and two others were temporarily overcome by smoke while attempting to enter the shaft in a rescue party. The dead:

W. R. Kimball, superintendent of shafts No. 1 and 2.

Bert Johnson, a carpenter.

About 200 men were working in the tunnel when the fire broke out. It was necessary to pass the men slowly through the air lock as they had been working under air pressure. All were reported checked out of the shaft, however. Kimball and Johnson apparently lost their lives through returning into the burning shaft to look for men who might possibly have been left behind. Their bodies were both found near the foot of the stairs leading down the entrance to the shaft.

DID MURDER AS FAVOR.

Law Cannot Touch Man Who Shot Dr. Rustin Out of Kindness.

Omaha, Sept. 16.—A curious phase of the legal status of the Rustin murder case has cropped out, and even if Charles Edward Davis, who is under arrest on a charge of murdering Dr. Rustin, should be found guilty of the murder, lawyers here say there is no statute in Nebraska under which he can be punished.

The idea that one man would shoot another simply because the other wanted to die never occurred to the Nebraska law-makers and the statutes do not cover the crime for which Davis has been arrested. Another curious point which has arisen is that under the law, while Mrs. Rice, who didn't kill Dr. Rustin, may be guilty of murder in the first degree, Davis, if he did kill Rustin, is not guilty of anything at all.

NEGRO KILLED.

Fight In Temagami Barber Shop Has Fatal Result.

Temagami, Sept. 16.—E. G. Eaton shot and killed F. C. Eller, a colored man, after a drinking bout.

The shooting occurred in a barber shop. Eller attacked Eaton with a razor, when the latter pulled a revolver and fired four times, one bullet going through the colored man's lungs. Eller died 20 minutes later. The men had been drinking together and had quarrelled.

Eaton's chum received a bullet in the hand while looking in the door. It is rumored that the razor could not be found after the negro was dead.

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—Geo. McLaurin, barrister, the nominee of the Liberals of the County of Russell for the coming election yesterday, said:

"I have no intention of resigning in favor of Mr. Murphy, I am selected candidate and despite any forces that may be brought to bear against me I am in the field to stay. I was approached by Sir Wilfrid Laurier on Monday before he went away and asked to give way in Russell for Mr. Murphy and I gave him a most positive and unqualified refusal. Why should I back down and have people say I was bought off?"

Slight Damage Done at North Ops Factory—Mr. Gillespie Was on His Way There

Lindsay, Sept. 15.—About noon yesterday a fire broke out in the North Ops cheese factory and burned a hole six feet square in the roof. The fire was discovered by the cheese-maker, Mr. Dundas, who was the only one near the building at the time. There was no water near, so he was forced to pour whey upon the blaze. Mr. Geo. Gillespie, the well known Peterborough cheese buyer, was on his way to the factory when the fire occurred. There were 140 boxes of cheese in the factory at the time, 70 of which were cured and ready for Mr. Gillespie to inspect.

PETERBOROUGH INDUSTRIAL FAIR OPENS TO-MORROW

Record Number of Entries—All Departments Well Filled WithFine Weather Exhibition Will be Best Ever Held.

Everything is ready for the opening of the Peterborough Industrial fair tomorrow. Secretary Hall and his assistants hadn't a moment's rest all day, so many were the entries that poured in and so many were the details to be looked after. However, practically everything is in readiness and if the weather continues fine the exhibition will easily surpass anything ever held here.

The entries in every department are more numerous than ever before and there will be a fine display both inside the building and in poultry and live stock. The poultry exhibit will be a record breaker, it is said. Hundreds of birds will be on display in their choicest plumage.

Tomorrow will be devoted to the placing of exhibits and some judging will also be done.

Friday afternoon will see the first program and the programme for the evening should attract hundreds.

Saturday will also be a big day. There are so many attractions listed that it is impossible to enumerate them here but the public are assured that they will have more entertainment for their money than anywhere else they could go.

Reports from the country indicate that the fair will be largely patronized by the rural folk. They are coming to the city in large numbers and many of them will be here for both days of the fair.

The exhibit of ladies' work in the main building will be especially attractive this year as the entries are more numerous than ever before.

LEFT TO-DAY TO ATTEND OXFORD UNIVERSITY

Mr. Stanley G. Fife, son of Mr. J. A. Fife, of Edmonton, and who has been the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Wright, Ashburnham, for the past few days, left for Montreal from where he will sail on Friday for England. He will take a three years' course at Oxford University, he having won the Rhodes Scholarship at Queen's University.

Mr. Fife spent the summer with his parents at Edmonton.

An Edmonton paper has the following to say regarding Mr. Fife:

Edmonton, Alta., September 15.—Gordon Stanley Fife who secured the Rhodes Scholarship for Alberta and Saskatchewan this year left the city last Saturday on the CPR for Oxford, England, where he will attend Oxford University. The scholarship amounts to $1,500 a year for three years. Mr. Fife will take a course in modern history and literature, with a view to taking a professorship. He is only 19 years old and this year completed his third year in Queen's University, Kingston, where he took an honour course in English and Philosophy.

He is a son of J. A. Fife, the mathematical and science master of Edmonton high school and who filled for fifteen years a similar position in Peterborough Collegiate Institute. He is the eldest in a family of six children, and has been remarked since childhood for the brightness of his intelligence and his industry. He was born in Peterborough and attended the public school and collegiate institute. He graduated from the latter in 1905, taking an honor matriculation the same year for Queen's.

Whilst in Peterborough he was president of the Collegiate Literary Society and carried off the first prize in an oratorical contest there. In his first year at Queen's he won again in the inter-year debate. This year he and another student were selected to defend Queen's against Ottawa in the inter-university.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson will sympathise with them in the loss they have sustained by the death of their infant daughter, Eva Jane, who passed away to-day.

The funeral will take place on Thursday at 10 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. McCall, 501 Bethune street, to the Bridgenorth cemetery.

BIG PURSE FOR RACES

The fair directors of Brockville evidently recognize the value of horse-racing. They are putting on a strong list of attractions in this line and are hanging up $2,500 in purses. Both the Brockville newspapers are boosting the racing as the most attractive part of the fair.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

To the Editor of The Review

Sir, — At no time in the past did the people do more hard thinking and more serious reflecting along political lines than they are doing now. Especially is this true in the farming community and there is none more loyal to party than they. And when a government is loyal to its principles and faithful to its pledges it is entitled to the support of the party it represents, but when it fails to do this it deserves the condemnation of the people it has betrayed.

It is easy to understand loyalty to leaders who give effect to their pledges and the principles of their party, if principles are trodden under foot and pledges unblushingly broken, surely, the people are absolved from any further allegiance and have the right to, and should treat with contempt, any appeals that may come from such leaders.

Why should a free-trader support the Laurier Government that practises protection, as far as the issue is concerned, his interest is with neither party. But, why, if his judgment is with the opposition on other questions to his convictions? How can Liberals should he hesitate to vote according who have fought for retrenchment for half a century support leaders who have increased the expenses by sixty percent!

The Globe, for the purpose of infusing courage into its tardy followers, tells them that nothing short of a political earthquake can upset the government. Indeed! Let us see! Governments with larger majorities and far better principles to appeal to the people, found their Waterloo in a single day. In 1878 the Liberals came in with a majority of 90. In 1878 the Conservatives won, defeating a far more honest government with a majority of 86. Thirty net gains in all Canada will wipe out the Laurier Government. In Ontario alone there was 40 net gain for Whitney in the last two elections.

Yours,
CONSERVATIVE FARMER.

SECOND ATTEMPT TO ENTER HOUSE

Burglars Supposed to be Again at Work at "Castlenock," Water Street

It is stated that a second attempt has been made to burglarize "Castle Knock," the residence of Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun, at 755 Water street. The house was recently ransacked and the police are working on the case. This week, however, it is said that some person, or persons, attempted to force the doors again, but were not successful. The locks showed signs of being tampered with when a police officer called at the residence yesterday, but apparently an entrance was not affected.

MENS FALL FASHIONS

Fall and Winter Opening Now in Progress at the Semi-Ready Store of Peterborough —Cressmans

Autumn openings are the order of the day among the places of business in the city, and not the least important are the openings of the new suit styles in Mens Wear, both furnishings and clothing. Crossman's Semi-ready Wardrobe is this week displaying the cream of the new fashions in suits and overcoats and invite all who are interested, also those not interested (for they will fall into line when they see the handsome showing) to attend their opening of FALL and Winter Fashions.

The following is a clipping from the Montreal Gazette, which expresses very concisely the standing of the Semi-Ready Clothing in the trade and describes the proper fashions for the properly dressed man as viewed by a well known chief designer who is in touch with the prevailing modes of the large fashion centres:

"While the reporter was interested in trying on some of the newer styles of garments, Mr. J. H. Brownlee, the chief designer of the Semi-ready clothes, happened in the store, and in the course of conversation, he gave some of the salient fashion features for fall and winter. Mr. Brownlee said;

The tendency to exaggerate in certain phases of tailoring, that is the addition of fancy accessories, will be conspicuous by their absence this season. So much of this has been done by the ready-made clothiers and so much will be done by the same class of people that the reaction has already taken place with men who know good dress. All styles this year are in accord with the artistic line and symmetrical proportions, which can alone give that expression and impression pleasing to a gentleman of cultured taste. The well-dressed man invariably avoids extremes and will never adopt anything which is inartistic.

For business wear, the two-button and the three-button, single-breasted sack and the double-breasted sack will still be popular, but I believe the English walking coat will be as popular as it is proper for morning and business wear. These coats are full in the breast and are shapely and easy-fitting at the waist. The shoulders are slightly narrowing and the lapels somewhat shorter compared with last season. Sleeves are finished with plain buttons with open vents and with sewed-on cuffs. While the turn-over cuff is just permissible, it will not be worn much by the more fastidious.

In the frock coat for afternoon wear the breast is slightly exaggerated and the shoulders cut natural with shorter lapels. The lapels are lined with silk to the buttonhole.

For semi-formal evening dress the Tuxedo jacket will be made with both peaked and shawl lapels, silk-faced to peaked and shawl lapels, silk-faced to the edge.

Evening dress suits are made with peaked lapels and slightly dipped fronts. The lapels are blind-stitched with silk to the edge.

The general features in Overcoats will be the same as in undercoats, with roomy, athletic chest measures, natural shoulders and long lapels. These show but slight change from last season's styles. Chesterfields, single and double breasted styles are still in undisputed possession of the field in sack styles. The "Impervs" raincoat has returned this season and is but with voluminous skirt and extremely loose-fitting draped styles. It is a fine, knock-about garment. The double-breasted ulster will be made with a generous collar and lapel and with a Prussian collar of equally generous proportions.

So far as innovations in styles are concerned," concluded Mr. Brownlee, there is nothing strikingly new in the season's creations. The season is not an off one, either, for the fashions have a note of true art, which is evident both in the models and the fabrics."

Sam Landers is to be the Labor candidate in East Hamilton for the Commons.

FALL OPENING

The Latest Contributions from the Realms of Fashion Will Be Presented To-morrow

WHAT the world's cleverest designers have conceived and talented fingers have realized—what workrooms have produced and factories wrought to grace the Autumn Maid and Matron—will be presented to the friends and customers of this store to-morrow. ¶ It is no light task to forecast the trend of the styles—to summons from the ranks of bidders for Fashion's favor the new things which will be acclaimed, approved and adopted—to separate the good from the indifferent—the pure gold from the dross. Yet on its ability to do this rests the success of a store. ¶ How well we have worked to this end remains for you to say, and we await your verdict with confidence—a confidence justified by the care and pains, the study and effort which this whole organization has expended to lay at your feet the very best of the newest productions of the leading makers of fashions. ¶ The curtain is lifted—Style secrets are out—Autumn is at hand—Our Fall Opening occurs to-morrow, and you are invited to attend

THE MILLINERY SECTION IS RESPLENDENT WITH BEAUTIFUL CREATIONS FOR OPENING

The new Millinery is bewitching. Our showing is a revelation of the season's most approved New York and Parisian style ideas. What's fashionable is here. We have avoided the styles of indifferent worth. Every hat we show exploits one of the best and most authentic style ideas. Big hats predominate, but as great favor is shown in many unique effects in medium and small hats. Our display features hats of all sizes strongly. ¶The "Directoire" style, the New Mushrooms, Novel Turbans—all are represented. In trimming, flowers are scarce. Plumes, ribbons and velvets are the fashionable thing. But why deal with generalities! A visit will reveal more than volumes of words—and a visit will be delightful. Come!

LAKEFIELD MAN IS CHOSEN BY EAST RIDING LIBERALS

Mr. E. A. Tanner, Druggist, of Lakefield, Will Contest East Peterborough Against Mr. Sexsmith—Convention at Norwood.

Mr. E. A. Tanner, druggist, of Lakefield has been selected by the Liberals of East Peterborough to contest the riding against Mr. J. A. Sexsmith at the Federal elections. The choice was made at a well attended convention held at Norwood yesterday afternoon. Mr. John Finlay, the present member, was given the cold shoulder by the convention and withdrew his name when it was apparent that he had no chance. Mr. J. R. Stratton and Mr. R. R. Hall were both nominated but withdrew their names.

The convention was called to order about 1.20 o'clock by Mr. John John Hull of Lakefield, who occupied the chair in the absence of President John Lang who was ill. The only business before the meeting was the selection of a candidate and it took practically all afternoon to hear the prospective candidates and take the votes. There were eight names put to the meeting as follows;—

John Hawthorne, Dummer.
Major Thos. Johnston Otonabee.
John Findlay, M.P., Norwood.
J. R. Stratton, Peterborough.
E. A. Tanner, Lakefield.
R. R. Hall, M.P., Peterborough.
J. W. Bryans, Havelock.
J. T. Curtis, Havelock.

Messrs. Stratton and Hall made short addresses and withdrew their names. Mr. Burk also followed suit and, as Mr. Hawthorne was not present his name was also dropped.

The first vote taken resulted as follows;—

Tanner, Johnston, Finlay, Curtis and Bryans.

Mr. Bryans withdrew, and the second vote resulted, Tanner, Johnston, Finlay and Curtis.

Mr. Finlay then decided to withdraw, and in doing so stated that it was evident that the convention desired some one other than himself. If so he was satisfied and would support whoever was chosen.

The third vote gave Mr. Tanner a majority, and after the other two had retired his nomination was made unanimous.

Mr. Tanner addressed the convention and was given a good reception. He expressed confidence of being elected.

The Liberal candidate is well known in Peterborough and is popular in a wide circle of friends. He will no doubt make the best of a bad case.

LIEUT. COL. E. B. EDWARDS HERE ON WAY TO EDMONTON

Lieut Col. E. B. Edwards, of Edmonton, Alta., is in the city today on his return from two weeks at the military camp at Kingston with the 7th Infantry Brigade. Mr. Edwards intends returning to Edmonton on Friday morning.

Speaking to the Review today Mr. Edwards said that each time he visited Peterborough he was always struck by the neat, clean appearance of the streets.

"Property owners here," he said, "seem to be always doing something to further beautify their premises."

Mr. Edwards was pleased to note the progress Peterborough had made during the two years that he had been absent from here. The number of public buildings were prominent among the changes noticeable. Mr. Edwards will remain here until Friday.

SPORTING NEWS

A GREAT GATHERING OF ATHLETES TO-MORROW NIGHT

Best in the Province Will Compete at Brock St. Rink—Tickets Selling Well—Longboat and Kerr are Sure to Start.

The cream of Ontario's athletic talent will take part in the big meet at Brock street rink to-morrow night under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club. The list of starters includes Bobby Kerr, Tom Longboat, Percy Sellen, Lou Sebert, Adams, Jack Tait and several other notable ones. These along with a bunch of local boys will present a programme what will surpass anything ever given in this part of the province. Tom Flanagan is coming with the Irish-Canadian brigade, and Mr. J. H. Crocker, who managed the Canadian Olympic team, will also be on hand to render every assistance in his power. Mr. N. F. Crowe, secretary of the C.A.A.U., will be one of the Harrier Club's guests, and also Mr. Fred Smith, of the Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto.

The rink is in fine shape, the track being pronounced everything that could be desired. The reserved seat tickets are on sale at Sanderson's jewellery store and are going rapidly. The price of admission is 25 cents 35 cents and 50 cents. The attendance promises to be even larger than at the meet last fall.

Arrangements have been made to to have the 57th regiment band present. Bandmaster Giddon promises a fine programme.

A big bunch of local athletes have been training hard and may spring some surprises on the outside competitors. There will be some great racing and it will be worth the price of admission alone to see Bobby Kerr do the sprints. He ran the hundred in 9 4-5 seconds on a slow track at London Monday.

The officers of the Harriers' Club have spared no pains to get the best athletes in the province for the meet and deserve hearty support.

MEETING TO-NIGHT AT Y.M.C.A. TO FORM CITY RUGBY LEAGUE

Peterborough should have a thriving city rugby league this fall. City leagues in this city have always been looked upon with favor as is quite natural, considering their importance and the class of sport provided by the teams in the city hockey league proves that the organization in a purely local league can furnish some real interesting contests.

To-night a meeting for organizing a city rugby league will be held at the Y.M.C.A. and a full attendance is requested in order that the project may be given an encouraging start.

Judging from the interest that will apparently be taken in the game this fall, here, a city league should prosper as it never has done before. Rugby players and supporters of experience are willing to do what they can to help it along and would like to see it a success.

All that remains is for the younger fans to show the proper spirit.

SPLENDID RACES PROMISED AT PETERBOROUGH FAIR

Judging from the entries received for the fair races there will be plenty of horses to start, and everything points to some hot finishes in all classes.

Planet, Gypsy Girl, Hazel Belle, and Holland Boy from Toronto; Lady Gothard, Harry Direct, Lulu Chimes, Queen's Baron from Peterborough, will take part.

Messrs. Nattress, Leith & Gardiner have three from Millbrook. Mr. Chas. Nixon received an order from Kinmount to hold four stalls from race horse men who are starting.

The track is being repaired and put in first-class shape and there will certainly be something doing.

The fair directors ask all who are attending to keep off the track, and also not to be shaking sticks along the fence or throwing paper on the track as these sometimes lead to bad accidents, not only to horse and driver but to the public as well.

NOW WILL JIMMY REYNOLDS QUIT?

Jimmy Reynolds should try to walk from Newcastle to Toronto and return. He can make the whole route but manages to hit Newcastle before he takes the count.

Jimmy has made four dogged attempts to do the walk, which is the ambition of his life he (made, but can't do it.

This failure will probably mark his last endeavor, although it wouldn't be surprising to see him at it again.

HE WAS NEVER WITH THE I.C.A.C.

Was Simpson ever a member of the Irish Canadians?

Two local sports had a dispute over this and Tom Flanagan was communicated with. He replied that Simpson is not now or never was a member, but that while in Lindsay the Indian had expressed a wish that he would like to join and this may be arranged later. In future the Mississaugas may run under the I.C.A.C. colors.

HASSAN ABDALLAH—HURTUBISE'S NEXT OPPONENT

The Review is honored in having the first cut of Hassan Abdallah ever published in America. It was sent to the sporting editor of the Review this morning by the manager of the Syrian mat artist. The Sultan of Turkey's royal wrestler, known throughout the wrestling world as "The Terrible Syrian," is shown above in his Oriental garb, which he wears wherever he goes. He has not been in America very long and and still clings to the costume of the Balkans.

Wednesday night, September 23rd, at the Brock street rink, he will be opposed by Gene Hurtubise, the local man, who is thought, by many good judges, to be a coming champion in the grappling game. That he will be up against the right article in this son of Turkey, cannot be denied. Gene, if he can win, will have to do some tall grappling, as the man who is manager of Abdallah is no friend of Gene's, still having that black mark against his other man, Yankee Rogers. Still, Gene faced Rogers with confidence and even Manager Naylor had to admit when last here when he saw Gene work out, that the local footballer had improved wonderfully.

Regarding this Hassan Abdallah, he is a finely built man, though not such a giant as is Yankee Rogers, but his 6ft. 9in. and 202 lbs. are in exact proportion. He is beautifully built, all muscle and bone.

Hassan is the son of the Sheika of the village of Karej, not far from Ispaghan in Asia Minor, under Turkish rule. His brother is a secretary in one of the departments of State in Constantinople. Of course Abdallah is a Mohammedan. A glance at his stern, strong face will show that he certainly is not a man to be trifled with.

Since he has been in America he has wrestled four matches with first rank men and has not only won every bout, but not a solitary fall has been secured on him. His most important victory was over Perrille, the celebrated Italian.

GAVE UP WHEN MILE WEST OF NEWCASTLE

Jimmy Reynolds Had 5 1-2 Hours to Cover Twenty Two Miles

The Port Hope Guide says:—Jimmy Reynolds, the man with the walking craze, again failed to his undertaking to walk to Toronto and return. He left here yesterday morning at six o'clock in an effort to walk to Toronto and return, but, as usual the trip proved too much for the 67 year old barber, and he was obliged to give up. He reached Bowmanville at 10.30 o'clock, having 5 1-2 hours to complete the journey of 22 miles. He stuck to the tramp bravely, but when a mile west of the Jonah town of Newcastle he was forced to give up. Physically Jimmy had suffered considerably by the trip, and financially he is out $200. This is likely to put an end to the walking game here, and it will be better for all concerned.

Pole Vaulter Sends Telegram That He is Coming for To-morrow Night

Dick Baker received a telegram from Ed. Archibald last night stating that he would be able to come to Peterborough to give a pole vaulting exhibition at the Harrier Club's meet tomorrow night. The message has caused joy in the Harrier camp as Archibald's exhibition will be one of the features of the gathering. He can clear the bar at twelve feet.

SIMPSON'S ENTRY IS NOT IN YET

Toronto, September 15.—Thirty-one entries have already been made for the big Ward Marathon twenty mile road race on October 10th. Among the entries so far are three Indians, Longboat, who has won the trophy twice; Hilton Green, of the Irish Canadians and Henry Jackson, of Midland, who is spoken of as a great runner. Others who have entered are Harry Lawson, who won the Canadian Olympic trial; Pat Keilly, the long distance runner of the Toronto Police A.A., and Claude Pearce, I.C.A.C. The Irish Canadians have fourteen entries. The ten mile bicycle championship of Canada (C.W.A.) will be run in connection with the Marathon and is expected to be a great race. The Canada Cycle and Motor Company are giving the first prize for this event. The five mile motor cycle championship will also be decided.—

The entry of Fred Simpson, the Peterborough Indian, has not yet been received.

AMUSING FOR JOE

It must be amusing to Joe Hay to sit on the window sill of his bowling alley in Peterborough and read of the throw-down that the T.A.A.C. got on Saturday. Joe will have more fun out of the rugby game this year, than the most enthusiastic fan in the country. Even now we can hear him laughing, or rather hee-hawing, for when Joe laughs he roars. at Doc Woods.—Hamilton Spectator.

FRED McGRATH WON'T COMPETE

Detroit, Sept. 16, 1908.

E. M. Best, Peterborough.

"Sorry won't be able to run. My wife won't let me."

FRED. McGRATH.

Mr. E. M. Best, president of the Harriers Club, received the above telegram this afternoon and it does away with some uncertainty as to whether or not McGrath would compete at the athletic meet to-morrow night. Fred has joined the ranks of the benedicts and of course if his wife says he can't run that's all there is to it.

THE PIPPS AND PETES. PLAYED YESTFRDAY

A ball team composed of players from the "Awakening of Mr. Pipp" company and among whom was the Charley Grapewin played a friendly game with the Petes yesterday afternoon at Riverside park.

The Grapewin bunch have some good men. Mr. "Pipp" is well known as a good player and coach.

EDMUNDS IS LOOKING FOR MATCHES

In the course of the next two weeks Artie Edmunds the champion lightweight of Canada, will go back to New York, where he has been promised a number of good bouts this fall by several of the big sporting clubs in Gotham. Among these will be a six round affair with Abe Attell, which will be staged by the National Club. Before leaving Toronto Artie is anxious to take some of the conceit out of local wrestlers and had this to say this morning:

"Before I leave the city I would like to demonstrate the fact that I have not gone back in my wrestling in any way. I stand ready to take on Harry Baker and Charlie LaRush any time. I will wrestle both these men on the same evening and guarantee to throw them both in an hour, for a side bet of from $100 to $500 and the gate receipts. The statement made by LaRush in an out of town paper that he beat me is false, and I would like to show the public how easily I can defeat him. I will deposit $50 now with the Sporting Editor of The News as a forfeit to wrestle both LaRush and Baker under the conditions I have named."

If LaRush or Baker care to have any of Edmunds' game they can arrange a meeting any time in the near future for the signing of the articles.—News.

RUGBY

KINGSTON'S PROSPECTS

If the necessary financial backing can be secured, Kingston will be represented in the senior series of the ORFU by a team that the Limestone City will have reason to be proud of. Efforts are now being made to secure the backing of some prominent citizens and enough must be secured to guard the players against personal loss. Last year the team was away behind in money matters, and the players were forced to go down into their pockets for the deficit.

The team will comprise practically the same players as the Limestones of last year, though it will probably be stronger. Among the numbers will be Moxley, Richardson, Bearance, Geo. Birch, Evans, Crozier, Marshall, Dick, Mooney, Crawford, Frank Birch, Davies and Laird, with possibly a couple of new men.

The majority of the players have already expressed a willingness to get out and play and if the sports of the city will plank down their mites a strong team in the senior series is assured. —Kingston Standard.

NOTHING DOING AT LINDSAY.

The meeting called for last night in the parlors of the Simpson house for the purpose of organizing a rugby football club did not materialize. Only one enthusiast turned up, although several prominent citizens were on hand to give the club encouragement, and were disappointed to learn that none of the promoters were in evidence. Another meeting will be held to-night. — Lindsay Post.

President "Bill" Slee, of the O.R.F.U., looks for the best intermediate and junior season in the history of the organization. T.A.C. and Westmounts, of Montreal, will be in the senior series, with Peterborough and Kingston to be heard from.

SPORTING COMMENT

are peddled by beaten heroes. Hackenschmidt says Gotch was greased. Longboat was doped. Stanley Ketchell, now that his outlook on life has been widened by the relapse of his eyes into normal apertures, says he, too, was doped. The old, obsolete Gans seems about the only fallen idol lately who has had the courage to say "I was beaten by a better man."—Hamilton Herald.

In Peterborough a controversy is going on between the horsemen and some of the fair directors as to whether the 2.17 event should be changed into a free-for-all. The Peterborough horses do not afford sport enough for the crowd.—Lindsay Wardar.

It will be real funny to see Billy Hewitt, Dan Woods, and the rest of the TAAC bunch mingling in ORFU circles once again. It is too bad Joe Hay is not on the job. Last fall the former pair were a couple of leading culprits in the ORFU troubles. Their efforts attacking Billy Slee's job will be interesting. — Hamilton Spectator.

ATHLETICS

Tom Flanagan is not given to exploiting dead ones and he says that he has the liveliest live one he ever looked upon for the Ward Marathon next month.

"Take this from me," said the Irish mogul last night. "I don't think that anybody can beat this fellow, unless he be Longboat. His name is J. Ed. Fennell and I am not guessing at his ability as a distance man. He showed me a trial over the Ward Marathon course on Saturday that was a corker. Fennell will make Longboat run from flagfall to finish."

Flanagan seldom tells how good any of his proteges are and Fennell must have turned off something pretty good.

SPORTING NEWS

TO CHALLENGE AGAIN

Special to Montreal Star.

London, September 16.–Sir Thomas Lipton authorizes the announcement that he is now prepared to challenge for the America's Cup, this time with a 90 footer and under the New York Club's own rules. If there is an intimation that his challenge would be accepted by the New York Club there is an extreme probability that Sir Thomas will arrive in New York within a few weeks with the challenge.

Sir Thomas is jubilant over the victories of his new yacht, Shamrock, which this season captured thirty-one winning flags in thirty-five races in which she entered.

Sir Thomas today said:–

"I am now confident, that I have now got the best boat in British waters. The New York Yacht Club said that the boat that I prepared to build for my last challenge was not big enough. I am so convinced now that I can have a worthy challenger built that I am willing to race under the New York Yacht Club's own rules and build a yacht of any size. I am as anxious as ever to lift the cup and if I am told there is a probability of a challenge being accepted I shall issue it immediately. However, the time is short, and unless the challenge be issued within the next five or six weeks there will be no chance for a race next year; I need give no further assurance that I am anxious to try again."

ABOUT JOE GANS

The Gans-Nelson bout last week marks a crisis in ring history. For years Joe Gans has been one of the foremost lights of the squared circle. Crafty, skilful, a perfect ring general, a man with a knockout punch of proportion to his weight, he was always one of the dangerous men in his class.

Where Joe was unfortunate was in being handled early in his career in a way to reflect upon some of his performances. He did more good to himself by frankly admitting his share in certain fakes than by any individual bout in which he figured. The public did not regard his confession in the same light as the bald statements of Tommy Burns and Jack O'Brien about their own frame-ups because it was realized that Gans, with the prejudice against the colored boxers working against him, had to yield to the demands of certain white managers and promoters to get even a bare chance for a living.

But his ring record where the battles have been on the level surely stands out in a class by itself. Even more than Bob Fitzsimmons does he deserve to be called the "grand old man" of the ring. For his American career extended over a far longer period than did Bob's and in his day he has met and defeated men heavier than himself, just as Fitz did when he entered the heavyweight class.

Joe says that this is his farewell to the ring. When he uttered this statement as he lay in his dressing room, bruised, battered and bleeding from the bout and shattered physically from the effect of Nelson's blows, there can be no doubt that he meant it. He had been deeply despondent ever since he was counted out in the seventeenth. And this second defeat, coming so soon after the other, may have made him feel like withdrawing from the game he has been following so long.

But if reports are true about his financial condition (the assertion being that he has not overmuch money, other than that represented in his Baltimore hotel. I think we shall see Joe back in the ring again. His money-making days are not over by a good sight.

According to records furnished by Gans, he was born in November, 1874. This would make him 34 years old, if the report is correct. But like many another colored person, Gans may be mistaken about his own age. Like the old colored folks of the south, who shake their heads vaguely when asked how old they are and respond "Pretty near hundred, chile," I think that Gans may be in doubt as to his own age. Persons who claim to have seen him before he became noted in the ring when he was ready to box for $10 or $15 at small clubs, say that he appeared to be a boy of 17 as far back as 1887, or thereabouts. I would not be surprised if Gans was 39 or 40 years old although he is doubtless sincere in his belief that he is of the age given.

NO EPIDEMIC OF HAY FEVER

Dr. Hodgetts Says it is the Smoke That is Irritating the Nostrils

"An epidemic of hay fever."

Dr. Hodgetts, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, laughed at the inquiry today; also wondering why he should be regarded as a custodian of every type of Provincial ailment.

"No, I think it is merely the irritation of the nostrils caused by the smoke. It woke me up last night it was so thick and hundreds of people are finding a difficulty in getting a good night's sleep.

"Perhaps it's the Middlesex fires, although likely those in Northern Ontario. Too far for smoke to travel. Not at all! Smoke from the Chicago fire reached Toronto. — Toronto News

HARRY REID KNOWS

Wm. Madill the druggist, does not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on every bald head, but if there is any life left in the roots of your hair, Parisian Sage will stimulate the hair bulbs and cause your hair to grow again. Here is one case.

"I am now using the second bottle of your Parisian Sage and can notice a new crop of hair appearing. I am glad to say it is a darker color than my hair was before I became bald."—Harry Reid, 10 Manhattan St. Rochester, NY.

Don't wait till you are bald before using Parisian Sage, use it now. Kill the dandruff germ and prevent baldness. Wm. Madill the druggist, sells Parisian Sage at fifty cents a large bottle, and he guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and cure all diseases of the scalp or money back. Parisian Sage is a delightfully invigorating hair dressing; it makes the hair soft, fluffy and beautiful.

THEATRICAL

PIPP'S AWAKENING.

Charley Grapewin and his merry company held the boards at the Grand Opera House last night and made the place ring with laughter by the presentation of "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp." There was a big audience and every one was convinced that the inimitable Grapewin was sure enough the "first aid to the grouch." In his entertainment purposes he was given splendid assistance by Anna Chance and a splendid company, including a bevy of bright and pretty show girls. In addition to the wholesale merriment dispensed by Charley Grapewin there was a lot of catchy music and several dances of more than ordinary merit. Grapewin made a great hit in his song "You'll be Sorry in the Morning," and Anna Chance received a flattering reception in her song "Longing."

The costumes and stage embellishments were in keeping with the high class production.

THE HOOK

"I never go to see the Fair,
She says with proud and haughty air,
"Such crowds coming on bring."
Whereas we giggle and remark
As we go gaily to the park,
"Ain't she the sassy thing."

"Cheer up. It will rain before the week is over, in time for that Peterborough fair at any rate.

Lame and game—Jimmy Reynolds and Ray Fenton.

The following is reported to have been found on the door of a deserted cabin in the heart of Nebraska: "Fore miles from a nabor; sixteen miles from a post office; twenty-five miles from a railroad; forty-seven miles from a church; three miles from water. "God bless our home." We're gone to Southern Alberta to get a fresh start."

"Jimmy" Reynolds seems to find it a good deal more difficult to cross the hill at Newcastle than Napoleon did to cross the Alps.

When a man goes to write he is careful to see that his pencil has a point to it. He should do the same when he starts to crack a joke.

The Morning Times says in a heading that "E. A. Tanner will run in the East." This is exactly what he will do.

Liberals and Conservatives each held a demonstration at Niagara Falls this week after which the great Falls will be allowed the centre of the stage again.

MI-O-NA MEANS STOMACH COMFORT

Its of Special Value to Many Here in Peterborough

A notable discovery and one that appeals especially to many people in Peterborough, is the combination of stomach help in the Mi-o-na treatment. This preparation works wonders in case of indigestion or weak stomach.

It acts directly upon the walls of the stomach and bowels, strengthening and stimulating them so that they readily take care of the food that is eaten without distress or suffering.

So positive are the good effects following the use of Mi-o-na that the remedy is sold by W. Madill, druggist, corner George and Hunter streets, Peterborough, under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails to cure. A 50 cent box of Mi-o-na will do the good the stomach needs, which is simply to make it do its own good work.

Contractors Capture Two Near Fort William

Fort William, Sept. 15.—The office staff of Foley Bros. at Dinorwic, are hilarious over the recent adventure of a couple of their comrades in a bear hunt. Accompanied by guns, ammunition and provisions and pluck, they started out one day for the right of way of the G.T.P. and camped all day and night in a state of feverish expectancy. Tired of their fruitless vigil they adjourned to a nearby shack where they mealed. This function concluded, they started again for game, but found their way blocked by a sociable bear, who was attracted to the door by the savory repast. Then the fun occurred. Naughty words were uttered as the doughty hunters, with hair on end scrambled through the window. No one heard the exclamations of relief as they reached their rifles, discovered the bear had vanished, mopped the perspiration from their foreheads and prepared to return to Dinorwic.

As Dr. White was canoeing on Wabigoon Lake on Sunday last he espied a black bear swimming across the lake. A few well directed shots closed the brute's career and he was quickly taken aboard the canoe and brought to Wabigoon.

Eight maskinonge, weighing 178 pounds, were caught at Brockville on Saturday.

THE MARRIAGE LAWS OF FRANCE HAVE BEEN MODIFIED

Everyone who writes on France shows deep concern at the falling birth-rate, and at the fact that the population is actually decreasing. In twenty-five years, they tell us, Germany will have double the population of France, and in fifty years the nation will have disappeared—unless, in the meantime, it is gobbled up by its powerful and rapidly increasing neighbor.

Above all things the French people are logical. Having become aware of the danger, they have set to work to find a cause. One of those causes is the complexity of marriage in France. Persons are deterred from entering wedlock, especially persons of the poorer class, because of its difficulty. Until a year ago the law demanded a formidable array of papers before the young man and woman could be joined together in matrimony. The consent of the parents had to be obtained in writing; there were birth certificates and certificates of residence, and in the the case of the man, evidence that he had completed his military service. If the parents were dead the affair was even more complex. Pappers had to prove their death and the death of the grandparents. The total number of documents required was nineteen.

In country parishes in France such documents are fairly easy to procure as the French peasantry has a way of remaining rooted to the soil from generation to generation. But in the towns it is difficult. The papers had to be sent for from distant parts; there was delay and there was expense. In the case of foreigners there was the added formality of translation, sometimes representing an expenditure of a hundred or more francs. This was a grave impediment in the way of very poor persons, an almost impossible obstacle. Hence, many neglected the formal ceremony of marriage altogether. Some mayors of communes recognized how impossible it was to comply with all the requirements of the law and connived at irregular attestations.

The marriage law has been amended. Abbe Lemiere, one of the few priests who are members of the Chamber of Deputies brought in a bill to simplify the formalities. Now, after the age of thirty, the consent is no longer required. This seems a very meagre concession to the modern spirit, but, according to reports, the change has worked marvels in a few months. The marriage rate is on the upturn to the tune of 8000 more marriages in the half year than for the corresponding period of the year before. The good abbe attempted a still greater reform but he was unsuccessful. He wished in imitation of the reform in Belgium, to place marriage within the limits of the common law—that is to say to enable the person who has obtained his majority to contract it without the intervention of his parents. This, however, was too daring a proposition for the Chamber, and it stopped short at absolving the contracting parties from their parents' consent after the age of thirty.

Dr Jacques Bertillion, writing in the Paris Figaro traces the immediate advance in figures to the new legislation. He pleads for the Belgian method on th ground that it encourages early marriages, reduces the number of illegitmate and aids in the mortality returns. This would seem to be an instance, despite the old Latin saw to the contrary, that morals are really affected by laws. As a consequence of the concession there noted, the marriages for the year ended June 30 last are more numerous than since the two years following the war (a case of retarded marriages) which hitherto constituted a record and more numerous proportionate to population, than in 1813, when the young men of France rushed to matrimony to escape conscription.

PERUNA STRENGTHENS THE ENTIRE SYSTEM.

"Two years ago, an accident necessitated my confinement for several weeks. The good health I had enjoyed was slipping away and there developed a complication of diseases. My physician said my case was one of general debility.

"Among the many ailments which developed was a serious attack of catarrh, which annoyed me considerably and kept me awake whole nights.

"I decided to give Peruna a trial and soon found it acting as a wonderful tonic to my system. The catarrh grew less severe and shortly afterward disappeared, as did also the various other maladies.

"I attribute my prompt relief and ultimate cure entirely to the use of Peruna and gladly recommend it."

HAVELOCK IS MENACED

By the Bush Fires Which Creep Closer to the Town—Much Damage in the Timber Limits

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Sept. 16.—Dry weather continues to be the great trouble of nearly every person in this vicinity and they still keep looking for rain that has been withheld so long.

Bush fires still continue to rage and the town is filled with smoke when the wind goes down. The people are in a bad fix, for they want the wind to blow to keep the smoke away, and they are afraid it will stir up the fire when it does blow. The farmers are clearing the land around the fires so they cannot spread, but it is so dry that mostly anything will burn. The fire travels under ground by means of roots and is apt to spring up anywhere.

A load of men went out from Havelock to-day to the timber limits to the north, where the fires are very bad, to see what they could do. Water is so scarce that it cannot be got to fight the fires with. In the village there are a large number of people who have to carry all their water, both to drink and wash with. In the country it is not so handy to carry and the farmers have to got to work and dig deeper wells. A man who was driving through the country to-day, says that is the chief occupation of the people just now. The C.P.R. are also feeling the effect of the dry spell. Plato Creek, just south of the village, that has always supplied the C.P.R. with water, is so low that the company have found it necessary to go elsewhere. As a result a creek about three miles east of the village has been dammed back, an engine and a water tank put in and the engines have to go down there to take water.

The fire fighters sent out to the north have returned and say they could do nothing with the fire, and the only thing that will stop it is a good heavy rain.

THE FIRST INSTALMENT OF MR. STRATTON'S EVIDENCE

From the Blue Book Report of the Royal Commission on Insurance---Part of Report Given Below---Other Necessary Extracts to be Made as Instalments Proceed.

Extracts of minutes of evidence from "Report of Royal Commission on Insurance as published by order of Parliament." J. R. Stratton examined September 7th, 1906.

"Mr. Tilley — Before passing away from the transaction as to the People's Life, was any part of the $80,000 paid to Mr. Pattison, returned to any officer or director of the People's Life?

A—None whatever.

Q—No consideration received?

A—Nothing directly or indirectly.

Q—No consideration received either by you or any other director of the People's Life.

A—No.

Q—Did you learn afterwards what Mr. Pattison had done with the $80,000?

A—No.

Q—Never concerned yourself with it?

A—No.

Q—Have you the cheque for the $80,000 here to-day, Mr. Kirby, Mr. McCutcheon promised it yesterday, I think?

A—I can explain that transaction perhaps better myself. I gave my cheque for the $80,000. My personal cheque to the bank."

September 13th, 1906.

James R. Stratton re-called.

Examined by Mr. Tilley.

Q—I asked you for the cheque for $80,000 with which you said you paid the amount to Mr. Pattison?

A.—Yes.

Q—Did you get it?

A—I think I said last week when under examination, that I gave my cheque to the bank and the bank gave me the money. I subsequently retired the cheque with Mr. McCutcheon's note and the assignment of the agreement, and tore up the cheque. It was a mere temporary matter.

Q—Then you said that the cheque was for $80,000 and that the assignment—

A—No. I did not say the cheque was for $80,000. I said the amount paid Mr. Pattison was $80,000.

Q.—What you said is shown in the printed evidence at page 2070?

A.—I have not seen it.

Q.—The examination reads as follows; "Q—Have you the cheque for "$80,000 here to-day, Mr. Kirby; Mr. "McCutcheon promised it yesterday, "I think? A—I can explain that transaction better, perhaps, myself. I "gave my cheque for the $80,000, my "personal cheque to the bank."

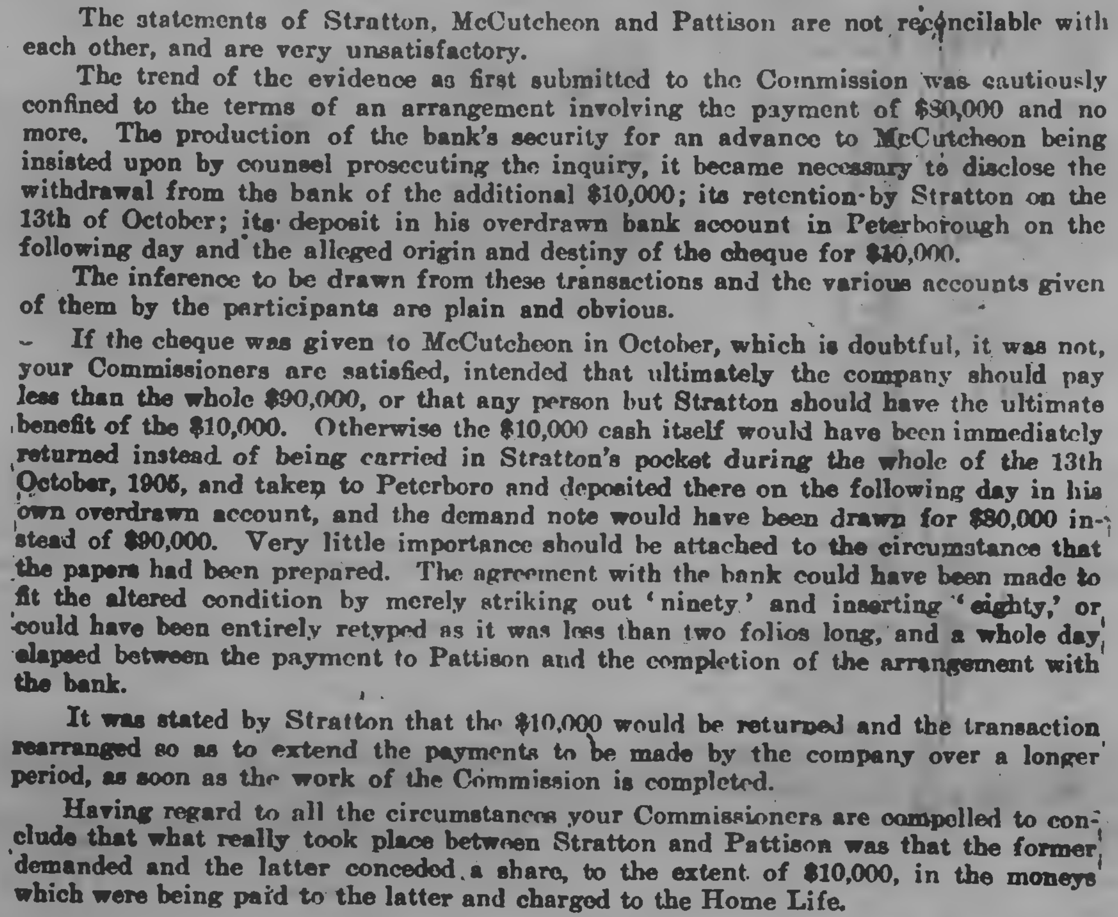
That was in your evidence, but Mr. Kirby was standing beside you.

A—Yes, that is all right.

Q—And then the examination proceeds; "Q—To what bank, Mr. Stratton? A.—The Traders' Bank. I subsequently arranged for the discount "of the $80,000 with the agreement "of the Home Life at the back of Mr. "McCutcheon's note. That is the "whole transaction."

A—That was a slip. It was $90,000."

Extract from the Royal Insurance Commissioners' report, made to Parliament, 1907. Following is a photographic copy of a portion of the report:



The statements of Stratton, McCutcheon and Pattison are not reconcilable with each other, and are very unsatisfactory.

The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $80,000 and no more. The production of the bank's security for an advance to McCutcheon being insisted upon by counsel prosecuting the inquiry, it became necessary to disclose the withdrawal from the bank of the additional $10,000; its retention by Stratton on the 13th of October; its deposit in his overdrawn bank account in Peterborough on the following day and the alleged origin and destiny of the cheque for $10,000.

The inference to be drawn from these transactions and the various accounts given of them by the participants are plain and obvious.

If the cheque was given to McCutcheon in October, which is doubtful, it was not, your Commissioners are satisfied, intended that ultimately the company should pay less than the whole $90,000, or that any person but Stratton should have the ultimate benefit of the $10,000. Otherwise the $10,000 cash itself would have been immediately returned instead of being carried in Stratton's pocket during the whole of the 13th October, 1905, and taken to Peterboro and deposited there on the following day in his own overdrawn account, and the demand note would have been drawn for $80,000 instead of $90,000. Very little importance should be attached to the circumstance that the papers had been prepared. The agreement with the bank could have been made to fit the altered condition by merely striking out 'ninety' and inserting 'eighty,' or could have been entirely retyped as it was less than two folios long, and a whole day elapsed between the payment to Pattison and the completion of the arrangement with the bank.

It was stated by Stratton that the $10,000 would be returned and the transaction rearranged so as to extend the payments to be made by the company over a longer period, as soon as the work of the Commission is completed.

Having regard to all the circumstances your Commissioners are compelled to conclude that what really took place between Stratton and Pattison was that the former demanded and the latter conceded a share, to the extent of $10,000, in the moneys which were being paid to the latter and charged to the Home Life.

ELECTION DATE IS FIXED FOR MONDAY, OCTOBER 29

Cabinet Council Decides to Change Usage and Hold Federal Voting on First Day in the Week—Will Suit Travelling Men.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—Monday, Oct. 26, has been definitely decided on as the date for the general elections, with nominations a week earlier, on Oct. 19.

The decision was reached at a meeting of the Cabinet Council yesterday afternoon at which the Ministers in attendance were: Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. R. W. Scott, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Hon. George P. Graham.

Curiously enough it was probably the last meeting which will be attended by Hon. R. W. Scott, who, ere the Ministers gather together again, will be succeeded, as Secretary of State, by Charles Murphy, K.C.

The proclamation dissolving the present Parliament was signed by His Excellency Earl Grey last night, on the eve of his departure for Regina, and will appear in an extra issue of The Canada Gazette to-day.

Apparently the Ministers were pretty well decided as to the date, for they were only in session for a couple of hours, and disposed of other important business. In all the predictions made as to the date of the elections, the date chosen has not been mentioned for the reason probably that no one supposed that a Monday would be chosen.

In choosing the first working day of the week the Government has been guided by the consideration that it will give commercial men and others whose business keeps them away from home, a chance to put in their vote on Monday, election day being in business circles practically a holiday.

Another consideration is that November weather is ill suited for campaign purposes, and still another, that it will leave ample time for the calling of a November session of Parliament if it is decided to abide by the practice of the past two years.

THEY WILL HAVE TO PUT UP FIFTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR

Ontario Bank Short in Assets—Royal Trust Co. is Appointed Liquidator—Assets on Paper Amounting to a Million Are Unrealizable at That Figure.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—A shortage of $781,926.92 in the assets of the Ontario Bank will involve a double liability call of at least 50 cents in the dollar on the shareholders. The assets in the balance sheet include bonds and stocks, real estate, past due bills and overdue debts and current bills rediscounted, on all of which estimated allowances for loss are made. Any further loss in the $1,500,000 assets included under these heads would involve a still further call.

Three meetings were held yesterday, one of the shareholders to receive the statement; another of the shareholders to appoint a liquidator, at which the Royal Trust Co. was chosen, and one of the creditors (the Bank of Montreal), at which the appointment of the Royal Trust Co. was confirmed, and will be sent on to the court.

E. R. Wood, in the absence of H.C. Hammond through illness, presided at the meeting of the shareholders. The balance sheet was gone over in detail and weak spots criticized. The 6,600 shares in Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway were regarded by Mr. Wood as the most doubtful on the list. Humbugged and fleeced were the terms applied to Mr. McGill, who bought the stock.

Electrical Development preferred stock counted $50,000. Wild lands at Fort William taken over for debt had been partly sold for $24,000.

Mr. Livingston, Kingston, took exception to the sale of some property at the Limestone City and animadverted on Barlow Cumberland's skill as a valuator. The meeting was satisfied with the explanation of mortgage entanglements given in this connection by Curator Stavert.

The assets of the bank, according to the total realizable value, amount to $163,400.34. The deficit is $2,281,926.92. The deficit absorbs the $1,500,000 capital and leaves a shortage of $781,926.92.

COMMISSIONERS WERE CHOSEN

Scott, Greenway and Prof. McLean Will Comprise Railway Board.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The Cabinet, before adjournment yesterday, passed the orders-in-council filling the vacancies on the Board of Railway Commissioners. D'Arcy Scott, the present mayor of Ottawa and son of R. W. Scott, becomes assistant chairman, at $9,000 a year; and Thomas Greenway, M.P., and Prof. S. J. McLean of Toronto University, get the other two vacant places on the board.

The appointment of Ald. W. Foran of Ottawa as secretary of the new Board of Civil Service Comissioners was also put through.

The appointment of Prof. McLean to the Railway Commission has given great satisfaction here. He is regarded as having eminent qualifications for the position, and has redeemed the appointment from mediocrity. It was largely through the investigation made by him into the Railway Commission of the United States that this institution was introduced into Canada.

GREAT MEETING AT FREDERICTON

With Roblin and Hanna, Leader Gets Fine Reception.

Fredericton, N.B., Sept. 17.—The local opera house, which seats a thousand people, was well crowded yesterday afternoon, when R. L. Borden and Messrs. Roblin, Hanna and Hazen opened one of the finest political meetings ever held in this city. Special trains were run over several branch lines leading into Fredericton, and a large demonstration took place before the meeting began.

The speakers, accompanied by local politicians, were escorted to the opera house at 2 o'clock, headed by the 71st Regiment band. There was considerable enthusiasm.

Mr. Hanna discussed principally the North Atlantic Trading Co. He was given a fine reception, but was somewhat hoarse, after so much recent speaking.

Mr. Borden was well received and devoted much of his time to challenging the Government with broken pledges. He gave them credit for organizing the Railway Commission and made a lengthy reference to the report of the Civil Service Commission.

Premier Roblin took well with the crowd by his violent attacks on the Liberals.

Mr. Hazen made a strong attack on Dr. Pugsley.

Sterling Menaker, living on a farm near Picton fell from a load of tomatoes and was killed.

HIGHER TARIFF WANTED BY THE MANUFACTURERS

Convention of C.M.A. Spends Day Discussing Protection and Transportation—Canadian Woollen Men They Say, Cannot Compete With Europe.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—Chief interest at the resumed meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the Windsor Hotel yesterday centered around the question of how far trade protection is a factor in building up Canadian industries.

The matter was brought up on a report from the tariff committee, which made very special reference to the present condition of the woollen industry in the country, and insisted that, if the factories are not to close their doors forever, it must have immediate attention at the hands of the Government.

The discussion which this report provoked was adjourned until to-day, when the convention will be called upon to decide whether Messrs. Murray, McKay, Simpson and Ellis shall be appointed as a special committee to make representations to the Government in the sense of a demand stronger than has hitherto ever been offered for the protection that it is said the woollen industry absolutely needs if it is not to become a dead interest in the Dominion.

L. Simpson of Valleyfield advocated the sending out of a commission of experts by the Government to enquire into and report upon the differences in costs of manufacture in England and Germany, as compared with Canada. Politicians of both parties and also the farmers, ought to thoroughly understand the manufacturers' position.

The report of the transportation committee, read by Mr. R. Dunn, was accepted with a recommendation that the association place itself on record as being favorable to bringing the Intercolonial Railway under the jurisdiction of the board of Railway Commissioners.

ASPHYXIATION CAUSED DEATH

London, Ont., Men Die While Boring in Regina.

Regina, Sept. 17.—William Regan and Jack Richardson, who came here from London, Ont., lost their lives by asphyxiation in a well they were boring.

The men were working alone at the well when Richardson went down to remove a stone. On reaching the bottom he gave a cry of distress and Regan called to a threshing crew to come to his help. When the men came one of them went part of the way down the well, but signalled to be hauled up again, as he was being suffocated. Regan then volunteered to go down and the men went to put the rope round his body, but he put them aside, saying there was no time, and immediately descended, sitting astride one of the boards attached to the rope, which was lowered by a hand winch.

SMALLPOX AT MILITARY CAMP

Nova Scotia Militia Badly Scared by an Outbreak of Disease.

Aldershot, N.S., Sept. 17.—Smallpox broke out at military camp yesterday and a quarantine has been established on the 68th Regiment and a pest house opened.

There is only one case so far, a man from the 66th (Halifax) Regiment.

There is much uneasiness in the camp as a result of this outbreak, and the military tattoo, the chief social event of the camp, scheduled for last night, was cancelled.

Found Dead Beside Trough.

St. Catharines, Sept. 17.—Charles E. Brown, a farmer, well known in Niagara township, went to his barn to hitch his horse to go to Niagara. When he did not return by midnight his wife went to the barn and found her husband dead in a kneeling position beside the water trough.

JAIL BREAKER HAS RETURNED

Snow Back at Prison in Toronto ---Carried Jail Uniform Under His Arm.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—Snow is back. Sunday afternoon he escaped from the Central Prison by squirming through a 6 1-2 inch space between the bars in a window in a remote corner of the ground floor, and last night at 9 o'clock he and his father walked into the prison and the lad gave himself up.

He was carrying his prison garb in a parcel under his arm.

Asked why he had escaped Snow, who is serving a 23-months' sentence for shop-breaking, said that it was because he was not guilty and had not wanted to suffer for a crime of which he knew nothing.

He said that when at large he had hidden till nightfall and had then gone to the house of his uncle, who lives here. His uncle refused to take him in and he went down town. He did not go to his father's house till Tuesday, and he stopped there all night.

Let Embargo Stand.

London, Sept. 17.—(C.A.P.)—The associated Chambers of Commerce have rejected a resolution favoring the removal of the Canadian cattle embargo.

The Daily Graphic, referring to the Canadian outcry against British woollens, says Chamberlain's conception of imperial preference meant mutual sacrifice for the common imperial end, but the Canadian conception is very different.

Vaccination Brought Death.

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 17.—Medical evidence shows that Vivian Foley, aged 8, died from dilation of the heart, caused by too much exercise after vaccination.

Four Killed.

McAllister, I.T., Sept. 17.—Four men were killed and 25 injured yesterday, when a powder magazine at Samples mine No. 1, near here, exploded.

Cholera at Manila.

Manila, Sept. 17.—Thirty-one cases of cholera have been reported in this city in all, and the death record up to the present is twelve.

GRAND JURY IS OBSOLETE

Judge McMahon Speaks Against it and Jurors Concur.

Cornwall, Ont., Sept. 17.—There was only one case at the fall Assizes held here before Justice McMahon, and as it was a criminal case it required the presence of a full grand jury for two days, besides a score or so of petit jurors.

Justice McMahon at the opening of the trial spoke strongly in favor of abolishing the grand jury as an obsolete, expensive system.

The grand jury in their report concurred with his lordship on this point.

Try to Burn Family.

New York, Sept. 17.—Failing to receive the sum of $2,600 they had demanded of Santa Roda, a well-to-do real estate dealer, blackmailers for the fourth time in a month sought early yesterday to kill him and his family by setting fire to his home in the upper part of the city. Extraordinary measures were taken to prevent their escape, including the wiring of all the outside doors of the home.

All the family must have perished if a neighbor had not discovered the fire and summoned the firemen.

Bombs For Kaiser.

Paris, Sept. 17.—A despatch from Mulhausen, Alsace-Lorraine, says that the real reason for the German Emperor's sudden abandonment of his excursion into French territory a few days ago was, according to the police, the presence of French anarchists in the district which the Emperor proposed to visit. At the last moment the police learned that two French anarchists had gone to the frontier with bombs.

Accident at Guelph.

Guelph, Sept. 17.—Yesterday the big day of Guelph Central Fair, was marked by a bad accident, which occurred shortly after the gates opened. John Patterson of Inglewood, Ont., a large exhibitor in Hackney and thoroughbred horses, was leading one of his fine young colts of the hunter class when the animal reared up and jumped at its master, giving him a crushing blow with both front feet on his head and left shoulder. Mr. Patterson dropped with a nasty gash on his scalp bleeding freely. He soon regained consciousness, however.

A NOTABLE VICTORY.

To the astonishment of all Canada the Hon. R. Lemieux flashed upon the public at Niagara Falls the conversion of the Laurier Government to Free Rural Mail Delivery. Now, it is well-known that Mr. Lemieux is to be Sir Wilfrid's successor in the premiership of Canada if possible. He is to be the father of this great benefaction but unfortunately he was the man who argued most strongly against it as one of Mr. Borden's chief planks. He set afoot investigations which he said proved its absurdity for Canada both on account of its unsuitability and expense. He now frankly confesses defeat, complete defeat. It is the most notable victory for a Conservative leader over a Liberal government on the eve of a campaign ever recorded. But is hardly a very convincing testimony of the statesmanship of Sir Wilfrid or Mr. Lemieux. However it is satisfactory to find that they knew enough to yield. The Examiner will now have to revise its unkind remarks on Mr. Borden's policy in that regard.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY.

On the eve of the general elections the Laurier Government is setting its nets in the very sight of the birds it wants to catch. One of the snares in which even the simple will hardly be taken is its sudden show of interest in rural mail delivery. The Postmaster-General and his deputy are being despatched to some of the border States to "study" the rural mail delivery service there.

This mission will be used for much more than it is worth by the Government's campaigners in the agricultural districts. Irresponsible canvassers and speech-makers will tell the farmers that the jaunt of Mr. Lemieux and Dr. Coulter, will surely be followed by the establishment of postmen's routes and daily service on the same along the concession lines and side roads. It is intended that this inconsequential trip into the neighboring States shall be cited by Government workers in support of bold assurances to the farmers that the Laurier Government is about to give them a mail delivery service. And the farmers, who can distinguish between authorised and unauthorised statements coming from the same source, and who have come to have almost as little confidence in the one as in the others, will take leave to doubt that the Government has the slightest thought of extending the house to house delivery of mail into country places. The farmers are men of intelligence. This question is one in which they take a peculiarly keen interest. They have taken note of the efforts made to bring it into practical politics. They have marked the public men who have advocated it and know who have opposed it. They recollect in particular that the Lau- recollect in particular that the Laurier government dismissed in very summary fashion the idea of a rural mail delivery, declaring it could not be entertained on account of the cost its adoption would involve. It was suggested in these columns that if the Government could not see its way to making the service general it might make a start in the more densely settled parts. But the idea was wholly rejected. Mr. Borden consistently adhered to the view that the time had come for putting an end to the isolation in which the farmers continued to be kept in these times of intimate communication among all other elements of the population. His advocacy of rural mail delivery did finally move the Government to its present feigned interest in the question an interest that would not survive the Government's return to power. Like other genuine articles in Mr. Borden's platform, this one has its imitation among the false wares offered by the Government.

The farmers cannot be humbugged into believing that the administration which a short time ago refused them rural mail delivery now means to give it to them. Like the intimations that the deepening of the Welland Canal is being considered, that the Ottawa-Georgian Bay Canal is to be undertaken etc., the Government's outgivings about rural mail delivery are for the purpose of cozening electors out of their votes.— Mail and Empire.

MR. STRATTON'S THREAT.

In its issue of September 15th the Examiner seeks to read the Review a lesson from Mr. Stratton's experience with the "Galt Reporter" with reference to a transaction which we never heard of before. The Home Life Insurance Association allusion is tagged on to the tail of the article, it being the real subject to which Mr. Stratton attaches a threat as to what he will do to all of us if any further reference is made to him concerning it. We welcome any action that Mr. Stratton may see fit to take in that regard. That any jury or court will find that what he did is what everybody, including the Review, has said that he really did there is no doubt. It is not a question of proof yet to be given. The proof is already there. The report of the Royal Commission on Insurance, a commission appointed by the Laurier Government itself gives it. A photographic copy appears in this issue of a small part of the finding of the Commission. The Commissioners' report will wind up Mr. Stratton's public career for good and all as soon as the public thoroughly understands it, hence Mr. Stratton's threat. We will give extracts from Mr. Stratton's evidence and from the Report from time to time. Is it likely that a Liberal Commission reinforced by a celebrated Liberal lawyer, Mr. Stratton appearing no less that three separate times before it, and being protected by counsel—is it likely they overshot the truth? We have a public service to perform and we are not to be deterred from performing it by threats. That Sir Wilfrid does not want Mr. Stratton in the House, we have the best of authority for saying. All talk to the contrary is bluff. It is easy enough to establish, if it were true—but it can't be done. The Liberal party, as the Conservative party has in the past been the victim of those they would gladly cast loose. The public wants light, not threats. We have introduced this subject early so that Mr. Stratton may have all the chance to refute it he can possibly desire.

EDITORIAL NOTES

A time comes when every man's bluff is called and he is found out.

The issues before the country are not only measures. They are also men. Can we afford to ignore it?

Can we afford to send men to represent us and yet preach to our children not to do as they have done? Can we afford to be hypocrites?

CANOE SLIDE IS TOO SHALLOW

Canoeist writes about Conditions at Locks Dam.

Peterborough, Sept. 16th.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Might I make use of your valuable space to express the sentiments, not only of myself, but I think all canoeists who portage their canoes over the slide at the Locks below the Little Lake cemetery, to the very inconvenient condition that exists there.

At the foot of the slide, when the water is as low as at present, there is hardly enough water to float an empty canoe, how then can a loaded canoe be successfully dragged over the loose boulders without causing a great deal of unnecessary exertion and assuredly does no particular good to ones canoe.

This condition if I might suggest, could be very easily rectified by one or two days labor by one man, to deepen the channel a few inches.

This should most certainly be done in view of the fact that hundreds of canoes are portaged there each season.

I trust the parties responsible, which no doubt is the Department of Railways and Canals will put forth the necessary effort to rectify this small but very inconvenient matter.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for the space, I am.

Yours truly,
CANOEIST

THE GRAND JURY AT ASSIZES MAKES ITS PRESENTMENT

The following is the presentment made to-day by the Grand Jury at the Fall Assizes of the High Court before Mr. Justice Magee;—

To the Hon. Mr. Justice Magee, presiding at the Assizes held in the County of Peterborough:

The Grand Jury of the County of Peterborough, beg to report as follows;—

1. We have visited the County Jail, St. Joseph's Hospital, the House of Providence, the Children's Shelter, the Nicholls Hospital, the Protestant Home, and the County House of Refuge, and find all these buildings cleanly and suitably kept, due regard being made to all proper sanitary conditions and the officers in charge appear to be considerate and alert in the proper discharge of their duties.

2. While expressing our appreciation of the good work done by the two hospitals we visited, we feel bound to express our regret that there is not, in connection with either hospital, an isolated building or ward, and that there is no provision for the taking in of consumptive patients or others suffering from contagious diseases. We trust that some steps will be taken at an early date to provide such a building or buildings at the public expense.

3. In regard to Your Lordship's reference to the comparatively large number of persons in the jail for theft, we find on investigation that several of these persons are not and never were residents of this county, but owing to the efficiency of the local police force were arrested here for pocket picking and house-breaking and committed to jail.

4. We also find in the jail two boys of seventeen years of age, who are undergoing sentence. These boys are allowed and compelled to associate with all the other criminals, and we think it desirable that if possible some other provision should be made for their confinement, so that they may be removed from association with older and more hardened criminals, and thus afforded a better opportunity of reformation.

6. We also find in the jail, six old men, each over sixty years of age, who are confined on charges of vagrancy. We cannot emphasize too strongly, our regret that persons who have committed really no crime, but are merely, on account of old age, unable to support themselves, should be confined in the jail, and compelled to associate with persons of evil character, who are undergoing sentences for crime. These old men have all been sent to the jail from the city of Peterborough, and we believe the city is wanting in proper regard for the care of its old people, in not following the example of the county, in erecting a House of Refuge for their care and maintenance.

We trust your Lordship will see fit to lay our recommendation before the proper authorities, so that action may be taken at an early date to remedy this serious condition of affairs.

Dated the 17th day of September, 1908.

Foreman.

Creviston had been annoyed during the evening by someone rapping on the side of his house and when the offence was repeated he grabbed a shotgun, and seeing Coons and his friend passing the house, fired at them.

Creviston was placed under arrest and concealed by the authorities, fearing indignant citizens would lynch him.

Evangelists Offended Them.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 17.—A mob of about thirty men descended at an early hour yesterday morning upon the camping ground of the "Irvinites" a religious sect which is holding a convention at Brooklyn, Anne Arundel county, and set fire to two large tents used by the denomination for meeting purposes.

The principal cause of the trouble it is thought was the vigorous preaching of the Irvinites in which they denounced the people of the town generally. Founder Irvine, it is alleged, used some offensive language towards the women of Brooklyn.

Summer Residence Burns.

Barrie, Ont., Sept. 17.—The Raikes residence on the Oro Bridge road, about three miles from Barrie, occupied by Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., of Toronto, as a summer home, was yesterday totally destroyed by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Hellmuth were down the lake at the time with a party of guests, all of whom lost practically everything, including their personal jewelry.

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 9.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—In all probability, Monday, Nov. 9, will be Thanksgiving Day.

This also happens to be the King's birthday.

ACTIVE Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN AMONG PETERBORO' BOYS

Strong Committee of Prominent Business and Professional Men is Being Formed to Direct it.

Mr. F. H. Ritchie, who is giving his time under the direction of the Canadian section of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America, to the boys' work in Canada, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Peterborough, conferring with the general and boys' secretaries and meeting of Board of Directors and committees in regard to an advance movement in connection with the boys' work of Peterborough.

As a result of Mr. Ritchie's visit a strong committee of prominent business and professional men is being formed who will give time and thought to formulating and directing a work that will, in time, include the thousand boys between the ages of twelve and eighteen and have such an influence on their lives as will make them better individuals and better citizens.

To work out the policy of this committee there will be a Cabinet of older boys each member of which will be chairman of a committee and responsible for the work of that committee.

It is proposed to provide better accommodation for the junior members of the Association by removing their games and social rooms from the basement to the second floor where they will have more room and proper light and ventilation. This proposal on the part of the committee of management of the Boys' Department will be acted upon as soon as it receives the formal approval of the Board of Directors.

CLOUDS OF SMOKE ON THE LAKE DELAY "BESSIE BUTLER"

Mr. J. H. McClellan, Superintendent of the Trent Canal received a telephone message this morning from the Captain of the "Bessie Butler," at Bobcaygeon stating that owing to the denseness of the smoke on the lake, he was unable to proceed towards Peterborough.

The "Bessie Butler," took a load of lumber from Bridgenorth up to Nogie's Creek and returned as far as Bobcaygeon but apparently is unable to get away farther. The Captain stated that the smoke hung in dense clouds over the lake and it would be risky to start out under such conditions.

Forest fires are raging all through the back country.

FOREST FIRE AT NIGHT RESEMBLES GAS LIGHTS

There is a terrible bush fire raging on the Ennismore shore at the head of Chemong Lake. It has been burning for over a week. The swamp above Quinlan's farm, consisting of about ten acres, of land, is on fire.

Mr. Hartshorne who is summering at Chemong is in the city today. He said that at night to look at the fire it reminded one of a large city with many gas lights burning.

Mr. Hartshorne said that the farmers in the vicinity thought the dry peat in the swamp was burning.

FAIR OPENS, FINE WEATHER AND BRIGHT PROSPECTS

Grounds Scene of Activity To-day—Everything in Readiness for Big Crowds To-morrow—Looks Like a Mammoth Success.

With that maker or unmaker of success—the weather man, smiling indulgently the sixth Peterborough Industrial Exhibition opened today. Each year has seen the fair growing in size and importance and from all indications will be a mighty healthy and attractive six year old.

This is excellent exhibition weather just right in the matter of temperature a little dry and dusty perhaps but the fair people like dry weather and in the matter of attending the exhibition grounds the general public does also.

Of course this being the first day the public is not on hand in large numbers and the majority of those on the grounds are officials and exhibitors busy as nailers in preparation for tomorrow the big day of the exhibition when crowds well up in the thousands are expected to throng the grounds. The exhibits in every class are being placed in position and in the main building there will be an especially good showing superior to that of any previous year it is calculated.

The building looks clean and neat and the exhibits in it are neatly arranged and the booths attractively adorned.

It is repeating an oft expressed statement and transparently obvious fact to say that Secretary Hall is a busy man. His office is located just as you enter the central gate and he is there with two assistants who are also kept busily engaged in carrying out their duties.

The poultry show this year will as usual be one of the premier attractions. Special attention has been paid to it by the directors during the past year and as a result the show is one of the best of its kind of any fair in the province.

The exhibits of cattle, swine, sheep and horses will also be unusually good. The latter will be the best yet and every stall on the ground will be taken.

Cheese, butter, homemade bread, vegetables, wheat and grass are away over the average.

There will also be a splendid representation in the fancy work and fine arts departments.

THE RACES

For good exciting races the directors anticipate a better line of attraction than has ever before been furnished in Peterborough.

The races commence tomorrow and will be continued the next day.

The programme is as follows:

Friday, September 18th

Two O'clock

Trot or pace, 2.50 pace, prize $100. One mile heats, three in five. Entrance five per cent and five per cent additional for winners.

Trot or pace, 2.20 class, prize $200. One mile heats, three in five. Entrance five per cent and five per cent additional for winners.

Saturday, September 19

Two O'clock

Trot or pace, 2.28 class, prize $150. One mile heats, three in five. Entrance five per cent and five per cent additional for winners.

Trot or pace, 2.17 class, prize $200. One mile heats, three in five. Entrance five per cent and five per cent additional for winners.

Special Attractions

The show people with their special attractions are in the grounds all ready for the commencement of money making activity tomorrow.

The Midway attractions will be good ones and the grandstand performances tomorrow night will be a most interesting one. For this feature vaudeville performances of merit have been secured and the attractions will no doubt prove a strong drawing card.

It is unnecessary to elaborate at any length upon the special attractions. They are considered the best that have ever been here for a fair and a big patronage is assured them.

The 57th Regiment band acknowledged as one of the finest bands in the province will provide the music tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Everything in the way of meeting the requirements of the crowd is amply provided for by the large number of refreshment booths and lunch stands on the grounds.

A big dining tent has also been erected where hot meals will be served by a well known caterer.

To Three Pretty Hats

In the exquisite display of New Autumn Hats for mi lady in our Millinery Parlors there is so much variation in style, so many different effects that it is difficult to choose any three even one as the prettiest. There are ideals for every taste, some most extreme many moderate styles and yet the modest dresser will find enough variety to suit her taste. The prices too are just as varied. We have choosen three off hand to give a meagre description of. Tomorrow will be an excellent day to view the scores of styles---Come before the rush commences, in the morning.

No. 1—is the new Pocohontas Hat. In style and size it is not extreme, except that the elaborate feather band of shaded Old Rose lends a most striking contrast to the ordinary run of hats seen on display. The shape is of Brown Velvet faced with shirred Satin of the same color. the crown is high and the brim is moderate. Altogether the creation makes a beautiful dress hat.

No. 2—Another Dress Hat of medium proportions. The style is the Taupe, one of the seasons latest varieties. Chamois top brim and crown with Taupe velvet facing and a large cream plume, finished with brown velvet ribbon and a large Directoire buckle.

No. 3—Gives the true effect of the Directoire Hat—An ideal style for the Ready-to-wear costume, strictly tailored in the new much talked of Directoire Style. The shades are in tan and trimmings are panne velvet band with two rows of pleated silk and immense wings at side, finished with touches of Soutache Braid.

ROBBERY AT "CASTLENOCK" HAS BEEN CLEARED UP

Willie Fallon, a Youth of Seventeen Years, Has Pleaded Guilty to Housebreaking and Theft—Stolen Goods Recovered by P. C. Newhall

Willie Fallon pleaded guilty and elected summary trial at the police court this morning on a charge of housebreaking and stealing a number of valuable articles.

Last week "Castlenock," the home of Mrs. James Dennistoun, who is at present visiting in Winnipeg, was entered and a robbery effected. The police were at once notified and began an investigation with the result that early Wednesday morning P. C. Meharry, went to the home of Fallon and arrested him in bed.

Yesterday P.C. Newhall instituted a search for the stolen property, successfully recovering it. A small silver clock, a silver watch, and a dozen silver forks were found buried in the ground at the rear of Fallon's home on Edinburgh street.

The balance of the stolen goods, consisting of earrings, a gold chain and other trinkets of jewellery were found in another house. There are likely to be other arrests made in connection with the affair.

Fallon pleaded guilty this morning to the charges of housebreaking and theft. He was remanded until Friday, September 25th. He is already out on suspended sentence, having been found guilty of theft some months ago.

MILLINERY OPENINGS CENTRE OF ATTRACTION FOR LADIES

Beautiful Displays of Headwear in the Local Stores—What is Correct for the Autumn Season.

To the average man whose top piece is never adorned by anything more elaborate than a Derby or a Panama, the display of hats in the local millinery shops is something almost beyond comprehension. He is apt to refer to a fashionable creation as a "sky-scraper" or "three-decker," while a lady would describe it as "just too cute for anything." Leaving differences of opinion aside, however, the milliners of Peterborough are to be congratulated on the splendid displays which they are making to signalize the opening of the fall millinery season. The shops are a source of unflagging interest to the ladies of the city and they are thronged all day with eager customers who are enthusiastic in their praise of the beautiful creations.

A Review representative called at several of the leading millinery emporiums and was given some interesting information about "what is what" in fall millinery.

The hats on view in the local shops are very attractive and number few of the very exaggerated styles, which seem intended for show rather than for wear. One handsome hat is in a mahogany shade of velvet, rolled at the left side, trimmed with large wings in a lighter shade, caught with three large fancy pins.

Another attractive hat is of cadet velvet trimmed with a feather bandeau verging on the Copenhagen shades and finished on the right side with lovely wings caught with a knot of Parisian braid and a steel ornament.

A Charlotte Corday hat of tucked black miroir velvet is trimmed with fancy black cord and faced with pleated black lace, the finishing touch being formed of three white ostrich feather tips placed jauntily at one side.

A white Bengaline silk of the sailor variety as to shape, is trimmed with a large white pompon of white tulle edged with black braid, a black sequin bandeau around the crown giving a smart touch to the whole.

A tailored hat of soft green velvet is trimmed with two shades of taffeta ribbon and finished with two large green quills stuck through a chou of the ribbon.

One small Cavalier-shape carried out in Canard blue felt is trimmed with a box kilting of ribbon velvet around the brim, also with beautiful wings of a lighter tone, and a large steel ornament.

A walking hat in the popular black and tan shades is made of satin and panne velvet with handsome bandeau of black soutache and sequins, the trimming being an owl's head and wings.

An effective black hat is of felt, the crown surrounded with a double row of black ribbon, knife kilted, the trimming of large black wings being placed at the side.

A black satin shape, turned up at the side is trimmed with peacock velvet, which encircles the crown and blends with the plumage and wings of the same shade which form the rest of the trimming.

An emerald green hat of medium size is of the picture variety, having two long sweeping emerald green plumes held in place by a handsome steel ornament, the whole finished a streamer that goes around the neck before fastening at the side.

A very smart tailored shape is in black felt, slightly rolling at the side and trimmed with one handsome black wing and two braid medallions and a bandeau of ribbonwork and dull sequins.

CITY LEAGUE FORMED AND A BRIGHT SEASON LOOKED FOR

A City Rugby League was organized at the Y.M.C.A. last night under good promising auspices and from a early standpoint the game should be remarkably popular in Peterborough this season.

There was an enthusiastic attendance at the meeting last night, Mr. C. G. Graham occupying the chair. Dr. A. W. Macpherson was in attendance and expressed his willingness to lend his assistance to helping the game along.

TWO SERIES

It was decided to have two series in the league, a junior and a senior. For the latter the teams at present who are booked to enter are the Rough Riders, T.A.S., Y.M.C.A., and possibly one from the Normal school. The latter has not yet been organized but there seems no reason why a good one to represent the school could not be chosen.

For the junior series there are the Y.M.C.A., T.A.S., and Chieftains already in view and doubtedly other organizations of young players will loom up now that the league has been formed.

THE OFFICERS

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. Pres., R. A. Morrow.
Hon. Vice Pres., V. Eastwood.
Pres., H. R. H. Kenner.
1st Vice Pres., J. Sullivan.
2nd Vice Pres., C. Barber.
Sec. Treas., J. C. Clark.

A meeting will be held early next week for the purpose of drawing up a constitution and a full representation of teams that will play in the league is asked for.

The question of entering a team in the interprovincial or ORFU was considered at some length. It was decided that one would not be organized to represent Peterborough in either of these leagues this year as it was thought best to leave the formation of the senior team over until next season. However, games with outside teams will probably be played during the season.

A general practice will be held at Riverside park next Saturday at 2.30 and all players are asked to attend.

THE HAMILTON SPECTATOR ON OUTLOOK

There is great jubilation in ORFU circles these last few days owing to the action of the Toronto AAC. in throwing in their lot with the Ontario organization and the officers of the ORFU claim that they are once more in the land of the living, and that the annual meeting tomorrow evening will prove this. They claim to have a senior district composed of TAAC, Westmount, Kingston and possibly Peterborough with an intermediate district of the TAAC, team and the Parkdale Canoe Club, while in the junior district with a section composed of three Peterborough city league teams and a Lindsay team and the Toronto section, made up of the Aura Lee team, Canada Life team, St. Michael's College, Eurekas, Parkdale Canoe Club, and Young Torontos. This looks very strong to the ORFU magnates, who agree that there is no hope of getting the western teams. At the meeting tomorrow they hope to draw these districts as outlined and are confident of pulling through another season, playing off with the interprovincial winners for the championship.

The whole matter hinges on the TAAC. The officers of the ORFU admit that last week they were down and out, but that the action of the Big Four in throwing the TAAC, was the turning point. And then it is also admitted that the TAAC trust through their exhibition games with the Big Four clubs and city championship games with the Argos, to raise the wherewith to finance themselves in the senior series, paying for their trips to Montreal, Kingston and Peterborough although they forget that their action has lost for them these exhibition games, as it was announced this morning that the Hamilton exhibition game would be called off, as would the game with the other three Big Four teams, thereby taking away from the Toronto club their only hope of revenue.

The TAAC is confident that the senior inter-collegiate Rugby will draw in Toronto, in opposition to interprovincial and intercollegiate rugby, despite the fact that the Peterborough, Kingston and Westmount teams—only fair intermediate fourteens at their best—will not be any stronger this year than last, and never will draw in Toronto. A trip to Montreal will mean an outlay of $500 and Westmount will never draw a gate of this size, while it is certain that the Toronto club will never draw a gate for a return game.

The Kingston and Peterborough games might be financed but even that is doubtful. It really looks as though the TAAC was making a great mistake. They were told that if they showed better form than the Argos this year that there was nothing to it but admittance into the Big Four next year, and were asked to play intermediate interprovincial this year while if they won the championship they would receive the senior franchise next year, providing, of course, the Argos were the failure that the AAAC representatives hoped for.

This latter proposition looks like the best plan for the Toronto club, as there is no doubt but that the interprovincial teams will now refuse to have anything to do with them. While the TAAC argue that they will lose their standing by playing senior, they forget that as yet they only have a paper team and have failed to show anything and also that the intermediate interprovincial teams this year are not to be laughed at. Hamilton II, Parkdale, Dundas and London all have pretty fair aggregations while Peterborough, Kingston and Westmount would not be any faster, while the result that these teams are really fit for nothing but intermediate.

If Peterborough is of senior caliber this year, the Parkdale club is surely strong enough also. It really looks as though the natural solution of the question would be a big intermediate district composed of T. AAC., Peterborough, Kingston, Parkdale, Hamilton, Dundas and London, with Westmount playing in the eastern section.

As to the junior prospects, the western district of the interprovincial is confident of Hamilton, Western University, London, Galt, St. Jerome's College, Berlin and Woodstock College, while the ORFU with the Toronto section and a city league section in Peterborough is no better off. The ORFU may be able to run a nice Toronto group in the juniors, but the intermediates with but two teams showing up, look weak, and the Parkdale team has little choice left but to throw in its lot with the interprovincial.

THE RING

London, Sept. 16.—Jack Johnson, the American negro pugilist, announces that a match between himself and Burns has been positively fixed at last. An Australian syndicate will guarantee £7,000 for a fight to a finish between the two men. According to the terms, the winner will take 60 per cent. and the loser 40 percent. of this amount. The fight is likely to take place at the end of November, either at Sydney or Melbourne. Johnson and his wife, accompanied by Fitzpatrick, will probably sail from London next Friday.

R. L. Borden should he desire to run for Carleton can receive the nomination unopposed.

HURTUBISE AND CONKLE MEET ON SEPT. 25th

Hamilton, September 16th. — The manager of the Olympic Club of Hamilton has notified Eugene Hurtubise that it is arranging to pull off the big handicap match with Charlie Conkle, the Canadian welterweight champion, on Friday, Sept. 25. This date suits the Pride of Peterborough who has already begun active training for the bout. He intends to take no chances, although some of his friends think that Conkle cannot throw him once in an hour. Money will be sent to Hamilton to be wagered that Conkle does not score at all.

LINDSAY HAS A RUGBY TEAM

And Would Like to Get into a Series With Peterborough

Special to the Review,

Lindsay, September 16—A meeting was held in the Simpson House last evening for the purpose of organizing a rugby football club, Mr. T. J. Begley occupied the chair and after the prospects were fully discussed by those present it was felt that the project would receive sufficient encouragement to make it a success. It was pointed out that there was sufficient material available for a first class team and all that was necessary was a little enthusiasm on the part of the players.

The election of officers then took place. Mr. Len Nesbitt of the Warder staff was elected corresponding secretary.

The colors of the local club will be garnet and gray.

The secretary was instructed to write to Stouffville, Markham, Omemee and other centres with a view to getting these places in line in order to arrange a district in the ORFU, with Lindsay and Peterborough.

The club will hold its first practice on Friday evening and everyone interested in the game is urged to turn out.

PETERBORO' GETS BID FOR O. P. U.

Mr. M. M. Robinson, of the Hamilton Spectator has written the Peterborough Rugby Club as follows:

Dear Sir,—I have been instructed by Vice-President Seymour of the Interprovincial Rugby Union to call a meeting of the intermediate and junior teams for Saturday afternoon, September 19 at the Royal hotel and as I understand the Peterborough club intends entering a team in the intermediate section we would be pleased to have you send one or two representatives to this meeting at which the schedule will be drawn up, the grouping done, the board of referees appointed and general business in connection with the launching of the intermediate and junior series of the Big Four transacted.

Prospects for the intermediate and junior series are excellent and already we have such clubs as London, Hamilton Tigers, Hamilton West End Pleasure Club, TAAC. of Toronto, Argonauts and perhaps Kingston, to say nothing of Dundas the winners to play off with the eastern winners for the intermediate championship of Canada. This ensures plenty of competition and games, something Peterborough has not had in some years, and I am sure that you will find it to your advantage to join the Interprovincial backed as it is by the four strongest clubs in the country. The intermediate fee has been fixed at ten dollars.

Trusting that you will have your club represented at the meeting on Saturday and that the Peterborough club will enjoy a prosperous season,

Sincerely,
M. M. ROBINSON,
Sec. Western District I.R.U.

BASEBALL

Buffalo, Sept. 16.—Discouraged by the support the Buffalo team has been receiving at home, President A. D. Potter is willing to sell out his holdings in the club. It is thought there will be no trouble in his finding a purchaser for the club, a deal started by Potter being halted by George Stallings, of Newark, when the president of the Bisons asked for waivers on all players except Manager George Smith. Stallings refused to waive.

Stallings move is understood to have been dictated by his desire to see a friend of his in charge here. Potter wants $50,000 for the club, and Stallings wants the scalp of President Powers of the Eastern League. With a friend of his in control locally, George T. could swing another vote at the next meeting of the Eastern League to put Patrick T. in the down-and-out class.

TURF

Mr. George Powell has a splendid animal in "Togo" reference to the purchase of which was made in yesterday's Review. The horse was bought from Mr. Bernard Hepburn, of Picton, and is a green pacer. He stands 16 1-2 hands in height and shows good form on the track. His owner may start him in the 2.28 class at the fair.

Mr. Powell informed the Review last night that he had secured stables in Belleville and will move there in the near future. He has been at the exhibition grounds all summer, but the horse racing season here has not been a profitable one.

Holland Boy, the winner of the 2.30 class in August at the summer meet of the Peterborough Turf Club, will start at the fair in the 2.20 class tomorrow and 2.17 class on Saturday. Holland Boy went fast heats the last time and his entry will, no doubt, make the contest more interesting in both classes.

WALKING

Jimmy Reynolds is still the guest of Mr. Blake Crawford at the Oriental Hotel, Newcastle. Jimmy is greatly disappointed over his failure in making the trip to Toronto and return but besides this he is feeling fine. He did not collapse when near Newcastle. Jimmy should be thoroughly convinced now that it is an impossible task for him and he should give up the walking game as a bad job.—Port Hope Guide.

RUGBY

All the members of the Rough Rider football team are asked to be at a practice of the club to be held to Nicholls Oval on Saturday at 2.30 o'clock.

The Rough Riders should be able to get a strong team together and will be represented in the senior series of the City League this year.

All members of the team are urged to be on hand for the opening practice in order that it may be known what material there will be to select a team from.

THE HOOK

The date for the election, like some horse races at Lindsay, has been fixed.

We may want what we want when we want it but at the same time we are not getting the rain.

And just to think that some people had the nerve to pray for rain and the Peterborough fair not over.

This smoky atmosphere should remind those of us who come from across the pond of the cheerful days when London can't be seen for the fog.

Yes, by all means have Thanksgiving Day after the Federal elections. The people will want to return thanks for the change in Government, which is surely coming.

And it's too bad good timber should be going to waste in this manner, when the Liberal platform has become so weak that it has been put out of sight behind Conservative planks.

Please Sir, I want three days off in order to get married.

You do, eh. Not long since you were laid up three days with influenza. Why didn't you get married while you had the influenza. Or if you couldn't do that why didn't you put off having the influenza until you got married and make one holiday answer both purposes.

An English girl had been visiting some Canadian cousins whose misuse of the mother tongue was occasionally painful.

One day a Canadian cousin referring to a talented artist, said that he was a brainy cuss.

My dear girl, exclaimed the horrified girl from the old country, "you really shouldn't talk like that. If I were you I'd pluck that belly rot."

An American exchange is responsible for the following:

The elderly matron with the bundles, who was journeying to a point in Wisconsin and occupied a seat near the middle of the car had fallen asleep. On the seat in front of her sat a little boy. The brakeman opened the door of the car and called out the name of the station the train was approaching.

The elderly woman roused herself with a jerk.

Where are we, Bobby, she asked.

I don't know, grandma, said the little boy.

Didn't the brakeman say something just now.

No, he just stuck his head inside the door and sneezed.

Help me with these things, Bobby, she exclaimed, hurriedly.

This is Oshkosh. It's where we get off.

TRAIN FOR BUSINESS

Most men train their brains and almost entirely neglect their bodies. They do not seem to realise that keenness of judgment and clearness of thought depend as much on the body as on the brain itself. Any man can prove this to his own satisfaction by attempting to decide a weighty business problem while suffering with an acute attack of indigestion or a violent spell of biliousness.

The amount of work that the brain can do depends much on the healthfulness of liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in tablet form. They act directly on liver, bowels, kidneys and skin—and enable these vital organs to rid the system of all impurities. Thus the blood will be kept pure and rich, the brain active, digestion sound, and life made pleasant.

"Fruit-a-tives" are now put up in two sizes—the new 25c box as well as the regular 50c size. If your dealer does not carry them, write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

STURGEON POINT IS IN DANGER

Fears That Fire Will Break Out—Wants Someone Left in Charge

Sturgeon Point, Sept. 16.—The village of Sturgeon Point was never in a more dangerous condition. The whole space is literally dried up and should the surrounding woods catch fire, the whole summer resort would be swept out.

Mr. Leggatt, C.E., who has been residing at Sturgeon Point all summer came down this morning. When seen by a newspaper representative he presented the situation at the Point as being alarming. This morning he said, he woke up about three o'clock to find the house full of smoke. He found it difficult to breathe and by the smarting effect the smoke had on his eyes, he thought that a fire was burning near. He hurriedly dressed himself and rushing outside could not see any signs of fire or any illumination in the sky. He walked through the woods and stood on the top of the small hill where he could view the country around him, but no signs of fire were visible. A heavy cloud of smoke, he said, hung over Sturgeon Point all morning, and one could not see forty feet before them.

The whole township of Harvey, it is reported, has been burned out, and from this direction the smoke seems to be coming. A carelessly thrown match or stub of cigar at the Point may be the means of starting a fire that would clean out this pretty summer resort. The residents feel that someone should be left in charge of the Point while they are away, and no doubt something will be done in this matter before long.

TORN BY WILD BEASTS

History of a Great Discovery.

The old Roman heroes who were torn by wild beasts at their fights in the now ruined Colosseum at Rome, the Greek charioteers, and the gladiators who made fighting a profession all know the virtues of herbal essences (such as are contained in Zam-Buk) for skin injuries and diseases. They would apply at night their secret herbal balms and in a few days would again be ready for combat. Their ideal of a balm or salve was a preparation which combined power with purity; and that ideal is realised in Zam-Buk.

Ordinary ointments, salves, and embrocations are generally composed of rancid animal fats and mineral poisons.

Zam-Buk on the contrary is a healing balm composed of highly refined saps and juices got from certain rich medicinal herbs and everyone using Zam-Buk may rely on its healing power.

When the little one runs in from play with its smarting, dirt-filled scrapes on hand or knee, simply wash the part and smear with Zam-Buk, bandaging if necessary. Zam-Buk will do the rest.

When father returns from work with a cut hand or other injury, the handy box of Zam-Buk again meets the emergency; and the housewife or mother continually finds it a real friend in need for the burns, scalds, scrapes and bruises sustained by general household duties. For eczema, ulcers, itch, fistula, abscesses, scalp sores, and all skin diseases, it acts like a charm. It eases the pain and stops the bleeding of piles, and cures this painful ailment quickly and surely. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or from the Zam-Buk Co. Toronto, for price, 3 boxes for one dollar twenty-five.

WATER LOW IN STURGEON LAKE

Boats Cannot Get by Upper Wharf at Sturgeon Point

The gradual lowering of the water of Sturgeon Lake and Fenelon Falls has been causing much comment among the local business men during the past few days. In last Saturday's issue of the Free Press one of the reasons for this was published, but it appears since then that several leakages in different places also tend to drain the Scugog river.

The boats now must land at the upper wharf and the residents of the town who still go to Sturgeon Point are objecting strongly to this long walk. The difficulty could easily be remedied if the authorities would take a hand in the matter and remove that increment dam over Bobcaygeon dam. This would make a wonderful improvement and would be greatly appreciated.—Lindsay Free Press.

LOCAL CITIZENS ON STEAMER "CORSICAN" WERE INDIGNANT

At Having to Pass the Immigration Examination—Messrs. C. G. Pratley and Harry Potter Return Home After Two Months' Absence in England.

Messrs C. G. Pratley and Harry Potter have returned home after two months in England. Mr. Pratley and Mr. Potter were passengers on the steamship "Corsican" and were among those who had to undergo immigration inspection. Of course they were very indignant at being asked such questions as "Can you read or write?" "How much money have you," and many others. An indignation meeting was held on board ship and a petition signed by sixty Canadians, was sent to the Government, asking that it be not necessary for Canadians to go through the immigration examination. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe formerly of this city, were among those who went through what Mr Pratley termed a humiliating ordeal.

Messrs. Pratley and Potter sailed from Montreal on July 3rd on the Virginian. Their voyage going was very pleasant, much more so than the return, the Corsican being somewhat delayed by dense fogs and smoke between the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Quebec. The fog signal was kept blowing all the time and at night, Mr. Pratley stated, the ship was anchored.

In England Mr. Pratley first visited with Mr. Potter at the latter's home in Southall near London. A few weeks were spent in Devonshire, and Kent, but most of the time was given to sight-seeing in London. All the principal places of interest were visited, including the Franco-British exhibition. Speaking of the Canadian exhibit, Mr. Pratley stated that it was very good and in his opinion outclassed that of Australia. Canada's best products were shown in the most advantageous ways, and were commented upon in very favorable terms.

Messrs. Pratley and Potter attended the opening of the Olympic games in the stadium. They also saw their majesties, the King and Queen at the games. The Stadium seated 150,000 persons. It and the Franco-British exhibition were situated on the same property, forty acres of land.

When they left England everything was looking beautiful. The foliage being yet a deep green, and there being no appearance of fall.

MR. JOHNSTON WRITES ABOUT THE SALE OF RIVERDALE S.S.

To the Editor of The Review:

Dear Sir, — There has been quite a controversy and disagreement over the sale of Riverdale Union Sunday School to St. James Methodist Church and I wish to make an explanation and pass a few personal remarks on the subject which was considered by the Ministerial Association to-day. In the first place Riverdale Union Sunday School was built and paid for by residents and friends from the surrounding country. The deed of the land was given to the Trustees by Alfred Crawford, deceased, but the trustees afterwards found out that the church was only partly on the Crawford property.

The Sunday school services in the building were discontinued on the 6th of December, 1907 and since that date there has not been any service held. The reason for closing the Sunday school was a lack of attendance and the few young got disheartened and gave up the Sunday school, the majority of the people in the neighborhood attend church in the city, the city churches being within easy reach.

Recently the St. James Methodist Church wanted to buy the building, and it not being of any use where it is, apparently, a meeting of the trustees and neighbours was called to discuss the proposition.

The result of the meeting was that St. James Methodist Church could have the building for $50.00 on conditions contained in the original deed.

The money was paid into the treasurer's hands and all arrangements made, and in fact operations were started to move the building, when a certain party living in the city aroused and started to make trouble by going to a lawyer who got the ministers of the town together with the result that they did not approve of moving the building to town. They thought it should stay where it is as far as we are able to learn. At least, they seem to want to make it as awkward as possible for the Methodist people, who have now decided to not bother with it (we presume) on account of the jealousy. It seems to the neighbourhood like the fable of the dog in the manger.

Now, Mr. Editor, several of the religious denominations have tried and been welcomed to the neighborhood to hold religious services, but all have failed to draw crowds large enough to continue services and each have discontinued. Now the grand opening comes to those who have such faith but have not tried to come along and take hold of Riverdale and make a grand success, where others have tried and failed and each and all connected with the school heartily welcome them.

MUST NOT TRAVEL FASTER THAN SEVEN MILES AN HOUR

Low Speed Limit for Motor Boats on Toronto Bay—Manufacturers Are up in Arms.

The launch men in Toronto do not take kindly to the new regulations prohibiting boats travelling faster than seven miles an hour on Toronto Bay. The following is from the Star:—

Crazy!
Nonsensical!
Outrageous!
A good thing for the sport!

These are some of the comments of motor-boat manufacturers and motor-boat owners in Toronto upon the attempt of the Toronto Harbor Commissioners to prevent motor-boats from travelling faster than seven miles an hour on the bay.

Here is a copy of the card the Harbor Commissioners are sending around to motor-boat owners and manufacturers to-day:—

CAUTION!

Notice to Owners of Motor-boats etc.,
Plying on Toronto Harbor and Approaches
Thereto.

By-law No. 8.—"That the speed of any steamboat or vessel coming into or leaving the harbor of Toronto or while within the same or the entrance thereto shall not at any time exceed seven miles per hour; and any person or persons, captain or master or owner of any steamboat offending herein shall be subject to a fine of twenty dollars. This rule will be strictly enforced.

A KNOCKOUT BLOW.

The majority of the motor-boat manufacturers in the city, and there are a dozen important firms say that the enforcement of the law is a knockout blow to the motor-boat industry.

At this distance, their contention seems to be a reasonable one. No one who owns a motor-boat wants to be limited to seven miles an hour.

Seven miles an hour is a snail's pace. There isn't any pleasure in motor-boating around the bay unless one can go at a decent clip. If the Harbor Commissioners were to set 12 or 15 miles an hour as a limit no one would object, but to set such a ridiculous limit as seven miles an hour is to effectually kill an industry of great importance to the city and to smother out one of the finest acquatic sports in a place where athletic sports flourish like the green bay tree.

OVER FOUR HUNDRED BOATS.

There are over 400 motor-boats in Toronto. Of this number over 300 travel over eight miles an hour. Of the remainder probably fifty are capable of from ten to twelve miles an hour. The boats in Toronto that exceed fifteen miles an hour can be counted on the fingers of the two hands. Speed motor boating is just taking hold in Toronto. Properly fostered it will set a good many thousand of dollars in circulation in Toronto.

Speed motor boating can be properly controlled in Toronto so that no one will be the worse and sporting Toronto will be the better for it.

FRAME REGULATIONS.

Instead of striving to enforce a nonsensical speed limit, the Harbor Commissioners should call the motor-boat and yacht clubs, owners and manufacturers into consultation and formulate speed and other regulations that would protect everybody. The bay is roomy enough for everything that floats around the neighborhood. Of course, there are a few fools loose with fast motor-boats who do foolhardy things but for one fool there are a couple of score rational boatmen who pay regard to the safety and comfort of those who are afloat on the bay.

A law making it an offence punishable with heavy fines and imprisonment for a motor boat to be driven at a dangerous speed within a certain radius of a canoe or rowboat, and another making the motor-boat man responsible for all damage sustained by other craft when it can be proven that his boat's speed or his management was a contributor in any way to the accident would be an appropriate way of dealing with the matter.

HEAVY PUNISHMENT.

"Make it manslaughter if death ensues and limit the speed to 15 miles an hour on the open bay with five miles an hour the limit within 200 yards of any dock or wharf and the whole situation can be handled to everybody's satisfaction. Properly conducted races over courses on the east end of the bay or out one gap and back via another should be permitted upon the proper notification of authorities and the boating public. Provision for police supervision could be made.

Seven miles an hour!

Why, every steamer that enters the harbor goes down the bay over ten miles an hour.

Of four manufacturers and a dozen motor-boat men interviewed, only one a manufacturer, regarded the new speed regulations as the proper thing.

"It will stop some of those fools who endanger the safety of everybody in small boats," he said.

It might just be pointed out that there hasn't been a serious accident on the bay this summer in which a motor-boat was at fault.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT ST. JOHN'S TO-NIGHT AND SUNDAY

The first service in connection with the St. John's Harvest Thanksgiving Festival at 10 a.m., this morning, viz., a celebration of the Holy Communion, was attended by a goodly number of communicants.

The church is beautifully decorated and amply repays the band of workers who spent yesterday in tastefully arranging the large quantity of flowers, grain, fruit and vegetables sent by members of the congregation.

To-night at 8.00 p.m. the evening service will be choral: hymns 381, 382, 366, 383; Psalms, 65, 150, sung to Cathedral Psalter Chants 180, 2; Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis to Winchester. The anthem will be "Fear Not, O Land," (Cooke.)

The sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Foster of Steubenville, Ohio, priest in charge of the parish, who has asked the congregation for their thank offering to make up the amount of the Synod assessment which amounts to $602.

Rev. Canon Davidson sails to-day from Liverpool on the Steamer Kensington for home, after a four months' vacation. A congregational reception will be held in the school room to welcome him home.

JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT IN THE McILMOYLE-BAKER SUIT

Judgment was given in the case of McIlmoyle versus Baker yesterday at the High Court Assizes at which Mr. Justice Magee is presiding. The case was before the court all day yesterday and part of the previous day and the evidence of many witnesses was heard.

The case was not of particularly interesting character except to those directly interested and the evidence therefore is not published.

Action was brought to recover $1000 from W. J. Baker of Lakefield, which it was alleged had been given by his mother the late Mrs. Baker by reason of her being of feeble mind and also on account of undue influence having brought to bear upon her. The daughters of the deceased objected to the arrangement and decided upon litigation in order that they might recover the amount claimed.

His Lordship gave a very thorough summing up of the case taking into consideration all the evidence offered by both the defence and prosecution. He could not see that any undue influence had been brought to bear upon the late Mrs. Baker in the matter of having her disposal of her estate and was of the opinion that the evidence showed her to possess a keen intellect and he therefore thought she was well aware of what she was doing when she made her will.

Judgment was given for the defendant and costs allowed in his favor. D. W. Dumble, K.C., for plaintiff, and F. D. Kerr for defendant.

WEDDING BELLS

MARTIN—LORBY

St. John's church, Peterborough, Ont., this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, was the scene of a pretty but quiet wedding, the contracting parties being Miss Lucy Herald, eldest daughter of Mrs. Chas. Sorby, Gore's Landing, Ont., and Mr. Frank H. Martin, of the Electrical Development Co. of Niagara Falls, Ont., formerly of Pearl River, N.Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Major, rector of All Saints' church, of this city. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Donald Herald, of the Toronto Conservatory of Music and wore a gown of embroidered voile over taffeta, caught with pearls, wearing the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Herald, and her cousin, Miss Nina Borradaill, both wearing delicate pink silk mulle gowns, with black picture hats and carrying boquets of pink asters. The duties of best man were performed by Mr. George Martin, of Pearl River, N.Y., brother of the groom. The ushers were Mr. John Martin, of Pearl River, N.Y., and Mr. R. Holmes, of the Electrical Development Co., Niagara Falls, Ont.

While the register was being signed, Miss Hazel Bell, of Toronto, sang very sweetly "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet, Oh Holy."

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch, to the bridesmaids rings, to the ushers and best man matrix stick pins. The young couple received many handsome gifts, among which were a cabinet of silver and carving from the Electrical Development and Niagara Power Co., and an Electrical brass clock from the Ontario Power Co.

The young couple left on the 4.38 train for Montreal and Quebec, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue broadcloth and hat to match.

After the honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Martin will take up their residence at Niagara Falls, Ont.

QUIGLEY—MARSHALL

At the Knox church Manse last night, Rev. H. J. Keith united in marriage Miss Myrtle Marshall, to Mr. Jas. Quigley, jr. The bride and groom were unattended and the wedding was of a very quiet nature. Mr. and Mrs. Quigley will reside in Salem, Mich.

A PROMINENT HOTELKEEPER PASSED AWAY

Death of Mr. Stephen Holland This Morning After a Lengthy Illness

The death occurred this morning of Stephen Holland at his late residence 128 Carlisle avenue, after a lingering illness. The deceased was 47 years of age and was born in Downeyville, but for many years had resided in this city. He was married to Kate Barrett of Emily, who still survives him. For a number of years he conducted the American Hotel, but about a year and a half ago he disposed of it and later bought the Royal Hotel, which he owned until last week, when he sold it. He was widely known and highly respected. He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Besides his wife, two sons and one daughter are left to mourn his loss. The sons are Charles and Leo., and the daughter, Pearl, all residing at home. Two brothers, Messrs. Fred. and Chas. Holland of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Patrick Hickey, of town and Mrs. Walsh of North Dakota.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

"VIAMEDE" WILL BE RE-BUILT

Resort was the Property of Mrs. Graham---Gas Plant Not Injured

In connection with the fire at "Viamede," Stony Lake, it is learned that the resort and equipment was the property of Mrs. Graham, instead of Mr. Graham, as stated. The acetylene gas plant and summer house were saved, and the trees and shrubbery were not injured to any extent. The place will be rebuilt next spring and will be opened in time for next summer's trade.

THE DECENT LIBERALS DON'T LIKE IT

A correspondent signing himself "A Life-long Liberal," writes to the Review as follows:

To the Editor of Review.

Peterborough, Sept. 17, 1908.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Stratton and Mr. Hall went to the Norwood convention and had themselves nominated and succeeded in getting the nomination away from Mr. Finlay. He is at least one honorable man who is out of the mud puddle. All decent Liberals feel the position they are now in with such leaders of their party, and I can only hope that good may come out of evil.

KILLED BY A BULLET

Indian Dead Near Belleville

Was Struck as He Returned From His Barn at Night —Strange Mystery

Special to the Review.

Belleville, Sept. 17.—James Sero, a Mohawk Indian of the Tyendinaga reserve, nine miles east of Belleville, while returning to his home last night, after feeding the horses at his own barn, was struck in the right groin by a bullet fired from a rifle. He managed to reach his house, but before the doctor could arrive he had bled to death. He was fifty years of age and leaves a wife but no family.

Who did the shooting is as yet a mystery, the police have no doubt that the case is one of murder.

STOOD IN THE MIDDLE OF THE RIVER

For Some Time and Fished—Young Man Attracted Attention of People Crossing Hunter-st. Bridge Yesterday.

Jesse Aircss, a young man attracted the attention of a large number of people who were crossing the Hunter street bridge about half past five yesterday evening. He was standing in the middle of the river, the water up past his knees, with a rod and line in his hand apparently enjoying a quiet fish. He did not catch very much but still kept at it, evidencing the fact that he was an ardent fisherman. Fortunately the water is not very cold just now but it must have felt uncomfortable.

However he did not seem to mind the gazes of the onlookers, as he carelessly smoked a cigarette.

BEAR WEARING "MERRY WIDOW"

Talking about millinery openings, the Peterborough Hardware Co. have a display in their north window that takes the cake, pan and all.

This is the hunting season, not only for hats, but for big game as well. To convey this idea, a huge black bear, dead of course, has been "set up," in the window, surrounded by rifles, shot guns, decoy ducks, ammunition, in short everything is there that the hunter might wish for. But to return to the bear. It is fitted out with a "Merry Widow," that is all to the merry. The brim is made of a great circular piece of tin and a coil of rope makes the crown. A feather duster takes the place of a plume and strips of tin, twisted into various shapes are also used for decoration purposes. Two brushes are used in the scheme of adornment, and there may be other household articles piled away somewhere in the collection, but the above were all that were noticed in a passing glance. The bear and the hat are attracting much attention.

THANKSGIVING IN NOVEMBER

Date of the Federal Elections Will Likely Make a Change Necessary

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—The selection of October 19th as the date of nominations for the general election will involve a change in the date of Thanksgiving Day, which the Government had intended to proclaim for that date. It is now probable that Thanksgiving Day will be postponed until Monday, November 9th. The only other date available, if the holiday is to be on a Monday, as promised, would be October 14th, which is thought to be too early, and November 2nd, which is All Saints' Day, and therefore unsuitable.

A meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters will bt held in their hall, Hunter St. tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to arrange for the funeral of the late Stephen Holland. d1

ASSESSORS ARE NEARLY THROUGH

Messrs. McGrath and McGregor, the city assessors, have about completed their rounds for 1908 and in a few weeks a synopsis of the city's assessment, population, etc., will be given out. There is a great amount of clerical work in connection with the return of the rolls and it will be some time before they are completed.

Q.—You have got it yourself, yet?

A.—Yes.

Q.—The $80,000 being paid in your own office?

A.—No, I think Mr. Patterson came with me to the bank.

Q.—He went down with you to the bank when you drew the money?

Q.—At the bank?

A.—At the bank. Well, I met him at his office.

Q.—Was it at his office or the bank?

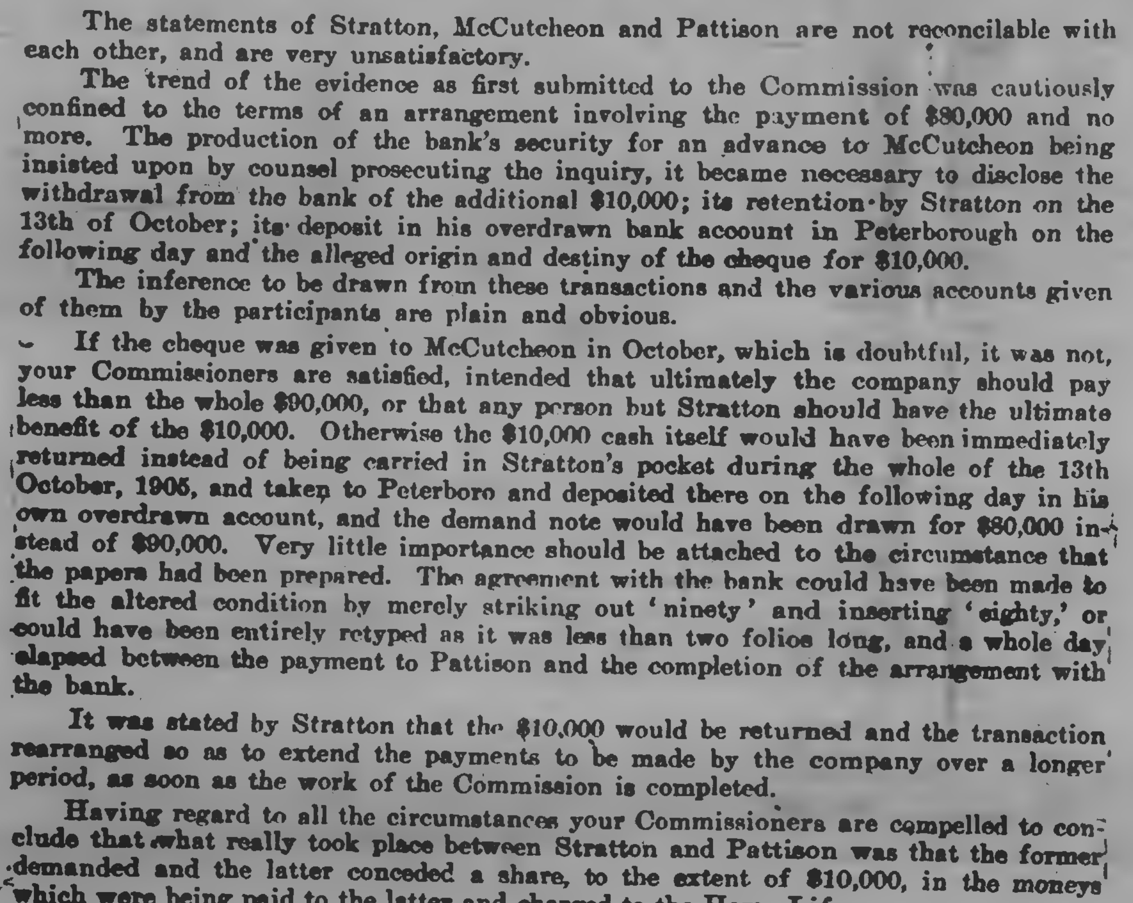
A.—No.

Q.—You did not draw the money?

A.—Yes, I did draw the money.

Q.—When he was there? A.—

Extract from the Royal Insurance Commissioners' report, made to Parliament, 1907. Following is a photographic copy of a portion of the report:



The statements of Stratton, McCutcheon and Pattison are not reconcilable with each other, and are very unsatisfactory.

The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $80,000 and no more. The production of the bank's security for an advance to McCutcheon being insisted upon by counsel prosecuting the inquiry, it became necessary to disclose the withdrawal from the bank of the additional $10,000; its retention by Stratton on the 13th of October; its deposit in his overdrawn bank account in Peterborough on the following day and the alleged origin and destiny of the cheque for $10,000.

The inference to be drawn from these transactions and the various accounts given of them by the participants are plain and obvious.

If the cheque was given to McCutcheon in October, which is doubtful, it was not, your Commissioners are satisfied, intended that ultimately the company should pay less than the whole $90,000, or that any person but Stratton should have the ultimate benefit of the $10,000. Otherwise the $10,000 cash itself would have been immediately returned instead of being carried in Stratton's pocket during the whole of the 13th October, 1905, and taken to Peterboro and deposited there on the following day in his own overdrawn account, and the demand note would have been drawn for $80,000 instead of $90,000. Very little importance should be attached to the circumstance that the papers had been prepared. The agreement with the bank could have been made to fit the altered condition by merely striking out 'ninety' and inserting 'eighty,' or could have been entirely retyped as it was less than two folios long, and a whole day elapsed between the payment to Pattison and the completion of the arrangement with the bank.

It was stated by Stratton that the $10,000 would be returned and the transaction rearranged so as to extend the payments to be made by the company over a longer period, as soon as the work of the Commission is completed.

Having regard to all the circumstances your Commissioners are compelled to conclude that what really took place between Stratton and Pattison was that the former demanded and the latter conceded a share, to the extent of $10,000, in the moneys which were being paid to the latter and charged to the Home Life.

(Photographic copy of original by Toronto Lith. Co.)

Mr. McLaughlin—He did not say he gave Mr. Pattison a cheque.

Mr. Tilley—There was no cheque for $80,000 issued in connection with this transaction at all?

A.—No.

Q.—A cheque was issued by you for $90,000 and then the cash was brought to your office, was it?

A.—The cash was brought to my office. I obtained the cash myself.

Q.—From what bank?

Q.—Was Mr. McCutcheon there?

A.—No.

Q.—And up to that time the agreement had been for $90,000, you say?

A.—$90,000.

Q.—And you handed him, as the result of your talk with him, $80,000?

A.—Yes.

Q.—What did you do with the other?

A.—Retained the other $10,000.

Q.—What did you do with it?

A.—I had it personally, myself—

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where was the discussion whether it should be $80,000 or $90,000? Where did that take place?

A.—With Mr. Pattison.

Q. Where?

A.—In the bank.

Q.—Was it $90,000 until you got to the bank?

A.—It was $90,000 until I gave the money to Mr. Pattison.

Q.—Until you got to the bank.

A.—Until I got to meeting Mr. Pattison myself, personally.

Yes.

Q.—Watching you? A.—Yes.

Q.—He saw you get the $90,000 and he threw off $10,000?

A.—I do not know that he was watching me; he was in the bank.

* * * * * *

Q.—So that Mr. Pattison then went with you to the bank and you went and drew $90,000 and you had not then decided to reduce it by $10,000?

A.—No; if he had insisted on the $90,000 he would have got it.

AN INQUIRY IS PROMISED INTO WOOLLEN GRIEVANCES

Addressing Annual Banquet of Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Premier Says Government is Willing to Make Full Investigation.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, addressing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the annual banquet last evening, as good as promised that a commission would look into the grievances of the woollen manufacturers.

The new president, R. Hobson, showed how the woollen industry had declined for want of adequate protection. He contended that the association owed no allegiance to any party, but strove for the good of the country as a whole.

Turning to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the chairman said: "I am authorized to state to you that this association will welcome a tariff commission to look into this question of the woollen industry and report to Parliament."

With reference to the woollen duties Sir Wilfrid replied, as Prime Minister of the Dominion, he was not a member of the last tariff commission, but he believed that the tariff of 1907 had been considered a fairly good one. A few months later, however, the woollen business had become embarrassed and the Government had been asked to increase the duties.

He was not a business man, but he thought he could look at matters and weigh arguments in a common-sense manner. There seemed to him that something was lacking. The woollen people said that British manufacturers sent to this country goods of inferior quality and that the Canadian goods were superior.

"I say," he continued, "if the consumers prefer the showy goods and if consumers take goods because they are cheaper, why don't you Canadian manufacturers give them showy goods also? Why don't you produce showy products, for if in this case Canadians will give only 'pure' woollen goods, that is not business. Give what the consumers want."

The Premier was under the impression that an expert had already gone to England and was doing the work. When that expert returned and made his report the Government would only be too glad to act, and the manufacturers would also be consulted, and even if they wanted another commission, and their body represented thereon, the Government would be glad to comply.

The Premier said that a permanent tariff commission had been asked for and he did not exactly understand what a permanent commission meant. However, there was no objection to such a commission being appointed. He must, however, be careful. The elections were at hand, and while he could make no promises, he believed he could say that the matter could be looked into. In conclusion, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that he would continue his remarks next year.

Mr. Monk also addressed the gathering, representing Mr. Borden.

The election of officers yesterday resulted as follows: President, R. Hobson, Hamilton; first vice-president, J. Hendrie, Vancouver; provincials: Ontario, Wm. Gartshore, London; Quebec, W. H. Rowley, Hull; Nova Scotia, W. Levis, Halifax; New Brunswick, C. McDonald, St. John; Manitoba, R. McKenzie, Winnipeg; Alberta and Saskatchewan, P. Burns, Calgary; British Columbia, W. J. G. Woods, Vancouver; Prince Edward Island, F. L. Hassard, Charlottetown.

Old Man's Crime.

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 18.—John Cook, a farmer 78 years old, living near Philo, Ill., shot and killed Mrs. Edward McClelland, his housekeeper, in the presence of her four-year-old child yesterday with a rifle. He then turned the gun on himself.

SMOKE CAUSES MANY DISASTERS

Dead and Injured in United States Number Fifty.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Five persons are dead, four fatally injured and two score more or less dangerously hurt as the result of a series of railroad accidents throughout the United States yesterday.

Fog and forest fires were largely responsible for the casualties.

In Chicago two laborers were run down by a train in a fog and two collisions in other parts of the city brought serious injury to a dozen persons.

At Mount Pleasant, Mich., a fireman was killed and four men hurt in a wreck due to smoke from forest fires.

Other wrecks at Erie, Belle Vernon and Corry, Pa., and a collision between an automobile and a trolley car at Newark, N.J., swell the total dead and injured to fifty.

Jackies Take Revenge.

London, Sept. 18.—As a mark of their disapproval at being called out at night to repeat an evolution which had been improperly performed in the day time, the crew of the British cruiser Gibraltar while on the way to Australia, destroyed all the gunsights on board. As a punishment all the customary privileges of the crew, including smoking and the use of the canteen, have been stopped.

To Inspect Cobalt.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—Early next week the representatives of the Montreal syndicate who have bought a large block of shares in the Nova Scotia Cobalt Mine for investment, leave here for Cobalt to inspect that proposition with a view of ascertaining the value of the ore in sight, and the prospect of a first dividend.

PIANO COMPANY HAS FAILED

Money Stringency Does for Palmer Concern---The Creditors Safe.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—An assignment has been made by the Palmer Piano Co. of Uxbridge to Osler Wade for the benefit of the firm's creditors. The assets run to $90,000 or $100,000, and the liabilities total $75,000. It is believed that 100 cents on the dollar can easily be realized on the estate, which is temporarily embarrassed by the money stringency. The firm has a big surplus and a large stock of pianos made up on hand, orders for most of which are held.

Under the circumstances Mr. Wade has ordered the continuation of work in the factory, and a meeting of the creditors will be held in about three weeks.

The creditors are chiefly United States firms, and it is stated that two banks are interested.

Channing Pollock Near Death.

New York, Sept. 18.—Channing Pollock, a well-known playwright, marooned on a rock that was fast being engulfed by the rising tide, had a close call for his life last Sunday in Long Island Sound off Shereham.

Pollock and Henry Van Bard, a poet, rowed from the former's bungalow to the rock to fish. When they turned to go home their boat was gone. The two men were standing up to their waists in water on the pinnacle of the rock when their signals were seen by a party on a small yacht.

Wants American Style.

Detroit, Sept. 18.—At the opening session here of the convention of the Architectural League of America, John M. Lyle of Toronto, Ont., made a plea for a general style of architecture for North America, pointing out there is not at present any essentially American style, various architects following different schools.

He thought that co-operation and discussion might develop a style which would be characteristic.

WRIGHT MEETS WITH DISASTER FAMOUS AVIATOR IS HURT

While Making Two-Man Flight With Lieut. Selfridge at Fort Meyer the Aeroplane Overturned—Military Man Fractures Skull and Dies.

Washington, Sept. 18.—After having drawn the attention of the world to his aeroplane flights at Fort Meyer and having established new world's records for heavier-than-air flying machines, Orville Wright yesterday met with a tragical mishap while making a two-man flight. The aeroplanist was accompanied by Lieut. Thos. E. Selfridge of the Signal Corps of the army. Lieut. Selfridge was fatally injured and died at 8.10 last night. Wright was seriously injured, but is expected to recover.

While the machine was encircling the drill grounds a propeller blade snapped off and hitting some other part of the intricate mechanism caused it to overturn in the air and fall to the ground, enveloping the two occupants in the debris.

Soldiers and spectators ran across the field to where the aeroplane had fallen and assisted in lifting Wright and Selfridge from under the tangled mass of machinery, rods and shreds of muslin. Wright was conscious and said: "Oh, hurry and lift the motor."

Lieut. Selfridge was unconscious and had apparently struck the ground with great force. His head was covered with blood and he was choking when the soldiers extricated him.

Dr. Watters, a New York physician, rendered first aid. Wright lapsed into a state of semi-consciousness by the time he reached the hospital, while Lieut. Selfridge did not regain consciousness at all. He had a fracture at the base of the skull.

Wright is suffering from a fracture of his left thigh and several ribs on the right side are fractured. Both men received deep cuts about the head.

Wright regained consciousness in the hospital and dictated a cablegram to his brother at Le Mans, France, and telegrams to his sister and father at Dayton, Ohio, assuring them that he was all right.

FOSTER'S FIGURES

Laurier Will Have Big Deficit.

Former Finance Minister Shows How Trade Has Fallen Off—Borden's Big Meeting.

Welland, Sept. 18.—Hon. George E. Foster and J. P. Downey, M.P.P., drew a big crowd to the rink last night.

Mr. Foster replied to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Niagara Falls speech at great length, attacking the Prime Minister's statement of the financial condition of the country.

Mr. Foster alluded to the thirtieth anniversary of the national policy and observed that to-day there was no party or leader, or remnant of a party, that would venture to propose that the national policy should be disposed of, and that we should return to the policy that was in force previous to 1878. That was the greatest tribute that could be rendered to that policy.

For years Mr. Borden and his coadjutors had been endeavoring to formulate a policy for the upbuilding of Canada.

Dealing further with the Laurier figures of finance, which Mr. Foster claimed were wrong, he asked where were the $113,000,000 of the Fielding surplus? These were a myth. Every year he had added to the debt, and before the year was out he would have a deficit of from 20 to 40 millions.

Our trade had fallen off about $45,000,000, and for the year the revenue would not be more than $80,000,000. Last year Parliament voted 121 million dollars and spent 116 millions. This year Parliament voted 140 millions and it was fair to assume that the Government would spend 125 millions of it. There was the 40 millions of deficit. For the Grand Trunk Pacific we would be called upon to spend 166 millions.

Quebec, Sept. 18.—Fully 3,000 heard Mr. Borden and those who accompanied him at the skating rink last night, and there was considerable enthusiasm.

Amongst those on the platform were Armand Lavergne, Charles Smith, president of the Conservative Club of Quebec, who presided; Premier Hazen, Premier Roblin, Hon. Mr. Hanna and Hon. Chase Casgrain.

Mr. Borden spoke in both languages. Referring to the Quebec bridge he held the Laurier Government was responsible through its lack of proper supervision.

He admitted the importance of the fast Atlantic steamers, and claimed that the fast service had first been proposed by Sir Charles Tupper.

Pleads Guilty to One.

St. Catharines, Sept. 18.—Geo. Raybould, held on suspicion of having burned the barns of Byron Beamer at Silverdale, and of having stolen a horse and carriage, was before County Judge Carman on charges of arson and theft yesterday. He pleaded guilty to theft, but not guilty to arson and was remanded till the 25th.

WAS KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Parry Sound Woman and Infant Die Driving Through Burning Bush.

Parry Sound, Sept. 18.—Two lives were lost on Wednesday in the bush fires which are now raging in the vicinity of Parry Sound. Miss Colarine Guisler and the 18-months-old child of her niece were the victims. Miss Guisler and the infant were on their way to attend the funeral of a Mrs. Cudmore, and as she drove along a road by a forest a big tree which had been burned through near the roots fell over on the buggy, killing both of the occupants instantly. When found both bodies were pinned down by the burning tree, and were so badly burned as to be almost unrecognizable.

Dr. G. F. R. Richardson of Sprucedale made an examination of the remains, and decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Miss Guisler was the only daughter of her aged father, who is about 90 years of age. The horse, frightened by the falling timber, broke away from the buggy and escaped. Great fears are entertained around Sprucedale as to the further spread of the fires in the Parry Sound district.

SEVERAL FIRES NEAR WELLAND

Families in Niagara Peninsula Suffer From Disaster---Bush Fires Raging.

Welland, Sept. 18.—A serious fire took place a mile east of Montague, when the barns on the farms of I. E. Collard and Nicholas Shaffley were totally destroyed with contents. The fire originated in the Collard barn. Children playing with matches was the cause.

Ferdinand Sodtke, whose farm is four miles from Welland, lost his barn. Boys smoking cigarettes set it on fire.

A valuable bush farm, belonging to George Yourex at Chantler has been burning all week, and the loss is several thousand dollars. Farmers have been fighting the flames night and day to save their houses and barns, and in some cases the supply of water has run out.

Canada Controls Pulpwood.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 18.—"Because raw material is much cheaper in Canada and labor is considerably cheaper, we would have to go out of business if the tariff on wood pulp were to be cut off, unless we could obtain higher prices for our sulphite than what we are receiving at the present time," said N. M. Jones of Bangor, Me., manager of the Katahdin Pulp & Paper Co. at Lincoln, Me., before the congression investigation committee.

Osterholm was arrested here, charged with the killing of Captain Daniel Moriarity, commanding officer of the quarantine station, State of New York. Capt. Moriarity was struck down and killed half a block from his home in the Bronx.

MR. STRATTON'S EVIDENCE

The Examiner of last evening seeks to brazen out a justification of Mr. Stratton's course in the Insurance matter. We have nothing to do between the evidence and the public. A curious thing about it though, is that when the Review published the report some months ago the Examiner flew into hysterics and replied in a column of nasty criticism with the heading, "Despicable Journalism." Of course, that sort of a defence wouldn't work. The thing must be "justified" or the ghost be given up. There is no other way out of it.

MR. HAZEN AND MR. PUGSLEY

St. John, N.B., September 18— An unexpected turn was given to the campaign last night by Premier Hazen who charged Mr. William Pugsley in the most unequivocal terms with having "dishonestly used the funds of the country" and challenged him to joint debate on the issue. The occurrence took place at the end of the meeting. It had been announced that Mr. Hazen would abstain from speaking, to keep the programme from being too long. When, however, the regular list of speakers had been exhausted the audience which was strongly favorable to the Conservatives, insisted on Mr. Hazen coming forward. In the course of his speech he said that probably the Liberal press would say that the Conservatives were muckrakers and scandal mongers.

After noting that the most serious charges were made by the Civil Service Commissioners and Mr. Joseph Martin he asked:

Could any relief from the state of affairs depicted by Mr. Martin be expected from Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He had selected as his Minister of Public Works, Mr. Wm. Pugsley, whose malodorous administration of the finances of New Brunswick stank in the nostrils of every honest man. Mr. Pugsley at Gagetown a few days ago had stated that Mr. Hazen had made statements concerning him which were not true. Mr. Hazen desired to say that he was prepared either in St. John or on any platform in the province of New Brunswick to meet Mr. Pugsley and discuss his record in the province of New Brunswick, and if he did not prove to the satisfaction of every honest man in the Province that the Minister of Public Works had dishonestly used the funds of the country he was prepared to resign his seat in the Legislature.

The day after Mr. Hazen had been sworn in as a Minister of the Crown he had an interview with the Deputy Receiver General of the Province. Financial methods had been discussed, and as Mr. Babbitt was leaving his office, he said:

"I suppose you send the members of the Government cheques for their salaries at the end of every month."

"No," Mr. Babbitt said, "that is not the system that prevails."

Mr. Hazen then said, "I suppose it is every three months," and again Mr. Babbitt said no.

"The system that prevails," he said, "is that the members of the Government draw money as they want it. The sums they draw are charged to suspense accounts and at the end of the year they are charged up to salaries, expense accounts and other services that are rendered, distributed over the various departments of the different Ministers who are interested."

Mr. Hazen then said: "Mr. Babbitt, if I have been in office for one day, if tomorrow I go to your office and ask for $1,000, will you give it to me?" and he replied: "Under the system that prevails I could not refuse."

OVERDRAWN EVERY YEAR.

"A little later on," added the Premier, "we found that Mr. Pugsley, who bled the province for over $40,000 for alleged services in five years, was, in addition to this enormous amount overdrawn at the end of each year, on one occasion to the amount of over $7,000."

"And," added Mr. Hazen, "there is much yet to be told."

Needless to say, this greatly excited the audience, which cheered wildly. Throughout the meeting had been favorable to Mr. Borden and his associates.

THE TARIFF PLANK.

In reaffirming his adherence to the Halifax platform Mr. Borden dwelt for a few moments on the question of protection, declaring that the Conservative party advocated a policy conceived not in the interests of the manufacturer alone, but of the wage earner also, as well as due consideration for the consumer.

A local reference was his observation that for several years the Government has wasted ten millions a year, while St. John had been left to its own devices in the upbuilding of its port.

Repeating the references which he has made on several occasions to camp followers, he made the remark that the strength of a Government must be measured by its determination to resist the assaults on the treasury from within the party. He also satirised the cry, "Let Laurier finish his work," making it that meant to complete the demolition of the platform of 1893.

A feature of Mr. Borden's speech was his reply to Liberal criticisms of his Provincial Ministers for taking part in the campaign. It was useful to hear men who had shouted "Laurier and Mowat" and "Laurier and Blair" complaining of Mr. Roblin and Mr. Hazen and Mr. Hennan for helping him. Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper had tried to keep Federal and Provincial politics separate, but the Liberal leaders had entered into a conspiracy to get hold of the provinces and use them to win the Federal Administration. He went on to chaff the Federal Ministers who took part in this year's local elections, saying that the Conservatives were very glad they had done so. Mr. Paterson spoke, and for the first time since Confederation the Brants went Liberal. Mr. Aylesworth spoke, and North York went Conservative by the largest majority in its history. Mr. Graham spoke, and Brockville elected a Conservative.—Toronto News.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The ballot for the coming election is perfectly secret.

Mr. Borden and Mr. Roblin for Friday evening, Sept. 25th, in the Opera House. Hooray!

The quotation in the Examiner from the Belleville Ontario's remarks upon Mr. Stratton's campaign might just as well be given in the original. It looks better and gives a more accurate impression.

During the course of the sermon Rev. Dr. Young scored the immigration officers who entice the scum of European and Asiatic countries to come to Canada. He pointed out the necessity of selecting true and honest men to manage the affairs of the country and to insist upon the same high standard in the political life as is demanded in private life.

Mr. Hazen has charged Mr. Pugsley with stealing. He makes a direct and unequivocal charge which he offers to leave to a joint debate. That's a good idea. Such charges should be handled that way and then the public can get a chance to find out how things really are with their possible representatives.

PICK OF CANADA'S ATHLETES COMPETE

deserve congratulations. They worked hard and were rewarded by a successful meet.

"Where's Billy Noggin," someone shouted when the walking race was called. "And Davie Hartley," came from another corner of the rink.

There should have been an announcer on hand. The man with the megaphone was badly needed.

Many ladies were in the audience and they were greatly pleased with the programme.

Dick Baker, clerk of the course, wore his Olympic suit, and was among the most efficient officials. It was the first time a Canadian Olympic suit was seen here. They are very natty.

Maddon Howard, a Hiawatha brave was the most enthusiastic spectator. He did a war dance on the sawdust and urged on Tom Longboat both in English and his mother tongue.

It was a great night for the Indians. There were four of them in running togs, Longboat, Simpson, Smoke and Johnston.

Billy Noggin of walking match fame was among those present, but he did not appear in the ring. For a nice even trot Billy could hold his own with the best of them.

GETTING READY FOR THE BOUT IN HAMILTON

The match between Charlie Conkle and Eugene Hurtubuise, of Peterborough, will take place in the Armory hall. The hall is very suitable for that kind of an entertainment and seating accommodation for 1000 persons will be arranged. The bout will take place on an elevated stage so every person can have a good view of it. There will be two or three preliminary bouts, but these will be mitt events. Efforts are being made to bring Reddy Smith and "Frisco" Twyham, at 155 pounds and Henry Woods is trying to arrange a meeting between Bert TenEyck, of the Alerts, and Tommy O'Heir, of the Beavers. TenEyck is said to be a comer and President Woods is touting him for the Canadian championship bout at Toronto in the spring.—Hamilton Herald

RUGBY

There will be a practice of the P. C.I. Rugby players at the Nicholls oval tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock sharp. All pupils are urged to be present.

ATHLETICS

New York, September 18.— Another challenge for a race between John Hayes, winner of the Marathon race at the Olympic games in London and Alfred Shrubb the professional distance runner has been added to the one issued recently by Arthur Duffy one time amateur champion sprinter. By accepting the challenges and racing Shrubb, Hayes if he defeats the Englishman, can win $5000.

REYNOLDS' WALKING STUNT

The Port Hope Times has the following account of the attempt of Jimmy Reynolds to make the Port Hope-Toronto walk:

Any white man, or for the matter of that, red man, yellow man, green man or blue man, who will walk to Toronto from Port Hope and back again is either crazy or full of a peculiar courage, not given to ordinary humans.

For the fourth time plucky old Jimmy Reynolds, Port Hope's optimistic flying tonsorial artist put his head up in the air, on Monday and tried to make that walk. He missed it. Sick as a dog, down and out he fell in a cloud of dust metaphorically speaking a mile this side of Bowmanville Tuesday morning at 10.25, and was all in. Hats off to old James the pluckiest, wildest, fiercest old highstepper that ever pawed the sawdust. The man with the misplaced courage.

Fancy walking, walking, walking, mile in and mile out clean from here through to Toronto sixty-seven miles, with the dust so thick that horses are afraid of it, and shy and then coming back, walking all night—it's awful.

Farmers, farmers' wives, boys and girls, line the road and proffer ham sandwiches, meat sandwiches, bread, and butter, cold water, iced tea, milk, buttermilk, whisky, soda water, any old thing, to the walker, and if he is really hungry and thirsty and loads up on all this truck it is time to send in a quick call for the police, the ambulance and a couple of hearses.

We were in a moment of weakness keen enough to take a seat in the bandwaggon along with Nelson Reynolds, one of the syndicate at whom James had shaken the money till it was picked up and when Toronto hove in sight, and the all-night trip back became imminent, we got cold feet. The rosy lights of the King Edward and a chance to slip back to town by way of the good old Grand Trunk were too much and we quit.

During the walk down, with old James ahead of us with Tommy Sleeman and J.J. R. Erkiens, the German and a small boy McComb, who should have been sent home but who walked clean to Newtonville and, afterwards walked on till he grew wild, acting as pacemakers, the whole thing seemed like a bad dream.

Falling asleep without a valuable 49 cent straw hat, when Jack Henderson's big gray horse, took advantage of us and took a large wet, mouthful, out of the southeast side of the said valuable lid. Tucker Hudson, who was with Henderson only smiled at this but when the hat blew off as the caravan halted at a wayside inn, and the bay horse walked over the rim and two automobiles slid onto it, then it was that everyone, including ourselves, laughed.

Between spasms. Nelson Reynolds sang Scotch songs in a loud red voice and helped us to some of Louis Bennett's best chicken sandwiches, marmalade, pie and other dainties. All the while, the bunch ahead, walked and walked and walked. It was like a bad dream.

Sharp at six o'clock Monday morning, James signed the register at the Queens in a nice lady-like hand, —"James Reynolds." The signature at the King Edward was "James R——" the rest of the name looking like a bad attempt to write a Japanese name. If pronounced the Toronto signature would sound like a handful of marbles in a tin can. Taking a look at the signature was what made the G.T.R. look so refreshing to us. Reckless Captain Reed volunteered, to go home with Nelson, and being both war like men the deal was promptly arranged.

Arthur Adamson went with Reynolds, Sleeman, Erkiens and the boy as far as the cemetery. Then he quit.

The German quit at Dunbarton, which is a hamlet about 44 miles from Port Hope. He began when Sleeman quit at the creek and walked right through. Fierce.

Sleeman and Erkiens may both walk this fall and considering that Sleeman's boots were rather from the start light soled and featherweight they may both do,—or die. Also Billy Grant of Toronto, may do the same.

The chief reason anyone follows these walkers is to pick up the men as they grow sick. Just put them in a rig with their legs hanging out, and their mouth filled with a brown taste and call it square.

In two words Jimmie bet $200 to $300 with Nelson Reynolds and $90 on $100 with E. Morrow; they had to accept to satisfy James. Now everyone is satisfied.

Last June Reynolds got to Newtonville at 8.24, Newcastle 9.29; Bowmanville 10.49; Oshawa 1.49; Whitby 2.55; Halfway House 8.28 and Toronto at 10.35 losing time between Oshawa and Bowmanville. This time he got to Newtonville at 8.25; Newcastle 9.32; Bowmanville 10.49; Oshawa at 1.15; Whitby 2.24; Pickering 4.00; Halfway House 7.56; Toronto 10.05; reaching Whitby 7.05; Oshawa 8.10 and Bowmanville 10.25 where he fell out.

Jimmy is a grand walker, a wonder for his age but his body does not seem to stand it. He was sick from Welcome to Newtonville and it was only a question of time till the end came. Brave old. James, the grandest, gamest, walker in Ontario.

"Here's hoping that you cut it out."

Y. M. C. A. WILL HAVE A TEAM

Will Enter the City Rugby League —Plenty of Material

The Y.M.C.A. will enter a team in the city rugby league. Physical director Collings, who is making things boom in the athletic department, has arrived at this decision and is now at work looking up material for a team. He reports every encouragement and feels confident that the association will be well represented on the gridiron. A meeting will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday night at 7.30 o'clock for the purpose of getting the fellows together and organizing a team. Everybody who can play or wants to play rugby is asked to be on hand.

SPORTING COMMENT

Joe Ray is still taking a whack at rugby. It really looks as though the little fellow was behind that junior district of the O.R.F.U., which includes three Peterborough City League teams and a Lindsay team. —Hamilton Spectator.

TURF

The Canadian record for a half mile on a two-lap track by a harness horse was broken last Saturday at Winnipeg when the bay pacing gelding, Frank Wilson, 2.09 1-4, paced the first heat of the free-for-all class at the Winnipeg Driving Club's matinee in 1.02 3-4. The former record was 1.03 1-2 held by Katie B., also a western owned animal.

THE RING

London, Sept. 17.—Jack Johnson, the American negro pugilist, announces that a match between himself and Tommy Burns has been positively fixed at last.

An Australian syndicate will guarantee £2000 for a fight to a finish between the two men. According to the terms the winner will take 60 per cent. and the loser 40 per cent. of this amount.

The fight is likely to take place at the end of November, either at Sydney or Melbourne. Johnson and his wife accompanied by Fitzpatrick, will probably sail from London next Friday.

BEEL TO QUIT GAME

Milwaukee, September 18 — Fred Beell, the world's ex-champion wrestler and the man who twice defeated Frank Gotch and latter was defeated by the present champion, has bought an eighty acre farm unimproved, in the western part of Marathon county, Wisconsin, and within two miles of the little village of Colby, a town of three hundred persons. The land is unimproved and whether Mr. Beell intends to wrestle in the future with the problems of the homeseeker, or with the knotty questions of the pioneer settler is unknown. The land is crossed by a pretty brook which contains trout and it is a fertile section. It is possible the property was bought for investment.

DON'T MISJUDGE!

The correct test of a Drug Store is by the manner in which Prescriptions and Medicines are prepared. The public has a right to demand competent, conscientious, and faithful service in every instance where life or health is involved. To meet this demand has been the constant effort of this store. How well we have succeeded is proven by the constant increase in our business. The number of those who intrust us with their Prescriptions and Drug Store wants continues to grow larger. The public appreciates our efforts to give better drugs and better service than it is possible to obtain in any other store.

Local Syndicate Gets Hamilton Plant

And it Will be in Operation Within Six Weeks—Good News for City.

Unless something happens, and this does not seem probable, the plant of the Wm. Hamilton Company, on Reid street will be in operation before six weeks have passed. A local syndicate has purchased the plant, equipment, etc., from the A. R. Williams Company of Toronto and are taking steps to get it in operation without delay. The deal was put through by Mr. W. H. Collier and associated with him in the enterprise are Messrs. G. Walter Green, Andrew MacFarlane, and John Smith. While the price paid is not given out, it is understood that the syndicate has secured the plant at a very reasonable figure. In connection with the sale, the Williams Company give the new concern a $60,000 order for sawmill machinery to be filled within eighteen months.

The new company will press their request to the city council for a loan of $30,000 and fixed assessment. The conditions of the loan are that it will be repaid within ten years as specified in the letter which was sent to the Manufacturers Committee and which was published in the Review a few days ago.

Mr. Collier who has been especially active in the negotiations for the purchase and reopening of the Hamilton works, deserves great credit for what has been accomplished. The other gentlemen associated with him also deserve the thanks of the citizens for what they have done.

The re-opening of the Hamilton works will mean much to Peterborough. A large number of men will be employed and the removal from the city of an old established industry is prevented.

ERECTING LARGE ADDITION TO OTONABEE BOAT HOUSE

The Otonabee Boat House, built and owned by Mr. H. B. Rye, is to receive a substantial addition. Work is going on clearing up the ground for a 50 foot building to be put up, extending the premises out towards the west. Last year an extension was put up, but it fell short of providing accommodation, so it will be raised to a full two stories in height and have the new part as well of same dimensions. Room will thus be made for about 60 canoes and skiffs, and for a workshop overhead. Mr. Rye expects to have the improvements completed in about three weeks, and in time for the storage of the fleet of power launches now at the docks.

The storage, in winter quarters, of the boats is a fairly responsible matter. There are so many, that to build individual boat houses is out of the question, and while a few are so large that they may not be handled in storage, the greater number will go under cover. Last fall Mr. Rye found room for eighteen, by packing away canoes and skiffs, but at the expense of the latter, for the season opened so late that the boats for the livery service could not be got ready in time.

Provision is being made to handle all the power craft, safely and quickly, and which is of importance in prolonging the life of the boat and minimizes strains and breakages.

OVER 1300 EXCURSIONISTS HERE FROM PICTON TO-DAY

One of the largest excursions that has visited Peterborough this year came to the city to-day. It was run under the auspices of the Canadian Oddfellows of Picton, and the excursionists are from the towns along the line of the Central Ontario Railroad. There are about thirteen hundred who took in the trip and they are noticeable on the street by their badges which are initialled C.O.F. Hunter street to the lift lock was black with people on the way to see Peterborough's wonderful lift lock. Many persons are also attending the exhibition.

Just before the arrival of the train Mayor Bush received a telephone message asking that someone meet them at the station, to give instructions as to where the different places of interest were. His Worship the Mayor, met the excursionists.

This will be an annual event.

CONGREGATION GIVES THANKS

Annual Harvest Festival at St. John's Service Will be Repeated on Sunday

A large congregation was present at the annual Harvest Festival of St John's church last night. The interior of the edifice was beautifully decorated with fruits, vegetables and flowers. The scheme of adornment attracted much favorable comment.

The church has never before appeared in a more acceptable decorative appearance which must be accredited to the fact that the work had not been overdone. Immediately within the portals of the building was a very attractive arch composed of asparagus, foliage and mountain ash berries, while the entrance to each seat in the centre aisle is adorned with a sheaf of wheat, or oats, bound with mountain ash foliage and berries. The window sills bear their quota of harvest, whilst the chancel and altar is resplendent in green, and many colored blossoms. The decorations are the work of the following members:

Mrs. J. C. Davidson, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Devey, Miss Stevenson, Misses Dean, Wilson and English, Mrs. Jas. Mills, Miss Calder, Miss L. Dean and Messrs H. Long, R. J. Devey and Glover.

The work of the choir added considerably to the bright and cheerful service, and the sermon preached by Rev. Dr Foster from the text, "O, how great is thy goodness," was a masterly effort and exceedingly appropriate to the occasion. The whole service was taken by Dr. Foster.

This festival service will be repeated on Sunday when the beautiful decorations will be in evidence. The special offertories taken up last evening and to be continued on Sunday, are in aid of the missions.

Subscribers to the "Review" are requested to notify the business office if any failure to deliver the paper either by route boy or newsboy, and the matter will have prompt attention. Insist on getting the Review. d4.

HANDSOME GIFT TO MR. E. M. BEST

Presented With Travelling Bag at Banquet Held After Athletic Meet Last Night

After the athletic meet at Brock street rink last night a banquet was held at Lang and Hooper's Palm Garden at which a number of the prominent visitors were [illegible]. Among those in attendance were Messrs. J. H. Crocker, N. H. Crowe, Fred Smith, of Toronto, and R. Kerr of Hamilton. Mr. E. M. Best, president of the Harrier Club, presided and after the repast had come a fo considerable attention speeches were in order.

Messrs. Crocker and Crowe congratulated the Harrier Club on the success of the meet, pronouncing it one of the best they had ever attended. It had been splendidly managed. They gave some good advice regarding the development of amateur athletics in Peterborough. Both speakers also paid tribute to the ability of Mr. Best and referred to the loss Peterborough was sustaining in his departure.

Short speeches along similar lines were also made by Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, R. M. Glover, C. G. Graham, E. S. Clarry and others.

They expressed deep regret at Mr. Best's departure. Peterborough was losing one of its strongest and most active advocates of clean, amateur sports.

One of the features of the gathering was the presentation to Mr. Best of a valuable travelling bag, the gift of a number of his friends. In making the presentation Mr. Glover made a few appropriate remarks. Mr Best made an appropriate reply.

The gathering broke up with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," and "God Save the King."

Mr. Best, left this morning for Hamilton on his way to Springfield, Mass., where he will enter the Y.M.C.A. training college.

MONEY FOR NEW CROP IS ALREADY MOVING IN WEST

And it is Believed That the Financial Stringency Will Soon be Over—Business Conditions Show Improvement.

A local man has received a letter from a friend who is in business at Maple Creek, Sask., part of which is as follows:

"We have had and are still having the warm, dry weather, which has been so beneficial for the harvesting and threshing of the grain. Reports from the separators show the wheat yield to be averaging well up, but oats are proving a little lighter than anticipated. The marketing of the grain is in full swing and our little town is quite a lively place. Cars are not by any means plentiful and the demand far exceeds the supply. I fully expect to see a blockade in about ten days as the elevators are getting their bins filled rapidly and not getting cars. There is only one result bound to follow, and that is a tie-up.

"The money for the new crop is beginning to flow and is quite noticeable in the business, the sales showing considerable more cash than credit, which has not been the case for the last month.

"Everyone is feeling good and accounts are being paid and will, I think, be met promptly. So the chances of having a good clear up early are bright. It will be quite a change from the last year of money stringency and will knock off a number of these little anxieties which keep one worrying. It is alright doing business during good times but when money is hard to get it is a different matter."

TWO CAVENDISH YOUNG MEN HAVE AMASSED GREAT RICHES

Two young men by the name of Gill and sons of Mrs. Gill, of Iron Dale post office, Cavendish township, have recently returned from the Larder Lake mining districts. The younger of the two brothers was at the American hotel where he was seen by a Review representative. The two young fellows have had great luck since leaving their homes in Cavendish and have amassed considerable riches. On going from Peterborough some years ago, they went to Pennsylvania where they worked in a glass works. Learning of the untold wealth that was to be made, mining at Larder Lake, in New Ontario, they left Pennsylvania about a year and a half ago and until very recently were engaged in mining. They owned a claim called Lucky Boy, and according to young Mr. Gill's story, it certainly proved lucky, for he and his brother.

He stated that they had sold out their claim for $250,000, an amount which would enable them to live independently in the future.

They left for their homes in Cavendish last evening.

PERJURY CHARGE AGAINST JOSEPH LAVASSEUR JR. WAS DISMISSED AT HIGH COURT

There was a very long session of the High Court yesterday, the sittings continuing until one o'clock this morning. After judgment had been given in Young vs. the Dominion Engineering and Construction Company, of Montreal, the charge of perjury against Joseph Lavasseur was taken up before the jury.

Lavasseur was in police court a short time ago for selling liquor without a license. In the witness box he stated he did not sell it directly, but only bought it for customers who rented his boats.

Police Magistrate Dumble was called, and on taking the box, read over the depositions containing Lavasseur's evidence. One the strength of these a conviction was being sought after by the Crown. His Lordship Justice Magee ruled that there was nothing in them to prove the charge sustaining the contention of Mr. McWilliams.

The Crown wanted to call other witnesses but the Court would not permit them to do so. Lavasseur was then acquitted.

Mr. L. M. Hayes K.C., appeared for the Crown and Mr. R. F. McWilliams for the defence.

HOAGLAND WANTS TO MEET STACEY HERE OR IN TORONTO

Writes to Sporting Editor of Review Concerning Another Walking Match Here—Thinks Affair Should be Worked up—Champion Pedestrian Likes Peterborough.

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 16, 1908.

Sporting Editor:

Dear Sir,—I wish to thank you for the papers you sent me some time ago, containing an account of your local race, as well as the relay in which Mr. Stacey was to take part in, but was forced to stop on account of sickness.

From all accounts of Mr. Stacey he must be a fine walker. I would be pleased to meet him in a private or open contest in your city or Toronto. I would prefer an open contest of three or four hours a night, for six nights, and hold it in your city, as you have several local men who are fine walkers and at least five good men from the States would enter and I am sure such a contest would be a big success. I hope such a race can be arranged by some good local management and to take place this fall before they use the rink for skating.

I wish you would look the matter up and see if it can be arranged for the near future, as there is to be at least four of such contests in the States in the near future and I hope the dates will not conflict, as I am anxious to walk again in Peterborough and will, if a race is arranged, regardless of any other, so you see if any very desirous of knowing if anything is to be done.

I wish you would look into the matter and notify me as soon as possible. Kindly remember me to all my friends in Peterborough. Trusting to hear from you soon.

I remain,
Yours truly,
W. A. HOAGLAND,

ABDALLAH SHOWS MUCH ABILITY IN WORKOUTS IN MONTREAL

"Salaam Halaa-kum."—Peace be with you.

This was Hassan Abdallah's greeting without interpretation, to Manager Naylor last Sunday just after he arrived in Montreal from Peterborough. It will be remembered that Mr. Naylor was to meet his man in Boston for his debut there, but the challenge of Fritz Mohl kept him in Peterborough and he had to wait.

Hassan can luckily speak a few words in English and a few in Parisian French and so he can be understood by those having a slight knowledge of the two tongues.

Mr. Naylor said the last word of the greeting did not appear very complimentary but he soon found out that the word began with a 'K' not a 'D' so everything in the garden was lovely.

Abdallah according to reports is a very genial fellow, and has a fine appearance on the mat. He was working out quite a good deal this week in Montreal and had no difficulty with any opposition, in fact some of the men were thrown even easier than Rogers could throw them. If that is really so, Gene Hurtubuise is up against an almost impossible task, although it might be that the men who were working out with him are more afraid than they would be with a white man.

The big Turk is certainly a fierce looker and Gene will have to look the other way until he gets warmed up.

The man from the Orient is a very powerful swimmer and appears to plough through the water like a speed launch. Probably he can be persuaded to take a swim in the Otonabee and if so, he would draw a great crowd.

P.C.I. ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION WAS FORMED YESTERDAY

With a well regulated Athletic Club looking after the interests of sport at the Collegiate Institute should flourish. At a meeting held yesterday the P.C.I. Athletic Association was formed, the officers appointed and a constitution adopted. The idea of the organization is to promote all branches of amateur sport in connection with the Institute.

Dr. A. W. MacPherson, formerly of the Collegiate staff, was chosen manager and promised to give the Association his assistance. He should be of great service to the rugby team which is being formed and which will probably enter either one of the series of the City League. Track athletics, baseball and hockey will be prominent among the games that will be taken up.

The officers elected at yesterday's meeting are:—

Hon. President—H. R. H. Kenner.
President—Harry Hall.
Vice-President—Max Dobbin.
Sec.-Treas.—M. J. O'Brien.

The executive will be composed of one representative from each form.

PICK OF CANADA'S ATHLETES COMPETE IN EXCITING EVENTS

Notable Gathering or Athletic Talent at Brock-st. Rink Last Night---Bobby Kerr and Tom Longboat Were the Central Figures in Big Meet.

Second Indoor Meet of Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club a Success in Every Way.

Five Members of Canadian Olympic Team in Attendance—Every Event Provided Exciting Sport.

The Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club scored another distinct success last night in the big athletic meet held at Brock street rink. It was one of the largest and best conducted events of its kind ever held in the province, and the thousand spectators went away satisfied that they had got great value for their money. The officers of the club deserve hearty congratulations on the way everything was carried out.

Although there were repeated reports that Longboat was not coming and that many of those advertised would not appear, the citizens of Peterborough turned out in large numbers to witness the events. And once and for all be it known that people should not talk when they don't know what they are talking about. Every man who was advertised to appear showed up with the exception of Lou Sebert, the sprinter, and the Irish-Canadians sent a good man in the person of Len Kyle to take his place.

Bobby Kerr, the champion sprinter, appeared in his Olympic suit and got a great welcome. Many did not recognize the fair-haired Hamilton boy when he appeared in the ring, but when they did a great acclaim arose. There was a wild scene of enthusiasm when Bobby came down the final stretch in his exhibition 220 yards with the band playing "The Maple Leaf Forever." The champion sprinter made a fine impression here by his modest demeanor and fleetness of foot, and can have the best in the town any time he comes back.

Ed. Archibald, the pole vaulter, champion of Britain and Canada, got over the bar at eleven feet—a splendid performance for an indoor meet. It is a difficult matter to vault inside a rink at night on account of the lighting.

Tom Longboat made his initial appearance before a Peterborough audience in his running togs. Everybody knew Tom and he was given a big reception. Tom was here last fall at the indoor meet, but at that time he didn't do much except smoke a long cigar. Last fall he also wore a red necktie and a Derby hat. Last night his necktie was of a less brilliant hue, his hat was a soft brown one, and the cigar was missing. However, the Indian still wore the smile and bronze that won't wash off. Tom trotted two miles of an exhibition all by his lonesome, and gave the crowd a good idea of his famous stride.

Jack Tait cleaned up the three miles in handy fashion, running a beautiful race. Jack has made a big bunch of friends for himself in Peterborough. George Goulding, the champion walker, was beaten by Chuck Skene in the mile walk, but would likely have won had he not lost about ten yards by falling in making a corner. Skene got a lead and Goulding couldn't catch him.

Fred Simpson ran an exhibition half mile and was given a hearty hand all over the rink. He was one of the favorites.

The Peterborough boys made an excellent showing against their more seasoned opponents and deserve congratulations. Ernie Wilson gave Chuck Skene a merry go in the mile, but was beaten on the last lap. Pete Wallace cleaned up the half mile handicap although closely pursued by Knox, of Toronto, who started from scratch. The boys' events were well contested and furnished fine sport.

Several notables of the athletic fraternity were present, including Mr. J. H. Crocker, who managed the Canadian Olympic team; Mr. W. H. Crowe, secretary of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union; Tim O'Rourke, the big and genial Irish-Canadian; Fred Smith, physical director of the Toronto Central Y.M.C.A. Mr. Crowe acted as starter.

During the evening the 57th band, under the direction of Mr. Gliddon, rendered a fine programme during the evening and came in for a share of the applause.

The track was in good shape, although a little soft in spots, and although no records were broken, the time in each race was good.

Bobby Kerr ran the fifty yards in 5 2-5 seconds which is one-fifth of a second from the world's record. Not too bad for a sawdust track.

A DETAILED STORY.

Munro Y.MCA, won the first heat of the 220, the opening event, in 31 seconds. Rankin, Collegiate Institute, was his competitor; Rose, Otonabee A.C., and Kelly, TAS, scratched. In the second heat Maloney OAC scratched and Holland also. Walsh was an easy winner over Morrow. Time 33 seconds.

The next event was the 50 yards senior handicap. In the first heat Munro scratched and Turrell, 2 yards, and Jack Bailey, 3 yards, won the heat 6 seconds. No pistol was used on account of Turrell being deaf.

In the second Masterson scratched, and Wilson YMCA four yards, and Milburn, YMCA, and Adamson, all with 2 yards, started. Wilson, YMCA, finished first, Adamson second Milburn 3rd. Time 6 1-5.

O'Rourke and Longboat came on and were given the glad hand.

In the third heat Kyle, I C A C, scratch, who replaced Sebert, who didn't come down, won. Evans, YMCA 3 yards, second; Knapp, T A S, 3 yards, was the other starter.

The final of the 220 yards was a procession for Munro, with Walsh second and Rankin third. The time was good, 30 seconds.

Bobby Kerr tore off his 50 yards exhibition giving Evans of the YMCA 4 yards and with this big lead over him, Kerr won handily and slipped a little at the start at that. He covered the track magnificently and made the dash in 5 2-5 seconds.

In the final of the 50 yards, senior, Kyle, Evans, Wilson and Turrill got away to the pistol. Kyle won, with Turrill second, Evans third.

The half mile handicap saw a big line-up of starters. In the last lap Knox, YMCA, Toronto, passed them all, but Wallace, Peterborough, "Y" who won with Knox a good second, Fowler third, Mahoney fourth and Giroux last. McMartin, Otonabee AC 50 yards and Rankin, Collegiate 50 yards, scratched. The race was an exciting one and caught the spectators.

In the mile walk Halpany was the only man who scratched. Goulding drew right away at first with Skene after him. In the third lap Armstrong lagged quite a bit as though the pace was too hot.

At the beginning of the 5th lap Skene passed Goulding, Toronto Y.M.C.A., and increased his lead all the way through. Skene, ICAC, won by over half a lap. Goulding was second; Macdonald Central YMCA, was third, Armstrong, All Saints' Boys' Club, fourth. Crough, TAS, quit before mile was over.

Archibald's pole vault caused a big stir in the audience. His first height was ten feet. His work was naturally the spectacular event of the night and his clever clearing won him great favor.

The bar was placed at 11 feet. He flew over it beautifully and was given a big ovation.

The first heat of the 220 yards senior brought out Giroux, TAS, 12 yards; Neary, TAS, 15 yards and Kyle, scratch. Wilson scratched. Neary fell near the finish when leading and Kyle passed him. Giroux finished third. Time 29 seconds.

In the second heat the men finished as follows; Bailey unattached 15 yds., Milburn Peterboro YMCA, 12 yds., Turrill, TAS, 10 yards. Time 29 seconds.

Holland and Masterson, TAS, scratched in the third heat, and Adamson, unattached, 15 yards, ran it alone.

In the mile open there were five starters. Skene jumped away at the start. Wilson and Thorpe caught up to him and hung on. The half mile was made in 2.34. There was a great spurt at the finish with Skene leading, Wilson next by about four or five yards and Thorpe was behind him only a couple of feet.

McMartin, Otonabee AC, and Hanrahan also ran. Time 5.10.

Bobby Kerr ran an exhibition 220 yards. The crowd cheered vociferously when he commenced to run.

In the finals in the 220 yards senior, Kyle, Adamson and Bailey were the starters and Bailey won, Adamson second. Kyle third. Time 29. The 15 yards handicap on Kyle was too much for him to overcome but he finished close to the second man.

Fowler Otonabee AC, ran a fine race in the boys' half mile with Rankin close after him, and Walsh third. The time was exceptionally good, 2.32, and Mr. Crocker remarked on the boys' great showing. There were nine in the race.

The celebrated Longboat was then announced for an exhibition two miles. It was the first time he ever ran before a Peterborough audience and his performance was watched with interest. He made the mile in 5.20.

He finished strong, and made the distance in 11 flat.

Simpson, after some persuasion, came out of the audience and ran an exhibition half. The Peterborough Indian was warmly welcomed by the spectators. He made it in 2.37 and there was enthusiastic hand-clapping.

The race of evening was undoubtedly the three-mile open. It was expected that this would be the case and the expectations were certainly realized.

The field for the event was as follows:

Smoke, Chemong.
Robertson, Otonabee AC.
Thorpe, YMCA.
Fowler, YMCA.
Jack Tait, Toronto YMCA.
Brownlee, YMCA.
Knapp, TAS.
J. Near, YMCA, Toronto.
Johnson, Chemong.
Knox, Toronto, YMCA

Young Smoke took the pace at the beginning but Tate took it up some laps before the mile was finished and miled right through to victory. He ran a wonderfully good race and was the most graceful man on the track. He seems to spin along with hardly any effort and is without doubt one of the prettiest runners in the business. His time for the mile was 5.05: for the two, 10.40 and he made the three in 16.07. Knox, Toronto YMCA, was second in 16.30 and J. Near, Central YMCA, Toronto, was third in 16.56. Thorpe of Peterborough YMCA, finished fourth.

MACHINERY IS RAISED FROM LAKE

Hull of "Stranger" Has Been Located in Scugog Lake

After nearly two months under water, the hull of the steamer Stranger, which was burned in Scugog Lake, was found yesterday, and the machinery is being raised.

It will be remembered that the Str. Stranger was plying between Port Perry and Carnegie's lumber yards and caught fire about midnight this side of Washburn's Island, with a scow of lumber in tow. The crew were all on board and did all in their power to save the boat, but finding their efforts were fruitless tied a string to the engine throttle and made their escape on the scow. When the string burned, the throttle flew back and the steam was shut off. The steamer then floated and after burning to the water's edge, sank about three-quarters of a mile from Plum Point.

Mr. Carnegie chartered the steamer Cora yesterday and went in search of the sunken hull. Mr. Charles Bowman dropped the anchor over the spot where he thought the boat had sunk and dropped the heavy iron in the hull and pulled up the steering chord. The work of raising the machinery was then proceeded with.

WILL WELCOME THEIR CHIEF

Conservatives of Peterboro' Will Give Mr. Borden a Rousing Reception

Great interest has been aroused by the announcement that Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition will visit Peterborough on Friday, Sept. 25th, and address a mass meeting in the Grand Opera House. The talented leader of the Conservative party will be accompanied by Hon. R. R. Roblin, premier of Manitoba, who will also give an address.

Other speakers will be Mr. J. H. Burnham, the Conservative candidate for the Commons, and Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. This will be a splendid opportunity for the electors of West Peterborough to hear the public questions of the day discussed.

The Conservatives of the West Riding are preparing to give their chieftan a rousing welcome and arrangements are being made to accommodate a monster crowd.

Seats will be reserved for ladies and their escorts.

Messrs. Borden and Roblin are two of Canada's leading statesmen and everybody should hear them.

FIRES ARE RAGING NORTH OF MINDEN

Hall's Lake District in Grave Danger—Government Dam is Saved

Lindsay, Sept. 16.—Word was received in town this morning that fire is raging for miles to the north of Minden in what is known as Hall's Lake district, which is about thirty miles north of Minden.

The Kaneese Lake government camp, in charge of Mr. Peter Grozelle, of Lindsay, has been wiped out, and the government dam was only saved by the timely arrival of Mr. Grozelle and a number of men who by strenuous work managed to save it.

It is supposed from information received that the fire started in the Hollow Lake district, a summer resorts out eight miles distant from Kaneese government camp on Hall's Lake. A number of men have been sent into the district to fight the fire, and it is hoped that their efforts will prove beneficial.

THE HOOK

GROUNDS THRONGED FOR THE MAIN DAY

People Swarmed to Exhibition To-day—Out of Town Excursions Bringing a Multitude of Visitors—Special Features and Horse Races — Public Pleased With Fair.

The big day of the Peterborough Fair is today, and it is a big one in every sense of the word. Big seems to be the word that may aptly be used in connection with all phases of the exhibition this year and its growth is most marked in every way.

Large crowds arrived in the city this morning on the various trains and there was a great attendance on the grounds.

The arrangements made this year in the matter of excursions have been most satisfactory and judging from the number of visitors who came to the city on them, the importance of the Peterborough Industrial Fair is certainly recognised. The excursions from Rice Lake and Stoney Lake brought several hundred here, while the special train from Campbellford and which called at the intermediate points, carried a particularly big contingent of people. The other trains bore proportionately as many.

The people drove in from the country just the same as if it was circus day.

There was plenty to attract and hold at today's exhibition. Something to suit everyone was doing all the time. Those in attendance displayed a great interest in the many features of the exhibition. The poultry tent and main building were favored by the crowd and the side shows did a good business.

The performance in front of the grand stand was an interesting one and much interest was shown in the horse races. The presence of the 57th Regimental Band brightened things up considerably. Their playing lent a nice accompaniment to the grandstand performance and was appreciated by the crowd.

RECORD ATTENDANCE.

The attendance breaks all previous records at a Peterborough exhibition. At least 6,000 were in attendance this afternoon and the fair had a more cosmopolitan air than any of its predecessors. The grounds are dotted with tents, local manufacturers making a fine exhibit. The "Midway" is also a pretentious one and the side show men are doing a great business. The dining tent and the refreshment booths are busy places and everything is going with a swing.

The main building is one of the centres of attraction, the exhibit there being pronounced the best ever seen here.

There is a fine display of live stock. The horses are particularly fine and made a splendid showing.

The programme for today is as follows:

10 am, Judging the exhibits inside the main building, and the poultry in the large tent provided,

1.30 pm, The official opening of the fair.

The Salvation Army band will also be in attendance and will render a good programme.

LANG & MAHER

At first it is hard to decide whether the exhibit is an immense Lang and Maher demonstration or the Peterborough Industrial fair. Certainly the exhibit put up by this firm is a most prominent feature. Every available spot, both in and out of the grounds, has one or more of their artistic signs attached, while first in the midway row of attraction is their neat and attractive exhibit of clothing. Being the only display of the kind on the grounds, it attracts general attention, and the new lines are carefully inspected; Among the prominent new things shown are the latest style in coats with fancy cuffs, and long lapels, both with vents and plain backs. The overcoats also show new features and are decidedly dressy in appearance. The new form fitting Chesterfield, Covert and Ulster styles are the most prominent. The new ulsters have struck a popular chord, with their fancy cuffs, and chamois lining thus replacing the fur coat with a much neater and nicer coat.

Messrs. Lang and Maher handle the Sovereign fit-rite and Northway makes of clothing, and their popularity attests the quality of the goods manufactured under the above brands.

ROY'S PHOTOS

This year's exhibit of the work turned out by the Roy Studio shows the height to which the photographers art has reached. The latest triumph, and the most conspicuous specimen is what Mr. Roy calls a photograph oil painting. The subject is the familiar feature of Mr. J. Stevenson and the effect is such that it would scarcely be credited as a product of the camera. Other special styles are water color and sepia photographs. An interesting part of the exhibit is a complete set of all the events of the late Chemong and Stony Lake Regattas in both enlargements and picture post cards. Almost life like photo of Bishop O'Connor, and a very large group of the faculty and class of the Business College are also especially noticeable.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

One of the exhibits of which Peterborough people may well be proud, as the manufacture of one of its own firms is the extensive tent displays made by J. J. Turner and Sons. They show the same exhibit that won first honors at the last Toronto exhibition and it is interesting on that account as well as for its own special attractiveness. One of the principal features is a completely furnished family compartment tent, including kitchen, verandah and all the accessories necessary for comfort when living the outdoor life. With this outfit, a family may settle down in the wilderness and in a short time have a commodious canvass home in which to dwell while on their outing.

Another interesting article of this firms' manufacture, is the Walsh window tent for the treatment of tuberculosis. With it, one can have the outdoor life, right in their own home. This window fixture attracts many by reason of its novelty and evident practicability.

Messrs. Turner and Sons also show a large dining tent and a full line of horse blankets, waterproof clothing, knee rugs, binder covers, etc., an evidence of the extent to which their world-wide business has grown.

ONE SENT TO GAOL, THREE GOT SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Four Youths Guilty of House-breaking, Appeared Before Magistrate To-day—Fifth One Failed to Show up.

Ernest Lowes was given one month at hard labor in the county gaol and three other youths were allowed to go on suspended sentences at the police court this morning. A week ago they pleaded guilty to breaking into the house of Mr. Edward McGregor, Ashburnham, and stealing a quantity of goods. They also entered the cellar of the Montreal House and carried away a case of brandy. Wright, the fifth boy, did not appear this morning.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared on behalf of the three let out on suspended sentence.

To these three who are not more than fifteen years of age. His Worship gave some good advice. Owing to their youth he did not like to send the to gaol. They had been before him several times and were guilty of a serious crime that of housebreaking. He said that if ever they should appear before him again he would not deal so leniently with them.

THIS MAN REMEMBERS PETERBOROUGH WHEN IT HAD ONLY ONE HOUSE

A person who remembers Peterborough when there was only one house is in the city to-day. He is Mr. John McCarroll sr., of Fowler's Corners, an eighty-eight year old gentleman who is still hale and hearty, and in the possession of all his faculties.

Mr. McCarroll along with his parents and several brothers and sisters arrived in Peterborough in 1825 coming from Limerick county, Ireland. At that time there was one house where Peterborough now stands, "one solitary dwelling in the pine bush," as Mr. McCarroll remarked. It was the only dwelling for some time in the immediate vicinity, although there were two or three settlers in the neighborhood of what is now known as Fowler's Corners. Mr. McCarroll settled at Fowler's Corners and part of the family has resided there ever since.

Mr. McCarroll does not visit the city now as often as he formerly did but manages to come in two or three times a year. He has many interesting reminiscences of the pioneer days of the city and country and a Review representative was sorry that he could not have a longer talk with him.

JUDGMENT WAS GIVEN FOR AMOUNT CLAIMED AND COSTS

The suit of Dr. Young vs. the Dominion Engineering and Construction Company, which has occupied the attention of Justice Magee for some time, was decided last night when the plaintiff was given the $301 which he sued for, and costs also.

The plaintiff claimed the amount for giving medical attention to David J. Moore, who was injured on May 9th, 1907, while engaged in the work of building at the C.G.E. establishment, which work was being done by the defendants.

The defence's statement of the claim is that the Dominion Engineering and Construction Company had entered into a contract with the C. G.E. Company, Limited, for the construction of the building, and that while engaged in these operations the injuries were sustained by David J. Moore, an employee of the Canadian General Electric Company. They claim that plaintiff was regularly employed by the C.G.E. Co., and that if he rendered medical aid he did so in pursuance of his duties as doctor for the company. R. F. McWilliams appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Kerr, of Dennistoun, Peck and Kerr for the Dominion Engineering and Construction Company, and Kerr, Davidson, Paterson and McFarland, Toronto, for the third party, the C. G.E. Company.

COMMISSIONER FOR PETERBORO'

Secretary of C. A. A. U. Believes One Should be Appointed and Outlines Proposition

It is probable that the Canadian Amateur Athletic Association will appoint a commissioner in Peterborough to safeguard the interests of the Association here. Mr. N. H. Crowe outlined the matter at the Harrier Club banquet last night and pointed out the advisability of having a commissioner in Peterborough.

The proposition was received with favor and the matter is now being looked into.

THE BUSH FIRES

The recent drought has been the cause of much distress especially in the forest regions. Only those who have known the anxiety which comes to the community surrounded by bush fires can understand the trouble or stress suffered in Muskoka and along the St. Lawrence during the last three weeks. The farmer who has given a lifetime of toil and planning that his homestead and broad fields may be a worthy heritage sees a distant line of smoke or a lurid glare which threatens destruction of all that he has won from the soil.

The ancients regarded the household flame as sacred, guarding the fires which symbolized a city's foundation and a state's development. But sometimes the very element which signifies domestic peace and comfort turns into a hideous devouring enemy against which modern machinery seems a puny force. "Rain" has been the one cry from the anxious watchers and only autumn showers can bring relief.—Canadian Courier.

EXPERT TO VISIT CITY IN CONNECTION WITH THE NEW OUTFALL SEWER

Mr. Chipman Will Advise Board of Works as to Best Plan —Romaine-st. Sewer up for the 'Steenth Time— Other Matters at Board of Works.

The City Council is going ahead with the proposition to construct a new outfall sewer on Park street, Mr. Chapman, an expert, is coming to Peterborough about the 25th of the present month to go into the matter and also to look into several other questions, including the trouble over the Romaine street sewer.

A meeting of the Board of Works was held last night when several important matters were considered.

The following members were present, Chairman H. Phelan, Aldermen Elliott, Buller, McIntyre, Morgan, Bradburn and Mayor Rush.

Mr. Brooks, Sophia street, was present in connection with a sewer which passes his place. He has been paying taxes on it for the past two or three years. It is no use to him as he has no water and he did not think it fair that he should be taxed. He said he had applied two years for water and had not got it yet.

The engineer said the Sophia street sewer was an outfall for the Rogers street sewer.

Ald. Buller moved that the water commissioners be requested to put the water down Sophia street. This was seconded by Ald. Morgan.—Carried.

Mr. Brooks also wanted to be reimbursed for the taxes he had paid during the past two years. This, however, the Board could not do.

WANT AN INCREASE.

Mr. Melaney was present in connection with his contract on the water wagon. He said he was only getting $2 per day for watering the south division and that was not enough to feed his horses and keep himself. He said he had done his work faithfully and by so doing he had not been able to earn a cent any other way. His contract was $400 for the season, but owing to the very dry weather, he was called upon to do much more work than anyone had anticipated last spring. Last year Mr. Melaney's section cost $450 and was several blocks smaller. There was no tender for the southern division last spring and he was entitled to some consideration.

The aldermen thought that if one man was given an increase they all would want it. The matter was left over for the time being.

It was moved by Ald. Buller and Ald. Elliott, that the city expropriate 14 feet of the Chamberlain estate on Louis street and that a sidewalk be built, and that the chairman be authorized to engage an engineer to make a plan, the chairman, Ald. Buller and Elliott be a committee to wait on the Chamberlain estate in reference to the matter.

NEW OUTFALL SEWER.

The Board of Works has been taking up the question of a new outfall sewer down Park street, and the chairman, Ald. Phelan has been in communication with Engineer Chapman of Toronto, in connection with plans and the cost of the sewer. Mr. Chipman wrote that he would prefer to come to Peterborough and get over the ground with the Board of Works. The cost of the plans depended largely upon the magnitude of the work. The Board considered the matter and finally decided to have the engineer come up.

Moved by Ald. Buller and Ald. Bradburn that the chairman be authorized to communicate with Mr. Chipman and arrange with him to meet the Board of Works and go over the ground with the Board of Works to consider the advisability of preparing plans and a report and to give an idea of the cost, Mr. Chipman to come to Peterborough on the evening of the 14th.—Carried.

PARK STREET DRAIN.

Complaints are still made about the Park street drain not being satisfactory. The trouble appears to be in the G.T.R. culvert.

Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Bulelr moved that the city clerk write to the G.T.R. authorities and see if something cannot be done to overcome the difficulty.

Ald Buller and Adl. Bradburn moved that the city clerk be instructed to write the reeve of Monaghan, re the cleaning of the township's end of the Park street drain.

ROMAINE STREET SEWER.

The Romaine street sewer came up for discussion, and it appears that all the aldermen are in favor of taking the old sewer up and relaying it. According to many there is nothing for it now but to build a new sewer. If this is done a twelve-inch pipe will be put down instead of a nine-inch pipe.

ASHES FALL LIKE SNOW

In Vicinity of Fort William—Houses in Danger in the Outskirts

Mr. J. M. Laing, of this city, purser on the steamer Corunna writing to a friend in the city says that the bush fires are causing great destruction around Fort William.

He says in part;

"The fires up there are bad. About forty miles out from Fort William, we experienced a shower of ashes, like a slight snow fall and the air was very hazy with smoke. At Fort William the fire brigade had been called out to protect houses on the outskirts which were threatened and attacked by bush fires. Ashes were falling there when we left."

THE THIRD INSTALMENT OF MR. STRATTON'S EVIDENCE

Extract From the Minutes of Evidence in the Blue Book Report of the Royal Commission on Insurance.

The second instalment of Mr. Stratton's evidence:

Q—We must judge the transaction by what was done at the time?

A—We must judge it by all the circumstances.

Q—Now, having $10,000 left with you on the 12th in the Bank—

Q—Well, $10,000 remained with you, put it that way. What did you do with that $10,000?

A—I retained it.

Q—What did you do with it? Where did you deposit it?

A—I deposited it in the Bank of Montreal.

Q—Did you go back to the Bank of Montreal and deposit it?

A—I went to the Bank of Montreal, I went to Peterborough. The meeting of the Home Life extended late into the evening. I went to Peterborough and I deposited the $10,000.

Q—When? That night?

A—The next morning I deposited the $10,000. I think it was on Saturday morning. And I gave Mr. McCutcheon my cheque for $10,000 to be applied at the time; it was arranged by Mr. Warren and Mr. McCutcheon that it was to be applied to the retirement of the note as it was only a temporary loan with the bank.

Q—When you went to Peterborough you deposited the $10,000 there?

A—Yes.

Q—And what has been done to lessen the liability of the manager of the company to the Traders' Bank, for which he has secured the Bank by this assignment?

A—What has been done to lessen it?

Q—Yes?

A—I suppose the arrangement has been carried on—by ——

Q—Do not suppose. McCutcheon by this document is liable to the Bank for $90,000. How has that been reduced to $80,000, if it has been reduced?

A—The loan has been re-arranged and the commission has been sitting for some time and the amount would be applied on the re-arrangement of the loan, which cheque McCutcheon has

. . . .

Q—And you gave him the cheque for the $10,000 in order to save changing the $90,000 to $80,000 in this document to McCutcheon?

A—That was the arrangement.

Q—And that is the only reason you can give?

. . . .

Extract from Mr. McCutcheon's evidence.

Q—If at the time you were asked to sign the $90,000 contract it was known that it was $80,000 you would have struck out the $90,000 and made it $80,000?

A—Certainly I would.

Q—It was undoubtedly intended you should cash the cheque?

A—Yes, it would be no use giving it if it had not been.

Q—Did Mr. Stratton hand it to you personally?

A—He did.

Q—He had not then gone to Peterborough?

A—He had not gone to Peterborough.

Q—And he had the $10,000, according to his own statement in his own pocket at the time. Will you tell me why he would carry $10,000 down to Peterborough, put it in the bank there and pay exchange on getting it back here for when he had it here?

A—I cannot explain that.

Q—Is it not obvious?

A—What bank is that drawn on?

Q—On the Bank of Montreal in Peterborough. So Mr. Stratton has the money in his pocket and he takes it down to Peterborough and gives you a cheque to bring it from Peterborough to Toronto?

A—I can say to you sincerely that that did not concern me, because I looked upon that cheque as perfectly good under any circumstances — no question as to that.

Extract from the Royal Insurance Commissioners' report, made to Parliament, 1907. Following is a photographic copy of a portion of the report:

The statements of Stratton, McCutcheon and Pattison are not reconcilable with each other, and are very unsatisfactory.

The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $80,000 and no more. The production of the bank's security for an advance to McCutcheon being insisted upon by counsel prosecuting the inquiry, it became necessary to disclose the withdrawal from the bank of the additional $10,000; its retention by Stratton on the 13th of October; its deposit in his overdrawn bank account in Peterborough on the following day and the alleged origin and destiny of the cheque for $10,000.

The inference to be drawn from these transactions and the various accounts given of them by the participants are plain and obvious.

If the cheque was given to McCutcheon in October, which is doubtful, it was not, your Commissioners are satisfied, intended that ultimately the company should pay less than the whole $90,000, or that any person but Stratton should have the ultimate benefit of the $10,000. Otherwise the $10,000 cash itself would have been immediately returned instead of being carried in Stratton's pocket during the whole of the 13th October, 1905, and taken to Peterboro and deposited there on the following day in his own overdrawn account, and the demand note would have been drawn for $80,000 instead of $90,000. Very little importance should be attached to the circumstance that the papers had been prepared. The agreement with the bank could have been made to fit the altered condition by merely striking out 'ninety' and inserting 'eighty,' or could have been entirely retyped as it was less than two folios long, and a whole day elapsed between the payment to Pattison and the completion of the arrangement with the bank.

It was stated by Stratton that the $10,000 would be returned and the transaction rearranged so as to extend the payments to be made by the company over a longer period, as soon as the work of the Commission is completed.

Having regard to all the circumstances your Commissioners are compelled to conclude that what really took place between Stratton and Pattison was that the former demanded and the latter conceded a share, to the extent of $10,000, in the moneys which were being paid to the latter and charged to the Home Life.

To Toronto for Sunday.

Mr. Borden will be accompanied to Toronto by Premier Roblin, Premier Hazen and Hon. W. J. Hanna, and will be joined at the Massey Hall meeting by the representative of British Columbia, Attorney-General Bowser, Premier McBride being unable to come east. Premier Roblin will go to Peterboro and Picton with Mr. Borden, and the Opposition leader will continue the tour without "the Conservative Premiers," though it is probable other meetings will be arranged for the outside men. Sir James Whitney is billed to be at the Massey Hall meeting, but it is now announced that he will not arrive in time.

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 19.—One of the largest successes of the present tour of R. L. Borden and his followers was scored here last night at a big mass meeting held in the stadium in the interests of Dr. A. N. Worthington, M.P. for Sherbrooke, and the other candidates in the eastern townships.

Six thousand people from the city and different parts of the eastern townships filled the hall.

Hon. T. Chase Casgrain of Montreal spoke in French. He took the stand that the cry of race and religion should not be brought into politics, and gave as example the English province of Ontario, which selected French-Canadians to Cabinet Ministers when worthy of the positions.

For four minutes R. L. Borden waited for the cheering to subside when he arose to address the meeting.

Mr. Borden was then presented with an address by Dr. A. N. Worthington, M.P. for the Sherbrooke Liberal-Conservative Association. After thanking the people of Sherbrooke and the association for their welcome, Mr. Borden went into the discussion of the issues of the day.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, the representative of the province of Ontario, felt sure that the province which had done so nobly for Sir James Whitney would do as well for Mr. Borden, and aided by the province of Quebec, would elect the Conservatives to power.

THE VETERANS WILL UNITE TO KEEP UP PRICE OF SCRIP

Dominion Organization Proposes to Establish Bureau Where South African Soldiers Can Get Help in Locating Lands—A Protection Measure.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—A movement has been inaugurated to organize the 8,000 Canadian veterans of the South African war into a big federation, with the object of advancing and protecting their interests in many directions.

Necessity for organization has, it is claimed, become imperative owing to the determined efforts of land speculators in every part of Canada to buy up veterans' scrip at a price greatly below its market value.

The veterans realise that only by acting unitedly and refusing to sell their land below a reasonable figure, through a central board of their own appointment, can they succeed in defeating land speculators.

The proposal is to form a Dominion Veterans' Association, which will in a sense be a governing body for the veterans of the Dominion. Throughout Canada, in leading centres, a score of veterans' associations are in existence, membership of these associations practically embracing all veterans in these districts. Each of these local associations have been invited to send delegates to the meeting to be held in Winnipeg Oct. 12, for the purpose of forming a Dominion organization.

This Dominion Association when formed will, it is proposed, form a location board of three thoroughly informed, trustworthy men, veterans themselves, to advise veterans where the most desirable lands are obtainable and to assist them in the selection of these lands if they desire to take up residence upon them. This board would also have power to fix a reasonable price for veterans' rights and be an official medium through which veterans would be encouraged to sell their scrip.

Calgary has been suggested as the headquarters of the board, that city being the centre for American settlers who are anxious to buy additional land and are willing to pay a good price for veterans' scrip.

It is believed that by veterans refusing to sell only through this board they will secure from $800 to $1,000 for their rights and save the profit which would otherwise go to land speculators.

It is estimated that not more than 3,000 veterans will become settlers upon western land and the remaining 5,000, for business and other reasons, will be obliged to sell their rights.

THE SMOKE DEMORALIZES TRAFFIC ON ST. LAWRENCE

Shipping is Practically at a Standstill—Fires at Many Places Along the Shores.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Montreal, and, in fact, the whole of the upper St. Lawrence, is under a thick pall of smoke. The smoke, which has been hanging over the city for days, became thicker Thursday, and is now a serious menace to shipping. One ship, the Marina, is ashore at Varennes; the Corsican, which should have sailed at dawn, is still at her berth; the Ottawa is lying in Quebec, waiting for a chance to move; several ships are somewhere in the river, but the agents have no trace of them; the ferry service is disorganized, and the trains are coming in hours late. Such in brief is the way Montreal is affected.

Fires are within a few miles of St. Remi, about six miles from Howick, and four or five miles from Huntingdon. Only a heavy rain fall will save the country from serious loss.

Reports from all parts of the eastern townships state that large areas are being burned over, and immense quantities of pulpwood and timber destroyed. Rain is badly needed, as the country is very dry and with high winds fires are spreading rapidly.

In villages in Laprairie, Napierville, Chateauguay and Huntingdon counties it is almost impossible to see a few yards ahead, while the sun, when seen at all, appears like a red disc. The smoke and smell of burning forests penetrate the houses and make everyone exceedingly uncomfortable.

STRAIT BLOCKED BY JAM OF ICE

News From North May be Death Knell of Hudson Bay Route.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 19.—Should the report of the ice-blocked conditions in Hudson Bay last summer, brought to St. John's, Nfld., by the sealing steamer Adventure, prove to be true, of every year, the great project of the Canadian Government, providing for the expenditure of $30,000,000 in the opening of a line of grain-carrying steamers from Fort Churchill in Hudson Bay to Europe will undoubtedly fall through.

The Adventure reported that she was unable to enter Hudson Strait until the last week in July because of an ice blockade, and said that heavy ice was also encountered in August.

TO FORCE HIS HAND

Strikers Are After Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

In Message to Premier C. P. R. Machinists Say They Will Present Their Case to Him at Meeting at North Bay

North Bay, Sept. 19.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is billed to address a public meeting here next Friday.

The Canadian Pacific strikers have notified the Premier that they will take advantage of the occasion to present their case to him, and it is expected that in his speech the Premier will deal with the strike situation at some length.

No one, of course, has any idea what Sir Wilfrid is likely to say on the subject, but a great many strikers at this and other points along the Canadian Pacific are said to be ready to be guided by his advice, whatever it may be.

It is expected that Sir Wilfrid's meeting here on the 25th will be attended by labor men from Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and other centres.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—Chas. Murphy, Secretary of State-elect, will accompany Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his Ontario tour.

He will join Sir Wilfrid at North Bay on Friday next, and continue with him till Sept. 31, when they will address a meeting in Russell County, in which Mr. Murphy expects he will be a candidate.

Strathcona's Hearing Injured.

London, Sept. 19.—(C. A. P.)—It transpires that the sudden concussion of a gun signal on his yacht, as it was entering Colonsay waters some days ago, brought distress of such serious extent on Lord Strathcona, Canada's high commissioner, that Sir S. Barlow has ordered his lordship to a complete rest, thus forbidding his trip to Canada. Lord Strathcona is at Glencoe.

TWAIN'S MESSAGE TO THE ROBBERS

Famous Humorist Posts Instructions to Next Housebreakers.

Reding, Conn., Sept. 19.—Two burglars, who broke into the residence of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), in Reding Thursday night, were captured yesterday morning on a New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad train after a desperate fight in which Deputy Sheriff Banks of Reding was shot in the leg, and one of the prisoners was severely wounded in the head.

The prisoners, who are believed to be professional crooks from New York, refused to talk.

Mr. Clemens yesterday posted this notice on the door of his house:

"Notice to the next burglar:

"There is nothing but plated ware in this house, now and henceforth. You will find it in that brass thing in the dining room over the corner by the basket of kittens. If you want the basket, put the kittens in the brass thing. Do not make a noise—it disturbs the family. You will find rubbers in the front hall by that thing which has the umbrellas in it, chiffoner I think they call it, or pergola or something like that. Please close the door. Yours truly,

"S. Clemens."

WAS ACCUSED SEEKS DEATH

Gen. Luard, Husband of Murdered Woman, Kills Himself.

Wateringbury, Eng., Sept. 19.—Major Gen. Charles Edward Luard, retired, whose wife was mysteriously murdered near London, Aug. 24, committed suicide yesterday by throwing himself in front of a railroad train. His body was found later close to a railroad crossing not far from Wateringbury.

A letter was found saying his body would be found under the train. He explained that such awful accusations had been made against him that he could no longer stand the strain. The general had received letters accusing him of having murdered his wife.

Mrs. Luard was shot near Sevenoaks, Aug. 24, a few moments after her husband had left her to go to a nearby club on an errand. When he returned he found her dead.

The letter, in part, said:

"You will find my body at the Teston crossing. I am sick of the scandalous and lying reports, and I cannot face my son, whom I expected to meet to-day; and I have decided to end my life."

Gen. Luard's son, who is an army officer, is expected to arrive at Southampton to-day from the Transvaal.

Does Electric Chair Kill?

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Mollie Frank, 12 years old, of 2,623 Emerald avenue, is alive and well after receiving into her body 2,300 volts of electricity, 500 volts more than is applied to condemned prisoners in penal institutions in New York and Ohio.

She, on a dare, touched a live wire and fell unconscious to the ground. The girl will recover, doctors say.

A physican who attended the child said that the recovery of the girl added another argument to be used by the medical men who charge that persons who suffer the death penalty by means of electricity are not killed by the electric shock, but by the knife of the surgeons, who performs the official autopsy or by dissolution in the grave.

MURDERER PAYS FULL PENALTY

Wm. Paul Goes Calmly to His Death at Kenora.

Kenora, Sept. 19.—William Paul, murderer of Henri Schelling at Pinewood, Nov. 30, 1906, was executed here yesterday morning at 8.16 o'clock. Paul met his end with exceptional calmness. From 6.30 to the time of his execution he was alone with his spiritual adviser, and he left for the scaffold fully repentant of his crime.

Yesterday he made a full confession of the murder of Henri Schelling, but said that he did it in the heat of passion, and not for the motive of getting any money. He said he took it as an afterthought. He was calm up to the end, and walked up the steps leading to the scaffold with unflinching footsteps. Owing to illness, Radcliff, the official hangman, was not able to be present. His place was taken by J. Thomson of Toronto.

Falls Overboard.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—David Gracie, 23 years old, fell overboard from a scow when about a quarter of a mile west of the eastern gap yesterday, and was drowned.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

One of the arguments employed by supporters of the Laurier Administration for the purpose of frightening voters with free trade tendencies into support of the plunderbund is that the return of the Conservatives to power would mean an enormous increase in the rate of customs taxation. An examination of the record exposes the emptiness of this claim. The last revision of the tariff under a Conservative Administration was made in 1894 that tariff being in force until 1897, when the first Fielding tariff was introduced. Under that tariff the average duty paid upon each $100 of goods imported into Canada was $18.24. For the year ending March 31, 1908, the imports entered for consumption were $330,770,281. Taxed at the average rate paid under the Foster tariff there would have been imposed upon these importations the sum of $61,332,590. There was actually collected as customs taxation upon these goods under the Fielding tariff $58,330,737, or $3,011,853 less than would have been paid under the average of the Foster tariff. In his budget speech last March, Mr. Fielding, on the authority of the census bureau placed the population of Canada at 6,153,789, so that the reduction of customs taxation under the Fielding tariff amounted to something like 49 cents per head of the population.

It will interest those Canadians who believe in free trade to learn that the difference between the Fielding tariff, which is held up to them as a tariff for revenue only, and the Foster tariff of 1894, which they are asked to consider as a most vicious application of the principle of protection, amounts to less than half a dollar per head of the population. It clearly establishes that the Laurier Government has no claim upon their support as believers in free trade. When it loses this claim to support what has it left? That Canada under Laurier was prosperous. If Laurier was responsible for that prosperity why has he not maintained it? He has more than doubled the ordinary expenses of Government. Favored members of the Government and their relatives and friends have become wealthy through possession of this country's resources gained in ways that are more than dubious. A commission of its own has declared that the public business is performed with a lack of conscience. Graft is openly written in the pages of the public accounts. No free trader can conscientiously say that the half dollar's worth of free trade he secures from the Government is compensation for its gigantic failure as an honest Government. It is clearly time for a change.—The Gazette.

THE REAL ISSUE

It is becoming more and more apparent as the days go by that the real issue in the campaign in West Peterborough is Strattonism. The Examiner of last evening put the stamp of finality on this fact by quoting in a prominent three column border the endorsation by the Toronto World of Mr. Stratton. The World says in conclusion that he is "altogether a candidate that measures up to the best that there is in Liberalism in Ontario," and lectures Conservatives for opposing him. Now it must be remembered that it was this very idea that the Liberals of Ontario rejected. Mr. Stratton or rather Strattonism is considered by them to have wrecked their party in Ontario. Mr. Ross having fallen into his methods received political execution as did Mr Stratton at their hands. The latter had to retire from public life. He has not received and in this the World is quite correct, the slightest help from his party to get back into public life again. He resents this and claims that he is just as good as anybody else politically and much better in many other ways and demands "vindication" by his old riding. In answer to the Report of the Royal Commission on Insurance he has the presumption to "justify" his conduct, there are not two opinions about what he did. The evidence is plain and the Report is plain. He asks therefore for vindication of his methods. It is a bold stroke. Will it succeed? Can the people of West Peterborough possibly endorse his bold and defiant claim that he "measures up to the best that there is in Liberalism? This becomes therefore the real issue of the campaign. In other elections the personality of the candidate has been a matter of more or less criticism. In this election it becomes the main issue because Mr. Stratton has made it so. If elected he becomes the triumphant champion of Strattonism which has developed into what it is as the years rolled on. Such being the case and since Mr. Burnham accepts the issue it will be Mr. Burnham's duty to remember that if elected he is elected as a protest against Strattonism before all else. It narrows down speaking generally to a unity of the Anti-Stratton forces of all shades of public, if not political opinion. The issue has shifted somewhat from a straight party fight over political policies to something more. Although we have said that if it has narrowed down, perhaps we might better say that it has expanded. The issue becomes a general one. There is a real danger to the Commonwealth. "Have we come to this?" That is the question. Mr. Stratton has never repented or shown signs of it. He "justifies" himself and always did. There can be no excuse made for he himself has made none. The campaign in West Peterborough assumed a new phase when Mr. Stratton thus boldly threw down the gauntlet to the world at large and as the Toronto World expresses it to those who showed him no favour in his times of eclipse. The reference to the Senatorship is pure buncombe. We have it on the best authority that despite his most frantic efforts, Sir Wilfrid Laurier could not be co-erced into giving it to him. However a little lie like that is a mere drop in the bucket. The issue is what the people of Peterborough without distinction of party, well know it to be. When it is sought to make out that Mr. Stratton was a good administrator of his department at Toronto in palliation of his political methods it is also only making things worse. The revenues of lunatics' and other estates in his department were through bad collecting not less than $40,000 in arrears when the new government took office. As a matter of fact he proved himself to be quite unlike Hon. J. Dryden and even some others of his co-ministers whose business methods were much better than their political ideas. However it is not necessary to revert to this at length. The issue in this riding at this time is Strattonism. Perhaps it is just as well that he has forced it to an issue at last.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Fair appears to be quite a distinct success.

DUCK HUNTER'S PARADISE LIES NORTH OF HAVELOCK

Many Peterborough and Toronto Sportsmen Visit That Vicinity — Fish are Also Plentiful — The Picturesque North Country.

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Sept. 18.—The duck shooting season is on and those that are intending to spend part of the season in quest of this member of the feathered tribe will be picking out the best and most convenient place for the carrying out of their intentions.

Probably the best place for duck shooting for those from Peterborough and Toronto, is at the streams surrounding and north of the village of Havelock, 25 miles east of Peterborough, 100 miles east of Toronto.

Trent River, three miles south of Havelock, is the most convenient place for duck hunters and here in the rice and weed beds plenty of ducks can be had. About three miles east of Trent River is an expansion called Mud Lake, where the ducks are very plentiful, but this place being the most easily reached, is visited by large numbers and therefore it is most desirable to visit the lakes north of Havelock.

Ranging northward of Havelock is a region of forest, lake and stream which combines picturesque scenery with good prospects for duck hunting. A far reaching chain of beautiful lakes extends through this country, linked together by small streams, navigable by canoes, excepting in a few places where portages must be made.

Beginning at the south of the chain the principal waters are Crow, Belmont, Round, Oak, Kashabogamog, Deer, Blue, Twin, Sandy, Jacks, Tonomog, White, Gull and Eagle.

Beginning at Crow Lake, duck-shooting is fairly good, but no very large flocks are got until North river is reached. This river runs into Belmont, and is navigable as far up as Burnt Dam, where the Havelock Electric Light Power House is situated; above Burnt Dams in some large coves covered by weeds, there is an excellent place to get large numbers of ducks, for when the season begins they all leave Round Lake and settle in that place.

Going farther north from Round Lake the ducks become more plentiful. You can have an excellent time at Belmont and Round Lake, and capture a large assortment of ducks at minimum expense and trouble, but if you have the time you can have a very enjoyable trip by going farther north and visiting some of the following lakes—Blue, Twin, Gull, Eagle, Tonomog and Sandy. The shooting in these places is about the same as already described, the general characteristics of all these lakes are so similar as to render separate description superfluous, the only thing to be kept in mind is that the farther north you go, the more plentiful the ducks are, and that they are found mostly in the weed beds of small streams where they think they have a chance to escape to the forest on either hand. Do not be like the fellow that was discovered early on the morning of Sept. 1st, sitting in a boat in Mud Lake, firing off his gun time and again and explained to an old hunter that he was trying to attract the ducks.

No matter at what time of the day or night you reach Havelock, you can always get the liverymen to transport you to whatever place you wish. All the lakes and rivers mentioned can be reached by a drive over a fair road. Trent River is only three miles distant; Round Lake 7 miles; Belmont, 5 miles; while Kashabogamog is 23 miles. If you visit Trent, Round or Belmont Lakes, you can find accommodation at several boarding houses, situated on their banks, while if you visit any of the northern lakes, it is more advisable to take your tent and provisions along with you, so that you can move your quarters to any place you wish. If you do not like the idea of living under canvas, comfortable accommodation can be obtained with settlers in the vicinity of any of the above mentioned lakes.

If you take a rod and line along with you and try your luck out at the art of fishing, you will be richly rewarded, for in any of these lakes or rivers, a fine assortment of fish can be procured in half a day.

If you use either minnow, frog, craw fish or worm bait in these waters you will find them excellent, but it is best to carry several kinds of bait for bass are capricious fish and while one day they would not look at a big, fat, juicy dew worm, another day they would prefer it to any other bait. Live minnow as a rule, is the most killing bait and can be easily procured.

A week spent in these regions in quest of fish and duck is sure to prove a most delightful outing.

GOING HOME FOR WINTER MONTHS

Foreigners Pass Through City on Way to Europe --- Are Not Hard up

The CPR train which passed through the city at noon yesterday had on board a party of fifty men and women composed of Italians, Galacians, and Bulgarians on their way to Montreal and Boston whence they sail for their respective countries.

When asked if hard times and lack of work were driving them from the country one of the party, well dressed and apparently prosperous, replied, "Oh, no, not at all; all Italians and other foreigners who can afford it, generally leave in the fall for home, there to spend the winter; we all have our little pile and look forward to a pleasant holiday."

The body of a new born female child was washed up on the rocks near Wiarton.

HAVELOCK

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Sept. 19.—On Wednesday Mr. J. V. A. Coon, general merchant of this town, assigned to Osler Wade, of Toronto.

Mr. Coon was until recently a prosperous merchant doing an extensive general store business until fire destroyed his store and contents. His insurance was only partially, amounting to $1,500, but the loss total. The book debts total $4000. The liabilities amount to $12,000.

Miss Eva Bryans has returned from visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. Allie Rose is visiting his brother, W. J. Rose, at Collingwood.

Mr. Harry Shaw of Parry Sound, is spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Joan Armstrong has returned from visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Tilly Campbell has returned from a week's visit in Toronto.

Miss Maud Graham is visiting in Toronto.

Mrs. Chapman spent Thursday in Toronto.

Mr. Forde Chapman, of Ottawa, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. H. Toman has been transferred to Peterborough to take the place of Mr. R. Coles, who has left on a trip to the Old Country.

Miss Stirling has returned to her home here after spending two months at her old home in Scotland.

Mr. J. E. Fowler is confined to the house through illness.

Mr. George Cherry, of Norwood, was in town to-day on business.

Mr. S. Fisher, insurance agent, of Hastings, was in town on Friday.

Mr. W. J. Boyd, who has resided in town for several years, and who was manager of the Sovereign Bank here for some time, has left for Toronto, where he has secured a most lucrative position with one of the leading banks in that city. As a slight token of their regret of his departure, the business men of town gathered in the opera house on September 10th and presented him with a handsome gold locket. One side of the locket was most beautifully engraved while the other side contained the insignia of the Masonic and Odd Fellows Orders in bas-relief. Mr. Boyd was also presented with a valuable Masonic signet ring. His many friends will regret to hear of his departure but will wish him every success in his new position.

Mr. A. E. Bird has established a temporary office in Deinke's drug store.

Mr. James Thompson, M.P.P., of town, has been appointed an honorary director of the Peterborough Industrial exhibition.

The Havelock "Standard" is again being issued, the first issue coming out on Thursday. The Standard office is located in the Mathison building on Orange street, opposite Dr. Crawford's office. This week's issue of the Standard is smaller than usual owing to the failure of the Type Foundry Company to deliver their press when agreed. Next week the Standard will however, be issued in its old form.

Mr. K. G. McKay has opened his tailor shop in the other half of the building occupied by the Standard.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elmhirst have returned to their home in Detroit Mich. after visiting their uncle, Mr. Jas. Scott.

Mr. Tuck of Lanark, and Miss Hallihan of Peterborough, spent a few days the guest of Mrs. McGuire this week.

900 bushel of oats and barley threshed and the machine moved away in less than half a day is the remarkable record made on the farm of Mr. S. Sophia, Belmont.

Jas. Brills, tax collector, has started out on his rounds this week. The tax rate in Havelock is very high this year, owing to the town having last year bought a park and this year built an addition to the school. Of the 30 mills about half that amount is used for school purposes, while the village has only control of 7 mills.

Mr. Murphy superintendent of the icing department of Swift & Co. of Chicago, was in town to-day inspecting the local ice house. The number of cars iced is increasing daily now. The number to-day was 30.

Mrs. W. J. Boyd left last week for Montreal, where she will visit her parents before joining Mr. Boyd in Toronto.

Mr. J. W. A. Coon is planning the erection of a new store 45 x 60 feet, and the Standard will erect a brick office immediately.

The marriage of Miss Rose Warren, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Warren, of Preneveau, to Mr. Randal Anderson of Belmont, took place in Christ church, Norwood, on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Pickford performed the ceremony in the presence of only the near relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was most beautifully attired in a costume of Duchess satin and carried a bouquet of white carnations. A reception for the bride will be held at the residence of the bride's parents "Maple Lodge," Preneveau, on Friday evening, the 18th inst. The young couple will leave on Monday for Cobalt, where they will reside in the future and where Mr. Anderson is the owner of a valuable silver mine. Both bride and groom are well known in Havelock, having resided at Preneveau for some time, and their many friends will wish them a long and happy married life.

Mr. Wm. John Blakely, of Madoc, who has been visiting in the States and was returning, became seriously ill on the train that passes through here, and was taken over to the Armstrong House and his relatives notified.

London, Sept. 19.—Percy Patten of Toronto, who registered as a merchant and dealer in bankrupt stocks, was arrested last evening on a charge of misappropriating $750, preferred against him by George Head, also of Toronto.

Drowned In Six Inches.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—Thomas Irwin, formerly of 386 West Adelaide street, aged 52, was found drowned in a creek on Davenport road yesterday morning. He was face downward in 6 inches of water under a culvert. His feet protruded and were noticed by two little girls.

An hour or so before the body was found, Irwin had accosted G. H. Lang, 134 Ossington avenue, who was leaving his home, and, thrusting a $2 bill and a bank book in his hand, said: "I am the mysterious Raffles. You will never hear from me again."

Irwin was a brewery worker. He had been drinking heavily.

Walkerville Site Is Secure.

Walkerville, Ont., Sept. 19.—The tangle that resulted when it became known that Luke Montreuil, by the will of his father, held only a life interest in valuable property which he sold years ago to provide sites for manufacturing concerns in Walkerville and Sandwich East, has been unravelled, and there is no danger of any of the titles being declared worthless.

LUCK BROKE WRONG WAY FOR WHEEL OF FORTUNE MAN

John Goselin, of Lindsay, Fined in Police Court for Operating "Wheel of Fortune" at Peterboro' Fair.

It is expensive to run a "Wheel of Fortune," at the Peterborough exhibition. John Goselin of Lindsay, who was doing a big business on the Midway at the fair yesterday, when taken into custody by P. C. Newhall, and Meharry, was fined twenty dollars and costs to be paid forthwith or sixty days in gaol, at the police court this morning. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Goseling. City Clerk Armstrong presided in the absence of Magistrate Dumble.

The fine was paid and the machine was confiscated.

Goselin pleaded not guilty to the charge of running a game of chance. This led to an explanation as to how the Wheel O'Fortune is conducted. The apparatus was erected in the courtroom for the benefit of the Magistrate. It is a circular board on which is situated six tin race horses with their jockeys. The steeds are, Looking Glass, Hector, Gipsy Girl, Harold H., Harry O., and Turkey Boy. Paddocks on each of which is the name of a horse entered in the race, are sold to persons at ten cents a piece. This gives the promoter, sixty cents. The machine is then set in motion and the race is on. The holder of the paddock on which is the name of the horse to arrive at the stopping place, first, gets forty cents and another paddock, giving him a chance to win the next race.

Mr. Armstrong stated that it was clearly a game of chance and imposed the above fine.

MORE WANTED TO COME HERE THAN COULD BE ACCOMMODATED

Not for years has an excursion brought so many visitors to the city as the one from Picton yesterday under the auspices of the Canadian Foresters of that place. And the strange part of it was that more would have come if the train accommodation had been secured.

Over a hundred were left behind at Trenton owing to their not being room on the train for them and at Frankford and several other places, scores who had gathered at the depots could not be taken on account of the congested condition of the cars. A very low rate had been secured for the trip, the return fare from Picton being $1.25.

When it was seen that such a large number were going to take in the trip to Peterborough express cars were picked up wherever possible (but even then enough could not be secured. It is estimated that 1300 came in on the excursion which makes a record that will not be lowered for some time.

OVER $1,100 WERE RECEIPTS OF EXHIBITION ON FRIDAY

A BIG GATE.

The gate receipts yesterday during the day and evening amounted to over $1,100. The rain left it a little cool for the day, but a good crowd was on hand this afternoon, the chief attraction being the races.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS

G. WALTER GREEN MFG. COMPANY

Larger and better than ever is the exhibit of saw mill machinery made by the G. Walter Green, Manufacturing Co. Progress seems to be the word in the factory of this firm, and judging by this year's display, they are a good big year's growth ahead of last year. Something they did not have last year, and that attracted general attention, was a portable saw mill in motion. This outfit could be set up in the bush, and convert the logs into lumber on the spot.

The outfit shown is sold to J. Bradley, of Fowlers Corners, and yesterday another order was taken for one like it, to go to W. Anderson, of Perth.

While the portable saw mill was given a big share of attention, other modern machines shown were a number two lath mill and bolter, which turns logs into lath in a minimum of time, a shingle machine, shingle jointer, shingle packer and farmers' wood sawing machines. Besides the mill machinery the old stand-by was not neglected, and samples of the different styles of wood pumps made by the firm, were on exhibition. A large and varied exhibit of wood split pulleys, hangers, and shafting, completed the display and made up one of the most interesting outfits to many that are to be seen on the grounds.

QUAKER OATS

Occupying a central position, and one that is perhaps as striking as any in the main building, is the exhibit of the Quaker Oat Co. products. Peterborough people have become accustomed to the idea that this enormous business is established here, but it is an eye-opener to many to discover the multitudinous articles that are manufactured by them. The exhibit is arranged in the form of a mammoth pyramid, having as its base very appropriately, the original article of manufacture, the celebrated Quaker Oats. Rising in successive tiers above this come the Quaker Wheat Berries, Corn Flakes, Yellow Corn Meal, and on the summit the figure of the firm's well-known trademark, the Quaker himself.

The pyramid is built of the regular packages in which the various articles of food are sold, but the cereals themselves are shown in glass jars, so that a good idea of the contents of the packages is at once obtained. Arranged around the base are bags of the celebrated Quaker flour in all sizes in which it is put up, and the several stock foods that form a no small item of the Quaker Oats Co.'s business. Their leader in this line is the "Schumacher" cattle feed, made of corn, oats and barley, while others are the "Banner" feed, and "Molaca," a molasses feed for both horse and dairy.

The decorations of the booth are on an extensive scale, and a lavish display of bunting and flags sets off one of the most attractive spots in the building.

F. R. J. MacPHERSON & COMPANY

One of the brightest spots in the main building was the space used by F. R. J. MacPherson & Co., for their stove and electric fixture exhibit. The latter part was all wired and connected, and gave the display a brilliant and effective appearance.

The stove exhibit comprised the product of the Guelph Stove Company in ranges and heaters. These splendid stoves are especially well finished and the nickel plating is of a high order. The leading range has a full nickeled reservoir and warming closet, giving the stove a rich appearance, without an extravagant use of figured corners to catch dust and dirt. These household necessities are an evidence of the high standard to which this Canadian manufacturing firm have attained. Among the electric fixtures a notable feature is a portable lamp, the usefulness of which is at once apparent. Among other things, Messrs. Macpherson & Co. also show a full line of electric irons, from two to thirty pounds in weight, also electric radiators for heating purposes, electric toasters, and photographers' supplies.

STOREY & SIMPSON

In a large tent on the same spot the firm occupied last year, the fine display of the Storey and Simpson Co. is again arranged. It comprises the large line of buggies manufactured by the McLaughlin Mfg. Co., among which some very stylish turnouts are seen. One beautiful runabout, in a black finish, which is sold to Mr. J. F. Staples of Ida, is much admired. Mr. Staples won first premium on his carriage team, not a little of the fine appearance of the outfit being attributed to the fine buggy they were hitched to, and which was a McLaughlin turn-out. In connection with their exhibit, Messrs. Storey and Simpson are proud of the fact that they won both first and second prize on their delivery horses. Besides the carriages, they also show a full line of fine and heavy harness and blankets.

In the centre of the tent is a large display of the world famous Ogilvie flour, for which the firm are agents, and in connection with this part of the exhibit a special representative of the Ogilvies was present, and distributed free to the lady visitors a large cook book, issued by his company. The exhibit was well patronized by the public, a free telephone being also provided for all who required to use it.

THE GREENE MUSIC CO.

The most prominent position in the hall is occupied by the Greene Music Co., with a large exhibit of the New Scale Williams Pianos. The handsome cases of these instruments are a striking feature, but the beauty is in the tone which is well brought out by the expert performers in charge. For purity and quality of tone, the New Scale Williams are being recognized as not only equal to but ahead of their competitors, and in lasting qualities they especially excel. A demonstration of such high-class instruments before such crowds as attend this year's fair, is bound to leave a lasting impression, and result in much good to the New Scale Williams Pianos. In the section just across the aisle the Green Co., also showed the Davis Vertical Feed Sewing Machine. This world renowned machine is being demonstrated at the fair and this is an excellent opportunity for the citizens and visitors to learn something concerning the special features of this machine. It will do a dozen kinds of work which underfeed or other machines cannot possibly do, on account of their mechanical construction; they are also exhibiting their rotary and vibrating underfeeds which are undoubtedly the most up-to-date on the market. The J. M. Greene Music Co. have succeeded in obtaining sole agency for these goods in this vicinity.

CHATHAM KITCHEN CABINET

A display that always had an interested crowd around it was that shown by Mr. A. McDonnell, consisting of the well-known Chatham Fanning Mill Kitchen Cabinet, Farm Scales and Incubators, manufactured by the Manson Campbell Manufacturing Company, of Chatham. The men who are not fortunate enough to already own one of these fanning mills formed part of the admiring throng, while the ladies seriously considered an onslaught on their life partners' generosity in order to install one of the new kitchen cabinets, instead of their old-fashioned pantrys.

MENDEL'S PHOTOS

Not a large exhibit but one in which quality of work is the strong feature is the choice display made by the Mendel Photo Studio. The prevailing style shown is the sepia tint and the masterly way in which each subject is handled, showing great delicacy of workmanship and art in posing is certainly a credit to the enterprising Mr. Mendel. No description does justice to the delightful specimens comprising the exhibit, and it would be hard to make a decision if one were asked to chose the style they wish from the line shown.

Mr. Mendel is a student of his art, always investigating and testing the merits of any new idea in photography. He is a graduate of the best schools of Germany, and his work here has become very popular with his hosts of friends. No one who visited the art section of the show failed to be impressed with the showing of specimens from the Mendel Studio.
